

Revenge Of The Rogue Heiress

Rogue 11

Chapter 11

"What's going on? What exploded? Meghan panicked and hid behind Samson.

Samson brushed off the eggshell and sparks from his body. His face showed panic, but he made sure to comfort Meghan by patting her back. Don't worry. The eggs exploded. Everything's okay now? Meghan was surprised and asked, "How did the eggs explode!"

Samson remarked, "I recall that eggs shouldn't be heated in the microwave, or they might explode. I didn't expect them to explode when we heat them over the fire

Annoyed, Meghan stamped her feet fiercely. "Those four eggs were supposed to be our lunch. Now the eggs have exploded. What should we eat?"

Samson looked unhappy.

Meghan looked at Jolene angrily and asked, "Why didn't you remind us? You were born in the countryside. You must know this kind of common sense. Did you deliberately not tell us so that I would have nothing to eat that would explode..."

Jolene shook her head vigorously and said, "No! I didn't mean to withhold the information from you. I didn't know the eggs would explode." "Do you think I will believe you? How can you, a peasant, not know such common sense?"

Jolene said, "I have never roasted an egg before. I really don't know how to do it." Besides, life in the countryside isn't as rural as it once was. It's not necessary for people born there to engage in farm work, Jolene mused.

Although Jolene was born in the countryside, her family pampered her and seldom let her work.

Her parents mentioned that she just needed to focus on her studies and didn't have to do any farm work. Besides, she was young and couldn't be of much help.

Furthermore, she only lived in the countryside until junior high school. To ensure she could get a better education, her parents took out a loan to buy a house in the city, and the whole family moved there. As a result, she didn't know much about everyday life in the countryside.

Meghan said angrily. "How dare you talk back to me?"

Jolene shut up and didn't dare to speak anymore.

Meghan said impatiently. "Due to your negligence, Sam and I have no lunch. Now go to the forest to find food for us. Don't return if you can't find anything!"

Jolene said in panic. "Am I going alone! I'm scared"

Meghan refuted, "Don't play the sympathy card here! You were born in the countryside. How can you be scared of going into the forest? Don't think you can fool me! Are you pretending to be scared to get Sam to go into the forest with you?"

Jolene quickly denied it, "I didn't..."

Meghan sneered. "Stop daydreaming. Who do you think you are to seduce my brother? You're not even fit to be a housekeeper in our family. Know your place"

Jolene was trembling with anger and denied it, "I have no intention to seduce your brother!"

Meghan said, "If you have no intention to seduce Sam, then go into the forest and find food by yourself. Prove yourself with actions instead of empty words"

Jolene bit her lip.

At last, she walked into the forest alone with tears in her eyes.

"Humph! Do you think you can fool me!" Meghan snorted.

Samson stared at Meghan in disbelief, finding the person before him unrecognizable.

He couldn't recognize Meghan anymore,

Is this mean and unruly Meghan my gentle and sensible sister? Yes, Meghan used to be wayward and spoiled in private. But now, she always throws tantrums and makes a fuss with everyone, as if she has turned into a completely different person, Samson thought.

"Meghan, why did you become like this Jolene is a girl. It's not safe for her to go into the forest alone. You shouldn't force her into it. What if she gets lost or something happens? Samson frowned. Meghan pouted, and her eyes turned red with grievances. "Sam, are you lecturing me for an outsider?"

Samson replied, "What you did was wrong. It is my responsibility as your brother to correct you. Don't see it as a lecture. I'm only trying to help you.

Meghan burst into tears and sobbed with grievance "Boo-boo, I was left in such a shabby place. My body is covered in mosquito bites. My face is swollen and almost disfigured after being beaten by that mean woman. Evangeline. Half of my tooth is chipped. I slept on the grass at night, and my whole body ached. I haven't had anything to eat since yesterday morning

She continued, "I've suffered so much and was in a bad mood. That's why I lost my temper and spoke in a bad tone. But you lectured me for an outsider and didn't care about me at all. You have changed... Meghan cried her heart out.

Seeing her tears, Samson panicked instantly and hurried to wipe them away. "I'm sorry Stop crying. I won't blame you anymore. You're always right. It's the production team's fault to make you suffer so much. Others were also wrong. They were not understanding and had no sympathy for your torment. They are all bad guys. When we go back, I will help you get back at them, especially Evangeline!"

Meghan threw herself into Samson's arms and cried, "Okay You must keep your word. Forget about the others. You shall not spare Evangeline!

Meghan's eyes became vicious.

Four hours had passed since Jolene went into the forest, but she still hadn't caught anything

She wasn't very physically fit, and it was already an achievement for her to walk in the forest. Even boys couldn't catch prey, let alone her.

Jolene noticed that it was getting dark. She was afraid of spending the night in the forest and decided to backtrack.

However, she didn't return empty-handed. She picked up two eggs

Meghan cursed when she saw that Jolene only brought back two eggs. She snatched the eggs and gave one to Samson while Jolene continued to Jolene didn't dare to complain.

With the experience from earlier in the day, Samson didn't dare to put the eggs directly into the fire.

He found a flat slate, placed it on the fire to heat, and then cooked the eggs on it, managing to make them into barely passable fried eggs. After eating an egg, Meghan was even hungrier.

She shouted angrily, "What's up with the production team? Why haven't they come to pick us up yet?"

Samson's face darkened as well.

Chapter 11

He also felt that the production team had gone too far.

'It's a dereliction of duty to leave us behind for so long!' he thought.

It smells good.

What is Evangeline roasting?" Meghan smelled the aroma and couldn't help saying with a touch of jealousy.

Samson's mouth watered vigorously.

Why didn't I know Evangeline was so good at cooking before The smell of her barbecue is so good every time and makes my mouth water, she remarked silently Meghan stood up and said to Samson, "Sam, let's go and have a look."

Samson nodded.

The three of them began to walk in the

The delicious aroma of the food attracted many birds to hover in nearby trees, and squirrels also came to look a Evangeline was confused.

"Grilled fish is not in the diet of birds and squirrels. What are they doing how doing here!" she wondered.

Suddenly, Evangeline spotted several uninvited guests.

Samson, Meghan, and Jolene were heading toward her.

Evangeline merely cast a casual glance at them and then ignored them.

The three of them stopped when they were only several feet away from her, with their eyes all fixed on her food.

Evangeline continued her activity, ignoring them.

Since they enjoy watching just let them be, as long as they don't disturb me, Evangeline mused.

After more than ten minutes, the grilled fish and mushroom fish soup were ready.

Evangeline took out the cutlery, filled a bowl with the soup, and squinted with satisfaction.

It's so delicious, she mused.

Meghan and Samson gulped at the same time. The swallowing sound was so loud that it even drowned out the sound of Evangeline drinking soup

Evangeline finished the soup and took a bite of the grilled fish.

They swallowed again. The aroma of the food amplified their hunger infinitely.

Seeing Evangeline eating heartily, Samson said, "Evangeline, you cooked so many dishes. You can't finish them all by yourself. Share some with us."

Evangeline cut him off bluntly. "Piss of"

Samson said again, "There is so much food. It's a waste if y

Evangeline said again, "Piss off!"

Samson was a little unhappy, but he still said in a gentle tone. "Evangeline, we are family. You can't eat alone. Share some with me"

Evangeline sneered. "Don't try to claim kinship. We are not family. Have you forgotten my warning? Don't say we're family if you meet me outside in the future, I feel disgusted."

Samson gritted his teeth and said, "Til pay for it. Let me and Meghan have some food. I'll pay you when we get back!"

Chapter 11

Evangeline raised her head to look at him with a faint smile and uttered. "Are you serious?"

Samson's eyes lit up as he thought, Does that mean Evangeline has wavered and agreed to sell the food?

He hurriedly said, "Yes, I want to buy it Name a price. Even if it's higher than the market price, I can afford it!

Evangeline replied, "That means 2 billion dollars for each of you, 4 billion dollars for both of you. If you agree to it, I will share the food with you"

Meghan and Samson widened their eyes angrily and shouted, "Are you that poor! Even if your food is made of gold, they won't be worth that much!"

Evangeline scoffed, "Yes, I guess I must be really poor. Your mom took me away and dumped me in the slums. I'm definitely not as well-off as you. living the high life since you were a kid, getting tens of thousands of dollars as pocket money every month."

Meghan bit her lips, and her face turned red.

Samson said unhappily. "Don't target Meghan!"

"What Meghan's mother did has nothing to do with her. Your sufferings were not caused by Meghan. Besides, Meghan's mother has paid the price for what she did back then. What else do you want?" Samson said

Evangeline refuted, "She benefited from what her mom did. Why can't I target her? You said her mother has paid the price. Do you mean sacking her and then buying a mansion for her so that she can live a good life? She has indeed paid a big price."

Samson looked embarrassed. "You... How do you know about this?"

Evangeline incensed. "I heard it all when Meghan kneeled and begged you to spare her mother

She continued. "I also overheard you saying that if it wasn't for her mother swapping me with Meghan, you wouldn't have such a good sister and daughter like Meghan. So, to express gratitude to the culprit, you not only forgave her for what she did to me but also bought her a mansion and gave her a lot of money. Then, you planned to lie to me that she was sent to jail"

Samson was rendered speechless.

Meghan said unhappily. "How can you eavesdrop on others! You have no manners"

Evangeline shrugged casually and remarked. "Yes, I'm not as well-mannered as you all. I mean, I can't go around enjoying other people's lives and even have thoughts of harming them. I can't feel thankful to the culprit who brought suffering to my blood sister, causing her to nearly die outside I dare not adopt your manners.

Samson's face turned pale, and his eyes showed a mix of struggle and pain.

It seemed that he only realized his actions were wrong when Evangeline directly pointed out how extreme and vicious they were.

(Damn it! The Gallagher family went so far! They even bought a mansion for the housekeeper and gave her money. This was too much. They didn't care about Evangeline at all! a netizen commented. [Evangeline was unlucky to be born into the Gallagher family someone echoed.

[Evangeline suffered the pain. How can anyone else forgive the culprit on behalf of her!] another agreed.

[How dare Meghan ask the Gallagher family to forgive her biological mother! Had she ever thought about how much Evangeline had suffered because of her birth mother?] someone echoed. [They're a bunch of rubbish. If we were sorting garbage, they'd all end up in the same pile!] another mocked

Chapter 12

It seems to be the case. On the contrary, Evangeline has been targeting Meghan since she returned home. Every time Meghan was bullied, she would speak up for Evangeline and ask us not to blame her. But now, Evangeline said that Meghan had been trying to kill her. It seems that Evangeline has really gone crazy, making up all sorts of lies just to criticize us. Samson thought Samson shook his head in disappointment and said, "I can't speak with you if you keep blaming Meghan like that. Im not in the mood to correct you now. When we get back, I'll talk to Mom and Dad to arrange a psychologist for you."

Evangeline gave him a cold stare and retorted, "I believe you need to see a doctor more than I do. But what you really need is a psychiatrist. I wonder if it's a case of mental illness, or maybe the Gallagher family was just born with brain damage."

"You..." Samson glared at her angrily.

But he didn't swear this time.

He took a deep breath, suppressed his anger, and said in a low voice. "I don't want to quarrel with you now. I just want to ask if you can share the food with everyone."

Evangeline said, "No"

Samson said sternly, "You're being way too selfish. As your brother, I'm going to teach you a lesson today! Let's go get her. Tie her up and give her a good talking to. Beat her if she puts up a fight. Since she had a rough childhood, I'm sure a few beatings are nothing to her"

Everyone was starving

Hence, they didn't find anything wrong with Samson's words. They just thought that Evangeline was being

I mean and selfish and deserved to be taught a lesson.

People should support each other in times of distress, not be as selfish as she is, they thought.

They started looking for w weapons from around.

Someone picked up a stick the size of an arm

Some picked up brick-sized rocks.

Then surrounded Evangeline

There was determination in their eyes.

We must subdue Evangeline and take her food! They held the same thought.

Evangeline looked at them as if they were idiots

'Seems like stupidity is contagious. Samson has spread his foolishness to everyone, she remarked silently

"Evangeline, it's not too late for you to give in now. I don't want to hurt you unless necessary? Samson said, seemingly couldn't bear to see what was going to happen next. Evangeline said, "Piss off!"

Samson shook his head in disappointment. "Since you're stubborn, don't blame me..."

He waved his hand, and everyone raised their weapons to Evangeline. -

what

After a chaotic moment, Evangeline clapped her hands and kicked Meghan away. Glancing at the people on the floor, she said sarcastically, "Have you lost your minds? I've already beaten you twice. How dare you provoke me"

Everyone looked gloomy

Evangeline went on, "You couldn't defeat me when you weren't hungry before. Now that you've been starving for so long, there's no chance for you to turn the table. Or do you believe you were underperforming before and can do better now!"

Everyone blushed and looked even gloomier

Evangeline said impatiently, "Get out of here. Don't disturb my appetite"

Despite feeling unconvinced, they could only scampered off.

They were worried that Evangeline would beat them again.

[Evangeline was being lenient. They can still catch their breath. Thumbs down!] nenzen commented again.

It is enjoyable hearing Evangeline scold others the most. Her criticism hits the nail on the head. They are not only stupid but also insane. Instead of searching for food on their own, they attempted to rob Evangeline and criticized her for being selfish. If they weren't selfish, why didn't they donate all their money?] someone added.

[Samson is so disgusting to treat his sister like this. He let others beat her, yet he still pretended it was for her own good. Damn it!] someone cursed (Samson is a clueless fool. He's been fooled by Meghan all along, and he'd do whatever Meghan asked him to do. The moment Meghan said something, he turned against Evangeline. Someone, please save us from these two idiots! I can't stand it anymore!) someone chimed in.

[Evangeline is awesome Another comment popped in.

[1 feel sorry for Evangeline,] someone said.

Meanwhile, in the Gallagher residence, the Gallagher family was also watching the livestream.

They had been occupied with company matters over the past few days and didn't have time to watch this livestream.

After Arthur purchased Evangeline's shares, he attempted to buy out the other shareholders to become the largest shareholder and gain control of the entire Gallagher Group.

They went to negotiate with other shareholders daily and purchased many of their shares at a high price.

They were so occupied that they were unaware of what had happened in the variety show in which Samson and Meghan took part

Finally, today they could take a breather. When they returned home in the evening, the family had dinner and turned on the projector to see how Samson and Meghan were faring in the variety show, Dear Meghan has lived a luxurious life since childhood but is now going to film a variety show in the wilderness. Even though variety shows are mostly staged, outdoor filming remains challenging. Did Meghan face any hardships? Did Evangeline perform well in the variety show to complement Meghan after signing the contract! Although that brat is mean and insolent, she's stunningly beautiful, and even Meghan is no match for her. Would she purposely dress herself to overshadow Meghan! If that brat dares to play tricks and outshine Meghan, unwilling to cooperate, we'll teach her a lesson after the show is over! Even if she has Arthur on her side, we would find a chance to catch her? the Gallagher family thought

With longing for Meghan and Samson, they turned on the projector and entered the live room of the variety show.

When they found the live room for that variety show, they were shocked to see hundreds of millions of viewers online.

Bethany covered her mouth in surprise. "Oh my goodness! Why are so many people watching the livestream! Is this variety show so popular?"

George took a look and smiled proudly. These audiences must be looking for Meghan. She's beautiful, elegant, kind, and wise. It's normal to attract so many people"

Bethany said, "Ti's my fault. I won't mention her anymore

George urged. "Let's get straight to business. Enter the live room quickly!"

Bethany couldn't wait to enter the live room

She had wanted to see her baby daughter for a long time.

The others also stared anticiparingly at screen, eager to see Meghan.

However, when they entered the live room, what they saw was Evangeline kicking Meghan, and the latter's face was black and blue.

The comments in the live room were all praising Evangeline for bexing Meghan.

Some even said that Evangeline was being too leniem and should beat Meghan and Samson to death.

"Ah! Meghan! My baby girl!" Bethany screamed. She was so angry that her eyes turned red.

She glared at Evangeline, trembling all over.

"How could Evangeline bully Meghan like this? Meghan was beaten so badly by her, she sobbed

Edward also looked gloomy, "I asked her to sign the contract and create some trouble for Meghan in the show to highlight Meghan, but she can't be so ruthless! Meghan's face is swollen because of her. How can Meghan be on camera in this condition?"

Jasper clenched his fists and said through gritted teeth, "In my opinion, she deliberately disfigured Meghan so that she becomes the most beautiful female star in the show and gets the spotlight. She is so scheming!"

George's face darkened. "Contact that brat immediately and tell her to restrain herself if she dares to bully Meghan like this again, I will not spare her when she returns

"Let me make the call!" Bethany cried

and dialed her phone angrily and called Evangeline.

The next second, she said angrily, "That little bitch blocked my number!"

Only then did everyone remember that when Evangeline sold her shares last time, she blocked the phone numbers of all the Gallagher family.

George asked the butler to bring his phone over and used the butler's phone to call Evangeline

However, there was a prompt tone on the other end of the line, indicating that the caller's phone was turned off and couldn't be reached.

George frowned and looked at the butler, "Did you call that brat before and get blacklisted?"

The butler lowered his head and said in a trembling voice, "No... I never called Ms. Castillo before. My number isn't blocked. It's because." George shouted angrily. "Hurry up and say it

The butler forced his words out. The production team has taken away the participants' phones. Ms. Castillo doesn't have her phone, and neither do the other participants.

The butler wasn't as occupied as the Gallagher family. Since the variety show was very popular, he would also watch the livestream in his spare

He knew exactly what was going on in the livestream.

But he didn't dare to tell the Gallagher family, for fear that they would vent their anger on him.

The rest must have held the same thought as him, so they dare not to mention the live room in front of the Gallagher family.

George angrily threw his phone into the butler's arms and looked at Edward with a sullen face. "Do you know the director's number? Contact the director immediately and ask him to keep an eye on Evangeline. Don't let her bully Meghan!"

Bethany wiped her tears and sobbed, "My poor Meghan. She has never suffered hardships since she was a child, but Evangeline beat her up like that. She must be in pain and feel wronged. My heart aches for her..."

Edward nodded and said, "I'll ask someone to find out the director's phone number"

The butler said in a low voice, "It won't work..."

Everyone frowned and looked at the butler.

George said, "How do you know it won't work?"

The butler explained, "It was intentionally planned by the director and investor. Currently, the production team is not in the forest, except for a few participants. I heard that other celebrity management companies were desperately trying to contact the production team. Some even called the police and attempted to halt the filming, but it was futile "

All the Gallagher family frowned and looked baffled.

They didn't quite understand what it meant.

The butler said, "I can't explain it in a few words. Look up the Internet and you will know everything"

The four of them calmed down, took out their phones, and began to search on the variety show online.

They searched by the name of Jungle Survival, and an entry popped up.

They clicked in, and everything was recorded clearly.

This entry was even edited in real time.

The latest edit was made three minutes ago, capturing what had occurred in the live room just moments ago

There were also some links that contained the video clips shared by netizens.

After reading everything, the four of them looked gloomy

Jasper was so angry that he smashed his phone.

"How could the production team do this? How can they be so underhanded to him everything secretly? They've ruined Meghan. Once Meghan finds out the truth, she won't accept it!" Jasper roared Meanwhile. Bethany looked lou,

She looked at Edward and Jasper and murmured. "Have you been treating Evangeline like this in private?"

Edward frowned. "Mom, what are you talking about! What's wrong with us doing this to her! Don't forget that it's you who told us not to be too nice to Evangeline but to be nice to Meghan. No matter what happens, we should stand behind Meghan and support her, so she won't feel sad because we don't treat her as family

Bethany trembled and her face went pale.

It was me!

"So I was the one who asked them to do it Bethany thought

Jasper frowned and said, "Mom, I hope you're not feeling sorry for Evangeline. Look how Evangeline beat Meghan and Sam in the show. She's crazy and doesn't deserve sympathy!" Bethany felt her throat went parched and couldn't utter a word for a long time.

She wanted her sons to take care of Meghan...

Because Meghan had always appeared weak and kind in front of them, giving the impression that she was easy to bully.

Ever since Evangeline's return, Meghan always cried secretly.

Meghan was raised by Bethany, and the latter had pampered Meghan for many years. Even though they weren't related by blood, Bethany still doted on Meghan

Therefore, in order to protect Meghan, Bethany asked her three sons to take more care of Meghan

However, Bethany didn't expect that Meghan would provoke Samson to target Evangeline for her own benefit in the variety show others' efforts with no shame.

After taking away Evangeline's belongings, she kept all the good stuff to herself and didn't consider others, even Samson, at all. She simply enjoyed.

The person in the show was completely different from the Meghan Bethany had known.

George fell silent for a while and said, "I believe Meghan is inherently kind. She suddenly fell into that kind of environment and endured hardships she had never experienced in her life. It forced her to lose her composure, and her temperament changed dramatically. We shouldn't blame or misunderstand her. If she knew we misunderstood her, how sad would she be Bethany paused and said guiltily, "Dear, you're right. Meghan has suffered so much that she changed her temperament greatly. How could I doubt her character? Damn i

Bethany wiped her tears and looked at Edward. "Contact the public relations team to protect Meghan's reputation. There are so many people scolding Meghan. If she sees it, she won't stand it,"

Edward nodded and said, "You don't have to tell me. I will do it right away, and I will keep reaching out to the production team"

Jasper frowned and said unhappily, "Eddie, didn't your entertainment company also invest in that show! Don't you know the production team's plan

Edward said with a gloomy expression, "A few days before the show aired, the production team suddenly rejected my investment. They claimed that a major investor was willing to invest three times more money alone. The investor will return double the amount to the other companies that had pooled the money. I thought to myself that as long as Meghan wasn't kicked out of the list, it didn't matter whether we invested or not. Besides. we were paid double to withdraw our investment, so I didn't bother.

Jasper said angrily. "Who the hell came up with such a show? The person even set a trap in the contract. It's useless to call the police!"

The Gallagher family lost their appetite to eat. They stared at the big screen with gloomy faces.

The big screen showcased Evangeline, with only a small window on the side displaying Meghan and the rest

Their beloved Meghan had become the background for Evangeline.

Their eyes were filled with anger and viciousness.

Evangeline, you started this! they hissed in their mind

"Achoo!" While Evangeline was enjoying the roasted fish, she suddenly sneezed. The fish in her mouth was spat out instantly,

Then she sneezed several more times..

She wiped her snot with her arm, frowned, and murmured to herself. "Who is cursing me behind my back? Are those idiots trying to make trouble for me again?"

Evangeline scoffed in her heart, Tin waiting!

She was already annoyed by those barbarians today. She wouldn't be lenient if they came and provoked her again

To her dismay, no one showed up even after she finished the meal.

Evangeline sat there and rested for a while. As the sky got dark, she took a flashlight and went to the river to take a bath

She removed her windbreaker and cargos, jumping straight into the river in her tank top and boxers

She soaked her body in the water for a while, then applied some soap and rubbed herself meticulously.

(It's my favorite time again. Evangeline's skin is so silky smooth. Look at her tan... someone said. [Evangeline has such a nice body!] someone praised.

[I'm confident that I'm a good match for a stunning beauty like Evangeline. Come home with me someone boasted.

[Damn it! I wish I was a guy!] a girl commented.

[First of all, I want to clarify that I am not a lesbian. I don't have any fantasies about Evangeline because I am not homosexual. However, I must admit that Evangeline has a beautiful face and figure. I genuinely appreciate her beauty, but I want to emphasize again that I am not a lesbian, Honestly, she is really pretty, and I do acknowledge that I don't usually find girls attractive, but Evangeline is an exception. Whenever I see Evangeline, my heart feels a flutter. It would be nice if Evangeline could hold hands with me and kiss me to sleep. Just to reiterate, I am not homosexual] someone said. [Evangeline, please wait for me. I'll book a flight right away and get a gender reassignment surgery] Another shocking comment came out

She opened the folded disposable toilet shed. She used it to relieve herself and changed into dry clothes after the monkeys today, proved she's extraordinary. Despite the wild monkeys being smaller than humans, they're powerful and fast. Yet, Evangeline caught up with and defeated them all!]

After changing her clothes, Evangeline cleaned up the scene briefly. Then, she lay on the grass and looked at the night sky.

In the absence of light pollution in the wild, the stars in the night sky were visible, appearing unbelievably beautiful

Evangeline gradually calmed down, closed her eyes, and drifted into sleep.

As she was not using a tent this time, hidden cameras captured her. Even though it was already late and Evangeline was asleep, tens of millions continued watching, which was remarkable! Meanwhile, the production team cunningly cooperated with a food delivery platform.

Many viewers could not resist ordering takeout when the advertisement popped up, leading them to watch the stream while enjoying midnight

The production team and the food delivery platform made a fortune through this

Day three arrived

Upon rising and freshening up, Evangeline, adhering to her routine, practiced a round of the Eight Brocades.

Then, she explored the forest to find food.

Samson, Meghan, and others continued to stay by the riverside, waiting for the production team to send someone.

Despite the five people waiting anxiously, no one came.

Their hunger intensified, and they grew irritable with each passing day.

The other day, they had to gather in the morning. To look good in their outfits, they skipped breakfast, effectively starving for the entire day on their first day.

The day before, they only had two eggs.

Now, on the third day, their hunger had reached a point where their hands and feet went weak, and trying to stand up after sitting made them dizzy.

Meghan cried out in anger, "What the hell is going on with the production team! Today is the third day! Why haven't they sent someone to find us? They won't forget us, will they?" Samson frowned, feeling extremely annoyed.

Jolene asked in a trembling voice. "Could it be that everyone on the production team was poisoned to death? No one knows we're here, and that's why there's no rescue, right?" Her words changed everyone's expression, and panic filled their eyes.

They wondered about the consequences if her speculation proved true.

Meghan kicked Jolene angrily.

"Shut up! Don't jinx it!" warned Meghan..

Jolene bit her lips, refraining from saying anything, and chose to sit farther away.

Frowning. Kendrick voiced, "If Jolene is right, and no one knows were here, what should we do? We can't find food. Are we going to starve to death?"

With a desperate expression. Travis said, "I think the entire production team has been poisoned. Otherwise, with our fame, they wouldn't forget us. Even if they did, our managers wouldn't. The only possibility is none of the production team made it to the shore alive, and our managers couldn't reach them."

He added. "To keep the shoot confidential, the production team never shared the specific location. Even if our managers noticed the communication gap and informed the police, finding us here would be tough. By the time we're discovered, we might have starved to death

Travis words heightened the desperation among everyone.

Meghan threw herself into Samson's arms and cried. "Sam, do something. I don't want to die here. I want to go home. I also want to see Dad. Mom. Eddie and Jas":

Distressed, Samson hugged Meghan tightly, but there was nothing he could do.

Kendrick suggested, "How about we go look for Evangeline again, apologize to her, and ask for her help in finding some food? At least that way, we won't starve to death." Meghan gritted her teeth and sud

d with resentment, "I will not apologize to her. She bear me so badly! She should apologize to mel

Kendrick gave her a cold look and did not reply.

"Unbelievable! She is starving to death. How could she continue to be so stubborn?" he thought Travis stood up and said to Kendrick. "I agree with your proposal. Let's go find Evangeline" Kendrick nodded and stood up.

"I-F'll go with you too!" Jolene said, plucking up the courage to join them.

Meghan angrily yelled at Jolene, "Come back! You're not allowed to go! If you dare to seek refuge with Evangeline, I'll ask Eddie to collaborate with the entire entertainment industry to blacklist you when we get home, and you'll never be famous"

Jolene's face turned pale, and she did not dare to go any further.

Kendrick frowned at Jolene and said. "You're dying now. Why worry about your future? What's more important, your life or your future!"

Chiming in, Travis remarked, "Kendrick is right. Plus, if you can't work in the entertainment industry, there are other sectors for employment. Can she blacklist you everywhere? Our hope lies in staying alive."

Jolene was moved to tears.

Choked with sobs, she walked toward Kendrick and Travis. She said, "Okay, I join you in searching for Evangeline!"

She did not consider Evangeline to be an evil person.

At least, Evangeline was not as bad as Meghan

Upon witnessing the three left. Meghan's anger flared. She shouted, "How dare you! Just wait and see. I won't let you off when we get back!"

This time, no one paid attention to her.

Initially, they were apprehensive about Meghan's background.

However, in the current dire situation, they solely focused on saving their lives and had no time to contemplate anything else.

in extreme hunger, people prioritized filling their stomachs, leaving little time for other concerns.

Sobbing, Meghan exclaimed, "Sam, they've gone too far..."

She then threw herself into Samson's arms, shedding tears.

Pursing his lips, Samson said, "They were right. We can't secure food on our own, and even if we could, we lack the knowledge to cook it. If this continues, we'll starve to death"

Biting her lips, Meghan insisted, "But I don't want to apologize to her. She bear me so badly!"

Lowering his gaze, Samson said in a deep voice, "I thought about it all night last night. Each time Evangeline attacked us, it was in response to our provocation. She might not be as bad as you portrayed her. She won't make things difficult for us without reason.

Meghan widened her eyes in disbelief, looking at Samson. She asked. "Sam, what are you talking about? How can you defend Evangeline? Do you think she's not a bad person? Are you suggesting that I'm wrong? Have you forgotten how she bullied me? She's been insulting and beating me for the past two days. Doesn't that prove her evilness!"

Samson bit his lips and did not answer Meghan's questions.

He looked at Meghan and asked. "Then tell me, what should we do if we can't find food or can't cook? Are we just going to wait to starve to death?"

Meghan was rendered speechless.

However, she still did not want to apologize to Evangeline, convinced that the latter did not deserve it

She thought. Evangeline should be my slave, serving me for life. What qualifications does a slave have for me to apologize and plead! But I'm very hungry. I don't want to die, either."

At that point, Evangeline appeared to be their only hope.

Biting her lips. Meghan softened her tone and said with a sense of grievance, "I can swallow my pride and apologize to her. But once we leave here. you have to seek justice for me. I won't accept being beaten without reason"

Samson hesitated for a moment before nodding and said, "Okay."

He helped Meghan up, and together, they walked in the direction of Evangeline.

However, upon reaching the spot where Evangeline had spent the night, Evangeline was not there. Her belongings were gone, leaving only some burnt ashes-evidence of the previous night's fire. "Where did that bitch go asked Meghan. She frowned with dissatisfaction.

Samson said. "She must have gone into the forest to search for food. Let's go in and find her, taking our chances to see if we can locate some food

Durselves.

He had a hunch that even if they approached Evangeline, she might not willingly provide them with food.

Therefore, he still preferred the idea of finding food independently

Even if he lacked the knowledge in cooking, as long as it was cooked and could fill their stomachs he would not mind its taur or quality.

Meghan reluctantly followed Samson into the forest:

She was very hungry now. There was no strength in her holy, and she did not want to walk at all.

Furthermore, she was wearing a skirt, and her skin might get scraped by the vegetation if she entered the forest.

However, she did not dare to stay outside alone due to the fear of encountering danger.

Not long after entering the forest, they met with Kendrick and the others.

Kendrick looked at them in surprise and asked, "I thought you wouldn't apologize to Evangeline. Why are you here?"

Samson explained, "It was just Meghan expressing her frustration."

Kendrick withdrew his gaze and remained silent.

Samson asked, "Have you found Evangeline?"

Shaking his head, Kendrick replied, "No We're just following a path someone has taken. We hope to find her, but Evangeline has entered the forest multiple times, creating several paths. We don't know which way she went and there's uncertainty about finding her."

Expressing unhappiness, Meghan said. "Why don't we wait for her outside? Why do we have to enter the forest? There are so many mosquitoes and bugs in there. I'm itching all over from their bites!"

"If we don't approach her with goodwill while she's searching for food and request her assistance, we might go hungry for another day," Kendrick countered.

Unhappily, Meghan rebuked, "Just let her reenter the forest and look for food?"

Kendrick did not want to talk to her anymore.

"Who do you think you are to hark orders at others! We will be very lucky if Evangeline is willing to give us some food. It is impossible for her to willingly find food for us separately, he thought.

"Hey. I heard something over there. Could it be Evangeline!" Jolene said with a surprised voice from the front.

Kendrick and Travis immediately ran forward.

While supporting Meghan, Samson followed them.

They ran for a while before finally seeing Evangeline.

Currently, Evangeline was wearing a black windbreaker and cargos, with her hair tied into a low ponytail.

Suddenly slowing down, she stepped onto a large tree trunk, took two diagonal steps, and leaped forward. Grabbing a vine, she swung with force. Releasing the vine, her body continued forward due to inertia. Stretching out she grabbed the next vine and swung forward.

Besides her, there was a group of monkeys swinging from the tree with vines

The monkeys bared their teeth at Evangeline, but they appeared to be afraid of her. They only dared to attempt to intimidate her and did not challenge her directly.

On the other hand. Evangeline was not just swinging on the vine. It seemed like she was actively pursuing those monkeys

As she chased after them, she roared with gritted teeth. "How dare you, you idiotic monkeys, ambush me! It seems I failed to teach you a lesson yesterday, as you dare to plan revenge on me. Today, I will make sure you regret it

Then, she reached out and caught a monkey.

Loosening her grip, Evangeline fell steadily to the ground from a vine a few feet high-

She then pinned the monkey she had thrown down and began beating it

The monkey howled desperately under the force of the beating.

save their companion, a

The other monkeys around grew even more anxious, baring their teeth fiercely. Although they wanted to go forward and save cold look from Evangeline scared them into staying back.

Fear was evident on their faces.

Some timid monkeys even fled out of fear, hiding behind trees and shivering

Samson and the others were all stunned

"Evangeline's so strong! She is more agile than monkeys when swinging vines in the forest! She even caught a monkey king! they thought.

The monkey she caught was slightly bigger than the others. Judging from the reactions of the surrounding monkeys, it could be seen that this particular monkey was their king

Observing the fear in these monkeys eyes, it was evident that she had intimidated them before

"What the hell did Evangeline do to these monkeys" they wondered

They were all impressed by Evangeline.

Seeing how fiercely Evangeline beat the monkey king, they could not help but shudder.

In comparison, Evangeline showed mercy to them.

If Evangeline treated them the way she did the monkey king, they could end up dead or disabled!

The beatings lasted for half an hour.

She displayed great skill. After half an hour, the monkey king was in a terrible state, unable to move, but was still conscious, not in a coma or facing a life-threatening situation,

Considering that the monkeys were endangered animals, she did not want to break the law.

J

Chapter 14

Although there was no one here and no camera, she still had to abide by the law.

Evangeline looked at the monkey king coldly and said, "Remember, I'm the one in charge. If you ambush me again, I won't show mercy. I will break your arms and legs and those of your gang!"

The monkey king trembled with fear, its eyes filled with terror.

I felt that the upright monkey before it was terrifying.

Evangeline spat and kicked it away

The other monkeys immediately ran over, lifted the monkey king, and swiftly ran away. In the blink of an eye, they disappeared.

Evangeline brand Jolene's voice from behind.

Evangeline looked back and saw the five people standing not far away, looking at her with complicated emotions

Evangeline showed no surprise, having heard them from a distance when they approached her.

Without looking back, she could discern from the footsteps that it was indeed them,

"What's the matter?" Evangeline asked flatly.

Jodene laid her lip and looked at Evangeline in fear.

But in the end, she mustered her courage and walked up to a point near Evangeline.

Tracy stopped about three feet away from Evangeline.

Evangeline looked at them coldly, without any emotion on her face:

Jodene sincerely apologized to Evangeline, saying, "Evangeline, I'm sorry I shouldn't have picked on you before, let alone robbed your things. Now I genuinely apologize to you and hope you can forgive Kendrick and Travis as well. I followed unit, looking guilty.

Kendrick said "Evangeline, I'm sorry. I was wrong, too. I, a man, shouldn't have bullied a little girl like you, I apologize to you now. After we leave here, I will make it up to you. Please forgive me! Travis also expressed, "Evangeline, I'm very sorry, too. I will compensate you and provide you with resources in the future. Please forgive me!

Tracy peered at Meghan, who looked awkward, forward and apologized, "Evangeline, I was wrong before. Please overlook the matter, I will treat you well and try my best to make up for what I owe you in the future."

are even now. I won't bother

Reluctantly, Meghan admitted, "I shouldn't have robbed your things before. But you have beaten me up in return. We are even now again in the future. Thank you for forgetting about it, and let's get along well!" Indifferently, Evangeline looked at them and asked, "Did you come just to apologize to me?"

Everyone nodded.

Eagerly, Meghan added, "Now that we have apologized and you've forgiven us, we should work together as a team in the future. As a team, it's natural for us to help and support each other. No, Evangeline, when you are looking for food today, please bring back our portions as well!"

Evangeline snerrer).

She had suspected that these people wouldn't genuinely apologize for their mistakes, and they indeed had ulterior motives.

"Are they expecting me to be their slave and allow them to boss me around with just a mere sorry? she thought.

"When did I forgive your" Evangeline rebuked with a spear.

Meghan's face darkened instantly. "Evangeline, why are you so narrow-minded? It's something trivial. We have already apologized. You are too proud to hold on to it! Besides, we're the ones who got beaten up and have suffered losses. Why can't you just let it go?"

Meghan actually wanted to tell Evangeline that she didn't have the right to be mad at them, as she didn't suffer any losses.

However, as Samson won kept warning Meghan, she could only keep those words to herself.

Indifferently, Evangeline said, "So what if I'm narrow-minded? You because you can't defeat me. If I hadn't trained in combat, my fate would be worse than yours. You would have them beat me mercilessly and even kill me. You didn't show your evilness because I have the ability to stop you, not because you are kind"

Meghan's face turned grim. She said, "You are the evil one! You watched us starve to death and refused to help us. You clearly want to kill us. Who can be as wicked as you! If you don't help us, and something happens to us, you will be the one who killed us, and you will feel guilty forever

Samson grabbed M

Meghan's wrist and scolded her unhappily, "Stop it Meghan

Tary had promised to apologize and plead with Evangeline for help, yet Meghan had now started to threaten her.

Chapter 15

Angry, Kendrick looked at Meghan and shouted, "Are you out of your mind? We're here to ask Evangeline for help. Why are you showing such an attitude? If you can't stop being a princess, just go back and starve to death. Don't drag us along with you!"

Travis also frowned after hearing her words. He spoke. "I know celebrities can be hypocritical, but you're just being stupid. I don't know what's wrong with the Callagher family for giving up su and capable daughter like Evangeline and choosing a brainless, hypocritical, and vicious fake like you."

Although Travis was a newcomer in the entertainment industry, he had a backer and came from a wealthy family, so he wasn't worried about offending Meghan

At worst, he would stop working in the entertainment industry altogether.

Initially, he followed Meghan's instructions because they were still on good terms, and he wanted to avoid jeopardizing his career in the entertainment industry.

However, he was dying. He couldn't care about that as much anymore.

Life mattered more

"H-How dare you yell at me!" Meghari's eyes widened in disbelief.

She had never been yelled at, except by Evangeline.

Yer, now, Travis and Kendrick were scolding her.

Who are they to berate me? she thought

Meghan's eyes immediately turned red, and tears rolled down her cheeks. She looked at Samson with an aggrieved look and said with sobs, "Sam, they bullied me. You need to avenge me! Samson pursed his lips and said nothing.

"Sam, what are you doing? Why aren't you talking? You promised our parents, Eddie, and Jas that you would protect me!" Meghan questioned.

The more Meghan thought about it, the angrier she became and the louder she cried.

a good-looking

In a deep voice, Samson said, "Meghan, stop it. It's your fault. You promised to correct your attitude and apologize to Evangeline, but instead, you started threatening her after being me for a moment" Anger caused Meghan's voice to tremble "sam, do you think I was wrong 100? I was generous enough to apologize to her after being beaten by her. Why are you still asking so much from me? It was Evangeline's fault, but you asked me to apologize. And when I apologized, you complained that I was being rude. So, was I being cold when I was forced to apologize after being beaten by her? If I knew you couldn't protect me. I might as well not let you come with me. You came with me, yet now you can't protect me, and you helped others bully me. You are a useless bart

Samson's expression turned gloomy, and a trace of impatience appeared in his eyes.

When Meghan caused a small scene, he might still feel sympathy for her.

However, these days, Meghan had gone too far, which annoyed him.

Kendrick turned to Evangeline and said sincerely, "Evangeline, we are different from Meghan. We truly realized our mistakes and apologized to you. I hope you can accept our apology. Evangeline looked at him indifferently and scrutinized them momentarily.

She spotted remorse on them.

However, the desire in their eyes could not be ignored.

They did have remorse, but it was not from acknowledging their mistake

They were simply so hungry that they chose to apologize,

If they could find food themselves, they wouldn't apologize, even if they realized they were wrong.

Evangeline said coldly. "You should apologize for what you did. It proves that you still have some moral values?"

Everyone was delighted to bear that.

Evangeline continued, "However, it is your choice to apologize, and my choice to forgive you. Even if you want to repent, it doesn't mean I have to forgive you. The harm cannot be undone, even with an apology for what you have done to me. So, I won't accept your apology. Besides, I won't give you food. Although I am not as hypocritical and vicious as Meghan, I am not a saint. I will never help people who have hurt me. All of you are fine. You can find food on your own. The poultry dropped by the production team were all injured and drugged, so it was easy to catch them. Animals have one thing in common. They all like to take shelter in a hidden place after entering an unfamiliar environment." With that, Evangeline turned around and ventured deeper into the forest.

Jolene wanted to follow Evangeline.

However, Evangeline was 100 fast, swinging on the vine and getting far away. Jolene couldn't catch up at all.

She could only come to a stop in her tracks.

"Humph. I've told you. She has no conscience at all. She wants us to die here, yet you humbly begged her. How embarrassing it is!" Meghan remarked sarcastically, gloating over their awkwardness. Kendrick and Travis ignored her.

After exchanging glances, they ventured into the forest, bringing Jolene with them.

Samson

was worried about leaving Meghan alone, so he stayed with her.

usually like this...

Frowning, he said, "Meghan, why are you acting like a different person i don't even know you anymore. You're not us Meghan's body stiffened. She immediately softened her voice and cried heartbreakingly. "I have suffered so many grievances. My teeth were knocked out my face was swollen badly, and my skin was bitten by mosquitoes and insects. Not to mention that there's nothing to eat, and I am so hungry. I've been wronged so much and forced to change my temperament, Yer, you don't care about me. Instead, you are mad at me. I'm so sad...

She continued to sob.

Samson paused and hugged her.

"Im sorry. I failed to protect you and let you suffer.," he apologized

He knew that people would become cranky when they were hungry.

Meghan was not only starving but also suffering from so many shocks. It was normal for her character to change.

He believed that she would revert to her original state once they left the place.

Aggrievedly, Meghan said, "What should we do now since Evangeline refuses to help us? Are we going to starve again! I'm so hungry that I can't even walk anymore....

Gritting his teeth, Samson said, "Let's keep looking. Even if we can't catch the poultry, let's find a few cres. At least we can survive!"

Meghan followed Samson reluctantly

Meanwhile, she kept inwardly cursing him as a lover.

If Samson had a tenth of Evangeline's ability. I wouldn't be hungry. What a loser! He is weaker than a woman,' she thought

A comment read: (Oh my. Meghan is really skilled at making excuse What kind of reasoning is that? Samson is foolish for believing her.)

Another commented: [Luckily, Evangeline didn't pardon them. They shouldn't be forgiven

A comment was made: [Evangeline was being kind toward them for pointing out to them that poultry tends to hide. If they are observant, they should be able to locate them in the grass. From Evangeline's perspective, she had witnessed numerous instances of slow-moving poultry in the grass, causing her to lose interest in catching them. How could these individuals overlook such conspicuous poultry!] Another comment stated: [Show us Evangeline. I prefer watching her doing nothing over Meghan].

One commented: [Wow, Evangeline is awesome! She has once again defeated the monkeys. I bet they wouldn't cause her trouble anymore.]

Another response read: I never expected monkeys to be vindictive. They have even learned to ambush, attempting to use it on Evangeline. What an eye-opener.]

Evangeline continued to venture into the woods.

On her way, she observed numerous chickens and hares, but she wasn't in a hurry to catch them

With plenty of them around, she chose to grab one onto her back

Instead, she was searching for wild fruits.

The monkeys that besieged her typically inhabited the mountains and would venture into the forest but never dwelled in the woods.

This observation suggested the presence of a mountain behind the forest,

Observing that the monkeys were all moving in one direction, she decided to follow suit, trying to locate the mountain.

Evangeline swing on vines intermittently and crawled on the ground occasionally, advancing rapidly.

After about half an hour, she finally passed through the forest and saw the mountain.

Evangeline looked up and spouted the monkeys that had fled from her.

Upon seeing her, they screamed in horror and hastily scampered up the mountain.

Scratching her head, Evangeline remarked, "Am I that scary! As long as they don't provoke me, I won't harm them. Why are they running?"

No one was there to answer her.

Evangeline shrugged and began to climb up the mountain.

She was fortunate to discover wild grapes on the mountain.

Picking two bunchies, she settled on a smooth stone, relishing the scenery as she indulged in her meal

Undoubtedly, the surroundings were remarkably gorgeous, and the air was fresher. The place was better than some highly-rated scenic spots back home.

After consigning two bunches of mountain grapes, she felt a soreness in her teeth.

"Tsk, I shouldn't eat too many of it. My teeth can't take it, she remarked

Evangeline continued to search the mountain

She saw a few wild persimmon trees. The fruits were ripe, but many of them had been pecked by birds.

She searched for a long time until she found several intact ones. Climbing up the tree, she picked and consumed them.

Following that, she discovered various types of wild fruits to eat, but none were particularly delicious, so she refrained from consuming too much.

Evangeline spent the whole day in the mountain

The monkeys dispatched a few to keep an eye on her from a distance, concerned that she might encroach upon their territory

Initially, Evangeline had no intention of returning. She desired to watch the stars on the mountain at night. The mountain enabled her to see further and enjoy a better nocturnal view

However, the lack of water in that area prevented her from taking a bath.

After a full day of climbing the mountain and sweating, she needed a bath.

Consequently, she had to retrace her steps.

On the way back, she caught an unlucky lure.

When she returned to the original camp, she saw Meghan and others.

They had nothing before them.

It was clear that they found nothing

They all appeared frightened, with disheveled clothes and messy hair,

Samson, in particular, seemed miserable. His white T-shirt was stained with a lot of blood, and numerous scratches marred his face, giving him a depressed look.

They had encountered something terrible in the forest.

Rogue 16

Chapter 16

Unaware of what had happened to them and uninterested in finding out, Evangeline took the hare to the riverside to deal with it,

Meghan, however, picked up a stone and hurled it at Evangeline.

Evangeline dodged it agilely.

The rock hit the water, causing splashes to land on her.

Evangeline would never allow herself to be bullied.

In response, she promptly picked up a stone and retaliated.

"Ah!"

Meghan screamed,

The stone struck Meghan's wrist, eliciting a sharp pain that contorted her swollen face in agony.

She glared at Evangeline furiously and screamed, "Evangeline, how dare you throw a stone at me! You're so mean! You will die a miserable death!" Evangeline sneered, "You started the fight. You should prepare for retaliation whenever you provoke others,"

Meghan expressed her anger, "I didn't hit you, yet you threw it at it at my h

y hand. It hurts so much that I can't move it now!

Evangeline rebuked, "You didn't hit me because I dodged. You aimed at my body. You failed to dodge because you are useless. Serves you right it hit you."

Meghan trembled with anger and glared at Evangeline with wide eyes. She said, "Yes, I aimed at your body. So what if I kill you? You put us in such a miserable state, after all. You offended those monkeys. They came to take revenge on us, scratched us, and threw things at us. My hair was torn off as well. It's all your fault"

Although the others remained silent, they were looking at her unkindly.

Had they not been aware of Evangeline's fighting ability, they would have made her pay, just like Meghan. Evangeline didn't expect that

The monkeys put them in such a miserable state? Well done! she complimented inwardly.

Evangeline said with a faint smile. "You all are the one who was no match for the monkeys. You, loser, deserve it then!"

"Your" Meghan seethed, her chest heaving heavily with anger.

Evangeline looked at her indifferently and said, "If you utter another word, I'll bring those monkeys here"

Meghan dared not to speak.

The monkeys' beating, coupled with their siege tactics, hurt a lot. She didn't want to face them anymore.

After cleaning the hare meat, Evangeline gathered wood and started a fire, proceeding to roast the hare meat.

The five hungry onlookers refrained from attempting to snatch it, aware they couldn't contend with Evangeline and might face repercussions.

g made the same mistake twice already, they were determined not to repeat it.

Having

Meghan persistently nudged Samson with her elbows, pleading, "Samson, I'm famished. Try persuading Evangeline again to share some food with us. I can't endure this any longer... Samson smiled bitterly and said weakly, 'It won't work. Evangeline won't share it with us' He coughed at the end.

Caught in the scent of the meat wafting through the air, Meghan swallowed and remarked bitterly, "If you were proficient at locating food, I wouldn't be in such a miserable state..

Lying on the ground, Samson gazed at the sky with a numb expression.

When encountering the monkeys, Meghan positioned him in front of her, swiftly removing his clothes to shield her head.

Without any protection, he became vulnerable. The monkeys could attack him more easily, leaving him covered in blood. However, Meghan didn't ask about his condition afterward. Instead, she scolded Evangeline, blaming her for the monkey attack.

She was unaware it was wrong for her to use him as a shield-and remove his clothes, making him an easier target for the monkeys.

Feeling dizzy, he was unsure whether his fatigue stemmed from hunger or if his wounds had become infected after the monkey attack. He no longer had the energy to dwell on the matter. Overwhelmed and exhausted, he simply couldn't muster the mental capacity to think further Meghan remained oblivious to Samson's abnormal condition.

The other three were equally unaware.

Their focus was entirely absorbed in Evangeline's meal.

As Meghan observed Evangeline enjoying the meat, she found herself imitating Evangeline's chewing motion.

However, Meghan's lip-smacking was perhaps too loud. Evangeline halted, looked over, and sneered, "h the air more flavorful?"

're out of Embarrassment painted Meghan's face red. Gritting her teeth, she warned "Don't you dare act so insolently. I'll teach you a lesson once we're out here!"

After that, she stood up abruptly, determined to leave and avoid further ridicule.

However, due to her prolonged hunger and the sudden rise, she became dizzy and tumbled to the ground.

It took her some time to recover.

Growing even angrier, Meghan clenched her teeth, compelled herself to stand, and left frustratedly.

Travis, Kendrick, and Jolene also rose to leave.

It was tormenting to witness others eating when they had no food

The discomfort wouldn't have been as intense without the enticing aroma and the visual spectacle of someone else's meal.

However, their misery became unbearable in their presence.

They decided it was best to stay away, sparing themselves from further suffering too famished to notice, none realized Samson was still lying on the ground.

Possibly

Although Evangeline did notice Samson, she ignored him and continued eating

A viewer commented. [Is Samson dead? I can't believe the production team is so daring. Why haven't they sent someone to save Samson in his critical condition]

Another comment read: Although Samson is stupid, he doesn't deserve to die.]

One commented: [Samson's seriously injured by the wild monkeys. There's a risk of infection. The production team should rescue him.]

A comment read: [Meghan is truly vicious. She bears responsibility for Samson's severe injuries as well.]

Another comment expressed: [Samson deserves it. He blindly protected Meghan, turning her into an ingrate, so he had it coming!]

A viewer added: [It is fortunate that she didn't bring such injuries upon others. Samson is reaping what he sows!]

Someone wrote: [Don't die next to Evangeline. Such a bad luck!]

At this moment, the production team also had their attention on the screen, wearing frown.

The deputy director, Nehon Cooper, nervously asked, "Mr. Fowler, Samson might have a fever. Why haven't we sent someone to take him away? We could be in trouble if someone dies."

Dallas frowned and asked, "Is he that frail! The monkeys have been tested and found to carry no viruses or deadly bacteria. That's why we permit them to leave the mountain. Being scratched by them should not be fatal"

Nelson replied, "If the wounds aren't treated properly, they can become infected and inflamed, eventually causing a fever. Additionally, not eating for so long weakens him, compromising his immune system. His body might struggle with the inflammation, and things could easily go downhill."

After a prolonged silence, Dallas finally decided, "Alert the individuals in the forest to approach Samson cautiously and stay close. Once Evangeline leaves, discreetly remove Samson, making it appear as if he were taken by wild animals. The shooting will continue."

Nelson nodded and said, "Okay. I'll arrange for it now?"

In the Gallagher residence, Bethany, George, Edward, and Jasper were watching the livestream.

They were worried when they saw Samson's state.

Bethany was so worried that she kept crying.

She complained, "This is crossing the line. The production team has gone too far. Sam is badly injured. Why haven't they sent someone to take him away for treatment? Do they want to see Sam die? If anything happens to Sam, I'll hold the entire production team responsible

Edward frowned and added, "Meghan went too far this time, using Sam as a human shield and taking off his clothes. Sam wouldn't be so severely Injured if she didn't do that"

Jasper rebuked indignantly, "Evangeline's actions were even more egregious. The monkeys she provoked sought revenge on Sam and the others because they couldn't match her. Yet, she remained selfish, refusing to share the food with Sam and ignoring him when she saw him lying there. She is too cold-blooded and heartless! Meghan, in contrast, acted out of fear, using him as a shield in a moment of panic!" Edward looked at Jasper and said. "Using fear as an excuse when she encountered the monkeys might be understandable. However, after that, she didn't show any concern for Sam when she saw him injured. When they exited the forest. Sam couldn't walk steadily, and she didn't offer him any assistance. It was Jolene who helped him. Now, she left on her own and didn't show any care for Sam. How do you intend to explain this!"

Jasper was rendered speechless.

He couldn't find any justification for Meghan's actions

George shouted with a sullen face, "That's enough! Meghan behaved like that because she had endured too many grievances. As her brothers, you should feel sorry and try to understand Meghan's hardships instead of accusing her."

Edward pursed his lips and stopped retorting

George cast a gloomy, angry gaze at Evangeline's emotionless face in the live room. He exclaimed, "What an unfilial daughter! She even refused to help her brother when he fell ill. How can she compare with Meghan)"

He took a deep breath, suppressed his anger, and instructed Edward, "Keep trying to contact the production team to ensure someone is sent to save Sam. We can't afford anything to happen to him!" Edward nodded and said, "Okay. I'll deal with it"

In the forest, Evangeline finished eating and incinerated the bones in the fire

After completing the cleanup of the scene, Samson remained lying motionless.

She frowned, wondering if he was dead.

After hesitating for a moment, she got up and approached Samson. She kicked him and said, "Hey, are you still alive?"

Samson didn't move or respond to her..

Evangeline squatted down, opened his eyelids with her hand, and checked his eyes.

"His pupils are still responding. He's alive, thought Evangeline.

Evangeline reached out and pinched his wrist, quietly assessing his pulse.

After a moment, she let go of his hand and lifted his clothes to check his wounds.

Tsk. what a bother!" she remarked

Observing the numerous wounds on his body, she realized it wouldn't be easy to attend to them

She took the small medical kit out of her backpack.

Fortunately, she had everything prepared and brought some antiseptic and antibiotics, which the monkeys hadn't destroyed.

However, considering Samson's current situation, only the dine in her medicine kit would be helpful. His wounds were inflamed, and the medicine she brought was of line use.

Evangeline took out her flashlight and walked into the forest with a folding knife and an alpenstock.

After a while, she returned with a handful of fresh herbs.

Chapter 10

She mashed the herbs with the pot she had brought,

Then, she approached Samson, ripped off his clothes, disinfected the wounds with iodine, and put the herbs on them.

After that, she left Samion lying on the spot, paying no attention to him, and hurried away to take a bath.

The monkeys attacked Samson and the others because of her, but it wasn't entirely her fault. She had done everything she could to help him at this point. She wouldn't take any further action

A viewer commented: [Wow! Does Evangeline possess medical skills? I'm amazed by her knowledge of wild herbs. She's truly awesome, being such a clever and capable person. I love it!] Another wrote: [Evangeline was the one who helped him in the end. She's so generous]

Someone wrote. Don't be misled by Evangeline's ghostwriters. She is selfish, only caring about herself and disregarding the team. This kind of person excels at betrayal and backstabbing its best to stay away and not be friends with them!]

A viewer commented: [Meghan's reaction is genuine. As a princess who grew up in a protected environment, losing her sanity after enduring hardships in the wild is understandable. She doesn't fully comprehend her actions. It's unfair to blame her.]

One wrote: [What the hell? What's going on? Why did so many comments condemning Evangeline and justifying Meghan's actions pop out Did the Gallagher family finally interfere with it?]

A viewer commented: [It's clear these are ghostwriters hired by the Gallagher family for Meghan. I advise against wasting money. People can discern the truth, and we won't blindly believe all the distorted facts you spread]

Someone wrote: [What spell did Meghan cast on the Gallagher family? Why do they still protect her after she brought such misery to Samson?]

Another wrote. Please write a book about it, Meghan, I want to learn it

Those people were indeed the ghostwriters arranged by Edward,

Unfortunately, with all that had happened, the tides wouldn't easily change due to the misinformation spread by the ghostwriters.

Especially with Meghan still causing trouble in the live room, it was challenging for her to alter the tide at this point.

Upon witnessing Evangeline cure Samson Dallas hastily contacted the staff in the forest, advising them not to take Samson away but to observe the situation closely.

If Evangeline's treatment worked and Samson was getting better, there was no need to take Samson away.

If Samson continued to be motionless, they would have to discreetly rescue him without attracting any attention

After a shower, Evangeline found a place far away from Samson to sleep in the forest. Samson was left alone.

Soon, his chest heaved more visibly, and his breathing grew stronger.

The staff who were secretly observing could see his condition improving, so they stayed hidden, continuing to lurk for protection and observation

Meghan didn't come looking for Samson all night.

She only came to find him the next morning, wearing a displeased expression

Seeing Samson still lying on the ground, she pushed him hard,

"Sam, why are you still sleeping? Get up! Kendrick and the others have gone to look for food. You should do the same. If I don't eat anything, I will starve to death she demanded.

The push woke Samson.

He opened his eyes in a daze and sat up-

His clothes were gone, and there was something green on his body, resembling herbs,

Chapter 16

He had a high fever before he fell asleep, and his body was in pain and exhaustion. Now, all those feelings disappeared, and he returned to normal.

It seemed that these herbs on his body had diminished the inflammation of his wounds, leading the high fever to subside.

Who

put these herbs on me? he wondered.

If it hadn't been for these herbs, he would have died.

"Meghan, who searched for these herbs and put them on me last night?" Samson asked while looking at Meghan Meghan was dumbfounded by his claim. She looked down and noticed that Samson's body was covered with herbs.

She was near Kendrick and the others the night before and didn't witness their departure. They couldn't have found and applied these herbs to Samson, especially considering they lacked knowledge about medicine.

Only Evangeline would be able to do it

Observing Samson's grateful eyes, she could tell he was appreciative of that person.

Meghan knew that if Samson discovered Evangeline was the one who saved him, he would support her in the future.

She couldn't let that happen.

Meghan his her lips and said, "What are you talking about? Who else would save you except me?"

Chapter 17

Perplexed, Samson inquired, "Are you the one who applied the herbs on me? You've never been exposed to medical knowledge before. How can you recognize the herbs and locate them in the wild to assist me in treating my wound?"

With a sense of grievance, Meghan's eyes turned red as she said, "Do you think I'm lying? Who else do you think is likely to save you but met Evangeline harbors strong hatred toward us and desires our demise. She is the last person who will save you Jolene, Kendrick, and Travis hold grievances against us, too. Moreover, they lack medical skills, let alone the ability to save you. Apart from me, no one else here cares about you or possesses the capability to rescue you!"

Observing her distress, Samson quickly softened his tone and apologetically said, "Meghan, I'm sorry. I shouldn't have doubted you. It's just that you've never learned medical skills before, and suddenly, you were adept at recognizing wild herbs and brave enough to help me locate them in the middle of the night. I was simply surprised. Meghan please don't be angry. I was mistaken. I apologize to you" Samson hugged Meghan and patted her on the back like coaxing a child.

Choked with sobs, Meghan explained, I did not know medicine before. However, when I realized we needed to embark on a wild adventure for this variety show, I became concerned about potential dangers in the wilderness. So, I secretly acquired some basic knowledge of wilderness survival I came across a tutorial on treating wounds in the wild, where I learned about herbs used for trauma treatment in such situations. Fortunately, I learned this knowledge. Otherwise, you might not have survived here."

Deeply touched, Samson expressed. "You're truly incredible, Meghan You saved my life, I will find a way to repay you in the future."

Meghan burst into laughter and replied. "No need to be so formal with me. We're family, and I should be there to save you. Just remember my kindness, and don't let Evangeline's discord come between us. That's all I ask"

Samson affirmed, "You will always be my baby sister. Evangeline can never replace you. I won't heed her words anymore. Moreover, the words of a heartless and cold woman who stood by and did nothing when her brother was dying carry no credibility. I won't be swayed by her discord and misunderstand you."

His eyes showed disgust and anger toward Evangeline

He realized Evangeline was angry with him because of his greater affection for Meghan. Initially, he believed that she merely had a bad temper and tried to gain attention.

However, her lack of concern during his time of trouble was unexpected.

At this point, he had completely given up on her.

His sentiments had shifted from mere dislike to anger and disgust toward his sister

He vowed that if Evangeline dared to bully Meghan in the future, he would not hesitate to take action against her.

Furthermore, he decided that upon returning to the city, he would inform his parents and two brothers about Evangeline's malicious actions and advocate for blacklisting this cold-blooded and vicious woman. He believed a person without a conscience should face consequences and endure suffering to atone for her sins.

"The heavens must have known the kind of person Evangeline is. That's why he exchanged Meghan and her lives, making Evangeline suffer. Cold-blooded and vicious people don't deserve a good life! he mused.

"Okay, I'll remember what you said. You must keep your word, Meghan replied and smiled playfully.

Samson rubbed her nose affectionately and said, "I will always keep my promise."

Sticking her tongue out playfully. Meghan said in a sweet voice, "Sam, the production team hasn't seen anyone here today. It looks like we're on our own. We haven't had anything to eat for three days. If we don't find something to eat today, we might starve to death. Now that you've recovered, go into the forest with Kendrick and the others to find some food. They're considering going the other way to avoid those monkeys."

Samson nodded and replied, "All right. I'll go back to find my luggage and change my clothes first"

Meghan promptly assisted him up and left, supporting him as they moved together.

The audience in the live room was irate.

A comment read: [Damn it! Meghan is such a bitch. Evangeline was the one who treated Samson's wounds. How can Meghan take the credit! She really is a pretentious and despicable person, as disgusting as her mother]

Another comment stated: [Samson is also stupid. How can he believe everything Meghan said? Doesn't he know how to verify it? Has he forgotten how Meghan treated him before? No wonder he would be played by Meghan, the vicious bitch, since he is such a dumbass]

Back at the Gallagher residence, Edward was watching the livestream while having breakfast.

He also witnessed the scene where Meghan lied to Samson and took credit for Evangeline's actions.

His expression changed drastically.

He wondered, 'How much of Meghan's true colors are being hidden from me?

The once innocent and kind-hearted younger sister he had now seemed like a

Instead, he encountered a selfish, malicious, hypocritical, and pretentious stranger.

'She isn't my sister. My sister won't do those things... he thought

"Eddie..Jasper, who was sitting opposite Edward, was besitant to speak.

While looking at Jasper, Edward noticed the latter was holding his phone, watching the livestream.

With a complicated emotion, Jasper asked, "Has Meghan been wearing a pretense with us all along? The Meghan in the live room seems so strange to me. I don't know her anymore." Edward pursed his lips:

After a prolonged silence, he said indifferently. "Father mentioned that Meghan was stimulated, causing a significant shift in her character."

Hesitatingly, Jasper nodded and spoke. That would explain it. If it was all a prriente, it's impossible that we didn't notice something wrong after all these years. I believe she is a kind person. Her current state is solely due to stimulation. This is not the real her. By the way, didn't Dad ask you to find a public relations team to protect Meghan's reputation' But the comments in the live room were all condemning Meghan

Edward shook his head and explained. "I couldn't reverse the situation. The show has garnered significant attention, with a substantial number being Meghan's haters. Furthermore, our opponents are actively misguiding the audience. Along with those who harbor disdain for the wealthy, even the ghostwriters I hired couldn't alter the course of public opinion. Moreover, even though we comprehend that Meghan's character changed and did something unpleasant due to external stimuli, the viewers are unaware of this, and they won't believe in Meghan's innate kindness and innocence

Jasper said, "If we can change how the public views her, Meghan will not be able to accept it when she returns and finds out the netizens were condemning her."

Edward mentioned, "I've reached out to a psychologist. Upon Meghan's return, I will organize a meeting to support her."

After thoughtful consideration, he added, "Upon her return, let's keep this from her. Once the public attention subsides, I will work on mitigating the negative comments on the internet. It's better not to let Meghan know about it Jasper frowned and expressed, "How can we keep this from her? The show has gained immense popularity both domestically and internationally. Even those unfamiliar with Clusian are tuning in. The show is even subtitled on foreign websites. It's the most talked-about show on the internet. No matter where Meghan is, it's inevitable for her to discover the truth.

Edward sighed helplessly and said, "In that case, all we can do is comfort and advise Meghan to ensure she can get through this."

Back in the forest, Evangeline observed that it was especially challenging to locate prey that day.

Chapter 17

On her journey, she came across animal pelts and parts but wouldn't find a live one.

After traversing the forest for a while, Evangeline realized what was happening.

Monkeys and other animals in the forest had caught the clumsy poultry that the production team had placed there.

Wild monkeys ate meal, too,

For them, the sudden appearance of a significant amount of impaired prey was like a gift from the heavens. It was impossible for them not to take advantage of it.

They had already begun catching the poultry for the past two days but did it in different locations, so Evangeline hadn't noticed it.

Now that they had caught all the poultry in other areas, they ventured to her territory

There were w

● were wild hares in the forest. So, Evangeline wasn't bothered by it, though they were harder to catch due to their speed.

However, it wasn't challenging for Evangeline.

Evangeline wasn't in a hurry to hunt for wild hares. She strolled through the woods and once again reached the mountain behind the forest, where she picked some wild fruits and enjoyed them. Although the wild fruits were not very tasty, they could fill her stomach.

At this time, the staff lurking in the forest contacted Dallas urgently.

The staff expressed their concern, "Mr. Fowler, something unfortunate occurred. All the poultry we placed were taken and consumed by those monkeys. We purposely set up a few chickens and hares, making it seem that they were accidentally caught in withered grass so Samson and the others could find them and take them away. After all, if they don't eat now, they might genuinely starve to death. However, the monkeys took the staged chickens and hares. What should we do now? Should I leave some bread in the woods for them to find?"

Dallas' mouth twitched, and he rebuked speechlessly, "Don't be ridiculous. If they find bread, they'll suspect that there are people in the woods. How are we supposed to proceed with the shooting then? The man inquired. "Are we simply going to stand by and let them starve?"

Dallas pondered for a moment and said, "Hunt for some wild hares and stage them as if they were injured by wild animals, caught in withered grass, and unable to escape for those people"

The man asked, "Will they suspect anythingr

Dallas replied, "No. They aren't that sman."

The man was speechless

After lying with her eyes closed for some time, the monkeys crept toward her,

Just as the monkeys discreetly approached Evangeline's side, she suddenly opened her eyes, rolled over, and crawled on the ground with her hands and feet to chase after the monkey king.

The monkey king screamed in fear and scampered forward on all its limbs.

Meanwhile, the rest of the monkeys scattered in all directions with dread.

After running for a while, the monkey king turned and saw the terrifying, crawling human behind it.

Evangeline slapped the monkey king hard in the face.

"What's wrong? Are you still not convinced? How dare you follow and ambush me? Don't think I won't dare to kill you just because you're an Evangeline slapped it several times.

The monkey king howled in pain, tears filling its eyes as it trembled.

"Fuck off!" Evangeline said coldly.

She threw it upward and kicked it toward a tree not far away.

She checked the time and noticed the sun was setting in the west. She felt she should return to the riverside, as it would be easy to get woods at night.

Evangeline walked back leisurely.

Halfway through her journey, she suddenly heard a rustling sound behind her.

opped

Evangeline stopped to check and noticed the monkeys following her again.

Evangeline's face darkened, and there was a murderous intent in her cold eyes.

"What stubborn monkeys! Do you have a death wish? Anyway, you asked for it! I won't be merciful this time. I will kill you, so you have no chance to cause me trouble again. I swear."

Everyone had a limar

Evangeline had shown them mercy and her respect toward the country's law three times.

Since they continued to seek trouble, her action of killing them would be reasonable, as she felt threatened by them.

Evangeline crossed her hands and stretched her fingers.

Such a scene led the monkeys to tremble in fear.

Many monkeys hid behind the tree in horror.

The leading monkey king was also scared of her, but it mustered up the courage to move forward.

Evangeline narrowed her eyes slightly.

Just as Evangeline was about to take action, the monkey king threw something at her.

Evangeline took a closer look and found it was a wild hare.

The monkey king stood in front of her like a well-behaved creature, looking at her with a pitiful and humble expression.

Evangeline froze.

"Is the monkey king sending me prey?" she wondered.

The monkey king scratched its head.

Then it shoved the wild hare closer to Evangeline.

Obviously, the wild hare was for her.

Evangeline looked at the monkey king with mixed feelings.

It seemed that it had submitted itself to her after the beating

Evangeline smiled, bent down to pick up the wild hare on the ground, and whistled in a good mood.

"I'll take the wild hare. You're forgiven. Don't try to attack me again. I won't show mercy next time." Evangeline left a warning and walked back with

When Evangeline returned to the river, she saw Meghan and the others again.

There were two hares in front of them.

The two hares were hurt, but not dead yet.

Judging by the fur, they were not the ones released by the production team.

Evangeline was a little surprised.

She didn't expect them to catch the wild hares. It seemed that they were not so useless, after all.

After a quick look, Evangeline turned her eyes away and took her hare to the river. She pulled out the folding knife from her waist and swiftly started gutting and skinning the hare, The bloody scene made the other five people frown.

Meghan muttered in a hushed tone, "Evangeline is so cruel. She didn't even flinch when she skinned the hares. She is unkind and must have done many mean things!"

Samson looked sullen and didn't say anything. There was anger in his eyes.

He was still angry at Evangeline for not helping him last night,

"Meghan is right. Evangeline isn't kind at all!

"How could she have a good conscience if she doesn't even care about her own brother? Samson thought.

Kendrick asked, "Who will discuss it with her

Chapter 18

Jolene retreated in fear. She covered her face and said, "I dare not go. My face is still hurting"

Evangeline's smack was really hard.

Jolene could feel the spot where Evangeline slapped her still throbbing in pain

Travis also looked frightened and said, "I'm not going either. She was lenient to Jolene but ruthless to us men. I can't even walk properly today. If she beats me again, I won't be able to find food tomorrow." Today's food was not hunted by them.

They acquired the two hares by luck.

Not long after they went into the forest to find food today, they discovered two wounded wild hares with dry grass tangled in their feet

However, after they caught the hares, they encountered another dilemma.

They forgot to bring knives when they packed their luggage

They couldn't deal with the two hares, so they had to wait for Evangeline to return and borrow her knife.

But when they saw Evangeline, the fear ran deep into their bones, making them too afraid to approach her.

Kendrick turned to Samson and Meghan and said, "How about you two go? You and Evangeline are family, after all. She should be more patient with you."

Meghan complained. "Where did you get the idea that she's patient with us? She beat me and Sam more severely than she did with your Meghan was right. Samson and her injuries were the most serious among all of them.

Travis proposed, "Let's settle it with a game of rock-paper-scissors. The one who loses has to go find Evangeline"

Everyone nodded and accepted the proposal.

Travis said, "Kendrick and I form a pair, while Samson and Meghan form another. The ones who lose in each pair will then play with Jolene to decide the final loser" Everyone nodded again

The final loser was Samson.

Samson stood up reluctantly, walked behind Evangeline, and said indifferently, "Evangeline, lend us your knife."

His tone was unpleasant, and it seemed like he wasn't asking to borrow anything, but rather trying to start a fight..

Evangeline didn't even look back and said coldly, "No"

Samson became instantly upset, saying. "Evangeline, why are you so selfish? You don't share any food with us, and when I ask to borrow your knife, you say no. You're selfish and mean. You don't care about your fellow companions at all! People like you should be treated like traitors in wartime!"

Evangeline rolled her eyes and didn't want to listen to Samson's babbling.

She felt regret for saving him last night.

After rescuing him, he not only didn't show appreciation but also treated her even worse.

I really saved an ungrateful man, Evangeline thought angry that his chest heaved heavily,

Samson was so angry

Being ignored by Evangeline made him even angrier.

He glared intensely at the back of Evangeline's head with hatred. Suddenly, an impulse took over him, and he kicked her.

Evangeline reacted quickly and dodged his kick.

Samson pushed Evangeline again.

But before he could touch Evangeline, she grabbed his wrist and threw him into the river,

Samson held onto Evangeline tightly and scolded angrily. "Everyone in the Callaghan family is honest and kind. Even Meghan, who isn't related to us by blood, is kind-hearted. How can there be such a cold-blooded and vicious person like you? You're simply a stain and disgrace to the Callaghan family

He lamented, "As a brother, I'll teach you a lesson today so that you won't go too far and disgrace the Callaghan family further in the future!"

He raised his hand and wanted to hit Evangeline.

Evangeline's face was gloomy

Slapped

Before Samson could bring his hand down, Evangeline slapped him in the face first and gripped his wrist so hard that it almost crushed his bones.

"All!" Samson screamed and was forced to let go of her wrist.

Evangeline kicked him away.

"Who are you to teach me a lesson? I've cut ties with the Callaghan family, so don't associate me with them! Do you think I'm a disgrace to the Callaghan family? Humphrey, I don't want to be linked with fools like you. People might think I'm just as rude and foolish as you! Get lost! Don't bother me again!"

Evangeline swam to the shore

Samson fought against the water, but his body was too weak to summon any strength. He couldn't maintain his balance and was carried away by the river

"Help!" Samson panicked and cried for help.

Evangeline didn't even look back.

She wouldn't make the same mistake twice

She saved his life last night, yet he bit the hand that fed him today.

She had no interest in going through the same situation again.

"Sam" Meghan shouted in panic,

Jolene hurriedly said, "I can't swim. Who can swim? Please save Samson, or he will drown!"

Travis said, I can't swim either.

Kendrick took off his shoes and said, "I was on the swimming team before I debuted. I can save him"

Meghan rolled her eyes and suddenly fell on Kendrick. She reached out to hug him, pretending that she was panicked and lost her mind. She cried, "Sam, nothing can happen to you. Why is Evangeline so cruel? You're her brother. How could she want you dead? She's so heartless.

Kendrick frowned and said, "Let go of me. I'll save your brother right now. It's not too late!"

However, Meghan hugged Kendrick tightly and cried even louder, as if she didn't hear Kendrick.

Meghan intended to let Samson die here.

When she got back, she would tell the Gallagher family and the public that it was Evangeline who killed Samson.

Everyone here could testify.

Everyone saw Evangeline fall into the water with Samson. Evangeline injured Samson in the water, left him behind, and went ashore herself, neglecting his safety.

At that time, the Gallagher family would be completely disappointed with Evangeline and would never acknowledge her again.

They might even send Evangeline to jail.

Chapter 18

In that case, she would have no worries about Evangeline returning to the Gallagher family and taking her place one day.

She would be the only beloved daughter in the Gallagher family.

'Anyway, Samson is a useless idiot. He can't offer any help when he's alive, but his death can help me to get rid of Evangeline. He should die!" Meghan thought. "Meghan, let go of me. If you don't allow me to save your brother, he will drown!" Kendrick said anxiously.

He continued to push Meghan away as he spoke.

But Meghan hugged him with so much strength that he failed to jostle her away!

Kendrick usually had considerable strength, but after eating only a few eggs over the past three days, he was physically exhausted and couldn't push away a woman.

Kendrick looked at Travis and Jolene, "Don't stand there. Help me pull her away. If we don't save Samson, he will drown!"

Jolene and Travis were both stunned by Meghan's actions and screams.

Hearing Kendrick's words, they finally came to their senses.

They immediately went to pull Meghan away.

"Ahhh! Don't touch me! Don't pull me! I don't want to separate from Sam! Sam, please don't go. I don't want to lose you. Please stay with me forever.. Meghan pretended to be scared and mistook Kendrick for Samson, hugging Kendrick tightly while crying loudly.

Seeing Meghan's frantic expression, Jolene and Travis hesitated to approach her.

Jolene was too afraid, and Travis just wanted to steer clear of any suspicion.

After all, Meghan kept squirming, and it was easy for him to accidentally touch a place he shouldn't have. If she claimed he took advantage of her, he wouldn't be able to clear his name [Darn it, I can't help but swear. Samson must be crazy. How could he pull Evangeline into the river and beat her? If Evangeline didn't know how to swim and fight, she could be in the water needing rescue right now, couldn't she?] someone commented.

[He is really bad and stupid. He got angry when he failed to borrow something. It's an insult to Evangeline that Samson and she are siblings!] someone remarked

[Samson is such a jerk! Evangeline saved him last night, and today he wants to harm her by losing her knife and her hare meat. He's a jerk who bites the hand that feeds him] another person added [Just let him die!] someone cursed.

[He beat Evangeline first. Evangeline was just defending herself. Even if he died, she is innocent] another explained.

[Haha! Did you see Meghan's evil expression? She was purposely preventing Kendrick from rescuing Samson! Samson had been going after Evangeline for Meghan, but now Meghan's stopping Kendrick from saving Samson. It must be karma] someone from the audience exclaimed,

[Meghan is so wicked. Even though Samson is foolish and mean, he treats Meghan nicely and always protects her. Yet, she wants Samson dead. It gives me shivers. How can there be such a bad person in this world"] another echoed

[The genetic theory does hold some sense. Meghan's biological mother is a wicked woman who intentionally swapped Evangeline's identity with Meghan and abandoned Evangeline in the slums, She inherited her mother's genes perfectly!) someone remarked.

I wonder if the Gallagher family is watching the livestream. How do they feel when they see Meghan stop others from saving Samson? someone asked.

Haha. It was the Gallagher family's choice to pick Meghan over Evangeline. Hence, they should bear the consequences themselves someone said.

I hope they can forgive Meghan and let her stay in the Gallagher family. Let her kill the whole Gallagher family off one by one. Since the Gallagher family likes Meghan so much that they don't even want their own daughter, they must be very happy to die in Meghan's hand!] someone wrote.

(Hahaha! That's right. How can they blame Meghan? Samson was willing to do anything for Meghan, He even wanted to kill his sister for the impostor. I'm sure he wouldn't harbor any grievance now that he was abandoned by his beloved Meghan someone commented.

[The Callagher family has gone so far as to pressure Evangeline into signing an agreement that will ruin her future just to let Meghan shine in the show, It seems they're not good people at all! They are merely stewing in their own juices now! another netizen said.

Meanwhile, in the Gallagher residence, the whole family was sitting at the table having dinner while watching the livestream.

They naturally saw all the content that other audiences had seen, and they also saw their comments.

"Sam, my Sam! Go get my Sam, he's going to get washed away by the water! Meghan, what are you doing? Let go of Kendrick, and let him save Sam!" Bethany rushed to the screen and burst into tears, wishing she could get into the screen and save her son herself.

Chapter 19

"Why Why was Meghan stopping Kendrick from saving Sam?" Bethany trembled with anger and glared at Meghan, who was holding Kendrick on the screen.

"If anything happens to Sam. I won't spare her!" she hissed.

Even though Bethany had always loved Meghan, the latter wasn't her biological daughter. On the other hand, Samson was her biological son.

Meghan was indirectly murdering Samson by blocking others from rescuing him.

George frowned and said unhappily. "Didn't you see that Meghan was terrified? She was so scared that she thought Kendrick was Sam, so she didn't let him go. She didn't mean to stop Kendrick from saving Sam. We've seen Meghan grow up. Do you not know her character! Don't misunderstand Meghan solely based on her actions after she was scared out of her mind. Don't you feel sorry for misjudging her like that?"

Bethany cried out of breath. But my Sam..."

Samson could no longer be seen in the video.

Bethany clutched her chest and fell to the ground, tears streaming down.

Her heart was

It was tearing apart.

"My son... she thought.

George clenched his fists and looked at Evangeline on the screen fiercely.

"If anything happens to Sam. Evangeline will be the culprit! She pushed Sam into the water and hurt him! If she hadn't hurt Sam, he could have swum to shore by himself! She injured Sam and abandoned him in the water, watching him get carried away by the stream. She had no intention of saving him at all! She's so heartless and cruel that she even refuses to rescue her own brother! Thankfully, we've severed ties with her. Otherwise, she would have killed us all sooner or later!" George exclaimed.

After saying that, George slammed the table heavily,

Jasper frowned and said, "Evangeline is indeed too cold-blooded. Normal people wouldn't be so indifferent when seeing a stranger in danger. But she put her own brother's life in danger, and she didn't react at all. It is really disappointing

George snapped, "If anything happens to Sam, I'll let her die with him!"

By the river in the forest, Jolene looked at the river in the distance and stamped her feet anxiously. "I can't see Samson anymore. It's over. Travis glanced at Kendrick, who was held back by Meghan, and looked up at Evangeline. "Evangeline, Samson is your brother after all. Please go save him.

Evangeline looked at him indifferently and said, "If you say nonsense again. I'll kick you into the river, too

Travis shrank his neck and said nothing.

Evangeline walked to her backpack, picked it up, and headed for the forest.

Once in the forest, she found a spot with fewer weeds. She took out a disposable toilet tent and went in to change her clothes.

Since the monkeys had been trailing her, and there were a few outsiders in the forest who might come looking for her, she finally decided to cover herself with something.

After changing her clothes and emerging, she spotted a monkey in a tree at a distance.

Evangeline glanced over.

The monkey immediately hid behind the tree.

Evangeline hesitated. She looked at the monkey king and said loudly. "Hey, Kingka, can you dive! My dagger fell into the river. Could minions and help me look for it?

take your

There were a lot of weeds in the water, so she didn't dare to dive down by herself for fear that her feet would be entangled with aquatic plants, and she could not get up.

She was also worried that Meghan would throw a stone at her when she dived into the water.

Chapter 19

After she finished speaking, there was no response.

Evangeline shook her head with amusement.

'What the hell was I thinking?

'Even if the monkeys can dive, they can't understand human speech, let alone know what a dagger is, she thought,

Evangeline turned around and walked back

The monkeys were still following her, not far away.

Evangeline didn't feel hostility from them, so she ignored them.

When Evangeline was back to the river, she saw the monkey king strolling toward the water with a few shivering monkeys following. The monkey king then gazed at Evangeline, as if posing questions.

Evangeline blinked.

"Could the monkey king understand my words and come to help now is it asking me where I dropped the stud? Evangeline wondered Evangeline pointed to a spot in the water and said, "That's where it fell from. It's about this long, silver-white, and has a sharp blade. Be careful when you pick it up. Don't cut your little paws..." Splash!

As soon

soon as she finished speaking, the monkey king jumped into the river with five monkeys and dived under the water. Evangeline was surprised. She didn't expect the monkey king to be so clever that it could understand her words!

'No wonder it can be the king of monkeys! It's smarter than ordinary monkeys!' Evangeline mused.

The other four were all dumbfounded.

Even Meghan forgot to cry and stared at Evangeline in astonishment along with the others,

'Evangeline can command those monkeys?

"This is insane they thought.

The audience in the live room was also stunned.

[Damn it! How can a monkey understand human language? Evangeline can command monkeys!] one of them exclaimed.

[It seems someone has made the correct guess. The monkeys see Evangeline as the new monkey king.] another added

[I didn't see this coming. It's so unbelievable!] another stated.

I just want to say that Evangeline, you're awesome! another wrote.

Meghan suddenly scolded in a sharp voice, "Evangeline, do you care about monkeys more than your own brother? Are you still human? You pushed Sam into the water and injured him. It's you who killed him! You murderer! When we get back, I will go to the poller and have them shoot you to death to avenge Sam!"

Meghan looked at Kendrick and the others, saying, "You're going to testify with me in front of the police that Evangeline killed Sam!"

Kendrick frowned and said, "If you didn't stop me, I would have saved Samson.

Jolene nodded in agreement.

Meghan's face darkened, and she asked angrily, "What do you mean! Are you suspecting that I deliberately stopped you from saving Sam? He's my family. How could I not want you to save him! I was so scared that I thought you were Sam."

Kendrick said, "I was just stating the facts. I didn't say I suspected you. The way you explain yourself in such a hurry makes you look guilty, as if you're trying to cover up something"

Travis said sarcastically. "You picked a great time to be scared. When Kendrick tried to save Samson, you became clueless. The three of us were right here, yet you mistook Kendrick for Samson, hugging him and refusing to let go. Samson has been washed away by now. He probably drowned after being in the water for so long. But then, you suddenly seem better..."

Meghan's face turned red with anger and gasped, "You... You've gone too far. How dare you smear me like this? After we leave here, I will sue you Jolene said weakly, "Can we walk downstream and see if we can find Samson Even if he's dead, we can't just let his body wash away like that..

Travis said sarcastically, "See, Jolene is an outsider, but she cares more about Samson than you. After getting over the fright, you didn't even consider searching for Samson. He truly loved you for nothing." Kendrick said, "Okay, stop talking. Let's look downstream."

Travis nodded.

The two of them were walking ahead, and Jolene was about to follow, Slap!

Meghan slapped Jolene in the face and glared at her with resentment and viciousness.

This bitch who talked so much, causing me to be suspected and satirized by Travis, Meghan hissed silently.

Jolene covered her face, bit her lips, and bowed. "Sorry, I shouldn't have said that,"

Travis came back, grabbed her arm, and dragged her away. "What were you apologizing for? You didn't say anything wrong

Jolene lowered her head and followed him silently.

Indeed, Jolene didn't say anything wrong, but she had no background, no status, and no ability like Evangeline. So she could only humble herself.

Jolene knew she looked like a coward, but those at the bottom of the uncial ladder didn't have the strength to fight back

She didn't want to lose her identity as a celebrity

Although the career path was difficult, she made money quickly and earned a lot

Meghan watched their backs, gritted her teeth, suppressed her anger, and followed them

If she didn't follow them, it would make her seem like she didn't care about Garrison

Shortly after they left, the monkeys finally surfaced

The monkey king was holding a dagger in as hand, and it was the one Evangeline had lost

There were three lish.

Each one was more than three pounds.

The monkey king walked up to Evangeline and handed her the dagger

The three monkeys also put the fish they caught neatly in front of her.

To prevent the fish from thrashing back into the river, the monkeys killed the three fish.

Evangeline took the dagger and smiled. "Thank you You've helped me a

The monkeys seemed to understand Evangeline's words. Their cries sounded much cheerier, and they jumped into the forest.

Before they jumped into the forest, they also took away the two wild hares left by Meghan and his teammates.

[Holy shit! The monkeys really understand Evangeline's orders. Not only did they help her find the dagger, but they also caught three fish and gave them to her. It feels like I'm watching some kind of fantasy show] someone wrote.

[Evangeline is awesome! She has tamed a group of wild monkeys!] someone exclaimed.

I really admire Evangeline. She's doing so well in the wild!) another added.

[From today on, I will learn from Evangeline and strive to be an excellent woman like her!] someone remarked.

[Does Evangeline really not care about Samsont She's so cold.....] someone said.

[Why should Evangeline waste her time on a bad and stupid guy who always targeted her? Why should she care about the safety of an enemy!]

someone asked.

[Evangeline was already kind enough not to laugh out loud. Are you suggesting she cares about an enemy who makes trouble for her? You must be kidding someone remarked.

[How noble of them to ask others to forgive their foes. I'm sure that will solve everything!] someone mocked.

There were two factions on the internet discussing Evangeline's actions of leaving Samson to die.

Some people believed that Evangeline was right. They thought she should be tough and ruthless toward her enemies

Some people believed that Samson didn't deserve to die, even if he made a mistake. Moreover, since he was Evangeline's brother, they thought she shouldn't be so cold and heartless. Evangeline was completely unaware of this.

Evangeline brought the dagger and three fish to the river. She gutted them and removed their scales.

She couldn't finish three fish by herself, but they were dead and had to be grilled together

When Evangeline grilled the fish half-cooked, Kendrick and others returned.

Samson wasn't dead. He was just a little weak.

Evangeline was not surprised.

Although her kick was heavy, it didn't cripple him

He couldn't swim until the pain subsided, but he managed to stay afloat and lay on his back with his face above the water without drowning

When he recovered his strength, he could save himself.

He could live as long as he didn't encounter rapids and tides.

When they passed by Evangeline, their eyes were fixed on the grilled fish in front of her. Their saliva was running wildly, and their stomachs were Evangeline caught fish? How does she know everything they thought..

She lost hare meat but easily got another three fish

They were filled with jealousy.

Samson glanced at Evangeline with disappointment.

It seemed like Evangeline really wanted him dead.

She kicked him and left him in the river. Everyone went looking for him, but she was baking fish here

Samson withdrew his gaze and walked toward the luggage with Meghan's help.

He was p

going to change.

After walking for a while, Meghan started sobbing.

Samson asked, "Why are you crying?" Meghan cried and said, "You scared me. I thought you were killed by Evangeline and wouldn't come back. I almost wanted to jump into the river and leave the world with you..."

Samson was moved, and he caressed Meghan's head and said, "Silly girl, don't do anything stupid. Even if something really happened to me, you have to live well. Mom, Dad, Eddie, and Jas are still waiting for you to go home. How can they cope if they lose both of us at the same time?"

Meghan sobbed, "Hut when I saw you in danger, my y mind went blank, and I just wanted to be with you."

Samson said gently, "All right. I'm fine now. Don't cry. I promise you that I will be more careful in the future and won't make you worry about me anymore."

Meghan nodded hard and smiled through tears.

They continued to walk. After a while, Meghan pouted and said with an aggrieved look, "Sam, when you were washed away by the water just now, I was so scared that my mind went blank. I couldn't think of anything. I mistook Kendrick for you. I grabbed him tightly and didn't want him to leave me. I didn't expect them to think that I deliberately stopped Kendrick from saving you. They ganged up together to single me out, and I didn't know how to explain myself. I really feel bad. I'm not afraid of being targeted, but I can't accept their slander that I wanted to harm you. I wish I could die with you. How could I deliberately stop others from saving you?"

As Meghan said that, she began to cry again.

She was afraid that Samson would be suspicious of her when Kendrick and the others mentioned what had just happened, so she decided to take action first

If she brought the matter up herself, Samson would think that she had nothing to hide and wouldn't suspect her.

Samson wiped away Meghan's tears gently. "Why are you crying again! I trust you and won't doubt you. How can the kindest lady harm me! How can you kill me when you can't even kill a chickent Besides, why would you kill me today after saving me last night? It doesn't make sense. I won't believe their slander against you. They have no idea how kind you are.

Meghan smiled with tears on her face. "Thank you for trusting me. As long as you believe in me, I don't mind if others misunderstand me because I only care about you."

A heated argument broke out in the live room. [Fuck! I can't stand it. Meghan's just distorting the truth. Let me tear her mouth apart!]

[Meghan is so bitchy! She wanted Samson to drown but slandered the other three who cared about him. Worst of all, Samson believed her! It's better to care about a dog than him!]

[Samson, if you keep being so blind, you'll die in Meghan's hand sooner or later!]

You haven't sobbed up after Evangeline slapped you so many times. It's frustrating!

[How could Samson be so foolish? It's not simple to reach this age with such a lack of wisdom!]

[I'm not taking Samson's side, but I don't like Meghan's wickedness. I hope he can see her true nature soon!]

[One is foolish, and the other is unrefined. A perfect match!]

[How can there be someone so fake like Meghan?]

[Mr. Fowler, please show Evangeline instead. I'd rather watch Evangeline in a daze than Meghan being cheap!]

Meanwhile, Evangeline had grilled a fish.

Kendrick, Travis, and Jolene sat nearby, looking at her eagerly, their mouths watering. They didn't care to ask for the fish. They understood that Evangeline was firm and decisive. If she didn't want to share, asking for the fish would be pointless.

Evangeline had a bite of the grilled fish and placed another one on the fire

While eating the delicious and tender fish, Evangeline looked toward Kendrick and others and narrowed her eyes.

Kendrick said, "We're just looking. We won't steal it."

After starving for days, they couldn't steal it even if they wanted to

Evangeline asked calmly. "Do you have any talent?"

The three looked confused. "What?"

Evangeline said. "If you can do something entertaining, I'll give you food."

Travis glared at her. "Are you treating us as clowns! Even though you're awesome, you can't insult people!"

Surprisingly, before he finished speaking, Jolene eagerly stood up and rushed to Evangeline. "Are you serious? I can sing. Is it okay?" Evangeline nodded. "Yes."

Jolene asked, "What song do you u want to hear?"

Evangeline said, "It's up to you."

Jolene thought for a moment and said, "Then I'll sing my favorite song-Memories. The school used to play this song every day. Evangeline nodded.

Jolene cleared her throat and began to sing

"Here's to the ones that we got. Cheers to the wish you were here, but you're not. 'Cause the drinks bring back all the memories of everything we've been through

Toast to the ones here today. Toast to the ones that we lost on the way, 'Cause the drinks bring back all the memories. And the memories bring back, memories bring back you.

Dinner does taste better with shows, Evangeline thought.

Jolene had a good voice and sang well. But because she hadn't eaten for too long, her singing sounded weak.

But Evangeline didn't stop it.

They had one thing right about her-indifference.

She was indeed indifferent to people she didn't care about. She wouldn't sympathize with them, even if they were about to die before her.

She had seen too many such scenes, and her compassion had long been consumed.

Not until Jolene finished singing did Evangeline say, "Wait a moment. I'll give you this fish after it's grilled."

Jolene smiled happily and sat next to Evangeline. Thank you, Evangeline."

Jolene behaved in a flattering way in front of Evangeline since the latter was too powerful,

Evangeline didn't care.

Kendrick stood up and said, "I don't sing well, but I've learned some swordplay in acting. Can I use a branch as a sword for a performance?" Evangeline nodded, "Sure." Kendrick quickly went to search for a suitable branch in the forest. He returned with a branch about the length of a sword and began performing swordplay.

After a while, music suddenly filled the air-Travis began playing a flure made of leaves.

The majestic music, paired with Kendrick's precise moves, was more enjoyable to watch than many carefully planned performances.

Evangeline raised her eyebrows and thought. These two do have some talents!

Kendrick was so dedicated that he performed for almost 15 minutes.

Travis also played along for 15 minutes.

00 * 00 00 00 00 0000000 0000

Kendrick performed the swordplay until he was sweating and panting.

Travis blew the leaf until he was almost out of breath, his face turning red.

"Bravo! That is the best performance I've ever seen! You two are amazing. Kendrick is strong, and Travis has great lung capacity!" Jolene clapped enthusiastically.

She thought. "They still have the strength to perform after starving for such a long time. It's truly amazing!"

As she spoke, Kendrick and Travis both collapsed at the same time.

"Ah! What's wrong with you?" Jolene was scared. She quickly got up to check on them,

But because she got up abruptly, she blacked out and fell to the grass.

Evangeline said, "They fainted due to hypoglycemia, just like you"

Jolene scratched her head awkwardly and thought, "Having not eaten for so long and having performed so hard, they're indeed hypoglycemia"

[What should I do? My values seem shaken. It was wrong of them to team up against Evangeline with Meghan carlier, but now I find myself somehow drawn to them]

(I don't think it's their fault. They listened to Meghan out of fear of upsetting the Gallagher family. They were used as tools. It wasn't their intention.)]

[That's right, they're kind by nature. They were concerned about Samson when he was in danger.]

[Before the production team left, they were also unkind to Evangeline...]

I guess that's normal, isn't it? After all, Evangeline has a bad reputation. They naturally don't want to have anything to do with her. Didn't we criticize Evangeline earlier, too? Many people even praised Meghan for her beauty and kindness.]

The audience in the live room debated whether to forgive Kendrick and Travis.

At the scene, Kendrick and Travis quickly recovered from brief dizziness. They got up from the ground and sat by the fire, staring intently at the grilling fish.

They kept gulping as they smelled the aroma, thinking. It smells so good! I want to eat it now, even if it's half-cooked. But they eventually resisted the urge After the fish was was grilled. Evangeline allowed the three to share it among themselves.

Although they were hungry, they acted respectfully and shared the food without fighting

"It's been four days. I finally have decent food" Jolene couldn't help but cry while eating.

A sudden warmth amidst misery could easily make people break down.

Kendrick and Travis were also moved but didn't cry.

Meanwhile, Samson came came over with Meghan after getting changed.

They saw Jolene, Kendrick, and Travis sitting with Evangeline, enjoying the delicious aroma of grilled fish together. Meghan thought Evangeline had finally given in and shared the food with everyone, including her and Samson. Samson paused and thought the same as Meghan. His disgust and hatred for Evangeline lessened a bit.

He thought. It seems Evangeline still has a conscience and can be saved. If I guide her well, maybe she can become a normal person. Meghan let go of Samson's hand and hurried over angrily. She glared at them and yelled, "How can you be so selfish! You ate before Sam and I came back to eat our share. You're horrible! The rest is Sam's and mine. You can't eat it. Give it to me!"

With that. Meghan was about to snatch the fish. There are two-thirds of each fish left. I can fill my stomach she thought Fearful that she couldn't match Travis and Kendrick's strength, she didn't approach them but targeted Jolene, Let Sam steal the one in their hands! she thought.

"Bitch, the rest is mine. Give me my fish!" Meghan cursed angrily and quickly reached out to grab Jolene's wrist.
