

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 499-500

Chapter 499

After lunch, Vincent sent Leon back to Cynthion Group.

In the president's office, Cynthia stood from her chair when Leon stepped inside. "Leon, you came just in time. There's something important that I need to tell you."

"What is it?" Leon massaged his temple in confusion, feeling slightly light-headed from all the wine that Vincent made him drink at lunch earlier.

"My brother just called me, saying that he has leads on where to find wild Panax that has grown for five hundred years," Cynthia explained with a smile but was cut off before she could finish.

"Seriously? That's great!" Overjoyed, Leon immediately sobered.

He reached the bottleneck of the Peak Meditation Phase and with a wild Panax that has grown for five hundred years, he could produce the Foundation Pill that could help him work past the bottleneck.

He asked for Harvey's help earlier to search for the wild Panax he needed and the wait was worth it. Finally finding leads on what they needed, Leon was over the moon.

Cynthia caught onto the scent of alcohol on Leon's body and scowled. "You sure are enjoying yourself out there while you toss all the work to me. You're one thick-skinned chairman!"

"I'm not having fun. This is called building my social network," Leon argued, before changing the subject. "Let's get back to talking about the five-hundred-year-old wild Panax!"

"According to what my brother said, a five-hundred-year-old wild Panax was found in our neighboring city, Seacove City. Three days from now, it'll be sold at an auction," Cynthia explained.

"Alright. I'm going to Seacove City right now!" Leon said impatiently before turning to leave.

"What's your hurry? The auction doesn't start until three days later. We can depart two days from now!" Cynthia hastily reached out to grab Leon by the arm.

"That's true," Leon sobered, before gaping at her, "wait, you're coming with me? What about your brother? Is he coming?"

"My brother's busy and he told me to go with you." Cynthia blushed.

In truth, Harvey was not otherwise occupied and Cynthia was the one who suggested that she could go with Leon. It was her chance of traveling with Leon to be alone with him.

Leon did not suspect her intention at all. He did not know Seacove City at all and he only needed one of the Shear siblings to be his tour guide.

In the following days, Leon stayed in the office to learn the operation of the company alongside Cynthia.

Cynthia was interested in Leon and she confessed her attraction in the past. Ceasing the chance of their time alone together, she took care of Leon's every need, hoping that he would forget about Iris and turn his focus on her instead.

Leon was not blind to Cynthia's feelings toward him. Though he was reluctant to accept at first, he was only a man and after working by Cynthia's side, he slowly got used to her presence.

Cynthia was the second most beautiful woman in Springfield City and her beauty was of a different genre than Iris and any man would be enticed by her looks.

Chapter 500

Leon was merely a man and since he was single, he could not be immune to her charm.

Before he knew it, Cynthia left a mark in his heart and as their relationship progressed, the two realized that they meant more than friends to one another even though they were not officially dating.

So long as Leon agreed, Cynthia would happily become his girlfriend, but he knew that Iris remained to be the love of his life and he could not bring himself to accept Cynthia's feelings.

Despite his reluctance, Cynthia was happy with their progress regardless.

She knew that Leon was still recovering from the breakup with Iris and was in no rush to start a new relationship. She had the time and patience to wait until he forgot about Iris before she could slip in and replace Iris.

A day before the auction, Cynthia drove Leon to Seacove City and the two selected a five-star hotel to stay the night.

Inside the hotel room, Cynthia and Leon just settled down when a young couple came knocking on their door.

The couple was dressed in expensive clothing and one could easily tell that they came from a wealthy family.

The

young woman seemed to be the same age as Cynthia; she was fair and elegant-looking, dressed in a skirt and high heels that highlighted her long, slim legs. Though the young woman was a beauty of her own, she hardly held a candle to Cynthia.

“Cynthia, it’s been so long!” The young woman gave Cynthia a big hug.

“Yeah, since we graduated from college.” Cynthia smiled and hugged back enthusiastically.

The young woman was Sandra Doyle, Cynthia’s best friend at college and the two were close despite not seeing one another since graduation. They continued to talk on phones or through messages and their friendship remained as strong as it was in the past.

Cynthia notified Sandra ahead of time about her trip to Seacove City. She wanted to take the opportunity to see Sandra and since Sandra lived in Seacove City, she would know more about the auction and might be able to provide certain user information.

“Cynthia, who’s this gentleman? Is he your boyfriend?” Sandra glanced at Leon. Though Leon was handsome in a way, he was not dressed in any luxurious brand products, which made him appear slightly out of place next to Cynthia..

“He’s-

” Cynthia hesitated and instinctively turned to look at Leon. She desperately wanted to claim Leon as her boyfriend but did not wish to upset him for jumping to conclusions.

“My name’s Leon Wolf. I’m Miss Shear’s assistant,” Leon said.

Cynthia did not announce Leon as Cynthion Group's chairman and most employees in the company assumed that he was merely her assistant, so Leon decided to play the part.

Seeing how Leon refused to say that he was her boyfriend, Cynthia felt slightly depressed.

"So he's just an assistant!" Sandra said with the realization that Leon was not anyone important.