

Revenge Of The Rogue Heiress

Rogue 51

Chapter 51

Arthur continued, "The group of pervert billionaires behind the scenes who had witnessed her prowess couldn't wait to see her humiliated. There are some psychopaths out there who want to tarnish the untainted and turn the skilled to junk. That group of wealthy people placed bounties on the contestants. Besides, the live room went offline and transformed into a private broadcast exclusively visible to those perverts. The contents of those bounties were beyond the imagination of any sane person!"

Arthur clenched his fists.

After all these years, he still felt furious as he recalled his memories, even if that incident had never happened to him.

Nonetheless, watching his compatriot get trampled upon and transformed into such a state. Arthur couldn't help but feel angry. She was such a bright girl.

Back then, he participated because of a financial shortage, hoping to earn some startup capital

Little did he expect such a turn of events

Arthur took a deep breath and continued, "Originally, even with bounties in place, given that girl's abilities, those people couldn't do anything to her. However, to satisfy the twisted desires of those perverts, the production team used gas bombs on her and injected her with a drug that rendered her powerless. After that....

Arthur shook his head, seemingly unwilling to speak, as if he couldn't bear to recall the filthy scenes.

"Go ahead. I want to know what happened, Evangeline said, her voice remaining calm and showing no discernible change.

Even so, Arthur could feel a drop in the living room's temperature.

He pursed his lips. His face was tense as he recounted what he had witnessed back then.

Many of the details were disturbing and revolting.

Arthur said. "I refused to join. However, they beat me half to death and hung me from a tree, forcing me to watch everything."

He continued, "Later, a few of the perverts behind the scene got so excited that they wanted to watch it on-site. To satisfy them, the director came up with a twisted gameplay by suggesting cutting the girl's tongue in half from the middle. To prevent her from biting anyone and injuring his sponsors, he even pulled out the girl's teeth"

As Arthur spoke of this, he suddenly stopped and turned to look at Evangeline in shock. He stammered, "You..."

He wondered, 'She just suggested to the director to cut his tongue in half. Does she know something? Otherwise, why would she suggest splitting the tongue right in the middle? A normal person would cut off a section instead.'

Arthur looked at Evangeline in astonishment.

Evangeline curved her lips, and a bright smile appeared on her face. She said. "The girl you mentioned is my sister"

She added, "Back then, I was seriously ill and urgently needed money for treatment. She participated in that season of Xtreme Survival, hoping to earn the money for my medical expenses"

Arthur looked at the smile on her face, but he could only feel sadness from her.

He murmured in a hoarse voice, "Sorry for not being able to help your sister."

Shaking her head, Evangeline replied, "You've helped a lot by bringing her home secretly. If you hadn't secretly taken her away, those people wouldn't have let her come back alive." Arthur looked at her in a daze and asked, "You know about that?"

"Yeah. Do you think I'm a fool for selling to you for just 6 million dollars shares that are worth 6 billion dollars?" Evangeline asked, beaming.

Arthur was speechless.

He asked, "How is your sister now!"

Evangeline took a bite of the apple and said nonchalantly. "When she woke up, she suffered from a mental disorder and was confined in a mental hospital. I stayed there with her for some time."

She continued. "Her body also suffered significant trauma, leaving behind severe consequences. She can hardly stand or walk upright, resorting to crawling on all fours" Arthur's hand that was resting on his knee tightened after he heard that.

He mused. Did she learn to crawl on the ground to accompany her sister? She mentioned that it was for exercise. It sounds like an excuse to me now.

Evangeline said. "After subsequent medical treatment, her mental state improved considerably"

Arthur breathed a sigh of relief,

Then, she said, "Later, she jumped off a building"

Arthur's face stiffened when he heard that.

Evangeline continued. "Although she was rescued, she ended up in a coma."

Arthur didn't know what to say

He shifted the subject and said, "Your sister didn't get the prize back then. How did your illness get cured?"

"Naomi took me and Dexter in. The day Naomi entered the show, Dexter's family found him and brought him home. They took me with them too, Evangeline said,

She added, "His family is very rich, so my illness was cured."

Evangeline laughed mockingly and said, "How ironict With a little bit of time, perhaps Naomi could have been like us..."

Arthur didn't know how to comfort her.

She didn't seem to need comfort.

Instead, she remained emotionally stable without shedding a tear.

Nevertheless, it was unbearable for Arthur to see her in that state,

Arthur asked, "Did you accept the invitation of Xtreme Survival to avenge your sister?"

Evangeline didn't conceal her intentions and nodded in acknowledgment.

"Don't act recklessly. You won't be able to escape if you kill someone in front of the camera. Besides, what about the perverts behind this? You can't touch the real culprits who are hiding behind screens. Don't be impulsive. I can help you find a way to kill those perverts secretly," said Arthur.

Evangeline smiled and said, "My brother has been making preparations. He will find a way to send those people to me. There's no need for persuade me, Arthur. I know what I'm doing. You shouldn't get involved in this matter. Continue being the decent person you are."

you to

Just when Arthur wanted to say something more, Evangeline kicked him away impatiently and warned, "Stop the nonsense. I have a bad temper. Don't force me to imprison you!"

She went on, "I can talk nicely with you, but that doesn't mean that you can blabber on and on in front of me!"

Arthur wisely

ly remained silent

A moment ago, he felt that because of her sister, Evangeline regarded him as a savior.

At this moment, he merely felt like a nobody to Evangeline.

Despite being kicked away, Arthur still didn't leave. He stood at the side, looking at her with hesitation.

Evangeline took a deep breath and met his eyes.

She said, "Arthur, don't waste your time on me. After what happened to Naomi, I can't fall in love with a man anymore." Arthur lowered his eyelids, looking slightly hurt.

Chapter 51

He merely said, "You. You need to come back alive." Arthur fell silent for a m a moment after uttering those words.

He was well aware that Evangeline would never find peace for the rest of her life if she didn't seek revenge for her sister.

Moreover, she had to do it herself, as her sister participated in the show for her back then.

Deep down, Evangeline must have felt immensely guilty for what had happened.

In an instant, Arthur seemed to finally understand the reason for her unstable emotions.

Someone with a weaker mental strength might have truly gone mad.

At this time, some noises suddenly came from the door of the mansion.

Both of them looked at the door.

The doorbell had sounded

Then, Hugo's voice could be heard saying, "Evangeline, are you up?"

Steven was also there. He said, "Arthur, are you in there! Open the door quickly! I saw you coming, and I saw you crawling on the ground with Evangeline through the binoculars!

Arthur and Evangeline were at a loss for words

"Do they live around here?" asked Evangeline.

Feeling a headache, Arthur rubbed his temples as he answered, "Yeah. The two villas on my left and right are theirs."

He continued, "Although the villas are far apart, those two perverts set up something similar to an observation deck on the rooftop. They would climb up there to spy on me for no reason at all." Evangeline didn't know what to say for a moment.

She finally said. "Well, that's pretty disturbing.

Arthur chuckled and responded, "They feel that it's strange that I've never had girlfriends or dated women. Assuming that I might bring women home secretly, they set that place up for spying" Evangeline asked, "Why don't you have a girlfriend?"

Arthur looked at her and said faintly, "If I say it's because of the psychological trauma left after participating in Xtreme Survival, will you believe me? I think people tend to become twisted once they get addicted to sex, especially the rich

Evangeline was silent before saying. "Although it sounds a little extreme, it's good that you choose to preserve your purity. Innocence is a man's best dowry."

Arthur was speechless.

After that, Evangeline walked to the door. She said, "Let's see what they are up to,"

Opening the door, Evangeline looked outside at Hugo and Steven and asked, "What's up?"

Steven chuckled and said, "You haven't claimed the prize money from last night's competition yet."

Evangeline said, "I'll send you my account number. You can transfer me the money"

Steven shook his head and said, "No. That's a check from the sponsor. You need to take it to the designated bank to cash it"

Evangeline remarked, "Tisk, that's troublesome. She got slightly impatient and asked, "How much is the prize?"

"It's a small contest. The prize money is not a huge sum. It's just 1 million dollars, replied Steven. A million was not a small amount, but compared to the other popular competitions, it fell short by a considerable margin. Evangeline commented, "1 million dollars? All right, let's go then."

With that, Evangeline immediately went out with them.

Chapter 31

After collecting the prize money from the barik, Evangeline treated them to a meal and even let them pick a place to eat.

"Are you going to let us choose what to eat, Evangeline? If so, you have to get ready to spend a fortune. We're going for the most expensive place!" Hugo said, laughing.

Evangeline voiced indifferently, "It's fine. Order whatever you want as long as you guys can finish the food. If there's any leftover. I'll feed you with my fists so you'll know how precious food is

They had no words left

Evangeline said, "Let's go, I am hungry."

They got in the car and finally arrived at a five-star hotel

They seemed to be regular customers there, and there was a reserved private room for them. As soon as the manager saw them coming, he welcomed them with a smile on his face and took them upstairs.

At that time, a black sedan also slowly pulled up to the hotel entrance.

Edward clenched the steering wheel with both hands and looked at their backs gloomily.

A hint of struggle flickered in his eyes, but when he thought about the lives of his family, he eventually steeled himself.

This morning, when he visited Jasper, the buer informed him that Evangeline had declared at the racing venue that she intended to slowly torment the Gallagher family to deaths.

To safeguard the Gallagher family, he had no choice but to take the initiative first

Edward murmured, "Evangeline, don't blame me. It's all your fault..."

D

Edward withdrew his gaze and became cold.

He turned around and looked at the young woman in the back s seat.

of his company.

Pamela Lynch was her name, a celebrity under the banner of

Pamela and Evangeline used to star together er in some films, and they had gotten on each other's bad side..

Their feud in a nutshell-Pamela pushed Evangeline into the water, and the latter gave the former a tight slap

Because of that, Pamela's face swelled for several days, making it impossible for her to continue shooting, and so, her role was replaced by someone Pamela went off the roof after being kicked out of the show, cursing and swearing Evangeline on Twitter for a whole month.

Sometime later, she e even spoke sarcastically of Evangeline from time to time.

The entire world knew that they did not get along.

"Are you ready?" came Edward's question in a deep voice.

Pamela's mien paled to a ghastly white. She was shaking in her boots. "Mr. Gallagher, can we... d-do this in another way?" she asked tremblingly. She was so scared that she burst into tears. "Please try o other means. I beg you! I don't want to die....."

Edward's countenance darkened at that. "With Evangeline's current fame and status, what other way is there to bring her down once and for all!" Pamela bit her lip and could not think of a plan.

Edward then added in a deep voice, "I won't force you should you refuse to do it. I respect whatever decision you make. That said, I won't be fulfilling my end of the deal if you choose not to."

Panicked, Pamela blurted out, "No! Mr. Gallagher, you can't go back on your word like that! You promised me you'd arrange for my mom to be treated abroad. She'll be doomed if her treatment is delayed further. You can't go back on your word!"

Then came Edward's utterance. "It's up to you whether your mom could be saved."

Wearing a deadpan visage, Pamela clenched her fists.

Her father and grandparents had always preferred boys over girls. After her mother gave birth to her, her father abused her mother throughout the years just because she was a baby girl. When Pamela was still a kid, her grandmother deliberately took her to some dangerous places time and again and tried to put her in harm's way.

Her mother could put up with all that no more, hence running away from home with her

Considering that her mother was uneducated, physical labor was the only way for her mother to make a living for both of them.

Years of hard work, coupled with irregularities in the factory, had led her mother down the road of contracting pneumoconiosis and other problems.

The diseases in her mother's body could not be cured by the doctors in the country. Getting her treated abroad was the only hope Still, she did not have that sort of connection to send her mother abroad for treatment, nor did she have that much money.

Before that. Meghan had been the one donating the money for her mother's hospitalization fees.

Nevertheless, Meghan also demanded she mess with Evangeline in return.

In fact, it was because of Meghan's request that she pushed Evangeline into the water during a shoot.

After Meghan's mishap on the variety show "Jungle Survival" though, she stopped giving Pamela money.

Biting the bullet, the latter contacted Edward a couple of days before, hoping to borrow some cash to cover her mother's hospitalization and health

medical fees for that month.

Edward then gave her some in advance.

Then again, the night before, he suddenly contacted Pamela again and said that he had looked into her mother's condition and found a medical team to treat her mother's illness

He promised to get her mother back in pink health and bear all the expenses if she did him a favor.

Of course, his offer would not come without a condition.

Her paying the price with her life was what he asked.

Her mother would live on only if she sacrificed hers.

Edward did not compel her to do his bidding. All he did was give her an option.

Nonetheless, Pamela never had any option to begin with.

Given that her mother had sacrificed so much for her, it was her turn to repay her mother

"Mr. Gallagher, you must promise me that you'd cure my mom and give her money enough to live her twilight years..." she stressed

"Mm. As long as you help me rid of that irksome Evangeline, I won't break my promise. Your mom will live a luxurious life," was that man's reassurance.

Pamela wiped her tears away on that note.

Just then a photo was sent to her phone.

It was a photo of Evangeline entering a private room.

Pamela saved the photo and deleted that message.

On the heels of that, she went onto Twitter, attached the said photo, and tweeted: [I didn't expect to run into this wretched Evangeline of all places. What an unfortunate coincidence! It's time to teach her a lesson of a lifetime!]

Since she did not have that many followers on Twitter, there were only scarce comments below that post

The truth was, even if people did see her tweet, none would give a hoot.

That made sense, for Pamela had always been lashing out on Twitter about Evangeline,

Everyone simply assumed that she was out venting her spleen once more.

After that was a wrap, Pamela stashed away her phone, alighted the vehicle, and strode into the hotel

Meanwhile, Evangeline, Arthur, and the group were having a meal in a private room on the 18th floor of the hotel. They even ordered a bottle of red wine.

When the waitress was pouring Evangeline a glass, she accidentally spilled some and drenched Evangeline's clothes.

"I'm so sorry! It was so careless of me... The waitress panicked and kept apologizing.

Upset, Hugo chided, "Are you a greenhorn? Look at how careless you are! You can't even serve some wine. Why did the manager even appoint you.

to wait on us?"

Arthur bellowed in a deep voice, "I want to see your manager!".

As for Evangeline, she took a gander at her clothes. "Some drying will do just fine. There's no need to make such a fuss."

The waitress was moved to tears. "Thank you for your kind understanding, Ms. Castillo. Allow me to bring you to the lounge outside. Our hotel is equipped with high-powered dryers and steam irons. Light summer wear can be dried in about ten minutes."

Evangeline stood up and followed the waitress out the d door.

After arriving at the lounge, Evangeline stepped into the restroom to take off her clothes and let the waitress take them away.

She then put on a bathrobe and waited in the room

Less than ten minutes later, the waitress was back with her clothes.

The clothes had been cleaned and dried.

Evangeline put on her clothes and walked out of the lounge, making her way back to the private room.

Right at the corner of a corridor, a woman suddenly lunged at Evangeline to stab her with a knife.

As fast as lightning. Evangeline reacted and sent the woman flying with a kick.

That knife in the woman's hand had not touched her one bit.

"Pamela? What the hell are you doing?" asked Evangeline with a frown upon seeing that woman's face.

Having been kicked to the floor, Pamela dropped the dagger in her hand altogether.

She looked up at Evangeline and flashed a bitter smile.

Suddenly, she rose to her feet, wheeled around as quick as a wink, and bolted toward the other end of the corridor.

Evangeline followed Pamela

Unexpectedly, there was an open balcony at the end of the corridor.

As soon as she went over, she saw Pamela climbing the guardrail.

Evangeline froze for a split second before she rushed over to stop Pamela

Sadly

the former was a little too late.

Pamela made th

the leap without deliberation before Evangeline could get to her.

Jumping down from the 18th floor like that, Pamela was bound to kiss the world goodbye.

Evangeline stood by the guardrail and looked down, only to find Pamela smashed to the ground, and blood quickly spread under her body.

The people near Pamela's body screamed with fear and quickly dispersed.

Someone among the crowd looked up at the building and saw a person standing on the balcony, snapping a picture with the phone

Soon enough, the trending news of Pamela's death broke out on Twitter.

The tweet that Pamela had posted about settling the score with Evangeline before she fell from the building was also shared and highlighted by the public.

In addition, a picture of Evangeline standing on the balcony from where Pamela had fallen was also exposed online.

All of a sudden, the internet was ablaze with hearsay,

[Holy crap! What happened? Why was Evangeline on the balcony where Pamela fell off? People are going to have a hard time not to read too much into this...]

[Could it have been Evangeline who pushed Pamela off the building? I remember them having unresolved conflicts...)

[Evangeline's a deranged witch. I think that's something she could pull off)

[Think no further. It had to be Evangeline's doing! Just after Pamela told the world she was going to teach Evangeline a lesson, she fell off the building and died. Plus, Evangeline happened to be there on the spot. Would you believe it if Evangeline had nothing to do with this?]

Chapter 52

[Goodness gracious. We might have always claimed on the internet that we liked how little Evangeline cared about others, but how could she have genuinely given zero fuck about others and literally pushed them off the brink of death?]

[It's only been a while since she's risen to fame, hasn't it? To think that her reputation is this short-lived.]

[Even though I'm a fan of Evangeline, if she really did commit murder, I'd stop supporting her in a heartbeat. No matter what, breaking the law is the bottom line!!

[She's always been the ferocious one on screen, beating others up as she liked it. Even animals couldn't escape from her. She clearly has violent tendencies, so her killing comes not so much of a surprise!] [Evangeline took it too far. Even if Pamela really did pick on her, she shouldn't have silenced her like that!]

[A life for a life, a vicious woman like Evangeline must pay for it with her life!]

[I think it's better not to convict her before the police investigation results come out. I personally don't think Evangeline is the kind who'd do such a thing.]

(Haha! Here comes Evangeline's foolish follower! The evidence is right before our eyes, so what other investigation results could there be?)

[You call that evidence! It was nothing more than a photo of her standing on the balcony. It showed nothing of her pushing the deceased down.]

[Haha! A die-hard fan is always terrifying! You're still defending her even when the circumstance has come to this? I wonder whether you'd take the same stance if your parents were being discussed instead.] Heated discussions were swept up all over the internet.

Many people saw the photo of Evangeline standing on the balcony, coupled with Pamela's previous tweet, they jumped the gun with the conclusion that it was Evangeline who pushed Pamela off the balcony. They all cursed and swore at Evangeline, wishing to sentence her online

Although the public had adored her in the livestream, killing was a crime, so most people chose to uphold the law.

Even so,

there were also minorities who believed that a conviction should not be reached solely based on those little proof

Yet, netizens were imitable, and public opinion would always lead them easily by the nose. Never did they have the ability to think independently.

As soon as someone spearheaded a perspective of something, the rest would follow the trend once the group who shared the sentiment grew big enough. Not any of them bothered to take the authenticity and rationality of things into consideration.

Amid the chaos put forth by the netizens came a tweet from the official account of Superb Entertainment: [Pamela was one of our company's most promising celebrities. We're deeply saddened by the news of her passing. Also, we don't believe that she took her own life because we just had a company meeting yesterday that she'd be our prioritized supported artist. She also shared with us many of her aspirations, so she can't end her life that way. Besides, she still had a hospitalized mother to take care of. The two had a deep bond. She'd never leave her mother to fend for herself. The guardrails of that hotel are so high that with Pamela's height, it'd never have been even remotely possible for her to slip and fall. We hope the police can enforce the law impartially and seek justice for the deceased!

Rogue 54

Chapter 54

Evangeline swiftly read about the latest developments and how the general public was reacting to everything.

'Edward... she thought..

It was hard for Evangeline not to suspect Edward because he, along with Superb Entertainment, stood to gain the most from this tragedy.

Moreover, Pamela didn't look like someone who was done with life when she leaped off the building

Rather, she seemed to be left with no choice.

Evangeline also caught on to another issue.

Pamela stabbing her with a knife was just a cover.

That time, Pamela's knife did not touch her at all. It was simply for show.

From the beginning, Pamela planned to frame Evangeline by fabricating a conflict before taking her own life.

Regardless of the outcome of the case, internet users perceived Evangeline as a murderer from the moment the incident occurred.

Only after she became a murderer was Edward able to achieve a good reputation. It gave way for him to present himself as a humble and virtuous man who came to atone for his younger sister's sins. Had Evangeline died, Edward would not have been able to regain his positive image. Now, he had the opportunity to capitalize on the public's sentiment and turn things around.

Despite the lack of evidence, Evangeline subconsciously suspected Edward.

He was the cruelest member of the Gallagher family.

Using

g other people's lives to turn the tables in his favor was nothing out of the ordinary for him

After all, he hurt his biological younger sister without batting an eye.

Evangeline immediately contacted Arthur and asked him to find out why Pamela went to the hotel that day.

She wanted to know if Pamela had followed her or if they had met by chance when Pamela went there for a meal. That was important for Evangeline.

When she discovered this, she was able to determine whether or not Pamela had intended to frame her.

Arthur was very efficient

He called her back in less than half an hour,

I've asked someone to look into it Pamela went in less than five minutes after we arrived. When the hotel receptionist greeted her, she said that she desperately needed to use the restroom. The receptionist took her to the first-floor restroom. After that, she went to the eighteenth floor on her own. But, because the entire hotel's surveillance cameras had been laced, there was no record of how she got upstairs." Arthur paused for a moment and continued, "She didn't ask the receptionist about your whereabouts, but she could pinpoint the floor you were at Obviously, she came well-prepared. She was also quite familiar with Steven and me, so she knew exactly where our reserved private room was and could get to it. But, Pamela can't possibly know of all that information herself."

He added, "Besides, Steven also sent someone to investigate the waitress who splashed you with red wine today. He got some information from her -she confessed that someone provided her with a sum of money and told her to pretend to accidentally spill something on you to make you leave the room alone halfway through. But, she couldn't recall who it was he just suddenly appeared in the hotel. She couldn't identify the guy as he was wearing a mask and hat"

Arthur went on, "Hugo also sent people to look into the public opinion on the Internet. He learned that Edward had hired lots of internet trolls to skew the public's perception. Actually, a lot of people initially had a neutral stance and wanted to wait for the police investigation results. But those trolls insulted the people who believed you, leaving them with no choice but to delete their posts. The few supportive comments that weren't deleted have also been drowned out by the trolls' posts.

Arthur's voice became lower as he said, "Those paid trolls who swayed the public opinion acted at a good time-like they were poised for action. Less than three minutes after the incident took place, they had already gained the lead in public opinion. If Edward only learned the news after the incident, he would have missed his chance to sway public opinion by hiring trolls to improve his image. It's as if he hired them ahead of time and was just waiting for the news to break so he could dispatch them immediately"

Evangeline scoffed and said, "That's him indeed."

Arthur sighed. "Although we can guess it was him, we don't have conclusive evidence to prove that he did it."

Evangeline sneered and replied, "He's cunning. It's normal for him not to reveal himself. You don't need to investigate this matter any further since it won't yield any results"

Arthur inquired, "Could it be that you're going to let him go?"

He mused, "It's not like her at all."

Evangeline responded with a faint smile, "I asked you to stop, but that doesn't mean I'm letting him go."

Arthur asked in confusion, "What's your plan!"

Evangeline said. "I kill him!"

Arthur was rendered speechless.

Evangeline hung up the phone directly.

Arthur called again, but she did not answer.

At night, Evangeline dressed in black sportswear, a black baseball cap, and a mask before heading out.

An hour later, Evangeline climbed over the wall to enter the Gallagher residence.

She climbed directly into Edward's bedroom, avoiding the surveillance cameras outside the gate.

It was already ten o'clock in the evening, and Edward hadn't arrived home yet.

Evangeline approached the door and listened for movement in the other rooms outside the bedroom.

There was no one out there.

She quietly opened the door and went out.

It was very quiet.

The Gallagher family could not have gone to bed this early. It was entirely possible that they were not at home.

Evangeline thought, 'It's quite normal since Jasper's still in the hospital. Plus, today's his birthday, so they may have gone to see him. But, what's strange is that I don't hear any of the housekeeper's voices downstairs. Are they not here either!'

Evangeline was about to walk back to Edward's room and wait for him when she heard unusual noises coming from the third story.

George and Bethany's bedroom was on the third floor-so was George's study. The other family members bedrooms were on the second floor. However, Evangeline felt the sound was a little str was a little strange.

It was a woman's loud moan, but, it didn't sound like Bethany.

Evangeline's eyes flickered slightly, and she walked upstairs.

When she reached the third floor, she was certain the voice was coming from the study.

Evangeline mused, "The voice sounds a little intriguing..."

Although Evangeline had never made love before, she could tell from the voice since she had watched similar videos.

Evangeline squinted thoughtfully.

Chapter 54

She pondered, 'It doesn't sound like it's coming from a phone or computer. Does George have such an interest? Having an affair with a mistress at home! It appears that all of the housekeepers are absent, which could be because George purposefully sent them away in search of excitement.'

Evangeline's interest was piqued..

She entered a room adjacent to the study and climbed out the window. She scaled the wall with ease using the outside windowsill, pipes, and air conditioner external unit to reach the study window. The study window was partially closed, which meant that it was not locked.

Evangeline quietly opened the window slightly

She made a slight noise, but it wasn't loud. Instead, the moan of the woman inside entirely drowned it out, and the people inside paid no attention to it.

After the window was opened, she lifted a corner of the curtain and glanced inside.

When Evangeline saw the scene inside, she was as stunned for a few seconds, a hint of surprise in her eyes.

She knew what was going on inside before she saw it because of the sounds.

However, she hadn't anticipated Meghan to be the one having an affair with George.

Evangeline cursed internally, This family is rotten to the core. They disgust me

She took her phone out of her pocket and recorded a high-definition video

Then, she muted all of the functions on her phone.

After that, she opened Instagram, removed Edward, Jasper, Samson, and Bethany from her blacklist, and sent them a follow request again.

Soon after, all of them approved her request.

Edward sent her a message: [Evangeline! Aren't you in the police station! How can you still use your phone!]

Jasper texted: [Evangeline, have you forgiven me!]

Samson asked: [Evangeline, did you push Pamela off the building? You're way too impulsive. Hitting people is still forgivable. How can you murder someone?]

Bethany texted: [You bastard! Jas had to get an amputation because of you. Just go to hell! Eddie said you got arrested by the police. How are you able to reach me! Did you break out of prison?] Evangeline ignored their messages and directly started a group chat with them.

Edward, Jasper, and Samson joined the group chat. Perplexed by her actions, they all sent messages containing question marks.

Meanwhile, Bethany wrote: [What the hell are you doing, you ingrate! Go back to the police station and turn yourself in. Don't think you can get away!!

Evangeline sent out a group video call invitation, asking all four of them to join.

She had switched off the volume and notification sounds ahead of time to avoid making a sound.

Soon, they all joined the video call.

Their faces appeared in four small boxes on the screen.

They all frowned and looked confused. Bethany looked irritated.

Evangeline saw that they were talking non-stop.

Unfortunately, she had muted her phone and could not hear them. But, it was alright, as she was not interested in listening to anything anyway.

amera, pointing it toward the two intertwined bodies in the study. Evangeline smirked and switched her front camera to the rear camera, Suddenly, the four faces on the screen froze. Their eyes were filled with shock and disbelief.

Chapter 54

It was as if their worldview had been severely impacted

Evangeline noticed Bethany's contorted face.

Even though she couldn't hear it, she could feel Bethany's internal fury and scream of rage.

Finally, Bethany broke down crying, pulling her hair and dropping to the ground.

The four seemed to be in the same place, as Samson soon went to help Bethany up.

Bethany stood up, pushed Samson away, and rushed out of the ward with an angry face.

Samson hurried after her.

Edward mumbled something to the screen with a sullen face.

Evangeline smiled and ended the video call.

Soon, George's intimate moment with Meghan in the study came to an end.

Meghan had used all of her acting skills to continuously shower him with praise

Her compliments excited George. He picked a tool and continued to tease Meghan, seemingly trying to demonstrate his virility.

He thoroughly exemplified what it meant to let one's desire take precedence over one's capability.

About half an hour later, the study door was abruptly shoved open from the outside.

The loud bang startled the two people inside.

"Ah! Meghan screamed and reflexively hid in George's arms. She looked at the door in panic.

When she realized who was entering, her face became pale with fear and panic,

"M-Mom? Today is Jas birthday. Didn't you go to the hospital with Eddie and Sam to celebrate it! Why... Why are you back so early! Meghan asked. with a shaky voice.

Her voice was trembling and full of panic.

Bethany rushed over, anger written on her face.

She grabbed hold of Meghan's hair and pulled the woman away from George's arms,

"Mom, let go of me. You're hurting me..." Meghan cried out in pain.

Bethany slapped Meghan in the face.

You bastard! You still call me your mother, right? I treat you as my own daughter, and this is how you repay me? How dare husband? I'm going to beat you up! You ingrate! You shameless bitch!" She slapped Meghan in the face again and again

Bethany not only slapped Meghan, but the former also scratched the latter's face with her nails.

Meghan's face was soon terribly scarred

"Ah! No! Dad, help me..."

Meghan was no match for Bethany when she was in a state of rage and madness. The former could only ask for help after suffering in Bethany's hands.

George ran forward to stop Bethany

That's enough. Let go of Meghan! Look how badly you've beaten her!

"Ah!" Bethany got even more furious.

She shifted the target toward George and proceeded to hit him continuously.

"You're a bastard, too, How could you do such a thing? Are you worthy of me? Are you still human?"

Slap!

George slapped Bethany hard in the face and barked at her. "Enough! Don't make a scene like a shrew. Look at you. You don't look like a noblewoman at all. You're no different than the unreasonable shrews who can only know how to throw tantrums!"

"Ah!"

George's blow was particularly harsh.

Bethany fell to the ground and hit her forehead on the corner of the table.

Her whole body trembled in pain, but her heart hurt even more.

She thought, "How could my husband and my adopted daughter do that to me, and even call me a shrew? He's so shameless! They're all shameless!"

"Mom!"

Samson finally chased after her. From afar, he saw his father push his mother down. As he shouted, he rushed into the study and helped Bethany

"Dad, how could you do this to Mom!"

Right then, Edward entered the room too. He glanced at Meghan on the ground and said, his face turned ashen. "Sam, get Mom downstairs first, We'll talk about it after they clean up"

It was only then did Samson notice that both George and Meghan were not wearing anything. He felt it was a rather unsettling sight and a stroke of bad luck.

He helped Bethany, who was sobbing so badly that she might faint, out of the study.

George went to help Meghan up.

Edward's face darkened.

Bethany and Samson, who had just reached the door, also heard it.

"You bastards! What a shameless couple!" Bethany was so mad that she wanted to pounce on them again.

Samson hurriedly stopped her and dragged her out of the study.

"Mom, let's wait until they get dressed and head downstairs!" Samson advised her.

Bethany was in extreme misery as she shouted, "I want to tear up that shameless couple!"

Samson kept persuading Bethany as he forcibly led her down the stairs.

Edward held back his disgust and looked up at the window.

Next, he went over there, pulled back the curtains, and looked out

There was nothing out there.

His gaze turned terribly cold.

Evangeline had a video call with them. The call was taken from the position of the window looking in.

This was the third floor. How on earth did she climb out of the window to take a picture!

Evangeline had left, so he could not catch her. He could only deal with his family's affairs first and think about the other issues later,

Ten minutes later, they were in the living room.

Apart from Jasper who had been hospitalized, all members of the Gallagher family had arrived.

Bethany was still shedding tears. She was crying miserably as if the world had fallen apart.

When she saw Meghan and George walking downstairs together, she immediately got nervous again.

She picked up the ashtray on the table and threw it at Meghan.

"You bastard! I gave you a home, and yet you dared to destroy my family in turn? I must have been blind to have neglected my own daughter and defended you to no end, you ungrateful bitch!" Bethany stared at Meghan with bloodshot eyes, desperately hoping to tear her apart.

"Abr

Meghan turned pale with fright and hid behind George in fear.

The ashtray did not hit her. Instead, it broke into pieces as it hit the floor.

Meghan bit her lips and said aggrievedly, "Mom, I never intended to destroy this family. I'm here to become a part of it..."

"Ah!" Bethany screamed fanatically. "Isn't it enough for you to be the daughter of the Gallagher family? Why would you do something like this? Can you face me? Do you have any morals! You're bastards! Even animals would not commit such an unscrupulous act. You're worse than animals!"

She racked her brains in search of vicious vocabulary to berate Meghan.

She

got even angrier when Meghan lowered her head, looking aggrieved,

In the past, when Meghan and Evangeline had a conflict, Meghan liked to put on this expression. Bethany used to feel sorry for Meghan when she saw that face.

Chapter 35

However, it was Meghan's turn to use this face against Bethany. The latter felt that she was about to explode with anger.

Why had she not been aware that this bastard was such a good actor?

Meghan was the one who had seduced others and committed despicable deeds. How could she feel that she had been wronged "Haven't you had enough! If you want to make a scene, get out. Don't be such an eyesore!" George yelled in displeasure.

Heartbroken, Bethany turned to George with tears in her eyes. "How can you say that? You did that sort of thing, and yet you called me a shrew! Even if I am a shrew, I'm better than you two shameless bastards!"

Meghan bit her lips. "Mom"

"Shut up! Don't call me mom. I don't have a shameless daughter like your Bethany squealed Meghan wiped her tears aggrievedly. "Mom, since you don't like me, I'll leave this family. As long as you can calm down, I will do anything.

With that said, she was about to leave.

George took her hand and pulled her back.

"I'm the head of this family, I have the final say. It doesn't matter if she likes you or not. You don't have to bother about her. As long as I allow you to stay, you can always remain here!"

Meghan bit her lips and stood innocently behind George.

Filled with sorrow and anger, Bethany cried some more, "George, you are not human. If you won't let her go, do you want me to leave?"

George replied in a deep voice. "It depends on what you choose! If you can't stand Meghan and choose to pick on her, then you may leave on your own. I won't let Meghan go. If you can think things through, then our family can still live in harmony like how we always have."

Bethany's eyes widened in disbelief. She stared at George as if he was a stranger.

"What did you say! You want her to stay? And live in harmony with us?" she blurted.

"How can the family be in harmony when things have come to this point? she pondered.

George said, sounding upset, "Meghan has nothing to say. She is willing to endure this. What are you dissatisfied with? As long as you don't make trouble, you are still the enviable lady of the Gallagher family!!

Bethany was so angry that she was on the verge of vomiting blood.

Short of words, she did not know how to refute the shameless man,

George continued, "You don't have to be so mad. Look at the rich. How many of them don't have other women outside! You're lucky I haven't been looking for other women. I just have Meghan now. You watched Meghan grow up. You know her well, and she respects you. She won't take anything away from you. Can't you be a bit more generous?"

Bethany's face turned livid with anger. She felt a tightness in her chest, making her difficult to breathe.

1. he.

"If she really respects me, she wouldn't have done it with you!"

George frowned in displeasure. I've explained to you as kindly as I can, yet you fail to understand and insist on being unreasonable. You really disappoint me

"Anyway, I'm telling you. Meghan won't be leaving the Gallagher residence. Either you accept her and stay here, or you leave on your own if you

Bethany broke down and screamed, "What evil have I done! I've raised a creature worse than an animal! I've neglected my own daughter to care for her, but now she has come to take my husband! Sure enough, an apple does not fall far from the tree. She is as shameless as her mother, the homekeeper. I can't believe I was coaxed by you to treat that criminal kindly! The criminal who stole my own daughter! George, have you long known that Meghan wasn't our biological daughter, and so you've decided to get intimate with her? So, after Evangeline came home, you've been protecting Meghan. You even want me to neglect Evangeline, so as not to upset Meghan. Is that right?"

At first, she also wanted to Incal

Evangeline well.

However, after Bethany treated Evangeline better and returned to her room at night, George would berate her. He would say that Bethany's doing would make Meghan sad. He also blamed Evangeline for all kinds of things.

Fox

As time went by,

y, she found Evangeline increasingly unpleasant.

Bethany came to believe that Evangeline was scheming in everything she did.

Bethany wailed uncontrollably when she thought of how her attitude toward Evangeline had changed for the sake of Meghan

She sobbed as she said, "Because of Meghan, my own daughter regards me as an enemy, and yet Meghan repays me like this! She not only wants to harm my son but also takes my husband from me... This is God's retribution for me! George, you've done worse than I did. Your end will be much more brutall And Meghan, you ungrateful, wicked bitch! You'll suffer a miserable end tool Wretches like you be damned Bethany's eyes were filled with

Like a madwoman, she suddenly rose to her feet and cackled as she shed tears.

"I'm going to expose this shameless couple. I'm going to make you the public enemy, shunned by all!"

Rogue 56

Chapter 56

Bethany laughed madly and walked out..

Meghan panicked,

The matter between her and George must not be revealed

At least, not now.

If this were revealed, she would be embarrassed to see others in the future.

"Mom, don't be impulsive. You can't reveal this matter. You will ruin Dad and the whole of the Gallagher family!" Meghan ran after Bethany and tried to stop her.

"Go away! You filthy thing, don't touch me?" Bethany pushed Meghan away angrily.

"Ah... Meghan bumped into the cabinet beside her, and her delicate body trembled slightly

George strode over gloomily, pulled the frenzied Bethany back with force, and effortlessly slapped her.

Slap!

Bethany was slapped by George, causing her to fall onto the couch.

She covered her swollen face and looked even more desperate.

George shouted sternly. "Calm down! Don't forget who has been taking care of you for decades. You're like a parasite, eating my food, living in my place, spending my money, all provided by me. What right do you have to pick a fight with me? I've let you enjoy 30 years of happiness. If you can't show gratitude, fine, but trying to ruin me for this trivial matter, you really don't know what's good for you! You are the greatest ingrate in our family!"

Bethany stared at George blankly and trembled angrily.

She didn't expect George to think of her like this!

Before

married George, her family was also wealthy. They gave her 200 million dollars before she married into the Gallagher family. Although her family's business failed later on and went bankrupt, unable to keep helping her, her family didn't ask her for the 200 million dollars.

Most of the money she spent was her own!

Samson couldn't help but say angrily. "Dad, how can you talk about Mom like that? She's your wife

George shouted angrily. "She wants to ruin me. What kind of couple is this?"

Samson said, "That's because you were wrong first-"

"Unfaithful son, when is it your turn to teach me a lesson?" George interrupted Samson angrily.

Edward said sullenly, "All right. Shut up. This matter can't be exposed."

George looked satisfied. "Eddie is sensible."

Bethany looked at Edward angrily.

Edward looked into Bethany's eyes and said in a deep voice, "Mom, we are a family. We either rise or fall together. We just went through that. Did you forget! Because of what happened to Meghan, the whole family became a joke.

Even the business was greatly affected

Edward continued, "Once this incident is exposed, it's not just Dad's and Meghan's reputation that will be tarnished, and scorned by everyone. Even we'll be disliked and mocked, and everyone will look down on us. Our family business will take another hit. In the future, none of us can hold our heads up high again."

14

Fox

Bethany finally calmed down.

George

and Meghan deserved to die, but her three sons couldn't be ruined,

George helped Meghan sit on the couch.

He looked at Bethany and murmured. "As long as you don't cause trouble. I won't divorce you. You will still be the lady of the Gallagher family. Our family can just keep living like we used to. You and Meghan can keep each other company. You also don't have to worry and feel sad about Meghan getting married and leaving you, It's a good thing. Didn't you always worry about Meghan getting married? Weren't you reluctant to let her go? There is no such concern now.

Bethany held her breath and wanted to tear George's face apart

This was good for him, an old pervert, but not for her!

She only felt bad luck and anger!

Edward said in a deep voice, "Let's not talk about this. Dad, do you know why we knew about this and came back at this time?"

George frowned and looked confused.

Meghan also looked at Edward in confusion

Edward said. "It's Evangeline who set up a group chat and started a group video call to show us the livestream of you guys. That's how we found

"What?" George was shocked and angry. "How did that rebellious girl get it on camera? Didn't she get nabbed by the police! Did she break out of jail and sneak back to the Gallagher residence, hiding out in my study?"

George was furious.

It turned out to be that rebellious girl, Evangeline, who caused trouble for him.

Otherwise, he wouldn't have been so embarrassed in front of his sons

Although he always looked confident on the surface, he was actually very ashamed and embarrassed.

He was just holding it together and upholding the dignity of the head of the family.

Meghan clenched her fists and looked gloomy.

Meghan thought, "It's Evangeline, that bitch again! I'll take my revenge on her for causing me such embarrassment and getting beaten!"

Edward said. "The footage she shot was probably from the window's location. She was probably hiding outside the window. But just now, in the study. I went to look out the window and found that she was no longer there. However, she may not have left. Maybe she's still looking at us from some corner"

Everyone's face darkened.

At this moment, a mocking chuckle came from the direction of the second floor.

"Wow, that was quite a show! Seems like my trip today wasn't in vain. I got to witness a good show, Evangeline said.

Upon hearing this familiar voice, everyone immediately looked toward the stairs.

A black figure sat on the handrail of the stairs and slid down directly from the second floor.

When she reached the first floor, she landed steadily on the ground

She put her hands in her pockets and walked toward them leisurely.

7. She approached them calmly.

Although she was wearing a hat and mask, everyone recognized her at a glance.

It was Evangeline!

"You ingrate, how dare you come back?" George scolded angrily, "You coming back is one thing, but you have turned the whole place into chaos. You almost break us apart. You are really a scourge!"

o

At this moment, Evangeline had walked to the couch and kicked the long-winded George away.

"Shut your mouth. If you bark at me again, I'll beat your mouth to a pulp." Evangeline roared impatiently.

Then she kicked Meghan, Edward, Samson, and Bethany off the couch

Then, she found a spot where no one had sat before and sat down leisurely.

She leaned on the couch, crossed her legs, and said with a fake smile, "What's your status? You wanna sit with me too?"

Everyone's faces flushed red with anger.

Obviously, they sat on the couch first!

She was a latecomer and also an unwelcome intruder. She not only kicked them but also insulted them.

She was extremely arrogant!

They all stood up and cast different glances at Evangeline.

George was so angry that he wanted to curse her

Bang!

Evangeline kicked the coffee table in front of the couch with force.

The loud noise frightened them to take a step back.

George's desire to hurl insults was suppressed.

Evangeline reminded them, "Figure out your situation before you talk to me. Now, I've got something on you. Make me unhappy, and I'll spill the beans about your nasty affair right away! Forget about that we either rise or fall together stuff. You guys can't influence me

George's face darkened, and his face trembled hard, but he dared not insult Evangeline anymore.

Meghan clenched her fists and gritted her teeth angrily,

Meghan thought, 'Evangeline, this bitch, she's my nemesis. This bitch has already tarnished my reputation, and she even wants to cause me trouble again. I'm so pissed!

"Aren't you supposed to be in police custody now? Why are you here? Did you break out of prison?" Edward frowned and looked at Evangeline gloomily.

It was impossible for Evangeline to have evidence to prove her innocence.

Although there was no actual evidence to prove that she ended someone's life, even if there was not enough evidence to convict her, she could not have been released so soon.

So, after thinking about it for a while, Edward could only think that Evangeline had broken out of prison!

Evangeline glanced at him indifferently and smiled in a stiff way. "Right now, your concern shouldn't be how I get out of the police station but how you can convince me not to spill the beans about your family's scandal,"

Everyone's face darkened.

Edward promised to take care of the deceased's only relative, the reputation of the Gallagher family

Because Evangeline ended someone's life and improved a little

If another scandal appeared at this moment, it would be difficult for the Gallagher family to turn the tables!

George shouted angrily, "You rebellious girl! I'm your father. Do you even want to hurt me? You've done enough harm to the Gallagher family. Are you still unwilling to stop! Get rid of the evidence you have. Don't make it public!"

Evangeline looked up and glanced at him indifferently before she uttered, "The brain is a good thing. Hope you've one. You guys brought this upon the Gallagher family. If you guys insist on finding a culprit to take all the blame, that'd be Meghan. It's her inappropriate behavior during the livestream that implicated your whole family. It's not my fault. Even if I didn't participate in that variety show, she would still mess things up by targeting someone else. She is a terrible person, just as bad as you guys?"

"You" George gnashed his teeth angrily. Suddenly, a hint of cruelty glinted in his eyes. "If you refuse to delete the evidence and insist on harming us, then you can't leave here today! Anyway, you sneaked out of the police station. Even if you die outside, no one will know!"

Evangeline raised her eyebrows and smiled in a fake way. "Are you trying to silence me? Unfortunately, you guys are no match for me. Besides, I forgot to tell you something. I've shared the video with Arthur. Even if I die, your scandal will still be exposed. Go and claim Arthur's life if you have the guts, too."

George was incredulous and his expressions kept changing.

Bethany said in a trembling voice, "Evangeline, please delete the video. Although George and Meghan deserve to die, your three brothers are innocent. If the video is exposed, your three brothers will also be affected. I beg you, please delete the video for the sake of your three brothers!"

Evangeline looked at her, amused, and said, "Mrs, Gallagher, should I say you are naive or stupid? What gave you the illusion that I still have feelings for those three idiots? Do you think I'm going to have compassion for them? Since the day I cut ties with you guys, I've always hated all of you the same. I treat everyone equally. I don't mean to favor one over another. Remember, don't say something stupid again. It's disgusting. Bethany was deeply shocked. She staggered a few times, closed her eyes, and shed tears of despair and regret.

Bethany thought, I neglected Evangeline for Meghan. Now, Meghan seduced George. Evangeline doesn't want to acknowledge me and even hates me. Why is my life so miserable?

Edward looked at Evangeline sullenly and said, "What do you want so that you'd agree not to share the video?"

She didn't leave with the video directly. Instead, she swaggered in front of them, indicating that she wanted to negotiate with them.

Rogue 57

Chapter 57

Evangeline glanced at them who were staring at her angrily and said in a low voice, "All of you, kneel down and talk to me."

Everyone's eyes suddenly widened as if they were going to pop out..

Then, the anger quickly spread in their hearts and burned into their eyes, causing their eyes to turn red.

George was furious and shouted, "You rebellious girl! How dare you ask us to kneel before you? I'm your father. Aren't you afraid of karma!"

Bethany shook her head with red eyes. Her eyes were full of disappointment and anger. "Evangeline, although I did feel sorry for you in the past, and I also sincerely want to fix our relationship, you can't take advantage of our kindness. We are polite to you, but you are outrageous! Can you bear to let your parents and brothers kneel before you? Aren't you afraid of shortening your life span!"

Suppressing his anger, Edward shouted in a low voice in his gloomy face, "Evangeline, you'd better stop now!"

Samson had a complicated look in his eyes, but there was disapproval in them. "Evangeline, you are asking too much. You disrespect us. We can tolerate you. However, it's impossible for you to ask us to kneel before you!"

Meghan said faintly. "No matter what happens, it is subversive to ask your parents to kneel before you. Evangeline, I know you are used to being arrogant, but you can't be so arrogant. You can't be so outrageous! They are your parents and brothers. Don't you have a conscience at all!"

Meghan was extremely furious.

Among them, she hated Evangeline the most.

Evangeline tarnished Megan's reputation on the livestream variety show,

Now, Evangeline had exposed her relationship with George, making the whole family watch her get embarrassed.

Megan really hoped she could end Evangeline's life!

Evangeline looked at them mockingly. "Do you think I'm asking for your opinions? Now your fate is in my hands. You can only do what I ask you to do. Unless you want the whole world to see your dirty business and cause Gallagher Group to be boycotted

Everyone's face instantly became very gloomy, and there was panic in their eyes.

Evangeline said impatiently, "Kneel or eat shit. If you don't want to kneel, then take a shit and eat it yourself."

Everyone's face darkened even more.

They thought, Eat shit

Just hearing these words made their stomachs sick.

Meghan roared angrily, "Evangeline, why are you so vicious! You ask us to kneel or eat shit. We are your family! Do you have a heart or not?" George's face was full of grief and indignation. "You ingrate! I should have let you die before you were born!"

In the blink of an eye, Evangeline suddenly stood up and came to Meghan.

Slap!

Evangeline slapped Meghan in the face mercilessly.

"Ah Meghan flew away with the slap,

Bang!

Evangeline kicked George over without mercy.

"Ah!" George was kicked away by her.

Evangeline took off her hat irritably and smashed it on the ground. She pulled her hair and walked around in the living room, roaring and cursing. "Are you fucking sick! Has your brain been eaten by the excrement beetle? You can only be honest and obedient to what I ask you to do. Do you have the fucking right to shout at me? I talk to you nicely, but you push your luck. You only will be obedient if I do it myself, right?"

Chapter 57

She passed by Edward and kicked him in the leg.

Edward knelt on the ground with a thud.

He wanted to stand up, but Evangeline slapped him in the face. "Kneel down! If you dare to stand up. I'll break your legs!"

Then, she turned around and kicked Samson to the ground.

Bethany looked at Evangeline in horror. "Evangeline... Ahr

"Talk to me after you kneel. Don't fucking waste my time!" Evangeline kicked Bethany, causing the latter to scream and kneel to the ground. Evangeline glanced at Meghan and George with a gloomy look.

They immediately knelt down beside the other three and did not dare to say anything.

Evangeline was really crazy.

She was really going to do it herself.

They were afraid to talk because they were afraid of being beaten by Evangeline.

Evangeline was finally relieved,

She sat back on the couch and said calmly. "It's okay if you don't want me to post the video of George and Meghan. But I have one condition"

The Gallagher family were staring at Evangeline intently, waiting for her request.

Evangeline looked at Edward with a sarcastic smile on her calm face.

Edward's

ward's eyes were slightly frozen, and he had a bad feeling.

Evangeline said with a faint smile. "In exchange for Edward's life."

"What?" Everyone was shocked and widened their eyes in disbelief.

Samson said hurriedly, "Evangeline, how can you be so cold-blooded? Eddie is your biological elder brother! Besides, Eddie has always ignored you only. He didn't do anything to you, did he? But you asked for his life. How cruel you are!"

Bethany was also worried and sobbed, "Evangeline, you and Eddie are siblings. How can you want him to die? Sam is right. Although Eddie ignored you, he only did that and nothing else. But you want his life. You are going too far!"

George said angrily. "How could you be so cruel to Eddie? You really have no conscience at all

Meghan said pretentiously. "Evangeline, you can't be so cruel..."

Edward looked at Evangeline with gloomy eyes and said nothing.

Evangeline sneered, "He didn't do anything? Isn't he the one who asked me to sign the contract to accentuate Meghan!"

Everyone's faces stiffened, and their expressions changed unpredictably.

Samson lowered his head guiltily.

Although Edward asked Evangeline to sign the contract, Samson was the one who first suggested it.

Evangeline continued, "And this time, he asked Pamela to end her life to frame me. Does that mean he had done nothing to me?"

Edward's eyes narrowed.

Others were Hunned.

Apparently, none of them knew about it.

Edward clenched his fists and looked at Evangeline sullenly. "Nonsense! I didn't let Pamela frame you! Do you have any evidence to prove that I did

Evangeline said with a faint smile, "I don't have any evidence, but I trust my intuition"

Edward was so angry that he laughed. "Bullshit. How dare you slander me with your instinct?"

Evangeline shrugged and said indifferently. "Til give you three days to think about it. Three days later, it's either Edward will publish the evidence that he forced Pamela to end her life in order to frame me on the Internet and then turn himself in. Or there will be a video of George and Meghan on the Internet. Your family and Gallagher Group will be screwed"

Bethany cried and shouted, "Eddie said that he didn't frame you. What evidence can he take out! Evangeline, I beg you. Please have a little sympathy. Let go of Eddie and the Gallagher family!"

Evangeline smirked. "No evidence? That's easy. You end him in private. When I hear of his death, I will immediately delete the video."

Evangeline glanced at George and Meghan. "It's up to you."

Then, Evangeline turned her eyes back to Edward, and the smile on her face became colder. "I'll give you a choice too. If you don't want to die and still want to protect the reputation of the Gallagher family, end George and Meghan. After all, the dead deserve some respect. If they die, of course, I won't step on them again"

Everyone's face was extremely gloomy

I that I gave you so many choices. I'll be a kind-hearted person for the last time. I won't do

Evangeline shook her head and sighed. "Ah, I'm so kind that I

this again in the future!"

Everyone was speechless.

They thought, 'A kind-hearted person? She calls herself a kind-hearted person?

Evangeline stood up, bent down to pick up the hat she had thrown on the ground, and turned around to walk to the second floor.

"Talk it over. Three days later, there must be a piece of news of a person's death in your family, or I will post the video," said Evangeline

She went into her old room and jumped out of the window.

There were no surveillance cameras here.

First floor

After Evangeline left, the atmosphere in the living room d

did not change. | It was still depressing.

Everyone's face was gloomy, and their eyes were burning with anger.

One after another they stood up from the ground

Bethany suddenly howled and pounced on George, kicking and punching him. "You bastard! It's all your fault. You tangled with that bitch Meghan, so Evangeline caught you and threatened Eddie! If anything happens to Eddie, I won't let you go! It was caused by you shameless couple. Solve it yourself. Don't try to drag Eddie into the trouble!"

George pushed Bethany away and shouted angrily. "Don't be crazy here! You made the biggest fault in this matter!"

Bethany looked at George in disbelief. "At such a time, do you still want to throw the responsibility to me? What did I do wrong? I didn't do anything!"

George said angrily, "It's all your fault that you made her so rebellious!"

Bethany was so angry that she almost vomited blood.

At this moment, there were footsteps in the direction of the stairs again.

They looked over and saw that Evangeline had come back.

They suddenly stayed alert.

Evangeline said with a smile, "I almost forgot why I came here today. I came here today to beat Edward up to rent my anger. I can't forget my original purpose just because there are unexpected gains."

As she spoke, she walked up to Edward and punched him.

By the time Evangeline stopped, Edward had been beaten badly. He was paralyzed on the ground and could not get up.

Evangeline clapped her hands and said, "Okay, I'm done. Go on."

Then, she turned around and went upstairs to leave.

This time. Evangeline left completely.

"My poor son..." Bethany cried her heart out and went to help Edward up with Samson.

Edward was badly hurt, so they hurriedly took him to the hospital.

There were only George and Meghan at home.

Meghan bit her lips and said softly, "Dad, what should we do? If we don't do as Evangeline said, our affairs will be exposed. We won't be able to go out and see people in the future and the business of the Gallagher family will also take a hard hit...."

George's face darkened as if he wanted to end Evangeline

Meghan said sadly. I don't care about myself. But I don't want to see Dad die. The Gallagher family can't live without you. If Gallagher Group loses you, the foundation of the Gallagher family will be completely ruined. How can you face our ancestors!

George's heart skipped a beat when he heard this, and there was panic in his eyes.

The Gallagher family had been the richest family in Hofcaster for decades. After he took over, their business got worse and worse.

In recent years, the Gallagher family was no longer the richest family in Hofcaster.

George had already felt sorry for his ancestors.

If the Gallagher family was destroyed by him, he would be embarrassed to see his ancestors after his death.

Therefore, George could not die,

What happened between him and Meghan could not be exposed too,

Meghan said softly, "Dad, when Eddie comes back, you persuade him to post the evidence that framed Evangeline. As long as Eddie posts the evidence, Evangeline will let us go." George shook his head sullenly. "No way. He can't admit that he framed Evangeline."

Meghan said sadly, "Dad, you won't let Eddie admit that he framed Evangeline. Do you want us to die instead of him? Dad, you can risk my life, but you can't die. The Gallagher family can't live without you..."

George helped Meghan wipe her tears and said in a deep voice, "The reputation of the Gallagher family has been restored because of what Eddie did. If the news that he forced Pamela to die in order to frame Evangeline for her death is exposed now, then the reputation of the Gallagher family will be badly damaged again. People will boycott the Gallagher family's business. By then, the Gallagher family will be over!"

Meghan asked, "What should we do then?"

George's face darkened, and a trace of cruelty appeared in his eyes. "Then we can only let him die. Evangeline said that it's okay if the evidence is not made to the public. As long as he dies, she won't pursue this matter! It's a good deal to save the Gallagher family by ending him alone! What's more, people now have a better opinion of him. If he dies at this time, they will feel sorry for him and support the Gallagher family's business because of him!"

At this moment, in the entranceway.

Hearing George's voice from the living room, Bethany felt cold as if she was struck by lightning.

Bethany thought, "George is such a bastard. He wants to end Eddie in order to save himself and Meghan the bitch! Eddie is his son! How could he be so cruel?"

Bethany covered her mouth and tried hard not to make a sound,

Chapter 58

Fortunately, she left her phone at home and came back to fetch it. That was why she heard George's plan.

Otherwise, Bethany would not even know that Edward was going to be murdered by them!

Thanks to the fact that they were in a hurry to send Edward to the hospital just now and did not have time to close the door when they went out. The door was open, so Bethany did not need to open it when she came back. She made no sound, so George and Megan did not notice her.

Bethany listened to the shameless bastards discussing how to murder Edward with hatred in her eyes.

She would not let them hurt Edward!

If someone had to die, it would be George and Megan the bastards!

Bethany gritted her teeth and pressed the hatred back to her heart

She did not go in to look for her phone but quietly left the mansion.

After Evangeline left the Gallagher residence, she went to a barbecue joint and ordered a lot of skewers and several bottles of beer.

She was in a good mood today. She wanted to celebrate with a few bottles of beer

After the skewers and beers were served, Evangeline took off her mask and began to eat

She picked up a bottle of beer and finished it in one gulp without even using a cup.

She had a belch, then ate a stick of lamb skewers.

Evangeline thought. That's great

Someone secretly took a video of her with a phone.

Evangeline looked over and took off her hat with a smile.

The

person took a deep breath and became speechless after looking at her beauty

The person thought, 'She's drop-dead gorgeous!

It took him a while to come back to his senses. He ran away with the phone and posted the video on the Internet.

A Sports Student Who Has Been Single for 20 Years: I seem to run into Evangeline in a barbecue joint. Wasn't she suspected of intentional homicide and detained by the police? Why is she here?] There was a video below the post.

Soon, the video became a trending topic.

It aroused the wrath of netizens.

Their curses almost shut down the Twitter server.

[Did Evangeline escape or was she released from prison!]

[She must have been released. If it is a prison break, she couldn't be so swaggering. The police didn't make an announcement either.]

[Evangeline murdered someone but they released her? Is there any law left?]

[Hofcaster Police Station, say something. Why did Hofcaster Police Station release Evangeline? Give an explanation to the public, or tomorrow I'll deliver wreaths to all Hofcaster police stations!] What's the background of Evangeline? How could she be released so soon after murdering someone?]

[If I were at the scene, I would definitely end her and avenge the innocent Pamela!]

[That's right. Even if I risk my life, I will end this arrogant bitch!]

At this time, some people around who were eating late-night snacks began to gossip on their mobile phones.

Some people who did not check their phones were reminded by their friends and took out their phones to check the information on the Internet.

After reading the content on the Internet, they began to look in Evangeline's direction with anger.

At this time, Evangeline's phone rang.

Evangeline answered the call.

"Evangeline, this is Hofcaster Police Station. Why did you show up blatantly outside? Didn't you say you wouldn't show up in your real face? It's only been more than ten minutes now. The news of the netizens scolding you and questioning the official has almost paralyzed all the networks. The reporters guarding the entrance of the police station were also shouting at the police station and throwing things into it. Someone is going to start an organization and come to you, saying that they want to eliminate a public scourge! Evangeline, you're really amazing! It's only been a few hours since you left, but you've caused such a big noise!" On the phone, the policeman's voice was furious

The policeman continued. "Leave the barbecue joint now, or you will be beaten to death by the angry and unreasoning enthusiastic citizen!"

Although the policeman's voice was very angry, he was also worried about Evangeline.

"Where are you? We'll immediately go to find your said the policeman.

Evangeline said, "Don't come to me. I will be fine. That video can be posted now."

The policeman was stunned and immediately said, "Okay, then we'll post it! Even if you don't agree, we have to post it. Otherwise, there will be no peace in Hofeaster tonight."

Evangeline laughed and talked to the police for a short while before hanging up the call.

When she put away her phone and looked up, there were already many people around her Everyone's face was filled with anger.

"Evangeline, you murderer! How dare you walk out and have fun after dering someone?" one of them shouted.

Another passerby uttered, "Your background is so strong. You murdered a person at noon, got arrested in the afternoon, and got out of prison at night!"

Following that, someone yelled, "Go to hell! If you murder someone, you have to pay with your life!"

"The law can't control you. Today we will uphold justice the crowd discussed.

They continued, "The law doesn't punish everyone. Come on, everyone. Let's beat this vicious woman to death!

"That's right. Let's do it together. Even if we are to be sentenced, so many people will share the crime, and each of us won't be sentenced for many years!" another shouted.

As the people shouted, everyone's anger reached its peak.

Especially when they saw that Evangeline was so calm and did not regret it at all, they became angrier.

They thought, 'She doesn't regret murdering someone. How arrogant she is!

Just as they were about to do it...

"Wait a minute, Evangeline said slowly. Her voice was very clear and intimidating.

The noisy crowd subconsciously fell silent.

Evangeline said, "I know you are anxious, but don't be in a hurry. You can check the Twitter of Hofcaster Police Station first, and then decide whether to do it or not

.By this time, the police should have posted the video.

Everyone was stunned.

Nonetheless, they subconsciously took out their phones and logged in to Twitter.

Their expressions changed from anger to shock, then to remorse and regret.

After they finished watching it, there was no anger in their eyes when they looked at Evangeline. They only felt embarrassed and apologetic.

"Well... We're sorry, Evangeline. We didn't know you were wronged. We just saw the online revelations and other people's analysis, so we the nose, thinking that you murdered someone..." one said.

were led by

"Evangeline. I'm sorry. I shouldn't have scolded you just now. I really deserve to die!" another passerby uttered.

"I should have waited for the police's announcement... the crowd discussed.

"Evangeline, I'm sorry one apologized

"I'm sorry, Evangeline.

the crowd continued

Someone took the lead in apologizing to Evangeline, and others also apologized after another. The sound of apology came from all directions.

Evangeline waved her hand, signaling them to be quiet, "It's boring to just apologize. Be practical. You can pay my order for me tonight as an apology." Everyone was stunned for a moment and then laughed out loud. "Okay, Evangeline is generous

Evangeline said, "Buy ten boules of Macallan whiskey first!"

Everyone was speechless. They thought, 'Evangeline, she's not kind at all! A bottle of Macallan whiskey costs nearly 1,400 dollars. But she wants ten bottles...

Nevertheless, someone went to buy the liquor.

When the person returned with the liquor all the tables at the barbecue joint had been joined together under Evangeline's command.

The people who were strangers just now were sitting together, drinking and bragging.

Evangeline did not drink alone, but she asked everyone to drink it together.

They drank until the early morning, and everyone was a little drunk.

Besides the ten boules of Macallan whiskey, they drank a lot of beer.

Evangeline blushed from drinking.

Evangeline said, "I'm going home. Bye"

After saying that, she fell to the ground and crawled away.

"Evangeline, wait for me! I'll crawl too!" Someone immediately followed Evangeline and crawled with hands and feet.

The people crawled on the ground one after another.

Late night in Hofcaster, hundreds of young people crawled and twisted on the ground, making strange screams from time to time.

Passers-by who did not know the truth almost urinated in fear.

"Oh my. Halloween hasn't arrived yet. Is the gate of death opened in advance?" one passerby uttered.

"Oh my, I saw hundreds of ghosts travel at night" another one said,

Someone replied, "No, it's hundreds of ghosts crawling at night..."

Onlookers caught this jaw-dropping scene and shared it online.

Soon, folks recognized the person leading the pack as Evangeline.

The netizens were left in disbelief.

One of them commented: [Hold up, isn't that Evangeline? What's she doing in the dead of night? And what's the deal with the crowd trailing behind her?]

Another person remarked. (This sight is downright mind-blowing.)

[Feels like something out of a supernatural invasion...]

[Evangeline is amazing. She's leading a whole bunch of people astray by herself.]

[Leading them astray? Evangeline's clearly helping them find themselves.]

Meanwhile, the owner of the barbecue joint posted a few videos, In the clips, he passionately explained, "Due to a misunderstanding, those folks were gearing up to confront Evangeline, but the cops dropped evidence proving her innocence. She played it cool, didn't lay blame, and just made them foot the bill. She even shared drinks with everyone. At first, there were only a handful of them, but more and more joined, all invited by Evangeline. The place was so packed that most had to stand, but they all had fun. I even ran out of ingredients and had to call in neighboring store owners for help. Evangeline is amiable. She has no airs. Her personality is fantastic, and she's super outgoing. I'm so excited to have met such an amiable celebrity for the first time. She's a wonderful person, but she hates her family a lot. Clearly, the Gallagher family has some serious issues. Okay, enough said. I'm going to close the shop and catch up with Evangeline.

Before the end of the clip, he shouted, "Evangeline, climb bravely! Evangers, always together!"

Besides the video of him giving a personal explanation, he also posted a bunch of clips showing Evangeline having meals with random people.

In these videos, Evangeline was amiable, even calling over a passing dog to share a piece of chicken.

The netizens were blown away.

One commented: [Oh my gosh! Evangeline looks even more stunning through the lens of passersby. She stands out from the crowd and looks like an angel!]

[Evangeline is incredibly generous, laid-back, and down to earth. With her amazing personality, I would love to be friends with her even if she were an average looking ordinary person]

Another netizen remarked: [I envy those who were there. I want to drink with Evangeline too]

[I want to let loose and crawl together with Evangeline in the city]

[The barbecue joint owner should be in his fifties, yet he's shouting the slogan for Evangeline like a young man]

A person commented: [Where are the sponsors in the entertainment industry! Hurry up and get Evangeline to act or host a variety show. I can't go a day without seeing her!]

Someone agreed: (Exactly, Evangeline, please act more and join more variety shows. I've watched all the shows you're in, but you're always a side character with only an hour-long screen time. You were even intentionally uglified for some characters that I couldn't recognize you. So frustrating!]

[Please, Evangeline, give us more entertainment!]

Seeing the netizens' comments, the directors and investors felt even more anxious than the netizens themselves.

They were eager to collaborate with Evangeline.

However, they couldn't reach Evangeline.

Evangeline used to be a celebrity with Superb Entertainment, but she was no longer under contract.

When they contacted Superb Entertainment for her contact information, they were refused.

TA

Chapter 59

They sent Twitter messages to Evangeline, but she didn't reply or even read them.

If they couldn't contact her, there was no possibility of collaboration.

They only hoped Evangeline would see the netizens' pleas and check her messages

Evangeline was at the top of the A-list celebrities in the entertainment industry now, and everyone wanted to work with her.

Yet Evangeline herself was oblivious to the online buzz.

At the moment, she was still swiftly crawling on the sidewalk, followed closely by a large, seemingly endless crowd.

Evangeline stood up and started running.

She wanted to leave this crowd behind

Behind her, many people were yelling "Hey, Evangeline! Why are you running? Why did you stop crawling!" "Evangeline, don't leave us!" "Evangeline, wait for us!"

They also stood up, trying to catch up, but their speed was far behind Evangeline's.

Evangeline was so fast that all they could see were her afterimages.

The people behind her were stunned,

In no time, Evangeline disappeared from their sight, and finally, they gave up the chase.

Evangeline returned home and fell asleep immediately.

The next day, she received a call from the director's assistant of the show, Xtreme Survival.

The assistant director said. "Hello, Ms. Evangeline Castillo. I'm Michael, assistant to Smith, the director of Xtreme Survival, He asked me to inquire. about the list of participants you would like to have on the show. Once confirmed, we will announce the participants and promote the program. Filming will commence in a month."

Evangeline, who had almost forgotten about this, quickly provided a few names.

Michael noted them down and repeated them to continue.

After ensuring there were no mistakes, Michael said, "All right, we'll take care of it. Ms. Evangeline Castillo, please make sure to arrive in Nardor at least a day before the shoot."

Evangeline responded, "Send me the money

"Uh..." Michael hesitated.

Evangeline continued, "I won't go without the money."

Michael replied. "I'll discuss this with our boss.

Evangeline gave him an international account and said, "Once you guys figure it out, just transfer the money directly into my account. No need to reach out to me again. Remember, you cover the transaction fees."

Michael remained silent.

Evangeline cut the call, went outside, and stretched her body,

She crawled two laps, ran ten, then did a hundred regular push-ups and proceeded to do one- -finger push-ups.

From thumb to pinky, she did a hundred repetitions for every finger.

Next, she attempted a one-arm handstand, eventually shifting to a one-finger handstand,

After these warm-ups, she started punching, fast and fiercely.

Chapter 59

An hour later, she picked up a few leaves from the grass.

Holding a leaf between her index and middle fingers, she flicked it lightly, and the seemingly weightless leaf flew like a dart for over 30 feet before landing.

Evangeline furrowed her brows and remarked, "My body hasn't fully recovered. The effects of that drug are too strong, and my metabolism is too slow. It's been a year, yet it's still not completely out of my system.

However, she had already improved a lot compared to before.

There was a chance she would fully recover in a month.

If it were not for the impact of the drug on her body, causing a significant decrease in her physical abilities, she wouldn't have been successfully ambushed by Meghan three months ago.

As Evangeline thought of Meghan, a hint of coldness flashed in her eyes.

She had to settle the score with the Gallagher family before going to Nardor.

She decided to wait for three days, allowing them to engage in internal strife before making her final move.

www

Meanwhile, on the observatory atop the neighboring mansion, Arthur, Steven, and Hugo each held a telescope, watching Evangeline's intense workout with stunned expressions.

Steven swallowed hard, trembling as he said, "Evangeline is too strong. Is she even human?"

Hugo commented, "She's undoubtedly the most formidable human I've ever seen.

Arthur felt complicated.

He couldn't fathom how Evangeline developed such formidable strength.

He wondered, What's their special training method? Even her sister was exceptionally strong back then.

Steven looked at Arthur and said, "Arthur, maybe you should give up on Evangeline. Otherwise, you won't stand a chance against her, and we'll always have to be ready to collect your body. Just let me take the opportunity. I can handle a beating"

Arthur's expression darkened.

Hugo interjected, "I think I'm more suitable. I'm a masochist

Arthur kicked them both and snapped. "Shut up."

Letting out a sigh, Steven said, "Well, no amount of negotiations changes the fact that it's not about who among us will pursue her, but who she's going to choose. Evangeline is the one calling the shots." Arthur, still with a dark expression, walked down from the observatory.

"Where are you going? Hugo asked.

"I'm going to be her punching bag," Arthur said without turning his head.

Steven and Hugo were speechless.

They initially considered following Arthur, but realizing their weak bodies couldn't withstand a punch from Evangeline, they decided to stay put and continue observing.

Arthur quickly entered the mansion's yard.

Evangeline was still engaged in her training

As she noticed Arthur approaching, she considered him a target and launched a high kick toward his head without a word.

Arthur reacted swiftly, sidestepping and retreating by two paces while reaching to grab her ankle.

Surprisingly, Evangeline hooked her foot around his neck, lifting her body into the air. Her other foot quickly followed, clamping down on his head. She executed an acrobatic flip, causing Arthur to lose balance and be flung to the ground.

He rolled on the floor, performed a kip-up, and proactively attacked, throwing a punch at Evangeline.

Evangeline caught his punch, but her body was pushed back two steps by the force.

She was somewhat surprised, thinking, He's stronger than I thought

The next moment, her eyes lit up with excitement.

After she parted ways with Dexter, she rarely came across people who could match up to her, so she was eager to have someone to spar with.

Both remained silent; their moves were fast and fierce, targeting vital points

That was how real fights worked. Attacking crucial points was a must

The sounds of their bodies colliding and sweat splattering in the air were enough to illustrate the intensity of the battle

Steven and Hugo watched with a mix of astonishment and trepidation from the observatory next door.

Steven remarked, "They're going all out, hitting each other hard. It looks painful.

Hugo wiped the sweat off his forehead and said, "How could Arthur go all out? He won't be able to win over any girls like this?"

Steven shot him a glare and remarked, "Evangeline isn't an ordinary girl. If Arthur holds back, she'll beat him senseless"

Hugo shook his head, stating, "Evangeline is a law-abiding person, so she won't kill anyone. At most, she'll leave them severely injured"

Steven felt speechless.

After nearly half an hour of fighting on the grass, the winner was finally determined. Evangeline's relentless combo kept pushing Arthur back, making him retreat constantly. Her attacks were swift and powerful, leaving him with no choice but to defend himself. Suddenly, Evangeline executed a foot sweep, causing him to lose balance and fall backward

Just as he tried to get up, Evangeline planted her foot on his chest.

Using the tip of her foot to grind against his chest. Evangeline smiled faintly and said, "If I go all out, I could shatter your sternum and break your heart

Arthur lay on the ground, gazing up at Evangeline, who stood over him condescendingly.

The rising sun behind her created a dazzling glow, casting her in silhouette

Standing there with the light behind her, she looked so beautiful, almost like someone you could only see in a dream, like a queen you'd never expect to meet in real life.

Arthur felt his heart suddenly racing as if it were about to burst out of his chest.

He thought, "Damn. Why does being beaten up make me more excited"

"Were you beaten, silly?" asked Evangeline. She couldn't help but frown when she saw Arthur lying motionless and staring at her blankly.

I didn't hit him in the head, so why is he acting like this? she wondered.

Arthur returned to his senses and grabbed her ankle awkwardly.

He removed her foot from his chest and sat up calmly.

Then, he said earnestly. "I didn't turn silly. You can test me if you don't believe me

Evangeline asked, "What is the solution to the black hole information paradox

Arthur was struck speechless.

Evangeline teased, "It seems that you have turned silly"

Arthur was dumbfounded.

He sat on the ground, looked at Evangeline, and asked curiously. "How did you get so good at fighting! I've always been confident in my skills, but I didn't expect to be beaten you."

"If you focus on something, you can thrive in it," said Evangeline. "My hobby is combat arms. I spend a lot of time practicing daily, so it is given my physical and combat strength is better. Your focus is on doing business, so you're good at that. You have reached this level by only practicing in your spare time, which means you are quite gifted."

Arthur shook his head and sighed. "I'm still far behind you."

Evangeline smiled and replied, "Don't be greedy. You are not a child blessed by the angels. You can't expect to be the first in every aspect. Although I'm strong in combat arts, I don't know how to run a business. Even if I have learned other things. I'm not particularly outstanding at them. God is fair. You will be stronger in whichever aspect you invest the most."

Arthur also smiled and said. "I didn't expect you to be so discerning even though you are still young. When I was your age, I always fantasized about being an all-rounder."

Evangeline glanced at him and scoffed. "Don't make it seem like you are so much older than me."

Arthur sighed and mused, "A six-year gap is quite big."

Evangeline continued. "You can leave after resting. Don't disrupt my practice."

Arthur suggested. "It's hard to make progress by yourself. Let me take you to a place where you can put your skills to use."

Evangeline's eyes lit up as she answered, "What are you waiting for, then? Lead the way!"

Arthur drove Evangeline to an underground combat arts academy.

As they walked inside, Arthur introduced to her, "This is a training place for people who are into street fights. There are people from all walks of life, including boxers, veteran fighters, and some experts from ordinary society?"

He continued. "By the way, just last month, an Olympic Games kickboxing champion joined us. Most people here are short of money and can't find a place to make quick money, so they come and join street fights. As long as you have the ability, you can earn tens of thousands or even several hundred thousand dollars in one night. Once they enter, few people are willing to leave. But it's also extremely dangerous. It is not like those exhibition matches on TV. People often die in the arena here."

Evangeline nodded.

She and Dexter had seen those kinds of street fights when they were abroad.

The people who went to those games were basically filthy rich,

They would invest in the players.

People who didn't invest would bet on which fighter would win in the matches.

vivo

VPA

In the view of those pe

people, it was the same as if they were betting on horse racing and cockfighting

Even if a fighter lost a match but didn't get killed in the ring, those who invested and bet on him would still take their anger out on him for making them lose money.

Arthur continued, "You can choose some people who haven't fought recently to practice with. Or you can use their arena to train by yourself. Don't go looking for the people who are entering the ring tonight. I am afraid you will cripple them"

Evangeline blinked and asked curiously, "Can I join the fights in the arena?"

Arthur frowned and said. "You can. The audience gets excited whenever a female contestant steps onto the stage. The organizer will also back you and allow you to sign up at the last minute. But things could end terribly if you lose in the ring. Because this is an illegal underground match, the regulations are quite lax. The loser will be humiliated badly. People being stripped naked is considered a light humiliation. I have seen losers forced to drink the winner's urine

Evangeline replied, "Then I just have to make sure I don't lose, right?"

It was difficult for her not to be tempted by the fact that she could practice and win money at the same time.

Arthur frowned.

Evangeline looked at him coldly and sneered, "You don't think I can defeat those people?"

Arthur shook his head and explained, "Under normal circumstances, it should be fine, but... this is an underground arena. People are allowed to use illegal drugs. After they use illicit drugs, their physical strength will increase sharply, and their endurance will become higher. They won't even feel pain. The organizer doesn't limit the dosage. As long as a contestant is not afraid of death, he can inject as much as he wants."

Evangeline said, "I'm not afraid, so help me sign up. By the way, I don't want to go on stage using my real identity. Could you help me to prepare another mask

Arthur wanted to dissuade her, but seeing that she had made up her mind, he said nothing.

Evangeline wore a mask and went to the practice range of the underground combat arts academy. There were many professional props for training.

When she arrived, many people were training, and the unpleasant smell of sweat permeated the air.

To Evangeline's surprise, beasts such as tigers and black bears were being raised in captivity.

Those beasts were all locked up in separate rooms.

Seeing Evangeline looking over, Arthur explained kindly, "Occasionally, there will be underground arena fights between humans and beasts. But there hasn't been one for the past six months. No one dares to fight against beasts. The previous champion, who won the title ten consecutive times, was confident enough to engage in a human-beast fight. He challenged that white tiger, but he was eaten in whole by it. The officially guaranteed minimum winning prize in the human-beast competition is 2 million dollars, but with the betting of the audience, the prize money can exceed 20 million dollars. It's very tempting." Evangeline looked at Arthur and asked, "How do you know about things so clearly!"

Arthur smiled and answered truthfully. "When I participated in Xtreme Survival, I didn't win the bonus. After I returned, I kept trying to make money to start my own business. I was dragged into this competition unintentionally for two years and earned my venture capital."

Evangeline raised her eyebrows and thought, "No wonder his skills are excellent even though he is a businessman. He could stay in such a place for two years, which was proof enough of his strength. Evangeline didn't ask any more questions. She jumped onto a platform and started training

Arthur went to find the boss and signed Evangeline up for the matches.

Of course, he came up with a fake name for her.

One didn't need to use their real names in street fights. Any name that sounded awesome worked just fine.

At half past nine, the competition officially began.

Evangeline followed Arthur to the back of the arena and took a seat to prepare herself, once a month, and wealthy people from all over the country would come to watch them every time.

Some people who didn't want their identity to be exposed wore masks.

But most of them weren't wearing masks.

Some of them would take the opportunity to build a good rapport to cooperate in the future.

The host blabbed a lot on stage and began to call the contestants up. "We are joined by a mysterious female contestant tonight. Let's welcome her onto the stage! Monkey King, please come onto the stage!" Backstage, Arthur pushed Evangeline, who was motionless, and said. "He is calling you. It's time to go on stage."

Evangeline was struck dumb as she choked out. "I am Monkey King"

Arthur replied, "Yeah. You asked to wear a mask on the stage, so you must not want to be exposed, so I created a pseudonym for you."

Evangeline kicked toward him and gritted, "That does not mean that you can give me a name like Monkey King"

She wondered, 'Am I never going to get away from being connected to monkeys?'

Arthur dodged to the side and stressed with a smile, "I think it's good. It's just a name. Don't put too much thought into it. Just go on up." Evangeline stepped onto the stage with a sullen look.

She wore a black sports.

Her slim waist and long legs were exposed.

Although she wore a mask, her exceptional figure was enough to excite the audience.

She was greeted with whistles and catcalls as soon as she appeared on the "Damn, the female contestant this time is top-class! She has such a hot figure! Even celebrities don't have such figures!"

"Yes, she is hot, but she's too thin. She might be knocked out by a punch"

"She looks thin, but you can see that her body is covered in muscles. She seems to have been trained."

"Take a look. She has abs. Although her arms and legs are thin, they all have obvious muscle lines!"

"Although she has a little muscle, I don't think it is enough for her to give a good fight.

"Can the one who fights against her be gender I want to be her sugar daddy?"

"Don't fight me over this. I also have a crush on her!"

There was a lot of discussion among the audience.

Although some people admired Evangeline's figure, they all thought her skinny arms and legs could not beat those with bigger muscles.

At that time, the host called out another contestant.

It was a muscular man who was five feet eleven inches tall and weighed 265 pounds.

The muscles on his body were well-proportioned and hard, with the blood vessels protruding visibly. He looked as if he was bursting with energy.

His stage name was Black Panther, and he had won the championship six times consecutively.

In the past

x six months, he had knocked out all challengers and held onto the title every time.

Once he came onto the arena, there was another burst of cheers,

"Monkey King is in trouble. Black Panther likes to strip his opponents naked, carry them off the stage, and humiliate them after winning...."

Chapter 60

Holy shit! Black Panther, I'm rooting for you. You need to strip your opponent today!"

I'm so excited just thinking about it. Monkey King has such a good figure, so, of course, we should all see it together!"

The host said, "It's time to place bets. In ten minutes, the match will officially start!"

The audience in the arena began to place bets.

Almost everyone bet that Black Panther would win.

To one bet that Monkey King would win.

At the last minute, someone bet 20 million dollars that Monkey King would win.

The crowd couldn't help laughing, "Which big shot has so much money to waste? How can he be so willing to give money away freely?"

The Monkey King is not a match for Black Panther."

"It's probably someone stupid with too much money on hand."

Arthur sat among the audience, listened to others' comments, and smiled.

He had faith in Evangeline.

He was going to make a lot of money tonight

As Arthur had made a huge amount of bet, the rest of them began to put in more money to gain more back.

Tonight's bet amount had exceeded the previous records!

The betting period was over, and the referee declared the start of the match

Black Panther raised his chin and looked at Evangeline with contempt and disdain in his gaze.

"You are not my match in a fight. If I want to attack you, I only need to use 10% of my strength, and you will end up being crippled by me. I'm friendly to women. As long as you kneel and admit defeat before crawling under my crotch, I won't hit you. You can walk off the ring intact!"

After saying that, he spread his legs and waited for Evangeline to crawl under his crotch.
