Chapter 71 A Shameless Man

Irene walked out with a bowl of noodles, put it in front of Jonny and was about to leave. Jonny said in a hurry, "Irene, can't you have a good talk with me?"

Irene thought that Jonny was really shameless, but she felt embarrassed to ignore him because she accepted his money. She sighed, turned around and sat down. She'd better take this opportunity to make everything clear with him!

When he saw Irene sitting down, he was a little pleased. However, she asked, "Why didn't Olivia come with you?" 、

"Why should we always be together?" he asked with a trace of displeasure in his voice.

Irene wanted to roll her eyes. 'Didn't he stick to Olivia every day?' she thought.

Jonny took a bite of the noodles, and he had missed the noodles for a long time. He suddenly felt that his visit today was really worth it. He could not help but look up at Irene and said, "Olivia is a rich young lady. She never cooked for me and she is also bad tempered. Irene, I'm sorry. I know your strengths now."

Susan was speechless. She couldn't bear it and asked, "Does your girlfriend know that's what you think of her?"

She thought, 'Jonny is a scum. No matter whether she is his girlfriend or ex-girlfriend, he shouldn't speak ill of her! Does he remember how he went after her?'

Jonny didn't care much about it. "She knows what she looks like. Irene, I want to ask that if we have a chance. I'll be good to you. We can operate restaurants if you want."

Irene couldn't stand it anymore. She got to know the man in front of her again today. She despised herself. How could she fall in love with him before?! She thought she was stupid before.

"No matter what kind of person Olivia is, it's your choice. I'm not interested in knowing what kind of relationship you two are. I'm living a good life with my husband now, so you don't have to worry about me anymore. I used your money to open this small restaurant, but if you want it now, I can give it back to you right now!"

Irene said it with great momentum, but only she knew that she still played drums in her heart. She calculated the amount of savings quickly in her heart, adding that she had sold the second-hand car. She wondered if she could get 200, 000 dollars back to him. If she couldn't, she had to borrow some money from others.

Seeing that Irene was angry, Jonny also stood up and tried to persuade her, "Irene, I don't want to want 200, 000 dollars. You have a good relationship with that man, but what can he give you, even this restaurant is given to you by me. Let's make up. We will live a better life than you do now."

Irene was very angry now, and there was a flicker of light in her eyes. She really wanted to throw the noodles on the table to Jonny's head, "Do you think all the emotions can be measured with money?! Only people like you think so. Do you think you can do whatever you want with your money? I can tell you clearly that I don't have any feelings for you anymore. You'd better see the reality clearly, and..." Irene hid her anger and tried to make a shy smile on her face, saying, "I have married to Aaron. I just don't bring my ring today."

Her words came like a thunderbolt to Jonny. "You said you are married?"

Irene nodded her head with a smile and replied, "Yes, but we haven't held a banquet yet. I will invite you if possible."

"Irene, you are lying, aren't you? !" How could it be possible? They had only known each other for a short time, and they wouldn't get married?!

"Don't be silly. We have been married for a long time." Speaking of this, she really needed to thank the man in front of her. Without him, how could she find such a good husband!

Looking at the bright smile on Irene's face, he felt that his heart was falling apart. He tried his best to make up with her, but he never thought that she had already been married!

"You and that man have known each other for a long time, right? !" He thought angrily, 'If they just knew each other for a short time. How could they get married so soon? Irene must have known that man since we were together!'

Seeing that, Irene was a little scared. But she couldn't take her words back. Moreover, Jonny was still suspecting her!

That was unbearable! She was the boss here. What could he do?!

She stood straight and said in a sarcastic tone, "Do you think everyone is as calculating as you? I am not disloyal to you before."

He was about to lose his temper when he heard a yell.

"Why are you here? !"

Irene turned around and saw Aaron.

He was standing there, being around 1.9 meters tall, with his back on the light. The room's light was soon blocked by him. Looking at that direction, Jonny felt a little dazzling.

Irene was pleasantly surprised to see Aaron. He looked like a God with back light.

She took Aaron's hand happily. She was really afraid that Jonny would do something to her when she saw Jonny's sullen face just now. Although there were several employees in the shop except her, they were all girls. How could they fight against a man!

Aaron blocked Irene behind him and looked at Jonny coldly.

Somehow, looking at Aaron who was in front of him, Jonny suddenly lost his momentum. He tried to calm down and retorted, "Why can't I stay here? Don't you want to do business with your family's restaurant?"

Aaron walked close and snorted, "I really don't want to do business with you."

Jonny turned his face to the side of the table and smiled, "It isn't up to you. This is the noodles Irene made for me!"

Hearing this, Irene's body got stiff. She was afraid that Aaron would be angry, she explained in a low voice behind him, "He ordered..."

But it was her fault. She could only blame herself. Seeing the sad expression on Jonny's face, she was softhearted. And she took his money, so she cooked him a bowl of noodles.

Sure enough, Irene saw Aaron's face was gloomy. But Aaron's expression disappeared in an instant. He suddenly sneered and said, "This is the reward from my wife. Take it. People who asks for food at the intersection has to eat a bowl of noodles every day."

Hearing Aaron's words, Irene was speechless. Well... Actually, Aaron was telling the truth. Irene felt pity for people who asked for food. So she would cook for him every noon. But why did she want to laugh at this moment.

In an instant, Jonny's face became red with anger. Before he could react, Aaron added, "Next time when you come here, remember to bring that old man with you. You like eating flies, right? I can make a special dish for you. Each of you can't eat enough."

Jonny got flustered all of a sudden and looked up at Irene, who was standing behind Aaron with a guilty conscience. He guessed that judging from her expression, she did not know he ordered that old man.

"You are Aaron, right? I remember you!" Finishing these words, Jonny picked up his coat from the chair and left.

Irene blinked her eyes, not knowing what they were talking about.

Aaron turned around slowly and looked at Irene, wearing a dark face. "Now it's your turn to explain it clearly to me."

All of a sudden, Irene was speechless.

Chapter 72 Getting Into A Fight

Irene followed Aaron home, trembling with fear.

As soon as they entered the house, Irene didn't dare to mention when she saw Aaron's gloomy face. Irene was taken here when Aaron saw some employees watching.

However... Irene wanted to say that now, it was not as good as more people around her! In that case, she wouldn't be too nervous. She had never seen such an expression on Aaron's face.

It was like the calm before a storm, her little heart was scared.

Irene looked at Aaron sitting on the sofa and thought for a while. Then she broke the silence.

"Aaron! Actually, I don't really want to make noodles for him. He is a guest..."

"He deserves to be thrown out when he reaches the door!"

Hearing that Aaron didn't ignore her, Irene was slightly relieved, but it was not too serious, so she hastily said, "Yes! I will kick him out next time!"

Aaron stared at her with a cold look, "Do you want to do it again? !"

When Irene saw his expression, she immediately shivered and felt wronged. She walked over and sat next to him. "Of course I don't want to make it happen again. I told him today that I have married you!"

Irene looked at Aaron with the most sincere expression.

Hearing that she told Jonny she had married him, Aaron felt relieved a little. But he still sneered, "Don't let him in next time! And don't talk to him even if you see him on the street!"

Irene was speechless and thought, 'What a bully!'

In fact, Aaron got angry not because he was jealous, but because he knew that Jonny was not as gentle and cultivated as he appeared to be. Jonny was a pervert, because he could find someone to make trouble in the restaurant. And Jonny's current state of mind was "I can't get it and I won't let you have a good time."

How could Aaron allow such a person to have contact with Irene again?!

But Irene didn't know that the last time the old man made trouble was Jonny's masterpiece. Therefore, in her view, Aaron made a fuss on this matter.

Irene tried to persuade him, "Aaron, you should trust me. Even if I have talked with him for a few words, nothing will happen. I am very clear about my identity."

Irene's words annoyed Aaron. He frowned and explained, "I trust you... Although you have been making noodles for him, which upsets me."

Irene thought that Aaron's honesty was kind of cute, but she thought he really didn't trust her. He just didn't allow her to talk to Jonny. This was too overbearing!

In fact, she now knew that Jonny was a shamefulness man. She wondered why she would fall in love with such a man before. It was natural for her to keep silent whenever she met him on the street in the future. She really didn't want to talk to such a man.

However, it did not make sense when he said this from Aaron! It just meant he didn't trust her.

This attitude made her a little unhappy.

But Aaron didn't want to tell Irene what Jonny had done. If he said, 'Look at him! How perverted he is! Don't have any dealings with him!' It would make Irene remember Jonny more clearly. It was better for her to forget him gradually.

So Aaron said coldly, "I don't care what you think. Just stay away from him."

However, his tough attitude completely annoyed Irene. She thought, 'What's wrong with his commanding tone? Couldn't there be some basic trust between us? !'

She didn't want to say anything more to him, so she just said slightly "Hmm" and went back to her room.

Looking at Irene's back, Aaron frowned.

That night, they slept with their back to each other. Neither of them wanted to talk to each other, and each of them had their own plans.

The next day, Irene was in a bad mood. She felt too uncomfortable with Aaron! It was not a big deal but ended up with unpleasant argument.

It was all Jonny's fault. If it wasn't for him, how could it have happened!

She didn't sleep well last night, so she was too tired today. She was too sleepy to open her eyes now. Last night, she tried to control her impulse to roll to Aaron's arms.

Alas! Irene thought that she'd better take the initiative. After all, she was wrong, so she'd better draw a demarcation line with Jonny in the future.

Thinking of this, Irene stood up, picked up her bag and walked out of the Xiao Family Noodle Restaurant. She was going to buy some food and make some delicious food to make Aaron happy.

She walked ahead happily and did not notice that Bonnie and Nancy followed her.

Aaron loved eating seafood, so Irene had spent a lot of money to buy a lot of seafood which she was not willing to buy before. She looked at the abalones and lobsters in the basket and felt a little guilty.

She murmured to herself, "All of you must win Aaron's heart. It's worthwhile to take you home if you get him."

Bonnie and Nancy were a little irritated. Irene had never been so generous before! She always bought cheaper vegetables and fruits. She did earn money!

Bonnie and Nancy arrived on a bus this morning. According to the address given by Irene, they arrived at the Xiao Family Noodle Restaurant. At the moment, they saw Irene walk out of the restaurant. And before Bonnie was about to say something, she was stopped by Nancy.

Bonnie looked at Nancy in confusion.

"Mom, you promised me to follow her secretly! Why didn't my sister tell us that she opened this restaurant? Maybe she has something else to do!"

Bonnie thought what she said made sense. Irene was not what she used to be. She might have been hiding something from them.

Both of them decided to follow Irene secretly.

Bonnie and Nancy followed Irene to her apartment. When they arrived, Nancy couldn't help looking up at the building in front of them. Although she was not rich, she could tell that the buildings here were of high value.

Irene entered home with ingredients in her hand. As expected, Aaron hadn't come back yet.

She put the food materials in order and began to sort out and cook. When she saw the seafood, she was a little worried. She didn't know how to cook them and didn't know if they tasted good.

After a while, she heard the door open and walked out. It was Aaron. She wondered why he came back so early today and when she saw the ingredients in his hand, Irene's eyes lit up.

Aaron was also astonished to see Irene. His attitude was too tough yesterday, so when he thought of Irene in the company today, he felt a little uncomfortable and intended to come back early to cook her favorite food, but he didn't expect her to come back so early today.

Irene realized that Aaron intended to make peace with her and thought that she'd better take this step first.

She took over ingredients, pulled Aaron in, and smiled obediently at him, revealing her two canine teeth. "Honey, I thought carefully today, and yesterday there was something wrong with my attitude. I will listen to you and ignore Jonny from now on. Don't be angry, okay?"

Chapter 73 Irene's Mother Arrived

In fact, Aaron was unwilling to make Irene angry, but he just didn't want Irene and Jonny to get in touch with each other. Seeing that Irene took the initiative to talk to him, he decided to follow her words.

He pinched her nose gently and said, "Be good in the future. Do you hear me?"

Irene nodded her head with a smile and then walked into the kitchen with Aaron to see the delicious food she bought for him.

Now that he came back, he could give her some advice to cook the seafood.

Aaron was surprised to see the lobster in the bowl.

Now he really felt that Irene was willing to reconcile with him. After all, she was usually so frugal that she would never buy any of these.

He then turned around, kissed Irene's cheek and said with a smile, "Thank you, honey."

Every time when Aaron smiled at Irene, Irene always couldn't stand it, because he was really... handsome! Compared with his usual cold face, this smile was more precious.

She blushed and pushed him away with a smile. "Get changed and then cook with me. I am not so good at cooking this!"

Aaron nodded and went back to change clothes obediently.

Irene heard the doorbell while she was fiddling with food materials. She thought, 'Who could it be?'

She walked over and looked into the peephole. But what she saw in the peephole almost scared her to jump up! 'Damn it! Who can tell me why my mother and sister are here?' thought Irene!

"Honey, who is it?"

Hearing the sound from the bedroom, Irene panicked. She hurried to the bedroom and said, "Aaron! My mother is here! You must hide yourself!"

"My mother-in-law is here. Why should I avoid her?" he asked, wearing a pair of underpants.

Irene was so anxious that she didn't have time to be shy. She pushed Aaron out of the bedroom and said, "Oh, dear, help me please! My mother hasn't known that I'm married yet!"

Aaron stopped and looked back at Irene, who was ready to fight. Then he said indifferently, "Now, you can introduce me to your mother? What a good chance!"

"Honey, help me please! So suddenly! My mother will definitely curse me to death!" The doorbell rang again and again, which made Irene even more anxious. After looking around, she suddenly got an idea. Then she pushed Aaron and opened the closet.

Then she pushed him there.

Aaron understood what she meant. But if he hid himself in the closet, it was very disgraceful!

Irene realized that he didn't want to cooperate with her, so she pouted and fawningly said, "Aaron, please be a little aggrieved and I will make it up to you later!"

"How?" he asked.

Hearing the doorbell, Irene hastily replied, "Whatever."

Judging by Irene's tone, Aaron also sensed that she was in a hurry. A wicked glint flashed in his eyes as he said, "Remember what you said."

Then he entered the closet.

Irene didn't become so nervous until she saw Aaron entered the closet. She took off some clothes and put them in front of him. Upon seeing his unwillingness, she also felt sorry. She kissed him and said, "Honey, you are the best! Don't come out later! Last time! I promise this will be the last time!"

Then she hurried to open the door, leaving Aaron alone in the closet.

Aaron wore his underwear and looked at the clothes on his body. It had been a long time since he was in such a mess. 'Great. Irene! You have to make it up to me, ' he thought to himself!

Irene hastily walked past the sofa, saw Aaron's clothes and put in the closet. She then also hid the shoes in front of the door.

She stood at the door and looked back at the living room. She breathed a sigh of relief and opened the door.

Bonnie and Nancy stealthily followed Irene, seeing her enter the building. When they were about to follow her, they were stopped by the security.

"Excuse me, which floor do you live in?" The residents in this high-end neighborhood were all rich people. The security guard had just been in office for a few months, so he didn't dare to be careless. When he saw Bonnie and Nancy, he felt strange and then stopped them to ask.

When Bonnie saw that Irene was about to turn a corner and be about to leave, she was very anxious, but the man in front of her didn't know what to do at all, so she was very angry and said, "How dare you stop me? I'm here to find someone! !"

"I'm sorry. Recently, someone said that outsiders always come in the community, so I should ask, this is my responsibility, please cooperate!"

Nancy also felt anxious when she saw Irene was gone. But she knew that if she didn't make it clear to the security guard, they couldn't get in. So she pulled Bonnie, who was already in a quarrel position, and whispered, "Mom, it's OK to cooperate with him. We're not here to make trouble. What are we afraid of?"

Bonnie thought for a while and said with a cold voice, "That girl is my daughter. I came here to look for her. Is that ok?"

The guard was a little surprised. Although he was not familiar with Irene, he knew Aaron! Aaron was the general manager of the LR Group. If the person in front of him was really his mother-in-law, he couldn't really provoke her.

But when the security saw the two people's clothes, he felt that they didn't fit in.

Seeing the hesitant expression on the guard's face, Nancy asked, "Her name is Irene. She still open a restaurant at this intersection. We came from the B City, but we didn't tell her in advance. When we were about to speak to her, you stopped us outside. We don't know where she lives."

Nancy said, pretending to put on a pitiful look. She remembered how she hooked up with boys in her daily life.

The expression on Nancy's face and her tone of speaking softened the guard's heart. He thought for a while and said, "How about this? I'll show you the way. If she doesn't know you, then you have to leave."

Hearing his words, both Nancy's and Bonnie's eyes lit up.

They walked into the housing estate following the security guards.

Bonnie looked around like someone who was green and inexperienced. Nancy was also curious, but she tried her best to control her expression. She knew that her mother's appearance would make people laugh.

Seeing the small lake and the pavilion in the center of the apartment, Bonnie couldn't help asking the people in front of her, "How much is the flat? !"

The security guard looked at her, thought for a while and said, "It should be more expensive these years than before, but I can't tell the details."

Bonnie nodded.

Bonnie was in a bad mood again when she finally arrived at the door of Irene's house. This bad girl not only ran a restaurant without telling her, but also lived in such a good place. She was really out of control.

Irene calmed herself down, opened the door and saw the three persons standing at the door.

"I'm sorry. They said they were looking for you. I don't know if we have interrupted you," the security said.

Irene hastily explained, "Mom, Nancy Why are you here? !"

Hearing what Irene said, Bonnie became even angrier and shouted: "What's wrong?! I think I should come here to visit my daughter now, since she lives in such a good place. Well, I think you have grown up and will not care about any other things. How dare you hide anything from us?!"

Hearing this, Irene was speechless.

Chapter 74 A Sudden Attack

As soon as he came to his senses, the security guard hurried to make an apology. He had really offended Aaron's mother-in-law this time!

"..... You two really know each other. I'm sorry! I'm sorry! I'm too harsh."

Irene turned to look at him and said, "It doesn't matter. You can go back first."

As soon as he heard that, the security guard turned around and left in a hurry.

Irene looked at Bonnie and Nancy sitting on the sofa, having a headache and a little nervous. After all, Aaron was hiding in the closet!

And she was also in his underwear. If they found him, she could never explain. However, it seemed impossible to clear it in the first place.

"Mom, why did you come all of a sudden?"

Bonnie glared at her and said, "If I didn't come here, how could I know what you have done?"

Hearing this, Irene was speechless. She felt wronged. She didn't think she did anything bad.!

Nancy surveyed the room from head to toe and thought, 'It's not a simple house. Although it don't have any luxuries, it can show the taste of the host everywhere.

This must not be Irene's house.' A glimmer of light shone in Nancy's eyes. She stood up and walked towards the bathroom.

Irene's heart jumped to her throat when she saw Nancy standing up. She hastily caught up with her and asked, "What... what are you doing?"

"Can't I see your house? !" Nancy said as she walked.

She went into the bathroom and searched it for a week, but she didn't find anything that she wanted to see. There was no men's products at all.

Irene thought that she was going to the bedroom, so when she saw Nancy walk into the bathroom, she felt a little relieved. Irene was glad that she was so smart that she had hidden the things.

She pulled Nancy out, went back to the sofa, sat down and said, "I don't live in this house by myself..."

Nancy raised her eyebrows. She was right.

Bonnie asked in astonishment, "Then with who? !"

"With... One of my roommates in college. She worked here directly after graduation. I opened the restaurant with her!"

Hearing this, Nancy was a little surprised. However, on second thought, Irene wasn't so beautiful and had just been dumped. How could she find a new boyfriend so soon?

Bonnie was pleased to hear that. She didn't expect that Irene could have such a wealthy friend!

"The owner of this house is her? !"

Irene nodded her head with a guilty conscience.

Irene wondered if Aaron could hear their conversation inside the closet

"Then how much is the rent for one month? How about the profit from opening a restaurant? !"

Hearing a series of questions from Bonnie, Irene was speechless. Then she said, "She asked me to live here without money. In the case of noodle restaurant, we would split the bill by half."

Bonnie's eyes brightened up, "you finally understand something. You should make useful friends like this. After all, men are too unreliable. You broke up with Jonny, and now you had a much better life than before, didn't you? Woman should depend on herself!"

Irene finally felt that her mother had said something she'd like to hear. Men couldn't be trusted, so she agreed with this sentence. However, she thought that Aaron... was really reliable.

"I haven't looked around the house carefully yet." Bonnie stood up and said.

Irene hastily said, "Mom, after all, this house belongs to my friend. I don't think that's good. It's not easy for you to come here. How about I take you out for dinner?"

Nancy pouted. Thinking of the food Irene had bought today, she said, "We saw the abalones and lobsters you bought today. It seems that you're having a good time. Do you want to treat us some delicious food?"

Hearing this, Irene thought, 'What?

Did they see me go to the vegetable market? Then how long will they follow me.'

"Mom If you want to come here, just tell me in advance. Why are you still sneaking around here?"

Hearing her words, Bonnie angrily knocked on Irene's head and said, "Tell you in advance?! You haven't told me the truth now. We must make a sudden attack! !"

Irene winced with a guilty conscience, thinking that there was something more important she hadn't told them...

After she pulled the Bonnie and Nancy who wanted to visit the room out of the house, Irene felt relieved... She wondered how Aaron was now...

Not until Aaron heard the door was closed did he dare to move. It was unfair for his long legs!

His legs went numb...

After taking off the clothes which had been piled up, Aaron stumbled out of the closet and sat on the bed.

He looked at the living room with anger.

When he heard their conversation, he wanted to get out. But at the thought that he was naked, if he got out now, he would make a bad impression on Irene mother.

So he gave up the thoughts.

But Irene really made him angry this time!

If he got angry, the consequence would be serious!

A meal could never compensate him.

Irene brought them to a nice restaurant nearby their home. She had come here only once with Aaron, Jackson and Carl. When she saw Carl pay the bill, she knew this restaurant's dishes were very expensive.

She had never thought that one day she would pay for it

Bonnie looked at this restaurant's surroundings and thought Irene was really living a good life now. But she pretended to be calm and said, "It's too expensive. Well, how about we go to a restaurant to have some noodles?"

Irene sensed her mother's affectation, so she just kept silent.

How could she not know what her mother was thinking?

Her mother always hoped that her two daughters could marry into a good family, and then she could enjoy her life!

"By the way, why don't you call your friend? Ask her to come and have dinner with us. It's not easy for me to come here. Why couldn't I see your best friend?"

Irene was taken aback. She didn't expect that at all.

From the looks of her mother and Nancy, Irene could tell that they wanted to stay here for a long time. So she really needed to tell Helen to let her do the play with her.

Irene nodded her head and walked out of the restaurant with the phone in her hand.

After Irene walked away, Nancy was lost in thought. Since she was a little girl, she was jealous of Irene. Nancy thought that she was much better than Irene. Besides, she was three years younger than Irene. She had just been eighteen years old.

So Nancy thought, 'Why does Irene live a better life than me? I'd like to see what kind of friends she makes.'

Bonnie turned her head and said: "When your sister's friend comes here, you can have a good chat with her. A City is always doing better than B City. Now that she can work in A City, besides owning the house, she can also open a restaurant with your sister. She must be excellent. You can stutter to her later. If only she could find a decent job for you here!"

Hearing this, Nancy pursed her lips. She didn't like his mother's teaching her all the time.

Bonnie felt very disappointed, when she saw Nancy's attitude, so she gave her a slap and said, "You are always making disreputable friends. What's the use of it? They give you a bottle of wine. It's good for you? Two daughters grew up together. Why can't you be as obedient as your sister?"

Chapter 75 A Lie Requires Thousands Of Lies To Fill In

Nancy spat out her tongue and thought that she was not as stupid as her sister. She didn't want to swallow insult and humiliation silently and worked to earn money by herself.

A few minutes later, Helen arrived.

Helen specially went home and dressed up. She took out all the bags and jewelry she had spent a lot of money on before so that she could make herself look like a rich lady.

Helen arrived at the door, adjusted her expression and opened the door of the private room with a smile on her face.

"Nice to meet you, auntie. I'm Helen. I'm Helen's friend."

Bonnie's eyes lit up at the sight of this stunning girl. She hastily walked over to Helen, held her hand and said with a smile, "Wow, Irene talked about you all the time today, and now I finally see the real person!"

Nancy also put on a friendly smile and greeted, "Hello, Helen."

Helen nodded at her. She asked Bonnie to sit down.

As soon as all people arrived, Irene called the waiter and ordered some food.

"I really don't know how to thank you. Irene can stay in A City after graduation, thanks to your help!"

Giving a glimpse at Irene, Helen shook her head and said, "Aunt, don't be so formal with me. Irene and I were best friends when we were in college. This is just a small case."

Hearing these words, Bonnie's eyes lit up. She was surprised that Helen owned such a good restaurant. She thought Helen must be born in a rich family!

She decided to butter up Helen and winked at Nancy.

Of course Nancy knew what her mother meant. She immediately smiled and said to Helen, "Wow, Helen, your clothes are so beautiful. Where did you buy them?"

Nancy thought that no opening remarks could be more than flattering!

Helen blinked her eyes. The white embroidered dress on her was bought for her by her uncle last year. As a businessman, he wouldn't give her anything shabby, but... If you asked where she bought them, she really didn't know that.

"..... Sorry, I really don't remember. There are too many clothes. I took one casually. Hahaha..."

Irene still remembered the dress. When they were in the dormitory, Helen liked it very much, hung it on the bedside table and warned everyone not to touch it.

So she knew that Helen couldn't answer it, and she immediately smiled with her.

"The clothes you are wearing must be very beautiful. You must have a good taste." After saying that, Nancy gave a glimpse at Irene.

Irene was too careless to notice that. But, Helen still noticed that and felt surprised. She felt that Nancy didn't like Irene! Nancy treated Irene like this in front of Irene's friends, not to mention when she was at home before.

Having lived with Irene for four years, Helen surely knew what had happened to Irene's family. Her aunt had paid the tuition fee for Irene, and her mother hadn't given much money to Irene since she went to the University. Irene also earned her living by herself.

So... Helen thought, 'Now they knew that Irene opened a small restaurant. Did they want to get in a way?'

But it was Irene's family affair, so it was improper for her to get involved in. If Irene had a need, she would help Irene.

The dishes were gradually served and they began to eat. Irene didn't spend too much money. If so, her mother and Nancy would think that she had a very good life now!

They would get hold of her forever!

Bonnie got Helen a drumstick and said with a smile, "We won't always stay with Irene. If she is in any trouble, she still needs the help from you. Thank you very much."

On hearing that, Helen hastily shook his head and said, "Aunt, don't be so polite. Irene's business is my business! I will try my best to help her!"

Hearing what her mother said, Irene was a little moved. She had never felt that her mother was so worried about her!

After dinner, it was getting dark outside.

Irene thought for a while and decided that she would never let them stay at home. The house was full of traces of her and Aaron. They would find that!

She pulled Helen's sleeve.

At the sight of Irene's facial expression, Helen understood what she meant. She nodded slightly to show that she had known it.

"Aunt, the guest rooms at home are all piled up. It is really a grievance for you. Well, I will order a hotel for you. You can stay there for a while." Helen frowned and pretended to be embarrassed.

Hearing her words, Bonnie was indeed a little disappointed. She was dragged out of Irene's house before she could have a good look at it, so she intended to go back to have a look tonight. But when Helen said that, Bonnie had to promise to stay in the hotel.

She smiled and said, "Helen. We're here all of a sudden. You must be surprised and unprepared. We will follow your arrangement."

Nancy pouted. Since her mother said so, she couldn't refute.

Irene and Helen took a taxi to arrange a hotel for Bonnie and Nancy. That hotel was close to home. After a while, they sent Bonnie and Nancy to room.

Nancy looked at Helen and asked curiously, "Helen, why didn't you drive your car?" Generally speaking, it was impossible for such a rich girl to not have a car.

Hearing that, Helen was stunned and thought, 'It's really hard to fool Nancy...'

Irene also felt a little scared when she heard Nancy's words. She was afraid that Nancy might find out something.

With an embarrassed smile on her face, Helen said, "There was an accident on the car a few days ago. It was sent to the repair department... It hasn't been sent back yet!"

Nancy nodded thoughtfully.

Irene let out a sigh of relief after she saw Nancy nod her head. She thought that a lie requires thousands of lies to fill in.

Seeing the embarrassment on Helen's face, Bonnie thought that Nancy had offended her, so she pulled Nancy over and hit her. "You're getting into trouble every day! Don't ask so many questions."

Startled by the sudden slap, Nancy rolled her eyes at Bonnie impatiently.

Seeing that Nancy was beaten, Helen was very happy. She thought Irene's mother was so cute. It seemed that she was also a tough woman!

After making things settled for Bonnie and Nancy, the two headed straight for the door.

Irene turned around and said to her mother, "Mom, call me if you feel uncomfortable! My apartment is quite close to here. It just takes me a few minutes to get there! I'll take you breakfast tomorrow morning."

Bonnie nodded her head. When she saw Helen waiting outside, she dragged Irene outside and said, "Don't let Helen wait too long. She has been with us the whole night. Don't worry. I will call you if I need you."

Irene nodded her head and then walked away with Helen.

Chapter 76 Compensation Is Up To Me

They walked out of the hotel together. Helen turned her head and looked at Irene, who seemed to be thinking about something. She helplessly said, "Irene, what else can I do next?"

Hearing this, Irene's face fell. In a low spirit, she said, "What about... You will stay at home with me in the following days, won't you? "

"What about Aaron?"

Irene was stunned when she heard this. Oops! She hadn't called Aaron yet!

He must be very angry!

While at this time, Aaron was sitting leisurely in a leather sofa of a small villa of Jackson.

He was browsing the magazine with a cup of coffee in his hand.

Jackson walked out of the bathroom after taking a shower and frowned at the sight of Aaron.

"How long are you going to stay here? !"

Without raising his head, Aaron answered casually, "I'm not sure."

Jackson turned around and looked at the clock hanging on the wall. It was almost ten o'clock. Jackson said, "You're not going to sleep here, are you? !"

Aaron raised his eyebrows and looked up at Jackson, "So what?"

'Irene hasn't called me. She might not be at home, ' he speculated.

He guessed that he might not be able to go home tonight.

Jackson thought that he had never lived with a man before.

At this time, Aaron's phone rang. When he saw Irene's name, he answered the phone with his bright eyes.

"Hello?"

Irene was standing on the side of the road now. She looked at Helen who was staring at her and said nervously, "Aaron, where are you?"

Aaron snorted and said in a low voice, "You finally remember me!"

Irene thought that Aaron was angry with her, so she hastily explained, "You know that! I have kept something from my mother. Of course I feel nervous to be with her. Don't be angry, my dear..."

Seeing this scene, Helen felt a little strange. Before Irene was with Jonny, she had never acted like this. It was obvious that she had been spoiled.

Noticing that Helen was joking, Irene hastily hid her expression, gave Helen an angry stare and turned around.

Hearing Irene's words, Aaron curled his lips and asked, "So what are you going to do with me tonight?"

Aaron thought that Irene wouldn't have taken her mother and sister home. Although it didn't go wrong at first, if they had paid more attention, they would have found some clues. Women's products and men's products were very different.

"Well You heard it too. Today, I told my mother that I lived with Helen. So..."

Aaron thought he knew it would be like this. He interrupted her and said, "Okay, I know. I'm at Jackson's house. Don't worry about me. Go back home with Helen."

Hearing this, Irene was relieved. When she was about to say something to make him calm down, Irene heard that Aaron snort at her and said, "Remember to make it up to me! Compensation is up to me!"

Irene was speechless.

She thought, 'Why did it sound so scary?'

Then Aaron hung up the phone satisfactorily. Now he figured out that it was a good deal.

Seeing the snicker on Aaron's face, Jackson sympathized with Irene.

He sat down beside Aaron and asked curiously, "Can you tell me how you plan to let Irene compensate you?"

"Curiosity will kill a man. Why do you want to know so much?"

Jackson shrugged his shoulders and spread his hands, "I just want to know when you want to upgrade from a virgin."

Hearing this, Aaron kicked Jackson angrily. "Anyway, I am better than you. You're still single now."

Jackson was speechless All right!

Jackson stood up and pushed Aaron to the bathroom, "Go to take a shower. You're living under someone's roof! Don't you know I'm obsessed with cleanliness! I wonder why you didn't go to Carl's."

Aaron walked to the bathroom and turned around, saying, "Carl should stay at home now. Many women might sleep in his apartment. I'm obsessed with cleanliness too!"

At this time, Carl was lying on her bed and chatting with the beauty on wechat. Suddenly, he sneezed.

He frowned and thought, 'Who is thinking of me at this moment?'

He smiled and asked on wechat, "Hey, beauty, are you thinking of me?"

"....."

Irene came back home alone.

She wanted to go back with Helen, but Helen said that she had left many daily necessities home, so she would come back tomorrow.

As soon as she opened the door, she felt something wrong, but she didn't know what it was!

She walked around and found that Aaron had cleaned the house and cleaned everything!

Irene felt warm in her heart, but she also felt very guilty. It was so unfair for Aaron.

But at the thought of the compensation he wanted, she flushed and wondered what kind of request he would make.

Irene covered her face, feeling shy.

The next morning.

Hearing the alarm clock, Irene hastily got up. After dressing up, she went downstairs to buy breakfast and walked towards the hotel.

She knocked on the door a few times before Bonnie opened the door.

"Irene, why do you get up so early?" Apparently, Bonnie just woke up.

Irene put down her breakfast and looked at the bed, only to find that Nancy was still sleeping!

Irene shook her head and thought, 'Nancy just like a spoiled child.' She smiled and said, "I always get up at this time!"

Irene put the breakfast on the table and glanced at Nancy who was sleeping on the bed. She was about to go over to wake her up, but Bonnie happened to see her. Bonnie hurriedly pulled her over and whispered, "Let her sleep. I have nothing to do with her."

Irene curled his mouth and thought that she had nothing to do when she was at home. Why did Bonnie wake her up when she got up!

She was furious!

There was a huge difference between their treatment!

However Getting angry was meaningless.

When they were having breakfast at the table, Irene gave a stealthy glance at Bonnie and asked, "Mom, when are you going home?"

Hearing this, Bonnie raised her head, frowned and scolded in a low voice: "What?! You think we're in his way? !"

Irene hastily shook her head and explained, "Of course not... But I can arrange it for you."

Hearing her words, Bonnie's expression softened a little and said, "I need to know what you do and how your life is before I can go back. Oh, right, when Nancy wakes up, let's go to your restaurant!"

Irene was speechless.

"I didn't carefully see the restaurant yesterday and just saw its name. It's a nice restaurant. You are so thoughtful. Your father must be very happy in the heaven." Bonnie said, about to shed tears.

Irene was also sad to see her mother like this. She sat down with her arms around Bonnie, wiped off her mother's tears and said in a low voice, "Mom, it's good news. Don't cry. We should be happy. Don't worry. This is just the beginning. Since I have promised my father, I will definitely let the Xiao Family Noodle Restaurant recover!"

Bonnie lowered her head as her eyes gleamed with joy. She felt guilty, but at the same time, she was glad to see that. She patted Irene's hand and thought in her mind, 'What a good girl... Unfortunately...
