

The Ex Husbands Revenge

Chapter 3023

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3023-Once Leon reached a consensus with Mister Orpwood, he brought Austin to Morrisons' Mansion to meet with Caleb and the other Morrisons.

There were two reasons why he wanted Austin to meet with the Morrisons.

First, he wanted to strengthen his relationship with the Morrisons and get them to help the branch of Cynthion Group in the Western region to expand to the Northern region. Secondly, he hoped that the Morrisons would help Austin gain control of the other forces in the Western region to maintain order and stability.

In other words, he was doing exactly what he did with the Southern region to the Western region. He wanted the Morrisons to help Austin solve any problems arising when he left the Western region.

With help from the Morrisons, he knew he would not need to worry about the Western region when he left.

As expected, Caleb and the others did not reject his request.

It was a win-win situation for the Morrisons in helping the Cythion Group expand to the Northern region. It would bring a huge profit for the Morrisons too.

No one would be dumb enough to reject it. Surely, Caleb and the Morrisons were not stupid people.

Secondly, it would bring multiple advantages to the Morrisons for Austin to replace the Western Boss. With the fall of the Farmers, the Morrisons became the only overlord of the Western region.

Since Leon was their business partner, they were in the same boat together. If Leon controlled the forces of the Western Region, he would not do what the Formers did and create many troubles for them.

That would prevent the Morrisons from getting a new enemy like the Farmers.

Leon was young and talented. He planned to go to the central region because his ambition was not in the Western region.

If the control of the Western Region was maintained in Leon's hand, the Morrisons would never need to worry about facing a new enemy which threatened their family and profit.

That was something the Morrisons dreaded.

The two requests only brought benefits to the Morrisons. Thus, Caleb and the others agreed to Leon's request without any hesitation.

In the evening, Chandler arrived in the Western region two days later and met up with Leon in the evening after he had finished Leon's order, which was to help Leon to take care of any problems in the Southern region.

Leon gave Chandler a new instruction after he met with Chandler. Just like the Southern region, he wanted Chandler to help Austin take control of the Western Region and get rid of any problem in the Western region.

Once that was done, Chandler and Henry would bring Iris, Snow, and Roanne to the central region to look for Leon.

Finally, Leon had settled most of the things he needed to in the Western region and got himself prepared to head to the central region.

The next morning, Leon bid farewell to Iris, Snow, and Roanne. Henry stayed back to protect them.

Then, Leon left the Western region with Cynthia, Ruth, and Mason to head toward the central region.

The central region was located in the middle of the five regions. Part of its territory was connected with the Western region. However, the size of the land of the central and Western region were massive, so it was a long distance to drive from the Western region.

After four to five hours of driving, they reached the border of the central region around noon. When Leon's car was at an intersection, four cars sped up from behind him.

The first car was too fast and crashed into Leon's car.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3024-"Oh, no!" Mason exclaimed when he noticed there was a car coming from behind.

He stepped on the brakes with the hope of avoiding a crash. However, the car was too fast and it was too late.

Mason turned the car so the opposite car crashed into the front of his car. The impact of the crash made both cars knock on the guardrails and go offroad before the cars stopped.

During the crash, Leon reacted quickly by holding Cynthia and Ruth tightly with his arms and using his body to protect them. In the meantime, he turned his spiritual energy into an invisible shield to protect himself and the two girls.

Bang!

Luckily, both cars stepped on the brakes just in time to reduce the impact. Just one side of the front of Leon's car was smashed. The car nearly flipped over but luckily, it fell back down again.

Since they were great martial artists, they reacted very quickly. Other than being scared and spooked, they were physically fine.

"What happened?"

Leon and the others got out of the car terrified expressions on their faces.

The car that crashed into them was fine. Two men who looked to be bodyguards got out of the car in a hurry with pale faces.

Three cars behind them stopped by the side. A beautiful young lady around her mid-twenties and ten more men and women got out of the cars.

The two bodyguards quickly went over to the lady and reported to her.

"Miss, there was a problem with the car. I couldn't control it and crashed into someone else's car," one of the bodyguards reported while feeling guilty.

"I know. I saw it."

The young lady knew it was an accident and did not blame the bodyguard. After that, she walked toward where Leon was.

“I’m so sorry, guys. Are you guys hurt?” the young lady asked caringly.

“We’re fine.”

Leon and the others felt better after the young lady apologized sincerely.

“That’s good. My bodyguard lost control of the car and crashed into your car, it’s your fault. Please forgive us. Don’t worry, I’ll pay you any damages due to the car crash.

“The young lady apologized and tried to settle the accident with money.

“Pay us? We were scared and nearly lost our lives. Do you think you can settle this with being sorry and money?” Mason reprimanded angrily.

He was not going to go easy on the young lady, especially after years of being an infamous gangster. Ever since he worked for Leon, he was.

nothing but good to him. He always reminded himself that he had to be good to Leon.

However, a fatal car crash happened with him being the driver and it really hurt Leon, Gyphial and Ruth. That was even more serious than him being hurt or killed.

As a grateful person, Mason could not let go of the incident easily.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3025-“What do you suppose I should do? You can tell me any requests you have in mind. I promise to agree to your request as long as they aren’t too outrageous.”

The young lady frowned when Mason reacted angrily to the compensation she offered. However, she knew she was in the wrong, so she maintained a polite and friendly attitude.

“I...”

Mason did not know how to answer and looked at Leon for his opinion.

Leon sighed. “It’s fine. We settle it as usual. Just pay for the repair fee.”

Despite the trouble due to the car crash, Leon did not wish to be unforgiving nor deliberately make things difficult for the other party since she apologized immediately and sincerely. Thus, he could only accept the fact and let the young lady compensate accordingly.

“Thank you for being understanding,” the young lady replied gratefully and was somewhat shocked.

She and her bodyguards were the ones who caused the car crash. However, Leon did not take the opportunity to make any absurd requests. She was shocked and had a good impression of Leon.

Cynthia asked, “Leon, what should we do? We’re basically in the middle of nowhere. If we stay here and wait for the car to be repaired, it’s going to take a long time.”

“So beautiful!”

The young lady and her entourage finally noticed the two beautiful women standing beside Leon. Their beauty had shocked them as they hardly saw girls as pretty as Cynthia and Ruth.

The young lady was beautiful too. She was probably one of the few beautiful women in the central region.

However, her beauty was nothing compared Cynthia and Ruth.

It made her wonder who Leon was and why he would have two beautiful women with him.

“Are you guys heading to central region? We could each leave one person behind to deal with the car repair and compensation while the rest of you could go to the central region with us. What do you think?” the young lady proposed.

From her observation, Leon’s car was in bad shape and was no longer able to drive. It would take a long time to wait for the tow truck to arrive and to deal with the repair. She did not want to waste her time settling this small matter.

Thus, she proposed to have one person stay behind to deal with it while the others could leave. Considering Leon’s car was in no condition to drive and she was the reason for it, she could bring Leon and his companions to the central region if they were heading there.

Leon gave it a thought. "Hmm. Sure, thank you."

He too did not want to waste his time.

there. Since the young lady was.

willing to send them to the central region; it happened to be what he wanted. Therefore, there was no reason for him to reject her offer.

The young lady smiled. "You're welcome. It's the least I could do."

She thought it was fair since she was the reason Leon's car was smashed.

"Mason, we'll go to the central region, stay back and wait for the tow truck to arrive to tow the car to the workshop. Come and join us after everything's settled," Leon instructed.

"Yes, sir," Mason answered.

The young lady requested a bodyguard to stay back with Mason to settle the car crash too: After that, she led Leon, Cynthia, and Ruth to her car and prepared to leave.
