

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 360

Chapter 360

“Leon?” Janice finally remembered how she used Leon earlier.

“Mom, you misunderstood. Leon’s just my good friend. He’s not my boyfriend. I just used him to act as my boyfriend to stop the engagement just now,” Janice smiled awkwardly.

“What? He’s not your boyfriend?” Leanne felt like she was struck by lightning. Her smile immediately froze on her face.

“Mom, what happened to you?” Janice asked strangely.

“No, that’s impossible! He admitted he was your boyfriend just now. How could he be pretending?!” Leanne shook her head, unable to accept that cruel truth.

“Didn’t I say that he was just playing along with me? He’s not my boyfriend,” Janice explained.

Seeing as her daughter did not seem to be lying Leanne’s mood sank, unable to accept it.

“Janice, Don’t be stupid! It doesn’t matter if Leon is your boyfriend or not. He didn’t make a clear rejection just now. It means that he should be somewhat interested in you. It’s fine if he’s not your boyfriend right now. You have to seize your chances in the future. Make sure he quickly becomes your boyfriend!” Leanne advised.

“Weren’t you so against me being with him? Why did you change your mind?” Janice was shocked. She was completely confused by what her mother was doing.

“That was then, this is now. The fact that Leon is related to the Shears and Mister Poole means that he’s someone amazing.”

“There aren’t many men like him. You mustn’t let him slip away!” Leanne advised.

“That’s right! Janice, your mother’s right. Leon’s young, and powerful. He’s much better than many young and excellent men around. You have to seize the chance. If you let him slip by, you’ll regret it your whole life…”

Mindy and Joey both advised Janice as well.

“That…” Janice was thoroughly stunned.

When Theodore was around, Leanne and Mindy forced her into a corner trying to get her to get engaged to Theodore.

Now that Theodore was finally gone, she never expected that their target would shift to Leon.

It was out of her expectations, and it caught her off guard.

“Mom, Leon’s just a regular person just like us. He might be a bit skilled, but he’s not as amazing as all of you think,” Janice said wryly.

Her views were different from Leanne’s and the others.

During their gathering the last time, she saw Cynthia causing a scene, and she knew that Cynthia was a client of Leon’s company.

She guessed that Leon’s relationship with Cynthia was very ordinary. It did not mean that Leon was entrenched with the Shears.

As for Fane, it was completely because of Mason.

Back then, Mason was won over by Leon’s martial arts. Janice knew of Mason wanting to be under Leon.

She felt like Fane was willing to befriend Leon for Mason’s sake.

In the end, Leon was much better than he used to be in college. However, she did not think that Leon was someone that amazing!

However, she did not say that, so her mother would not continue.

Right at that moment, the door opened and Leon walked in.

“Janice, what are you all talking about?” Leon asked with a smile, sitting down next to Janice.
