Even Kingsley didn't expect that Kenny would make such a move!

He had originally planned to receive Keylon's punch and then knock down everyone in front of him. But he didn't expect Kenny to use his own body to block for him!

Wiping the corner of his mouth hard, Kenny looked at Keylon and others fiercely. "Are you done?"

"Advisor Shane..."

For a moment, Keylon and the strong men behind him were all scared as they turned pale.

They stood there in fear and helplessness, not knowing what to do.

At this moment, an arrogant voice came from behind them. "Hey, isn't this the legendary Advisor Shane? What's going on? Why haven't you come in yet?"

With these words, Rupert and his men walked out from inside.

He approached the crowd and was about to speak when he noticed Kenny's swollen face.

"What is this..."

He felt a slight tremor in his heart.

Glaring at Keylon, Rupert gritted his teeth and questioned, "You guys laid your hands on Advisor Shane?!"

He certainly wanted to teach Kenny a lesson, but if his side made the first move, the nature of the matter would be completely different!

Since Jarett and Kenny hadn't completely fallen out, Kenny was still the face of Cole Gang!

Hitting Kenny would be the same as punching Jarett in the face!

If Jarett really got angry, even ten Jeanne Gangs would be no match for him!

Seeing Rupert's fierce expression, Keylon replied in a trembling voice, "No... Rupert, listen to me—"

Before Keylon could finish, Rupert kicked him and angrily cursed, "You f*cking blind dog! How dare you lay hands on Advisor Shane?! Are you tired of living?!"

Keylon was kicked so hard by Rupert that his internal organs churned and he almost vomited.

He felt wronged in his heart but didn't dare to argue back.

All he could do was cough and say, "Cough... I'm sorry, Advisor Shane. I failed to recognize your eminence..."

As Kingsley watched Rupert's action, his heart twitched.

He never expected that Victoria would have such a vicious subordinate!

This is not her style of doing things! he thought.

Rupert turned to Kenny after scolding Keylon and pretended to be polite as he said, "It's unfortunate that such an unpleasant incident occurred while you were visiting, Advisor Shane. I sincerely apologize!"

Kenny had intended to use this as an opportunity to display his power, but when he saw that the people behind Rupert were all holding weapons, he became rather apprehensive. After all, he was in their stronghold now. If he continued being unreasonable, he feared things wouldn't end well.

He could only snort coldly and say with a glum face, "Jeanne Gang's hospitality is truly eye-opening!"

"It's a misunderstanding! I'll take care of this son of a b*tch according to our rules later!"

As Rupert spoke, he glanced at Kingsley and said to Kenny with a smile, "Advisor Shane, you really live up to your reputation. Given that you only brought one person, Jeanne Gang's influence appears to be too limited!"

With that, he clapped his hands and ordered loudly, "Let's not do anything underhanded! Come out, everyone!"

At his command, dozens of burly men holding clubs emerged from every corner of Jeanne D'Arc!

There was hardly a single corner in the entire teahouse that was unguarded!

Seeing this scene, Kenny couldn't help but break out in a cold sweat.

If these people really started a fight, he wouldn't be able to escape even if he had nine lives!

Seeing Kenny's stiff expression, Rupert smiled contentedly. "Advisor Shane, your status speaks for itself. We can only welcome you in this grand manner!"

When Rupert saw the prestigious Kenny's expression become stiff under his arrangement, he couldn't help but feel proud.

He felt that he had become somewhat influential in the underworld!

But at the same time, he suddenly noticed Kingsley standing beside Kenny. Not only did Kingsley show no signs of panic, but he was also very calm.

Kingsley appeared to be at ease as if he were in his own living room!

Suddenly, Rupert's sense of self-congratulatory vanished in an instant!

Glaring at Kingsley, he said to Kenny, "This way, Advisor Shane. Miss Jeanne is already in the office waiting for you."

As he spoke, the group arrived at the top floor of Jeanne D'Arc, outside Victoria's office.

Looking at the door that was within reach, Kingsley, who had been calm all along, suddenly became excited.

I'm finally meeting Victoria! he thought.

His heart suddenly raced!

Kingsley recalled the scene when he was in the orphanage.

When Victoria was less than ten years old, she had already ruled over the children of several streets.

Every time she made those kids bring snacks and candies as tribute, she would shove all the food in her clothes, run over joyfully, and excitedly say to him, "Kingsley, look! I brought you delicious food again!"

Later, she would squat beside him to watch him wolf down the food with a grin.

Even if she drooled with hunger, she would endure it and wait for him to finish before eating his leftovers.

As Kingsley thought of this, his eyes became sore, and his heart pounded!

I wonder how Victoria looks now...

Taking a deep breath, he slowly calmed down his excitement.

And his subtle action was seen by Rupert!

A hint of disdain flashed in Rupert's eyes, and he thought to himself, I thought you were much calmer than this, but it turns out you were just pretending!

He then raised his hand and lightly knocked on the office door.

Knock. Knock. Knock.

"Miss Jeanne, Advisor Shane is here."

A crisp and loud female voice came from inside the room. "Come in."

Rupert pushed the door open and entered with Kenny and Kingsley following behind.

At this time, Victoria was sitting behind the desk. With her hair neatly tied back and a beautiful, unsmiling face, she was exuding an aura of a domineering mature woman.

Seeing Victoria, Kingsley couldn't help but smile.

Victoria hadn't changed much, but she had become more feminine.

Subconsciously, he touched his own face and thought, It's a good thing I've transformed on the battlefield during the past ten years.

Both his appearance and temperament had undergone a tremendous change.

If he intentionally avoided being recognized, Victoria would definitely not recognize him as her missing younger brother years ago!

Rupert stepped forward and introduced to Victoria, "Miss Jeanne, this is Advisor Shane."

"It's a pleasure to finally meet you, Advisor Shane." Victoria extended her hand toward the couch. "Please have a seat."

Afterward, she glanced at Kingsley, who was beside Kenny.

Kingsley was young and handsome with a tall physique. No matter where he went, he would attract girls' attention.

Victoria's heart moved, and suddenly, an indescribable sense of familiarity surged within her.

She smiled gently at Kingsley. "Please have a seat too, young man."

Seeing Victoria smile at him, Kingsley felt nervous.

Has she already recognized me? he wondered.

However, when Victoria told him to take a seat, he felt relieved again.

Rupert also noticed Victoria's smile and a hint of jealousy rose in his heart!

Miss Jeanne usually has a cold and domineering attitude toward everyone! She never smiled so gently before! he thought.

As Rupert thought of this, he whispered to Victoria with a dark face, "Miss Jeanne, the purpose of Kenny Shane's visit is unclear. We should remain vigilant."

Upon hearing Rupert's words, Victoria was shocked!

She suddenly realized that she had unknowingly developed feelings for a stranger!

This had never happened to her before!

"Cough." Victoria cleared her throat and regained her cold expression. "Advisor Shane, since you're here to meet me, are you here to explain why your people have been lingering on my turf recently?"

Kenny nodded. "Miss Jeanne, I have always avoided conflicts with Jeanne Gang. The reason I recently stationed my troops here was out of necessity!"

"What a good excuse!" Victoria's expression remained indifferent. "You better explain yourself, Advisor Shane!"

Kenny casually glanced at Kingsley, then slowly said, "Miss Jeanne, I am just carrying out someone else's request and doing a loyal deed. How about I let Boss Nicholson explain it to you in detail?"

"Boss Nicholson?!"

Hearing the title caused both Victoria and Rupert to exclaim in unison!

Victoria's red lips opened slightly with an expression of disbelief!

She never thought that the person who had eliminated Xanxus and brought her an entire Sunshine Casino would be such a young man!

Meanwhile, Rupert was shocked at first, but a trace of barely noticeable resentment appeared on his face!

He cursed secretly, F*ck! No wonder I didn't like this kid from the beginning! So, he's Boss Nicholson!

Previously, when Kingsley appointed Leoric as the person in charge of Sunshine Casino, Rupert felt that his position in the gang was being threatened.

Since then, he had hated the person known as Boss Nicholson! And today, he had to watch Victoria smile tenderly at Kingsley, which made him seethe with hatred!

Seeing Victoria and Rupert's complex expressions, Kenny was puzzled and asked, "What's wrong? Do you know each other?"

Victoria nodded and shook her head seconds later.

Then, she asked Kingsley with a look of astonishment, "Are... Are you the Boss Nicholson that Leoric mentioned?"

"It's me." Kingsley smiled slightly. "What's the matter? Is it surprising to you?"

"It's... really you..."

Victoria abruptly rose from her seat, wanting to thank Kingsley personally.

However, she felt it wasn't appropriate, so she slowly sat back down.

This scene made Kenny even more puzzled. "Miss Jeanne, what are you..."

As he spoke, he slapped his forehead. He suddenly remembered that Kingsley had called him before.

He cursed secretly, F*ck! No wonder I didn't like this kid from the beginning! So, he's Boss Nicholson!

In the call, Kingsley asked him to inform Jarett that Sunshine Casino now belonged to Jeanne Gang.

During that time, he was shocked but assumed that Jeanne Gang had begged Kingsley to speak for them.

Afterward, he was busy assisting Lancer in monitoring Stork, so he had forgotten about it.

However, at this moment, he suddenly realized that Victoria and Kingsley did not know each other at all.

“B-Boss Nicholson...” Shocked, Kenny asked, “Did you give the entire Sunshine Casino to Jeanne Gang after you defeated Xanxus?!”

Kingsley nodded. “I don’t have the energy to manage such a large entertainment city. Miss Jeanne’s subordinate, Leoric, was with me at the time. So, I gave it to him on a whim.”

To avoid arousing Victoria’s suspicion, Kingsley had to use Leoric as an excuse.

“You... gave it away... on a whim...”

Kingsley’s words caused Kenny’s face to undergo a myriad of changes.

“But Boss Nicholson... I have the energy! And we know each other!” Kenny regretfully slapped his thigh. “Why did you give away such a good business?”

Kingsley smiled faintly. “I’ll give you one the next time I have the chance

“Of course! Thank you... Thank you so much, Boss Nicholson!”

At that moment, Kenny made up his mind that he would stick closely to Kingsley from now on.

He reckoned perhaps he might get lucky and receive a windfall just like Jeanne Gang did at some point.

Suddenly, he felt that he could have a brighter prospect following Kingsley rather than Jarett.

Then, Kingsley patted his shoulder and said, “Let’s discuss these matters another time, Advisor Shane. Miss Jeanne and I will deal with the current situation today.”

As expected, Kenny didn’t dare to object and he quickly nodded. He answered with a subservient tone, “Sure... Your affairs are of utmost importance!”

After that, Kingsley sat upright as he looked at Victoria. Then, he said, "Allow me to introduce myself, Miss Jeanne. My name is Kingsley Nicholson. I'm also known as Boss Nicholson as Leoric mentioned earlier. But technically speaking, I am not a member of the underworld. I came here with Advisor Shane today to discuss something with you. Someone owes a friend of mine money, and that person is likely to appear in your territory again. I would like to ask for your kindness in allowing Advisor Shane to dispatch someone to conduct surveillance in that area."

Victoria's eyebrows furrowed slightly. "But—"

Before she could say anything, Rupert, who was next to her, slammed the table and replied, "No way! I strongly disagree!"

He furrowed his brows and shouted angrily, "Who knows what you are really up to? No outsiders are allowed in the territory of our Jeanne Gang!"

Kingsley only gave him a cold stare before asking, "Whom are you supposed to be?"

Rupert immediately burst with anger upon hearing that. "Damn it! Listen up, Nicholson! I am Rupert Shapiro from the Jeanne Gang! "I don't care who the hell you are! You're on my turf right now, so don't mess with me!" he shouted as he was unwilling to back down.

He wouldn't dare speak to Kingsley like that if it were anywhere else.

However, he felt invincible when he was in Jeanne D'Arc.

"Rupert who?" Kingsley asked as his expression turned cold. "I've never heard of you."

At that time, Kingsley had already sensed that Rupert was not an easy guy to deal with.

Furthermore, Rupert seemed to have a great deal of hostility toward him. Besides, the fact that he had been so bold in front of Victoria was a clear sign that he didn't even regard her as the boss.

Kingsley narrowed his eyes. It seemed that he would have to clean up Victoria's mess before he even had a chance to reunite with her.

Rupert's face turned purple as he sneered. "What's your name again, Nicholson? It's not surprising that you haven't heard of me since you claim to not be part of the underworld." Then, he bellowed with a smug look, "I am the second in command of the Jeanne Gang! No one doesn't know me in the entire Cleapolis' underworld!"

However, Kenny sneered as soon as Rupert finished speaking. "The fact is I haven't heard of you! How dare you act so arrogantly!"

He didn't sugarcoat his words in front of Rupert at all!

"You!" Rupert's eyes flashed with a hint of ferocity and he yelled, "Your name is indeed well-known, Advisor Shane, but you're in the territory of Jeanne Gang now. You better be careful! Do you think Jarett will be able to avenge you if I kill you here?"

At that moment, Kenny's expression changed drastically.

There were only two major forces left in the Solaris Province after Ashton's downfall. They were Jarett and the Seven Legends.

Kenny became more active and started planning to lead his men to break away from the Cole Gang to take over Ashton's position ever since then.

However, somehow that news reached Jarett.

Luckily, Jarett hadn't severed ties with him just yet, but as Rupert said, it remained unknown whether Jarett would avenge Kenny if he really died here today.

Rupert became even more fearless right after he saw the change of expression on Kenny's face.

"Why should I fear you if there will be no consequences after killing you? That said, I suggest you not be so arrogant in front of me, Kenny Shane! Otherwise, I can't guarantee whether my men outside will rush in and assert control!"

Kenny was so furious that his blood was boiling!

As the top advisor of the Cole Gang, he had never been insulted that badly.

“Good... Very well! I’ll put my life on the line today!” Kenny gritted his teeth tightly as he spoke. “I’m warning you! I’ll take you down with me, even if it means death if you dare to disrespect Boss Nicholson even a little bit!”

A glint of ruthlessness crossed Rupert’s mind as he knew he had already crossed the line with Kenny.

Rupert knew that Kenny would retaliate against him later if he couldn’t keep Kenny here today.

Clenching his fist tightly, Rupert shouted, “Men! Get in here! Someone is picking a fight!”

The door to the office slammed open as soon as he finished speaking.

A dozen or so young men holding sticks and other weapons immediately rushed in.

The brief exchange of words between Rupert and Kenny only lasted a few seconds.

Yet, the atmosphere of the office had become tense, and everyone seemed ready to fight by the time Victoria realized the situation was getting out of control.

Victoria slammed the table and stood up while furiously giving an order, “What’s this all about? Get out of here!”

However, those young men who just rushed in did not move but turned their gazes toward Rupert.

They were waiting for Rupert’s instructions.

Her face immediately turned sour. “Y-You guys don’t even listen to me anymore?”

“Aren’t my commands your orders, Miss Jeanne?” He smiled. “How dare these guys be so arrogant on our turf. How can our Jeanne Gang live with this in the future if we don’t show them what can we do?”

Only cold words were heard from Victoria, though. "I trust and rate you highly, Rupert, but don't be too cocky!"

"How could I be arrogant in front of you, Miss Jeanne?" Rupert made a nodding expression as he spoke. "Don't forget that I followed you when we were in middle school. I earned every inch of territory under your command at the risk of my life. Everything I have done is for your benefit and the good of Jeanne Gang!"

Victoria's tense face gradually eased after Rupert said that.

"I know you are loyal to me, but don't forget that I am the boss of Jeanne Gang!"

After that, she looked at the group of subordinates who had rushed in, and she shouted sternly, "And you guys! Do you still see me as your boss? Are you refusing to listen to my orders now? Is that what's happening?"

The young men only lowered their heads. "Miss Jeanne... We stand by your commands, and also Rupert's..."

At that moment, Rupert's mouth twitched, revealing a subtle smile.

Then, Victoria stepped out from behind her desk and gave those underlings a cold stare.

"I'm telling you now—get out of my office! Are you disobeying my order?"

The leader of the group of men looked for Rupert's signal as soon as she finished speaking.

"Very well." Victoria nodded.

With a quick twist of her wrist, a sharp dagger suddenly appeared from within the wide sleeve of her jacket.

In the next moment, she plunged the blade into the leader's eye.

Shink...

He collapsed to the ground as he clutched onto his eye in agony after an agonizing sound was heard.

“Ah! My eye!!!”

Victoria narrowed her eyes and spoke in a cold voice as the man screamed in agony, “Your eyes aren’t good for anything if you don’t even know where your boss is!”

Everyone was instantly in terror upon witnessing that frightening scene.

Even Rupert’s face turned slightly pale at that moment.

Then, Victoria coldly looked at the crowd. “Do I need to repeat myself?”

“No, Miss Jeanne!”

This time, no one dared to even glance at Rupert.

After that, the group of young men fled the office like scared rabbits.

Then, Victoria slowly sat back in her chair and gently wiped the blood from the dagger with a handkerchief. She said lightly, “These newcomers lack discipline. It seems that I must reestablish some gang rules!”

Organizations like the Jeanne Gang needed to continuously recruit young blood in order to maintain their strong vitality.

The older members of the gang either would switch to legitimate business or take on managerial positions within the gang.

They relied on their status as the seniors of the underworld to avoid getting their hands dirty in most situations.

Tasks that required charging into battle and putting one’s life on the line were all handled by these young and physically strong members.

Therefore, all of the young fighters of the Jeanne Gang were new recruits.

As soon as they joined the gang, they were firmly controlled by Rupert.

Victoria trusted Rupert completely, so she was not concerned with these minor matters.

After all, as the boss of the Jeanne Gang, she couldn't micromanage every recruit.

She suddenly realized now that if she didn't establish her authority in front of these new recruits, she might be completely sidelined in the future!

She lightly tapped her dagger on the table and said, "Rupert, how many members did Leoric take away with him when he went to manage the casino in Diosna?"

Rupert swallowed his saliva and replied, "About a hundred—"

His voice was slightly hoarse.

The scene just now reminded him of the days when he first followed Victoria.

At that time, he had no rebellious thoughts as he admired and feared her at the same time.

He was truly fighting to expand her territory.

But as the territory expanded and his position rose, he was gradually unwilling to be a woman's subordinate.

That was the reason why he gradually became more and more arrogant.

The clean and neat strike Victoria gave earlier made Rupert realize that she was still the same person he first met.

If he wanted to seize power, he definitely couldn't do it the hard way!

Now was not the best time to show his ambition.

He still needed to bide his time and make a secret plan.

Thinking of this, he respectfully asked her, "Leoric took with him nearly a hundred people. Boss, do you plan to recruit new members?"

"Yes." Victoria glanced at him. "I will personally handle this matter. You don't need to worry about it."

At that, Rupert's cheekbones twitched.

This decision of hers was clearly a sign that she was already wary of him!

"Boss—"

Before he could say anything else, she raised her hand. "The most urgent task now is to handle Boss Nicholson's affairs properly."

After speaking, she smiled slightly at Kingsley and Kenny. "I'm sorry about what happened just now."

Kenny wiped the cold sweat from his forehead while thinking that Victoria indeed lived up to her reputation.

She really was a crazy woman!

He thought of this in his heart, but he politely replied, "No worries. You're truly an efficient and capable woman, not inferior to any man at all!"

Kingsley also smiled and echoed, "Yes. You did not disappoint me. However... Victoria, I still have to remind you."

He leaned forward slightly as he rested his elbow on his knee and continued lightly, "Using violence to intimidate subordinates can work once or twice, but it's not a long-term solution. Furthermore, personally managing things on the ground is even more cost prohibitive. If you want to firmly control a large gang, you must be good at balancing power and distributing it to several absolutely trustworthy subordinates at the same time."

With that, Kingsley showed a trace of a profound smile. "Also, the more trustworthy a person is, the more vigilant you must be. Because when people gain more power, they inevitably develop different thoughts. This is human nature."

Instantly, both Kenny and Rupert's expressions changed.

Just as Kingsley said, after Kenny gained a high position in the Cole Gang, he wanted to set up his own gang.

Kenny coughed awkwardly and didn't say anything.

“I didn’t mention any names.” Kingsley shrugged. “Only someone with a guilty conscience would jump to conclusions!”

“You!”

Just as Rupert was about to say something else, Victoria spoke calmly. “Notify Darren that from now on, any new member who joins the gang must follow the rules first.”

Rupert’s entire body stiffened.

Darren was an elder with a similar seniority as him, but he was extremely loyal to Victoria and did not have other thoughts.

If all new members were handed over to Darren to manage, Rupert would lose a considerable amount of power!

Rupert’s facial expression turned bad and he wished he could tear Kingsley apart on the spot!

Yet, he didn’t dare to directly confront Victoria, so he could only grit his teeth unwillingly and say, “Understood, Miss Jeanne. I’ll inform Darren.”

Seeing this situation, Kingsley showed a hint of relief on his face. He could tell that Victoria had a deep emotional connection with Rupert.

If he were to help her get rid of Rupert without her consent, she might not truly appreciate his good intentions.

Now that Kingsley saw her starting to reduce Rupert’s power, he breathed a sigh of relief.

Rupert shouldn’t be able to cause any trouble for her within a short period.

Kingsley smiled faintly and looked at Victoria. “Miss Jeanne, I won’t interfere with the internal affairs of your gang. But now, shall we talk about business?”

She nodded. "Mr. Nicholson, if you can guarantee that after Advisor Shane's men enter my territory, they will only monitor the people who owe your friend money, and will not cause any other trouble, I can agree to your request."

Rupert's pupils flickered, and he hurriedly suggested, "Boss, you have to think it through! Kenny and his men—"

Before he finished speaking, she interrupted coldly, "I have my own plans. Don't worry, I won't do anything reckless with my own territory."

If someone else had brought up this matter, she would never have agreed to it, but looking at Kingsley in front of her, Victoria couldn't muster any sense of caution!

A strange sense of trust made her willing to unconditionally agree to all his requests!

Of course, she was not a foolish fangirl who threw away her principles at the sight of a handsome man.

She had considered that he had the power to destroy Xanxus but was willing to come and talk to her. This was enough to prove his sincerity.

Moreover, he had already given her the Sunshine Casino.

Just based on the fact that he had given her this casino, she had no reason to refuse him!

With this in mind, Victoria said to Kingsley, "As I just said, if you can guarantee that you can control Advisor Shane's, then I will agree to let them enter my territory to carry out their duty!"

Just then, Kenny quickly said, "Yes, we can control them! Boss Nicholson is my boss. How can he not control my subordinates? Miss Jeanne, rest assured. We are only here after that man on behalf of Boss Nicholson, and we will definitely not cause trouble on your territory! I can vouch for that with my reputation!"

"Good!"

Victoria was about to nod when a faint smile suddenly appeared at the corner of her mouth. "Wait a minute, Mr. Nicholson. I have one more request."

As Kingsley looked at her with that expression, his heart suddenly trembled.

He was all too familiar with this smile!

As a child, whenever she had that kind of smile on her face, she either just finished doing something bad or was planning to do something bad!

His mouth twitched. "Victoria, tell me... what your request is."

"It's a simple request," Victoria said with her red lips slightly apart. "From now on, whenever I call for you to come to see me, you must come immediately! In other words... You have to be on call."

Upon hearing her request, Kingsley, Kenny, and Rupert all fell speechless.

Read Novel i am the ruler of all chapter 478

i am the ruler of all chapter 478-Beware of Losing Your Life!

As soon as these words were spoken, everyone present fell silent.

Their expressions were all different.

Kingsley looked helpless, thinking that Victoria might have taken a liking to him.

Meanwhile, Kenny had a gossipy and thoughtful expression on his face. He secretly thought that if Victoria won over Kingsley, wouldn't the Northern Draken Order fall into the hands of the Jeanne Gang?

In the future, the Jeanne Gang would be respected in the underworld of the Solaris Province!

On the other hand, Rupert's face had turned as dark as coal!

He stared at Kingsley with a gloomy look, and his molars were almost ground to pieces!

He cursed inwardly, Damn it! This damn b*stard made me lose my power to manage the new gang members and won Victoria's favor! And here I am, risking my life for ten years at Victoria's side, only to end up giving all the opportunities to this Kingsley?!

Just as he was about to explode with anger, Kingsley nodded. “Okay, Miss Jeanne. I promise you.”

“Really?” Victoria didn’t expect him to agree so readily. “Let’s start tomorrow then. Accompany me for lunch tomorrow afternoon.”

“All right, it’ll be on me,” Kingsley replied without hesitation as he also looked forward to having lunch with her.

She smiled. “It’s settled then. You can choose the location and pick me up tomorrow at noon.”

Listening to their conversation, Rupert felt a surge of bitterness in his throat! He almost coughed up blood from anger.

Kingsley glanced at the angry Rupert and said with a hidden meaning, “Young man, if you’re not feeling well, you should go home and rest. This line of work is too dangerous, and it’s easy to lose your life if you’re not careful.”

“You!!!”

Rupert was so angry that his whole body trembled and his fingers cracked after being squeezed so tightly!

However, Kingsley didn’t even look at him again. He stood up from the couch and rolled down his sleeves while saying, “Since everything has been settled, I won’t disturb you any longer, Miss Jeanne. Let’s meet again tomorrow at noon.”

Victoria also stood up. “Okay, see you tomorrow at noon.”

Under Rupert’s angry gaze, Kingsley and Kenny swaggered out.

She sat back on her chair and spoke up with a light tone. “Rupert, give the order that from now on, our members should not make trouble for Advisor Shane’s subordinates.”

“Boss—” He wanted to say something more, but when he saw her cold and frosty face, he could only change his words unwillingly. “Understood, Boss. I will pass on your orders.”

His eyes were filled with deep resentment as he walked out of Victoria’s office.

He gritted his teeth and muttered, "Damn it! Sooner or later, I will make this woman kneel at my feet and bow to me! And that b*stard Kingsley, I will definitely make you die a horrible death!"

On the other side, Kingsley and Kenny had already left Jeanne D'Arc by this time.

Kingsley said to Kenny, "Now, things have been cleared up on Victoria's side. You can continue to have your members keep an eye on the area around Thinking Cup Coffee."

Kenny patted his chest and replied, "Don't worry, Boss Nicholson. I promise to help your friend catch that debtor!"

"Okay. After this matter is done, I will reward you for your hard work."

"Thank you, Boss Nicholson!"

Kingsley gave some instructions to Kenny before they went their separate ways.

Checking his watch, Kingsley realized it was almost dinner time.

He drove straight back to the villa of his eldest sister, Reene. Upon entering, he noticed that the house was pitch black with no lights switched on.

However, his night vision was powerful, and he immediately saw Reene curled up on the couch while holding her legs.

At the same time, her slightly choked voice could be heard. "Is that you, Serena?"

"Reene, it's me," Kingsley replied softly as he switched on the living room lamp.

The sudden brightness dazzled Reene, so she blocked it with her hand and exclaimed with surprise, "Kingsley, you're back?"

"Yes, I'm home." He approached her and sat beside her, asking in concern, "Reene, what's wrong with you?"

He was struck by her haggard face and slightly scarlet eyes as she appeared to have been crying.

"What happened?" Kingsley knitted his brows. "Did someone upset you?"

She has just taken over Clark Corporation before I went to Diosna City. Moreover, she's got Mason, Dad's buddy, to help her run the business. Everything should be going smoothly, but why was she crying alone on the couch?

Reene wiped her eyes briefly. "It's nothing. It's because I watched a touching TV drama just now. No one upset me."

She doesn't want to worry me, so I should stop asking about it. I'll call Mason later and inquire about it.

Reene got up from the couch. "Kingsley, you must be starving. I'll make you dinner."

"Yeah, I'm hungry!" Kingsley cracked a smile. "Your cooking was all I thought about when I wasn't home."

"Oh, stop talking so glibly!" Reene smiled through her tears and lightly touched his nose. "Wait. I'll make something nice for you!"

She walked to the kitchen while talking and started cooking dinner after putting the apron on.

She was not considered slim, but she was curvy with a touch of great charm and innate elegance. Her every move was quite noble and graceful even though she was wearing an apron now.

Reene was tying up her long hair and staring at Kingsley who was standing to the side. She strangely inquired, "Why are you staring at me, Kingsley? Are you okay?"

“No.” He shook his head. “I just feel that you’re very pretty, especially when you’re wearing an apron now. You have a distinct charm about you.”

“You’ve flattered me!” She blushed and shyly changed the subject of the conversation. “Did you happen to see Court while you were in Diosna?”

Kingsley leaned against the doorframe. “Yes, I did. She’s now the campus belle. She’s nothing like the little girl she used to be.”

“How is she doing over there?? I’ve been a bit busy lately and have yet to contact her.”

“Ah, don’t worry.” Kingsley smiled and elaborated, “I’ve hired some people to protect her in Diosna City. Generally speaking, no one would dare to bully her unless the aliens attack the Earth.”

The people that Kingsley referred to were Heston and Leoric—one from the underworld, and the other from law enforcement. Of course, having those two people protecting Courtney put him at ease.

Reene smiled tenderly. “That’s good…”

Beep! Beep! Beep! It was the password lock of the door. After that, Serena’s exclamation came. “Reene, I’m home!”

Kingsley beamed with pleasure. “Is Serena home from Orion Tech?”

When Serena heard Kingsley’s voice, she took lighter steps. She dashed up to him and asked in surprise, “King, when did you come home?”

“I just got home.” He noticed Serena was wearing a slim-fitting suit and skeptically inquired, “Serena, did the Mercenary Commission become a technology firm? Why are you dressed so formally?”

She rubbed her brother’s hair lovingly. “We tier two assassins had a meeting today to distribute several tasks.”

“Do you need a hand?” He pretended to brag on purpose. “Don’t forget that I know Captain Leonard from the Cleapolis Military District!”

Serena patted him. “Forget about it. My dream is to be the best assassin! So, I can’t always rely on the assistance of others!”

Reene smiled and added, “Oh, Serena, then you must put in more effort. Since you’re only a tier two assassin, you have a long way to go before being rated the best assassin!”

Serena burst into a roar of laughter. “Reene, don’t worry. I’ll be the best assassin when you become the best female president of the Empire of Qustia!”

After that, they heard the password lock of the door again. Hence, the three of them turned to look at the door in unison and saw Alice sticking her head into the house. “Reene, I came for dinner!”

Serena flashed a seductive smile. “The future God of Medicine is here.”

Alice entered the house carrying two large bags of food ingredients. “Reene, Serena, are you guys...” she said, smiling. She did, however, pause halfway through her sentence as she had caught sight of Kingsley, who was leaning against the doorframe. “King!”

She then trotted over to him and hugged his neck before excitedly exclaiming, “It’s been a long time since I’ve seen you! I really miss you!”

Cough, cough, cough... Serena coughed briefly before smacking Alice’s hips and exclaiming strangely, “Alice, King is a grown-up now, so you can’t hug him this way!”

When Alice heard Serena’s words, she hugged Kingsley even tighter. “I’m his sister! I can hug him all I want!”

Alice was gently crushing his chest. However, he did not feel suffocated and felt rather refreshed. Before regaining his senses, he felt another person softly clinging to his back.

Simultaneously, he heard Serena’s seductive voice from behind him. “Well, I’d like to hug King as well...”

Although he usually maintained great composure and willpower, he was inevitably turned on because he was trapped between two stunning women with excellent figures.

“Alice, Serena...”

At the same time, Reene, who was dressed in an apron but showed deep cleavage, walked over and smacked Alice and Serena on the head with a small ladle.

“Since childhood, you’ve enjoyed competing against each other! For the sake of a knife, you girls beat each other up until there was a nosebleed, but now you’re competing for King?” Reene asked with a smile. “That’s enough. Stop hugging each other. Go sit on the couch and wait. We’ll eat in a bit!”

“Got it, Reene.”

Both Alice and Serena agreed to Reene’s request before holding Kingsley’s left and right arms respectively and walking toward the couch in the living room. They even clung to him while closely sitting on the couch as they did not intend to let him go.

Kingsley took a deep breath to calm the overwhelming desire in his body and helplessly moaned, “Sisters, I’m a man. Do you just want to make me uncomfortable?”

Serena quickly flashed a seductive smile. “Reene was right when she said that I enjoy competing against Alice. She saves people with scalpels, so I want to kill people with knives! If she won’t let go, then I won’t let go either.”

Alice refused to back down. “Serena, I’m a few months older than you. Shouldn’t you make way for your older sister?” While speaking, she stroked Kingsley’s chest. “Why don’t we let King make the decision?”

She was used to working with scalpels, so her long and tender fingers were slim and fair. When she gently stroked his chest, his heart immediately became numb.

“Sure! We’ll leave it up to him!” Serena’s hands were used to manipulate throwing knives, so now that she touched his thigh...

Consequently, Kingsley squeezed both legs together and leaped up from the couch. “Sisters, can you come one at a time? I can’t take it when you pounce on me all at once...”

They both blushed when they heard his words...
