The truth was, she was also extremely shocked by the fact that four out of the six major forces were gathered here today.

Fortunately, it was clear that the Shears and Fane Poole were all on Leon's side.

She was relieved to see this. If all four of them were against Leon, she would not stand a chance against them at all, no matter how powerful she was.

"Leon, you..." Iris was just about to ask further when she caught sight of Leon's cheek. Then, she glanced again at Janice, who stood behind Leon with a coat draped over her shoulder, and a scowl crossed her face. She quickly swallowed her words and turned her head away, refusing to meet Leon's gaze.

"What's wrong, Iris?" Leon was puzzled by this.

Louisa inched closer to him and whispered with a funny look, "Mister Wolf, there's a lipstick mark on your cheek. I wonder who left it there?"

"What?" Leon immediately wiped his cheek and was gobsmacked to see the red stain on his hand. All of a sudden, he recalled that Janice kissed him on the cheek when he rescued her just now and must have left a lipstick mark there!

"Iris, please listen to me. This is just a huge misunderstanding..." Leon began to grow fretful. He finally understood why Cynthia had given him such a strange look when she first laid eyes on him.

It was because she, too, noticed the lipstick mark!

Despair and regret spread into his heart as he secretly reprimanded Cynthia for failing to point it out to him!

It was all Janice's fault! Knowing she left the mark there, she did not remind him about it and instead embarrassed him in front of so many people!

"I don't care what happened. You and I have nothing going on, so you don't have to explain anything to me!" Iris said in such a cold voice that it sent shivers down everyone's spines.

"This isn't what you think it is..." Leon was about to burst into tears, but before he could finish, Iris interrupted him curtly, "I'm not interested to find out, so please shut your mouth!"

Ir's scoffed, but despite that, she could not help feeling a surge of frustration spread through her entire body.

The truth was, the seed of love and admiration began to grow in her icy-cold heart from the moment Leon put his arms around her at the cinema.

Seeing the lipstick mark on Leon's face, and his jacket draped across Janice's shoulders sent jealousy raging through her body.

The truth was, she knew full well that she had no control over what Leon chose to do since he was not even her boyfriend, but she still could not help feeling jealous over this.

All of a sudden, she realized that she fell for Leon without her knowing!

This realization startled her greatly, and she did not know how to face Leon ever again. Therefore, she put on her icy-cold persona to attempt to hide her panic.

"Iris, you..." the color drained from Anson's face.

He was Iris's admirer and had since a long time ago thought of her as the only woman he wanted to marry. Therefore, seeing how bothered Iris—the woman who never gave another man so much as a second glance seemed to be by the lipstick mark on Leon's face sent alarm bells ringing through his head.
