

Rebirth of the Best Businesswoman at School

Chapter 19: Why Should I Feel Guilty?

Liu Chunxia's sharp voice made people's eardrums buzz. Everyone present instinctively frowned. It was obvious that they did not have a good impression of Li Yunmei's mother. With this woman making a scene, even if Li Yunmei were the weaker party, she would not be able to arouse anyone's sympathy.

Li Yunmei, on the other hand, was sitting in a wheelchair at the side with a wronged look on her face. She acted well.

"Madam Liu, since Student Jian Ai is here, it is enough to prove that our school is investigating this matter thoroughly." At this moment, Principal Sun Boyou walked forward and said to Li Yunmei's mother, "We all know that you feel sorry for your daughter. However, since it is an injury incident, as a school, we still have to clarify the matter. If our school failed in its duties, we will definitely not shirk the responsibility. As for Student Jian Ai, if it is her fault, we will definitely punish her and give you a satisfactory explanation."

Principal Sun's words were exceptionally fair and neutral. As the principal of Erzong, he had an invisible sense of righteousness that made people not dare to be disrespectful.

Hearing that, Liu Chunxia took a deep breath and glared at Jian Ai with a fierce look. She said, "Fine, I want to hear her explanation. The hospital proved my daughter's injury. How can she deny it?"

Seeing that Liu Chunxia finally stopped shouting, everyone heaved a sigh of relief. Principal Sun looked past Teacher Li and at Jian Ai. He said calmly, "Student Jian Ai, right? Tell us what happened between you and Li Yunmei after school yesterday. Did you fight? How did her leg get injured?"

"Tell the principal what happened yesterday. Don't worry." Teacher Li didn't forget to cheer Jian Ai.

Jian Ai immediately nodded. Then, without any fear, she walked out from behind Teacher Li to the front. Her petite body stood straight, and even her back view appeared neither servile nor overbearing.

"After school yesterday, Guan Tao and I were planning to take a bus from the bus stop opposite..."

Jian Ai's thoughts were clear, and she fluently narrated what had happened yesterday. Her tone was proper as if she was telling someone else's story.

In the end, Jian Ai didn't forget to add, "Li Yunmei's injuries are proportional to the strength of her kick yesterday. If she hadn't used her full strength, how could she have been injured so badly? If I hadn't instinctively dodged at that time, would I have been the one lying in the hospital today?"

"Nonsense!"

Li Yunmei could not help but panic when she heard this. She shouted at Jian Ai with a red face.

"Jian Ai is not talking nonsense. Li Yunmei was the one who started it yesterday. She was also the one who laid a hand first." Guan Tao, who was at the side, quickly opened her mouth to be Jian Ai's witness.

"Why are you so vicious at such a young age? Don't you feel guilty at all for beating a classmate up like that?!" Liu Chunxia didn't believe Jian Ai. Her daughter had already told her that it was Jian Ai who caused this.

"Guilty? What do I have to feel guilty about?" Jian Ai didn't care about Li Yunmei's mother at all. She said slowly, "It's like a pig suddenly ran towards me with all its might. As a normal person, I instinctively dodged it. Then, the pig bumped into a tree by itself. Am I to be blamed? Do I have to feel guilty towards the pig?"

Chapter 20: She Actually Called the Police!

"Jian Ai, who are you calling a pig?!"

How could Li Yunmei not hear the sarcasm in Jian Ai's words? She was so angry that she stood up from the wheelchair. However, she accidentally pulled her tendons again and gasped in pain.

"Oh, Xiao Mei. Don't move around. You are still injured." Liu Chunxia quickly went forward and helped Li Yunmei to sit down.

Jian Ai calmly replied, "Whoever hit the tree was a pig!"

"Listen to this, just listen!" Liu Chunxia was so angry that her fingers were shaking. She pointed at Jian Ai and said to the teachers, "Look at her attitude. Is she here to apologize? Huh?"

Teacher Li ignored Liu Chunxia's accusation and said to the principal, "Principal Sun, as the form teacher of Jian Ai and Li Yunmei, I am partly responsible for what happened between the classmates. However, I choose to believe in Jian Ai today. She has always been very obedient in class and would never provoke others."

Teacher Li had been teaching in Erzhang for many years, and everyone present knew her character. Now that she stood up for Jian Ai, everyone chose to believe her from the bottom of their hearts.

Liu Chunxia flew into a rage again. She rushed up to Teacher Li and yelled, "What are you talking about? As a teacher and a form teacher, are you so blatantly biased? Why do you think she's telling the truth and that my daughter is lying?! Just because you think she's obedient? Let me tell you, my daughter is very obedient at home as well. Now that she's being bullied in school, you have to give me a satisfactory outcome!"

Liu Chunxia's saliva flew all over the place. When she was angry, she did not have the elegance and dignity of a rich lady. When Teacher Li heard her words, she could not help but show a polite smile. "Madam Liu, I know that I might sound impolite to say this, but you might have some misunderstanding about your obedient and sensible daughter. As Li Yunmei's form teacher, I have students coming to complain about Li Yunmei to me almost once every few days. There are even teachers from other classes who complained to me. This means that not only did Li Yunmei bully her classmates, but also students from other classes. As the form teacher, I also want to treat her equally. However, with her usual behavior, I'm sorry. I really can't speak up for your daughter."

2

Li Yunmei was the only daughter in the family. Her parents pampered her since she was young. Liu Chunxia could not stand it when others said that about her daughter. Moreover, there were so many teachers and the principal present. No one pitied her daughter.

"Okay, okay. I understand now. This is how your school handles problems." Liu Chunxia looked at Jian Ai gloomily. "Since your school can't handle this, don't blame me."

Liu Chunxia quickly took out her phone from her bag and dialed a number.

"Hello? Is this the Public Security Bureau? I want to call the police. My daughter is suffering from violence in school..."

When Li Yunmei heard that her mother called the police, she suddenly realized the seriousness of the problem. She initially thought that based on Jian Ai's cowardly character, her mother would scare her silly when she found her way to the school. Then, she would put pressure on the school and expel her.

However, she did not expect that the police would be alerted.

