Chapter 147 Stay for a Few Days (1)

It had been a few days since I last washed my hair.

Sarah's hair was very oily, but even though it was oily, you could still tell that her hair quality was really good.

"How did you come running here?"

"I..... felt a bit cold last night, but there were no haystacks outside....."

So I ran in.

Valerie is currently in a state of complete silence.

The self-defense weapon in her hand was also put back into her backpack.

What should we do? Take it home?

But

this residential area had surveillance cameras. If she were to bring it back her self, wouldn't all her efforts of the past three days go down the drain immediately?

Looking at her miserable appearance, Valerie remembered how she had been treated by her mother yesterday.

She also stood in place, looking at her Sarah, then turned to look at the surveillance camera facing her building.

She hesitated for a moment.

"Wait for me for a while."

After thinking for a while, she decided to take Sarah back first and give her a good place to stay.

And make sure to wash up properly.

She took out her phone and called Galen.

“Grandpa.”

“Oh dear! Valerie, what’s the matter with Grandpa?”

Galen, who was writing calligraphy in his study to cultivate his mind and body, received a phone call from Valerie.

The happy folds all laughed out.

Valerie roughly explained to Galen.

I hoped he could help Sarah.

Galen’s writing hand came to a halt.

He was thinking.

“Valerie, Grandpa can help, but there is a limit after all, because you are still different from her.”

Galen spoke concisely and expressed his opinion.

Valerie thought for a moment.

Enough.

I couldn’t help her for a lifetime.

“I will come down and call you in a while, please wait for a moment.”

“Ah?”

Sarah hadn't realized what was going on yet, she only knew that she had been woken up by Valerie.

Just standing there, watching to see where she would take herself.

The moment Sarah got up and saw Valerie, her mind went blank.

Wasn't she the daughter of a wealthy family?

Why did you live in this neighborhood?

Rather than living in a mansion?

However, the harsh reality prevented her from having the time to carefully consider this matter.

Just clenching his fists, he placed them on either side of his thighs, waiting for Valerie to expose herself and send him back home.
