

Revenge Of The Rogue Heiress

Rogue 151

Chapter 151

Evangeline patted him on the shoulder and said, "There is no one else here. Stop pretending. I won't blame you"

A smile appeared on Dexter's face. "I did it deliberately. They have bullied you before. Even if they die, they won't be able to live in peace.

"Although they said they were wrong when y were alive, they just said that and didn't do anything to make up for you. Th not sincere at all. We can't write off their crimes just because they died."

Although Evangeline didn't accept their apology and was unwilling to make peace with them. But if they were wrong, they could make up for it on their own, for example, by using money to compensate and apologizing to the public. When they deliberately slandered Evangeline for Meghan and let her be abused by the public, they should bear the same retribution as before.

But they didn't do anything. They just said something nice. What's the point of talking if they didn't do anything?

They hadn't made any real compensation for what they did to Evangeline.

When they confessed, they found excuses and said that they were deceived by Meghan. They believed they had a good reason to make a mistake, but Evangeline didn't forgive them.

Evangeline said, "Well, you're right. From the moment they wanted to kill me, we were destined to be enemies. No matter how miserable they ended up, I would never forgive them."

She took the garbage bag from Dexter and threw it into a trash can beside her. At this time, Wesley and Chester drove the car over. Evangeline and Dexter got into the car. The ashes had been mixed with the sewage, so there was no need to fish them out,

After returning home, Evangeline found a lawyer and handed over the death certificates of Bethany, Jasper, and Samson to him. The lawyer was responsible for the distribution of the property, The news of their death spread on the Internet.

In the Clusian tradition, death settled everything. And the weak always got sympathy,

Many people accused Evangeline on the Internet of being too cold-blooded and indifferent to her relatives.

[Edward is dead. Bethany, Jasper, and Samson are also dead. George and Meghan are missing. The richest man in Hofcaster was destroyed in such a short time. It's sad.]

[To be frank, I think Evangeline is a disaster. The Gallagher family's disaster was completely caused by her. She's a curse.]

[Although what the Gallagher family did to biological parents and brother after all.

fore was wrong, they are Evangeline's can't they be forgiven? If Evangeline had been more generous and forgave them, they wouldn't have died.]

[Evangeline is the most cold-blooded and ruthless person I have ever seen. Her brother was stabbed to death in front of her, but she wasn't moved at all. This kind of person is the most terrible. She is no good to us. She must be the most damned...]

[Ridiculous. You've never been there, so you will never get it. Have you forgotten how the Gallagher family treated Evangeline in the past? Samson and Meghan both treated Evangeline like that in front of outsiders. They would slap Evangeline if she didn't agree with them. When there was no outsider at home, their attitude must be worse. What was Samson's attitude when Meghan pushed Evangeline off the cliff? He didn't care about Evangeline. Why should she care about him?]

[Recently, hasn't someone found out that the previous slander about Evangeline was made up by the Gallagher family? They tried to trap Evangeline. How could Evangeline forgive them?] [That's right. Thanks to Evangeline's strong willingness and body, other people would have been killed by the Gallagher family. How could they live to see the retribution to the Gallagher family?] [Come on! The Gallagher family deserves that. If they were alive, they would still bully ordinary people like us. We can't support an evil capitalist who would harm us.]

[They deserved death. Anyway, I've begun to celebrate. Those who sympathize with them, why don't you go to hell and accompany them?]

The edited version of Jungle Survival was finally launched.

Although many people had watched the live-stream version, when the variety show was launched, it still became a hit. And it ranked the top among all programs.

The voices on the Internet calling for Evangeline to participate in variety shows and make more films and TV dramas increased. Unfortunately, Evangeline did not respond at all.

When the director's call came, Evangeline was fighting with Dexter in the boxing gym.

The phone rang several times, but Evangeline didn't answer it until the phone rang again after a new round ended.

The director's laughter came from the phone. "You finally answered the phone. I thought you had put my number on the blacklist."

Evangeline asked, "Who are you?"

The director said, "I'm Dallas Fowler from Jungle Survival. Do you remember me? Recently, Jungle Survival has been aired. It's well-ed and popular among netizens. So I want to invite you to do an exclusive....erview. Is it convenient for you?"

Evangeline said, "The 20,000 dollars you promised me haven't been given to me yet."

Dallas was silent for a few seconds and said with an embarrassing smile, "You have a good memory."

She made hundreds of millions of dollars in Xtreme Survival. The 20,000 dollars was nothing to her.

Dallas calmed down and continued, "How about this? If you accept my interview, I'll give you 180 thousand dollars as your reward. With that 20,000 dollars, it will be just 200 thousand dollars. After the interview, I'll give it to you."

Evangeline asked, "What is the interview about?"

Dallas said, "Just some simple questions. There will be a bottom line. Your privacy is safe with me."

Evangeline said, "OK, but I'm not in Hofcaster right now, and I won't fly back just for an interview."

Dallas immediately said, "I'll take the team to you. The interview venue is up to you."

Evangeline said, "Then come tomorrow. I'll send you the time and address. Before long, she would accompany Dexter to work in the Johnson residence's company. There was no time for any interviews. If it hadn't been for the whole Jasper thing that made Dexter feel too emotional and needed time to adjust, he would have long been taken by his parents to deal with business.

Dallas said, "Okay. I'll go to Lyrendia with my team right now. See you tomorrow!"
