

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 311

Chapter 311

However, when she heard footsteps approaching, she knew that most likely her cousin already entered, so she did not dare to act recklessly.

If Iris found out that she was laying with Leon, she would not be able to clear her name no matter what!

Iris entered the bedroom to see Leon alone in bed. Louisa was nowhere to be seen.

“What? Louisa isn't here? The mansion is only that big. If she isn't here, where could she have gone?” Iris was stumped.

“Could she be in the toilet, or perhaps taking a shower?” Leon chuckled dryly. His entire body stiffened. He was so nervous his palms perspired.

“Nope. I checked the toilets upstairs and downstairs. I even went to the balcony and the kitchen to look for her. She isn't there.”

Iris furrowed her brow. Her woman's natural keen instinct told her that something was off with Leon, but she could not pinpoint it.

“Perhaps when you went to look for her, she already returned to her room, so you didn't bump into her,” Leon said, pretending to be calm.

Since Louisa was curled up under the blanket, their bodies pressed against each other tightly. He could even clearly feel the softness and the heat radiating from Louisa's body.

Such an intimate contact right under Iris's nose. It was so exciting his heart was about to pop out of his chest!

“Hmm, that could be possible. I'll head to her room and see once more.” Iris nodded understandingly. She turned around and was just about to leave when through the corner of her eyes, she saw a familiar pair of cartoon slippers by the bed.

Her body immediately stiffened.

Leon just had a sigh of relief. He could barely have any time to bask in the happiness when he saw Iris stopped in her tracks. His heart was once again suspended, about to pop out. “Iris, w—what happened? Is there anything else?”

“Leon, are you sure Louisa isn't here?” Iris's expression turned cold.

“Of course. It's late. How could she be in a man's room?” Leon forced a smile.

“Oh, is that so?” Iris's expression turned colder. She silently walked over to the bed, grabbed the corner of the sheets, and tugged on it hard.

“Ah!” The three of them yelled at the same time. Louisa was so stunned she jumped out of the bed. Then, the three of them looked at each other, equally stunned.

No one expected this outcome!

“Hi Iris, what a coincidence! I never expected that you'll be here...” Louisa awkwardly greeted.

“Y—you two...you two...” Iris gasped. She quickly came to her senses and glared at Leon murderously, wanting to kill him. “Leon, t—this is a—all your doing. What did you do to Louisa?!”

“I...” Leon was bewildered. He was caught red-handed by Iris. His mind was blank at that moment. He did not know what to do.

“Louisa's still so young, yet you dare to do such a thing to her! You're a scumbag!” Iris was furious. She pointed at Leon with her finger. Her entire body trembled.

“Iris, let me explain. It isn't how you think...” Leon was almost in tears. He felt wronged and was unable to defend himself.

“Explain? The truth is right in front of me. What else do you have to say...” Iris glared at him with reddened eyes. An unbelievable feeling of grievance rose in her heart.

All this while spending time with Leon, she unconsciously developed feelings for Leon.

She initially thought that he was a righteous man with great character. Never would she have dreamed that Leon was two-faced. How dare he touch her younger cousin!
