In the room for the rich man. John was overjoyed. He walked back and forth with excitement. He laughed, "Evangeline is finally down! I thought she was invincible. But she couldn't even survive one minute under the effect of the drug

Kenji also laughed happily, "I can finally avenge Norbert and Kent and make some money through her too. After she is locked up, Clusia will be humiliated by Atharia again. We can kill three birds with one stone!"

Presley smiled, "I've told you that no matter how powerful Evangeline is, she will lose in the end.

"She is nothing compared with us. We can do anything to her!"

John snorted proudly, "She humiliated Atharia so many times. We must make her pay for it this time!

"After finishing the bounty task through her, I'll make her suffer!"

in the live stream in Clusia, people kept sending comments. [What's going on? Why did Evangeline faint?]

[Marian, Riley, and those tigers all fainted. It's absolutely weird!]

[Why is there so much smoke in the forest? Could someone have made the smoke poisonous?]

[The smoke must be poisonous. It is spreading so fast so Evangeline couldn't avoid it at all! This person is so despicable!]

[Atharia's live stream has been closed all the time. It must be Jeffrey who did this. He has gone too far. People from Atharia like despicable methods. They can't win fair games so they use shameless tricks!] [Evangeline's fans are crazy. They have no evidence. Why do you think it's an Atharian who did it? Perhaps it is a wildfire and some poisonous plants are burning? Don't slander others without any evidence just because Evangeline is in danger. It is annoying.]

[Yeah, it must be an accident. Jeffrey didn't have any poison. How could he do it? Evangeline's fans should be smarter.]

In the forest, Jeffrey walked to the white tiger and Evangeline after they fainted.

He walked to Evangeline, who was lying on the ground, looked down at her, and sneered, "Evangeline, aren't you very good at this game? But / still beat you.

"You humiliated me. I will make you pay for it!

Your lucky days are over. From now on, you'll be miserable!"

The audience in Clusia was furious when they saw this.

Chapter 101

[I told

you

it must be an Atharian. Someone even defended them! What are you going to say now? We have solid evidence now!]

[Everyone, including the animals, fainted except for Jeffrey. He seemed to have been staring at Evangeline in the dark. He walked out as soon as he saw Evangeline pass out. I would never believe it was not him!]

[Where are those scumbags who defended Atharia? What are you going to say now? I suspect they're traitors. I suggest the police investigate them and their ancestors!]

[I'm pissed off. How could he do that? This is so despicable!]

[Go away! Don't touch Evangeline!]

[It doesn't mean anything. No one saw Jeffrey poison her. Everyone is unconscious except Jeffrey probably because he is stronger. This is not solid evidence.]

for

[That's right. Everyone's different. Evangeline and others passed out but Jeffrey is fine. It only proves that Evangeline and others are not as strong as Jeffrey. So, Jeffrey is h!]

Even now, some people still thought it was not Jeffrey's fault. They thought Jeffrey was just stronger than Evangeline so he didn't pass out.

People had a big fight in the live stream. In the forest, Jeffrey couldn't wait to squat down and reach out his hand to Evangeline.

He wanted to take off her clothes off to make the boss happy.

However, just as his right hand was about to touch Evangeline, Evangeline, who should have been poisoned, suddenly opened her eyes.

As soon as she opened her eyes, she quickly grabbed Jeffrey's hand. Then she rolled over and stood up, locking Jeffrey's hands behind his back. Jeffrey was pinned down on the ground with his face facing the ground with some grass in his mouth.

His right hand was grasped by Evangeline behind his back.

With a click, Evangeline directly dislocated his arm

He screamed in great pain and his face turned red.

Evangeline smiled and said jokingly, "Finally, I caught you. You were fast. If you hadn't come to me voluntarily, it would take me a long time to catch you."

Jeffrey's eyes widened in shock. He realized that Evangeline pretended to pass out to deceive him so that she could catch him.

Jeffrey didn't have time to think more carefully about it. The first thing he needed to do now was to get rid of her and ensure his safety. He tried to break free from her, enduring severe pain. But nu, Aug 22

Chapter 101

Evangeline quickly kicked him in the head.

He felt dizzy and disoriented. Then he lost consciousness for a short time.

When he woke up, he found himself tied up.

He looked around but didn't see Evangeline.

But he saw that there was no smoke coming from the direction of the fire that he started. The smoke in the forest was disappearing.

After a while, Evangeline walked to him from where the smoke came with a couple of weapons in his hand.

Taking a closer look, he found that she had picked up the weapons of the five other men.

She went to put out the fire and buried it in the earth so that the smoke would not spread again to affect more living things.

The five men who followed Jeffrey here were also unconscious. Evangeline tied them all up and took their weapons.

Jeffrey's face twisted with anger. His whole body trembled. He glared at Evangeline.

He shouted, "Everyone else is unconscious. Why aren't you?"

Evangeline asked, "Why should I?"

Jeffrey said, "Because the smoke..." He subconsciously wanted to tell her the smoke was poisonous.

But the drone that had been following Evangeline was still on so he had to stop talking abruptly.

A smile hovered on Evangeline's lips. She said, "Because you put poison in the fire and let it spread into the forest through the smoke. Do you want to poison me?" Jeffrey gritted his teeth and said, "Stop your nonsense. I have no poison. How could I poison you?"

Evangeline said sarcastically, "You don't have poison. But the investors behind you, they have it."

Jeffrey was still tough. "Nonsense! The bosses treat us equally. They are not partial to me, let alone give me any poison!" Bang! Evangeline kicked him in the face.

Evangeline shouted, "Watch your attitude! Don't fucking yell at me!"

Jeffrey's face turned pale and then red. He was trembling with anger.

Evangeline said, "Don't think you I don't know that those bastards deliberately let the helicopter directly deliver supplies to you!

"How did you get the bow and arrows if they aren't not partial to you?

"You said that you didn't put the poison. Then why everyone else has passed out but not you? Why are you acting like this? Didn't they give you the poison and the antidote at the same time so that you can survive the poisoned smoke?"

Jeffrey felt his face burning because of the kick. He spurted out a few teeth with blood.

He was so angry that he couldn't break free from the ropes on him.

He glared at Evangeline but he didn't dare to shout. But he still shouted in anger, "You are not poisoned either. Why didn't you say it was you who put the poison in the fire?"

Bang! Evangeline kicked him in the face again.

Jeffrey stared at Evangeline reluctantly while blood streamed out of blood. "You..."

Evangeline sneered, "I am live streaming all the time. The audience watched everything that I did.

"The director has been helping you. He helped you cut off the live stream and gave you the bow and arrows against the rules. He even gave you poison to poison me. You Atharians are shameless. "You can't defeat me in a fair game so he kept giving you weapons and props to handle me.

"Unfortunately, no matter how many despicable means you use, you losers are no match for me." Jeffrey said stubbornly, "You have no evidence. You are slandering me!"

Evangeline chuckled and stopped talking with him.

She grabbed Jeffrey's hair and dragged him to the white tiger.

Jeffrey screamed in pain but Evangeline completely ignored him.

When she arrived at the white tiger, she pried open its mouth and cut Jeffrey's arm with her sword.

LA

Chapter 102

She lifted him up and let his blood flow into the white tiger's mouth.

Then Marian and Riley were fed with his blood too.

After a while, the white tiger came to life.

It licked the blood in its mouth and became mad. It raised its head and howled a few times.

Evangeline scolded unhappily, "Shut up! Stop screaming!"

The white tiger immediately stopped howling and began to purr.

Soon, Marian and Riley woke up too.

Marian rubbed her temples and asked in confusion "What happened? Why am I lying on the ground?"

Riley stretched his arms and legs. He frowned, "Why do I feel that I have no strength at all? Am I recovering now?"

Their physical reaction after they fainted was not normal.

Normally, they would not pass out for no reason. So, everything was abnormal.

Evangeline kicked Jeffrey and said, "This bastard burnt the poison in the fire. He used the smoke to spread the poison in the forest. You inhaled too much toxic smoke so you passed out.

"He had taken the antidote before. There is still some residual of it in his blood. I used his blood to detoxify you.

"But because the antidote is diluted by blood, you need to wait for a while before you fully recover."

Marian and Riley finally understood it.

Marian suddenly asked curiously, "You also inhaled the toxic smoke. Why are you looking perfectly fine?"

If Evangeline had been affected by the poison like them, she wouldn't have caught Jeffrey or looked all right.

Evangeline said, "Probably because I'm too kind. Even the poisonous smoke didn't have the heart to hurt me. So, it bypassed me."

She started doing antitoxin experiments a few years ago. A year ago, she had a shot of antitoxin. So anyone she was invulnerable to almost all poisons. But she couldn't tell a about it.

Marian and Riley were speechless. Of course, they wouldn't believe it. They knew Evangeline didn't want to talk about it so they did not ask more questions about it. They hadn't fully recovered yet so they could only sit on the ground and wait.

In the room for the rich man, the rich people had already started to celebrate the victory.
They Chapter 102

were all dumbfounded when they saw Evangeline catch Jeffrey and tie him

1. up.

They looked at the big screen in disbelief. They were shocked. It took them a long time to come to their senses.

Bang! John smashed his glass to the ground. He was trembling with anger and his whole face turned red.

He shouted, "Fuck!

"Why isn't Evangeline in a coma? That poison even made the white tiger pass out. Why is Evangeline all right? She couldn't have known that we would give Jeffrey poison. Even if she knew it, she couldn't have the antidote. But why didn't she pass out? What the hell went wrong?"

He couldn't figure out why Evangeline was fine. He thought this plan was perfect at first. Unexpectedly, Evangeline was totally fine!

He said, "Is what she said the truth? Because of her kindness, the poisonous smoke deliberately bypassed her?"

Everyone looked at each other in confusion. They thought, 'Evangeline's kindness? No one will believe it. The way she treated Norbert and Kent was scary. She is not a kind person at all'

Besides, the smoke was inanimate. How could it possibly bypass her?

They had been staring at the screen just now and they noticed that the smoke around her avoided her.

Presley said with a gloomy face, "Maybe there is a traitor among us. He secretly gave Evangeline the antidote. She took it in advance so she was immune to it."

Kenji nodded. "It's possible."

John said, "That's impossible. The medicine is special. Only one pill of antidote was made this time. Evangeline can't have it!"

Everyone looked at each other and couldn't figure out what was going on.

John gritted his teeth and said, "Evangeline came here for revenge. She must have been prepared. But I can't figure out how she did it. I might have underestimated her!"

He glared at Evangeline on the screen with anger.

He said, "We must think of another way to deal with her!"

"I don't believe that we can't defeat her!"

Kenji said, "From now on, only we can watch the live streaming."

"No one else can see them so we can send people there with weapons. No matter how powerful she is, she's not invulnerable to guns!"

Presley frowned, "There are many rich people who have bet on the game including some wealthy people in Clusia. They have bet hundreds of billions on it."

"If we stop the live stream now without a result, we will have to pay them according to the rules."

John said gloomily, "Cut off the livestream and send people to save Jeffrey. Then send people to attack Evangeline with weapons. Start the live stream again after sending Jeffrey to the foot of the mountain. The audience will see Jeffrey win and we will get the money!"

"Then stop the public livestream so only we can watch it. Then we will get the money for the bounty tasks!"

Chapter 103

The money was guaranteed by the banks so they didn't have direct access to it.

So, they needed to finish the game.

Otherwise, the bank would automatically deduct the money from their accounts to pay the gamblers.

If they had to pay them by the odds against Evangeline, they would end up being beggars. The odds against Evangeline were too high.

In the beginning, no one thought Evangeline could win so they raised the odds against Evangeline to 50-1 to attract greedy fools to bet on Evangeline to win.

They thought Evangeline was definitely going to lose. They thought the money was basically going straight into their pockets if anyone put a bet on her.

But now, they realized that they had made a horrible mistake. They couldn't afford to lose.

Although there were only about a dozen people who bet on Evangeline, they couldn't afford it.

If they refused to pay them, the International Guarantee Association would directly auction off their assets.

If it was still not enough, they and their families would even be kidnapped and all of their organs would be sold for money. They couldn't lose. They couldn't afford to lose.

John said seriously, "After ending the live broadcast, send people to the forest to attack Evangeline. We can't delay it any longer. If we do it too late, she will torture Jeffrey like how she did to Norbert and Kent!"

Kenji directly went to arrange everything.

Everyone in the room looked solemn.

As long game Presley said, "You guys don't have to be so worried. Even if Jeffrey is tortured by Evangeline and has to quit the game, we just need to handle Evangeline and make another one win the as she doesn't win, we won't lose that much money?"

But his words did not soothe them.

After those idiots in Clusia bet so much money on Evangeline, they bet all their money on Jeffrey to win to make more money.

Even if Evangeline didn't win the first place and someone not Jeffrey won the first place, they were still going to lose a lot of money.

in the live stream in Clusia. [Evangeline used Jeffrey's blood to detoxify the white tiger and Marian. So it is Jeffrey. Otherwise, his blood couldn't be used as an antidote.]

14:30 Thu Aug 22

Chapter 103

[The production team is so despicable. They gave Jeffrey a bow and arrows. Then they even allowed him to drug the other contestants. I don't want any unfair competition!]

[They don't failure even if it means that they have cheated. They can't win a fair game so they break the rules and come up with some dirty tricks. It's disgusting!]

[Let's rename this show. How about "Only Atharians Can Win"?)

[Where can we complain about this show? I'm going to do it! They have crossed the line!]

In the live stream in Atharia. [Evangeline has gone too far. There is no evidence to prove it is Jeffrey who poisoned them. How dare she slander Jeffrey? She didn't faint either. It could be she who put the poison on the fire!]

[Jeffrey is a piece of shit. He has been defeated by Evangeline since the very beginning of the show. What a disgrace to the Atharian people!]

[Clusians are disgusting. Every game before was peaceful. Ever since Clusians joined the competition, weird things have kept popping up. This time, it is Evangeline's fault!]

[That's right. Clusians are like cancer. I suggest all of them be disqualified from the game. They are rule breakers!]

The rest of the world was also talking about it. But all of a sudden, the live stream all around the world went black without warning. The live stream was cut off.

In the forest, Evangeline noticed that the flashing red dots of the cameras on the surrounding drones disappeared. She knew the live stream was cut off. But she didn't care.

At this moment, she was standing in front of Jeffrey and kicked him to the ground. She stepped on his face and kept grinding it hard.

Jeffrey let out a scream in pain.

Blood, mixed with saliva, gushed out of his mouth.

His teeth fell to the ground one by one.

Evangeline didn't withdraw her foot until his teeth were all out of his mouth.

Jeffrey glared at Evangeline. Evangeline kicked him again. He didn't dare to glare at her anymore.

Evangeline used her sword to lift Jeffrey's clothes. As her sword went up and down, two pieces of Jeffrey's flesh were cut off him.

Jeffrey shouted in pain.

Jeffrey quickly stopped screaming and said in a trembling voice, "Evangeline, have I ever offended you? Why are you so cruel to me? If you let go of me, I won't make trouble for you anymore!" Evangeline sneered, "You didn't offend me?"

Thu, Aug 22 w

"You've been trying to frame me all the time. You just never succeeded. If it's not offensive, what is?"

Jeffrey gritted his teeth and said, "You can't hurt me I am an Atharian. If you hurt me, you're humiliating everyone in Atharia. You will pay for it

"There are a lot of rich people who support me. If you hurt me, they will not let you get away with it!

"For the sake of both parties, you'd better let go of me right now!"

Evangeline said with a mild smile, "I don't like being threatened. I will do whatever you don't want me to do. I'd like to see what those people who support you will do to me. I'm actually a little bit excited when thinking about it."

She poked Jeffrey's wounds with the sword in her hand.

Jeffrey struggled in pain and twisted his body to avoid the sword. "Ah! Stop it!"

But the more he moved, the deeper Evangeline stabbed the sword into his wound. Evangeline didn't stop until it was so painful that he finally stopped moving.

Evangeline found some herbs to help him stop the bleeding.

She accidentally mixed a few flesh-eating bugs in the herbs when she was applying the herbs to his wound.

Before eating the meat, the bugs would spurt some mucus first. Their mucus was corrosive so his wound hurt like it was on fire.

It would feel like splashing chili oil on the wounds. The pain would make life a living hell. Jeffrey's face twisted in pain. His whole body was covered with cold sweat and kept trembling. Marian and Riley felt much better now so they stood up and walked to Evangeline.

Marian said, "Let me do it. Just tell me what you want to do."

Evangeline handed the sword to Marian and went back to the white tiger. She patted the white tiger to make it sit down. Then she sat on it.

Marian said, "I heard that he is particularly unethical in war-torn countries. He often raped beautiful female refugees. He even recorded it and uploaded the videos on the dark web. He's so disgusting. Why don't you cut off his penis? He has ruined so many innocent girls, most of whom are teenagers. Such a scumbag should be castrated!" Evangeline shook her head disapprovingly. "No, it's too cruel for a man. We can't be that cruel. How about we cut it into shreds?"

Rogue 104

Chapter 104

Marian looked at Evangeline in silence for a few seconds. Evangeline was indeed a genius.

Soon, she walked to Jeffrey with the sword in her hand. Riley went to Jeffrey and held Jeffrey still with Marian so that Marian could do it.

Jeffrey shouted in horror, wishing that he could scare them off using his background, "No! Don't! You can't hurt me! I'm an Atharian! There are a lot of men behind me. If you hurt me, they will kill you!" But they were not afraid of death. Such a threat was useless to them.

Jeffrey's screams spread far away, scaring the birds in the trees.

The white tiger looked at them and roared excitedly. It patted its two huge front paws on the ground happily. There was finally someone more miserable than it. In contrast, Evangeline was very gentle to it. When she tried to eat it, she just crushed its eggs and kicked its ass. She was very nice to it. The white tiger howled happily and rubbed Evangeline's back with its head. But it was so strong that it almost knocked Evangeline into the air.

Evangeline slapped the white tiger on the head. "I told you to stop howling. Why are you still howling?"

The white tiger had lowered its voice but she was too close to it. When it howled, it was like a trumpet and even hurt Evangeline's eardrums.

The white tiger was so big that even if it was just whispering, its sound would be shocking. The white tiger didn't dare to howl again. But he was still very happy. It found Evangeline's slap very gentle like she was tickling it. It thought Evangeline did not want to slap it hard.

Marian had already cut Jeffrey's penis.

Evangeline picked some herbs and asked Marian to apply them to Jeffrey's wounds.

Of course, the wounds on his lower body were treated in the same way as those on his upper body.

Some cute little creatures who liked eating blood and flesh were also accidentally blended into the herbs.

Jeffrey was in so much pain but he couldn't even pass out.

Jeffrey trembled violently. He looked at Evangeline weakly and managed to open his mouth. "Evangeline, why are you... so cruel to me?"

He thought although he had offended Evangeline, it was just a minor conflict. He didn't understand why she used such a cruel method to torture him.

Evangeline smiled, "Am I cruel? Compared with what you want to do to me, it is nothing."

Jeffrey was trembling all over. He glared at Evangeline with scarlet eyes.

Evangeline asked, "What are the bounty tasks from those bosses behind you? How do you want to torture me?"

Jeffrey's pupils shrank. He looked at Evangeline in shock. He wondered how she knew it. He kept his mouth shut and didn't say a single word..

Although the live stream was cut off on the application, the bosses still had access to it. They were watching it right now. So Jeffrey dared not say too much. Even though he was in great pain, he didn't dare to tell Evangeline anything about it.

If he told Evangeline the truth, the bosses would blame it on him and hurt his family.

Evangeline shrugged indifferently. "You are not going to tell me? Well, I'll have to use my imagination. Although I'm not as perverted as you, I guess it won't be too different. I will treat you well."

She rubbed her chin and thought about it for a moment. Then she said to Riley, "Didn't we get some ropes? Tie his neck up and walk him like walking a dog.

"There is a bounty task that requires you to tie me up and humiliate me like this, right?"

Jeffrey's pupils contracted violently. His head shook fiercely.

She was right. There were even many more outrageous tasks. But he gritted his teeth and refused to answer her question.

Riley silently took out a rope and tied it around Jeffrey's neck.

Evangeline said, "It's not enough. He won't crawl on the ground obediently. We have to make him unable to stand up."

Marian said, "How about we break his knees?"

Riley said, "He can't crawl if his knees are broken."

Evangeline looked at Jeffrey with a wicked smile, "Any thought?"

Jeffrey was so furious. He thought, 'She wants me to give her advice on how to torture myself? She is even more ruthless than demons!'

Evangeline sighed, "Well, you've been attacking me all the time. But I still politely ask your opinion. You are so rude. You didn't even answer my question. What an uneducated wild man!" Evangeline looked at Marian and said, "Since he won't give us any advice, let's break his legs like how we did to Kent. Then he will have to crawl."

Jeffrey's pupils shrank. He trembled even more violently.

11:30 Thu Aug 22 –

The director told him in his headphones what happened to Norbert and Kent.

He was scared just thinking about it.

Seeing that Marian was about to do it, Jeffrey finally shouted, "I... I'll crawl. Stop!"

Evangeline shook her head and said, "No. You are still able to stand up now. I'm afraid you will fight back."

Jeffrey said hurriedly, "I swear I won't!"

Evangeline shook her head. "I don't believe you. I can only rest assured if you are physically unable to stand up."

Jeffrey trembled violently. His face turned pale and then red. Finally, he made a difficult choice. "You can cut off my feet!"

It would hurt a lot to cut off his feet but he thought it was better than what happened to Kent.

Evangeline smiled, "You are so brutal to yourself. You want us to cut off your feet? Actually, as long as we tie your hands and feet with some wood sticks when you are crawling on your feet, you can't stand up. You should learn more."

Jeffrey froze. He said hurriedly, "Okay. Don't cut off my feet. Do as you say. Tie them up with sticks and ropes!"

Evangeline said, "No way. I hate people who go back on their word the most. You have already asked for it. You can't change your mind."

"Come on, do it yourself. It's your own idea. So, do it yourself. How nice I am to you! I am nicer to you than everyone else."

Evangeline motioned to Marian to give the knife to Jeffrey.

After Jeffrey got the knife, a trace of cruelty flashed in his eyes. He wanted to kill Evangeline.

But this thought was fleeting. He knew he couldn't defeat Evangeline.

Besides, even if he managed to do it. The white tiger would soon pounce on him.

Trembling, Jeffrey held the knife tightly and cut his feet.

Jeffrey screamed in pain and rolled on the ground, carrying his feet in his arms. Evangeline quickly helped him stop the bleeding.

When she was looking for herbs, she caught two snakes. She threw them to Riley. "You know what I mean?"

Riley nodded and said, "Of course."

Rogue 105

Chapter 105

Jeffrey shouted in horror, "No! You can't do this!"

"Evangeline, be merciful. I'll give you whatever you want. Please let go of me!"

His face was pale and his whole body was trembling. He was horrified. He had been on the battlefield for ten years and tortured many people but he had never seen such cruel methods. Evangeline was so brutal. But she looked very calm and indifferent like she was looking at a common thing. Her cold eyes made him feel more horrified.

She didn't look tough at all. Actually, she even looked a little bit weak like she was a doormat. She even smiled a lot.

But she had a cruel heart under her weak appearance. He had never seen a person like her before! He regretted joining this show. Evangeline chuckled, "Don't look like that. I didn't do anything to you. But you kept begging me. It makes me look like a bad person." Jeffrey's lips twitched. She didn't do much on her own but she kept asking other people to do things for her.

Evangeline said, "Ignore him. Just do it."

Riley nodded. He asked Marian to hold Jeffrey still.

In the forest, Jeffrey screamed again, "Ah!"

Jeffrey rolled on the ground in pain and kept screaming. The sharp pain was killing him. In addition to the pain, fear was overwhelming him,

In the room for the rich guys, the atmosphere was thick with tension. Everyone looked extremely gloomy, which was terrifying.

They looked at the screen and clenched their fists. They could even feel the pain too like Evangeline was also torturing them.

Some people couldn't help looking feared. Their bodies were beaded with sweat.

Some of them felt uneasy. They had a bad feeling and thought if Evangeline caught them, they would be tortured in the same way.

John gritted his teeth and roared, "Damn! How dare she disrespect us! She will soon be dead!"

Kenji said, "Evangeline is brutal. We can't let her leave there. Or, she will definitely revenge on us!"

Presley nodded. "That's right. After finishing the bounty tasks, catch her. After we have enough fun with her, we will kill her. We will never let her leave this place alive."

Kenji said, "I just sent someone to ask about it. They have gathered all the people and are going to send three helicopters and nine people there. In addition to pistols, they have also sub-machine guns. Evangeline can't escape this time!"

John sneered, "Evangeline, you won't be arrogant for too long!"

Presley sighed, "Well, it's a pity that Jeffrey ended up like this. He won't win the first place. We still have to pay for it."

John said fiercely, "No. As long as Jeffrey is still alive, we will make him the first place!"

Suddenly, someone stood up and said in a trembling voice. "John. I just received a message saying that something bad happened to my company. I have to go back home to deal with it. I have to go.

now.

John said impatiently, "Let's go. Anyway, you can't come up with any useful idea even if you stay here"

The man hurriedly thanked him and quickly walked out of the room, for fear that John would go back on his word if he walked slowly.

Although they had sent armed men to catch Evangeline, he still felt uneasy.

He thought Evangeline couldn't escape but he was still uneasy.

So, he had to be a coward. He decided to escape.

If Evangeline was caught, it would be great. He would just miss a chance to have some fun with her.

But if Evangeline was not caught, she might take revenge and then they would be in great danger. His escape might be saving his life.

Then a few more people also said that they had something to deal with at home and left early.

John swore at them but allowed them to leave.

The group of people went outside and began to talk about it.

"Why are you out too? Why don't you wait for John's people to catch Evangeline and have fun with John said that Evangeline is here to take revenge. She must be well-prepared. I'm afraid the armed men can't catch her so I think I'd better leave."

"Even if she is prepared, she is just an ordinary person with some skills. How can she fight with bullers? Besides, he has sent a lot of people over there. She can't escape." Then why don't you stay?"

"I... I have something to deal with at home."

"Me, too."

In the forest, Evangeline asked Riley to put a rope around Jeffrey's neck and untie the vines around him. Then she asked Riley to take off Jeffrey's clothes.

Riley walked forward, holding the rope. Evangeline was sitting on the back of the white tiger, holding the long whip.

Jeffrey was crawling very slowly so she whipped him.

Jeffrey was in great pain. When he saw a stone, he wanted to hit his head against it. But Marian noticed it and kicked him over.

Evangeline whipped him. "How can you be so disrespectful to life? Do you know how difficult it is for me to save your life? There are so many wounds on you? You want to die now? I'm so disappointed." Jeffrey was trembling with anger. He didn't need her to save him. He was in a lot of pain so he just wanted to die immediately! For him, one more second of life only meant more pain.

Anyway, his body had been damaged. Even if he stayed alive, he would still be disabled. He thought it was better to die.

But Evangeline wouldn't even let him die.

Jeffrey decided to lie still on the ground and refused to crawl.

He thought it would be best to piss Evangeline off and make her kill him so that he could get rid of the pain.

Jeffrey said, "I don't want to crawl anymore. Do whatever you want to me. I won't crawl anymore even if you will kill me. Just kill me!"

He wanted her to kill him, which would set him free.

Evangeline sighed, "You don't cherish your life at all. I gave you a chance to stay alive but you only want to die.

"Okay, I respect you. I always respect other people's choices."

Evangeline said to Riley and Marian, "Start a fire and burn him.

"He's a tall man. If we don't deal with his dead body, it will pollute the environment.

"By the way, there are many grasses and trees in the forest. To avoid a disaster, we should just start a small fire and burn him to ashes slowly.

"Let him watch him being burned. It will be a good thing to know how you're killed."

Marian and Riley immediately went to collect firewood. Soon, they started a fire.

Marian held Jeffrey still to stop him from struggling and escaping. Riley grabbed the other hand of his.

Jeffrey screamed, struggling violently, "Ahhh!"

The intense pain in his hands made him wish that he had died.

This kind of pain was countless times more painful than when his legs were cut off.

But no matter how hard he struggled, he couldn't break free from Marian and Riley.

Jeffrey cried and begged for mercy. "Evangeline, I beg you to kill me. Please kill me quickly. I'm begging you." It hurt so much. It was so painful. This was not something a human could put up with. He just wanted to get rid of it quickly and didn't even want to live.

Evangeline smiled, "Aren't I killing you? Don't worry. I guess it won't take long.

"Put up with it. It'll take two or three days. It will be fast."

Jeffrey's pupils shrank. He was in despair. Two or three days normally was not a long time. But now, he thought every second felt like a year. Every minute made him feel like there was no end to it. Jeffrey cried with a tearful face, "I can't take it anymore. I can't wait two or three days. Please kill me now. I beg you to be kind for one time."

Evangeline sighed and shook her head in disappointment. "You are an Atharian. Aren't you better than people from all the other countries in all aspects? I've just started. You can't stand it? You're a disgrace to Atharians."

Jeffrey cried, "I'm a loser. All Atharians are losers. Please kill me."

Evangeline said, "I respect life very much. So I will not kill people so casually. Don't induce me to commit crimes. It is immoral."

Jeffrey's lips twitched violently.

Evangeline continued, "Don't worry. I will do my best to let you live a bit longer. After all, you've done a lot of evil things. I will let you experience the happiness of being a human as long as possible. It's the last thing I can do for you."

Jeffrey wailed in despair, "Ah! I don't want to live anymore! Stop! Kill me now!"

With a gentle smile, Evangeline enjoyed Jeffrey's expression.

Seeing that he was a bit weak after he screamed for so long, she kindly pushed his hand to his mouth.

Chapter 106

She said, "Eat something to get some strength."

Jeffrey shook his head in horror and trembled even more violently. He looked at Evangeline with fear. His chest heaved violently. But he kept his mouth shut and refused to Evangeline smiled and said calmly, "You don't want to eat? It doesn't matter. I can put the food directly into your stomach to keep you alive. Although I don't have amazing medical skills, I can easily keep you alive and make you more sensitive to the pain."

Jeffrey was devastated. He opened his mouth as he cried.

Marian and Riley both lowered their heads, frightened.

Evangeline only said a few words in a very flat voice and she looked very calm. But every word that she said was terrifying and no one dared to disobey her.

But the white tiger jumped happily beside her, roaring excitedly from time to time. It would even occasionally roll on the ground.

The happiness of the white tiger was in stark contrast to Jeffrey's wailing.

In the room for the rich guys, John and the others somehow felt a chill. Everyone held their breath. John's fists that were put on the table trembled uncontrollably. What Evangeline did really scared him.

Watching such a terrible thing, she still looked composed and indifferent.

She was not immersed in the pleasure of torturing nor did she have the slightest fear.

She looked like she was not involved in it and she was watching something very ordinary. This kind of person was the most terrifying.

Someone broke the silence. "Evangeline is horrible. The atmosphere in the room was still hellish.

John took a deep breath and said, "Don't be afraid. Our men are already on their way there with weapons. They will arrive there soon. Evangeline will be caught soon. "She will never find us and take revenge on us!

"She doesn't have the slightest chance!"

Everyone nodded with an awkward smile. "Yes, John is right. They have weapons. As long as she is still human, she will be defeated by the weapons. What happened to Jeffrey won't happen to us.

After we catch her, they will finish the bounty tasks in the forest. Don't bring her here, okay? I want to have some rest. I don't want to touch any woman

"What a coincidence! I indulged myself too much. Recently, I've even been afraid of women."

Looking at Evangeline, John couldn't help but feel terrified.

He had completely changed his mind.

At the thought of seeing Evangeline in person, he couldn't help but panic.

Therefore, after hearing what they said, he seized the opportunity and said, "A bunch of losers! Why are you so afraid of her little tricks? Stupid losers!"

"You're so annoying. I am not even interested in it at all.

"Forget it. Don't bring her here then."

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief like he had saved their lives.

Kenji stood up and said, "Mr. Wade, I need to go to the bathroom."

John waved his hand impatiently. "All right."

Presley glanced at Kenji, whose expression was weird. "Mr. Perkins, I happen to need to go to the bathroom too. I'll go with you."

Hasan wanted to refuse him but Presley had already walked up to him. Presley put his arm around Hasan's shoulders and walked out with him so Hasan didn't say anything.

When they arrived outside, Presley asked Hasan in a low voice, "Mr. Perkins, do you want to escape?"

Hasan immediately denied it. "Kent, stop slandering me. Why would I escape? Mr. Wade and I are in the same boat. If Mr. Wade stays, I will stay too!"

John was so angry that he smashed everything in the viewing room when he found that Hasan and Presley had run away.

He looked at the rest of them angrily and threatened, "I'll kill you all if you dare to run away!"

They immediately promised that they wouldn't run away. However, they regretted not having left early. If they had gone with the first group, they wouldn't be so worried now. At this time, the helicopter they sent out was flying over the forest.

Because the forest was too dense, they couldn't see Evangeline from the air. They could only land first and then search for and subdue her.

The helicopter flew to a clearing not far from Evangeline, and nine armed men jumped out with parachutes.

Since it was so close, Evangeline heard the helicopter approaching as it got nearer.

She sat on the back of the white tiger and commanded it to carry her somewhere.

When she approached the clearing, she saw several men landing with parachutes.

Without saying a word, Evangeline used the bow and arrows she got from Jeffrey to shoot them.

She was very skilled at it. Even though they were moving in the air, she managed to hit them accurately with every shot.

Due to their descent, they were unable to take out their guns and could only endure Evangeline's attacks.

After they landed, they fell to the ground, unable to move at all.

Evangeline didn't shoot them in the vitals but hit their wrists and ankles. With their arms and legs broken, they were completely unable to fight back.

Evangeline approached them and found a lot of weapons on them, including five MP5 submachine guns, two AK74M rifles, and two P99 pistols.

Evangeline looked at the guns and laughed. "I'm flattered that it cost you so many weapons to deal with me. Unfortunately, you seem a little stupid. Did you think I wouldn't hear you land?" Those men wore bulletproof vests and ballistic helmets.

Evangeline took off their vests and helmets, and then she carried these guns and rode the white tiger back to the original location.

Seeing Evangeline come back safely, the hope in Jeffrey's eyes was instantly shattered. No one was going to save him.

Chapter 107

John and the remaining five people, who were waiting in the viewing room, were pissed. They thought the armed men would easily take down Evangeline, but they didn't expect her to defeat them before they even landed.

"Are they idiots? Why did they choose to land so close to Evangeline? Couldn't they have picked at more distant spot? Now they haven't even landed yet and have already been spotted, defeated, and had all their weapons taken by her. Aren't they just helping her?" John looked extremely mad, and so did the others.

"They made a critical mistake this time. They thought that landing closer to Evangeline would allow them to find her faster, but they forgot that she would take the initiative to strike." "What's done cannot be undone. It's no use getting mad. Send another group

there."

"Evangeline now has weapons, so we need to send more people this time. We should also warn them to land farther away from her to prevent a repeat of this incident."

John took a deep breath, suppressed his anger, and said, "I'll send fifty experienced operatives this time. I'm sure she won't be able to win. Her story is about to come to an end!"

The other five people breathed a sigh of relief when they heard that. Evangeline couldn't escape from the fifty armed operatives. Even if she was highly skilled, she would be helpless when fifty people were firing at her at the same time.

After Evangeline put down her weapons, she rode on the white tiger and took it hunting.

The big white tiger ran wildly in the forest.

There were many animals in the forest, so it was easy to catch them.

However, the white tiger was large and consumed a lot of energy. It took two hours for him to feel full.

After he was full, Evangeline asked him to capture a deer and prepare to bring it back for her and Marian's lunch.

Evangeline built a fire and slowly roasted the dead deer.

After it was done, the three of them took turns to eat.

After Evangeline was full, she fed Jeffrey the burnt meat.

Jeffrey was so terrified that he constantly cried.

At this time, the armed operatives sent by John were circling the mountains at the edge of the forest in helicopters, ready to land.

They were very far from Evangeline, and even if they traveled non-stop, it would still take them two days to get close to her. This was their only option.

Only by staying far away from her could they avoid being heard by Evangeline and being killed before they landed."

Chapter 107

John said he hoped the mission would be completed successfully, so he didn't care how long it would take.

Anyway, Evangeline was still torturing Jeffrey, and she wouldn't move to another place before she killed him.

Therefore, it gave John enough time to get close to her.

After selecting a location, they prepared to land.

However, as they were parachuting down, a lot of snipers suddenly appeared in the surrounding mountains and began shooting at them.

They didn't have time to scream before they died during the descent.

Since the sniper rifles were equipped with silencers, the people on the helicopter hadn't realized that those who had jumped earlier were already dead. They were continuing their descent.

It wasn't until someone noticed that none of them were adjusting their descent direction that they realized something was wrong.

Those who didn't parachute dare not continue to jump. They immediately closed the door of the helicopter, trying to tell the pilot to go back.

However, dozens of bazookas shot overhead at the same time and accurately hit the circling helicopter.

All fifteen helicopters were hit, exploded, and then fell to the ground.

They never understood why there were snipers and bazookas in the forest even until the end.

At this time, a young man sat beside a pavilion in a traditional courtyard, throwing fish food into the lake one by one. He smiled with satisfaction as he watched hundreds of fish fighting over a single pellet of food.

"Mr. Johnson." A man in an assistant uniform came over and said respectfully, "Ms. Castillo's issue has been resolved. Should I send someone to pick her up?"

Dexter said in a low voice, "No need. Resume the live stream after she had fun.

"Got it." Wesley stopped in the middle of the pavilion, took the teapot from the stove on the coffee table, and poured Dexter a cup of tea.

"Your parents have already known about Ms. Castillo's participation in the competition, and they're very mad. I'm afraid that they'll criticize her after she comes back," Wesley said in a soft voice for fear of annoying Dexter.

Dexter threw another pellet of fish food into the lake, and the bulging veins on the back of his hand made his hand look slender and flawless like a piece of artwork.

He said casually, "I'll take care of that.

"She can do whatever she wants as long as she gets my permission, and no one's gonna say no to that."

His beautiful voice was as soft as the water that brought peace to people.

then Wesley poured him a cup of coffee. He used a small fan to cool the coffee in the teacup, walked up to Dexter with the coffee, half knelt on the ground, and handed the cup to him. "Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson are said to be furious this time, and the servants have been very cautious. I'm afraid that you won't be able to calm them down."

Dexter took a sip of coffee and said, "It's okay. I can handle that. I'll make a scene if necessary. Then they'll understand and step out of this.

Wesley didn't say anything. He just didn't expect that Dexter, who had always been elegant and reserved, would say such words.

Wesley paused and seemed to think of something. Then he said, "Some of those rich people have escaped. Should I send some people to catch them?"

Dexter chuckled and said, "Let them run. I was going to only deal with them, but since they've run away, for every mile they escape, I'll add one of their family members to this game. Good luck to them." Wesley nodded and said, "Sure. I'll have someone investigate their families later."

Dexter soon lost interest in feeding the fish and threw all the fish food into the lake.

The fish fiercely competed for the food, creating large splashes in the water.

Wesley stood up and blocked the splashes with his hands to prevent them from getting Dexter wet.

Soon, the food was divided up, and the fish that had gathered together dispersed.

Wesley withdrew his hand, put the cup back on the table, took out a packet of wet tissues from his pocket, and half-knelt beside Dexter. He gently picked up one of his hands to wipe it carefully. 10, Aug 22

"Do my hands look pretty?" asked Dexter.

Wesley replied, "Of course. Your hands are the prettiest in the world, Mr. Johnson."

Dexter continued, "Would she love them if I cut them off and sent them to her as a gift?"

Wesley seemed to be accustomed to such remarks from Dexter. While wiping his hands carefully, Wesley said seriously, "These hands are only valuable if they stay with you. Once they were cut off, they would rot and make Ms. Castillo feel sick.

"For the sake of Ms. Castillo's mental health, you'd better send her something else."

Dexter-seemed to think of something and suddenly burst into low laughter.

She hadn't been able to look at his hands since the accident in their childhood. Even if he did cut them off and give them to her, she would just throw them away and run away.

After all, that accident had been troubling her.

Even if she never gave a damn about what others said about her, she still felt embarrassed every time she thought of it.

Silent, Dexter looked at his iPad on the coffee table.

The screen displayed a live stream of the forest, transmitted by his mechanical bees designed to hack computer systems.

From the very beginning, he hacked into the internal camera system. Even if they shut down the live stream, he could still see Evangeline's every move in the forest.

Even the viewing room was watched by his men. Therefore, no matter what those rich men wanted to do, he knew it and came up with a plan immediately. No one was gonna hurt Evangeline.

It took Jeffrey two days to finally accept his current situation. He had lost his hands, feet, and most of his skin, but he was still alive and fully conscious.

Marian and Riley marveled at the power of traditional medicine, and their admiration for Evangeline grew. Keeping a dying person alive while maintaining his consciousness was an extremely difficult thing to do.

Jeffrey had been devastated, but no matter how much he begged, Evangeline just smiled at him and even encouraged him to get more food. She told him that he would soon be set free.

Jeffrey didn't remember how he managed to survive.

He didn't know why he had to listen to Evangeline when he was dying.

All he knew was that he was terrified of Evangeline.

Whatever Evangeline asked him to he didn't dare to resist. He subconsciously obeyed her because he was afraid of being treated with crueler means.

John roared in the viewing room, "Where are the fifty armed operatives? Why are they missing? And why haven't they found Evangeline yet?"

The fifty men had been lost since the first day they were sent there.

Due to the lack of cameras over there, they didn't know what was going on. They thought the communicators were malfunctioning so they didn't think much of it. After all, John couldn't imagine what could possibly happen to such a professional combat team in the forest.

They had already secured the forest, so no outsiders could enter. Even if someone managed to sneak in, he alone wouldn't be able to defeat fifty armed men..

They all thought the fifty men were just missing. No one thought that they were in an accident.

As far as they were concerned, there could be no accidents.

They had been watching the live stream about Evangeline, waiting for the fifty men to find her.

However, it had been two days and Jeffrey was nearly dying, yet they were never there!

They remotely controlled the cameras in the forest to search for the fifty men, but they failed. It was as if they had vanished into thin air. Everyone kept silent with stern faces, feeling panicked.

John was so angry that he paced back and forth in the room. He kicked one of them and yelled, "Say something? Are you all dumb?"

They showed him meaningful looks. One of them said in a low voice, "Should we run too? We've sent so many people there and none of them could deal with Evangeline. She may have something to do with evil power..."

The rest of them hurriedly echoed, "Exactly. Evangeline even tamed the big white tiger that you prepared to kill her. She was immune to the poison you prepared in advance. Now the armed operatives we sent there to deal with her are missing. This is so weird."

"Could Evangeline be a nonhuman creature?"

"It's possible. Could she be a demon or possessed by one?" "Probably, Normal people aren't as cruel and weird as her."

"We should run now. What if she came for us after she finished torturing Jeffrey?"

Rogue 109

Chapter 109

"Bang!" John slammed the table and shouted angrily, "I never believed in these supernatural things. Evangeline is human, and I don't believe she can easily find us. Even if she comes here, she can't approach us on her own. Just stop being a coward!"

Everyone looked at Jeffrey and hesitated, but they didn't say anything. They just hoped that Evangeline wouldn't come here. They couldn't help trembling every time they heard her name.

John said, "Send another team there. She's not gonna hide from me! She's just an ordinary Clusian and I won't let her scare me with those supernatural stuff! I took down every Clusian in the previous competitions and she would share the same fate with them. No one is gonna challenge Atharial

No one stopped him. They were afraid of Evangeline and sincerely hoped that John would subdue her.

-John immediately sent another team there, and two hours later, they disappeared.

John couldn't believe it. He sent another team there with the video calls on. He wanted to figure out what exactly happened.

Unfortunately, their equipment went black during the flight, and soon after, they disappeared. John fell back into his chair with a pale face. "How could it be possible? Could Evangeline be a nonhuman creature? No, no way! Figure out why the communicators went black and why the signals were cut off. Besides, send people to enter the forest from different entrances. I'm not letting her go!"

The rest of them wanted to persuade John to give up, but seeing his furious look, none of them dared to speak. They didn't want to irritate him. However, no matter how many people John sent there, they disappeared and left no clues.

After three days of extreme torture by Evangeline, Jeffrey finally died.

When he died, his whole body was covered in blood and his beating heart could be seen.

It was so bloody that even Marian and Riley were in a cold sweat. It was summer, but they felt as cold as if they were in an ice cellar.

The big white tiger was the only happy creature among them. He was once challenged by humans in the underground fight club, and he enjoyed nothing more than tearing people to pieces.

However, he had never done such a thing since he was tamed by Evangeline.

When he saw the dead Jeffrey, he just couldn't help feeling happy and excited.

He thought, 'Sure enough, the woman who beat me is not as easy as I thought. As long as I follow her, I will surely become a fierce beast second only to her in the future. By then I will be the king of the whole forest.

Feeling happy, the white tiger ran to Evangeline and lay next to her feet, using his mouth to place her hand on his head. He guided her like a boss, asking her to pet him.

Unexpectedly, Evangeline slapped him on his forehead and said, "Stop playing. Dig a hole and bury him so as not to pollute the environment."

The white tiger shrank a little. Judging by how hard she hit him, he thought that she might be taking him as her close friend.

Therefore, the white tiger went to dig the hole happily. After it was done, Evangeline asked Marian and Riley to throw Jeffrey into it and the white tiger to bury him. Then they put out the fire and launched forward..

Not long after they walked, they saw the five people tied up by Evangeline.

They were the five people who escaped with Jeffrey, passed out by poisoning, and ended up tied up by Evangeline.

They have woken up a long time ago. However, as soon as they woke up, they heard Jeffrey's miserable screams. Terrified, they kept silent and stayed still.

Being tied up all the time, they could go nowhere, so they had to piss and poop. themselves.

As soon as Evangeline, Marian, and Riley approached, they smelled a foul odor.

Feeling sick, Evangeline told the white tiger to keep a distance from them.

Those men begged, "Please spare me, Evangeline. I fought against you only because I was threatened by Jeffrey. I swear that I won't go against you anymore. I'll do whatever you want me to do and never disobey you. Just let me go!"

"So did I. I listened to Jeffrey because he threatened me. I'm sorry, Evangeline. Please forgive me!"

"I'm sorry for what I did, Evangeline. As long as you set me free, I'll only listen to you in the future..."

"I was with Jeffrey only because I was threatened by him, and I never really hurt you. Could you please let me go?"

They had been starving for three days so they were very weak, but the moment they saw Evangeline, they yelled for forgiveness.

They were impressed by Jeffrey's miserable screams.

Jeffrey's screams continued for three days, which meant he was tortured for three days. Although they could not see what was happening, they could hear in his voice that he was suffering. Even someone as tough as Jeffrey was driven to beg for mercy. They couldn't imagine how Evangeline looked at them indifferently and said, "Only one of you will survive. You'll be fighting each other, and it will save me much effort if there's a final winner."

She motioned to Riley and Marian to untie the five people.

Evangeline was afraid that it would be difficult for them to fight with bare hands, so she kindly threw a sword at them.

Hearing Evangeline's words, the five former teammates turned on each other without hesitation, striking fatal blows to one another.

An hour later, the scene was a complete mess with blood everywhere. The only one left alive had lost half of his face and one hand, but he was excited because he was still alive, which, to him, mattered more than anything else.

"I won. C

I leave now?" he looked at Evangeline excitedly and asked in a trembling voice. Evangeline nodded and said, "Sure. It's early and you can catch up with your teammates. You won't be alone."

The man shrank and asked, shocked, "You... You said that you would let the final winner go. Are you going back on your words?"

Despite his rage, he didn't dare to vent it. He could only suppress it and questioned her.

Evangeline laughed and said, "Yeah, I did say that I would kill the only human that survived. However, you're not a human to me, and I don't think killing you is breaking my promise." She looked at Marian and Riley. "Do you agree with me?"

Marian and Riley nodded hurriedly, "Totally. What you say makes perfect sense!"

Evangeline looked at the man with a faint smile and said, "See? Most people agreed with me, which proved me right.

"Are you going to do it yourself or do you want me to help you?"

"I've always been helpful in some ways. I won't say no if you want me to help."

Then he raised his sword and cut his throat in despair. It was his only choice because he knew that once he fell under Evangeline's control, he would end up a hundred times worse than suicide. Jeffrey's screams still haunted him, and he couldn't bear the thought of suffering like that.

Evangeline looked at the last corpse and smiled, "Why were you so scared? I was just saying and I didn't expect you to commit suicide. If even you hadn't killed yourself, I wouldn't have done anything to you. After all, I've always been a kind woman and I don't like people who glorify violence:

Marian and Riley lowered their heads silently.

Evangeline patted the white tiger and said, "Let's go.

The white tiger glanced at the dead body, groaned, and left reluctantly. Marian and Riley caught up with them quickly. After a whole day's walking, they finally arrived at the river. On the way, they picked some wild fruit from the forest for food in the desert.

"Look, there is a bamboo raft over there!" Marian pointed at a spot not far away and yelled.

Evangeline turned around and saw a big bamboo raft.

They went to the bamboo raft and pushed it to the river.

Evangeline jumped off the white tiger. She cut down some bamboo and chopped it into small sections. She drilled a small hole in each one to make water containers. Then she took them to the river, filled them with water, and plugged the holes with stoppers to prevent any leakage.

Each of them filled five containers with water, which was enough for them in the desert.

Now everything was settled and they were ready to go.

Evangeline turned to the white tiger, patted him on his head, and said, "Go. Goodbye, and I don't think we'll see each other again. You are now the king of this forest, but I must warn you to stay away for a while, as someone might come to hunt you."

The white tiger groaned, looking anxious.

Evangeline said, "I don't understand what you're saying. Stop roaring"

The white tiger stamped his feet anxiously and circled her. However, Evangeline kicked it away and said, "Stop circling. You're making me dizzy. A beast your size has no natural enemies in the wild. Just go." Evangeline motioned for Marian and Riley to push the raft into the river, and then the three of them jumped onto it.

Riley paddled the bamboo raft while Evangeline and Marian held submachine guns.

The crocodiles in the river felt the waves and began to approach them slowly. Evangeline and Marian shot them with submachine guns, filling the river with blood.

They crossed the river, which was 1.5 thousand feet, without difficulty.

After getting to the shore, Evangeline went straight ahead without looking back.

Marian and Riley couldn't help looking back across the river, only to find that the white tiger stood still, howling at Evangeline's back.

They couldn't help sighing in their hearts that Evangeline was more cold-blooded than a beast.

After getting along for a few day the white tiger grew closer to her yet she didn't miss him at all.

The next second, they quickly withdrew their gaze and followed Evangeline.

The white tiger on the opposite side howled loudly, but Evangeline never looked back.

Soon, they went far away and could no longer hear the white tiger.

At this time, the cameras on the drones that had been following them started flashing again. The live stream was on again, but people in most countries could only see Evangeline. Since the live stream had been offline for four days, many people assumed it was over and left the

[The white tiger is so cute. I miss him.]

A large number of people had flooded into the live stream chat room abroad, discussing warmly.

After the previous live stream, many people recognized Evangeline's abilities, who had survived the white tiger's attack, Jeffrey's crossbow attack, and the poison. What she did completely shocked them. Even those who hated her with a passion didn't dare to say anything in the chat room.

They took out their anger on the local contestants, publicly criticizing them in the chat room for being useless.

Atharia's live stream chat room was full of abuse and curses on Jeffrey.

John looked at the live stream with a gloomy face in the viewing room and asked with gritted teeth, "Why is the live stream on again? Who did that?"

The others said in confusion, "We stayed here the whole time and never left. No one gave such an order. Maybe the director turned it back on without telling us."

John was furious and said, "How dare that bastard turn on the live stream without my permission? My men haven't taken our contestants to the finish line!"

There were still alive contestants in the forest, but due to the beasts released by the production team and their fear of Evangeline, they kept running in the opposite direction.

Some of them retraced their steps, while others fled into the mountains, but no one dared to continue forward for fear of encountering Evangeline.

After Evangeline killed so many beasts with her bare hands and tamed the white tiger, they finally realized how dangerous their situation was. With the white tiger as her ultimate weapon, Evangeline was unbeatable in the forest, and anyone who crossed her only faced death. Even if they didn't want to pick up a fight with Evangeline, they would be asked by Jeffrey to take his side and join him against her.

To prevent this from happening, they could only stay away from the path forward to stay safe.

After discovering that Jeffrey was dead, John planned to pick one of the remaining contestants and have him flown directly to the finish line by helicopter. This way, they wouldn't have to pay out on the bet regarding who would be the last winner. However, before he could send the contestant there, the live stream was back on, ruining his plan.

"Call the director immediately and ask him to turn off the live stream!" John roared.

Someone called Smith immediately. Listening to Smith's words, however, he frowned.

The man looked at John and said, "Smith said he didn't restart the live stream. The machine turned itself on. When he tried to turn it off after discovering this, he found that all the buttons were unresponsive. He suspected that the system had been hacked."

John got mad and trembled all over. "Damn it, who's going against me? Get someone to handle this immediately. Make sure it's sorted out before Evangeline reaches the summit because we can't let the audience see her as the first to make it. If the live stream stays on, we won't have a chance to sneak our contestant to the summit. Whatever you do, make sure to shut down the live stream!"

The man told Smith what John thought, and the atmosphere in the viewing room froze. John kept tugging at his hair irritably. It had been ten days and his hair became thinner..

Meanwhile, in the desert, Evangeline and her companions rested on the spot when it was dark.

After eating some wild fruit, Evangeline lay on the ground with her eyes closed, trying to get some rest. Suddenly, she felt the ground shaking.

She became alert at once. Then she carefully sensed the vibrations and pinpointed the source.

She sat up and looked behind her with a meaningful look. Soon, she frowned.

A fierce roar echoed from a distance, and the next moment, a big black shadow rushed towards her through the darkness, causing even more pronounced tremors. Soon, the shadow grew clearer, revealing its face.

"The white tiger? How did he make it?"

"How did he cross that wide, deep river teeming with crocodiles? Although we've already shot a lot of them, there are still plenty left."

When Marian and Riley saw what was running towards them, they let their guard down, shocked and amazed.

They had heard that dogs would always follow their owners, but they never expected a white tiger to do the same.

They thought, 'Besides, Evangeline has not been kind to the white tiger in the past few days. Why does he have to follow her? He's strong enough to be the king of this forest. Why would he come after Evangeline?'

At this time, the white tiger had approached Evangeline.

He howled excitedly. Seeing Evangeline with a stern expression, the white tiger let out a few quiet grumbles, cautiously circling her and nudging her leg with his head. Evangeline looked at the white tiger with a straight face.

The white tiger looked dazed. His white fur was splattered with blood, and he had numerous wounds on his body.
