

Revenge Of The Rogue Heiress

Rogue 41

Chapter 41

After the three crawled for a minute, Arthur mercifully let them stand up.

Steven clapped his hands and said, "This seems like a good exercise. My back feels much better now.

On the side, Hugo chimed in. "It does have some effect, but my hands feel a little sore."

Meanwhile, Finnegan began to doubt himself. "So, does that mean Evangeline is not sick?"

Everyone turned their gaze to Evangeline.

Evangeline scowled and said. "You guys are the ones who are sick. I'm perfectly fine!"

With that, she turned and walked back to the mansion.

Hugo trotted up with a simile and said, "Don't be angry. Arthur is just concerned about you, suspecting your mental state." you, since

He added, "By the way, I'm Hugo Snyder. I own an entertainment company. Since you've had a falling out with the Gallagher family, you probably won't stay in Edward's company, would you? If you're thinking of finding a new management company, consider mine. I won't deceive you're a friend of Arthur."

Evangeline replied indifferently. "Not interested. I'm not signing with you. Go away,"

Then she went upstairs.

Hugo was rendered speechless by her response.

Just then, Arthur walked up and grabbed Hugo by his collar. He pulled him back and warned, "Don't use your tricks on her. She's not someone you can mess with."

Hugo looked at Arthur in surprise. "Did you fall for Evangeline?"

Arthur lowered his gaze and said calmly, "No, she's just my business acr

Hugo looked contemptuous. "Don't be duplicitous here. You brought her home, yet say you're not interested in her? Why don't we see you bringing other women home?"

Steven chimed in, "That's right. You even did as she said. Only someone in love would go crazy and make a scene together!"

Arthur retorted, "Tell me I was forced to do so, would you believe me?"

Everyone looked unconvinced.

Hugo said, "Who could force you to do anything? You clearly did it willingly, savoring every moment!"

Steven said, "That's right. You don't look like you were forced to do so with your joyful expression."

Arthur was at a loss for words.

Hugo sighed and said with regret, "I've been staying up late every night these days to watch Evangeline's livestream. I was quite interested in her. But since you are, I'll stay back." Steven said,

1. d. "I admire Evangeline 100, as I've never seen such a unique woman. Unfortunately, you beat me to it..."

When he heard that, Arthur cast a cold glance at them.

Hugo hurriedly said, "Don't look at us like that. We didn't know you and her were acquainted, so we were interested in her. That's pretty normal. But now, we've given up. You can't blame us," Steven blinked and said curiously. "Evangeline was quite cold to Arthur earlier. It seems he has to put more effort into winning her over."

He added, "What do you think? How long will it take for Arthur to succeed!"

After he pondered, Hugo said, "The longest time I took to pursue a girl was ten days. Based on Arthur's conditions, he could win over any woman in a week if he takes the initiative:

Chapter 41

Arthur was handsome, had a good physique, and was wealthy. If he made a move, no woman could resist the temptation.

"With Arthur's condition, not just women, even men would agree if he makes a move on them." Finnegan said.

However, Steven begged to differ. "Evangeline is different from ordinary women. I think it might be slightly more challenging. It'll take at least two weeks to win her over."

"I don't think it's that simple. I guess it will take at least a month or more," Finnegan said.

Arthur unceremoniously knocked their heads one by one and warned, "I just admire Evangeline. Don't make jokes about us. If you dare to spread rumors, I'll cut off your tongues." Hugo rubbed his head and laughed. "We're just kidding. Don't get worked up."

Arthur snorted coldly in response. "If Evangeline sees you joking, and she gets angry and bears you up, don't feel wronged."

Surprised by what they heard, they didn't dare to make jokes about Evangeline anymore,

Having watched her livestream for seven days, the intimidating scene of Evangeline beating the monkey was enough to send shivers down their spines

If Evangeline laid hands on them, it would be terrifying.

After a while, Evangeline changed into a different outfit and came down.

She wore black pants, a hoodie, and a hat and covered her face with a mask

After he saw her outfit, Arthur asked. "Are you going out?"

Evangeline nodded. Yes, to take care of something"

Arthur asked. "What are you going to do. Need me to accompany you?"

Evangeline thought for a moment and said. "I'm going to make a police report. Can you lend me a car?"

"I'll drive you there." Arthur immediately stood up.

Evangeline declined his offer, "No need, just lend me a car."

"No. I don't like others driving my car?" Arthur refused.

Evangeline was at a loss for words

Without a choice, she could only accept Arthur's goodwill and let him drive her to the police station

Curious, Steven, Hugo, and Finnegan followed to watch the drama unfold.

At the police station, Evangeline took out her ID card and handed it to the police. Then, she said, "I want to file a complaint against Meghan Gallagher for attempted murder and Samson Gallagher for shielding a criminal"

The police verified Evangeline's identity and began recording her statement.

The police had also watched the livestream of Evangeline's variety show. Hence, they knew Meghan and Samson confessed to having pushed Evangeline off the cliff in the livestream.

However, despite knowing, the proper procedures had to be followed

After completing the statement, the police applied for a summons.

Several

police officers were dispatched to the Gallagher residence to summon Meghan and Samson

Meanwhile, Evangeline waited at the police station.

After half an hour, Meghan and Samson were brought to the police station

Apart from them, George and Bethany also arrived,

As soon as George saw Evangeline, his expression turned extremely unpleasant.

He walked briskly toward Evangeline, raised his hand, and was ready to slap her. "You unfilial girl! Have you not done enough harm by ruining Meghan's reputation! Now, you even want to sue her, wanting to send her to prison. Why are you so malicious? I'll bear you to death, you ingrate!"

His hand was halfway through when it was firmly and forcefully grabbed.

Before he could see who stopped him, the police, who had reacted, restrained him.

Subsequently, handcuffs were placed on his hands.

One stern-faced officer exclaimed, "Causing a disturbance at the police station, this is contempt of the police!"

He added, "To prevent you from harming others, you'll wear these handcuffs until you leave!"

George was furious. His face turned livid with anger as he angrily stated, "I'm disciplining my daughter. This is a family matter. Even police have no right to interfere

The enraged police officer retorted, "Even if she's your daughter, you can't physically harm her. Regardless of her identity, she is an independent citizen, and her personal safety is protected by law. If you dare to lay a hand on her, it's a crime. We have the right and duty to stop you and impose corresponding punishments!"

George was left breathless with anger but didn't argue further against the police's words.

He glared at Evangeline, only now noticing a tall and handsome man standing beside her.

It was the same man who had grabbed his wrist just now.

George knew him even if he turned into ashes.

He thought. Arthur Ferdinand!"

Over the years, Ferdinand Group had snatched many businesses from Gallagher Group, which led to their long-standing feud in the business world.

Moreover, with Evangeline recently selling her shares of Gallagher Group to Arthur, encounters between Arthur and George had increased since the former visited Gallagher Group often

However, each interaction between them ended unpleasantly.

George scolded angrily, "Evangeline, you ingrate! You sold the foundation that three generations of the Gallagher family worked hard to build to our rivals. Now, you're even trying to harm your brother and sister. Are you satisfied only if the Gallagher family is completely ruined?"

Evangeline chuckled and said, "The whole country's viewers know that Meghan and Samson harmed me first. How can you say I'm trying

harm

She added, "I'm just defending my own interests. If the Gallagher family ends up in ruins, it's your own fault. You reap what you sow. I have nothing to do with it."

In fury, George shouted, "Aren't you fine and alive now!"

Evangeline said, "Yes, I'm fine now, but it doesn't mean they didn't do wrong

George was enraged, "Family members should be tolerant of each other. Even if Meghan made a mistake, you should be generous and tolerant of her. Give her a chance to turn over a new leaf!

He continued, "If you insist on it, no one will dare to marry a narrow-minded woman like you who disregards the interests of her family. Be good and drop the charge against Meghan. We'll talk about it at home. As long as you withdraw the lawsuit, I will forgive what you have done before and let you return to the Gallagher residence

Evangeline mocked, "Are you you getting senile? I left the Gallagher residence of my own free will. It's because I couldn't stand being associated with you people, I look down on you."

She added, "Now you're using the idea of returning to the Gallagher residence to tempt me? With your twisted logic, I guess I'll have to sue them relentlessly. Otherwise, if your already questionable mind thinks I have lingering feelings for you people and wants me back, that would be a disaster for me.

George's face contorted with rage. "You wicked girl! Back then, I shouldn't have allowed you to be born! I shouldn't have brought you back to the

Gallagher residence. A heartless and selfish person like you, who disregards family interests, deserves the hardships you're facing outsider

Evangeline casually scratched her ear and said, "You make it sound like I'm eagerly waiting to be taken back to the Gallagher residence. If it weren't for you begging me and promising compensation, how could you have tricked me into returning?"

After he heard that, George was too angry to speak.

He glared at Bethany. "What are you standing there for? You birthed this calamity. Won't you persuade her to drop the charges against Meghan?"

Bethany looked at Evangeline with mixed feelings.

She resented Meghan, but she didn't dare defy George's decision.

Moreover, Meghan was the daughter she had pampered for twenty years. Hence, she still had some affection for her.

Bethany slowly spoke. "Evangeline, Meghan did wrong by pushing you off the cliff, but she has realized her mistake. For my sake, can't you let it she sarcastically remarked, "Where do you get the confidence to ask for a favor here? For your sake? Humph, you act like some big shot. Do I think you deserve my respect?"

Her face turned red with embarrassment as she snapped, "I am your mom. I gave birth to you. What's wrong with you listening to me? I didn't to give me back your life. I only want you to heed my advice. Is that too much to ask? How can you be so unfilial??"

She replied, "You ingrate, you are truly heartless, even to your own mom. You have no conscience! I shouldn't have given birth to you in the first place. You are a disaster, causing chaos in our family!"

Evangeline coldly laughed. "You brought me into this world without my consent and then failed to protect me. Letting me suffer all by myself after being abducted.

She continued, "After finding me, you coerced and deceived me to return home, promising compensation, only to treat me like an outsider. Giving cold shoulder every day. Consider yourself lucky I didn't hold you accountable. And now you want me to be filial to you? Where do you get that?" she explained. "It's not my fault you were switched at birth. How can you blame me for that? As for your treatment at home, it's because you've bullied Meghan. We, as elders, were only trying to educate you. How can you bear a grudge against us?"

Evangeline continued to rant, "Your dad and I scolded you for your good. It's called tough love. You don't see us reprimanding others, do you? It's because we care about you and hope you become the better version of yourself! Don't misunderstand our intentions as parents. We won't blame you. Now behave yourself and come home with us. it that moment, a policeman approached and said, "The interrogation with Samson has concluded. He admitted to the intentional murder by Meghan and confessed to his complicity. Hence, we are legally detaining him. On the other hand, Meghan is still being stubborn, but her rguments are inconsistent

The policeman added, "She previously admitted to intentional murder on camera, which will be used against her. We'll detain her for further questioning. Once we have the results, we will file a lawsuit in court, but it will take some time. You don't need to wait here. Please go home. We will inform you of any updates.

Upon hearing this, George was furious. His eyes were filled with anger. "That unlikable son, Samson, how dare he accuse Meghan of intentional murder?"

He continued, "Meghan was just frightened, in a confused state of mind, and accidentally pushed Evangeline off the cliff. It wasn't intentional. At most, it was negligence causing harm!"

Evangeline sneered, indifferent to their words, and stood up, leaving the police station without wasting her breath.

Chapter 12

At the police station's entrance, Hugo couldn't hold back any longer. "Evangeline, your family is too biased. Their minds are abnormal. My goodness, listening to them makes my fists clench. If we weren't at the police station, I'd want to shut their mouths with a beating!"

Steven said, "I also think there's something wrong with their minds. Evangeline was the one who was hurt, yet they didn't utter a word of concern. Instead, they accuse her of being malicious. They think the person who pushed someone off the cliff is kind and the one who was pushed is evil. Do they have a different moral compass?"

Finnegan chimed in. "Did that girl Meghan save their lives? Why are they so protective of her? For an adopted daughter, they don't care about the life and death of their biological daughter. They even continuously humiliate their biological daughter for the sake of the adopted one. It's something a normal person won't do!"

All three were furious, displaying disdain and anger when discussing the Gallagher family.

Meanwhile, Evangeline's gaze darkened.

She wondered how the Gallagher family could be brainwashed to such an extent.

Even after they saw Meghan's true colors, they still wanted to defend her.

Arthur cast a sympathetic gaze at Evangeline. "Have they always treated you like this at the Gallagher residence?"

Evangeline shrugged and said indifferently, "More or less, but I don't care about their attitude toward me anymore"

Then, Arthur spoke in a low voice. "It's okay. You'll meet people who genuinely love you in the future. Those kinds of family members, you're better off without"

She checked the time and said, "I'm going to Superb Entertainment to terminate my contract"

Arthur nodded. "Okay I'll go with you"

Hugo chuckled. "I'm going too. I'm rivals with Edward. Due to Meghan's incident, no one in the industry dares to cooperate with him. They're coming to me for collaborations now, and I want to mock him!" Evangeline didn't mind.

She was okay with them following her. After all, she wouldn't be the one humiliated.

Evangeline contacted the lawyer who notarized her contract and brought the documents to Superb Entertainment.

Edward had someone take Evangeline to the conference room.

After quite some time, Edward arrived, looking displeased.

When he pushed open the conference room door, his face turned dark. Six people were sitting in the room, and his expression instantly darkened. Among the six people, Arthur was the archenemy of the Gallagher family, infiltrating the Gallagher Group's internal affairs. He had become a thorn in the side of the Gallagher family.

Since Evangeline sold Gallagher Group's shares to Arthur, they cursed him daily whenever they had the time, wishing him ill,

On the other hand, Hugo was his business rival.

Hugo owned an entertainment company as well. The two companies often competed for resources, celebrities, and management personnel, leading to a strained relationship.

Steven and Finnegan had no direct dispute with the Gallagher family.

However, as friends of Arthur and Hugo, the Gallagher family disliked them too, Edward entered with a sullen face, scanning the room with an unpleasant gaze before finally landing on Evangeline.

His feelings toward her, his biological younger sister, were complicated.

At first, he felt sympathetic when he discovered that Meghan was causing trouble for Evangeline behind the scenes

However, as the livestream progressed, the netizens supported Evangeline. Negative public opinion targeted the Gallagher family and their businesses, causing significant damage. Hence, he began to resent Evangeline.

10:31 AM

Chapter 42

All the businesses under the Gallagher Group were affected, with only the tangible businesses suffering slightly less.

However, his entertainment company was hit severely

It was almost devastating

Almost all the celebrities signed with his agency were attacked by angry netizens.

Fans boycotted not only Meghan but also all the celebrities under his company,

When a celebrity went to an event, they were surrounded and scolded. The scene was a mess.

Many business partners rushed to terminate contracts and demanded compensation.

Some celebrities who were filming were also kicked off their film crews.

Besides, endorsement deals for his celebrities were canceled.

His company was now in a state of complete shutdown.

If this crisis wasn't resolved quickly, the company faced the risk of bankruptcy.

However, it would be hard to get through such a severe crisis.

All this was caused by Evangeline

"Come with me to the office. What we need to discuss is an internal

"Why did you bring so many people here?" Edward said with a stern face, "C master and should not have outsiders present

Hugo smirked. "It's just contract termination, not some top-secret matter. Why can't there be outsiders? Are you planning to threaten Evangeline by seeing her alone?"

Edward's face changed, and he looked at Hugo coldly. "Don't judge others by your standards. Evangeline is my sister. Why would I threaten her?"

Upon hearing that, Evangeline corrected him indifferently. "Since the day I severed ties with the Gallagher family, I warned you not to associate with me. I'm not your sister anymore."

Edward's face darkened. "Even if you don't admit it, it won't change the fact we share the same blood

Enraged, Evangeline forcefully kicked over a chair.

The chair flew toward Edward and hit his foot

"Ah!" Edward screamed in pain and squatted down to hold his foot. His face was twisted with pain. Evangeline said impatiently, "You're behaving the way you did because you think I won't get mad, right?" She added, "If you dare to provoke me again, I will drain your blood. Let's check if we really are related!" Edward trembled with pain, and beads of sweat formed on his forehead.

Upon hearing Evangeline's words, he nearly had a heart attack from anger.

He thought. She's way out of line...

I'm her brother!

"How could she do this to me?"

"She not only lacked a conscience but also any trace of humanity!"

Evangeline grew impatient, stood up, walked to Edward, and grabbed him by the collar, forcefully pulling him up from the floor.

With a loud thud, she slammed him onto the meeting table and slapped the termination contract prepared by the lawyer in front of him. "Quickly sign the contract. Don't waste my time." Evangeline demanded. Edward gritted his teeth and said. "Let's talk privately. After we are done talking. I will sign it."

Evangeline narrowed her eyes to slits. A cold glint in flashed across her eyes.

Without a word, she placed his left hand on the table and, with her right hand clenched into a fist, ruthlessly struck down

Thud!

"Ah!" Edward let out another miserable cry.

His whole body trembled with pain as his face contorted. "Evangeline, how can you, as a girl, be so violent? You're becoming more and more detestable! By acting like this, how can you compare with Meghan? Although she may have some inconsistencies, at least she's gentle. Unlike you, so violent, always resorting to physical violence!"

minds of the Gallagher family are not quite normal,"

After Hugo heard Edward's words, he couldn't help rolling his eyes. Tve noticed that the min

He added, "The livestream has exposed Meghan. She took the lead in forming gangs to bully Evangeline and pushed her off the cliff. Why do you still think she is good! Your brains are meant for thinking, not to be an accessory."

Steven said contemptuously, "Did Meghan not want to resort to physical violence? It's because she can't win!TM

Finnegan nodded in agreement. "That's right. Meghan took the lead in attacking Evangeline several times in the livestream, but they were no match for Evangeline."

Edward's face darkened

He paid no attention to their ridicule but glared at Evangeline with a sinister gaze.

Evangeline hooked her lips, smirking. "Hate me, huh? Can't stand me, huh? Well, you can go die."

She continued to provoke, "You can't beat me and can't outsmart me. Cursing at me won't change a thing. I'm not going to change. Look at you. It must be so tiring to be alive. End your life, and it's all over. You won't have to be angry anymore."

"You..." Edward was enraged and almost spitted blood. "You are heartless, wishing for me to die!"

Evangeline tilted her head and smiled innocently. "Wasn't it you who wanted me dead first! You made me sign that contract, intending to expose me to cyberbullying, pushing me to end my life, right? Don't tell me you didn't know the consequences when you had me sign that contract,"

She continued. "As the owner of an entertainment company, you know exactly what would happen if I followed that contract. But when you made me sign it, there was no hesitation. Even after I signed it, I could see the satisfaction and schadenfreude in your eyes. Do you think you deserve my sympathy?"

Edward's handsome face turned red.

His lips moved, attempting to explain, but he found no

I no words.

When they were discussing the contract, the intention was to subject Evangeline to online attacks as a punishment.

He was well aware of the power of cyberbullying.

Many people were driven to depression and had even taken their own lives due to cyberbullying.

However, Edward thought they couldn't be blamed.

At that time, Evangeline beat up their whole family and sold the shares of Gallagher Group to their competitor at a low price. She seemed determined to ruin the Gallagher family. Hence, they felt justified in teaching her a lesson.

"Stop

p talking nonsense and sign this quickly, or I will break your other hand, Evangeline impatiently declared.

10:31 AM

Chapter 43

Edward gritted his teeth, picked up the pen. and forcefully signed the contract, sealing it with the company's stamp.

Then, Evangeline handed the contract to the lawyer.

The next step involved the lawyer completing the necessary procedures and officially terminating her contract with Superb Entertainment..

From now on, she would be a free agent.

Evangeline turned and left Superb Entertainment.

As soon as she walked out of the company, her phone rang.

It was a call from the police station.

Evangeline answered the phone quickly.

The police officer on the phone sounded apologetic. "Evangeline, I have news for you. George stated that Meghan has a mental disorder. He had a psychiatrist to check on her, and the psychiatrist diagnosed her with schizophrenia. She has been released for now. As for Samson, he has been released on bail Evangeline responded calmly, I see. Thank you."

After hanging up the phone, she curled her lips into a smile.

Reporting to the police was just a procedural step.

It also let the Gallagher family understand her determination and dispelled any unrealistic fantasies they might have.

Before reporting to the police, she knew that even if the charges against Meghan were proven, the Gallagher family had the means to get her out.

Although the family business of the Gallagher family was affected, it didn't collapse entirely. Getting Meghan out of trouble was only a trivial maller

Their accumulated connections and relationships over three generations would be worthless if they couldn't handle such a minor issue. "Have Meghan and Samson been released!" Arthur asked. His tone showed no surprise. Apparently, he expected this outcome.

Evangeline nodded and replied. "Yes, they are out. However, they will soon realize that prison is their sanctuary. The real hell awaits them outside. Arthur raised an eyebrow and smiled.

He thought, It seemed she didn't intend to let the Gallagher family go.

Arthur said, "If you need help, just let me know. I'll assist you."

396699

Hugo raised his hand and said, "Count me in I can help you, too!"

Steven said. "And me! And me!"

Finnegan touched his nose and said, "I can't help you with your revenge. But if you ever feel mentally disturbed, I can offer my support."

Thud!

Arthur punched Finnegan on the head with force. "Watch your words, don't casually curse people for being mentally disturbed" Evangeline didn't respond to them. She walked forward and said, "I am in a good mood today. I will treat you all to a meal!"

Hugo suggested, "Well, there's a new fancy restaurant on Xosa Street How about trying it

Evangeline said, "It's my treat. It's up to me. We'll eat wherever I want."

Hugo smiled, "All right, we'll follow where you lead us, ma'am. We'll have whatever you treat us!"

With a disdainful expression, Steven criticized, "You're calling someone several years younger than you 'ma'am'? You're making her sound old!"

24

10:31 AM

Chapter 43

Hugo said, "Despite being younger than me, her aura is stronger. Calling her 'ma'am' is fitting"

The two bantered like a pair of artillery guns, exchanging words without stopping.

Half an hour later, the group sat around a table in a small restaurant, each with a bowl of fermented fish noodle soup in front of them

Evangeline slurped on the noodles and drank some iced cola. Satisfied, she let out a belch.

The other four stared at their bowls with grave expressions, not moving their forks for a long time. "Evangeline, is this edible?" Arthur's gaze looked complicated, his brows furrowed in resistance, Evangeline rolled her eyes at him and said. "Tim eating it now. Are you asking if it's edible?"

Arthur was at a loss for words.

Evangeline said, "If you don't want to eat it, stay away from me. Those who cannot stomach this cannot be trusted. Don't think about getting close to me!

Upon hearing that, Arthur's mouth twitched.

He thought. Is she for real?

After an internal struggle, he reluctantly picked up his fork and started to eat

"How is it? What does it taste like? Does it resemble shit? Anxiously, Steven asked.

Arthur twitched the corner of his mouth and glanced at him. "I haven't eaten that before, so how would I know what it tastes like?"

Steven was rendered speechless.

Suddenly, Arthur said, "It tastes okay. You can give it a try.

Upon hearing Arthur's words, the others finally picked up their forks and started eating.

The noodles were addictive. The more they ate, the more they liked it.

Initially, they wore expressions of disdain, but in the end, they finished their bowls and even drank two sips of the soup.

After leaving the noodle restaurant, Steven suggested going to the Amusement Villa. This place was his family business dedicated to entertaining the wealthy, a place ordinary people couldn't easily access. Evangeline had no objections.

She hadn't properly enjoyed herself during her year back in Hofcaster.

Steven said, "My family's resort is close to Noffort Circuit. We can go there in the evening to watch the races. This year's international competition is held there tonight"

He added, "By the way, ma'am, are you interested in car racing? If you aren't, you can go somewhere else with Arthur tonight. The racing venue belongs to my family. I have to check it out."

"Did Jasper sign up for it?" Hugo asked.

Steven nodded and said, "Yeah, he also signed up. He participates every year. Last year, it was held in Wallera, and he joined too, ranking in the top

ten"

Hugo said, "He's quite persistent. I heard he participates every year, only to catch the attention of Queen Jade. He aims for good results to get noticed by Queen Jade."

Jasper's idol was Jade.

Jade was a legendary figure in the racing world. Almost everyone who loved racing considered Jade as their idol.

Evangeline's eyes sparkled, and she asked, "Is it still possible to register now?"

Steven was puzzled. "What?"

Evangeline repeated, "Is it still possible to register now?"

Steven finally replied, "Well... Theoretically, it's too late because they've already sorted out the groups, and the slots are fixed."

He continued. "Although this competition isn't a major one, it's relatively formal, not just an entertainment race. For entertainment races, you can sign up anytime. But that's in theory. You can buy a slot to join at the last minute."

Evangeline said. "Can you help me buy a slot! I have a friend.

Steven said, "Certainly, many mediocre racers intentionally sign up to sell their slots. What's your friend's name? Tell me the name, and I'll contact the racing venue to arrange it. We can change the name on the slot"

"Jade, Evangeline replied.

Everyone's expressions froze, and they looked at Evangeline in astonishment.

Steven asked. "Are you kidding me?"

10:32 AM

Rogue 44

"Do I look like I'm kidding? Evangeline looked at Steven calmly.

Steven's heart trembled.

He gulped to suppress his shock and said, "Okay. I'll contact the people at the racing venue now, but you must promise to get Queen Jade here! I'll pay the registration fee first, and if Queen Jade comes, you don't have to pay me back, it'll be my treat for Queen Jade. If she doesn't come, you must pay me the registration fee and liquidated damages! If one doesn't participate after registration, they would have to pay ten times the liquidated damages and be suspended for three years.

Evangeline nodded. "I know"

Steven said no more and stepped away to make the phone call

After arranging everything, they began to have fun in the Amusement Villa

It was a big place with lots of recreational facilities,

There were golf courses, an equestrian club, shooting ranges, and other extreme sports facilities.

Evangeline was interested in horseback riding.

She went round the stable and was disappointed after seeing the horses.

These horses were well-bred, but they were not racing horses, so it was boring to ride them.

Evangeline chose a horse casually and was ready to ride two laps,

"Choose another horse. This one is too fierce and difficult to tame. It has injured people too. Steven persuaded Evangeline looked at him in confusion. "Fierce?"

Steven smiled bitterly and said, "Yeah. Back then. I saw it was tall and strong, and I thought customers would like it, so I spent more than 200 thousand dollars to buy it. But after I brought it back, several horse trainers failed to tame it, and some other trainers were kicked and had yet to recover. Arthur also tried, but even someone as powerful as him couldn't tame it, so I can only keep it as a trophy horse as he finished his explanation, the so-called fierce horse knelt before Evangeline and neighed. Evangeline climbed on the horse,

As

The horse stood up and began to walk slowly..

Evangeline patted its butt, and it started to run faster.

Everyone was dumbfounded

After a while, Steven came back to his senses and rubbed his head in confusion. "Did Evangeline do anything? She didn't do anything. Why did the horse succumb to her and even try to flatter her? Arthur chuckled. "Animals are spiritual, especially horses. A spiritual horse will choose its owner. In ancient times when wars were frequent, those spiritual horses would carry the body of their masters, who died in battle. home."

If the master fell off before they died, the horse would take the initiative to bend down and let them climb on it

But if the master could not move anymore, some horses would nudge the body until it was on their back and carried them home.

Hugo looked at Evangeline, who had gone far away on horseback, and exclaimed, "Someone who can get the adoration of animals must be a good person."

Finnegan nodded in agreement. "Yes, both children and animals rely on perception to determine how much they like a person. They can perceive the person's aura. The purer the aura, the more attractive it will be to children and animals because staying close to that person is comfortable," Evangeline rode for a while and then lost interest,

The horse was not intense enough, and its speed was also not fast enough to be worth a ride.

Evangeline rode back to where she started.

The horse knelt attentively so that she could dismount easily.

Steven smiled and said, "This horse seems to like you very much. Why don't I give it to you? No one else can ride it anyway. You can keep it here and come ride it whenever you have time." The horse seemed pleased and neighed twice, its lips flapping on both sides.

Evangeline shook her head. This horse is only average. I don't want it

Steven's smile froze.

It was already the best horse in his equestrian club, but she called it average.

He said stubbornly. "If you don't like such a good horse, have you ever seen a better one?"

Evangeline smiled and did not answer.

"I'm going to play something else. Lock this horse up. She handed the reins to Steven and went to other venues.

The moment Steven took the reins, the horse kicked its hind legs angrily.

It was Arthur who pulled him away from getting kicked.

If Steven got kicked, he would either die or be disabled,

Steven was furious. He glared at the horse. "I provide you with food and shelter. How can you treat me like this? You're so obedient before Evangeline, but she looks down on you. How dare you be malicious to me who treats you well?"-

The corner of Arthur's mouth twitched. He asked, "Why are you arguing with a horse? I'm going to accompany Evangeline. Have fun on your own." Then he strode toward Evangeline.

However, by the time he caught up with Evangeline, she was already speeding freely on the grass on a tandem bike with another girl.

With just her feet, Evangeline rode the bike at 30 miles per hour.

Arthur was speechless and wondered, 'Isn't this an activity for couples!

Why is Evangeline playing with a girl!

"Besides, she didn't know that girl, did she? How did they get together?"

Is she that good at socializing?

The girl was sitting behind Evangeline and screaming all the time. She looked very happy and excited

Arthur was a little jealous of her as he watched from the sideline.

Evangeline seemed to enjoy the activity very much. She played for over an hour and knocked away all the bicycles on the site.

Those who were hit were not angry and even excitedly took out their phones to take photos.

When Evangeline stopped, those people immediately ran over and surrounded her to ask for photos and autographs,

Evangeline smiled and signed for them.

Several teenagers were crawling on the ground excitedly, shouting as they crawled, "Evangeline, do you think I'm doing it right? Many people in our class are your fans. We also had a crawling competition in PE class, and I was the fastest. However, my classmate said that I'm far beneath your skill. Could you give me some advice?"

When Arthur looked at Evangeline, his lips twitched, then he could not help but chuckle,

He did not think she, a social butterfly, could feel embarrassed, too.

Chapter 44

They did not leave the Amusement Villa until 5 p.m.

After having dinner outside, they prepared to head for the racing venue.

Steven could not help but ask. "Evangeline, where is your friend? Why haven't you contacted her? The competition starts at seven. If you don't call her now, it'll be too late."

Evangeline said. "Don't worry. She won't be late. By the way, can I borrow a car for the race?"

Many racers had a racing team and used the team's car when participating in races.

However, she did not have a racing team, so it was too late to prepare a car.

Moreover, there were fixed standards for the model and its length and height, Finding a suitable one at this time was difficult.

Steven said, "Of course, I own several race cars, but the seats are adjusted according to my body. I don't know if it'll suit Queen Jade for the race. Evangeline said, "It doesn't matter as long as it meets the standards."

Steven nodded and said, "Okay. If she joins the competition, I will lend it to her for free. It doesn't matter if it is damaged! Even if the car was scrapped after being driven by Queen Jade, it is still a treasured artwork!"

Evangeline's mouth twitched and she thought. That's a little exaggerated!

Soon, they arrived at the racing venue.

Evangeline signed "Jade" on the sign-in book.

Steven and others thought she was signing on behalf of her friend, so they did not overthink

Evangeline had Steven show her the car first.

She got in the car, adjusted her seat, and drove one lap. After confirming there was no problem, she told him to send the vehicle to be checked.

Once all was done and they arrived at the racing venue, countless people were already present. On the big screen, the competitors' names and their groups were also publicized.

Someone saw Jade's name in the list of contestants.

Suddenly, the venue was in an uproar

Everyone was excited.

However, there were also doubts

Someone asked, "Did I see it wrongly? Jade is here?"

Another person wondered, "Why would Queen Jade participate in such a small competition Besides, she hasn't competed for a long time. Why start again suddenly!"

Since the sponsors were different, the prize was diverse. Even global competitions were segregated by superiority.

This competition did not have a hi prize.

A person asked, "A fake? Is someone pretending to be Queen Jade?"

Someone pointed out, "I think so too. In the past, Queen Jade always participated with Ewan Queen Jade is alone this time, so they must be a fake!"

Jade had an inseparable partner with the stage name Ewan. Their names were randomly made up. They would participate in any competition together and always occupied the first and second place.

In terms of overall skill, Jade was superior, so she had a better reputation.

However, if anyone in the circle knew about Jade, they would know Ewan's existence. Only laymen who were watching would recognize Jade alone.

Someone who knew Steven came to ask him about it.

Steven bit the bullet and said, "If nothing goes wrong, she should be the real one."

To be honest, he was not sure.

However, Evangeline was so calm that he thought he should trust her.

Nonetheless, there was less than half an hour left before the start of the competition, and Jade had not appeared, so he became a little unsure.

Just then, Jasper also came to find Steven.

Jasper was so excited that his eyes were so bright, and his body trembled uncontrollably.

"Steven, is Queen Jade really joining the competition? Where is she?" Jasper asked excitedly.

Steven was impolite to Jasper." "Just prepare for the competition. The rest has nothing to do with you."

Then, Jasper saw Evangeline beside Steven, and his face immediately darkened with a disdainful look in his eyes. "Evangeline, what are you doing here? This is not a place where you can run wild!"

Evangeline was looking elsewhere initially. Hearing Jasper's words, she looked at him and said indifferently, "If trash like you can be present here, why can't I?"

"You..." Jasper's face was flushed with anger.

"Jasper, if you want to make a scene here, I can only get someone to ask you to leave in advance. Steven's face darkened.

Jasper said in displeasure, "She's the one who's making a scene. Why do I have to leave

Steven rolled his eyes and said, "You're out of your fucking mind. It was you who yelled at Evangeline and insulted her first, yet you're telling me that she was making a scene. Just because you're crazy doesn't mean I am the same. Scram to the waiting area. Don't be such an eyesore!"

Jasper's face contorted with rage. He looked at Evangeline and sneered, "I didn't expect you to have such great capability to hook up with the youngest son of the Rouse family and make him humiliate me for you. You've only been out there for 19 years, yet you've already learned such a dirty trick. How disgusting!"

"Damn you." Steven was infuriated.

He raised his hand to hit Jasper but was stopped by

She would avenge herself and didn't need anyone's help

Steven put his hand down reluctantly.

"Don't think you can please me by doing this. No matter what you do, I won't forgive you. Also, don't say you are my sister at the racing venue. If Queen Jade knows that I have a shameful sister like you, and it affects her impression of me, I won't let you off! Jasper said to Evangeline sarcastically,

He thought Evangeline was trying to please him and win his favor by stopping Steven from beating him.

Unfortunately, he would not be moved by such a trivial matter.

He would never forgive Evangeline for ruining the Gallagher family.

"Idio Evangeline scoffed.

Jasper glared at Evangeline with a warning look and left.

"What an asshole!" Steven cursed at his back.

Arthur frowned and asked Evangeline in confusion, "There isn't a single sane person in the Gallagher family, and they all treat you badly. How could you stay in the Gallagher residence for a year!" Evangeline replied, "They weren't so bad before we fell out"

In addition, she was longing for family affection back then, so she put up with it

But three months ago, they stepped over her when she was injured to check on Meghan, who was only crying in fear. The glimmer of longing in her heart was completely wiped out

Arthur shook his head and felt sorry for her.

He glanced at Jasper's back with gloomy eyes, thinking to speed up and make the Gallagher family bankrupt.

Although Evangeline had given him a year, he couldn't wait that long anymore.

Seeing the attitude of the Gallagher family toward Evangeline, he wished he could turn into a monkey directly and punch them hard. Then, he would smash them onto the ground, turn them into minced meat, and feed them to dogs.

Time went by slo

Jade would compete in the third race.

However, there was still no sign of anyone looking for Evangeline when the second race was about to end.

The crowd kept looking around for Jade, not even in the mood to watch the race.

They didn't care about the race they had bet on and only wanted to see jade with their own eyes.

Steven, too, kept scanning around

When the second race was about to end. Steven finally couldn't help but walk to Evangeline and ask her in a low voice, "Evangeline, my dearest Tell me. Are you fooling me? Is Queen Jade not coming?" Evangeline blinked and asked, "Do I look like a woman of empty promises?"

Steven replied helplessly. "But Queen Jade hasn't arrived at this hour..."

Evangeline reassured, "Well, she's already here."

Steven was stunned and asked. "Where's she? Why couldn't I find her?"

He looked around but found no trace of Jade.

Then, he scratched his head and said, "Queen Jade always wears a mask in the competition. Is she hiding in the crowd without wearing a mask

Evangeline held his chin, turned his face toward her, and said seriously, "Stop looking around, I am Jade."

Not only Steven but everyone around was rendered speechless.

Evangeline frowned and asked, "What's with that face! Don't you believe me!"

Steven sighed and said, "Evangeline, stop messing around. How can you be Queen Jade? She's totally different from you. Queen Jade is a perfect woman, and you... He thought Evangeline was a mischief- maker and couldn't be Jade.

Hugo added. "If you say you're Ewan, we may believe it. At least, there's an 'E' in your name. As for Queen Jade, you don't have any association with her at all

Evangeline was speechless. She said, "Ewan is a man. How can you guys rather believe that I'm a man than Jade?"

She thought Jade was a woman, at the very least.

Everyone shook their heads

No matter what, they refused to believe Evangeline.

"Queen Jade is like a deity. Even her hair looks elegant. She won't crawl on the ground in the dark, let alone swing on vines in the forest and grunt like a baboon, Steven said. Words eluded Evangeline,

She looked at Arthur, but the latter looked away silently.

Evangeline's mouth twitched as she whispered inwardly, 'What the hell! Even Arthur doesn't believe me.

Evangeline shook her head and said, "Forget it. Believe me or not, that's your choice. Steven, take me to the dressing room"

The race was about to start. She had to change into her racing suit

Steven wanted to say something more but was dragged away by Evangeline.

The rest of the group pondered for a while and followed.

When they arrived at the dressing room, Evangeline took the racing suit and protective gear she had gotten Steven to prepare in advance and walked into the dressing room to get changed. When she came out in her racing suit, the group was stunned

"You look a little bit like Queen Jade after changing your clothes. Steven said.

"Gosh! You're not really Queen Jade, are you?" Hugo asked in a trembling voice.

"How's that possible? Finnegan was equally shocked.

Arthur stared at Evangeline for a while before walking over to put the helmet on her head.

That's more like it. It should be her, Arthur said seriously,

Everyone went silent for a moment but looked thrilled.

They were excited that Jade had become their friend.

However, the thought of their deity crawling in the forest, swinging on vines, sending monkeys flying, stealing bananas from the monkeys, beating every monkey hard, and becoming a monkey king gave them a deep sense of contrast

Their deity was now a psycho

It was not a big deal, though.

"You're full of surprises indeed. Jasper's reaction must be interesting if he knew the younger sister he despised was his idol, Queen Jade" Arthur was the first to return to his senses and chuckled.

"Haha! I'm looking forward to seeing his expression when he knows the truth" Steven laughed triumphantly.

Evangeline smiled slightly.

She didn't participate in the competition just to give Jasper a psychological blow

In truth, she had a big gift for Jasper,

Soon, it was Evangeline's turn.

There was a loud cheer as the car with Jade's name drove on.

"Queen Jade! Queen Jade! Queen Jade!"

"Gosh! Queen Jade is really here. I'm beyond blessed to get to meet her in such a small racing venue

I love you, Queen Jade. Welcome back!"

Jasper raced in the first race and had already advanced to the final.

Now, he was in the audience, watching the race,

He stared intently at Jade's racing car and saw the blurred figure inside the vehicle through the transparent glass window.

His blood was boiling, and his eyes were filled with excitement. Jade, Queen Jade... Finally, I'm able to see you at such a close distance and be on the same racetrack with you. You have to win, so we can race together in the final!

As the starting pistol was fired, the race began. Thirty racing cars galloped down the racetrack.

Although the vehicle types on the racetrack were similar, everyone fixed their gaze on one of them.

That was because the driver's skill was so conspicuous that anyone could tell it was Jade's unique skill at a glance

Without a doubt, Jade won first place in that group and advanced to the next round.

Halftime began, and the final would only start at 12 o'clock.

Once Evangeline alighted from the car, a group of enthusiastic contestants nished backstage to have a close look at Jade.

Jasper broke from the crowd and ran to the forefront.

Running toward Jade, he looked at her excitedly and was at a loss for an instant. He said, "Queen Jade, I'm your big fan. I've been in love with you since many years ago. Your words and deeds have always inspired me to move forward."

10:32 AM

He paused before continuing, "I had been through some dark days and survived after I accidentally heard something you said. You saved me! You said in an interview that you regard yourself as a seed. When you're deep in darkness, it's the time to absorb nutrients and accumulate strength. On the day you break through the mud, you should be the tallest tree, overlooking all living creatures, becoming others' belief, and making others look up to you, not the other way around. Because of your words, I survived the dark days and became an excellent person in others' eyes."

"Queen Jade, you're my most respected and favorite idol. It has always been my greatest wish to see you. I'm very happy to finally meet you today! I'll be delighted even more if we can be friends. Could you please give me a chance, Queen Jade?" he went on and looked into Jade's eyes expectantly and excitedly.

Jade wore a helmet, revealing only a pair of big, bright eyes.

For some reason, he thought her cold eyes looked somewhat familiar

Evangeline looked at Jasper indifferently and thought his happiness would soon be jeopardized.

Arthur, Steven, and the group took their bodyguards, squeezed into the crowd with difficulty, and walked up to Evangeline

Arthur kicked Jasper away.

That kick was more or less related to personal grievance.

"Queen Jade, let me take you to the lounge for a rest Steven suggested

Evangeline nodded.

She then moved toward the lounge with several people surrounding her.

Jasper anxiously chased after her and shouted, "Queen Jade, I really like you very much. Please take a look at me. Talk to me! Even if it's only one word!"

Steven rolled his eyes. "Evangeline said in the livestream that all of the Gallagher family members are idiots. She's right."

Jasper's expression changed. "Steven, what's your intention? You deliberately talk about that shameful scourge in front of Queen Jade. Are you trying to make her have a terrible impression of me? How vicious you are!"

Steven rolled his eyes hard at that.

He had no idea how Evangeline put up with those idiots for so long in the past.

Hugo patted Steven on the shoulder. "Stop rolling your eyes. Your eyeballs are going to be misaligned. Ignore him. Evangeline must have her own plan for not saying it now. We must trust her. She won't be merciful"

Steven's anger dissipated a little when he heard that.

He thought, 'Evangeline remains silent because she doesn't want Jasper to recognize her as Jade. She must have her own plan for doing that. Let's wait and observe

The group protected Evangeline and continued to walk forward

Jasper didn't give up and chased after them. He swept his gaze across the group before staring from the Gallagher family, the richest in Hofeaster. "I wish I could be your friend" Jade stopped in her tracks.

Jasper's eyes lit up when he saw that, and his face was full of joy.

He thought, I knew it Money can solve most of the problems in the world. Once Queen Jade heard that I wish she immediately stopped walking for me.

Jade slowly turned around and looked at Jasper coldly.

Jasper smugly put on a smile.

Then, he saw Jade raise her hands and give him two middle fingers.

The smile on Jasper's face froze.

Jade, extending two middle fingers, moved them up and down one after another and pointed them downward.

It was full of sarcasm

Jasper's face turned red, filling with shock and sadness.

He mused, 'I can't believe Queen Jade is giving me middle fingers! Why? What went wrong!

Steven burst out laughing, gloating over Jasper's misfortune. "Jasper, are you out of your mind? How shameless you are to say that your family is the richest in Hofcaster before the real richest man in Hofcaster!"

Jasper blushed. He said, "Arthur only became the richest man in the Hofcaster in recent two years. Our family had been the richest in Hofcaster for more than 20 years. Even if we're no longer the richest now, we still have a better foundation than Arthur d with a faint smile, "It's ridiculous. No matter how reluctant you are to admit it, your family has become the second richest Arthur, too, said coldly, "It seems that I have been too merciful to your family recently. That's why you don't take me seriously."

Hugo said

Jasper's expression changed when he heard that.

The whispered inwardly, 'Damn! Those people humiliated me like this. I wonder what Queen Jade will think of me now. She gave me the middle finger. Maybe those people spoke ill of me before her in private. How despicable!'

10:32 AM

Chapter 46

Jade, whom he had been thinking about, didn't want to spare him another glance and headed toward the VIP lounge.

After an hour's rest, the final began

The contestants went to the racetrack one after another.

Arthur and the others were not around when Jade headed to the racetrack. Jasper took the opportunity to run to her side and walked to the racetrack with her.

He said. "Queen Jade. I've something to tell you. Did Steven and the rest badmouth me in front of you! Don't believe them. They're deliberately slandering me. You see. They're friends with my younger sister. She's evil-minded and has been targeting and hurting our family. But I'm different from her, and she has already been expelled from the Gallagher family. Thus, you don't have to worry about me being as bad as she is. My vicious sister is very capable, though. After leaving the Gallagher family, she hooked up with Arthur and Steven. I don't know what kind of dirty tricks she used to enchant them and make them slander me in front of you

Jade glanced at Jasper coldly.

Jasper unexpectedly felt a murderous intent. He subconsciously trembled and stopped talking.

By the time he came to his senses, Jade was already inside her car.

He could only get in his car with regret, whispering inwardly. Forget it. I'll talk to Queen Jade after the race. Hopefully, I can get her phone number.

Only nine contestants were in the final, and they were required to drive on the circuit encircling the mountain for three laps.

It was not a particularly hard race track, but there were many curves that would put the racers skills to the test.

The race began with nine cars speeding down the track.

Jade's car was undoubtedly leading.

Jasper also drove fast and was in the second place.

However, he was overtaken by three cars in the first 90-degree turn.

After two laps, he was already in the last place.

Jasper was anxious, but he couldn't overtake.

Feeling utterly despair, he thought. It's not easy to meet Queen Jade and participate in the competition with her, yet I'm performing poorly. She must have thought I was useless and wouldn't notice me, let alone give me her phone number

Suddenly, he saw a familiar car ahead.

"Isn't that Queen Jade's car? How is that possible? Isn't she always in the first place? How can she be so far behind?" he murmured

Soon, Jasper drove right next to Jade's car.

Jade's car slowly moved slightly ahead of him after that.

Jasper's heart immediately raced.

"Ts Queen Jade waiting for me specially? Has she noticed me?" He talked to himself.

Jasper was so excited that his hands holding the steering wheel couldn't help trembling.

He took a deep breath, trying to calm himself down.

Overwhelmed by other things during a race was not a good thing

But no matter how he breathed, his heart continued to pound

What even more surprised him was that when they passed the next corner, Jade suddenly accelerated and drove in front of the cars that were slowing down for the corner, blocking their way, She even used her car to slam those cars toward the guardrails, forcing them to stop.

Jasper took the opportunity to overtake.

There were several corners again after that- jade used the same method to intercept those cars that had been driving ahead.

After the last turn, Jasper's car was already leading in the first place.

Jasper was so happy that he felt his heart was jumping to his throat.

"Queen Jade is helping me! I can't believe that! She must be attracted to me, that's why she helped me. Haha Arthur and Steven must be pissed off now. They've been bad-mouthing me before Queen Jade and must be angry to see that she has been helping me now." Jasper smiled cheerfully.

The finish line was not far away.

Jasper accelerated all the way there.

Now that Jade had gifted him the champion, he would never let her down.

However, Jade, who had been following closely behind, suddenly stepped on the accelerator before he could and sped up.

Jasper thought she was going to overtake, but he didn't care.

He was willing to give the first place to Jade.

To his surprise, Jade didn't overtake but slammed into his car from the left diagonal side.

The location she slammed into was the driver's side.

The strong impact made Jasper's mind go blank, and his vision went black instantly

It was impossible to react to the coll

"How could Queen Jade make a mistake in overtaking?"

"Could it be that Queen Jade has been out of action for too long and is rusty on the racing, so she made such a mistake?"

"Queen Jade isn't the same anymore..."

The audience in the stands was shocked to see the scene.

In their opinion, Jade was trying to overtake and crash into Jasper's car by mistake.

Meanwhile, Jade's car pushed Jasper's toward the finish line.

At the moment they were about to cross the finish line, Jade's car made a drift and crossed the finish line in reverse position.

The front of Jade's car was pushed against Jasper's, which happened to drive Jasper's car outside the finish line.

Evangeline then alighted from the car.

She waited until all the other cars had crossed the finish line before walking to Jasper's driver's side window,

The front of Jasper's car had been deformed by the crash.

The door was wholly deformed, especially the driver's side.

His legs were trapped under the seat. The windshield was shattered, pricking him bloody.

He had lost consciousness because of the enormous impact.

Jasper slowly regained consciousness but was so weak that he could hardly support his head.

As he raised his head with difficulty, the blood dripped from his forehead into his eyes.

He blinked a few times before the discomfort in his eyes finally disappeared.

Then, he turned his head with difficulty and looked at the familiar figure standing outside the car window.

J-Jade! Are... you here to save me? Thank you... You're the best in the world..." Jasper felt physically weak and mentally hazy.

But seeing Jade standing outside his car still made him move. He squeezed out a smile with difficulty.

He seemed to have forgotten that it was jade who hit him, putting him in that state.

Or perhaps he knew that but thought it was normal to have a crash in a race.

Jade's willingness to care about him proved that she was kind and that she had noticed him.

'Queen Jade must have noticed me! She has been helping me during the race and nearly helped me win the first prize, Jasper thought

At the thought of that, Jasper felt a touch of warmth creep into his heart and uttered, "Queen Jade, thank you..."

As he thanked Jade, she reached out and took off her helmet.

Her long, thick, and silky black hair draped down. Under the strong light, it shone brightly like silk.

A gorgeous Eace was also revealed.

Jasper looked at that face and widened his eyes. His expression froze, and there was an unbelievable look of horror in his eyes.

"H-How is it possible" Jasper's chest heaved violently as he looked at the familiar face in shock: "Evangeline, why are you here? How come it's you! How can you possibly be Queen Jade?"

Rogue 47

Chapter 47

Jasper

never expected that the face under the mask would be Evangeline's

He treated Jade as his faith and was shocked to know she was the sister whom he hated and despised.

"No... It's absolutely impossible. I must have mistaken it because of the severe injury. Queen Jade can't be Evangeline. No way!" he exclaimed, seemingly suffering tremendous stimulation and going mad. However, he was trapped in the car and couldn't move. He could only wail,

Evangeline smiled and watched Jasper's collapse in amusement.

She poked at his deformed leg

'Good! His leg has become crippled, she exclaimed inwardly.

In truth, her skill did not regress, and she could precisely control the force and target of the collision.

Perhaps the poke was too forceful. Jasper finally felt the pain in his leg and groaned in pain.

Evangeline withdrew her hand, rubbed the blood on her finger onto his body, and said with a half-smile. I'm sorry. Your favorite Queen Jade is actually the sister you are extremely disgusted with. I'm curious. Do you like me now? Or do you hate me?"

Jasper's chest heaved violently. His eyes were bloodshot,

Evangeline chuckled and whispered in his ear, "What does it feel like to lose your faith and be thrown into the quagmire by your favorite idol?"

Jasper stared at her. He felt as if his throat was gripped by an unseen force, and he couldn't utter a word.

Evangeline smiled and went on, "Come on. Take it easy. It's only one leg today. We still have a long way to go. I will end your family slowly." Jasper spat out a mouthful of blood upon hearing that.

The double weight of physical and psychological blows finally made him unable to hold on and faint.

Just then, the rescue team finally arrived and begun to pry open the deformed door of Jasper's car. After moving Jasper out of the car, they sent him for emergency treatment.

When the rescue team was trying to save Jasper, Evangeline had already turned around and left.

The tracking cameras at the scene kept filming her, though.

Her face was projected onto the large screen in front of the audience.

Everyone on the scene was shocked.

They looked at the familiar face on the screen in a daze.

Everyone was motionless, as if they had been frozen.

All of them even stared at the face on the screen that captured worldwide attention recently without blinking

They were surprised that Evangeline was Jade.

None of them could accept that Evangeline was their deity in the racing world.

It was not that Evangeline wasn't beautiful.

In truth, she was definitely the most beautiful person in the entertainment industry.

It was just that the scene of her crawling through the forest and swinging on vines had left a deep impression on them. That was totally different from the image of Jade in their eyes "My eyes didn't play a trick on me, did they? Queen Jade turns out to be Evangeline, and Evangeline is Queen Jade, huh?"

Chapter 47

"Gosh! What a twist!"

I'd rather believe that there's a Spiderman in the world than Evangeline is Queen Jadel

"Holy shit!"

I don't know how to describe how I feel..."

"Ahh! The deity! My dream is broken!"

"It turns out that Evangeline is Queen Jade. Did she hit Jasper on purpose then?"

"She was definitely doing that on purpose. Otherwise, with Queen Jade's skills, there was no way she would make such a mistake on that flat track."

"Queen Jade had been helping Jasper since the beginning and even let him lead the first place. I felt very strange and didn't expect that she would do that in the end."

"I remember Jasper also likes Queen Jade. Am I right?"

"It's more than that. He worships Queen Jade, and his phone is full of photos of her participating in the competition."

"Haha! I wonder how he will feel when he knows his favorite Queen Jade is actually the sister his family bullied and despised"

"Queen Jade was definitely doing that on purpose to dampen Jasper's spirit. That's why she joined the competition. Helping him during the race. running into him at the end of the race, and even taking off her helmet in front of him so that he could see her face were in her plan,"

"No wonder Queen Jade joined such a competition. It turns out that she was here for Jasper."

The audience began a heated discussion after returning to their senses.

Meanwhile, Evangeline had returned to the lounge: She took off her racing suit and changed into her own clothes.

When she came out of the lounge, Arthur and Steven were already waiting at the door.

Steven immediately ran to her excitedly once he saw her. He exclaimed, "Evangeline, you're so cruel. That was indeed a severe blow! He must be feeling despair now. This is way more ruthless than simply scolding him!"

"You guys signed a liability waiver before joining the competition. I thought you were going to end him," Arthur said.

Evangeline glared at him and asked, "Do I look that evil? I'm a law-abiding person and don't do anything illegal,

Hugo said, "In fact, it's fine if he died in the crash. You don't have to go to jail, since all the contestants already signed a liability waiver and even bought insurance"

Evangeline blinked and said, "The crash was an accident. I didn't mean it"

Everyone looked unconvinced at her words.

Evangeline shrugged.

She would just let it be if they refused to believe it

Anyway, it would be an accident as long as she said so.

"Evangeline, let's go. Those people will grasp the situation and come to stop you soon. Let me take you to the side door and leave quietly," Steven said

The audience was still dumbfounded by Jade's true identity, and their mind was blank.

When they returned to their senses, they would definitely look for Evangeline.

"All right. Let's go." Evangeline replied.

The group quietly left through the side door.

As soon as they had left the racing venue, they heard noises coming from inside.

"Where's Queen Jade?"

"Where's Evangeline?"

"Evangeline, come out! I want to hear you admit that you're Queen Jade yourself!"

"Evangeline, please pay attention to your image. Don't ruin the image of beloved Queen Jade."

Evangeline fell silent upon hearing the noise inside.

Looking at Arthur and the rest, she asked, "Is it so hard to accept I'm Jade!"

All of them fell silent.

Arthur pondered for a while before replying politely. "It's like you thought you married a delicate woman, but it turned out to be an unattractive woman. Can you understand that feeling?" Evangeline was rendered speechless.

Hugo snickered and added, "Evangeline, don't be sad. It's not that you're not beautiful, but your maneuvers in the forest have destroyed your image. Queen Jade has always been an aloof woman in the racing world. That's why they can't accept it.

Evangeline was confused and mused, "Why does everyone have such an illusion? In the past, I rarely showed up and didn't communicate with others during competitions, not to mention being interviewed. Is that why they thought I was aloof? People are indeed good at imagining things "All right, stop talking. Let's leave," Arthur urged,

Because the group didn't want to sit separately, Steven's contact drove a five-seater MPV so that they could take one car

Not long after the car moved, Hugo suddenly said in surprise. "The incident in the racing venue was posted on the internet. The news that Evangeline is Queen Jade has spread on the internet, and now it's trending on Twitter."

As the boss of an entertainment company, he would pay attention to the news on the internet from time to time.

That made him quickly find out about the story on Twitter.

Evangeline took out her phone and logged in to her Twitter account but failed after trying for some time.

Apparently, her Twitter account was down.

Hugo handed her his phone to read the news and said, "Here. Use mine.

Evangeline took his phone over and browsed the news.

There were already a dozen trending topics on Twitter, which read: [The Deity of the Racing World Turns Out to Be Evangeline.

[Evangeline Is Queen Jade.]

(Evangeline, the Racing Deity.)

[How Many Other Identities Does Evangeline Have That We Don't Know About!]

[The Gallagher Family]

In addition to those trending topics, there were some trending topics about "Jungle Survival" that were still hot, which were basically talking about her as well

Evangeline clicked on a trending topic.

There were pictures of her taking off her helmet in a racing suit and a video,

In a short period of time, there had been more than a hundred thousand comments in the comment section.

Evangeline clicked on the comment section and read the comments: [Evangeline, please marry me!]

(Evangeline is so amazing! Besides knowing how to race a car, she's even the most famous Queen Jade in the racing world. Is there anything else that she can't do?)
[Damn it! How could Evangeline be Queen Jade']

[I just took a look at a foreign platform. The news also broke out there. Everyone was shocked. It is said that many people in the racing world have had their dreams broken.]
[Haha! Evangeline is so good, beautiful, and capable. How could their dreams be broken!]

I'm truly fascinated by Evangeline. She's beautiful and capable. Except for going into a frenzy occasionally, she's perfect!

[Evangeline, if you continue to be charming like this, I'll become same-sex-oriented!]

[I've already become one. After seeing Evangeline. I found that I no longer love men...]

[Please. Evangeline, join more shows. I feel utterly uncomfortable if I can't see you!]

Evangeline read many comments, all of which were about wanting to marry her, and they were even written by girls. She couldn't help but twitch the corners of her mouth.

Hugo said with a smile, "Now that you are so popular, you can seize the opportunity to join more shows or participate in a few plays to make money. How about joining my company? I can help you choose the right shows and scripts."

Evangeline parted her lips,

But before she could answer, her phone rang.

Evangeline picked up the phone and found no caller ID but an unfamiliar number.

With a frown, she answered the call. "Who's this?"

Dallas' voice came from the other end of the line. Fin Dallas of Jungle Survival, We just completed our collaboration.

Evangeline said, "I haven't received the 20,000 dollars you promised me yesterday

Dallas went silent for a moment before replying, "I'll transfer it to you later. Send me your account number. I'll transfer the final payment for the show to you at the same time. Edward put you into the group, and the account number he gave us was his company's. That's why I can't pay you. I have something else to tell you, though. Here's the thing One of my friends asked me to invite you to participate in a foreign variety show named Xtreme Survival, which has been broadcast for over ten seasons and is very popular abroad."

Dallas paused before continuing. I contacted you out of courtesy. Personally, I neither wish nor recommend you to participate in it. That show is very dangerous and unfriendly to Clusians. The participants of Xtreme Survival' come from all over the world. Almost every country has participated in it, including our country. We have participated in it three times. The first participant broke his hand, and the second participant was paralyzed. The third participant was a veteran of special forces. He broke his leg lost his vision, and became disabled."

Speaking of this, Dallas grew emotional and could not help but curse, "Damn it! Those people from other countries are all bastards! Except for a few countries, the other countries particularly hate and reject Clusians. They band together to target, suppress, and even deliberately frame us

He continued cursing. "Those beasts also mocked us for being useless. Yet, they are the ones who form groups and target us with their numbers shamelessly. They even have the nerve to laugh at our contestants!"

After Dallas finished letting off, he realized he was too agitated and spoke apologetically. "Sorry, my emotions got the better of me. My grandfather and father used to be in the army, so I get furious when I think about that veteran who got harmed and got a broken leg plus a blind eye."

He added, "He signed up because his daughter was severely ill, and he needed to pay the high medical bills. He wanted to earn money for his daughter, but not only did he fail to get the prize money, he became disabled. Alas..."

Evangeline listened quietly without much change in her expression.

Usually, people would be infuriated to hear this.

However, there was not a change in her emotions.

It was not that she had no sympathy.

It was because she was abandoned in the slums as a child that she experienced much of the fickleness and evil in human nature.

She was already numb to i

Later, she left the slums, and her life changed

Yet, those dark days in the slums still left an indelible mark on her heart.

It was not quite psychological trauma.

She did not feel

el uncomfortable looking back at those memories, but she just could not forget them.

Dallas continued, "My friend asked me to contact you. He said that if you participate, he will pay you 20 million dollars in appearance fees, while I get 1 million dollars in agency fees. If you win in the end, there will be at least an additional prize of 20 million dollars.

He elaborated, "Although their offer is very tempting. I hope you consider it carefully. You may be stronger than ordinary people, but the contestants Xtreme Survival are not stars. Some mercenaries and warriors have been specially trained. You can't compete with them."

they paid you to join the competition,

He added, "Besides, participants usually pay to sign up for the show to compete for the prize money. Since they they must have ulterior motives.

"Evangeline, are you listening!" Dallas could not help but ask when he noticed her silence.

"Yes, I'm listening." Evangeline replied in a low voice.

With that, Dallas continued speaking.

As if telling her a secret, he lowered his voice and whispered, "Let me tell you about this rumor. I was surprised when I heard that they offered you to participate at such a high price, so I secretly went around to ask about it"

He explained, "It's said that some perverted billionaires abroad put out a bounty for you after watching your livestream. They listed dozens of things they wanted to happen to you and asked the contestants to do it to you. I heard even the lowest bounty is at a few million dollars. I heard even the lowest bounty is at a few million dollars. I've never seen the contents of the bounty, but I'm sure it's nothing good." Then, he said, "If you go, you might end up even worse than the previous three people

Evangeline said, "Thank you. I won't participate in it."

He was mainly here to persuade her.

Dallas smiled and said, "Okay. Then I'll tell my friend that you refused. Remember to send me your account number so I can return the money I owe you."

Evangeline responded curtly and hung up the call. Then, she texted Dallas her bank account details.

Chapter 48

Arthur asked, "What were you talking about that took so long?"

Evangeline did not hide from him and explained briefly, "A friend of Mr. Fowler asked him to contact me to invite me to participate in the shooting of Xtreme Survival. They offered me 20 million dollars as an appearance fee, but he advised me against it

The others' expressions darkened upon hearing the name Xtreme Survival.

The incident of Xtreme Survival prejudicing against Clusia's contestants caused quite a scene back then and even led to diplomatic warfare, but the matter was left unresolved.

That was because Xtreme Survival was a variety show sponsored by a group of top foreign billionaires.

They were influential and exploited the loopholes in the laws. In addition to their shamelessness, no one could do anything about it.

The only thing people could do domestically was ban the variety show.

Hugo showed a look of repulse and said, "You were right to refuse. That variety show is a little vile. It's especially hostile toward women. Being harassed a few times is the least of those problems."

Hugo hesitated to speak and finally shook his head. "In any case, you've already rejected him, so you don't need to worry about him anymore." Evangeline grinned. They won't give up" Everyone looked at her in confusion.

Evangeline said mockingly. "Those billionaires have put a bounty on me, and the lowest bounty is already at 1 million dollars. They will definitely do everything to make me participate. Even if those billionaires don't force me, those contestants will try their best to force me to join to get the high bounty."

and won't

Arthur, with a face of gloom, patted her on the shoulder and uttered seriously, "From today onward, don't leave my sight. I'll protect you or let them approach you."

Evangeline raised her eyebrows and said, "Actually, I was worried they wouldn't come looking for me. I've been waiting for this day for a long time. Arthur and the others were puzzled.

"Do you know who put the bounty on you? Do you have a grudge against them? Steven asked curiously.

The corners of Evangeline's mouth curved into a smile.

The smile was ice-cold, sending chills into people's cores.

The people in the car could not help but shudder after seeing the smile

Arthur said, "I hope you can calm down. Even if you have a grudge against them and want to take revenge on them, don't be reckless and risk your life'

Evangeline said, "I know what I'm doing"

Arthur wanted to say something more.

Evangeline glanced at him, which froze him in place, making him swallow his words back

The rest of the group

group wore worried looks.

However, seeing as Evangeline refused to say anything more, they could not bring themselves to pursue the matter further.

On the other side.

Jasper was taken to the hospital,

After receiving a call, the Gallagher family rushed to the hospital.

Jasper was still in the operating room when they reached the hospital.

As soon as they arrived, the doctor brought them an amputation procedural consent form and asked them to sign it.

Jasper's left leg was severely injured. The flesh and veins on his leg had decayed, and the bones were crushed. It was impossible to reattach it, so they could only amputate him to save his life.

If they did not perform amputation on him, it would kill him.

George sullenly signed the amputation procedural consent form.

"Oh, my Jas Bethany wailed and fainted.

Samson hurriedly picked her up and went to the doctor.

Meghan wiped her tears and cried sorrowfully. "Dad, I saw it on the news online. Jas was injured in a car race. It was Evangeline who injured him! She deliberately ran into him"" George's eyes suddenly widened, shock and anger appearing on his face. "What? Evangeline deliberately hit him? Eddie, is what Meghan said true?" George asked Edward.

Edward nodded with a dark expression. He explained, "Yes, I also saw the news. Evangeline is Jade, the top racer in the racing world that Jas looked up to. Tonight, Jas and Jade participate in a race together. In the finals, Jade's car crashed into Jas. I can't tell from the video whether it was intentional. It looked like an accident."

A trace of jealousy flashed in Meghan's eyes.

Meghan cursed inwardly. That bitch Evangeline! I didn't expect her to be jade. What does she have that makes her the goddess of the racing world? Her driving skills are average.

"The people in the racing world are a bunch of idiots to idolaze someone like Evangeline!

Meghan calmed down and retorted, "Don't defend Evangeline, Eddie. She did it on purpose!"

She fumed, "Didn't you see the analysis by the netizens With Jade's driving skills, she can't make such a mistake. Even if it were a mistake, the accident wouldn't have been so serious. It's clear she did it on purpose! Evangeline holds a deep grudge against us. She wanted to kill Sam and me in the forest. Now, it's possible she deliberately harmed Jas. Thankfully, Jas got lucky. Otherwise, she would've killed him!" Edward stopped talking.

He also saw the discussion online

Everyone was saying Evangeline did it on purpose.

In fact, this was exactly his thoughts as well.

This certainly seemed like something Evangeline would do.

"That ingrate! I shouldn't have let her be born back then! She doesn't deserve to live! George slapped his thigh angrily as if he regretted the past.

He looked at Edward with rage in his eyes and said, "Eddie, you are the smartest. Think of a way to avenge your Jas He's lost a leg and has become crippled for the rest of his life. How can he accept this?" Meghan looked at Edward with tears in her eyes. She uttered, "That's right, Eddie. We can't let Jas be wronged. Evangeline has gone too far. We can't let her off the hook!"

Just then, Samson came running back.

His face instantly darkened upon hearing Meghan's words as he returned.

He said, "Calm down, Dad, Eddie. It was us who wronged Evangeline first. During the seven days in the forest, Evangeline never took the initiative to cause us trouble. It was us who provoked her, which made her fight back. Maybe it was Jas who provoked her first this time-"

Slap!

George slapped Samson furiously and scolded, "You traitor! Your brother has lost his leg. Why are you still defending Evangeline? Has she bewitched you? How dare you speak for her when she treated you like that!"

Covering his fa

face, Samson said in a gloomy tone, "Evangeline saved my life. If it weren't for her, I would have been dead by now,

He added. "Dad, Meghan almost killed me, but you didn't say a word of criticism against her. Why are you so harsh on Evangeline?"

George's face turned red and pale from anger as he snarled, "You scoundrel! I told you that Meghan was triggered. It's because you didn't protect her well that caused her to be triggered, and her behavior changed drastically. That's why she did those things! George roared, "Even if Jas provoked Evangeline first, she shouldn't have broken his leg! She's inhumane!"

He told Edward, "Eddie, hire a lawyer, I want to sue her and send her to jail!"

Edward said, "I'm afraid we can't. Jas signed an agreement before he participated in the competition, which stated that unless someone violated the rules of the competition with malice, the participants would have to be responsible for the consequences. Although we all assume Evangeline did it on purpose, her actions seemed to be accidental. She didn't violate the rules, so we can't sue her" George grew even more infuriated.

Edward spoke. "Let's talk about it when we get home. Here is not a good place to discuss it

George's heart sank. He looked around quickly and breathed a sigh of relief when he saw no one around

George thought, The Gallagher family is currently in the eye of the storm.

on, he could not drive anymore,

Jasper was taken to the ICU,

It was not until the next day that he woke up.

Everyone else had gone back except Edward, who was caring for him.

"How do you feel, Jas? Do you feel uncomfortable anywhere else? Edward quickly asked after seeing Jasper wake up.

Jasper stared blankly at the white ceiling. It took him a while to remember what had happened before he passed out

"My leg uttered Jasper.

Edward informed sorrowfully. "Your left leg has been amputated. The doctor said there was no possibility of reattaching it. They have to amputate it, or your life will be in danger."

He added, "Regardless, you don't have to mind it too much. You can put on a prosthesis in the future. Now that technology is so advanced, a good prosthesis is no different from a real one,

Jasper's eyes were dull as if he had lost all his vigor,

After a while, he suddenly burst into laughter.

He was laughing and crying.

Jasper said, "Haha, you know what, Eddie Evangeline is Jade. The biological sister I despised the most turned out to be Queen Jade, who I worshipped like a goddess.

"I even fantasized about marrying her." He spoke pitifully.

He uttered again, "Why her? Why did it have to be her? Ugh, I can't believe I treated her like that. Why didn't she tell me earlier? She knew I admired Queen Jade. If she had told me she was Jade earlier, I wouldn't have done that to her,"

"Haha, this is my retribution. It's God's retribution for me. Haha, I deserve it!" wallowed Jasper,

He laughed loudly, but his face was full of tears.

Chapter 49

Compared to the amputation of his leg, it was harder for him to accept the collapse of his faith.

Due to him being a middle child with an outstanding older brother and a lively yet cheeky younger brother, his parents paid him little attention. Because he could not gain his parents' attention, Jasper continued behaving recklessly and fooled around all day,

Thus, he succumbed to a vicious cycle.

The less attention he got, the less effort he made.

The less he tried, the less he was noticed.

At one point, he was bullied.

However, holding a one-sided grudge against his parents, he did not tell them about it. He let the people bully him and went home with injuries every day in the hope of attracting his parents' attention. Yet, they still did not notice him.

He suffered from depression and thought about ending it all,

Then, he came across Jade's interview.

All she said seemed like the standard inspirational content, but as if bewitched by a spell, Jasper instantly started living again.

He started working hard to better himself.

Gradually, his parents began to praise him.

He thought Jade had brought him salvation

Posters of Jade covered his room.

In his heart, Queen Jade had become more important than his parents

Now, his faith had collapsed

It was hard for him to accept this.

Jasper spoke again. "Eddie, you know what? I'd rather Evangeline kill me directly instead of letting me find out about this truth. Since she has been hiding it from me for so long, why didn't she hide it from me for the rest of my life? She should've killed me in that car crash at the racing venue. Why did she have to tell me the truth?"

Seeing how emotional Jasper was getting, Edward rang the call bell.

Soon, a nurse came to check on him and called the doctor to give Jasper a sedative.

Seeing that Jasper had calmed down, Edward asked, "Since you adored Jade so much, why did you destroy Jade's car, which Evangeline gave you?" Jasper's eyes went dull for a moment. He wondered, "Why?"

"Right, Meghan told me the car was fake.

"She said Evangeline deliberately hired someone to forge an identical car to please me. In truth, that wasn't Jade's car.

"Meghan questioned me how could Evangeline, with her status, obtain Jade's car.

'I believed her.

"That's right. I couldn't do it myself, so what could Evangeline do?

"So, the car must be faked.

Hence, Jasper was incredibly disappointed by Evangeline and destroyed the car in embarrassment.

Chapter 49

On the surface, he smashed it for Meghan. In truth, he was furious that it was a fake, so he directly smashed it to vent his anger.

He worshiped Jade so much. Of course, he could not allow someone else to pass off a fake.

Yet, he did not expect Evangeline to be Jade..

The car she gave him back then was not fake.

It was Meghan who deliberately stirred up trouble.

"Have a good rest. I'm going back first. I'll come to see you later. Edward patted Jasper on the shoulder and left.

Edward returned home in exhaustion.

As soon as he opened the door and walked into the hallway to change into his indoor slippers, he heard laughter coming from the living room. Upon closer inspection, he recognized they were Meghan and George's voices.

"Dad, I peeled a grape for you. Here you go," said Meghan.

"Haha, as expected of my little sweetheart," replied George.

"Dad, don't bite my finger, Megan voiced out.

Edward frowned.

After changing his shoes, he almost passed out upon seeing the scene in the living room.

Meghan was sitting on George's lap.

She had just fed a grape to George, and her finger was still in George's mouth.

"Dad, what are you two doing?" Edward said darkly.

Meghan was startled and got off George's lap awkwardly. Then, she sat at the side with her head hung low.

On the other hand, George seemed calm as he glanced at Edward. "You're back. How is Jas?"

Edward explained. "He's in stable condition, but he's suffered severe psychological trauma. Jas can't accept this for the time being."

George said, "It would be hard for anyone to accept the fact they've lost a leg. You should find him a psychologist. Don't let him do anything foolish."

Edward pursed his lips and could not be bothered to explain what Jasper truly could not accept.

He looked back and forth between Meghan and George. "Dad, you and Meghan-

George's face darkened, and he scolded sternly, "What are you thinking, you scoundrel! Meghan is just being playful like she used to be when she was a child. Don't put those filthy thoughts on us, father and daughter."

Edward thought, I se seems like that's the case!

When Meghan was a child, she would also feed George some food, and George deliberately bit her fingers to tease her.

Edward said, "Meghan has grown up now, after all. Something that she could do as a child isn't appropriate for her to do now as an adult

George retorted, "Are you teaching me how to do things?"

"I didn't mean that," Edward explained calmly. "Even if I don't mind this, it's not appropriate for you two to laugh so happily when Jas has just had an amputation and is still lying in the hospital" George and Meghan both looked embarrassed and pale.

Edward massaged his temples tiredly and said, "I've been caring for Jas the entire night. I'm tired, so I'll go upstairs to rest now."

Without waiting for George to reply, he went straight upstairs.

Chapter 49

George looked at his back and said, "After you had a good rest, think about how to punish that bastard, Evangeline! If we don't get rid of her, she will kill us all!"

Edward humined curtly in response.

After returning to his room, Edward sat in a chair without a trace of drowsiness.

Edward pondered, Dad was right about one thing.

If we don't take care of Evangeline, she'll be the ones finishing us off.

"She has started her revenge against us.

"We have no choice.

"We can only fight!!

Edward sat in his chair and thought for a long time.

Suddenly, an idea flashed through his mind.

I got an idea, he thought.

"Evangeline, it's you who refused to let us go Don't blame me for this, he uttered.

Achool

Evangeline sneezed several times when she woke up in the thorning

She frowned.

Which bastard is bad-mouthing me?" she wondered

Shaking her head, Evangeline got out of bed and cleaned herself. Then, she finally turned on her phone, which she had turned off before she slept. As soon as she turned on the phone, an unfamiliar foreign number called her. Evangeline narrowed her eyes and picked it up

"Ms. Evangeline Castillo, I'm the director of Xtreme Survival Timm here to sincerely invite you to participate in the shooting of the you are not satisfied with the appearance fee of 20 million dollars, we can discuss it again" A man's voice sounded from the phone. The man gave a list of names in one go.

Evangeline said with a half-smile. These people are too weak. There's no challenge to it. I want a few designated people. If you can get them to participate, I'll accept your invitation. Otherwise, I won't join at

The man was particularly arrogant. He said, "Ms. Castillo, you must not be clear about the backing of our show, aren't you? You have been favored by our investor, Even if you don't accept the invitation, we still have a lot of ways to get you here."

The man added, "Our investors are the top billionaires in the world. They are all rich and powerful. A minor character like you can't refuse them. We kindly extend the invitation to you as a sign of respect. I hope you know what's good for you."

Evangeline said casually, "I also have a way to make it so that you can't do anything you want."

The man's tone became more sarcastic. "Ms. Camillo, confidence is a good thing, but overconfidence isn't. As a nobody, what makes you think you can go against a group of top billionaires?"

Evangeline said, "I can die."

The man was speechless,

For a moment, he was not sure whether Evangeline was threatening him.

The man said furiously, "How can I make it in half an hour?"

Evangeline scoffed. "That's your problem. Solve it among yourselves. If I don't get a reply in half an hour, my life ends.

They might send someone after her in the long run.

For example, they might kidnap her.

Then, they would threaten her to participate.

Although that group of perverts was mainly abroad, they had connections and could bribe the people here to kidnap her. Therefore, she could not give them too much time to prepare.

The man roared angrily. That's your own life. Do you think you can threaten me? I'm telling you, don't threaten us. You aren't qualified to fight against us. You better believe yourself, or you'll be the one to suffer!"

Evangeline looked annoyed. She retorted, "Shut up. What are you barking for? If you dare yell at me again, I'll finish off your entire family before I die. Don't treat me like a pushover just because I talked to you nicely. The ones with money and power are the ones behind the scenes. Why are you, a mere mouthpiece, acting so arrogantly, you son of a bitch? Talk to me after you think it over."

With that, she hung up the phone.

Then, she fell to the ground and climbed quietly with her hands and feet!

She climbed down the stairs and out of the mansion to the garden

"Evangeline, you... Popping out at the front, Arthur was shocked to see her posture and trotted over to her to speak.

Before he could finish speaking, Evangeline rolled on the ground. She followed up with a kip up and a backflip, kicking Arthur away.

Then, she ran across the field. Left hook, right hook, roundhouse kick, hurdle... She pulled up a tree and thrust it back into its spot. Arthur was speechless.

He pondered, "Wasn't she normal yesterday?"

"Why is this happening again today!"

"Who pissed her off again!"

He realized there was a routine. Evangeline would only vent her emotions like a madman when she was extremely irritable and frustrated. Just like how she was after being agitated by monkeys. Or when she was stopped and prohibited from leaving the press conference.

Anlur wondered, What about today!

"Why is this happening?"

At this time, Evangeline was back on the ground, crawling silently.

She crawled right-side up, backward, and sideways.

Arthur hesitated for a moment and also crawled toward her.

10:33 AM

Chapter 50

He caught up with Evangeline and crawled to her side.

It seemed like he was talented in this.

"Evangeline, who provoked you again?" Arthur asked while he crawled.

Evangeline did not answer.

After crawling around, she stood up and dusted her hands.

"Are you done?" Arthur was slightly disappointed and could only stand up.

Evangeline explained calmly, "I'm exercising."

Arthur cleared his throat lightly. "Yes, and I was accompanying you on your workout just now."

Evangeline did not say anything else and walked back to the mansion.

Arthur followed her.

"What are are you doing here!" Evangeline asked without looking back.

Arthur said. "You said the people from Xtreme Survival have set their eyes on you. I was worried about your safety, so I came to see you.""

Evangeline assured, "Don't worry about me. I know what I'm doing?"

As soon as she finished speaking, the phone she had left in the mansion rang

Arthur picked it up and handed it to her

Evangeline took the phone and answered it

The director's voice sounded again, saying, "Ms. Castillo, I have contacted the investors, and they all agree with your request. Who do you want join! Give me a list, and I'll arrange it right away Evangeline slumped onto the couch and said calmly. "The wind on the balcony is so strong."

The man suddenly choked. Then, he said in a nervous and flustered voice, "Ms, Castillo, please calm down! Don't jump! We have agreed to your request. Don't do that

He had also watched Evangeline's livestream.

He thought. This woman is insane and will do anything!

After hearing Evangeline's words, he immediately became nervous for fear that Evangeline would really jump.

"If I screw this up, those sponsors won't let me off the hook! he thought.

The director's voice trembled violently. "Ms. Castillo, I apologize for my attitude just now, I am sorry that I was too reckless and said things that made you unhappy." He added, "I will pay your attention to my attitude in the future. Please forgive me. I also hope you don't do anything reckless and risk Evangeline said, "Don't be nervous. I'm quite nice," your

er life

The director breathed a sigh of relief.

Evangeline said, "As long as you cut your tongue in half with scissors, I will forgive you for being rude just now."

The director screamed in disbelief, "W-What did you say? You're insane! You crazy woman! I won't listen to your

Evangeline said indifferently, "Okay, I guess I'll jump."

"Don't jump!" the director shouted hurriedly.

Evangeline sighed. "You can't even do that simple request. You're making things difficult for me here:

The director said in a trembling voice, "I only said a few things about you. Even if I was wrong, I shouldn't be punished so

She could hear the fear in his voice from across the phone.

so severely

Evangeline said, "Forget it. I should just die. No one cares about my request

The director was both furious and terrified.

"Is there no room for negotiation?" He still wanted to make one final struggle

Evangeline smiled, "Yes. I die, and your whole family follows me

The director's heart skipped a beat, and he suddenly realized something. With a shivering voice, he asked, "Who in the world are you? Why are you so clear about the forces behind the scenes?"

He was indeed just a mouthpiece.

A chess piece without human rights.

If he screwed up, the forces behind would kill him without hesitation to vent their anger. His family could not escape as well.

Evangeline knew this, so she dared to threaten him by risking her life.

The director could not help but clench his fists. He suddenly felt a chill down his spine.

Evangeline smiled and said, "How could I have known that? I'm just used to being arrogant."

The director was rendered speechless,

Evangeline said. "I'll give you three seconds to think about it. Accept my terms and give me a video call so I can watch you do it. Otherwise, don't keep me from jumping of

The director clenched his teeth.

He had no other choice.

Either cut his tongue, or his entire family would die. He did not know which to choose

Now, he was incredibly regretful,

He thought regretfully, "Why was I so arrogant at first when I spoke to Evangelinet

'Now that I met this unreasonable lunatic, I'm the one who's at a loss,

The director soon gave her a video call.

Evangeline answered the phone but covered the camera on her side,

A blonde middle aged foreign man appeared on the screen.

He glared fiercely at the screen

Although he was forced to submit, he was filled with resentment, wanting nothing more but to end Evangeline through his gaze.

Evangeline picked up an apple from the table and leaned back on the couch leisurely. She took a bite as she waited for the performance from the other side.

The director took a deep breath and picked up a pair of scissors.

Then, he pulled out his tongue, closed his eyes, and cut it from the middle with the scissors.

Ah

As the scissors clamped down blood gushed out,

The director knelt on the ground in pain, and the scissors were also dropped to the ground.

He covered his mouth and rolled on the ground, whining painfully.

Evangeline removed her hand covering the camera and spoke while chewing an apple. "I was just kidding. I didn't expect you to actually cut it"

The director looked at the phone screen with bloodshot eyes and saw Evangeline sitting on the couch eating an apple instead of the rooftop. He almost fainted from rage.

You... You.

He pointed at the screen but was in too much pain to speak.

Evangeline said with a half smile, "You really are an obedient dog, obeying any orders given to you. Seeing as you're so obedient, I accept your invitation. I'll send you the list later."

With that, she ended the video call.

Why did you agree? You know it's dangerous, and you have a bounty on you, but you still decided to go?

At the side, Arthur frowned as he asked, "Why Aren't you just courting death?"

He spoke solemnly. "Evangeline, I know you're not an ordinary girl. You are competent. However, the people who participated in that show were not ordinary as well. Besides, the rules are not transparent, and there is no bottom line. The public only sees the 18th season. They know the veteran from Clusia was injured the most severely, but there are worse

Evangeline turned to look at him without saying anything

Arthur hesitated for a moment and finally made up his mind. He said in a gloomy voice, "I let you in on the truth. I actually used to participate in Xtreme Survival, but the season I participated in was not broadcast online. All traces of it online were erased. Now, you can't find anything about it. You can only describe that season as hell on earth."

Evangeline listened quietly without interrupting or showing a change in her expression.

She was the perfect listener

After Arthur adjusted his mood, he continued with his story. "I participated in Xtreme Survival when I was 16 years old. Due to the change of rules in that season, there were two contestants from some countries. There were two from Clusia, too. There was a 15-year-old girl beside me. That girl was beautiful and amazing.

He recounted, "From the very beginning, she had always stood out from the rest. She was the best in everything. No one could compete with her. Even if the contestants from other countries wanted to gang up on her, it was useless. I thought she would be the champion of that season.

However, a nightmare happened!"
