

The Revived Me Surrounded by Adoration as a Supporting Role by Dedaul Chapter 149 -

Chapter 149 Be Cautious (3)

Her mother was on par with the people from the Horton family.

Valerie mocked herself inwardly and rubbed her throbbing temples.

“Your mother’s actions were indeed wrong. This time when you go back, I can probably guess what you will be facing. How much longer until you reach adulthood?”

“Two more months to go...”

Sarah spoke cautiously, glancing at Valerie as she spoke.

“Two months, quite a long time...”

Valerie murmured for a while, touching her chin as she pondered.

“I can let you stay with me for one month at most, and for the remaining month, you can either go out or go back.”

Sure enough, she helped herself.

Sarah looked at Valerie across from her, her mind filled with a thousand thoughts.

When Valerie stood in front of Mica, facing the upperclassmen, her heart had already developed cracks.

If we must say when there was a rebellious mindset.

So it was back then.

From that time until now, Valerie still shines brightly.

If only I could have half of her.

Sarah was sincerely grateful like this.

“During this month, try your best to avoid encountering the residents of this building.”

If we accidentally bump into each other, I will say that you are my distant relative and now I will introduce you.

The little boy who brought you brown sugar steamed buns today was from a single-parent family. He lived with his mother, and there was also a married couple remaining.

They were in their forties and didn't have any children.

“Didn't they give birth?”

Sarah was a little curious, and she immediately blurted out the question.

Valerie looked up at Sarah and stared for a while.

“Sarah, you are actually going to enter society. One skill you need to learn now is to be cautious and speak less, so that you won't attract too many troubles to yourself.”

Their couple's child went missing when he was seven or eight years old. When he was finally found, it was at a criminal gang specialized in child abduction.

It was already too late when I left.

Just keep these things in your heart, even if we meet again next time, you won't say anything impolite.

Valerie had a serious expression on her face, and her imposing presence sent shivers down Sarah's spine.

She didn't even dare to take a deep breath, she could only gradually ease her self, allowing a little bit of air to enter her lungs.

How scary it was.
