

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 358

Chapter 358

He merely helped Mason with some internal injuries the last time. All of the actual energy that Mason accumulated over the years burst forward, which was how Mason leveled up so much.

Fane did not have any hidden injuries, so there was no way he could do the same.

Furthermore, he was only in the Intermediate Acquired State when it came to martial arts. He was a far cry from Fane.

Even if he wanted to give Fane some pointers, he could not.

“So that’s how it is, I was overthinking it,” Fane was very disappointed.

In truth, he knew that martial artists needed to go one step at a time. There were no true shortcuts..

Leon being able to help Mason so much was probably because of some huge coincidence. It could have been replicated.

Otherwise, it would be too absurd if Leon could help others easily improve like that.

Looking at how disappointed Fane seemed, Leon was a bit hesitant.

After all, Fane just helped him, but Leon had no way of returning the favor. He felt a little bad.

“It’s not like there’s no hope at all. I have something you could try...” Leon said.

“What is it?” It immediately got Fane’s attention.

“This is an Energy Nurturing Pill. Have one first and see how the effects are,” Leon took out a white bottle and took out an Energy Nurturing Pill from it. He handed one to Fane.

“That...”

Fane hesitated for a moment, but he felt like there were no grudges between Leon and himself, so Leon should not have any reason to harm him.

So, he dispelled his suspicion and swallowed the pill.

The pill was digested and quickly turned into a wave of true energy that filled up his body.

He hurriedly opened his eyes and could vaguely feel the true energy flowing into his energy center. Suddenly, the bottleneck he was in loosened up a little.

“It works! I can feel myself about to make a breakthrough!” Fane was incredibly excited. He immediately realized that Leon gave him something extraordinary!

Even though one singular pill was not enough to help Fane breakthrough, it still manage to loosen up the bottleneck Fane was at. Fane was not too far away from powering up.

“Mister Wolf, what kind of pill is this? It can improve someone’s strength! If I have a few more, I might be able to level up immediately!” Fane said excitedly. He looked at the bottle in Leon’s hand, and his eyes lit up.

“It’s an Energy Nurturing Pill. It can bolster your strength, and can even improve the rate of your training.”

“However, with your current levels, you can only take one every two or three days. You can’t take too much,” Leon explained simply.

“I can only take one every two or three days? What a pity...” Fane lamented. He had to dispel his intentions of having a few more.

However, he thought about it. He already felt like he was going to improve soon. It was something that would happen eventually, so he did not need to rush.

As long as he continued to train properly, he would be able to break into the Intermediate Innate Stage in less than a month

Of course, if he had the Energy Nurturing Pills, he would be able to do it in a week!

“Mister Wolf, your pills are amazing. I’ve never seen something so amazing before!”

“I wonder if you’d be willing to sell them to me? Just give me a price,” Fane said hopefully. “Mister Poole, I’m sorry. I need to use these. I can’t sell them to you.”
