Chapter 116 What Happened to Grandpa?

Bruce locked himself in the room for a long time. Meals were brought to him by the butler, sometimes he ate, sometimes he didn't eat at all.

Reyna was particularly concerned about his peculiar behavior.

After all, I had arranged a blind date for him a few days later.

She held her phone in her hand, opened Kieran's profile, and without hesitation, sent a voice message to Kieran.

"Kieran, can you come back and check on Bruce? He has locked himself in his room for several days now and hasn't come out. He has a blind date the day after tomorrow, and I'm worried about his state..."

"Mom, did you arrange another blind date? It's better if you don't let him know. If he finds out, he will become even more depressed."

Kieran, who worked in the company, was dealing with these shareholders and chairmen.

After all, I unilaterally gave Valerie a 40% stake.

These old folks have exploded now.

But Kieran didn't care, he even wanted to give his own to Valerie.

This way, he would feel a little less burdened in his heart.

Reyna also heard the noisy sound of his meeting on the other side, so she gave up on trying to make Kieran come back to persuade Bruce.

Turning his head toward Tristan in the studio, the two brothers had a strained relationship.

She hesitated a bit about whether to let Tristan go and persuade him.

But in the end, she decided against it. They would just end up arguing again, and she didn't want to hear it anymore.

The Horton family was in complete silence. Reese, because Kieran had given Valerie's shares, now had to go out and apologize to his old friends.

"Ah!"

Sitting on the sofa, Reyna let out a long sigh of resignation.

Can this family still hold on?

Tired, Reyna rubbed her waist and went back to her room.

On one side, the atmosphere of the Horton family was not right, while on the other side, Derek was in his room, solemnly making a phone call.

"Okay, I got it. I'll consider whether to tell Val about this matter. Alright, you guys go ahead and busy yourselves."

Derek stopped sitting and started pacing back and forth in the room.

He walked out of the room and saw Valerie on the sofa, diligently editing a short video.

"Val..."

"Hmm? What's wrong, Derry?"

Valerie smiled as she looked at Derek.

Derek was at a loss for words when he saw the adorable expression on her face.

Just now in the room, I told my family not to tell Valerie about Grandpa being admitted to the hospital.

But seeing her adorable face now, he felt it necessary to tell Valerie.

After all, she was also a member of the Fisher family.

Derek touched his nose and sat down next to Valerie, rubbing their thumbs together incessantly.

“Val, there’s something I need to tell you, and you should be prepared mentally.”

Derek’s words made Valerie’s work come to a halt.

The look in the eyes was a little nervous.

Derek rarely spoke to himself while smoking, and his expression didn’t seem like a good thing either.

“You said...”

Valerie’s voice unconsciously became quieter.

Derek took a deep breath.

“Val, Grandpa fainted last night while having dinner. He is now in the hospital ...”

“Click...”

The tea cup in Valerie's hand was placed heavily on the computer, her hands trembling.

"Sir, is grandpa okay?"

Valerie's heart flowed out a cold temperature, spreading toward her limbs.

Unconsciously, her eye sockets began to swell with a sour sensation.

Her lips trembled.

She put the computer aside and turned to look at Derek earnestly.

She was nervous and scared.

She felt a strong love from her elders for the first time in Galen.

This blatant favoritism really makes people susceptible to falling.

So, after Valerie found out that Galen had fainted and was admitted to the hospital, her mind started to become a little unable to think calmly.

Chapter 117 Why Did She Go to the Hospital?

Valerie didn't sleep all night. She was very tired, but her mind was very confused.

I couldn't fall asleep lying in bed.

She squinted her eyes and waited drowsily for the phone to ring.

7 o'clock in the morning.

Valerie did not fall asleep at all.

She dragged her heavy body and got up from the bed.

There were already footsteps in the living room.

It was Derek.

Since he moved across from Valerie, the two of them immediately exchanged house keys on the same day.

Seeing that he woke up earlier than her, Valerie was not one to be outdone.

The two of them freshened up and got ready to go to the hospital to see Galen

And there was Bruce, who had woken up early and hadn't slept all night.

These days, he didn't sleep well at all because of that dream.

After hesitating for a few days, he finally ved at the entrance of Valerie's neighborhood, but he still hesitated to go in.

Just sitting in the car, thinking it's good enough to just watch at the door.

He drank

warm water, with dark circles under his eyes, his eyes full of bloodshot veins, and his face rough and rough due to lack of good sleep.

The breath of a man in his thirties suddenly hit me.

He took a sip of warm boiled water and sighed.

Looking at the entrance of the residential area.

Just as he was about to leave, he looked up and saw the familiar face sitting behind the Fisher family's young master on a small electric scooter.

She looked haggard, with no emotional expression on her face.

Bruce's heart skipped a beat.

Why was she with the young master of the Fisher family?

And they were sitting on a small battery.

Bruce rubbed his eyes hard, trying to see clearly.

His gaze stuck to Valerie, whom he hadn't seen in a long time.

But after watching for a while, he immediately put down the cup in his hand and started the car to catch up.

Valerie's face looked really bad!

His face turned pale, with dark circles under his eyes, and his overall condition was not good.

Did she really get sick, just like in the dream?

And it was ahead of schedule!

At the thought of this, a wave of guilt overwhelmed Bruce's chest once again.

He followed behind, watching where Valerie was going.

The two people on the small battery gradually became serious.

"It seemed like someone was following us from behind."

Valerie leaned close to Derek and whispered softly in his ear.

The warm air flowed around Derek's ears and neck.

The hand holding the handle clenched for a moment, and the whole body tensed up.

He swallowed a big gulp of saliva, and his Adam's apple moved up and down.

Ah!

Torture!

But he didn't want to miss the opportunity to get close to Valerie.

He forced himself to calm down and looked into the rearview mirror.

A black luxury car followed behind him. At the traffic light, he recognized who was in the car behind him.

Impatiently, he clicked his tongue.

Don't tell Val about this, it's not necessary.

And it was agreed before that if they ever encountered anyone from the Horton family again, they would run together.

“It’s okay, he probably went to the hospital too.”

Hmm?

Is it like this?

But Derek said so, so there shouldn’t be anything wrong.

She chose to believe Derek.

“Val, I might drive a bit fast next, so hold on tight.”

After speaking, he didn’t wait for Valerie to react and grabbed her hands, making her wrap them around his waist.

“Derry, you...”

As the conversation was not finished, the small battery suddenly buzzed and started moving forward. The sudden movement caught Valerie off guard, and she instinctively held onto Derek’s waist tightly.

Don’t let yourself fall,down.

Derek’s mouth curled upwards beneath the helmet as he accelerated the speed of the electric scooter.

Chapter 118 Don’t Be So Self-Righteous

“Valerie, you came.”

Galen, who had just gotten up and was leaning against the bed, arrived at the door of the ward with Valerie following Derek.

“Grandpa! Are you okay?”

Valerie grabbed the fruit basket and approached the edge of Galen’s bed, taking hold of Galen’s slightly cool hand.

Her heart clenched with pain.

“I’m fine, Valerie. Grandpa was just too tired. The doctor said he just needs to rest for a while.”

Galen reached out and rubbed Valerie’s head, immediately changing the topic to prevent the atmosphere from becoming so oppressive.

Derek didn’t know when he also walked over to the side and sat next to Valerie, quietly watching their interaction. He held a plate of washed fruits in his hand and began peeling them.

Calvin stood behind, with a slight smile on his face.

Gently gazing at the scene in front.

But the heart was still filled with deep unease.

Grandfather’s situation was different from before.

He quietly walked out of the ward and found the doctor in charge of Galen.

“Doctor, excuse me, I would like to ask about my grandfather’s health condition...”

He nervously looked at Galen’s attending physician, his eyes filled with worry.

“Oh, you don’t have to worry. The elderly person has just been having trouble sleeping lately, and on top of that, all of their previous health issues suddenly resurfaced.”

“Rest more and eat lighter, there will be improvement.”

This hospital was the most powerful one under Grandpa Mica.

Since the doctors said so, Calvin’s uneasiness in his heart decreased slightly.

At worst, when my grandfather is discharged from the hospital, I will take him for another check-up myself.

Calvin thanked the doctor and glanced at the watch on his wrist.

“Let’s go buy lunch, Valerie is here, let’s get something delicious.”

Muttering to himself, he brushed past Bruce.

Bruce followed Valerie’s route and arrived at the hospital.

His heart drummed even louder.

“Did Valerie stay in the hospital today?”

His breathing became heavier as he started searching for the room where Valerie was.

“Sir, did you fail to find the ward for your family?”

A nurse at the front desk watched as Bruce wandered back and forth, looking at each room one by one.

“Oh, right, I originally came with my sister, but I forgot the room number.”

Bruce followed the nurse’s words and asked about Valerie’s route just now.

“Was it the girl who was with a handsome young man? They went to the VIP ward.”

At this, the nurse glanced at Bruce strangely. There were only a few families who could afford to stay in the VIP ward. Surely, he must have informed his family before staying here, right?

Why didn’t you know?

But looking at the man’s overall demeanor and the quality of the clothes he was wearing.

The price was also high.

I guess it was only known temporarily.

The nurse didn’t think much and just told Bruce the ward number.

Bruce took the elevator to the VIP floor and found it even cleaner than downstairs.

But there were also very few people.

There was no transparent glass on the door, like the regular wards below.

The dizziness became stronger and stronger.

A hot stream flowed out from Valerie's nose.

Subconsciously, he covered his nose with his hand.

Fresh red blood dripped onto the ground.

Valerie felt the dizziness in her head growing stronger and stronger.

“Valerie!!”

Bruce, who was startled by the scene in front of him, eventually approached and reached out his hand to try to support Valerie.

But she seemed to have some kind of energy.

The cold and unfamiliar gaze stared at Bruce, keeping help away from him.

Stumbling steps and an increasing flow of nosebleeds.

Let everyone in the lobby who was resting look this way.

“Oh my! Whose girl is this! Where are her family members?”

“Look at this face! It has become so pale! Where is the doctor? Where is the doctor?”

“Who has tissues? Block the little girl's nose first! It can't keep running!”

There was a person who stepped forward to help, and others also came forward one after another, ready to assist.

Unfamiliar people approached and kept Bruce isolated.

Valerie couldn't hold on any longer and her head was spinning. Her legs gave way and she was about to collapse onto the ground.

"Valerie!"

Mica, who was called to the hall, immediately ran off.

He looked at Valerie, who was about to fall into a coma, in panic, and felt extremely shocked in his heart.

After Galen stayed at this hospital last night, he hurriedly came over and joined his own elites.

Treated Galen.

Until this morning, he had not slept all night and had been constantly observing Galen's readings.

As a result, I was called to the hall and told that someone was about to faint.

It was Valerie after all!

He looked around to see if the nurses who were supposed to bring the bed had arrived.

Suddenly, in the crowd, he saw a panicked face of Bruce.

In an instant, he probably understood the reason why Valerie had fainted.

It is not ruled out that the accumulated fatigue in her body is related.

But Bruce was definitely the trigger!

The cold gaze stared directly at Bruce, with a strong sense of disgust about to burst out in the eyes.

The people around were all focused on Valerie, naturally not noticing the fleeting glance from Mica.

But Bruce saw it clearly...

He was both flustered and amazed to find out that Valerie actually knew the young master of the White family!

Recalling

what Reese had said before about wanting to win over the White family, Bruce pursed his lips.

Reese cannot be informed about this matter.

Watching Valerie being lifted onto the stroller, Bruce hesitated a bit before approaching to take a look.

However, discouraged by Mica's gaze, I could only silently follow behind.

Chapter 120 I'll Bear Everything for Her

Derek chatted with Mica for a while.

He took out his phone and called Calvin.

Calvin had just arrived at the Galen ward and set down his lunch.

After hearing this news, every hair on my body stood on end.

Hurry up and put down the lunch in your hand.

Rushed to the emergency room in a hurry.

"Derek! How is Valerie?!"

Calvin's current mood is like a roller coaster.

The discomfort from Galen's side had not completely disappeared when Valerie's sudden fainting made him extremely anxious.

"Derek! How is Valerie!"

"Shh! Calvin, lower your voice!"

Calvin had just arrived at the emergency room, shouting loudly for Mica and Derek.

Mica hurried forward and stopped Calvin from speaking loudly.

Calvin covered his mouth and tiptoed to Valerie's bed.

"What happened? Why did you suddenly faint?"

Observant Calvin also noticed the bloodstain on her collar.

I felt even more heartbroken.

Mica explained the situation to him, and Calvin's face immediately turned ugly.

The Horton

family turned out to be quite fickle. They said that both parties would no longer have any contact with each other, but now they unilaterally come over to harass.

"If they come to harass us again next time, let's just take them to court. After all, Valerie's name is no longer on the Horton family's household registration."

Calvin spoke in a serious tone.

Looking at Derek, he signaled him to be constantly attentive.

"I knew it, Calvin. Today, I was careless."

Thinking that as long as the two of them didn't meet, it would be fine. However, he didn't expect that Bruce would directly follow him into the hospital.

If I had known earlier that she had just said it to catch her breath, I would have followed her directly.

"Alright, stop making that sour face. The incident has already happened, so let's focus on how to resolve it."

Calvin glanced at Derek and, seeing his expression, knew exactly what the child was thinking.

He went forward and patted Derek on the shoulder.

“Don’t let Grandpa know about this matter, I believe Valerie doesn’t want Grandpa to know either. Just inform the rest of the family, I’ll go back to Grandpa’s place first.”

Calvin left the emergency room and returned to his grandfather’s VIP ward to continue accompanying him

But he also took out his phone and told each member of his family about Valerie’s physical condition.

Tucker: Valerie fainted? I will come right after the announcement ends.

Randal: The Horton family really had no sincerity at all.

Raymond: Is Derek here? Tell Derek to take good care of Valerie!

Meredith: Fortunately, Derek moved over there, providing some care.

Steven: Calvin, now you are the only one in the hospital, you need to Mend a hand more.

Calvin: I knew, Dad.

This is Calvin sending him messages one by one in the past.

Everyone was worried about Valerie and Galen.

Calvin let out a long sigh and replied earnestly to each person.

The lunchbox on the table was still intact, but now there is no appetite at all.

Derek, sitting by Valerie's bedside, looked at her for a while and reached out to hold her cold hands.

"Valerie..."

It was afternoon and Valerie was not fully awake yet, but she had already fallen asleep peacefully.

But in the hospital room, Galen, the instrument returned to the room once again and was placed on him.

Mica was also in Galen's hospital room, looking at his readings with a serious expression.

"Mica, how did it go?"

Calvin stood by, watching his expression, feeling slightly anxious himself.

"It's alright, Calvin. Grandpa was gradually stabilizing."

Mica approached and comforted Calvin.

The two of them silently looked at Galen on the hospital bed, both silently cheering him on in their hearts.

Galen breathed slowly as he found himself in a boundless dark place in his dream.

Where is this?
