

The Revived Me Surrounded by Adoration as a Supporting Role by Dedaul Chapter 169 -

Chapter 169 The Dungeon

This was the worst scenario Valerie had ever imagined.

There were other children from the old town appearing here without any adults accompanying them.

These people would definitely take action, after all, this is their gathering place.

Everyone was a repeat offender.

Familiar but terrifying, almost all the residents in this area were from out of town, not a single local person lived here.

Valerie looked at the two people, both lying limp on the ground, and suddenly felt a surge of anger in her heart.

She stepped forward and suddenly kicked the man's leg as he was kneeling down, followed by an elbow strike to his back, causing him to quickly fall to the ground.

The head heavily knocked on the ground, and the loud sound echoed in the middle of this empty road.

Valerie took deep breaths to calm herself down.

Looking at the motionless man lying on the ground, she immediately came to the side of the unconscious Zoe and Carlo.

The two of them frowned, their expressions not looking good.

She immediately took out her phone, wanting to call Calvin, her brows furrowed as she looked at Zoe, who had fainted on the ground. She felt nothing but astonishment in her heart.

Zoe had heard a bit about her disappearance, but she never expected to coincidentally appear here.

The first priority was to send her and the little boy back.

Just showed off my skills, these people must have seen it, looks like they won't come again.

Just as Valerie was about to dial the phone, a sudden intense pain and a strong feeling of dizziness startled her.

She turned her head in disbelief, and what she saw was the old man from the convenience store she had passed by earlier.

The red dot on the screen suddenly disappeared.

Calvin's worst fear finally came true. He took a deep breath and picked up the walkie-talkie.

"How much time did it take to decipher? To disrupt the opponent's jammer."

"Captain, it will take approximately thirty minutes to an hour."

This was already the fastest time. Once they became alert in this place, various blocking protections would also consume a lot of their time.

One hour was already the fastest.

"As soon as possible."

"Yes."

Tick tock...

The cold water droplets fell on Zoe's face, the chill and wetness slowly bringing her back to consciousness from her faint.

Surrounded by darkness and a strong musty smell, I suddenly woke up from confusion and hurriedly got up.

"Boohoo... I wanted to go home."

"I also wanted to go home..."

From time to time, the sound of a child's tender cry would reach Zoe's ears, and her mind gradually recalled the scenes before she fainted.

“Sister?”

Adapting to the darkness, Zoe weakly called out Valerie’s name into the darkness, trembling with fear.

“Save your energy and don’t speak.

Valerie, who had been by Zoe’s side all along, finally responded when she called her name.

It was a special moment, and my current identity was already different.

She was not the daughter of the Horton family, nor the granddaughter- in-law of the Fisher family.

She was special personnel who cared about the people now.

And she didn’t have the intention to care about Zoe so much.

After waking up, the pain at the back of her head made her realize clearly that she had been captured.

After adapting to the darkness, she heard the voices of some children not far away.
