

No Escape From My Ruthless Alpha

Chapter 16

Chapter 16: Walker

Freya's POV

Kiev had called me earlier when I was having lunch with Dr. Blake and Jarlen. The letter was from my mate, Walker. Walker wanted to see me as soon as possible. He was getting restless without me. It would be a lie if I said that I wasn't restless to see him

The letter came to Kiev's address. I had ensured that the letters from Walker didn't come to me

If it came to me, Drexel wouldn't think twice before killing me Kiev knew about my rogue mate, and he liked Walker over Drexel. Kiev in fact hated Drexel for he was too strong and too arrogant. At the same time, there was no chance that Kiev would get into the close council of Drexel because of Leo, Eric and Joey. Drexel trusted these wolves because they were with him for a long time

Ever since he had started increasing his pack

They were loyal to him and ran the pack with an iron hand

Ever since I met Drexel, I helped him to rise up and take more packs under him. He had taken over our pack after a massive bloodbath. He killed my father and didn't let Kiev become the Alpha of the pack. So instead of shunning him, I became a part of his core team with some very careful planning with my mother and brother. It was not easy, but it wasn't difficult. Drexel trusted very few and I helped him take over two packs and strengthened my position

My plan was simple. I wanted to take over the largest pack of North America... for my mate

With Drexel's help. So what if Walker was a rogue? Once he took over the pack, he would marry me and I would make him my Alpha. Of course, that involved killing Drexel. And for that also my plans were laid beautifully

Walker didn't have a pack. He was thrown out of his pack that bordered Mexico. At that time, he hadn't met me. The Alpha of the pack threw him out when his daughter complained. She accused him of attempting to rape her. Bitch

Walker was an omega in the pack and so he didn't have much say. He became a rogue and he ran all the way here to escape the Alpha. I met Walker during one of my meetings in a different pack. He was in the jungles that bordered the pack, broken and bruised. I had smelled him and along with Kiev I rushed to find him the jungles. With Kiev's help, we rehabilitated him and kept him under wraps. And after that there was no looking back

I would leave the Moonstone Pack on the pretense of talking with more people to strengthen our ties, but in reality, I would go and stay with Walker. I had even bought a lodge for both of us in the forest that was close to the human realm, the money for which I had taken from Drexel. Drexel had so much confidence in me that he gave me without asking questions

I smirked. Drexel trusted me blindly. He wanted to marry me like yesterday. I was the one who was dominating the game of marriage. He didn't know my internal plans of ditching him for my mate. Instead he was keen on marking me as soon as possible. Well, he could have all the plans to marry me. I was going to stall them forever. I was going to marry Walker

Both Walker and I were waiting for the right moment. Once we had Alpha Steven's pack also, I was going to kill Drexel and gift the whole territory to my mate

Walker's wolf was weak but he hated when I had sex with Drexel. I had to constantly explain that I had to keep Drexel satisfied so that he had full confidence in me

My plans were working beautifully because Drexel never suspected me. Right now also, he was the one who pushed me into marrying him because he felt guilty of spending the night with the human. He thought I didn't know. Foolish. It was more like I didn't care. But that was internally. On the outside I had to show that I cared deeply for him and that I was hurt

Drexel thought that I wasn't aware of Penelope

I suspected that she was his mate, but he hated humans. That was his weakness and I had to milk it. Penelope was nothing in front of me

By now she would have understood that Drexel had eyes for me only. I had sent Kiev after her the moment I saw her. He had beaten and threatened her and that was all I wanted. She should be scared of Kiev and Drexel, while I was going to be sweet with her. After all, she was a sacrificial lamb in this game. She was nothing but a pawn in the chess I was playing

And J had just planned ten steps, I had planned the whole game. She was a little diversion. I had to keep her alive only till I took over the entire pack because if she was Drexel's mate, I needed her alive. Otherwise Drexel was going to go crazy without her and that might affect my plans. I would coax Drexel to reject her the moment he confirmed my suspicion that she was his mate. That would be easier. After that Penelope would be of no importance to me

Once I had gone to the human realm along with Drexel on a rare pleasure trip, it was Walker who had called me. He wanted to meet me. He was in the same hotel as Drexel and I were. He wanted me to come to him. It was difficult to meet him

So I went out shopping alone. But Drexel had sent his people with me. He was concerned about my safety. It became increasingly difficult to go and meet my mate. However, while I was shopping, I got out of one of the shops from the back side. I followed the delicious smell of my mate and ended up in an abandoned back alley

Walker was waiting for me out there. The moment Walker saw me, he grabbed me and pinned me against the wall

"I missed you, Freya!" he rasped. His hands went to my breasts and he squeezed them hard

He left a trail of kisses down my cheeks to my neck. He exposed my breast and latched on to my nipple. I cried and my body arched for him to give more access. He growled as he sucked me hard. He lifted my dress to my hips and inserted his finger in my core. I moaned his name as he finger-fucked me. It was soon when I orgasmed around his finger. He opened his pants and was about to get inside me when we heard Leo and Eric's voices

"Shit!" I pushed Walker away. He was growling out of frustration. "You have to go!" I said as I smoothed my hair and my dress. I was concerned about his safety. We had to maintain our secret

"Lam not going anywhere!" he snapped. He grabbed me again. "I need you and I need to fuck you now!" He pressed his shaft in my belly
