

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3121-3129

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3121-“How dare a loser like you be so arrogant? I’ll teach you to be humble!” Leon sneered contemptuously.

Central Boss clashed with him twice before, each time ending with Central Boss being injured and fleeing.

Thus, Leon did not take his attack seriously at all.

Without hesitation, he pointed a finger and unleashed the Advanced Earth Class sage technique, Earthly Plunder.

Sharp and fierce energy condensed at his fingertip, roaring as it met Central Boss’s attack head-on! Bang! Leon’s Earthly Plunder clashed solidly with Central Boss’s Soul-Piercing Claw in a violent collision.

However, unlike previous encounters, this time Leon’s technique did not break through Central Boss’s attack; instead, it was shattered by it! Not only that! The Dragon Pill he recently took did not fully manifest itself yet, so not only did Central Boss’s Soul-Piercing Claw shatter Leon’s Earthly Plunder but also sent him staggering back.

Leon struggled to regain his footing, retreating three or four steps before managing to stabilize himself! “Central Boss, who would’ve thought you’ve managed to break through to a new power level in just three days? No wonder you dared to be arrogant in front of me!” Leon was surprised, immediately noticing that Central Boss’s power level had successfully broken through to The Semi-Saint State.

This was somewhat unexpected and caught him off guard.

Otherwise, he would not have suffered a setback at Central Boss’s hands.

“Take this, kid!” After forcing Leon back, Central Boss did not give him any chance to catch his breath.

He pressed on, continuing his attack against Leon! Of course, after their previous battle, he already knew that Leon’s strength was close to the peak of the Semi-Saint State! Not to mention, his power level only recently broke through to The Semi-Saint State.

Moreover, he already had had the usage limit of his Semi-Saint weapon in the Southern region, and he did not have a bad time to reforge it due to his injury.

Even if he went all out, he would not stand a chance against Leon! The disparity between the the Peak Almighty State and The Semi-Saint State was vast they were incomparable! Now that he reached The Semi-Saint State, his strength, speed, and all aspects of his abilities significantly improved.

Even if he was not Leon's match, the latter would not be able to injure him as easily as before! He planned to keep Leon busy for a while longer.

That should not be too difficult.

He was sure Wulfric would be able to turn the tide in their favor as long as he could hold Leon back and buy some time for Wulfric and the Chanters.

Bang! Bang! Bang! Later, Central Boss and Leon became entangled in fierce combat.

With Central Boss's power level at The Semi-Saint State and his intimate knowledge of Leon's capabilities and possession of a supreme defensive weapon, Central Boss deliberately avoided targeting Leon's defensive weapon and instead aimed for Leon's vulnerable spots like his head and stomach.

This strategy effectively stalled Leon, preventing him from gaining the upper hand.

Boom! Boom! Boom! Meanwhile, on the other front, the battle between central Region Drager corps fighters, the Jansons, the Suttons, and the Chanter fighters intensified into a heated clash.

With the Central Region Dragon Corps having a numerical advantage of three to one they quickly gained the upper hand.

Aiken and the other Chanter fighters were forced into a retreat, facing a perilous situation.

Barring any unforeseen developments, it seemed likely that the Chanters would soon face a decisive defeat.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3122—"Pierre, you have pushed me to this! Since that's the case, don't blame me for what I'm going to do next! You all can go to hell!"

Wulfric's expression turned grim when he saw the Chanter fighters in a dire and dangerous situation.

He knew he had to end this battle quickly to avoid significant casualties among the Chanter descendants.

Thus, he decided not to hold back.

He waved his two hands, releasing two clouds of white mist that surged forward, engulfing Pierre, Zach, and the other two.

The white mist transformed into a flurry of powder, like a shower of flowers, enveloping the four of them.

“What’s this?”

“This is bad, it’s poison!”

Realizing the unusual nature of the white powder, Pierre and Zach were alarmed.

Immediately, the four of them held their breath and swiftly retreated, trying to escape the range of the white mist and powder.

Unfortunately, it was too late! The white powder and mist seeped everywhere, and being too close to Wulfric, they already inhaled a significant amount.

“Damn, it seems like it’s the Reaper’s Breath from Poisonwielder!”

Pierre and the other three’s faces turned pale.

Poisonwielder was one of the eight notorious villains on the Criminal list, and his infamous poison, Reaper’s Breath, was extremely potent.

Although the four never saw Poisonwielder or Reaper’s Breath firsthand, as top members of the Central Region Dragon Corps, they were well- informed about the eight villains and knew some characteristics of the Reaper’s Breath.

The white mist and powder Wulfric released bore a striking resemblance to the Reaper’s Breath.

As soon as they inhaled a little, their true energy was immediately weakened and suppressed, and their power levels dropped by thirty percent.

“Haha!”

Wulfric laughed loudly, not denying it.

He was the leader of the eight criminals, Brahma, and the criminals on the list often looked up to him.

Fascinated by Poisonwielder’s mastery of poisons, he specifically obtained the formula of Reaper’s Breath from him.

It was precisely because he had Reaper’s Breath that he dared to confront Pierre and the others head-on.

“Alright, it’s all over now! I’ll send you four on your way so you can die in peace!”

After his laughter subsided, Wulfric wasted no time.

With a wave of his palm, he continued his relentless assault on Pierre and the other three, aiming to quickly defeat them and end the battle.

Pierre and the other three’s hearts sank into despair.

Originally, with their combined strength, they had an absolute advantage and were even confident of victory against Wulfric.

However, their plans went awry! Their power levels significantly dropped due to inhaling Reaper’s Breath.

They were no match for Wulfric anymore! Faced with Wulfric’s continuous attacks the four of them were quickly overwhelmed, only able to defend without any opportunity to counterattack.

The situation completely reversed!

“How could this be?”

Leon, Percival, and the others were shocked at seeing Pierre and the other three poisoned.

Especially Percival and Alastair, who initially believed that with the deep strength of the Senial Region Dragon Corps, their assistance would ensure an easy victory over the Chanters.

They never imagined that the situation would be far more.

troublesome than they anticipated troublesome than they anticipated not only was wulfric saint state level powerhouse, but he also possessed the deadly poison,

Reaper’s Breath! They became in grave danger with Pierre and the other three unexpectedly falling victim to Wulfric’s Reaper’s Breath.

This sudden turn of events drastically changed the balance of power.

There would be no one left capable of challenging Wulfric if he managed to defeat Pierre and the other three.

In that case, their families and the Central Region Dragon Corps tightrs would all be dooned realizing this Perdival and Alastair’s hearts sank, and they found themselves at a loss for what to do.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3123- Whoosh! Compared to Percival and Alastair's heavy hearts, Leon remained relatively calm.

In the past, he killed Poisonwielder and specifically crafted a potent antidote, the Essential Detox Pill, to counteract Reaper's Breath.

He happened to have a few dozen of these pills on him.

Though Pierre and the others were poisoned by Reaper's Breath, as long as Leon could get the antidote to them in time, they still stood a chance to win.

With this in mind, Leon did not waste any time.

He stopped fighting with Central Boss, leaped up, and quickly rushed toward Pierre and the others to deliver the antidote.

"Leon, are you planning to run away? Well, do you think it's going to be that easy?"

Central Boss misunderstood Leon's actions, thinking he intended to escape.

Given how much he hated Leon, he was not going to let Leon get away so easily.

Without a second thought, Central Boss dashed forward, resolutely blocking Leon once again.

With Wulfric having reversed the situation and forcing Pierre and the other three into a precarious position, the tide completely turned in their favor.

All Central Boss needed to do was continue to stall Leon, preventing him from escaping.

Once Wulfric finished off Pierre and the other three, he could then help deal with Leon, avenging himself and the Micahs.

Thinking about this, he could not help but laugh heartily, as if victory was already within his grasp.

However, before his laughter could even die down, a shocking turn of events unfolded.

"Get lost! Take this, Phoenix Sky Fist!"

Leon roared, infuriated by Central Boss's repeated interference.

Eager to give the antidote to Pierre and the other three, he had no time for Central Boss.

Without any hesitation, Leon unleashed his most powerful attack, the Phoenix Sky Fist, a Heavenly Class sage technique he recently mastered.

Spiritual energy surged from his fist, resembling a massive laser cannon, carrying an unstoppable and invincible force that rushed toward Central Boss like a tidal wave.

“What? How’s this possible?”

Central Boss was utterly horrified when he felt the immense power of the Phoenix Sky Fist.

He was well-acquainted with Leon’s strength from their previous battles.

Initially, he believed that with his recent breakthrough to the Semi-Saint State, stalling Leon would be manageable.

However, he never imagined that Leon would be even more formidable than expected able to unleash such a devastating technique as the Phoenix Sky Fist.

Caught off guard, he had no time to react.

The overwhelming force of the Phoenix Sky Fist tore through his body reducing him to a cloud of blood mist, ending his malevolent life.

Whoosh! After obliterating Central Boss with a single punch, Leon wasted no time.

He leaped forward, swiftly moving toward Pierre and the other three.

Bang! Bang! Bang! At the same time, Wulfric was on a rampage poised to overpower Pierre and the other three.

Just then, Leon rushed in from behind.

“Phoenix Sky Fist!”

Leon cried out.

Seeing Pierre and the other three in dire straits, he hastily unleashed the phoenix sky fist aiming it at Wulfric from behind, hoping to ease the attacks on Pierre and the other three.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3124-“You’re courting death!”

Wulfric, enraged by Leon's fierce attack and the slaying of Central Boss, had no choice but to halt his assault on Pierre and the other three momentarily.

He turned and unleashed a powerful palm strike, its overwhelming force aimed squarely at Leon's Phoenix Sky Fist.

Boom! The collision between Leon's Phoenix Sky Fist and Wulfric's attack was explosive.

In an instant, Wulfric's strike shattered Leon's Phoenix Sky Fist, and its residual force hurtled toward Leon.

"Not good!"

Leon's expression changed drastically as he rapidly tried to evade.

However, with Wulfric's Saint State power level, evading was futile.

No matter where he ran, he was unable to get out of the attack range.

The residual force of Wulfric's true energy struck Leon, sending him flying and crashing heavily to the ground.

Cough! Cough! As Leon hit the ground, a wave of intense pain surged through his chest, causing him to cough up two mouthfuls of blood.

It was clear he suffered significant internal injuries.

Thankfully, the Mirror of Sovereign, a powerful weapon with formidable defensive capabilities, protected him.

Although Wulfric's attack injured Leon, it did not claim his life.

"Kid, I'll grant your wish since you look like you're hellbent on dying!"

Wulfric, thoroughly enraged by Leon's assault, unleashed another palm strike.

Its overwhelming and unstoppable force aimed directly at Leon.

His plan was clear—eliminate Leon first, then deal with Pierre and the other three.

"It's over."

Feeling the immense power of Wulfric's attack, Leon's heart sank into despair.

He did not even recover from the first attack, and with Wulfric's superior power level, evasion was impossible.

He could only watch helplessly as Wulfric's attack bore down on him while a sense of hopelessness welled up inside.

Whoosh! In his moment of despair, Leon suddenly felt a shift within his sage arts bottleneck.

Perhaps triggered by the dire situation, his sage arts power level seemed on the verge of a breakthrough.

However, Wulfric's attack was already upon him.

This newfound breakthrough was too late to save him now.

"Wulfric, I'll fight you to the end!"

Seeing Leon in danger, Pierre forced himself to ignore the Reaper's Breath poisoning his body.

Leaped forward, positioning himself between Leon and Wulfric.

With a powerful palm strike, Pierre met Wulfric's attack head-on.

Boom! The two attacks collided with a thunderous impact.

However, due to the Reaper's Breath, Pierre's strength was significantly diminished.

Unable to withstand Wulfric's overpowering force, Pierre was sent flying, crashing heavily to the ground.

Cough! Cough! He spat out two mouthfuls of blood, clearly suffering from severe internal injuries.

"You both die now!"

Infuriated that his attack failed to kill Leon, Wulfric's rage intensified.

He unleashed two simultaneous palm strikes, each targeting Leon and Pierre intent on filling them both in one fell swoop.

"Enough of this insolence!"

Simultaneously, Zach and two other Semi-Saint state fighters from the central region dragon Corps rushed forward from behind.

They each launched a fierce attack aimed at Wulfric's back, hoping to divert his attention and save Leon and Pierre.

"Get lost!"

Wulfric swiftly changed his stance, turning to counter Zach and the other two fighters.

His powerful counterattack sent all three of them flying.

Zach and his companions were flung backward, crashing heavily to the ground.

Cough! Cough! Cough! Upon landing, intense pain erupted in their chests causing each of them to cough up blood. They lay on the ground, weakened and unable to continue fighting.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3125-Gulp! Taking advantage of the moment, Leon decisively took out a Holy Spirit Pill and swallowed it.

Initially, he intended to use an Essential Detox Pill to help Pierre, Zach, and the other two Semi- Saint State fighters counteract the poison.

However, with Pierre injured by Wulfric and Zach along with the other two severely wounded and out of combat, even if he cured them, their side was still doomed to defeat.

In this desperate situation, he could only take a gamble.

He hoped that, with the breakthrough signs he felt in his martial arts bottleneck, the Holy Spirit Pill would help him break through the sage arts barrier or raise his power level to the Great Crossing Phase.

This might be their only chance at victory.

"Mister Wolf, as long as there's life, there's hope. I'll try my best to hold off Wulfric. You must escape now and find a way to avenge US later."

Pierre, enduring his injuries and the poison, stood up with a determined look on his face.

He knew that their side was already facing a certain defeat.

They would all likely die at Wulfric's hands if things continued as they were.

Pierre was old, and dying for the Dragon Corps was an honorable end that he did not fear.

However, Leon could not die.

He was young, with his power level already reaching the Semi- Saint State, and had immense potential for future growth.

Pierre was determined to protect Leon at all costs, believing that if Leon could escape and eventually reach the Saint State, he might be able to kill Wulfric and avenge the Central Region Dragon Corps.

At least that way he would be able to die without regrets.

“No, Pierre! Just help me hold off Wulfric and buy me some time,”

Leon said seriously.

Without wasting a moment, he closed his eyes and began channeling his energy to break through his martial arts bottleneck, absorbing and refining the Holy Spirit Pill within him, hoping to achieve a timely breakthrough in his sage arts power level.

“What?”

Pierre was taken aback.

Revenge is a dish best served cold.

Leon was already the Dragon Corps’ only hope.

Only if Leon escaped would there be a chance to defeat Wulfric in the future and turn the tables for the Dragon Corps.

Thus, Pierre could not believe that Leon, for some unfathomable reason, refused to flee.

This caught him completely off guard.

“You think you can escape? It won’t be that easy! Both of you will die!”

Wulfric sneered cruelly.

He swung both palms, sending two immensely powerful forces crashing toward Leon and Pierre.

“Damn it!”

Pierre’s expression was grim.

Facing Wulfric’s powerful attack, he had no choice but to give up urging Leon to escape.

He forced out two palm strikes to counter Wulfric's assault.

Due to the Reaper's Breath weakening him, Pierre knew he could not match Wulfric head-on.

Thus, he used a technique to deflect part of Wulfric's force, barely managing to block the attack.

"Mister Wolf, you must escape now."

Pierre, relying on his deep Saint State power, struggled to suppress the Reaper's Breath poison within him.

He adopted a hit-and-run strategy, intermittently urging Leon to escape while trying to hold off Wulfric and buy Leon precious time.

Unfortunately, Leon remained seated, seemingly oblivious to Pierre's words.

This filled Pierre with despair and helplessness.

"Pierre, you should worry about yourself first. Prepare to die!"

Wulfric sneered.

Taking advantage of Pierre's distraction, Wulfric's figure flickered, and he suddenly appeared at Pierre's rear.

"Shit!"

Pierre was alarmed and realized it was too late to dodge.

He could only barely muster a counter-strike with one palm to block Wulfric's attack.

Bang! Pierre's attack clashed squarely with Wulfric's with a violent collision.

He could not help but bend over and vomit several mouthfuls of blood, his face pale as he collapsed to the ground.

It was clear he suffered severe injuries and completely lost his ability to fight.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3126—"Hahaha! This ends here—once and for all!"

Wulfric broke out into a manic cackle of laughter upon seeing Pierre's defeat.

The defeat of Pierre, Zach, and his two lackeys had no doubt instilled a newfound triumph in him, for the four of them combined were his greatest opponents thus far, and now that he rendered them powerless, there was no longer anyone in his way! Not even Leon, Percival, Alastair, or the rest of their comrades could defeat him! He and the Chanters would go on, unstopped, to dominate the world! One could only imagine his ecstasy at finally fulfilling his dream at long last! “All hail Master Chanter!”

“All hail Master Chanter!”

“All hail Master Chanter!”

Aiken and the rest of the Chanters erupted into thunderous applause and cheers of sheer elation.

“Oh no!”

“We can’t possibly stand a chance!”

Percival, Alastair, and the rest on the good side felt their hearts sink at the thought of their impending doom.

Although they outnumbered the Chanters by a significant margin, they all knew that they stood no chance, especially with Wulfric’s immense powers.

There was no possible way they could get out of this alive! Their faces were ashen with dismay and horror at their fate, but they were not the only ones weighed down by the burden of despair —Pierre, Zach, and the rest of the Dragon Corps were just as anguished, for they knew as the heads of the Central Region Dragon Corps, their sole responsibility was to maintain peace and order in this town, and they failed miserably! Once Brahma achieved his victory, the world would be dominated by chaos and destruction, and many innocent lives would be sacrificed at the hands of their cruelty! One could only imagine their despair at the thought of such a dark, sadistic world to live in.

They could already feel all the hope being sapped out of their body! However, what happened next turned everything around! “Thud! Thud!”

The next moment, Leon’s entire body shuddered as pulsating energy coursed through his veins—he was on the verge of breaking through to a new height in his martial arts training! The air around him seemed to freeze as it congealed and twisted itself into thick spirals of pulsating true energy, then shot right through his body to emit an eerie glow from within.

“What’s going on?”

“That twat, that twat is breaking through his plateau!”

Everyone knew almost instantly what occurred.

“No! That can’t be!” “Take this, you twat!”

Wulfric’s face twisted into a grotesque scowl at this.

Witnessing Leon’s slaughter of Central Boss taught him that Leon was at the Semi-Saint state, and he could not allow Leon to progress to the Saint state where he could, defeat him tearing his attention away from a’sefiously wounded Pierre, Wulfrio leaped into the air, channeling a powerful surge of energy within his palms, and sent it pummeling straight toward Leon! He had to strike Leon before he attained the Saint State! Nevertheless, he was too late! The moment Leon sensed Wulfric behind him, he launched himself through the air, narrowly avoiding Wulfric’s attack.

Having just broken through to a new power level, his first order of business would usually be to hone the newfound energy to gain control over it, but the situation at hand was.

too dire for him to waste his time

He landed sturdily on the ground then slowly straightened up to his full” height.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3127-“Haha! I’ve finally attained the Saint State! Now it’s time for you to die, you old git!”

A glimmer of malice flashed through Leon’s eyes.

When he fixated his gaze on Wulfric’s face, it sent a shudder down Wulfric’s entire body, for Leon’s eyes were like two pits of deep, dark, sinister hatred.

“How cocky of you to say that, you twat! So what if you attained the Saint State?

You haven’t even got time to harness your powers yet, so you’re no match for me! Take this!”

Wulfric scoffed, taking no notice of Leon’s threats at all.

Then, without another moment’s hesitation, he sent a powerful surge of energy pummeling Leon’s way, intending to destroy Leon while his defenses were low!

“He’s right.

So what if he's attained the Saint State? He can't even control his powers properly," the rest of the Chanters all agreed, and felt rather relieved by this.

The glimmer of hope that ignited briefly within Pierre, Zach, and the rest was immediately doused after hearing the Chanters' words.

Wulfric was right— Leon just attained a new power level, and as a result, was incredibly vulnerable.

There was no possible way he could hold his ground against someone as powerful as Wulfric! Besides, even Pierre himself fell victim to Wulfric, and there was no evidence to suggest that Leon would not end up the same! Even though Leon was more powerful than Pierre now, there was no way he could defeat Wulfric, a much more seasoned and experienced figlilec.

Naturally, they all watched on in despair, fearing for Leon's fate.

However, what happened next was beyond any of their wildest imagination!

"Wrong move, pal!"

Leon did not do so much as an eyelid.

Instead, with a sweep of his cloak, he sent a powerful surge of energy charging straight toward Wulfric in retaliation! "Thud!"

An almighty crunch ensued as Leon and Wulfric's attacks collided with each other.

With the help of the Holy Spirit Fruit, Leon successfully surpassed the Advanced Golden Core Phase to attain the Great Crossing Phase, giving him powers that were comparable to the Saint State.

However, before this, Leon also took a Dragon Pill, which had awakened his powers, and with the additional protection of the Mirror of Sovereign, he was now far more powerful than Wulfric could even begin to imagine.

After a ferocious battle, Leon's attack tore through Wulfric's defenses and struck him squarely in the middle of his chest, sending him soaring through the air only to land in a crumpled heap a few feet away.

An excruciating pain shot through Wulfric's chest upon his landing, and he bent forward to spit out large mouthfuls of blood.

He was severely wounded.

"What? How's this possible?"

No one could believe their eyes.

They were all certain that Leon was no match for Wulfric, and not a single person believed there was any chance of Leon overturning the odds.

No one could believe, not even in their wildest dreams, that the situation would take such a drastic turn. Leon merely launched a counter-attack without even batting an eyelid, but it struck Wulfric so hard that he was fatally wounded.

This was a scene beyond their wildest imaginations! One could only imagine their shock at this.

“No! This is impossible!”

Wulfric muttered, trying desperately to get on his feet despite the agonizing pain.

His entire face was etched with disbelief.

He could not, for the life of him, fathom how easily Leon defeated him, when he should have been at his most vulnerable! If anything, Wulfric was too arrogant to accept this defeat!

The Ex-Husbands Revenge Chapter 3128—“Nothing is impossible! It’s high time you accept your fate, you old git! Take this!”

“The Phoenix Sky Fist!” Leon merely scoffed at him.

The next moment, he directed one last attack at Wulfric in the form of his most powerful move—the Phoenix Sky Fist, a sage technique belonging to the Heavenly Class! A cloud of pulsating energy charged straight toward Wulfric, without any mercy toward his cries of horror! Its sole intent was to destroy him and put an end to this battle!

“No—”

Wulfric let out a bloodcurdling scream as he watched, defenseless, as the Phoenix Sky Fist soared toward him.

His first instinct was to leap out of harm’s way, but Leon was far too powerful for him and anticipated this beforehand.

Not to mention the Phoenix Sky Fist was one of the most powerful moves belonging to the Heavenly Class, and there was no possible way he could escape from its wrath.

Wulfric's limp body only left a few feet off the ground when the Phoenix Sky Fist crashed into him, rendering his body a cloud of smoke that dissipated, scattering ashes everywhere and putting an end to Wulfric's gristly reign!

"What!"

The rest of the Chanters were at a loss of words.

They could not fathom how Leon possibly grew so powerful within such a short time and defeated Wulfric with the latter barely even managing to put up a fight!

This was a miracle if they ever saw it! None of them would have believed this possible if they had not witnessed it with their own eyes.

"Splendid! Incredible!"

"I've never seen anything quite like this before, Leon!"

Pierre, Zach, and the rest, although momentarily stunned, soon snapped out of their stupor to congratulate Leon.

Although none of them knew how Leon possibly pulled that off, one thing was clear—they won! Everything was going to be alright now! They were so certain that they would lose, but Leon pulled off a feat so incredible it was beyond their wildest dreams—he single-handedly turned the situation around and overpowered their greatest opponent! One could only imagine how exhilarated they were over their victory! With triumph, of course, came despair, and this was evident from the sunken, forlorn looks on the Chanters' faces.

Their hearts sank with devastation—with Wulfric gone, there was no way the remaining Chanters could escape! Indeed, as they expected, the Dragon Corps soon rounded them up and restrained them.

And so ended the battle of a century! As soon as their opponents were taken care of, Leon then distributed some Essential Detox Pills to his fallen comrades, which successfully revitalized them, just in time for everyone to help clean up the scene of battle.

Although the Chanters were not directly involved in Brahma's crimes, they were still guilty by association and were convicted as such.

In particular, Aiken and some of the prominent members of the Chanters were particularly guilty and would be trialed and most likely sentenced to life imprisonment at the hands of the Dragon Corps.

The rest of the Chanters, however, were to be stripped of their powers and banished from Sky County itself! Thus ended the reign of the merciless Chanters, the most powerful of the three ancient families in the Central Region.

Five days later, Leon managed to get his hands on the heavenly flower courtesy of the dragon corps and returned to the Western Region with Cynthia and Ruth.

With the help of the Heavenly Flower, they were finally able to revive Renee from her coma.

When Renee finally came to, she was met by the sight of Lepn, Iris, Caleb, Hugo, and many more of the Morrisons.

Everyone was beyond delighted to see her well again and felt as though a weight was lifted off their shoulders.

Renee, on the other hand, did not seem at all happy to see them.

On the contrary, there was a host of emotions fighting within her head.

Having narrowly escaped death, she expressed her concerns in front of everyone. Visit Novelebook.com to read the latest chapter of this novel ,

Her visitors only remained a short while, out of consideration that she needed to rest so they soon retreated, leaving only Iris behind to tend to her.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 3129-“Miss Morrison, I would like to thank you for saving my life,” Iris said as she approached Renee’s bed.

She meant to thank Renee for having saved her so narrowly from death during their encounter with one of Brahma’s clones, which was why she lingered in Renee’s room even after everyone left.

“Miss Young, if you would truly like to return the favor, there is something you can do for me,” Renee said, biting her lip as though what she was about to say was an excruciatingly difficult decision to make.

“What is it?” Iris asked, although she felt like she already knew what was the answer.

“I would like to join you in being Leon’s companions,” Renee said with an expectant look. She harbored feelings toward Leon for some time now but refrained from competing against Iris and Cynthia, knowing there was no way she could win.

However, she had an epiphany after her narrow escape from death and realized that there was so much more to life than competing with other women over a man.

Therefore, instead of becoming nemeses, she would much rather join their leagues.

This was, in her opinion, undoubtedly the best option they had.

“Um,” Iris was at a loss for words.

The last thing she wanted was for another woman to join her in “sharing”

Leon’s affections, but Renee saved her life, and she was in no position to turn Renee’s request down.

“Miss Morrison, I hope you’ve considered this long and hard because there’s no guarantee that Leon will ever say yes,” she finally replied, sighing.

“No matter! Even if he doesn’t give me an answer now, I can wait, just as Miss Shear is! I’m willing to wait as long as it takes— provided you are fine with the arrangement, of course!”

Renee replied, a look of steadfast determination on her face.

“Very well, then. I can see how adamant you are, and I have no choice but to accept.” Iris knew there was no point objecting any longer.

“Thank you so much, Iris.”

Renee was so delighted by this that she pulled Iris into a tight embrace.

Tears of joy slid down her face, and if one were to pay close attention, one would notice that she began calling Iris by her first name, as though symbolizing the shift in their relationship.

“Perhaps this is fate,”

Iris muttered to herself as she patted Renee’s back in reassurance.

She knew full well that Renee was not the last of her competitors—surely Snow, Ruth, and Roanne would soon follow suit.

After all, the three of them spent considerable time with Leon and Iris, and surely they would have grown used to the arrangement by now.

Perhaps they might have even developed feelings for Leon, just as Renee had, and would refuse to leave his side.

After Iris was forced to accept Cynthia and Renee's addition into their lives, she was certain that it would not be long before Snow, Ruth, and Roanne made the same request.

This, no doubt, was not an ideal situation for her, but there was nothing she could do about it.

Leon spent the next couple of days attending to his business in the Western Region, and after that, he and Iris set off for the Central Region.

Renee already obtained permission from her grandfather to join Leon's league, so she, too, insisted on accompanying them.

Leon had all the right mind to turn her down, but she was adamant, and strangely enough, Iris did not object to her presence, so Leon finally had no choice but to bring her along.

Upon their arrival at the Central Region, he sought out Pierre to discuss their arrangements for the future.

Since Central Boss and the Micahs met their downfall, considerable measures had to be put in place to maintain order in the Gangster World.

With Pierre and the Dragon Corps' help, Leon assigned Mason to take the place of Central Boss and become the new leader of the Gangster World.z

As for the Chanters, their defeat resulted in an empty spot amongst the three ancient families; and Leon had all the fight mind to shift his business over from Springfield City to fill in this spot.

Thus another dilemma was settled!

At the same time, the Chanters' defeat earned Leon the respect of both Percival and Alastair, who both agreed, without a single doubt, that Leon fully deserved the newfound status as the head of the three ancient families.

They both were eager to help Leon out in every manner possible as he stood his feet in this new city, establishing the Wolf legacy! It took Leon barely a month to find a firm footing in the Central Region, and on he went along with the rest of the Wolf clan, to the Central Region, thus fully establishing his empire in this new city! As time went on, the Wolf family flourished, and soon leaped to the top of the food chain to reign over the remaining two ancient families! Leon, on the other hand, earned himself the reputation of the strongest fighter in the Central Region, and even the Five Regions combined! Two months later, with full intent to give his bride the happiness she deserved, Leon threw the grandest and most extravagant wedding the Central Region had ever seen.

He invited everyone he knew from all over the county, including the Youngs and the Shears from Springfield City.

The wedding had, in the blink of an eye, become one of the most historical events the town ever saw!

Three months after that, Leon and iris welcomed even more exciting news-ins was pregnant, and they were soon expecting their very first child! In celebration of the joyous occasion, Leon threw a party and got extremely inebriated that night, a result of Cynthia, Renee, and the rest of the girls' badgering.

The girls soon realized that this was the opportunity they were waiting for, and needless to say, Leon was in for a fun night, and an exciting rest of his life.
