

The Billionaire Ceo's Runaway Wife Chapter 9 - He Knew What She Was Thinking?

C9 He Knew What She Was Thinking?

Gu Wuyan was slightly startled. This man still hasn't found out her original identity?

But it was also true that after the Gus sent her to the desert, the whole family migrated and erased all the information about her existence, so there was no one else.

"I... I don't remember. Although I don't get sick sometimes, I also forget a lot of things and don't remember who my family is. I only know that I want to leave the desert, so I risked my life to escape."

She was a "mental illness," so it wasn't strange that she was muddle-headed.

A trace of coldness appeared on the man's face, but in the blink of an eye, he seemed to be somewhat disdainful. "Hmph, it's just a mental illness that was imprisoned in Mad Man Desert. It's useless to ask for a name."

Gu Wuyan,... ""

Hey, hey, what is a mental illness in Mad Man Desert? What do you mean by name is useless?

She deserved to be imprisoned in the Mad Man Desert. A mental illness deserved to have no name?

This man really deserves a beating!

However, the most unpleasant words were often the cruelest reality.

He was the king standing at the top of the pyramid, strategizing and controlling everything. He elegantly held a goblet and looked down at the piles of bones under his feet. His bones emitted a coldness that made people despair.

At present, she was only a survivor of the bones, dragging a bloody body. In order to survive, she could only live in secret.

She was completely different from him.

He turned around and left.

Gu Wuyan's gaze suddenly landed on one of his little thumbs.

The little thumb was a little red and there seemed to be a few rashes on it.

Seeing this, Gu Wuyan seemed to have thought of something and a trace of doubt flashed through her eyes.

She was just about to remind him, but she was stunned to find that Bao Jingfeng actually walked straight into the bathroom.

Bang!

Gu Wuyan's heart skipped a beat when she heard the sound of the bathroom door closing.

Why was he bathing in her room?

Gu Wuyan quickly reached out and touched her face.

She was now an ugly monster.

But in the blink of an eye, she laughed at herself again.

He was Bao Jingfeng. As long as he wanted, no matter how noble a woman was, she would obediently throw herself into his arms.

She was just a "mental illness" that escaped from the Mad Man Desert.

Gu Wuyan lay on the bed and hugged the pillow.

She would escape in the middle of the night.

A man like him would not care about the life and death of others.

She did not know what kind of mentality this man had to make her stay here and not leave. In any case, it was definitely not a good thing.

Gu Wuyan thought like this. She felt dizzy and actually felt a little sleepy.

After an unknown amount of time, suddenly, a large piece of the soft bed sank down.

Gu Wuyan suddenly opened her eyes and turned her head to look. Bao Jingfeng was actually lying beside her.

Gu Wuyan jumped in fright and scrambled to sit up from the bed.

Just as she was about to jump off the bed, a large hand accurately hooked onto her waist and fiercely turned her body around.

With a dong sound, her face was pressed against his well-built chest.

He had just finished bathing, and there was still a faint fragrance of shower gel on his body, mixed with a trace of male unique scent, which was exceptionally good to smell.

"Don't move." He muttered over there, "Sleep."

Gu Wuyan felt a light on her back.

Endure...

She closed her eyes and took a deep breath.

She only managed to escape to A Country with a slim chance of survival. At this point in time, she couldn't act rashly.

Otherwise, if she killed him, she wouldn't be able to stay in A Nation.

Bear with it...

She thought of her parents throwing her into a prostitute before she was sent into the Wind Desert. In the yard.

She pretended to be obedient and found a good opportunity to stab the vulgar man in the eyes with a pencil.

Now, she didn't mind repeating the same trick.

As if feeling the woman's tense body and nervous breath, Bao Jingfeng slowly opened his eyes.

"What, are you worried that I will attack you?"

... ""

This man is really direct!

Gu Wuyan's gaze landed on the lamp on the bed.

This lamp looked very heavy. Once it was put on, he would at least faint.

Her middle finger and index finger carefully touched the bed like two feet.

"I don't have this idea for the time being." Bao Jingfeng added.

Suddenly, Gu Wuyan's hand retracted.

"But if you still want to use the lamp to hit me, that might not be the case."

Her calm tone carried a warning that caused one's scalp to go numb.

Gu Wuyan's eyes were somewhat shocked.

This man actually knew that she wanted to use the lamp to smash him?

How did he see it? She clearly had her back to him.

"Do you understand? Hm?" Bao Jingfeng grabbed her waist.

Gu Wuyan trembled and instinctively grabbed his big hand. When she put it on the back of his hand, the man held her hand back and pressed it on the bed.

The strength was swift and powerful.

"Put away your little thoughts. Don't play tricks in front of me. You can't even think about it."

... ""

Get lost, don't be so overbearing!

Gu Wuyan scolded fiercely in her heart.

He was already lying on her bed and hugging her, couldn't she still have some thoughts of protecting herself?

"I can't have any thoughts." Bao Jingfeng's slender thumb gently stroked her palm.

Gu Wuyan closed her eyes tightly and did not dare to think about anything anymore.

This fellow probably did not have mind reading skills.

Forget it, sleep!

"Un, that's more like it." The man's large hand gently rubbed her soft hair.

Gu Wuyan wanted to cry but had no tears.

...

The silent night stretched as far as the eye could see. The starry sky covered the vast land.

A gust of wind gently rolled up the apricot colored curtains and blew on Gu Wuyan's thin shoulder.

Gu Wuyan was in a daze and a chill hit her. She instinctively turned around and crawled towards a heat source.

So warm.

Her two little hands could not help but rub against each other.

He accidentally touched a strange place...

Suddenly, Gu Wuyan opened her eyes.

Oh no, he didn't wake up, did he?

Gu Wuyan bit her lips and carefully turned her body back to face him.

Her eyes looked like she was a thief.

Before she could move, her thin shoulder was suddenly grabbed by a big hand and her entire body was flipped over.

The man held her shoulders and said sternly, "How does it feel?"
