

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife

By H. D. Cynthia Chapter 121

Chapter 121

Lucas had not returned home from his work, and Rebecca knew nothing about what Olivia had done. For a moment, Olivia did not know who to ask for help. There was a mocking smile on Jessica's face as she looked at Olivia's pale face. The dining room suddenly fell into a strange silence. A servant came into the dining room with the appetizer, fried foie gras with garlic and basil, at that time. She then put it on the table.

The fried foie gras emitted the fragrance of grease. Although Olivia had not had much that day because of her panic, she still acted as if she couldn't smell the fragrance of food in front of her at all.

Justin had been running the Thomas Group for so many years, so he had understood that it was Olivia who made Jessica slandered by the netizens now. He was actually angry that Olivia always made things worse, but since Jessica was here, he didn't want to admit Olivia's fault and make the Thomas family embarrassed.

said to Jessica

"Mr. Thomas, you don't seem sincere at all, then there's no need to continue the meal." Jessica pushed the plate in front of her forward and threw the napkin on the table.

She stood up and looked at Justin, whose face had turned blue. She sneered and said, "Jerry is just the boss of a shell company. I believe that anyone with a brain can understand that he does not dare to provoke the Hall Group"

Jessica meant that she didn't plan to let go of Olivia, who was behind Jerry.

Wait, Miss Hall: Justin could ignore Olivia's reputation, but he couldn't risk harming the reputation of Thomas family, so he tried to persuade Jessica to stay. Then he turned to Olivia and said, "Olivia, what are you waiting for? Apologize to Miss Hall!"

'Miss Hall, this is all my fault. Please forgive me.' Olivia came back to her senses and said to Jessica

Jessica raised her eyebrows and asked, "Is that all you want to apologize for?"

"I know that I have offended you many times in the past. Just tell me what you want me to do. I will do my best.' Olivia knew that unless Jessica let her go, she would not be able to quell Justin's anger.

've heard so many apologies from you, Miss Thomas. I hope to see your actual action today. The first thing I want is, you, the Thomas family, help me clarify this." Jessica looked at Justin and said, "Mr. Thomas, I'm not asking for too much, right?"

'It's not too much. Very reasonable.'" As soon as Jessica finished speaking, Lucas' voice came from the restaurant entrance.

He had just finished today's work and rushed back home from the company, but he did not expect to hear Jessica questioning Olivia about herself being slandered on the Internet as soon as he arrived home.

*Lucas, please invite Miss Hall to sit down first. We can talk about it slowly."

Justin relaxed slightly when he saw Lucas return.

In Justin's opinion, Jessica was definitely still hung up on Lucas, so if Lucas pleaded for Olivia, Jessica might be willing to settle this in private

'No need. I've lost my appetite.'" Jessica swept her cold gaze over Olivia. Olivia clenched her fists but did not dare to retort.

Jessica looked at Lucas and said, "Mr. Thomas, I will give you two days."

I will definitely give you an explanation," Lucas simply replied and nodded. Jessica shrugged indifferently. Then she turned and left the Thomas villa with Wendy.

Jessica planned to release the evidence two days later. She wanted to see if Lucas would still choose to protect Olivia or not.

After Jessica left, Olivia collapsed on the chair. Justin's face darkened.

"Lucas, you shouldn't let Jessica go away like that." Justin looked at Lucas in disapproval and said, "How can you agree with her request and let Olivia clarify things for Jessica? How can our family still keep our dignity and reputation in LA?"

"Yes, we might lose our dignity and reputation in LA. But is that Jessica's fault? It's because Olivia is too reckless and willful!" Lucas said coldly

Justin looked at Olivia, who was trying to escape the dining room, and shouted, "Stop!"

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H. D. Cynthia Chapter 122

Chapter 122

Olivia immediately froze still when hearing Justin scold her. She looked at Rebecca pleadingly.

Rebecca also wanted to plead for Olivia, but when she found out how angry Justin was and how cold Lucas' face was, she didn't dare to say anything. After all, she was never important in the family.

"Dwayne, take Olivia back to her room. From today onwards, she's not allowed to leave the house!" Justin slammed the coffee cup heavily on the table.

He continued, "Also, cancel Olivia's annual dividend."

"Grandpa!" Olivia was just about to heave a sigh of relief when she knew that she would only be grounded, but she could not help but plead when she knew that her annual dividend was canceled.

Without the annual dividend, she only had 20 thousand dollars of monthly pocket money.

For ordinary people, this could be considered a large amount of money, but for socialites who often needed to go to social places, the money was too little.

This meant that Olivia could no longer buy those luxury goods and dresses, Imagine it! She would appear at the dinner parties in out-of-season dresses.

Olivia could not imagine what the others would say about her behind her back.

“She shouldn’t be forgiven with such a small punishment,” Lucas said calmly.

“Shit! What else does Jessica want? She’s just a young girl. Do I need to give up on the reputation of the whole family only to apologize to her?” Justin slammed the table in anger and Olivia trembled in fear.

“What if she stands for the entire Hall family?” Lucas’ words made Justin speechless.

Only then did Justin realize that Jessica was no longer the same as before. She was no longer Mrs. Thomas that they could bully, but the daughter of the richest man in New York.

The Thomas family might be able to contend against the Hall family, but the result would definitely be both sides suffering,

Thinking of this, Justin suddenly felt very tired. He leaned back in his chair and said in a weak voice, “Then what do you think we should do?”

“Send the clarification in the name of the Thomas family.” Lucas’ eyes darkened.

“No, I won’t allow it. That is my bottom line.” Justin coughed twice, shook his head, and said, “Alright, all of you can go back to your room. I’ll get this settled.”

He already had a plan in his heart, which could satisfy both Jessica’s request and preserve the reputation of the Thomas family.

Hearing Justin’s words, Olivia prepared to go upstairs to her room, dejected.

Lucas, however, grabbed her arm.

Olivia looked up at Lucas’ increasingly cold golden eyes. She suddenly felt a sense of lingering fear.

“Lucas, I really have already apologized to Jessica.” Olivia cried.

“Olivia, do you think being grounded is a big enough punishment for what you have done?” Lucas looked at Olivia with anger in his deep eyes, his voice devoid of any warmth.

“Do you know how much money the Thomas Group will lose after the clarification announcement?”

Olivia felt an invisible yet powerful pressure pressing down on her. She subconsciously took a step back. As the youngest daughter of the Thomas family, her arrogance was always tolerated by her family. But this time, she found that Lucas really did not intend to tolerate her anymore.

Lucas glanced at Dwayne expressionlessly. He nodded to Dwayne and said, “Take Olivia to Black House.”

“Lucas” Rebecca couldn’t help but cry out

Olivia was sobbing in the first place. When she heard what Lucas said, she was so scared that she forgot to breathe. The walls and floors in the entire room. There wasn’t even a cushion in the room, not to mention a bed.

Being locked inside Black House was like being deprived of hearing and sight, not even knowing how time passed..

This was the most severe punishment for members of the Thomas family. Back then, Lucas’s father, Louis Thomas, delayed the business of the company because of his mistress’s birthday. He caused the company to suffer a great loss. At that time, Louis was grounded in Black House for five days.

Olivia was still young at that time. She only remembered that when Louis came out, he seemed to be ten years older.

That feeling of fear was fresh in Olivia’s memory.

Before today, she never thought what she had done was a big deal, and she regretted it for the first time for provoking Jessica. But it was already too late.

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H. D. Cynthia Chapter 123

Chapter 123

“Lucas, please, I promise that I will never harm Jessica again.” Jessica cried and begged as two servants pulled Jessica’s arms and dragged her out.

“Why? Lucas? Why are you partial to her? She’s just your ex-wife! am your sister!”

Olivia cried hard. Her cry lingered in the room. It did not fade until she was taken away from the villa.

Lucas waited until he could no longer hear Olivia’s cry. He then said to Justin and Rebecca, “I’m going back to work. Have a good rest.”

Then, Lucas called the driver to drive back to the Thomas Group. He wanted to be left alone.

When Lucas and Jessica had not divorced, every time he returned to the Thomas villa, Olivia would always say how Jessica bullied her. Yet Lucas never felt like looking into what had happened.

Sitting in the office, Lucas lit a cigar while watching the glamour of Los Angeles through the French window.

Lucas only knew how much he owed Jessica after they were divorced. But did Lucas do all that today only out of guilt?

Lucas was unwilling to admit that he did this because he read the harsh comments against Jessica on the Internet before returning home. The netizens accused her of being too calculating.

When he saw those words, Lucas felt very uncomfortable.

Drowned in his own thoughts, Lucas somehow drove to Jessica’s place. By that time, Jessica had already returned to her apartment. Lucas saw the light radiating from her window, wondering if he should go upstairs and see her.

Lucas knew that Jessica did not want to see him.

But Lucas still wanted to explain to her that he was not the plotter.

However, the way Jessica saw it, it made no difference whether the Thomas family did it or Lucas did it.

Early the next morning, Justin asked Dwayné to drive to the Beverly Hills. He had an appointment with Trissy at Gucci Osteria.

“Good morning, Mr. Thomas.” Trissy arrived early and waited outside.

When she received the call from Dwayne, she was very surprised.

Originally, Luna wanted to come with Trissy, but Dwayne insisted that Trissy should come by herself.

“Sit,” Justin said with an attitude. He was quite polite when speaking to Jessica. Yet when it came to Trissy, Justin wasn’t as polite.

“Mr. Thomas, is it about what we talked about last time? Luna and I haven’t made our decision yet. Could you please give me some more time?” Trissy sat down and asked respectfully.

Justin gestured at Dwayne. Dwayne immediately took out a document and placed it in front of Trissy.

“Miss Cheek, it’s for something else. Take a look at this document first.”

Trissy was puzzled, but she was too afraid of Justin to question him directly. Thus, she bent her head and opened the document.

To resolve the problem within the time limit Jessica imposed, Justin had come up with a solution.

As long as Trissy made an announcement, saying that she was the one picking on Jessica and framing her up with resentment.

Justin believed that in this way, he met Jessica’s requirement that the Thomas family stood out to clarify the fake news. At the same time, it could minimize the negative impact on the Thomas family.

As for Trissy, Justin could make up for her with some money, doitas Trissy left tempted

However, Trissy still pretended to be troubled and said, “Mr. Thomas I can do it

Pardon

Justin looked at her pretentious face and could not help but feel irritated

“Mr Thomas, our family only has a small business. We cant afford to offend the Hall family Trissy said as she planned to gain more from Justin “Fine, that’s enough I will give you another 20 million dollars myself as compensation, Justin gestured and spoke over Trissy

Trissy was insatiable, yet Justin had to compromise

*Mr Thomas, it really isnt about money Trissy looked hesitant

Just as Trissy was thinking about whether she should reject or not Dwayne suddenly bent down in a panic and said to Justin, “Something went wrong, Mr. Thomas!”

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H. D. Cynthia Chapter 124

Chapter 124

Astina met kipped about when he heard Dwayne He had a bad hunch He frowned as he looked at Dwayne and asked, “What Trissy looked at Dwayne with a probing gaze.

“Lucas had just released a staternert under the name of the Thomas Group to clarify Miss Hall’s scandal.”

Austing face darkened, so Dwayne hedged a bit before he went on The clanification admitted that Miss Thomas was the plotter

Bastard Hes such an idrott Justin immediately knocked over the coffee cup in his hand when he heard this, and the loud noise attracted the attention of the restaurant waiter

Justin took a deep breath and held back his anger He lowered his voice and said to Dwayne, “Go horne, call Lucas and tell him to mave tes ace back now”

7see Mi Thomas Dwayne sighed in his heart and quickly propped Justin up

My Thomas, then!

Trissy stood up as well. She looked at the documents on the table with a lingering gaze

Then, it seems that you don’t need to be troubled now. Justin snorted

Justin watched as Dwayne put up the document before he went on, “Miss Cheek, sometimes people need to know when to stop. If you are too greedy, you will get nothing in the end

After Justin finished speaking, he turned around and left the restaurant, leaving Trissy trembling in anger.

Lucas was fast this time, and when Jessica was resting at noon, she received Wendy’s report

The posts related to the scandal this time had been deleted, and the keywords had all been blocked. In addition, after the Thomas Group released the clarification, the relevant personnel also followed to apologize.

Miss Hall, I just read the comments on the Internet. It seems that Mr. Thomas did not break his promise this time.” Wendy said to Jessica “Its just a start” Jessica said, half smiling.

Wendy nodded. The clarification would ripple and cause an aftershock. As expected when Jessica got off work, she saw that the share price of the Thomas Group had fallen a lot. Justin would feel terrible about the plummet

Jessica believed that Lucas must know the consequences of doing so, but he still did it. Jessica hadn't expected that from Lucas.

Jessica, did that bastard Lucas lose his mind?

Jessica was attending a small business dinner Hannah, who was going with her, drove to the Hall Group to pick her up. As soon as Jessica got into the car Hannah spoke to her eagerly.

He actually used the name of Thomas Group to clarify things. I thought he would at most force Olivia to stand out and apologize

I didnt see tus coming but I'm very satisfied with the effect jessica fastened her seat belt and looked at the street lights outside the window She was somehow distracted

Jess you wont forgive him surtiplly because of the clarification, nghi?”

Hannah looked at Jessica's face and asked carefully

Forgive him? Why should I? Jessica collected her thoughts and smiled faintly, “Isnt this what he owed me

“Good to know” Harman let out a sigh of relief as she drove just don't want you to fall for him again

As the two of them chatted the casino arrived at its destination

They were not decked out today, but even so, the two of them attracted a lot of attention as soon as they entered the venue.

Jessica was wearing a white Chanel limited set giving off a sense of intellectual elegance, while Hannah was wearing a new spring design from Gucci

“I’m starving. I’ll go get something to eat You should find a place to sit first” Jessica tossed a glance at the desert bar after she wheeled around at Jessica

Jessica took a glass of red wine from the waiter and sat down.

Then, Jessica saw a young man in a crimson suit walking towards her Jessica casually sized him up. This man wore famous brands from top to bottom, but none of them were limited versions Thus, his family was just an average one.

“Well, well. Isn’t this famous Miss Hall? The young man stood in front of Jessica and looked down at her with an arry gaze

Perhaps Jessica’s indifferent attitude made the man a little embarrassed.

The man looked angry

Surprisingly, he sat down beside Jessica and asked, “Miss Hall, shall I treat you to a drink?”

“Sorry, I don’t drink; Jessica moved away and said coldly

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H. D. Cynthia Chapter 125

Chapter 125

The frivolous young man was Olivia’s admirer. He had read the Thomas Group’s statement in the morning and learned about Olivia’s current situation from Bailey.

Originally, he had been trying to curry favor with Olivia, hoping to establish a cooperative relationship with the Thomas Group through her. Yet now all his efforts were in vain. Thus, he blamed it on Jessica.

Facing Jessica’s cold face, he was irritated.

He said challengingly, “Miss Hall, are you looking down upon me? Do you think I’m not as rich as Mr. Davison? Why don’t you name a price? How much will it cost to buy you a drink?”

Jessica’s face instantly turned grim, but before she could speak, the young man was kicked from behind. He fell to the ground and hurt his face, “Shit! Which bastard kicked me?” The young man got up angrily from the ground. He looked behind him and froze.

It was Terry, who didn't have his playful smile as usual. Coldness radiated from his eyes.

“Security, drag him out,” Terry said in a deep voice.

At this time, the young man came back to his senses. Although he felt humiliated, he did not dare to fight back. Otherwise, he would be dragged out of the venue, which would be even more humiliating.

“Jess?” When Hannah heard the noise, she also came over.

Jessica shook her head at Hannah. Even if Terry hadn't shown up, she could have handled that stupid man by herself.

Seeing the security guard take the man away, Terry turned around and walked up to Jessica.

“Thank you, Mr. Davison.” Jessica raised her head and smiled at Terry.

“It's been a long time.” Terry bent his head to gaze at Jessica.

“A long time? Didn't we just meet last week?” Jessica blurted out, pretending not to understand what Terry meant.

Terry didn't mind that. He smiled and said, “It seems that Miss Hall has been doing well these days?”

“It was a bit troublesome at first. Yet the problem was solved later.”

Jessica knew Terry was talking about her scandal.

Hearing the two mention this, Hannah suddenly recalled something. She looked at Terry and said, “By the way, Mr. Davison, why did you tell me that the plotter was that bastard Lucas. And I...”

Hannah had wanted to say that she had leaked the fact that Jessica had a crush on Lucas for many years, but she quickly stopped when she was about to say it. She could not let it slip again.

Terry looked at Hannah curiously and asked, “And you...?”

“Anyway, I made a fool of myself. Your subordinates don't seem to be very capable!” Hannah snorted, crossed her arms over her chest, and turned her head away.

“It wasn’t that wrong, right? If Mr. Thomas could have taught her well, Miss Thomas wouldn’t have made such a big mistake,” Terry replied calmly.

Jessica raised her eyebrows when she heard this. She did not say anything and just took a sip of red wine with her head bent. Lucas had been invited to the banquet, but he was not in the mood to be there.

After receiving a call from Dwayne, Lucas left the business to his secretary and asked the driver to drive back to the Thomas’ villa. What was awaiting Lucas was Justin’s rage. But Lucas didn’t show any fear.

After divorcing Jessica, Lucas only went back to the villa every time Justin was mad.

“I told you to leave it to me. Why are you so self-assertive?” Justin slammed the table and shouted angrily, “Have you seen the stock price today? How are you going to explain it to the shareholders?”

Lucas did not answer Justin. Instead, he asked, “Grandpa, do you think that Trissy can satisfy the Hall family?”

Lucas paused for a moment and said, “Also, as the CEO of the Thomas Group, I am willing to be responsible for this.”

Late at night, Jessica took a bath and leaned on the sofa in a good mood, reading a report.

Then, her phone rang. Jessica picked it up.

“Good evening, Miss Hall” It was Wendy speaking.

“What happened?” Jessica said.

“Miss Hall, Vincent, Mr. Thomas’ secretary, just called me. He said that Mr. Thomas wants to treat you to dinner and solemnly apologize to you.”

“Is that so?” Jessica raised her eyebrows. Lucas was confusing Jessica. She paused and said, “Say yes.”

Although Jessica had been keeping a distance from the Thomas family, she was curious how Lucas was going to apologize to her.

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H. D. Cynthia Chapter 126

Chapter 126

Jessica saw herself as someone who could take it or leave it easily. When she decided to divorce Lucas, she intended to stay away from him and the Thomas family for good.

However, Olivia just wouldn't stop causing trouble for Jessica.

Jessica could let go of the misery she had suffered during the marriage, but that did not mean that any of the Thomas family could challenge her again and again.

Jessica decided that the dinner with Lucas wouldn't be a pleasant one for him.

Two days later, Wendy received a call from Vincent.

The dinner would take place that evening. Vincent called, as Lucas had told him, to ask if there was any change in Jessica's itinerary and if the dinner needed re-appointing.

After hearing what Wendy reported, Jessica put on a snide smile.

When Jessica was still married to Lucas, he never treated her so meticulously.

After work, Wendy drove Jessica to the restaurant where Lucas had made a reservation beforehand.

It was a Japanese restaurant. Jessica remembered that Lucas did not like seafood, but she was the one who liked it. It seemed that Lucas picked the place for Jessica's sake.

Lucas even booked the whole restaurant.

Jessica arrived at the entrance where the waiter opened the door and bowed to her. He said respectfully, "Good evening, Miss Hall. Mr. Thomas and Miss Thomas are waiting for you."

Olivia was here, too?

Jessica raised her eyebrows and walked toward them.

Walking to the dining table, the waiter took a step forward and pulled out the dining chair. After Jessica sat down, she smiled to greet Lucas. Then she glanced sideways at Olivia.

It had only been three days since Jessica last saw Olivia, yet Olivia seemed to have lost a lot of weight. Jessica could also tell that Olivia was quite listless.

Jessica heard that Lucas put Olivia into the Black House for what she'd done. What Jessica heard proved right.

"Miss Thomas doesn't look well. I wonder if you'll like the food here. I'm quite into it, anyway." Jessica said with a smile. Before Olivia could say anything, Jessica gestured at the waiter and said, "Could you give me the menu, please?"

Olivia was too listless to fight back even if she wanted to. The three days in Black House felt like three weeks to her.

Back in the Black House, Olivia could only drink water. She wasn't allowed to eat. She could only lie on the hard floor, so she was cold and hungry.

At first, Olivia cried and cursed loudly, but no one paid any attention to her.

It was all dark. Olivia could only hear her own echo.

Later, Olivia started to feel scared. She felt that every second she spent in the Black House was elongated.

It wasn't easy to make it to the third day. Lucas had someone let Olivia out, but Lucas didn't comfort her when he saw her. He just asked her to take a shower and change her clothes so that Lucas could take her to apologize to Jessica.

Olivia did not dare to object this time. Even if Jessica had belittled her right in the face, Olivia did not dare to refute it

The waiter handed the menu over, and Jessica casually glanced at it before ordering all sorts of sashimi and sushi.

When the dishes were served, Olivia found that even the topping of the sushi was raw fish, She felt so sad about that. If she had known earlier, she would have grabbed a piece of bread before leaving.

Lucas glanced at the chopsticks, but eventually, he chose the fork.

Jessica saw him put a piece of salmon into his mouth and swallowed it without chewing much. His face remained unchanged.

For some reason, Jessica found that side of Lucas funny.

Olivia knew that Lucas did not like these dishes. She understood that Jessica was deliberately making things difficult for them, so Olivia felt a little aggrieved as she watched Lucas eat.

What made Olivia even more depressed was that she was really hungry now, so even if she didn't like sashimi. She had to eat it, just like Lucas. This was the first time Lucas and Jessica had sat together for a meal after divorced. Lucas was still silent, but there was no longer coldness in his eyes when he looked at Jessica

It was also the first time Lucas had carefully observed Jessica eating. He found that even though she was using chopsticks, she still looked elegant. Jessica, on the other hand, was enjoying Olivia's facial expressions while eating. Jessica was in a good mood.

Olivia ate nothing in the past three days. The sashimi made her stomach feel uncomfortable.

However, Lucas and Jessica were eating slowly. They hadn't started talking at all.

Olivia got so heated that she sweated on her forehead.

Finally, the silence on the dining table was broken by a sudden rumbling of Olivia's stomach.