

The Revived Me Surrounded by Adoration as a Supporting Role

Chapter 336

Chapter 178 The Rose Pedal (3)

Afterwards, he let out a sigh and gently rubbed Valerie's head, retaliating by poking her cheek.

"Pay attention to safety, got it? If it's beyond your capabilities, then leave. Is that clear?"

He smiled gently and looked at Valerie with a gaze filled with compassion.

"Stinky girl, only when she wants to make me happy and not angry, she calls me Tucker."

Valerie blinked her eyes and looked at Tucker, who had slightly red eyes.

The voice that spoke to oneself was a bit choked up.

She felt a pang of sadness in her heart.

"Got it..."

I forced myself to keep my voice from trembling and choking.

Her trembling thumbs, intertwined due to panic, displayed her restless dilemma.

Tucker quickly wiped the moisture from the corner of his eye and sniffed.

"Go home and rest well. Don't tell your family about what I just told you, okay? I want to wait until things are settled before telling everyone."

Chapter 337

Chapter 179 The Mint (1)

"Sorry, Valerie, Calvin has already told me about this matter, and I have also arranged for other children for you."

However, above all, we wanted a quick resolution, so you were the only one who had a certain impression of the other side. Therefore, we asked you to protect Ms. Horton while observing if there were any people lurking around.

And because... they knew that you used to be a part of the Horton family, they said that you were familiar with the terrain and buildings of the Horton family. So when it's time to chase, it won't be so exhausting...

The more Randal spoke, the quieter his voice became.

The more you speak, the more reasonable it becomes.

The current situation is indeed complicated, Valerie is by Zoe's side, providing real assurance.

Considering that it was her first mission, a few more people were sent over to protect her.

But these few people were only around, while Valerie was Zoe's personal bodyguard.

Valerie thought for a moment, and considering it that way, it was understandable.

She could accept it because she knew she wouldn't be by Zoe's side forever.

"Got it, bro. I'll take a nap first."

She was truly exhausted. As Valerie finished saying these words, she closed her eyes heavily.

While Tucker watched Valerie fall asleep, his face wore a serious expression, and it was unclear what he was thinking.

When Valerie woke up, she found herself in the Fisher family's large room.

The room was very clean, indicating that it was regularly cleaned by someone.

There were voices of people talking outside the door.

Galen's voice was the loudest.

"I didn't allow it! She had just managed to get out of the Horton family! Why would they assign her again!"

“No way! If your words don’t work, let me go! My words are more effective than yours!”

“Dad, calm down... Let’s wait for Valerie to wake up before discussing this matter...”

Ramona and Lamar stood next to Galen, trembling with fear as they watched Galen’s face turn red with anger, afraid that he might faint from the rage.

“Grandfather...”

Just as everyone was at a loss, Valerie obediently opened the door and called out Galen.

“Grandpa, don’t be mad at Uncle Randal.”

She took a deep breath and made up her mind.

“Grandfather, I would go. This matter is very important and it concerns the lives of more children. If it is only a matter of protecting Ms. Horton for a few days, I am willing to go.”

Galen’s phone had not been disconnected yet, and on the other end, Randal heard Valerie’s words, feeling extremely heartbroken.

“Valerie! Are you... telling the truth to grandpa? Are you really okay? If you don’t want to, grandpa can help you say it!”

Valerie approached and hugged Galen’s arm.

“It’s alright, Grandpa! It was indeed a special situation. I wasn’t afraid of them anymore, and even if I went, they wouldn’t bully me.”

Indeed, Reese had such a strange attitude today that he would not be bullied.

I had no complaints about myself, nor did I get angry at myself...

I didn’t know what he was thinking, but if they bullied themselves, they wouldn’t be polite either.

The earlier you go, the earlier you can solve it, and then you can leave earlier.

Galen frowned, feeling a bit reluctant. He wanted to say something, asking Valerie not to go.

Just thinking about the two grandsons they met in their dreams, their unregretful expressions.

Galen still closed his mouth.

“Valerie, if you were unhappy, you must tell grandpa, and grandpa would find a way to bring you back.

Galen grabbed Valerie’s hand and earnestly admonished her.

Valerie looked worried about her family.

Sour and happy in my heart.

“Grandfather, you have always told me in the past that we should be rational individuals. I now understand very well what I need to do, and if the Horton family bullies me, I can also fight back using legal means, so you don’t have to worry.”

Chapter 338

Chapter 179 The Mint (2)

Valerie really didn’t care anymore. Ever since her two brothers helped her sever ties with the Horton family, she treated them like strangers.

But Galen was still worried that Valerie would go back and be mistreated.

Time waits for no one. After receiving the notification, Valerie quickly prepared her clothes and personal belongings.

Preparing to go to the Horton family

While she was still sleeping, Tucker carried her back to the room and also called a doctor, treating her with gentle movements and soft sounds.

“Fortunately, the position wasn’t that dangerous, but if you’re worried, observe the lady for the next few days to see if she experiences any nausea, headaches, or fainting. Generally speaking, this position shouldn’t pose any major issues.”

Although the doctor said so, Tucker still worried.

The doctor said a few more words and suggested that if there were any concerns, one could go to the hospital to have a brain CT scan.

Tucker nodded, indicating that he understood.

From the very beginning, his phone kept vibrating.

The break time was about to end, and he had to go back to the site to continue working.

There is no other way, it seems that I have to ask the people at home to take care of Valerie.

Tucker turned his head and saw his family standing at the door, with red eyes looking inside.

When Tucker came in with his head wrapped in bandages, Valerie was sleeping soundly.

Everyone in the Fisher family was very scared.

Galen was so scared that he even cut off the flowers he had been cultivating for a long time with a pair of scissors.

Without caring at all, he ran straight to Valerie's side.

Under Tucker's explanation, everyone finally relaxed a little, but they all stood at the door and didn't leave.

Now, Tucker's mouth opened just as Galen quickly waved his hand, letting him go.

"Hurry up and go to work, Valerie has us covered."

Without even looking at Tucker, he went straight to Valerie.

It turned out that my worries were unnecessary.

Tucker shrugged helplessly and glanced at Valerie, who was still asleep, before reluctantly turning back to the set.

Today, I was shooting a romantic scene with Hallie. We took a break in the middle of filming the second scene.

Hallie blinked her eyes and looked at Tucker, who was daydreaming.

Suddenly, he stepped forward and stood in front of him.

Chapter 339

Chapter 179 The Mint (3)

This made Tucker also slightly regain his senses and he took two steps back, feeling a bit nervous.

“Ms. Sutton, what happened?”

In her thirties, Hallie had a stronger classical charm and was very well- maintained. Looking at Tucker up close like this, it made this big man couldn't help but swallow his saliva.

“What's wrong with you, Mr. Fisher? Do you have something on your mind?”

Huh?

Tucker was shocked and quickly touched his own face.

“Did I make it obvious?”

Hallie thought for a moment and shook her head.

“Without Mr. Fisher, you behaved the same as before, except that today, after every scene, you would stare blankly for a few seconds, as if thinking about something.”

Tucker opened his mouth and paused for a moment, then gently laughed.

Although Hallie was very funny, she was also indeed careful and had a delicate mind.

Tucker's heart felt as if it was being scratched by a cat.

He answered with a gentle smile.

Chapter 179 The Mint (3)

140 Vouchers

“It was my negligence, Ms. Sutton. I was just thinking about some things, you don't need to worry.”

Hallie understood and didn't say anything, she just searched through her own pocket.

Suddenly, a mint candy was taken out and placed on Tucker's hand.

“Have a mint candy, this candy is cool. Every time I think about something or feel confused, the coolness of this candy can instantly wake me up. If Mr. Fisher doesn't want to have random thoughts, this is effective.”

Hallie looked at the candy with a slightly pained expression, and when she spoke, she didn't look away.

Tucker was both helpless and adorable.

"Ah... actually, I didn't really eat much candy, it's too sweet."

Hallie's face lit up, wearing an expression of "Will he not want it and return it?"

Tucker suddenly smiled brightly.

"But since it was your encouragement, and the effect was so amazing, I definitely had to give it a try."

Speaking, in front of Hallie, he opened the shell of the mint candy and put it into his mouth.

Watching Hallie's shattered expression, Tucker felt satisfied.

However...

It was quite chilly.

I was just thinking about Valerie's situation, worrying about what bad consequences she might have had. Now I am a little more sober and calm.

He sighed slightly and looked at Hallie's regretful expression. He pondered for a moment.

"Cough... um, Ms. Sutton, you treated me to candy. As a return gift, is there anything you like to eat or any restaurant you prefer? I'll treat you, as a gesture of gratitude."

"Is it true?"

Hallie didn't expect that Tucker would actually return the favor and invite her to dinner.

The eyes lit up again, although there was no expression on the face.

"Well, Mr. Fisher, I won't stand on ceremony. Go ahead and start filming, and I'll think about it later when it's over."

"Okay, I'll listen to you."

Chapter 340

Chapter 180 Arrival at the Horton's Place (1)

Valerie stood in front of this familiar yet unfamiliar gate.

He pressed the doorbell with an expressionless face.

The one who opened the door was the new butler.

He looked at Valerie, who was dressed in a military green camouflage uniform, and understood in his heart.

“Hello, miss. Our master said that if it’s you, just bring you in directly. As for the others...”

Saying that, he looked at the few members who had come along with Valerie.

“You don’t have to worry about us, we just came to pay a visit and provide protection to the Horton family in the neighborhood.”

The butler nodded and bowed respectfully, inviting Valerie and the others inside.

Standing in front of this gate again, Valerie felt a moment of daze.

The night when the Horton family ran out felt like a dream.

At that time, the one who opened the door for himself was Jayvion.

But now, as I stepped into this place once again, the gentle and kind old man is no longer here.

She was isolated and helpless...

Valerie adjusted her slightly disappointed heart and regained her previous indifference. She walked into the living room with a backpack on her back.

0.00%

The Horton family, who had been waiting at home for a long time, stood up excitedly when Valerie walked in.

He looked at Valerie with a gleam in his eyes.

“Valerie...”

Reese’s mouth started to curl upwards, he felt happy inside, Valerie would come back.

“Mr. Horton, please call me Ms. Bowman.”

Valerie frowned when she heard Reese suddenly call her like that, without any politeness.

The cold voice reminded.

The atmosphere in the living room suddenly became extremely cold.

“Alright, Ms. Bowman... cannot be left standing. Let’s take her to her room first.”

Kieran took the initiative to break the deadlock and instructed the household servant to take Valerie to the room.

Valerie silently nodded in gratitude, and then followed the servant as they left, leaving the Horton family to interact with the team members.

“It will be hard for you for a while.”

“Alright then, let’s get to work. You don’t have to worry about us, we will hide in the vicinity.”

Reese nodded and saw them off, but in that moment when he turned around, he looked toward Valerie’s room.

40 Vouchers

Everyone stood in the living room, looking at each other, wanting to approach but hesitating to do so.

Tristan’s brow furrowed instantly.