Chapter 281

Chapter 154 Mother (1)

Sarah became a “regular” at Phil’s place.

Valerie was impressed by the frequent movements.

“It’s good that you went to Phil’s during the day, there’s some security, but it’s not okay for you to freeload off him like that, you should bring something over.”

“I know Valerie, but the last time I brought fruits, Phil not only didn’t want them, but also said that if I bring them again, he will become unfamiliar.”

Sarah blew her hair and applied hair oil before blow-drying it.

The hair, which was already shiny, became even more glossy.

Valerie pondered for a moment.

“Since Phil has already said so, I have nothing more to say. When you are about to leave, you can come over and bring something.”

“Uh–huh, I knew.”

Ending the conversation, Sarah continued to blow dry her hair, planning to go to bed early as she had to go to Phil’s place tomorrow to help look after Beatrice.

It has been over a week since the appearance of the man in black.

These days, Sarah’s anxiety and worry gradually dissipated.

As Valerie said, there was indeed no major harm in it.

Her fearful heart slowly let go.

Now she had a big task.

It was about accompanying Beatrice and making her accustomed to her presence.

When Phil used to go grocery shopping during the day, he would buy groceries in bulk for several days at a time because he was worried that something might happen to Beatrice while she was home alone.

But now with Sarah around, he felt much more at ease.

You could go once a day.

After all, vegetables are only delicious when they are fresh on the same day.

The next day, Sarah arrived at Phil's house as promised.

I happened to see Phil pushing Beatrice into the living room.

I arrived at the old place and looked around.

"Sally is here. What do you want to eat for lunch today? Phil will go and buy it!"

"Phil, I could do anything for you!"

"Is there anything specific you want to eat? Take your time and think about it. I will be going out for a while, so there's no rush."

Sarah really thought about it.

Later, she somewhat embarrassedly said to Phil.

"Could Phil cook roast chicken?"

Now it was Phil's turn to freeze.

"Roast chicken, Phil knew a shop that sells really good roast chicken. I'll go buy it later, I haven't had it in a long time. You thought of this dish very well."

Without making Sarah too embarrassed, Phil continued to smile and straighten his own clothes.

I was getting ready to go out and buy groceries.

The weather outside was not so good.

The sky was gloomy, and it was about to rain.

Sarah took an umbrella for Phil.

"Be careful on the road, Phil."

"Okay! Phil would pay attention!"

With a smile on his face, Phil said goodbye to Sarah and turned to walk down the stairs.

At the moment he stepped out of the floor, his right eyelid twitched.

He furrowed his brows in a strange manner and touched his twitching right eyelid.

The left eye twitching indicates wealth, while the right eye twitching indicates disaster.

I don't think so...

Shaking his head, Phil muttered a few curses to himself.

Just as he left, the old yellowed van arrived outside the residential area.

There were not many people passing by that old road.

There was no surveillance here.

It was a good place to park.

Chapter 154 Mother (2)

According to his observation, Eddie would appear in front of the open space on the floor during the daytime on weekends, practicing jump rope.

At that time, his mother also went to buy groceries.

And the high school girl living alone upstairs also went out without knowing what to do.

However, this is not important. What is important is to catch the smaller one first...

He might not be able to carry the big one either.

The plan to catch the high school girl was completely shattered after meeting Eddie.

Just wait for him to come down and jump rope.

Sarah, who was at Phil's house, brewed two cups of tea and approached Beatrice.

"Beatrice, it was a bit cold today, have some warm tea."

She would drink by herself when she was thirsty.

Sarah smiled and looked out the window with her.

“Beatrice, I was fine! It’s just that today might have been a rainy day, so I wasn’t feeling very well.”

The air outside was damp and humid

Even with the window open, there was no wind, only a sticky and stuffy heat.

The man in the car was bored and scrolling through his phone, while also keeping an eye on the surroundings outside.

His fingers flew up and down, watching the video in his hand...

Suddenly, he let out a cold laugh, his eyes turning bloodshot.

If the person I was making eye contact with was Sarah.

So, who was the person you usually observed in the morning?

A true solitary female high school student?

He incredulously rubbed his chin.

So there were three of them?

Two of them should have good looks... and they are old enough.

This sudden surprise made the man burst into laughter.

He looked at Sarah's face on his phone again.

Sitting next to Beatrice, Sarah suddenly felt a bit breathless. She stood up and only then realized that her heart had been beating as fast and intensely as it could.

A strong sense of foreboding left her unsure of what to do.

Out of the corner of her eye, she saw a red figure appear outside the window.

It was Eddie holding the skipping rope.

Sarah felt as if she had fallen into an ice cave.

She strongly felt the scent of danger permeating downstairs.

Eddie took out a rope and continued practicing diligently.

This was the homework assigned by the school.

The stuffy and humid air made Eddie quickly feel sticky.

The small curls on the forehead stuck together due to sweat.

Eddie, who was still diligently counting, could not possibly imagine what would happen next.

After Sarah walked out of Phil's room, she took out her phone and sent a message to Valerie.

She put it back in her pocket and took out an anti-wolf weapon, standing at the doorway of the corridor.

I did not go out.

"Eddie!"

While Eddie was skipping rope, he heard someone calling him. He stopped practicing and looked toward the person, greeting Sarah with a cheerful smile.

"Sister!"

Sarah breathed a sigh of relief.

“Boohoo, Mom...”

Eddie cried loudly, while Sarah's forehead was dripping with nervous sweat.

She was not sure why she suddenly rushed out.

Anyway, just venting is enough for now.

The crying was so loud that Phil, who was almost near home, could hear it.

He stood still for a moment, realizing that the voice belonged to Sarah. He immediately ran over to her.

“Phil, why don’t you wait outside for a while? Sarah’s parents should be arriving soon.”

Phil paused, his hand on Beatrice’s shoulder, with a slightly disappointed expression.

Yes, Sally was ultimately someone else's child, and I could only watch her leave.

Phil was sensible and could only leave the emergency room with Beatrice, waiting at the entrance.

I felt the strength that Phil pulled me.

Beatrice looked at Phil with a strange expression on her face.

She didn't understand why Leo, of all people, had to take her away.

Phil's nose was incredibly sore, and he looked at his beloved who didn't seem very willing to leave.

Until Valerie praised Phil for his loyalty and responsibility.

Phil smiled.

"Can I call you Valerie?"

“Sure, Phil.”

“You just praised me, and I was very happy. I accepted it first.”

But I was the head of this family, whenever there were important matters or decisions to be made at home, I would always be the first to step in and come up with ideas.

So I learned to take responsibility, the responsibility of the family, the responsibility of a loved one, and the responsibility of being a father.

It required strong psychological support for me to accomplish all of this.

Leo’s matter has always been a thorn in my heart. Whenever I can’t sleep at night, that image directly hits me in the face...

My child must have been so miserable back then.

Speaking of this, Phil took a deep breath and composed himself before uttering the choked words.

Sure enough, they had just left when Sarah's parents arrived late.

“This is a hospital! If you want to argue, go outside and argue! Don’t disturb the patients and doctors!”

Raul Hoyle, Sarah’s father, was unexpectedly given the cold shoulder. Being someone who valued his pride, he felt his face turning red with embarrassment, to the point where he could even feel the heat.

Feeling the gaze of the people around him, he wished he could find a crack to hide in.

Sarah’s mother also closed her mouth, but she continued to mutter, looking at the healthcare workers who reminded them, with a deep disdain in her eyes.

This scene made Phil’s face look unusually unpleasant.

He brought Beatrice to the seat.

“Honey, sit tight here and wait for me for a moment.”

He settled Beatrice and intended to approach the two of them for a chat.

Valerie hurried to catch up, worried that those two ill-tempered individuals over there would resort to violence.

“Phil, don’t be impulsive. Sarah is still not awake. If you go up now, will only make them tell the police more later.”

“It was wrong for us to hide Sarah in the first place.”

Although I didn’t mind, Phil was different.

To prevent unnecessary incidents, let’s wait until Sarah wakes up before discussing any thing.

Phil sighed and sat down next to Beatrice.

“Then I will wait for Sally to wake up.”

A couple of hours passed, and Sarah was also assigned to a private ward.

When she woke up, she would have to make a record.

And Sarah, lying in bed, slowly woke up.

“Sarah!”

“Sally!”

The people on both sides reacted at the same time.

It resulted in a mutual gaze.

Sarah’s mother looked Phil and Beatrice up and down, with a disgusted expression on her face. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

“Who are you guys? Calling someone else’s daughter so intimately? Have you no shame?”.

Valerie’s face suddenly looked unpleasant.

Before Phil spoke, she stood in front of them and expressionlessly said to Sarah’s mother.

“Ma’am, please don’t start off by saying such vulgar words. If it weren’t for these two individuals’ help, you might not even be able to see your daughter now. They are your daughter’s lifesavers.”

Valerie had been annoyed with Sarah’s attitude for a long time, even before she saw her at the school gate.

She couldn't stand the way she treated Phil now.

Sarah's mother turned pale and looked at Valerie in disbelief. She couldn't believe that a little brat would speak to her like that.

Zhang opened his mouth, wanting to say something, but was roughly pulled to the back by her husband standing beside her.

"Will you die if you say a few less words! Shut up!"

After speaking, he flashed his business-like smile and looked at Valerie.

"Excuse me, little girl. I'm sorry, but my wife isn't very good at speaking. Are these two your parents?"

Don't worry, we won't mistreat you. You saved my daughter, and I will definitely give you a good reward.

But after all, we are her biological parents, so please do not interfere in our family matters.

Tsk.

It was really disgusting.

Valerie looked at him with a strange and eerie smile.

I felt like throwing up everything I ate today.

The members of the Horton family were indeed unpleasant, but at this moment Valerie surprisingly felt that no matter how unlikeable the Horton family was, they were not as bad as this couple in front of her.

So disgusting.

Phil's face didn't look good either.

He made a big deal out of his meager reward!

Valerie didn't wait for Phil to speak, she pressed his hand, indicating that he shouldn't rush.

"Sir, I am Valerie Bowman, Sarah's classmate. It was on the third day of Sarah's disappearance that I found her in the pile of weeds."

I accommodated her at my house for washing up and having meals. I asked her why she didn't go home, and she said.

The house made her almost unable to breathe.

Is your household chores just mentally torturing children?

Oh, by the way, earlier I saw you dragging Sarah at the school gate, can we consider that as a fight?

"Is this also a unique education in your family?"

You should know that this would be despised.

Sure enough, after Valerie finished speaking, the people around them immediately cast a different gaze toward the couple.

Because they had just had a quarrel and caused a scene, I already had no good impression of them, and now I just look at them with a disdainful expression.

“You!”

Sarah’s mother got angry, stomping heavily in her high heels as she approached, ready to scold Valerie.

She was pushed back forcefully by her husband with one hand.

“What are you doing!”

Sarah’s mother, who was pushed back again, angrily shouted at her husband.

The next second, she received a chilling warning glare from her husband.

The just risen emotions instantly wilted.

Raul’s pupils trembled slightly.

I said, I feel familiar with this name.

She used to be the missing Miss from the Horton family for ten years!

It is said that there is no connection with the Horton family, but Mr. Horton of the Horton Group seems to think otherwise.

If I offended her here, I wouldn’t gain any benefits at all.

“Oh! So you were Sarah’s classmate, no wonder you looked familiar,”

“Hello, Ms. Horton, hello.”

Valerie's veins bulged.

"Sir, I'll say it again, my name is Valerie Bowman."

The sound of gritted teeth, word by word, made Raul, who still wanted to move forward and shake hands, stop in his tracks.

"Okay, Ms. Bowman..."

Apologizing with an embarrassed smile, Raul stopped talking to the residents of the community.

And then, Sarah's mother, who had been angry all along, heard that Valerie was the heiress of the Horton family!!!

She opened her mouth wide, expressing shock.

And my heart kept pounding.

I just realized that I said something very offensive...

"Cough, cough..."

The two sides were still confronting each other, and Sarah in the ward slowly woke up.

Phil and Beatrice excitedly approached.

"Sally, are you feeling better?"

Phil covered Sarah with a blanket.

Beatrice, on the other hand, remained silent and simply held Sarah's hand, staring at her without blinking.

Turning his head to the side, he saw his biological parents.

Sarah's mood became increasingly low.

It seems that I could never escape in the end.

Looking at their parents, they had a face full of blame, all with frowning expressions.

It formed a sharp contrast with Phil, who cared for her here.

Sarah was still upset.

The pain on her scalp continued to throb, and Sarah made up her mind.

“Um, could you guys please leave first? I have something to discuss with the doctor.”

The doctors who had been observing Sarah's condition nodded and hurriedly ushered the others out. They also pulled the curtains at the door, preventing anyone from looking inside through the glass.

For a moment, the corridor was filled with awkwardness.

After nearly twenty minutes had passed, the door of the ward opened again.

“Alright, you can go in now.”

The doctor's face remained calm and he spoke in a plain tone.

Sarah's mother went in first, she wanted to see what tricks Sarah was going to play.

The moment she stepped in, she looked up and saw Sarah.

Instantly, he/she exclaimed.

This caused others to also speed up their pace to enter the ward.

Valerie looked up and glanced at Sarah after entering.

She widened her eyes in surprise.

The little girl's beautiful hair was already gone.

On

her head, there were only the uneven hedgehog spikes that had been cut off by the doctor, giving her the appearance of a handsome young boy.

“Sarah!! What are you doing!! Do you know how long you have been growing your hair?!”

Sarah's mother was the first to react.

This was my proudest moment of cunning!

My daughter has also obediently persisted for so many years!

They actually cut my hair now!!!!

Sarah's mother was angry and had difficulty breathing.

But Phil just smiled and looked curiously at Sarah's new hairstyle.

“Why did you suddenly think of cutting your hair short?”

“Actually, I wanted to shave my head, but the doctor said that the wounds on my head right now need some hair to help block the dust.”

It was just to prevent her wound from worsening.

Valerie looked at the smiling Sarah and felt a thousand emotions in her heart.

“Why did you suddenly want to shave your head?”

Sarah reached up and felt her hair, which was as chewed up as a dog's.

She slowly spoke.

“I want to start over again, this time I want to consider myself, let's consider it as cutting off the past.”

Just had a conversation with my own mother, and she probably heard some of it.

The chill in my heart deepened even further.

So I decided to cut my hair.

What's the point of keeping something that is as useless as a vase and as tasteless as chicken ribs?

Sarah slowly exhaled a breath.

She felt clear-minded and extremely relaxed all over her body now.

Even in the face of her mother's reproach and her father's angry expression, she was not as afraid as before.

She felt invincible now!

Even when she returned home, she was not afraid!

No matter how terrifying it was, nothing could compare to what I experienced today.

Phil saw through it, he knew what Sarah meant.

Relieved yet filled with heartache.

These are all the bad experiences she went through, resulting in her state of mind.
