

No Escape From My Ruthless Alpha

Chapter 160

Chapter 160: My Pups

Drexel POV

One year later

Steven and Kimberley had come with their four pups to our mansion which Steven would joke that it is more of a castle than the mansion

Kimberley's hands were full with her four pups who were running everywhere. Two nannies had also come with them and then also the kids were exhausting

As for me, I looked down at my daughter who was cradled in my arms, sleeping away to glory

She had just fed from her momma and now my son was feeding from her

Penelope gave birth to twins, a boy and a girl

We named them Brian and Bridget. Gods above

Both of them were the most beautiful pups I had ever seen. And both had glorious red hair like their mother and I suspected that they would shift into red wolves. I couldn't thank Moon Goddess enough for all she had bestowed upon me

I remember the day when Penelope's water broke. Her contraction started moments later and I rushed her to the hospital. Penelope was one noisy momma. She had screamed and screamed and cursed me every time a contraction came. You won't believe how nervous I was that day. I must have prayed all day to the goddess to keep my precious family safe. After a grueling eight hours, Penelope gave birth to the two most beautiful pups the world had ever seen. Brian came out first and Bridget came six minutes later. For some reason, Brian was healthier and bigger than Bridget. I guess those must be his Alpha genes. After all, both his parents were Alphas

I brushed her tuft of curly hair on her head as I looked at her lovingly. She was oblivious of all the noise around her. While Brian was suckling milk from his momma, his eyes were on the four pups who were with their nannies and creating absolute havoc

Steven was sitting on a lounge chair, watching his pups proudly. He sipped his wine and said, "Aren't they the best pups in the world?"

I laughed. "I think these six are the best pups in the world!"

"They sure are," Steven replied

Kimberley rolled her eyes. "And you have to stop pampering them so much. You are beginning to spoil them!"

"Uff, Kimberley," Steven chided her. "They are just one year old. How can you even discipline them at this age?"

Penelope laughed at her brother. Steven was just too kind to discipline his pups. "I wonder if you will ever crack a whip at them."

"There is no point in disciplining such small babies. You girls are simply too cruel!" I said

Penelope shook her head and after helping Brian to burp, she handed him to his nanny. "Do you want to give her to the nanny?" she asked me

"No," I murmured. I loved the feel of my baby in my arms. She was so soft and cuddly and adorable. "I am fine."

Penelope adjusted her blouse and came to sit next to me. She looked at me and said, "You haven't allowed me to go and visit Willow in the dungeons of the Gold Crest pack. Can I go now?"

"Why do you want to go and spoil your mood, Penelope?" I said. "She is not worth it."

"Oh! She is one vile bitch!" Steven blurted. "She keeps calling names to all my guards and she keeps threatening them that she is going to kill them or send them to the police for kidnapping her. My guards are fed up with her. I so want to send her to Fade and get some reprieve." He turned to look at Penelope. "How did you manage to stay with her for so long?"

Penelope's mood dipped. "She was good with me. I mean it might be because she had bigger plans for me. She wanted to sell me to Madam Lestrangle and make it convincing enough." She shrugged her shoulders and let out a ragged breath. "I don't know..."

I could still see ghosts of her past lingering in her mind and that really ached my heart

"Lippy..." I murmured and she rested her head on my arm. "Don't think about all that. Please, love."

She craned her head to look at me. A smile came to her lips. "I won't." I leaned down and kissed the crown of her head. I knew it would take more time for her to push those memories further down

"What about Madam Lestrangle?" Steven asked

Kimberley climbed up on his lap and cuddled into him. He wrapped his arm around her and when she asked for wine, he refused. "My pups are still feeding from you."

I chuckled because I was putting the same constraints over my Lippy. "Madam Lestrangle is serving life imprisonment. She is held for human trafficking for selling girls in flesh trade

And her news came out big in the papers. Leo has managed it all. He had some real fun during that time!"

"Ah nice!" Steven rasped. "That bitch deserved more than that."

"What about Leo?" Kimberley asked me. She knew that he had found his mate and his mate was a human

"Leo is fine with his mate. Both he and Eric have the same mate and they are keeping her pretty safe in their lake house," I replied

"I can't think of a human being able to take care of two mates," Kimberley said with surprise in her eyes. "She must be really interesting!"

We all laughed. It wasn't bizarre for werewolves to have multiple mates. Leo and Eric had one mate and they were slowly bringing her into their lifestyle. It was nice to see them anchored

I knew from the beginning that my beta and gamma were close and had some sort of connection. I realized that their common connection was their mate

"Don't go just after the birthday party," Penelope urged her brother. "You have come after so long. Why don't you stay for a week more?"

"Girl, I need to do a lot of things at the pack!" Steven said exasperatedly. "There is a new mine that was unearthed by my men just a week back." He looked at me. "I also want you to come with me. It is a bauxite mine and I am sure it is worth a shit load of money!"

I jerked my head back. "Bauxite?"

"Yes," Steven nodded

"Fuck man!" I exclaimed. "How rich are you?"

We all talked about it for a long time. A nanny came and took my daughter for her afternoon nap

"Why don't we survey the land?" Steven said

"Absolutely! I can fly you there!" I said with a cocky grin. Well, why not? I got my flying license only two months back and had been itching to fly my chopper

"You boys can fly anywhere you like, but after a week!" Penelope gritted her teeth and Kimberley hummed in unison

I pulled my mate in my lap and said, "You wish is my command, love." And crashed my lips on hers

The End
