Chapter 27 Valerie Is Bullied (1)

“Is this Mica?”

“Oh my! I saw his face on the first school day. But he looks more astonishing now: ”

The students looked at Mica’s pretty face.

Some girls were even obsessed.

The moment she went into the classroom. Valerie stayed away from Mica.

Mica looked aside. Valerie wasn’t with him.

Mica was a little disappointed. He pressed his lips and shook his head.

Mica thought. “Don’t be upset. I’m the closest to Valerie in the class!”

Thinking that way, Mica straightened his back proudly

“Valerie, can I be with you in PE class?”

“Valerie, let’s cook together.”

“Valerie, let’s do our homework together.”

Mica talked to Valerie more and more casually. It only took him one morning.

Mica and Valerie got closer and closer. Noticing that, Derek got into them in the last gymnastics class in the afternoon.

“What are you doing?”

Derek suddenly came between Mica and Valerie. Mica showed his dissatisfaction directly.

“Can’t I join you? The teacher asks us to form teams freely.”

Mica certainly didn’t want Derek to join them.

But Derek had helped him before. Therefore, Mica shut up his mouth.

Mica pouted and did gymnastics violently to vent his anger.

Valerie was fine with that.

To her, Mica and Derek were just little kids.

The school bell rang soon. Valerie walked to the bus station. But she paused while getting on the bus. Valerie suddenly turned her head and looked over.

It was probably because she was too sensitive, but Valerie did feel being peeked at.

She didn’t see anyone there. Urged by the driver, Valerie got on the bus.

The bus drove away. A few girls in leather shoes showed up.

Valerie got home. As usual, Reyna and Reese had dinner in the kitchen with Zoe, without waiting for Valerie.

Valerie was just about ten minutes late.

But Valerie didn’t get angry. She was used to it.

Valerie went towards her room. She was about to open the door when she saw Bruce. Bruce was frowning and looking at the paper in his hand anxiously.

Feeling Valerie’s gaze, Bruce turned to look at Valerie, whom he didn’t have many feelings for.

They looked at each other silently.

Suddenly, Bruce's eyes brightened. After gazing at Valerie for a while, Bruce went back to his room and was busy with his stuff.

"What's wrong with him?"

Being gazed at for no reason, Valerie secretly rolled her eyes at Bruce.

She opened her door.

Valerie was excited because the things she had bought arrived.

Jayvion thoughtfully put the things on the table in Valerie's room.

They were unpacked but cleaned.

Valerie casually threw her school bag onto her bed.

She rubbed her hands excitedly. Then, Valerie opened the boxes on her table impatiently with all her might.

Jayvion was at the door with the food tray in his hands. Seeing what Valerie was doing, he didn't come in.

Jayvion thought, "I'd better let Ms. Valerie finish her work first."

Valerie looked at the cloth in her hands and the embroidery things happily.

The tools for shooting videos were also on the table. Valerie was so happy. She fondled those things lovingly.

"Guys, let's work together."

Jayvion knocked on the door while Valerie was murmuring.

"Ms. Valerie, it's time for dinner."

Jayvion walked in and put the food tray on the table.

He could tell that Valerie was in a great mood. The smile on Valerie's face was bigger than usual.

It made Jayvion happy too.

"Ms. Valerie, these are all your stuff. If you need anything else, just tell me."

"Okay. Thank you, Jayvion."

"You are welcome, Ms. Valerie. This is my job. Please put the tray at the door after you finish your dinner. I'll come and take it."

After saying that, Jayvion left with a smile.

Valerie was in a good mood and had a better appetite.

She gobbled up her dinner and thought about the designs that would be in vogue.

Valerie was motivated.

While thinking about the embroidery patterns, Valerie suddenly recalled the unfriendly gaze she felt that afternoon.

She stopped eating and frowned.

Valerie lost her appetite again.

She thought for a while. Then, Valerie put the tray at the door and asked Jayvion to get some stuff for her.

The next day, Valerie got on the bus as usual. There were some third- grade and fourth- grade girls. They were chattering. After the bus stopped, the girls immediately looked for Valerie.

After seeing Valerie, they directly stood up from the chair and stared at Valerie.

As Valerie expected, the girls were there for her.

Valerie narrowed her eyes slightly and got off the bus with her school bag.

Those girls quickly approached Valerie and surrounded her.

The girl in the lead looked mixed-blood. Her hair was slightly curly.

The girl, Abbigail Howard, looked down at Valerie arrogantly.

“Are you Valerie?”

“Yes. What do you want?”

Though being surrounded, Valerie wasn't scared at all.

Seeing that, Abbigail understood why Grey got expelled.

Abbigail gazed at Valerie in anger.

“What's your relationship with Mica?”

Valerie felt bored.

Valerie didn't answer Abbigail's question immediately. Instead, she looked up and down at Abbigail.

Valerie thought, “Is that her? The girl who likes Mica. Because of her, Grey got jealous and bullied Mica.”

How funny.

How could it be possible that she didn't know what Grey did?

What a coward.”

“We are classmates. Do you want to see Mica? Then why did you come to me?”

Abbigail didn't know what to say. She felt awkward.

Abbigail was getting more and more furious.

“Be respectful! If you and Mica are just classmates, then keep a distance from him. Otherwise, people will misunderstand.”

Abbigail said in a threatening tone.

Valerie looked around. Abbigail and her friends were all well-dressed and pretty.

Obviously, they were from rich families. Valerie looked at Abbigail, who was in the lead.

Valerie thought, “Mica really has a stunning face.

Even older girls are obsessed with him.

But what does that have to do with me?”

Valerie wasn't happy with that.

“Keep a distance? Why aren't you keeping a distance from your fellows here? Can't I walk with my classmates? Besides, what's your relationship with Mica? Why should I listen to you?”

“You...”

Before Abbigail could react, Valerie's face suddenly became gloomy.

“Since you like Mica so much, why didn't you help him when he got hit by your pursuer? If Mica knows the truth, do you think that he will still be your friend?”

Valerie went straight to the point.
