

No Escape From My Ruthless Alpha

Chapter 82

Chapter 82: Who Got These?

Penelope POV

The next day I was feeling a little better even though I couldn't shake off Drexel from my head. I decided that the best would be to train myself along with other warriors and try to do something to let my wolf out

Mateo was over there as usual. He made me run five rounds around the track. I thought that it would be strenuous, but I was absolutely fine, though a little sweaty. I was surprised by myself

Mateo wasn't. He asked me to go for another five laps and then he asked me to come inside the training center. Now I was dead tired

There were about twenty gammas in the training center with whom I was supposed to train. I saw that Kimberley was also there even though she was a trained warrior. I suppose that Steven didn't want to give her harsh duties. She waved her hands to me and grinned. God, I loved it

Her face was beaming with... love. I waved back to her

Mateo gestured his fingers to me and said, "You will be training with me."

I don't know what was wrong with this wolf. I dragged myself to him

"Do you know that you have alpha blood in you?" he said as he made me stand straight in front of him

I sighed. "So?"

"So that means that you are just as tough as your brother," he stated as a fact. "And that means that your training is going to be even more rigorous than all these warriors here!"

I stopped the urge to roll my eyes. I said, "You plan on taking the life of a kid?"

Mateo laughed, showing his pearly white teeth

"No, I plan on making you stronger and get that wolf out of you."

I sighed. I wondered if my wolf even wanted to come out. Maybe because I stayed amongst humans for so long that I have got used to them and that was why I neglected my inner wolf. Or maybe I was just a late bloomer. I didn't know what it was to have a wolf, but I heard from people that it is like you become complete

We started with simple squat jumps and in no time, Mateo pushed me into a hop-up and push combo. I should have been tired, but I liked it

What was I turning into? It wasn't long when he asked me to climb a rope up the wall and then come down. The whole routine lasted for four hours and by the end of it, I was actually tired

But I was surprised when Mateo said that these warriors were going for patrolling on the borders after the routine exercise

Mateo left and I plopped on the ground with my water bottle. Every part of my body was wet with sweat. My hair stuck to my neck and face

My skin was flushed and my breath was ragged, but overall I felt good. My wolf. Nope. I was wondering what would happen when my wolf would break free when I noticed how all others were curiously looking at me. Kimberley came to me and said, "Come you must all of them

They are super excited to meet Alpha's sister." Feeling awkward, I got up and walked with her to the group that was chatting amongst themselves

They all bowed to Kimberley because they knew that she was their future Luna. Steven had made it clear to everyone

"We are so happy to have you amongst us," said a brunette with a big smile. "I am Ona."

"Hi Ona!" I breathed

After that everyone began to introduce themselves. I felt so... belonged. After spending a long month of being with Drexel in which I was thrown into a whirlwind of emotions, I liked this tranquility in my life. No, I think I liked this quiet, but in reality, every day I missed him. Missed him so bad... God, why have you made me this pathetic? Please do a good job in my next life

When we were coming back to the manor, I asked Kimberley, "When are you two getting married?"

Kimberley blushed. "I don't know." She bit her lip. "Right now I am trying to understand him and explore him and all that!"

"Ew! Gross. Spare me the details," I blurted

"Just get married and save me from these— ew!"

Kimberley laughed out loud. We had reached the steps of the manor where I found Steven standing and staring at Kimberley. He was wearing a sleeveless polo and khaki shorts. His muscles were bulging out in his arms. His chest vibrated with a growl and before I knew, he grabbed Kimberley from her waist and picked her up. She squealed

"Get a room!" I shouted at them

But neither was listening. Steven crashed his lips on Kimberley and carried her upstairs. Even though it grossed me out that my best friend and my brother were kissing passionately in front of me, I couldn't help but feel happy for them

They were so much in love and it made my heart squeeze. Why Goddess? Why was my luck so bad in the department of mates?

I shook my head at the two fated lovers and then walked upstairs to my room. Nina was right over there, looking at the mantle over the fireplace. I caught the direction of her gaze and shock blasted in my chest. A bouquet of red roses was placed in a vase

"Who got these?" I rasped as I stared at the roses

"I don't know, Penelope," Nina replied shakily

"But we must report to Alpha!"

Gods above! No, I couldn't do this. I just saw them going to their room. I could never interrupt them at least now. "Don't say a word now!" I said as I stomped towards the vase. I took the roses out. "Ah!" There were thorns in the stem and a few pricked my finger. "Fuck!" I grabbed them by the petals. I plucked all the petals from them and threw the bouquet in the trash bin

The petals adorned my floor and I stamped them with my feet, anger surging in my chest
