Chapter 177 Something That Could Give Birth To Children Happened

"Of course..." The man nodded his head repeatedly, fearing that even Earl would not believe him.

No matter whether the man was telling the truth or not, Earl had already made up his mind. He snorted in his heart, but didn't show it. He just smiled and patted the man on the shoulder, "I just said it casually. Why are you so nervous? I believe that we can have a good cooperation in the future."

The man bowed and nodded, leaving Earl's office. He leaned against the wall at a corner, feeling a little exhausted.

It was more tiring to talk to Earl than running 2000 meters...

However, he had to think about the current situation carefully. It was obvious that Earl had discovered that he had hidden something from him, but it was not easy to deal with Earl, and it was also difficult to deal with Aaron... He remembered that last time when Aaron saw him having a hot lunch at the door in summer, Aaron asked him to eat noodles...

Although he refused Aaron in the end, he still felt Aaron's kindness!

What a tangle...

Alas...

Of course the people on the other side didn't know what was going on here, but the situation there was also very... complicated.

Sophie had something urgent to deal with and had to go back home, so she invited Aaron and others for dinner tonight. But the situation at the table was a little embarrassing.

Irene tilted her head and looked at the two people who were obviously abnormal. She poked the arm of Helen and asked, "Did you quarrel with Jackson?"

The two of them were fine yesterday, but why was the atmosphere so strange today.

Helen twitched her mouth and shook her head.

She didn't know how to explain. She didn't quarrel with Jackson, and something more intimate happened, but the meeting was more embarrassed than before!

Helen couldn't help blushing as soon as she saw Jackson today. Although she had been very active, she didn't know what to say at the first meeting after that.

Besides, Jackson didn't seem to mention what happened last night... This made her very embarrassed. How could a woman say such a thing?!

Helen didn't say to Jackson, 'Now that you had sex with me last night, am I your girlfriend now? !'

Helen thought that this was too active!

"Why don't you stay here for a few more days?" Carl looked at Sophie and asked.

"I planned to stay a few more days, but something happened there and I have to go back to deal with it." Sophie said with a smile, "But I didn't come in vain this time! It's so lucky to see you. I'm relieved to see that you are a couple. I worried that Jackson and Aaron will become monks sooner or later!"

Then she winked naughtily.

Hearing this, Aaron and Jackson were speechless...

Carl was a little sad. He could have said that he and Jackson were both single yesterday, but he didn't expect that things would change greatly today.

Jackson had already left him, and now Carl was the only one left alone!

Ah.... He glanced at Ada unnaturally.

He felt that his feelings for [Ada were a little complicated. He didn't have any other feelings for her before, but just treated her as his sister. But recently, he found that his heart seemed to have changed...

Some indescribable changes...

Carl didn't want to talk about this topic anymore. He looked at Sophie and said with a smile, "Don't worry about them. I won't let them go astray!"

Ada took a bite of the steak and rolled her eyes at Carl.

She thought in her heart, 'Carl is still very proud, isn't he? !'

Ada drank too much yesterday and had a headache this morning. So she stayed in bed all the time and they asked her to come downstairs for dinner.

A crisp sound rang out between Helen and Jackson. Everyone looked at Helen.

Helen looked at the other side in embarrassment and said apologetically, "I'm sorry. I have to go to the bathroom."

Irene was worried about Helen, so she turned to Aaron and whispered, "I'll go with her."

Taking a look at Helen, Aaron nodded thoughtfully and said in a deep voice, "Okay."

Looking at the two obviously abnormal people, Ada also stood up and followed them.

Jackson looked down at the fork on the ground, frowned and bent down to pick it up. He looked at the back of the turning silently.

Helen walked into the bathroom, fetched some water from the sink and patted her face, looking at herself in the mirror.

She had hidden her emotions well, but when Sophie said that, she peeked at Jackson subconsciously, only to find that he obviously frowned and had a look of disgust.

She felt as if she had been poured a bucket of cold water. Even if they had sex, so what? Maybe Jackson didn't like her at all.

She really needed to think carefully about what had happened last night... Was she the one who forced him to do that?!

Irene walked up to Helen and asked worriedly, "What's wrong with you? Don't tell me it's nothing. I know you well after all these years? !"

Ada also walked to the other side of Helen and looked at her face. She found that Helen was indeed not in a good mood. So she asked tentatively, "Do you... Do you feel uncomfortable after drinking too much last night?"

Helen shook her head.

Irene was a little surprised, "Did you drink last night?"

"Last night, you went back to your bridal chamber first. We drank a few more glasses to celebrate your romantic plot." Ada teased.

When it came to the bridal chamber, Irene blushed. She stared at Ada shyly and retorted, "You just want to drink!"

Ada smiled but didn't say anything. She looked at the really bad face of Helen and said, "But if it's not because of drinking, then what's the reason?"

Looking at the two women in front of her, Helen sighed helplessly. In fact, it was impossible to hide it. Perhaps the two men outside had already known it!

"..... I did that with Jackson last night." Helen lowered her head and whispered.

"What?" Irene asked, "What did you do?"

"It's that!" Helen raised her voice.

Ada looked at her and frowned. She didn't understand what she meant, but why was she so shy? It was the first time that she had seen such an expression on Helen's face.

"Oh, I'm so worried. Can't you just say it? !"

Helen looked around and found that there were only the three of them in the bathroom. "It's just that something happened between you and Aaron last night!"

What?!

Ada and Irene were stunned.

"You mean... something that could give birth to children happened between you and Jackson! !" Irene shouted.

Chapter 178 Misunderstanding

"Oh, my God! When did you become so casual? !" Irene stared at Helen in front of her with her eyes wide open.

They had lived together in the University for 4 years. Irene knew Helen well.

Although Helen was an extraverted girl, she was not that kind of casual girl.

If Irene had known that Helen liked Jackson before, she would have known how much Helen liked Jackson now...

"Ah, it has happened! Don't blame me." Helen glared at Irene.

"..... We are really good friends. We even have to reach a tacit understanding on this kind of thing."

Helen was speechless, but what a coincidence.

Ada opened her mouth wide and couldn't believe it. Although she hadn't known Helen for a long time, she knew well about Jackson. As far as she knew, Jackson was not that kind of person!

"..... Are you serious? !"

Seeing the disbelief on Ada's face, Helen felt a little sad and thought, 'Why does Ada doubt my charm so much? !'

Helen looked at Ada and nodded sadly.

Ada blinked, closed her mouth and opened it again, not knowing what to say...

After thinking for a while, she asked, "What about you waking up this morning?! Did he say anything?"

Irene also asked, "Are you his girlfriend now? !"

Helen pouted, turned around and leaned against the wash basin. She lowered her head and said in a low voice, "When I woke up this morning, Jackson had already disappeared..." She sighed and said, "If I were his girlfriend now, would I still be like this?"

Irene didn't know what to say.

So did Ada.

"Haven't you communicated well?" Aaron asked Jackson in a low voice.

Jackson frowned and said, "I haven't found the right time."

Carl swallowed the wine in his mouth and looked at Jackson in surprise, "You haven't made it clear for a day?! I'm afraid it's too late now!"

"What's wrong? What happened?" Sophie looked curiously at the three mysterious men in front of her, eager to know more.

Glancing at her, Jackson lowered his head and ate quietly.

Aaron also looked at her without saying anything.

Seeing that the two of them didn't want to talk, Sophie turned to look at Carl pitifully, blinked her eyes and said, "Carl, for the sake of our two having lived together beside these two icebergs for so many years, just tell me!"

Looking at her cute expression, Carl was in a trance, thinking that back to 10 years ago, he also had an uncontrollable mouth and wanted to say something

Looking at the expression on Jackson's face, Carl found that he was still eating quietly with his head down, as if he hadn't heard Sophie's words.

Carl coughed and tugged at his collar. He glanced at Jackson and found that Jackson was looking at him. Jackson was still expressionless, but Carl knew him well for many years.

Jackson didn't want him to tell her...

Seeing the expression on Jackson's face, Sophie knew that Carl didn't tell her. She pouted and said in a spoiled tone, "Jackson, you can't do that! You three men piqued my curiosity. Don't you know it's easy to lose me?"

"Really? We haven't contacted each other for so many years, but everything goes well." Jackson said flatly.

Sophie's face froze. She wondered if he was blaming her for not contacting him for so many years...

At this time, Irene, Ada and Helen slowly walked over, pulled out the chairs and sat back to their seats.

Ada glanced at Jackson quietly, looked at Sophie and asked with a smile, "What are you talking about? I heard you talking in the distance."

Sophie twitched her mouth and replied, "Nothing. Come and eat. You haven't come back for such a long time. The dishes are a little cold."

Jackson handed Helen a new set of knives and forks. Helen couldn't help but look up at him and quickly lowered her head, silently eating the steak that had been a little cold.

Seeing her expression, Jackson frowned.

Ada stole a glance at Sophie, who was sitting opposite to him. She was a little worried. Just now, Helen told them her worries. The reason why Helen drank so much yesterday was that she thought that the one that Jackson liked was Sophie, but last night Helen and Jackson...

Although Ada didn't know much about the current situation of Jackson and Sophie, she would tell Helen everything she knew for the sake of their friendship.

And in Ada's opinion, Jackson and Sophie were unlikely to be together. If Jackson really liked Sophie, how could he meet her here now?

And Sophie was married.

But it was obvious that Helen didn't think so. And Helen misunderstood Jackson more.

As soon as Helen heard that Sophie had confessed her love to Jackson, Helen's heart jolted. As she expected, that woman really liked Jackson.

What's more, Jackson even put her photos in his home. It was obvious that Sophie had a very high position in his heart!

Although Sophie was married, it was not impossible to divorce!

Thinking of this, Helen became more anxious...

Irene was also in a bad mood because of this matter. She didn't say much during the meal. Seeing her expression when she came back, Aaron knew that Irene must have known it. He was entangled in his heart. Although Helen was Irene's good friend, Jackson was still his good friend. It was really difficult to deal with it...

There was a moment of silence during the meal.

Garnet happened to come over and said with a smile, "Sorry, I met an important client today. It's over now."

Aaron stood up and said with a smile, "Never mind. We have a good meal."

Garnet still felt sorry, "You are also very important. Next time, when you go to America, you must come to me. I will invite you."

Sophie also nodded. She felt a little regretful. She didn't know when they would meet again this time. Thinking of this, she couldn't help but look at Jackson, and he happened to look at her.

Garnet didn't know what happened between Sophie and Jackson before, but she also knew that the two of them had a very good relationship in the past. When she saw them looking at each other, she joked, "Ouch, if you don't be loath to part with each other, just give each other a hug."

Everyone was stunned. Their expressions were colorful, especially the expression of Helen, who had been staring at Jackson, waiting for his reaction.

However, Jackson just smiled at Sophie.

Sophie didn't know exactly what had happened, but she was still a little reluctant to leave Jackson. She couldn't help but reach out, stand on tiptoe and hold Jackson.

"You must come to see me when you have time!"

Without feeling anything, Jackson stretched out his arms to hold Sophie gently and answered with a smile, "If there is a chance, I will. At that time, I will see my little niece."
