Chapter 126 Get Engaged

Valerie looked at Derek in shock.

Wasn't this sentence supposed to be said by her?

"Grandpa, Valerie is so nice, can I?"

He was still thinking about his efforts to catch Valerie, and it turned out that his grandfather also had the same idea.

"No, this should be what I said... Am I really suitable, Grandpa?"

Valerie hadn't figured out the situation yet, but when she heard Derek say that, she finally realized.

"Grandpa! Isn't it too early?"

Tucker stood there for a while, then finally realized what his grandfather had just said.

He approached anxiously, awkwardly smiled, and placed his hands on Valerie's shoulders, showing a strong sense of protection.

"What? You don't want Valerie to come to our house? Or are you saying you can find a guy better than Derek?"

Tucker was speechless.

"Well, no, but I felt it was a bit early..."

The pleading eyes turned to Calvin, hoping that someone would stand with him on the same front.

Calvin caught Tucker's gaze and approached him, standing shoulder to shoulder.

“Grandpa, please don’t rush. Let’s see if Valerie agrees or not first.”

Tucker nodded and looked at Valerie.

“Valerie, we didn’t necessarily need you to agree, everything was based on your thoughts.”

He rubbed Valerie’s head.

Derek’s eyes finally became tense, but he concealed it.

“My... grandfather, even if I agree, it wouldn’t be good if Derry doesn’t want to...

Valerie’s voice grew quieter and quieter, her cheeks suddenly turned red, and she dared not look at Derek.

Hmm...

All eyes turned to Derek.

Valerie, you didn’t have to worry about this guy.

He must have been extremely happy in his heart now.

Galen caught the first half of Valerie’s sentence.

“So, Valerie, were you willing to get engaged to Derek?”

“I...”

Valerie’s face had turned extremely red, and she was deep in thought.

During these ten years, Derek took care of himself in every possible way.

And sometimes when he went on missions, he would video call himself, and he would also see other beautiful girls around him, but he didn't even look at them, and his attitude was so cold that she felt a little bit offended.

But only toward her, was gentle to the extreme.

I was extremely patient with myself.

Don't you feel moved?

Heartwarming.

But am I qualified enough?

He was too dazzling...

Galen unexpectedly suggested arranging a marriage between himself and Der ek.

She was both excited and scared.

Chapter 127 I Will Definitely Cure You

"Grandfather, did you call for me?"

Hearing that Galen was looking for him, Mica put down his work and went to Galen's ward.

Galen saw Mica come in, and he looked toward Tucker and Calvin who were still in the room.

"Both of you, go out. I have something to talk to Mica about."

“Grandfather...”

It is a special period now, and Grandpa suddenly asked him to spend time alone with Mica. Naturally, the two of them would think of negative things.

But there was no way, around it, I still had to listen to Grandpa’s words.

Mica blinked her eyes and looked at her two older brothers who were leaving. Then she looked at her grandfather on the sickbed and immediately went forward to sit beside Galen.

“Grandfather, is there something you want me to do by looking for me?”

“Mica, it’s just the two of us here now. Grandpa has something that I really need your help with. Can you keep it a secret for me?”

Mica’s heart thumped and he couldn’t immediately agree to Galen’s request.

Chose silence.

“Mica, before discussing something important, there is some good news I want to tell you.”

“You said, Grandfather.”

Galen sensed Mica’s hesitation and he slowed down the progress of the conversation.

I was still a child, and I was just too impatient.

“Today, Valerie and Derek, both of them, agreed to get engaged. Next, they will prepare for the engagement banquet.”

Galen said this sentence with a smile.

Turned his head to look at Mica beside him.

Sure enough, the shock on this child’s face had already numbed...

“Grandfather?! Valerie is still so young, and you, you want her to be betrothed to Derek...”

“Hey, it’s not all my fault, I just mentioned it. The main thing is that both of them were willing. Otherwise, if Valerie wasn’t willing, I wouldn’t have forced her.”

Mica felt like she was on a cloud.

In a state of confusion.

Galen didn’t really pay much attention to whatever was being said next.

He felt that he needed some time to digest.

In addition to digesting this sudden event, there is also his current strange mood.

My good brother, the girl I will be grateful to for a lifetime...

And we have known each other for so long.

It is definitely false to say that it is not strange.

Galen looked at him with a face full of distress, occasionally grabbing his own hair forcefully.

The old man suddenly spoke.

Chapter 128 Cry for Love?

No matter how much Mica tried to conceal it.

Calvin still saw the tear marks where his mask didn't cover.

His brows furrowed instantly, blocking Mica's way.

"Mica, to be honest, what happened?"

"No, not much."

"Why were you crying so much?"

After being told by Calvin, Tucker realized the tear stains under his eyes.

Mica was speechless.

"About myself! Do I really have to say it out loud?"

After being silent for a while, Mica shouted out in frustration.

"About your matter?"

Tucker couldn't remember for a moment what important thing had happened between Galen and Mica that made Mica cry like this.

He stepped forward and looked at Mica earnestly.

“Mica, you are a good child. Tell your brother the truth, what is it about?”

The mouth under Mica’s mask trembled for a moment.

“You... Grandpa called me in and just told me about Valerie and Derek getting engaged!”

Mica avoided Tucker’s touch.

“That’s it! I left!”

They escaped from the scene, leaving behind two big men who were still a little confused about the situation.

Calvin pointed in the direction where Mica—had left.

“Crying for love?”

Now Tucker was also confused.

He has been in the entertainment industry for so many years, what kind of strange things hasn’t he seen?

When did Mica start having those thoughts about Valerie?

How did I not feel it myself?

But he cried so hard, could it be that he had hidden it too deeply?

Tucker fell into deep thought.

Mica might have had a talent for acting.

Mica arrived at her office and finally took a deep breath.

These two people were really terrifying.

He calmed down for a moment and immediately went to check the blood drawn from Galen.

We need to hurry up.

Mica was racing against time, while Derek and Valerie had just left the hospital.

The two of them returned to the bottom of the residential area in a dazed and confused state.

Obviously, I hadn't realized yet and it didn't feel quite real.

Until Derek heard Valerie take a deep breath.

It only dawned on me then.

After calming down, many problems came rushing in.

He looked toward Valerie, who still seemed a bit confused. He approached her and spoke softly and gently.

"Val, can we talk?"

"Ah, okay, no problem."

Derek's gentle voice reached Valerie's ears, causing her cheeks to turn red. She opened the door for him.

Chapter 129 Get Her Back

Derek was extremely satisfied.

I couldn't help but reach out and pinch Valerie's cheeks.

"Now we can say that we are in a committed relationship, but I know that you haven't fully reached the level of romantic interest in me yet."

"Derry, I..."

Derek stopped her from continuing to speak.

"Take it slow, no rush. In the time to come, focus your attention on me, and we will gradually build our relationship."

After speaking, Derek went to the kitchen to cook for Valerie.

Valerie sat in the living room, still feeling confused.

Everything today felt like a dream, inexplicably I got engaged to Derry.

And I also knew that he had been caring about himself since he was young.

Wandering...

Valerie's room was filled with warmth...

The Horton family, at this moment, was in chaos.

After apologizing to the old fogies, Reese kept thinking about getting back that 40% stake.

But Kieran said that it would only take effect if Valerie herself was willing to come back.

Ever since Valerie was found these few days, everything started to go haywire

It was really annoying.

“Where is Kieran? Where is he?”

Reese found the butler in the living room, not knowing which number butler he was.

The previous Ramon has resigned due to health reasons.

Now, after Ramon, there is a new butler.

“Master... Mr. Kieran has been away from home for several days.”

The temper of this landlord is really as bad as Senior Ye said, it's unbearable.

The one who can make Jayvion angry, his temper is truly not to be underestimated.

You should know that Jayvion is a legendary figure in the industry.

They were their role models.

The head of the Horton family was truly remarkable.

If it weren't for the high salary he was earning, I would have left a long time ago.

Seeing that Kieran had no intention of coming back, Reese's mood could be described as extremely low

“Honey...”

In the living room, Reyna saw Reese in this appearance. She didn't dare to speak loudly and could only whisper behind him, urging him not to get angry.

Reese heard Reyna's voice, looked back and realized that she had been too excited and hadn't noticed Reyna in the living room.

“Wife, I scared you.”

Reese wearily helped Reyna sit back on the sofa.

“What happened?”

Seeing Reese finally able to talk to herself, Reyna cautiously asked.

“Kieran gave Valerie forty percent of the company’s shares!”

Chapter 130 It’s Illegal

Kieran was shocked beyond belief.

Arrested someone?

Is this what Reese should say now?

“Dad, do you know what you’re saying? It’s illegal for you to go arrest people like this.”

and

“Is it illegal? She was originally a member of our Horton family! Even if her household registration is not here, she is still a part of our Horton family!”

“Bring her over quickly, I want to talk to her.”

Kieran should have known what Reese wanted to talk to Valerie about.

Wasn’t it just about wanting Valerie to return that forty percent of the shares?

To be honest, if Reese found Valerie, he would tell her to come back.

She would really return these without a second thought.

And I would also say that I didn't even want these things in the first place.

What was the meaning of Kieran's sneaky gift then?

He himself didn't know either.

"I couldn't find her now.

"Wasn't she over at Jayvion's? Go over to Jayvion's and bring her here."

Without hesitation, Reese sat directly on the sofa in the office.

"If you don't bring someone back today, I won't leave!"

When Reese got angry, Kieran was really overwhelmed.

"Dad, you should know yourself that she is not with Jayvion anymore. Asking me to go and get her, isn't that putting me in a difficult situation?"

"I didn't care!"

Kieran couldn't help but be annoyed by the unreasonable behavior.

"The shares were given by me, and I don't want to take them back.

Since Dad, you want to take them back, you go find Valerie yourself. I have to work now."

Not giving in to him, Kieran sat back on the chair and ignored him.

The relationship was not good to begin with, and Kieran no longer had a good attitude toward Reese.

"You!!"

Reese stood up in anger and grabbed the inkstone on the coffee table, intending to smash it on the ground.

"Dad, I am currently at the office, in front of my colleagues. Are you sure you want to throw it? Don't you care about your reputation?"

Kieran said without even looking up, and sure enough, this sentence diminished Reese's arrogance quite a bit.

“Kieran, you have three days. If you don’t find that rebellious girl within three days, you don’t need to come back home.”

“I didn’t have to go home in the first place.”

Kieran stared at Reese with cold eyes.
