[There is an exclusive interview. Is it Evangeline? I can finally see Evangeline again!]

[Other guests have all lost their reputation. It should be Evangeline, right?]

[Anyway, it must be Evangeline! If ren't for Evangeline, I would curse Mr.

[Mr. Fowler, if you don't clarify, I will take Evangeline as your interview guest. If I can't see her tomorrow, you should bear the consequences yourself.]

[Mr. Fowler, you must persuade Evangeline to go on more variety shows and shoot more dramas after seeing her. I have watched Evangeline's dramas and variety shows more than ten times.]

[Mr. Fowler, please ask Evangeline what the relationship between her and those two handsome guys is. Is it possible that one of them will become her boyfriend?] [Mr. Fowler, I'm begging you to invite those two handsome guys to be stars.]

Hearing the news, countless netizens commented on that tweet. They wrote down all the questions they wanted to ask and begged Dallas to get the answers tomorrow.

Others couldn't resist the urge to investigate the identities of Dexter and Arthur online.

Dexter's identity was relatively mysterious, and there was no other information on the Internet except for the photo of him taken with Evangeline not long ago. But Arthur was in the business field, and although he hadn't been on the entertainment news, Hofcaster's local financial newspaper regularly reported on him.

Soon, someone exposed Arthur's identity, and someone from the business families came forward to confirm that Arthur, the richest man in Hofcaster, was the boss of the Ferdinand Group.

No one had revealed his identity as the eldest son of the Rouse family.

The Rouse family had a certain status in Lyrendia. Before the Rouse family announced it to the public, no one else dared to speak out.

Dexter's identity was not revealed because they didn't dare to offend the Johnson family.

With their fame, it was easy to find out their identities.

The people who could attend the same event with big families like the Johnson family and the Rouse family were all from upper-class families. They knew what was at stake and what should be said. But it was enough for netizens to be excited when they found out Arthur was the richest man in Hofcaster.

[Damn it! He is the richest man in Hof r! He is handsome and rich. He is perfect.]

[Newspapers say he's 26 years old, and he is the richest man in Hofcaster? The difference between people is too big...]

[His name is Arthur. That's a wonderful name.]

[It's mysterious. I'll change my name tomorrow.]

[Yeah, you're right. I'll change too.]

[I'm so distressed. I suddenly know such a handsome, young, and rich man. Should I marry Evangeline or him?]

[Now that you're dreaming, be bold and marry both of them. A wife and a husband.]

[I'll take it. I want Evangeline and Arthur, as well as the other handsome man.]

After Evangeline hung up the phone, a WhatsApp invitation popped up. It was a group video created by Arthur's friends.

Evangeline was stunned. She hadn't talked to them for a while, and she almost forgot about them.

Evangeline quickly answered the video. Only Steven and Arthur were on the video chat.

But behind Steven were Hugo and Finnegan.

As soon as it got through, they waved their hands enthusiastically at the video.

Steven said, "Evangeline, long time no see. Have you forgotten us?"

Evangeline said, "Of course, I didn't."

All three were very happy.

Arthur asked disdainfully, "If you three have any questions, just say it. Don't waste our time."

Hugo pretended to be sad and said, "Alas, someone's status is different now. He is one class higher than us all of a sudden. He looks down on us and doesn't even want to talk to us anymore."

Time passed quickly, and it was the next day in the blink of an eye.

Steven and the others arrived at four o'clock in the afternoon. Evangeline sent Chad to pick them up, along with Arthur, and took them to her private villa.

She asked Chester and Scott to buy ingredients and drinks for a barbecue in the yard of the villa tonight.

Wesley went to the villa first, moved out the tables and chairs, and prepared some fruit, snacks, and drinks,

When Chad took Arthur and the others there, Evangeline hadn't arrived.

Wesley had already set up the table and chairs in the yard, so they rested directly there, chatting while waiting for Evangeline

While eating the snacks, Hugo looked at Arthur jokingly and said. "I remember someone once said that he only admired Evangeline and didn't want to have any other feelings for her. Why did he suddenly agree to stay in Lyrendia? Because of Evangeline? In the past, your father begged you to go home, but you refused." Steven took a chip from Hugo's hand and threw it into his mouth. He asked Arthur curiously while chewing. "How are things going with you and Evangeline?" "Oh, no. Last time we had a video call with Evangeline, there was a man beside her. Is that the man who was photographed with you not long ago?"

"Judging from the photos, he is as good-looking as you. Can you win?"

Arthur glanced at them and said in a low voice. "Don't think too much. I regard Evangeline as my friend. I didn't come back to the Rouse family for Evangeline. I simply want their money?"

The three of them looked at each other with disdain. "Really?"

"I hope you can continue to be tough when Evangeline is with someone else.

"It seems that someone was sad secretly when he heard Evangeline was with a man last time.

Arthur was speechless, but they didn't continue to make fun of him. They quickly shifted the conversation to Evangeline.

"I haven't seen Evangeline for a long time. We must get drunk tonight."

"I'm good at drinking now. I must get Evangeline drunk this time?"

"Haha, I've also practiced secretly. My family dog can't drink more than me."

The more they talked, the more excited they became. The excitement in their hearts could not be vented, so the three of them jumped up and down in the yard.

Even Arthur was dragged to join them and crawled around the yard together. At this time, Evangeline had arrived at the gate of the community with Dexter and happened to meet Dallas.

Dallas took three staff members, one carrying the shooting equipment, one holding a radio microphone, and one holding a mobile phone for live broadcast.

After greeting Evangeline, Dallas immediately asked the staff to turn on the live stream and then walked towards her villa while chatting with her.

The netizens had been waiting for the live stream since they saw the preview yesterday.

As soon as the live stream was on, thousands of netizens instantly went into the live stream room and even rushed to invite their friends to watch it.

As a result, the camera turned around and caught four strange-shaped things crawling around in the yard with weird screams.

Everyone was speechless
