Chapter 67 Sign The Contract

Irene carefully signed her name and handed it to Hans.

Hans took it with a smile and had a look at it. He then looked up at Irene and said, "Hope that we are happy to work together."

With a bright smile on her face, Irene said, "I hope so."

"Then you can go back first. I will inform you later. Come on!"

Irene nodded.

After leaving Hans's office, Irene was still very excited. Her face was slightly red and her eyes were as bright as stars.

She walked to the lift and pressed the button. Looking at her shadow on the lift, she couldn't help thinking that she seemed to outstrip the mission for the Xiao Family Noodle Restaurant.

Human ambition was really big. Her previous goal was to open a restaurant of the Xiao Family, but now she had got a new goal. It seemed that nothing was impossible for her, because she had always been very confident in the cooking secret of the Xiao Family Noodle Restaurant.

"Hey, it's you!"

Hearing the voice, Irene turned her head and saw a beautiful woman with long hair. She looked familiar, but she didn't know her. She looked around and found no one else

Selena smiled, "I'm talking with you!" 'This girl is quite interesting.' Selena thought.

Irene pointed at herself in surprise and asked, "Me?"

"Yes! Don't you remember me? We met at the supermarket a few months ago."

Hearing her remind, Irene remembered that last time when she and Aaron were in supermarket, she saw a classmate of Aaron! Embarrassed, Irene scratched her head and said, "I'm sorry that I didn't remember it. Selena, right?"

Selena nodded and saw the elevator coming, then she walked into it with Irene and they both came to the first floor.

"Why are you here?" Selena asked curiously.

"I'm here for a program. Are you working here?" Irene caught a glimpse of the work card on Selena's chest.

"I'm just a director here. What program are you going to take part in?"

Irene smiled awkwardly and replied, "It's just a food program. It hasn't started yet."

Hearing that, Selena nodded as if thinking of something. She said, "I am also involved in that program."

Irene was surprised and said, "Really?"

Selena nodded with a smile.

The two walked out of the elevator together. When Selena caught sight of Irene walking away, she asked curiously, "Didn't Aaron come to pick you up?"

"No, I can go back myself."

Selena was curious about Irene, but since Aaron wasn't here, she winked at Irene, "It's time for dinner. I'm alone today. Would you like to have dinner with me?"

'I only met her twice. I don't think it's time for me to eat breakfast, ' Irene thought.

Seeing her hesitation, Selena added, "We still have to cooperate in the future. Just take it as a chance for us to know each other. What do you think?"

Hearing these words, Irene got excited and nodded.

Selena took her to a western restaurant.

Irene was not used to western restaurant, so she ordered the same steak as Selena's.

Seeing that Irene was holding the knife and fork so strangely, Selena was a little curious. Selena knew Aaron well. Wandering in the upper class, Aaron ate much more western-style food than Chinese food. How can she be so unfamiliar with the use of knives and forks?

Everyone in the upper class of A City knew that Aaron was not only handsome, but also cold, gorgeous and noble. There were still a stream of women who tried to throw themselves at him, including Selena. She had secretly liked him.

But the strange thing was that he had never been with any woman before, Irene was the first one. Selena wouldn't have believed it if Aaron hadn't personally admitted their relationship.

Over the years, Carl, Jackson and Aaron were the three famous members of the upper class. Carl was a playboy, as well as Jackson and Aaron were ruthless men. Everyone doubted that Jackson and Aaron were lovers! Otherwise, why did they like women? It was not Selena's nonsense, it was just that.

"When did you get together?" Selena asked tentatively.

"It has been a long time." It was the first time for Irene to meet a female friend of Aaron, so she was a little shy.

"How did you get to know each other?"

Irene tilted her head and thought, 'I can't say that I met him on the street.'

"..... I met him by accident."

Having been struggling in society for so many years, Selena could surely recognize that Irene did not want to talk about it, and she was not annoying either and just let it go.

Noticing that Irene was silent, Selena decided to talk about work after thinking for a while.

"What dishes will you cook for the show?"

Hearing this, Irene became energetic and replied, "I will cook noodles."

"Really? Are you the chef?"

Irene liked the way she called her. She nodded with a smile and said, "I own a noodles restaurant."

'A noodles restaurant?' Selena raised her eyebrows and thought, 'If the Zhao Family wanted to find a daughter-in-law, they should marry into a family of equal status. But why didn't I hear about the Xiao Family? There is no powerful family in A City whose last name is Xiao!'

Remembering the place they met last time, Selena had a guess.

She rolled her eyeballs and asked tentatively, "Is this a restaurant given by Aaron?"

What? Irene frowned and asked, "Why do you think he gave it to me?"

Selena was confused by the expression on Irene's face. Before she could explain, Irene added, "Aaron doesn't earn much money, but we can open a small restaurant."

'What? Aaron doesn't earn much money!? The Zhao Family's business involves entertainment, film and television diamonds. Aaron is so rich.'

Selena felt that she had grasped a clue.

"What has Aaron been doing lately?"

"He is hyping the stock market. And he drove a taxi some time ago."

Hearing this, Selena felt speechless.

Irene thought Selena was curious about their affairs, and felt a little strange, but when she thought that her classmates were also gossip, she was relieved.

Every woman had her own curiosity.

Until the end of the dinner, Selena was still in confusion. She had seen Aaron in the LR Group last time. It was obvious that Aaron didn't know Aaron's identify!

When she walked to the door, Irene turned around and smiled at Selena, "Thanks for your treat. It's my treat next time!"

Hearing Irene's words, Selena finally came to her senses. She hastily smiled and said, "You can invite me to have some noodles next time!"

Irene didn't expect that. She hastily took out a business card from her bag and handed it to Selena, saying, "You can go there when you have time! Anytime!"

When they separated, Selena looked at Irene, who was waiting for the bus. She thought it was really interesting and wanted to know what Aaron was playing with. Why didn't she understand?

It seemed that she accidentally had Aaron's secret. She decided to go to noodles restaurant to meet Irene!

"Did you say that Irene went to the MC building last time?" Earl asked with a straight face.

The man looked at Earl's gloomy face and nodded his head cautiously.
