

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3081 - 3085

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3081-"Who dares to disrespect the Micahs?"

"What bold words!"

Just as Keith and the others were taken aback, a sudden, cold shout rang out.

As the shout faded, two luxurious cars sped in from a distance, stopping nearby.

The doors opened, and a young man, around 26 or 27 years old with a cold expression, stepped out.

Behind him were two elderly men with deep, steady auras and three middle aged men exuding a fierce presence.

The entourage was impressive as they emerged from the cars.

"The eldest son of the Micahs!"

Seeing the young man's arrival, Keith and the members of the Summers were astonished.

They immediately recognized him as the eldest son of the Micahs.

"Good, very good!"

"Mister Micah, you're finally here!"

"Please, save the Nortons."

On the other side, the members of the Nortons were overjoyed at the sight of Mister Micah, hastily seeking his help.

Especially Clarence, who seemed to see a glimmer of hope, finally feeling a sense of relief.

Clarence knew that behind the Summers was the support of the Jansons, one of the three major families in the Central Region.

This time, he led the experts of the Nortons to challenge the Summers head-on.

To prevent the Jansons from intervening, he specifically sent someone to seek help from the Micahs, hoping they would send experts to withstand the pressure from the Jansons.

Now that the Micahs finally sent someone, and it was the highly esteemed Mister Micah himself, Clarence felt much more at ease.

“Clarence, what- what happened here?”

Seeing Clarence and the experts of the Nortons all lying on the ground, dispirited, Mister Micah was shocked and incredulous.

He knew very well that the Nortons and the Summers were evenly matched in strength, and their conflicts were merely battles for interest.

Such struggles were common in the martial world and nothing unusual.

He originally thought that bringing people to assist would just be a formality, helping the Nortons deal with the Jansons.

The rest would be up to the Nortons.

However, now, to his astonishment, Clarence and the experts of the Nortons were already defeated before he even arrived.

This was beyond belief! He could not fathom what happened.

“Mister Micah, it’s like this: the Summers somehow found an Almighty State warrior to assist them.”

“Our people were all defeated by that Almighty.”

Clarence pointed to Mason, who stood in front of the Summers and!!

Leor, looking formidable.

He briefly explained the situation to Mister Micah.

As for Leon, Clarence still did not know who he was or his relationship with the Summers.

Unable to elaborate, he merely skimmed over it.

“A mere Almighty dares to act recklessly in front of the Micahs!”

“Truly courting death!”

Mister Micah mistakenly believed Mason was the main adversary.

He focused his gaze on Mason, eyes filled with murderous intent.

Though he did not know where Mason came from, the Nortens Were a subordinated force of the Micahs, tied to their interests.

Now, an unrelated outsider like Mason was meddling in the conflict between the Nortons and the om summers, aiding the Summers in severely injuring the Nortons, thereby harming the interests of the Micahs. How could he tolerate such arrogance from a mere Almighty!

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3082-“Fourth Holy Guardian, go cripple this insolent fool! “Show him the dreadful fate of opposing the Micahs!”

Mister Micah ordered coldly to an elderly man dressed in black standing behind him.

This elderly man was none other than one of the six Holy Guardians under the Central Boss, the Fourth Holy Guardian.

His cultivation reached the Advanced Almighty State, more than enough to deal with Mason, who was only at the Initial Almighty State.

“Yes!”

The elderly man responded.

He strode forward, his aura sharp and chilling, exuding a murderous intent as he approached Mason.

“Not good!”

Mason’s expression shifted slightly, his demeanor turning grave.

Although he had yet to face the black-clad elder, he could faintly sense from the other’s overwhelming and cold aura that this man was extremely dangerous, likely beyond his ability to handle.

Of course, Mason was not the only one who felt this way.

Leon did as well.

He knew that the Micahs were one of the top four forces in the Central Region, and Mason was currently not equipped to confront the Micahs’s experts.

Leon opened his mouth, ready to order Mason to retreat and handle the situation himself.

However, before he could give the command, a sudden change occurred.

“Stop!”

At that moment, two luxury cars sped over from a distance and stopped nearby.

The car doors opened, and a young man in his late twenties, exuding an imposing aura, stepped out.

Behind him were two elderly men and four middle-aged men with fierce auras.

They all walked out briskly.

Leading the group was none other than Howser Janson, the eldest son of the Jansons.

Alongside Howser and his subordinates was an elderly man who looked respectful.

This elderly man was the Third Elder of the Summers, who was previously sent to seek aid from the Jansons.

The Third Elder fulfilled Keith’s request and brought Howser over.

“Howser, it’s you!”

Mister Micah’s face turned cold as he immediately recognized the newcomer.

“Mister Micah, I didn’t expect to see you here,” Howser said, somewhat surprised.

The Summers were just one of the many subordinate forces under the Jansons and were not particularly important to them.

Ordinarily, the Summers would not have the qualifications to warrant his intervention.

However, he had nothing better to do and decided to come along for some excitement.

Fortunately, he did come personally.

Otherwise, with Mister Micah’s involvement, if the Jansons merely sent a few experts, they would not have been able to contend with someone as prominent as Mister Micah.

“Great, this is excellent!”

Keith and the rest of the Summers were overjoyed at Howser’s arrival and hurriedly greeted him respectfully.

“Elder Summers, what is going on here? Did the Summers defeat the Nortons’ people?”

Howser asked, astonished at the sight of the numerous severely injured Norton experts lying on the ground.

He could not fathom how the Summers could have defeated so many Nortons experts so easily.

“Mister Janson, these Nortons experts were defeated by Mister Wolf’s subordinate, not by the Summers,”

Keith explained, pointing to Mason standing at the front of the crowd and briefly informing Howser about Mason being an Almighty.

“I see,”

Howser nodded in realization.

He glanced at Leon standing beside Keith and then at Mason in front.

Soon, he retracted his gaze.

As the eldest son of one of the three major families in the Central Region his status was exceedingly noble, and his family had countless.

Leon appeared unfamiliar, not someone from the same elite circle in the Central Region.

Even if Leon had an Almighty subordinate, it was of little significance to Howser. The fact that he even spared an extra glance at Leon and Mason was already quite generous.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3083-“Mister Janson, Mister Wolf, and his subordinate, Mason, have angered Mister Micah while helping the Summers,” pleaded Keith.

“Now, Mister Micah wants to cripple Mason. Please, I beg you to save him.”

As Keith thought about Mason’s predicament, his face filled with sincerity as he implored Howser to step in and protect Leon and Mason from Mister Micah’s persecution.

“I understand,” Howser nodded.

“I’ll protect them!”

The Summers was a subsidiary of the Jansons.

Since Leon and Mason helped the Summers defeat the Nortons, they were friends, not foes.

Howser felt obliged to ensure their safety.

“Mister Micah, there are laws in the country and rules in every profession,”

Howser said clearly, his gaze fixed on Mister Micah.” the Nortons broke the rules by attacking the Summers without cause.

They deserved the injuries they sustained.

This matter should end here.

Take your people and leave.”

“Impossible!”

Mister Micah’s face was full of arrogance.

“I don’t care about rules. This is a private feud between the Nortons and the Summers. Outsiders have no right to interfere. Anyone who meddles is an enemy of the Micahs! Today, I will cripple this fool to show that the Micahs is not to be trifled with!”

Mister Micah’s tone was resolute, leaving no room for doubt.

He knew well that the Summers were under the protection of the Jansons.

If Mason were part of the Summers, it would be a different story.

But Mason was not, and Mister Micah had no intention of letting him off easily.

He needed to maintain the Micah family’s reputation.

“What?”

Howser’s expression darkened with displeasure.

“Are you unwilling to let me keep my reputation, to not give me face?”

“Howser, stop pretending in front of me!”

As one of the four top powers in the Central Region Howses Wastel m aware of the key figures in the Micahs.

He knew the black-clad elder coronard an he fan he conten Central Boss.

Mister Micah sneered.”

Who do you think you are? Why should I give you a face? This fool has nothing to do with the Jansons.

I advise you to stay out of it, or else don't blame me for being rude!”

“You!”

Howser was enraged, “Fine, very well! Mister Micah, let me tell you, I am determined to protect this Almighty-level master today!”

Howser's anger turned into laughter at Mister Micah's arrogance.

He then turned to the two elders behind him.

“Sixth-Uncle Thompson, Seventh-Uncle, go and meet the Micahs's Fourth Holy Guardian.

I want to see what trouble Mister Micah and the Micahs can stir up today!”

Howser ordered the two elders.

To counter him, Howser sent the strongest members of the Jansons to assist Mason.

Of course, Mason was not part of the Summers or connected to the Jansons.

Howser would not clash head-on with Mister Micah over an unrelated person.

He intended to show strength through Sixth and Seventh uncle,” hoping Mister Micah would back down. Visit

This way, all problems could be easily resolved.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3084-“Yes! “

At Howser's command, Sixth-Uncle Thompson and Seventh-Uncle strode forward, positioning themselves beside Mason, forming a standoff against the Fourth Holy Guardian of the Micahs.

Immediately, the two released their powerful Advanced Almighty auras, which surged forward, overwhelming the Fourth Holy Guardian.

Whoosh! The face of the Fourth Holy Guardian slightly changed.

He dared not hesitate and quickly unleashed his aura, a strong Advanced Almighty force that countered the overwhelming presence of Sixth -Uncle Thompson and Seventh-Uncle.

However, compared to the combined strength of Sixth-Uncle Thompson and Seventh-Uncle, both Advanced Almighty, he needed help and quickly found himself losing ground.

“Mister Micah, you only brought one Advanced Almighty protector this time,”

Howser mocked.

“We have two! Let’s see what you can do now!”

“Don’t be too pleased with yourself just yet, Howser,”

Mister Micah retorted.

“You want to compare strength? Fine, I’ll indulge you.”

Turning to an elder in gray behind him, Mister Micah commanded, “Elder Destiny, show the Jansons the true strength of the Micahs.”

“Yes,”

the gray-clad elder responded and stepped forward, joining the Fourth Holy Guardian, facing off against Sixth-Uncle Thompson and Seventh-Uncle.

Howser’s brow furrowed as he observed the elder.

“Strange, who is this gray-clad elder? I’ve never heard of such a figure in the Micahs.”

Howser knew the key figures of the Micahs well, especially the five Apostles and the six Holy Guardians under Central Boss.

But this gray-clad elder was unfamiliar, neither one of the five Apostles nor the six Holy Guardians.

Sixth-Uncle Thompson and Seventh-Uncle shared their confusion.

They never saw this gray-clad elder before either and were unsure of his identity within the Micahs.

Nevertheless, they did not consider him a threat, assuming he was not one of the most powerful under Central Boss.

Yet, before their dismissive thoughts could settle, a shocking scene unfolded.

“Two mere Advanced Almighty warriors dare to flaunt their power before the Micahs? How presumptuous!”

the gray-clad elder sneered.

He released his aura, a powerful peak Almighty force that surged forward, overwhelming Sixth-Uncle Thompson and Seventh- Uncle.

“What? A peak Almighty? This, this can’t be!”

Sixth-Uncle Thompson, Seventh-Uncle, and Howser were stunned, disbelief etched on their faces.

They knew that besides the few Semi- Saints, the most powerful figures in the Central Region were peak Almighties.

Such experts were rare even among the elders of the major family forces in the Central Region.

The Micahs had five Apostles, each at the peak Almighty level, while the six Holly Guardians were only at the Advanced Almighty State.

The emergence of a peak Almighty within the Micahs, apart from the five Apostles, was beyond their wildest expectations and caught them off guard.

Their shock was palpable.

Leon, standing with Keith and others in the rear, was equally stunned.

However, his surprise was not due to the elder’s peak Almighty level but?

because the aura of the elder felt vaguely familiar to him.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3085-“Strange, who is this gray-clad elder? Have I seen him somewhere before?”

Leon snapped out of his reverie, his face full of suspicion as he fell into a brief contemplation.

Although the aura of true qi from the gray -clad elder felt vaguely familiar, his appearance was completely foreign to Leon.

He was trying to remember who this elder might be and if he indeed met him before.

Whoosh! Just as Leon thought deeply, Mister Micah's arrogant voice rang out again.

"Howser, you have witnessed the power of Elder Destiny now, haven't you?"

Mister Micah sneered.

"Considering that the Jansons and the Micahs are prominent families in the Central Region, I'll give you one last chance! If you know what's good for you, back off now and hand over that foolish thing to me for disposal! Otherwise, face the consequences!"

Mister Micah's face was full of cold arrogance, assuming a superior stance as if he already secured victory over Howser.

"I-"

Howser's face darkened, turning pale and uncertain.

Initially, he sent out the Sixth and Seventh-Uncles of the Jansons to intimidate Mister Micah, hoping to make him retreat.

But things did not go as planned.

To his dismay, Mister Micah had a top-tier expert at the peak of the Almighty State by his side! With such formidable power and cultivation, even if the Sixth and Seventh Uncles of the Jansons joined forces, they could not possibly contend with Elder Destiny, the gray-clad elder! Moreover, there was another expert at the later stage of the Almighty State with Elder Destiny.

This level of strength could easily crush the sixth and seventh lords of the Jansons, leaving them no chance of resistance! If he continued to protect Mason and opposed Mister Micah, it would only provoke Mister Micah further.

At that point, the Sixth and Seventh Uncles of the Jansons, along with himself, would likely be dragged into the conflict and suffer at the hands of Mister Micah and the Micahs's experts, bringing disgrace upon themselves! This would be of no benefit to him.

However, he just publicly promised Keith that he would ensure Mason's safety.

If he went back on his word and retreated now, he would lose face and become a laughingstock.

This was not a situation he was willing to accept.

Caught in a dilemma, Howser did not know how to respond.

“You want to deal with my subordinate? What makes the Micahs qualified to do that?”

Seeing Howser struggling under Mister Micah’s pressure, Leon, worried about Mason’s safety, stopped pondering the identity of Elder Destiny.

He stepped forward with a cold snort, ready to confront the Micahs.

“What?”

Leon’s words were like a bombshell.

Apart from Cynthia, Ruth, and Mason, everyone else was stunned by his audacious statement! Especially Keith and the Summers’s experts, who learned from Shally and Lucian that Leon was an outsider from the Western Region, not a descendant of the prominent Central Region families.

Although they knew Leon had an Almighty State expert by his side, which hinted at a significant background, they speculated he might belong to a major family from the Western Region.

However, compared to the ancient martial families of the Central Region, the prominent families of the other four regions were a hotch below! In the other four regions, the prominent families typically practiced high-grade Earth Class techniques, which at most allowed cultivation to the later stages of the Almighty State, making it difficult to break through to the peak.

This was the main reason why top experts at the peak of the Almighty State rarely emerged in the Southern and Western Regions! However, the Central Region was different.

Even third-rate ancient martial families practiced middle-grade Earth Class techniques, while second-rate families practiced high-grade Earth Class techniques.

As for top-tier families like the Jiang and Mi families, they practiced quasi-Heavenly Class supreme techniques! These quasi-Heavenly Class techniques allowed cultivation to reach the Semi-Saint State.

Therefore, top-tier families in the Central Region are often experts at the Advanced or even the peak of the Almighty State, and sometimes even Semi-Saint experts.

This was far beyond the capabilities of prominent families from the other four regions! Even if Leon came from a major family in the Western Region, his status would, at best, match that of a second-rate ancient martial family in the Central Region, not on par with Howser and Mister Micah.

Yet, Leon dared to step forward and challenge Mister Micah, even mocking the Micahs!
Was he not courting death? Their shock was palpable
