

Chapter: 20

Carly

"He's not taking you away from here." Xavier growled out. His arms tightened around me, so much that it nearly hurt. Xaviers growls filled the room while his shaking body is doing the same to my own. His blue eyes that I love so much are now a frightening shade of black.

I cautiously raise my hand and place it on his cheek, cupping it so ly. If Xavier had been my mate then my touch would have instantly calmed him but seeing as I wasn't my touch did little, only making his pitch black eyes meet my own.

As I stared into the bottom less holes that were Xaviers eyes at the moment I couldn't help but to feel a sliver of fear creep up my spine. He growled directly at me this time, causing me to gulp and shrink into his chest.

Xavier growled once again, at my actions, before plunging his head forward and burying it in my neck. He deeply inhaled my scent, gripping my arms and pulling me closer to him.

I was utter confused, not to mention terrified, with Xaviers actions. My wide eyes darted to Collins, begging him to do something, and I watched as his eyes widened suddenly, realization filling them. Collin was on his feet in seconds, running forward and snatching me out of Xaviers arms. I gasped and immediately locked my arms around Collins neck.

Xavier stood up so fast that his chair flew back into the wall. His snarl practically shook the room, causing me to whimper in fear. Xaviers eyes snapped to me before he tried to rip me out of Collins hold.

"Mine!" Xavier snarled out. Every single person in the room flinched due to his overpowering alpha tone.

"Mine! Mine! Mine!"

My head was spinning as I watched how Xavier was acting. I didn't understand his behavior, he was acting like an overprotective mate, but the most confusing thing was the fact that his wolf was in complete control.

I lightly slapped Collins chest when he began to try to take me out of the room, wanting him to put me down. Xaviers outraged growls and demands for me were making my heart ache painfully.

"Are you sure? He's not in control of himself at the moment. " Collin told me, worry clear in his voice. I nodded my head once and immediately rushed towards my alpha once my feet were back on the ground.

Seth, Noah and the other men in the room were restraining Xavier but as soon as they saw me running towards them they released him. I threw myself into Xaviers arms, wrapping myself tightly around him, like a vice.

His growls immediately subsided. His body was still tense, a sure sign that his wolf was still i control.

"I'm here, I'm right here." I whispered into his chest. Xavier dropped his head to my neck. He ran his nose up and down my neck, taking in my scent, causing shivers to run up and down my spine.

He growled again but this time it was di erent, it was a pleasurable growl. I clung to him tighter and before I even had time to register what was happening Xaviers teeth were sinking into my neck.

I cried out in pain, tears gathering in my eyes due to the pain. My mouth opened to release a scream but instead a very embarrassing moan le my lips, pleasure washing over my body.

I went slack in Xaviers arms, unable to keep myself up due to my jello legs. My heavy breathing was all that could be heard in the dead silent room and when I gathered the energy to drop my head back and look up at Xavier I saw that he had gained control of his body back.

I saw the horror in his eyes, horror because he realized what his wolf had done. Tears gathered in my eyes but I couldn't force myself to stay conscious as exhaustion swept over me.

..

Quiet voices dri ed into my ears but I couldn't make out the words. My body felt numb and it was di icult but a er a few tries I pried my eyes open only to wince in pain when the blinding light assaulted my eyes.

A small groan le my lips as I brought my hand up to cover my eyes. Suddenly I felt a gentle pair of hands on me. I squinted my eyes and saw Melinda standing above me, smiling tenderly down at me.

"W-what?" I croaked out, unable to speak properly. Melinda said nothing as she handed me a small, paper cup of water that I greedily gulped down.

Once my throat has regained some moisture I pushed myself into a sitting position, looking around and realizing that I was in my bed.

I looked up at Melinda when a large hand rested on my shoulder. Pleasurable sparks shot down my arm, causing my heart to beat rapidly. My head snapped up and my eyes connected with a pair of beautifully blue eyes.

My breath stopped and all sorts of new feelings flooded into my body. I could do nothing but stare at Xavier as the memories of what happened came back to me.

I quickly broke eye contact and rolled away from Xavier, wrapping my arms around my torso. I felt tears immediately fill my eyes as I thought about what had been done.

Xavier had marked me. Without my permission.

Correction. Xaviers wolf had marked me without my permission.

"Carly I'm so sorry. I-I didn't mean to do it, my wolf had control and he wouldn't give it back. I don't know why, I don't understand. I'm sorry."

Xaviers voice was so broken and sad that it caused more tears to roll down my cheeks. I hadn't noticed but Melinda had le the room, giving us some privacy.

As soon as I heard a small cry from Xavier I immediately rolled over and wrapped my arms around his neck, pulling him down onto my chest, unable to resist the bond that Xaviers wolf had forced upon us.

I soothed him and ran my hands through his hair as he silently cried on my chest. I knew that I should be angry with him at the moment but I couldn't force myself to be, not with the way I was feeling.

"I'm not mad at you Xavier. I know that you had no control over what happened but I just don't .. understand." I whispered as soon as he had stopped crying.

Xavier raised hid head to look at me and it broke my heart when I saw the tear tracks running down his face. With these new feelings clouding my judgment I couldn't feel anything but an aching need to touch Xavier.

I gently grasped his handsome face in my hands and pulled him forward, planting my lips right on his. The kiss was gentle but like nothing I had ever felt before. With Mason I had felt the attraction and pull but I had never felt anything like this, seeing as he had never marked me.

As we broke apart I rested my for head against his, breathing heavily and looking into his icy eyes. We simply stared at each other for what felt like forever before Xavier gently pulled away from me. He ran a hand through his dark hair, sighing.

"I never meant to get you into this mess Carly. What happened wasn't right and I will forever regret marking you against your will but its done now and there is no changing it so we have to deal with it."

Xaviers alpha face was on but I knew that he was still hurting.

I reached over and took his large hand in my own, nearly sighing as the pleasurable tingles spread, causing him to look at me.

"I know that it wasn't meant to happen and if you had been in your right mind it never would have but maybe .. maybe this is a good thing." I ended in a whisper, head down, cheeks burning.

Xavier was silent for a moment before he gently cupped my chin, tilting it upwards to look at him. He stared at me for some time, eyes roaming my face, and it was as if he was seeing me for the first time, in a new light.

"Do you really think so?" Xavier finally asked, breaking the silence. I gulped before nodding my head.

"I do. Were both .. neither of us have mates, not really at least, you need a luna and I know that maybe I'm not quite right for the job but Ill try my hardest. I mean at least this way neither of us will go mateless." My nervous explanation came out quickly and quietly.

"Your right. This is a good thing. Even though this didn't happen in the way that I would have liked I don't regret it and given the chance I wouldn't change a thing." Xavier told me truthfully.

A small smile tilted my lips upwards as I looked at Xavier, my mate.

.....

.....

Hey guys! Here is the new chapter, what do you think? Anyways hope you enjoyed and thanks for reading!

- Katelynn (:

Continue to next part