Chapter 96

Chapter 96: The Call

Drexel POV

Freya shrieked. "No, Drexel, no!" She rushed to sit by Kiev's side who was moaning in pain

Sissy. He was never a good warrior. And he loved to piggyback ride on his sister

I walked to Megan and grabbed her neck. "She and your brother drove Penelope out of the pack that night!" Fury pumped in my blood as I sank my claws in the neck of the biggest traitor, Megan

Freya let out a blood-curdling scream as Kiev watched his mother falling on my feet, with her throat sliced and severed off. My fangs slipped out and I let out a ferocious snarl. The wolf in me wanted to kill all of them for chasing my mate out of my pack. He had been waiting for this day to take his revenge. Fur rippled on my arms and neck as I tried to control my wolf because once he was out, I was sure he would end up killing all of them

Megan was the biggest traitor. She had stayed hidden in my pack as my head cook and helped Freya in her mission to first get close to me and then helped her in hiding her mate and taking over my pack

"Your mother was planning on poisoning my entire pack!" I snarled. I snatched almost a liter of white liquid from Boris and dangled it in front of everyone to see. I chucked the bottle towards her and the glass shattered into hundreds of pieces, the liquid sizzling as it spread on the floor due to chemical reaction

Freya let out an audible gasp as if she didn't know about it. She looked at me as she scrambled away from the liquid. Her white wedding dress was soaked in blood and that poison. Her hair had all come out and her makeup had smudged so badly that she looked like a hag

With trembling lips she said, "It seems that the human girl has affected you a lot. You are so ruthless to all of us, but why do you have a soft spot for her?" Her gaze turned to Steven who was standing near the dais with his hands across his chest. "And what is he doing here?"

Steven took a few steps towards her and narrowed his eyes. "Drexel and I have come to an agreement about my diamond mines. Ones that you had your eyes on. You have been trying to sabotage my plans every time I was making them with the humans using your influence, but guess what? I have to say thank you to you for it. Had you not sabotaged, Drexel wouldn't have ever come to me with a solid plan. And look at us now! Both are in a win-win situation."

Freya gulped and then as if to provoke Steven she spouted her venom, "Weren't you also buying that whore, Penelope, at the auction?"

A snarl later, I heard Freya screaming in terror

It all happened in less than a second. Steven was towering above her as she lay on the ground, blood oozing out of her upper arm. "The only whore over here is you," Steven snarled. "Don't you get my sister's name on your filthy togue again!"

"Your sister?" Freya was shocked. She stared at Steven with wide eyes

"That's right, bitch!" Steven spat. "Penelope is my sister. And you don't need to run your filthy mind around as to what happened to her!"

Leo had come behind Walker and looked at me to ask whether he should open his chains or not

The right of my lips lifted into a smirk. I rotated my neck and my tension cracked with it. I glared at Walker who was now looking at Megan's body with horror. The next I knew was that he pissed in his pants

Suddenly, Kimberley came running. "Steven!" she rasped. "Steven!" She dodged her way through the jungle of bloodied bodies and werewolves to her mate

Steven immediately retracted his claws and fangs to receive her. I could sense extreme worry in her eyes and demeanor

"Steven!" She came to stand near him, her eyes brimming with tears

Something inside me knew that some shit was about to blow. I couldn't contain myself and I strode towards them, my eyes fixed at her

"What is it, Kim?" Steven asked, his voice like a touch of feather for his mate

God. This was what the mates did to each other

They loved and caressed and then some more

She gave him her phone as tears poured out of her. "Mateo is on the phone."

Steven's eyebrows furrowed as my heart slammed against my ribcage. They had left Penelope back in the Gold Crest pack even though I had asked her to come. But I knew that she wouldn't come because her pride interfered with her love for me. She could never imagine me getting married to Freya

Steven grabbed the phone from her. "Mateo!"

I could hear the labored breathing of his beta

"Someone has..." he sucked in a sharp breath

"Someone has kidnapped Penelope!"

I stared at Steven's phone in stunned silence, frozen to my spot, feeling helpless, or maybe furious. Dread surged through me, settling in my bones

"What the fuck!" Steven shouted on the phone

He looked at me, his eyes filled with raw, potent terror. He rushed out of the place and Kimberley followed

I saw him leaving, my body numb with shock

Kidnapped? Penelope?

Leo and Eric rushed to me. They were the only ones who knew that she was my mate. "Drexel, go after them. We will take care of this mess!"

For the first time in my life, I was trembling. I broke into cold sweat as I stared blankly at Leo

"Drexel!" he shook my shoulders. "Go!"

My wolf snarled inside me, pushing me to let him go free. He wanted to go to his mate. I closed my eyes and focused my full energy to force him down. Fury was bubbling inside me like molten lava. I let it simmer. Because my volcano would erupt on whoever kidnapped her

I opened my eyes and snarled the order, "Throw them in dungeons and don't serve food till I return." Then I looked at the Alphas. "Control their packs and send our people there!"

Saying that I rushed after Steven
