Chapter 331

Chapter 331 Mrs. Robert attended the birthday party at Hart's house Tom quickly pulled a guest, and asked, "Bro, where's your young master? Don't you agree to bring the young master for my birthday today?" The guest immediately sneered twice, "Brother Hart, I'm sorry. My son didn't eat well last night and was still bedridden."

Tom clicked his tongue, looking displeased as he asked another guest, "Uncle, where's your son?"

"My son is unlucky. He was originally here today, but he just got out of the house when he was hit by a car, broke both legs and is still in the hospital."

Tom clasped his hands behind his back, asking another guest, "What about your family? Are they going to the hospital too?"

"Master Hart, my family... My mom suddenly passed away this morning, so my son went to mourn. Mom, why did you leave me alone?" The guest immediately began to cry.

Tom was very unhappy, looked at Mia, and said, "My lady, these bastards don't even tell the truth. I feel like they just don't want to bring their son to join!"

Mia has been looking forward to this day with all her heart, waiting to choose a husband for Olive on a blind date, but she doesn't know that today no one from a famous family is coming.

Mia looked around at these guests, who were secretly looking at her, too. Seeing her look over, those guests immediately felt guilty and looked away, as if afraid that she would lead people into their houses to rob their son.

Mia snorted coldly, "These people must have heard rumors about Olive outside, that's why they didn't dare to bring their son here!"

"Madam, today no one from the famous family came, what should we do? If this story gets out, everyone will make fun of Olive!"

Mia's expression was very serious, too. She was a little regretful. She shouldn't be so agitated about spreading the news to heroes in Imperial. Right now the entire Imperial must be waiting to see Olive as a clown!

At this moment in her ear came a soft, clear voice: "Dad, Mom, why are you standing here?"

Olive is here.

Mia quickly stepped forward, forced a smile, and said: "Olive, we are welcoming guests. There are too many people here, you should go and rest." Olive was completely clueless about dating and choosing a husband, she looked at Mia with clear eyes and generously said: “Mom, I’m not tired, I’ll stay here with you to welcome guests.”

No prince from the Imperial came, but many famous ladies came, now everyone gathered to watch Olive’s joke,

“Why didn’t your brother come?”

“How dare he come here? The story of Olive being raped has spread throughout the entire Imperial, who is willing to take this used good? Will your brother come to get it?”

“This time the Harts really made a big joke, I think Olive is pitiful too.”

“I’m going to shoot a video for Crystal and Charlotte to see, so they can laugh too.”

These famous women took out their cell phones to secretly record a small video and send it to

Now that Crystal is with Charlotte, Crystal received the short video and quickly shared it with Charlotte. Charlotte pouted her lips in disdain, “Crystal, why do you consider this Olive a competitor? Look at her joke. Now, at the birthday party, there really isn’t a single boy from a prominent family. I’m ashamed for her.”

Crystal was happy, her whole heart bloomed, and the depression and anger over buying clothes. yesterday has been cured. She was waiting to see Olive’s joke, and of course, Olive didn’t disappoint her.

“Charlotte, you should be happy too. It is said that the second young master Augustine will return to Imperial today. The second young master Augustine will hear that Olive was raped and deceived him at the birthday party, he will definitely hate her. If you try harder to pursue him, he will quickly accept you.”

Charlotte strongly agreed with Crystal’s statement, “Crystal, such a handsome man like Marvin won’t love Olive. He’s just mesmerized by Olive’s face.

Marvin will be mine soon!

Crystal nodded: “Charlotte, our sisters from now on will be sisters-in-law. The two beloved sons of the Augustine family have been won over by us. From now on we will love each other.”

The two of them seemed to have seen a bright future, Crystal would marry Elvis and Charlotte would marry Marvin. Their life would be extremely fulfilling.

“That’s right, Crystal, where’s your grandma? Why don’t I see your grandma?” Charlotte suddenly asked.

หล

As soon as this topic was mentioned, Crystal’s face turned cold: “My grandma went out early in the morning, saying she wanted to adopt her new granddaughter!”

“What? Crystal, you are the only daughter of the Robert family, what kind of granddaughter is your grandma planning to adopt?” Charlotte asked. She was so surprised.

Crystal didn’t want to bring up this topic, “Perhaps since I was born, my dad and my mom have been separated, with only divorce papers, so my grandma has been taking over the Robert family for years. No one might change her mind, but I want to see who the girl my grandma likes!”

At the Hart house.

Olive, Tom, and Mia were standing together to welcome the guests, but she quickly noticed something amiss. Those guests were avoiding her and secretly whispering behind her back.

Olive, a little suspicious, asked Mia, “Mom, Dad, are you hiding anything from me?”

Mia was a little guilty, hastily denying: “No, absolutely not!”

“Really?” Olive grew increasingly suspicious.

When Mia was a little overwhelmed, suddenly some subordinates rushed over, “Master, madam, lady, it’s not okay. Someone is coming outside!”

“Who?” Tom hastily stood up, “Today is my birthday, could someone come to disturb me?”

“No... no... yes, yes...”

At this time, everyone gathered in one place and asked suspiciously, “Master, who exactly came to scare people with stuttering?”

“Let’s go out and have a look!” Tom led everyone outside.

At this time, someone came in, his ear rang with a cheery laugh, “Mr. Hart, don’t be nervous. It’s me. I liçard today is your birthday party, so I want to offer you a drink.”

Everyone looked up and took a quick breath, it was none other than Mrs. Robert!

Mrs. Robert entered with her ser vants.

Oh, Go d!

The old lady has arrived!

Everyone couldn’t believe looking at Mrs. Robert. How could they have expected that the Robert family from the four largest Imperial families would appear at the Hart family’s birthday party?

Someone quickly respectfully asked: “Madam, how did you come here?”

Mrs. Robert laughed and said, "Why? You can come and celebrate Master Hart's birthday but I can't?"

This word has just been said, everyone was excited. Mrs. Robert came to celebrate Tom's birthday, too!

Mrs. Robert looked at Tom and Mia, "Mr. Hart, Mrs. Hart, I didn't have an invitation. I came here uninvited. You won't welcome me and kick me out right?"

Tom and Mia glanced at each other. They didn't expect Mrs. Robert to suddenly come. In Imperial, although the Hart family is the eldest, rich and powerful families despise them and don't want to associate with them. That was also the reason why Olive couldn't get among the famous people in Imperial.

The Hart family and the four giants of Imperial have never been in contact with each other or get along well. Today, when Mrs. Robert arrived, everyone was amazed.

But a guest is always welcomed, Tom clasped his hands in greeting: "Old lady, welcome."

Mrs. Robert smiled and sent someone to deliver a gift, then her gaze fell on Olive, and she couldn't wait to rush over, "Little Fairy, I'm here!"

"..." Olive hurriedly reached out to help Mrs. Robert's arm, "Mrs. Robert, why are you here?"

Mrs. Robert looked at Olive from top to bottom, smiling lovingly, "I haven't seen you in four months, my fairy is getting more and more magical. Tell me, why don't you come and play with me? You came to Imperial but didn't come to me, so I have to go to you."

Everyone's eyes widened, their eyeballs almost falling out. What was the relationship between Mrs. Robert and Olive?

They understand that Mrs. Robert went to Tom's party to meet Olive.

The Robert family is the backbone of Imperial, extremely rich. Currently, the monarch of Robert is Damien, son of Mrs. Robert. If the Robert family stomped their feet, the whole city would be shaken, so the actions of the Robert family would be applauded by these upper-class nobles.

Now Mrs. Robert was hugging Olive affectionately. She kept saying she was a little fairy, and everyone's gazes on Olive changed rapidly.

Tom and Mia were both surprised, Mia quickly said: "Olive, are you and Mrs. Robert old acquaintances?"

Mrs. Robert looked at Mia in a friendly manner and said, "Mrs. Hart, today is Mr. Hart's 50th birthday. It was a happy event. Would you like more good news?"

"Madam, what are you talking about?"

As soon as Mrs. Robert went up, she took Mia's hand, politely smiled, and said: "Mrs. Hart, you gave birth to a good daughter. I love Olive so much, I want to adopt Olive as my granddaughter. You and Mr. Hart won't object, will you?"

Tom and Mia were stunned, not expecting that Mrs. Robert would adopt Olive as her granddaughter, which means they suddenly have a "mom"!

Whispers sounded.

Everyone present gasped. They couldn't believe their ears. Did Mrs. Robert want to adopt Olive as her granddaughter?

11:43

One person quickly and friendly asked,

"Madam, two days ago at the Augustine and Robert family's engagement party, you said you wanted to adopt a little fairy as your granddaughter, is this fairy Olive?"

Mrs. Robert nodded. "That's right!"

The princesses in Imperial were stunned, unable to calm down for a long time. They originally wanted to see Olive as a joke, but now the joke has become a reality. Mrs. Robert busted into the Hart family's birthday party, adopting Olive as her granddaughter!

How could it be? What kind of magic did Olive use on the old woman?

Would Olive have the surname Robert? Then she would fly to the sky and become a phoenix!

Did Crystal know about this?

These famous women quickly shot another short video and sent it to Crystal. At the moment Crystal was still with Charlotte. She clicked on the short video, a mouthful of juice almost splattering out of her mouth.

"Crystal, what happened? What joke is Olive doing?" Charlotte looked at her phone, and when she saw Mrs. Robert, her expression suddenly changed. Charlotte immediately jumped to her feet, "Crystal, did your grandma go to Olive's house? The granddaughter she wants to adopt is Olive, right?"

This was a lightning strike for Crystal and Charlotte. Their minds, which had wandered to heaven a second ago, fell to hell in an instant.

They never thought this person was Olive!

Why Olive?

Crystal's face paled. Her eyes quickly showed discontent, jealousy, and resentment: "When I was young, my grandma didn't seem to like me, didn't kiss me, I could bear it, but she ran to Hart's house. and praised Olive for no reason. Olive is my sworn enemy, but she wants to bring Olive home to share in my glory!"

Charlotte gritted her teeth in anger, too. She said, "Crystal, you absolutely can't let her accept Olive as her granddaughter, and absolutely won't let Olive into Robert's house. Don't worry, the Paulo family will be on your side. Your grandpa and your mum will listen to you. They will definitely stop your grandma!"

Crystal's mother is the eldest daughter of the Paulo family, Mr. Paulo's daughter, and Charlotte's aunt. Mrs. Robert has a son and a daughter. Her son, Damien, the richest man in the world, married the eldest daughter of the Paulo family. Her daughter married into the Rodriguez family, giving birth to her grandson Derrick.

Thus, the royal families in Imperial Robert, Rodriguez, and Paulo had a very deep relationship of interest, and they were all related to marriage.

Crystal's eyes were on fire. She couldn't let Olive into the house, she wanted her parents to reconcile. If her mother knows this, she will definitely find her grandmother, and she will ruin everything!

At the Hart house.

Tom and Mia were temporarily unable to decide because it was too sudden. Olive was sober. Although she didn't ask, she could roughly guess that Crystal is Mrs. Robert's granddaughter. It will be difficult for Mrs. Robert if she gets stuck in the middle.

Olive smiled and said, "Mrs. Robert, thank you for your love, but I haven't thought of accepting Grandma yet. Let's talk about that later."

Mrs. Robert wasn't surprised at this answer, nor did she want to force Olive, "Little fairy, think carefully about this matter. It will certainly not be wrong to accept me as a grandma, anyway, it will very beneficial. From today on, I consider you my granddaughter. In the future, if anyone dares to hurt you, tell Grandma, Grandma will beat them up for you!"

Everyone looked at Mrs. Robert. She's already affectionately calling herself "grandma"!

At this time, Tom's subordinate rushed in again, "Master, madam, it's not okay, outside... someone's coming outside!"

Tom was just about to step forward, but Mrs. Robert has already stepped forward, looked at his subordinate, and reprimanded him: "Why panic? Stand up and curl your tongue before you speak!"

Chapter 333 Marvin Is Here Tool

"This seems to be the... Hart family, right?"

Tom Hart stared at Old Mrs. Robert who had stood up.

Old Mrs. Robert had been the head mistress of the Robert's family for so many years. But in recent times, her aura had become fierce.

Suddenly, a handsome and charming figure appeared.

"Don't be startled, Grandma, it's me!" The handsome man declared.

Everyone looked up and saw that it was Derrick Rodriguez, the young master of the Rodriguez family. He was the prince who was not afraid of anything on earth.

He actually showed up!

Old Mrs. Robert looked at Derrick with an unwelcomed expression. She really regarded the Hart's home as hers.

"Why are you here?" Mrs. Robert questioned Derrick Rodriguez unimpressive

"Grandma, of course I'm here for..." Derrick Rodriguez's peach blossom eyes fell on Olive's palm-sized face, he smiled lightly and added, "I'm here for Olive."

Tom Hart and Mia quickly pulled Olive behind them, in a bid to protect her.

"Mr. Rodriguez, did my Olive offend you?" Tom Hart inquired.

"Far from that. I'm here to marry Olive!" Derrick replied confidently.

What?

Derrick wanted marrying Olive?

Everyone's expression exuded shock. First it was Mrs. Robert who wanted recognizing Olive as her granddaughter, and now, Derrick Rodriguez showed up to declare his intention of marrying Olive.

Derrick Rodriguez clapped his hands mysteriously, and soon, many servants walked in, with gold boxes in their hands.

Everyone was curious as to what was going on.

“Young master Rodriguez, what’s in these boxes?” Tom Hart queried.

“This box contains gold bars. While this box contains pearl and agate jewelries, this box contains silk. and and satin dresses...” Derrick Rodriguez opened the boxes one after another, revealing the valuables inside to the onlookers.

Derrick Rodriguez walked up to Olive, his lips arched in a smile.

“Olive, these are my gifts to you. I want to marry you!”

In the entire of Imperial city, Derrick was probably amongst the few who could brazenly offer a boxes of treasures as a betrothal gift.

Everyone present were convinced that Derrick wasn’t joking, and that he was really interested in marrying Olive.

girl

Derrick Rodriguez’s romantic personality earned him tons of female admirers. The entire city had waited curiously to see who his bride would be.

Olive’s bright eyes stared at Derrick, and she swiftly rejected him,

“Mr Rodriguez, I suggest you go home with these boxes. I won’t marry you

Chapter 333 Marvin Is Here Too

“Olive, why won’t you marry me?” Derrick asked disappointedly.

Tom Hart and Mia wanted preventing Derrick from getting any closer to Olive, but Mrs. Robert had already taken the initiation to grabbed Derrick by the right ear.

“You don’t need any reason!” She muttered to him through gritted teeth.

With that, a smile appeared on the old lady’s face as she stared at Olive.

“Olive, don’t be afraid, okay? Grandma is here with you.”

Olive returned the smile and nodded lightly,

At this moment, the old lady’s surbordinate hurried over again.

“Ma’am, Robert, this isn’t good. There’s someone else who is heading here!”

The surbordinate whispered to the old lady. But his voice was quite audible and the others in the room had heard what he said.

The crowd began whispering amongst themselves, as they wondered who it was. It was indeed an overwhelming night to the guests.

Old Mrs. Robert and Tom Hart didn’t utter a word.

Suddenly, a cold voice sounded to their hearing.

“Young master Rodriguez, Olive can’t marry you. Don’t hit on her again in the future, because she’s mine. She’s my fiancée!”

Everyone looked up. This time, they were awestruck by whom they saw.

Marvin had arrived!

Tonight, on Tom Hart’s fiftieth birthday, three of the most famous people in Imperial graced his event!

Marvin had just gotten off the plane. Tonight, he was clothed a thin white sweater over a black pants.

Marvin, the second son of the Augustine's family became famous when he was young.

"OMG! It's Marvin, he's so handsome!" The ladies and gentlemen of Imperial expressed their admiration for Marvin.

"Why is Marvin here? He didn't come for Olive, did he?" One of the ladies asked unhappily.

"I can't believe what I'm watching tonight. It was clear that I would come to watch Olive humiliate herself, but the old lady of the Robert's family ended recognizing Olive as her granddaughter. Then, Derrick wanted marrying Olive as his wife. And now, Marvin has joined the battle for Olive again. This is all insane!" Another added.

When Olive saw Marvin, Olive's beautiful eyes were filled with warmth. She walked forward and said to Marvin,

"Marvin, are you done settling everything? Are you back already?"

Marvin's cold, black eyes fell on Olive's tender face.

"You're my fiancée!" He replied calmly.

Olive's eyes widened. How could she be Marvin's fiancée?

At this moment, Tom Hart stepped forward and said to Marvin,

"Second master Augustine, you claim that Olive is your fiancée, do you have any prove?"

Marvin dipped his right hand into his pocket and took out something. It was a jade stone which was fastened with a red rope.

Chapter 333 Marvin Is Here Tool

"Sir, Hart, this is a token of the engagement that was used back then."

Tom quickly took the jade stone from Marvin, he stared at it for a while, and then turned to look at Mia who was also staring carefully at the token.

"Yes, this is... This is Hart family's engagement token!" Tom nodded to Mia.

Mia took the jade stone from Tom and handed it to Olive.

"Olive, this is it."

Olive focused her attention on Mia's reddened eyes, as she watched Mia nod her head.

Olive's eyelashes shivered. She stretched out her soft, white hand and collected the Jade stone.

The Jade stone was emerald green. Not only was it valuable, it seemed to be a status symbol.

Olive held it in her fingertips, and slightly curled it up.

"Was this... Mum's?"

Olive slightly felt her mother's body temperature on the Jade stone. She concluded that it was worn by her mother.

Marvin stepped forward and slowly reached out and pulled Olive into his embrace. His thin lips fell on her hair and he whispered, "Olive, I'm sorry I'm late."

Everyone was dumbfounded. They were still in doubt and couldn't believe that Olive was really Marvin's fiancée.

Seeing Marvin hugging Olive, Derrick rushed forward immediately and said furiously,

"Marvin, could you get your f ucken hands off her!"

Old Mrs. Robert turned to look at Derrick.

"Shut up!" She ordered impatiently.

Chapter 334 Olive, I Like You

Old Mrs. Robert didn't want Olive to be with her grandson, Derrick Rodriguez. She could see that the two were not compatible.

It was clear that Marvin was the better choice for Olive.

Tom Hart and Mia were also very satisfied with Marvin. Amongst the rich bosses and sons in Imperial, Marvin was unparalleled in talent and handsomeness. He was a perfect match for Olive. Joyce Brown had been wearing the jade stone all her life until she had Olive. Tom and Mia had immediately recognized the jade stone to be Joyce's.

Joyce Brown had indeed orchestrated the engagement.

They just couldn't believe that Joyce Brown had engaged her daughter, Olive, to none other but the second son of the Augustine's family, Marvin.

Marvin had turned out to be the youngest academician in Imperial. A man who was highly respected throughout the entire country. And Olive was also skilled in medicine. It seemed that Joyce Brown had indeed made the right decision.

Tom and Mia were very satisfied with their son-in-law.

Tom waved his hand and announced in a loud voice,

"Dear distinguished guests, our family, the Harts family, and the Augustine family are indeed engaged in a marriage contract. I use this medium to announce to y'all that my dearest Olive is the fiancée to the second son of the Augustine family, Marvin..."

The previous rumours were self-defeating. Because how else could Olive be sought after if she wasn't a virgin?

Whether or not Olive was willing to be the granddaughter of the Robert family really didn't matter. All that mattered was that Olive was the fiancée to Marvin Augustine.

“No! This must be a nightmare!”

“I can’t believe this!” The Imperial ladies muttered unbelievably.

They had swiftly taken out their phones and made a some short videos to send to Crystal.

Crystal was still with Charlotte. When Crystal saw the first short video, her lips were thrown apart.

“Does Derrick knows what he is doing? Is he crazy?!” Crystal half-yelled as she watched the video in disappointment.

“What’s the matter?” Charlotte muttered as she took the phone from Crystal. Charlotte watched the video and immediately scolded Derrick,

“Your cousin, Derrick, actually had taken eight boxes of treasures to the Hart family to propose marriage to Olive? He’s blind, isn’t he?”

Derrick Rodriguez, Crystal and Charlotte were all relatives, but Derrick didn’t like to mingle with them.

Crystal and Charlotte felt that Derrick had demoted himself by proposing to Olive.

Everyone had already consented that none of the famous sons in Imperial would be present at Tom Hart’s birthday banquet!

Crystal collected her phone from Charlotte angrily. Immediately, another video popped lu.

“There’s another video.” Crystal mumbled as she clicked on the video.

Crystal’s eyes widened as she stared at Charlotte beside her horrifyingly.

“Crystal, what is it? Why is your face like that?” Charlotte asked, unaware of what had happened.

“Charlotte, I have bad news. Marvin had also attended the birthday banquet, and.... Olive is Marvin’s fiancée!”

Charlotte gasped loudly. She grabbed the phone from Crystal and watched how Marvin had gently hugged Olive into his arms.

“Olive is Marvin’s fiancée? How is that possible?!” Charlotte questioned as she blinked repeatedly trying to convince herself that it was indeed a joke.

Crystal looked at Charlotte and said,

“I heard aunt Augustine one time saying that Marvin was already engaged to someone from birth. When she said this, I wondered what kinda girl the girl would be that made aunt Augustine like her so much. I never had thought that Marvin’s fiancée would be Olive, the daughter of the Hart family.” Charlotte also knew that Marvin was engaged. But this fiancée of his had been missing for years. She thought that his fiance was probably dead.

Who would have thought that this fiancée would be the person she hated the most!

Charlotte clenched her fists, her eyes gleamed viciously.

“Why is it Olive? Why is she the one? I’ve loved Marvin for so many years, Marvin is mine!” She declared unwaveringly.

Crystal’s expression wasn’t also exuding happiness. They had all waited for Olive to be embarrassed and become a laughing stock in the city.

They really couldn’t fathom what charm Olive had. It was unbelievable that she could make the sons of the most wealthy families in Imperial to fall in love with her.

“Charlotte, don’t be angry yet. Let’s think of a good way to deal with Olive and drive her out of Imperial?” Crystal said fiercely.

The Hart Family.

“Mr. Tom, you have indeed given birth to a wonderful daughter!”

“From what I can see, your daughter Miss Olive was born to be a star. The creator created her to be a star!” The guests complimented Tom.

Tom smiled and waved his hands. He was extremely proud of himself. His fiftieth birthday was even more perfect than he had imagined.

“The banquet is about to start. Please take your seats. I’ll go and ask the chef to prepare more dishes and wine. We won’t go home tonight until we get drunk!” Tom announced.

The distinguished guests had dispersed to their various seats.

Olive was still in shock for a long time, she was holding onto her mother’s jade in her hand, but she still couldn’t accept the fact that Marvin was her fiancée.

Elvis had once told her the story. It turned out that the daughter of his mother’s best friend was herself.

She was now Marvin’s fiancée.

Olive’s bright eyes fell on Marvin’s handsome face.

“In the past, Elvis and I...”

Chapter 334 Olive,

“Olive...” Marvin interrupted her and held onto her smooth shoulders.

“Olive, I know that this is extremely sudden for you, but our engagement is real I didn’t have time to participate in your past, so I want to be in your present and future. Let’s forget about the past. In the future, I’ll love you with all my heart, Olive, and I’ll make sure that you’re happy. Olive, I like you so much...” Marvin confessed tenderly.

Chapter 335 Be My Fiancee For Three Months

Olive lowered her head slowly. She had always known about Marvin's intentions towards her. She ought to be excited by the thought of being with the talented and handsome son of the Augustine family.

However, she didn't have such relationship with Marvin. In addition to that, she had been married to Elvis for a short time and had been his sister-in-law. Now that she realized that she was his fiance, the feeling was strange to Olive.

Tom and Mia walked over.

"Olive, this marriage was initiated by your mother herself. We know that Marvin is good guy, and he won't make you sad, my dear." Tom said kindly "Olive, I think that the past should be buried, and that you should be optimistic about the future. I think the future will be very beautiful, my Olive." Mia added with a smile.

Neither Tom nor Mia liked Elvis. Elvis was engaged to Crystal. They didn't want Olive to be trapped between them.

Olive was still very young. She was bound to meet more better people in the future. Marvin was that better person!

Olive sighed slowly, as she heard the duo speak. Yes, she had always held Mr. Augustine tightly and was unwilling to let go.

However, Mr. Augustine was no longer alive, it was just Elvis Augustine.

Olive understood perfectly about Marvin's intentions. For such a long time, he had been silently protecting her from afar. Even in the few months she disappeared, he had searched the entire world and didn't hesitate to confront his father for her sake.

Olive felt that the situation she found herself in was complicated.

Marvin looked at Olive's face, his cold black eyes had softened a little bit.

"Olive, i don't want to force you to do anything you don't want to do. In the next three months, you'll be my fiancee. Let's try and see if things will work out between us. I'll try my best to make you fall in love with me. If after three months you still don't love me, then I'll give up..."

Olive didn't expect Marvin to say this. He only needed three months to make her fall in love with him. If after that period she hadn't fallen in love with him, then he would break the engagement.

Marvin had willingly retreated to such a lowly position because of Olive.

Olive was extremely moved by his kindness.

"Okay, I agree." Olive agreed to the three-month agreement.

A smile had quickly appeared on Marvin's handsome face. He used the Jade token to win himself a chance.

Irregardless of what the outcome would be, Marvin was happy that Olive would be his fiancée for the next three months.

Tom and Mia were excited. They were very optimistic about Marvin.

Old Mrs. Robert walked forward and looked at Marvin with a smile on her face. She said to Marvin,

“Marvin, I didn’t expect fate to bring us together this way. Now work hard so you can win my granddaughter’s heart!”

Chapter 335 Be My Fiancée For Three Months

Olive was yet to recognize Mrs. Robert as her grandmother, so she couldn’t understand what Mrs. Robert implied by that.

“Olive, you can now return with me to Augustine family’s home. I’ve found my fiancée, and I think my family needs to know.” Marvin requested gently.

Olive pondered about it. Back then, her mother and Elvis’s mother had signed this engagement. The entire Augustine family starting from the Old Mrs. Samantha, to Alpha Augustine, and then Lily Midas, they all should know her mother.

Olive’s heart skipped a beat. She felt like she had found another path that her mother had traveled.

“Okay, Marvin, I’ll go with you.” Olive nodded in agreement.

At this moment, Mia swiftly said,

“Second master Augustine, it’s okay for you to take Olive with you to your family, but you must protect my Olive, your mother...”

“Mum, Mia!” Olive quickly interrupted Mia..

Although Mia didn’t complete her sentence, Marvin had already sensed what she wanted saying. He knew his mother very well.

Marvin let out a sigh, and then whispered to Olive,

“Olive, trust me, my mother won’t trouble you. Infact, my mother will never make anymore trouble for you. After today, we won’t see them again, okay?”

Mia nodded in satisfaction. She felt happy that Olive wouldn’t be treated wrongly anymore by Lily.

Olive didn’t need Marvin to stand up for her. But now that she was his fiancée, her relationship with Lily ought to be different.

The Augustine Family.

Marvin had called to inform that he would be bringing home his fiancée tonight. Lily had personally entered the kitchen very early and had began to prepare a sumptuous dinner.

Lily was extremely ecstatic. Her face was covered with a smile. She looked at Alpha in the living room and said to him,

“Alpha, what do you think Joyce Brown’s daughter would look like now?”

Alpha lowered his eyes and looked at the financial newspaper in his hands, then he replied indifferently,

“She shouldn’t look bad.”

“Yea, true. Thinking about how beautiful Joyce Brown was back then, her daughter should be extremely beautiful. Moreover, Joyce Brown was of a noble identity...” Lily’s words had come to an abrupt end. Just now, she had almost leaked the identity of Joyce.

Lily glanced at Elvis. Elvis had already arrived. He was leaning on the sofa lazily with his phone in his hand. It was obvious that he didn’t care about anything that she said.

Lily breathed a sigh of relief.

Elvis really didn’t hear what Lily said.

“Was a prestigious family present at the birthday party? Did Olive go on a blind date? Did she have a new lover?” These questions swirled in Elvis’s mind as he couldn’t help but think about Olive.

Chapter 336 Olive Is His Little Bride

It was indeed Marvin who was outside the door, and there was a slender figure beside Marvin.

Lily was overjoyed.

“Welcome, Marvin. Your fiancée...” Lily’s gaze fell on Olive who stood beside Marvin.

How could that be?

In the living room, both Alpha and Elvis heard the movement at the door.

Tonight, they were waiting for Marvin to bring his mysterious fiancée home.

Alpha had placed the newspaper in his hands on the center table. He stood up and inquired from Lily,

“What’s wrong?”

Marvin held Olive’s little hand and walked in.

Alpha saw Olive. He had dealt with Olive twice and knew that Olive wasn’t an ordinary girl

However, he didn't expect Olive to be the daughter of Joyce Brown!

Elvis raised his handsome eyelid and looked at Marvin. Then, his narrow and deep eyes slowly landed on Olive's palm-sized face. He stood up slowly as his eyes were glued to them.

The arrival of Olive had thrown the entire household into a strange atmosphere.

Marvin held Olive's soft hand and looked at everyone with his cold face.

"I want to officially introduce y'all to my fiancée, Olive!" He announced.

Lily's face had instantly changed. She walked over and stared at Olive in perplexity. She was looking forward to the arrival of Joyce Brown's daughter.

"Marvin, did you make a mistake? How can it be Olive? How could it be her?"

Lily shook her head in utter disbelief.

Marvin dipped his hand into his pocket and took out the jade gemstone.

"This is the token of my engagement with Olive, isn't it mumi

With that, Marvin's cold black eyes fell on Elvis's handsome face.

Elvis tall and handsome body stood against the light, and one couldn't see the expression on his face.

Elvis took in his lips into his mouth, and released them almost immediately.

It turned out that Olive was that little girl back then!

Over the years, it wasn't that Elvis hadn't gone in search of the little girl, but he just couldn't find her.

He still remembered all that transpired in the room years back.

The little girl laid on the goose-yellow blanket and her face was revealed. The little girl was extremely beautiful from birth.

The girl had stared at him with her big black eyes, and had smiled at him.

She also stretched out her small hand and grabbed his index finger, holding on tightly, not letting go.

Her mother, Joyce Brown had laughed and said,

"Do you like Elvis?"

Joyce Brown had turned to Elvis and assured him,

"Elvis, in the future my little baby will be your bride, okay?"

Elvis had blushed and ran out of the room.

Later, the mother and daughter had disappeared and were never seen again.

Elvis had never forgotten about that little girl for so many years. Now that the little girl stood before him, she had grown up to become Olive!

Elvis suddenly felt like they weren't destined to be together.

At this moment, Alpha coughed loudly. He was the emperor who has been immersed in the business world for years.

"Well, that's great news. When you two are ready to get married, we'll organize the wedding for you. two.” Alpha informed the duo, Olive was surprised by Alpha’s words. She had earlier braced herself up for Alpha’s reaction. Back in Los Angeles, Alpha didn’t like her being sandwiched between his two sons. He was afraid that the two brothers would turn against each other because of her.

Besides, although other people didn’t know that Elvis was previously married to Olive, Alpha was fully aware. With Olive being his second son’s fiancée now, his reaction was a little too nonchalant.

Why was there such a huge contrast between him and before?

Was it because Olive was Joyce Brown’s daughter?

Olive had an intuition that Alpha knew her mother’s identity, and also knew where her mother came from.

It seemed like Olive had taken the right decision by accompanying Marvin to his home.

Olive was a little excited. If she knew where her mother was from, then she might probably be able to find her.

Lily’s expression happened to be the most complicated. It was as if she had been placed on a roller coaster. If it was before, she would never have allowed Olive, who she hated, to be with her son, but Olive was Joyce Brown’s daughter.

Now that even Alpha Augustine had recognized the relationship, Lily could only force a smile.

“Dinner is ready, let’s have dinner. She announced.

The five of them walked into the dining room and started to eat.

The atmosphere was rather strange.

Alpha held a knife and fork and elegantly cut the steak in his plate.

“Olive, I heard that you really want to enter into the academy, right? You have already missed the academy’s selection this year, but if you really wanna get in, I can get you in.” Alpha said casually.

Olive was flattered. Had she began enjoying the privileges and glory of the Augustine family?

Marvin sliced a piece of steak and placed it in Olive’s plate. Olive nodded lightly with a smile.

Marvin was the youngest academician in the Imperial Academy of Sciences. He had already established his own medical research team. He was the brightest star in the academy.

Olive wanted entering the academy, but through her own way.

Lily looked up at Olive’s plate and saw the piece of steak that Marvin had placed. Her heart ached as-she watched her son take care of Olive.

Olive looked at Marvin with gratitude, but she raised her head and smiled lightly to Alpha.

“Thank you, but I really don’t need any help. I’ll enter the academy myself.”

Elvis raised his eyes and stared at Olive. Olive’s beautiful face was bright and cheerful. She was smart, confident and a little playful, making her attract everyone’s attention.

Marvin picked a serviette from the table and gently wiped a stain off Olive’s lips, sed a fork to pick a piece of steak. Just as she was about putting it into her mouth, her foot was kicked hard.

The steak which was on the fork also fell into the plate.

“Olive, what’s the matter? Are you okay? Marvin asked with concern.

Olive’s lifted her head and stared at Elvis. Since she arrived at the Villa, he hadn’t said a word. But just now, he had the guts to kick her. What did he mean?

Elvis elegantly sliced the steak in his place, as though it wasn’t him who had just kicked her.

He was really good at pretending!

Olive scolded Elvis inwardly. Then she turned and smiled at Marvin,

“I’m fine, Marvin.”

The five of them went on go finish their dinner quietly.

After dinner, Olive went to use the bathroom.

The moment she walked in, a large hand reached out and grabbed her wrist, pulling her directly towards him.

Olive was caught off guard and had slammed into a sturdy chest. The chest was as hard as a wall, causing Olive to feel some pains.

She looked up, and Elvis's handsome face was before her.

"Elvis, what are you doing? Let me go!" Olive struggled.

She really didn't know what he was up to. He had kicked her at the dining table, and now he blocked her in the bathroom. Was he crazy?

He was already engaged to Crystal, and she was Marvin's fiancée now. She didn't want to mess with him anymore.

Elvis's big hand landed on her slender waist and he tightly hugged her, holding her in his arms.

"I won't let you go!" He muttered adamantly.

"Elvis, let me go quickly, if you don't, I'll shout! I'm your brother's fiancée and your sister-in-law, you don't want people rushing in here. I bet you don't want to be embarrassed!" Olive half yelled, as she kept struggling.

Elvis's narrow eyes were as deep as a cold pool, and a sneer soon overflowed from them. She really couldn't wait to marry Marvin? Could she?

"Well, I'm not afraid of that. When everyone rushes in, I'll tell them that you seduced me! As Marvin's fiancée, you're trying to seduce his elder brother, I'm afraid that's it's you who will be embarrassed. But you can try and see who they'll believe!" Elvis sneered.

Olive had completely seen that he was shameless. She raised her small hand and slapped his handsome face.

The slap had hurt Olive's palm so bad that her palm went numb, but she didn't regret her action.

she had also promise to be Marvin's fiancée for three months, and for the next three months, she had to respect Marvin.

Olive looked at him, then she turned around and made to leave.

No one had ever dared to slap Elvis, Olive was definitely the first.

He turned his handsome face over, he scoffed and stretched out his arm and he directly pulled Olive back.

He carried her swiftly, and sat her on the washstand.

Olive frowned and smashed her fist at him angrily.

“Let me go! Don’t touch me! Quickly let me go!” She struggled to free herself from his grip.

Elvis aggressively separated her legs and then squeezed his strong waist in. His voice was low and gloomy, and he threatened,

“I warn you, you’d better not mess around. Otherwise, someone will come in and see us this way, and of course you’ll be accused of seducing me!”

Olive’s eyes widened. She didn’t want to allow him get away with his threat, however, their current posture was really ambiguous. She was sitting on the washstand with her legs hanging on each side of his waist.

“Then stay away from me! Don’t get too close to me!” Olive pushed him hard, trying to create a distance between them.

Elvis coldly watched her flutter in his arms. The corners of his narrow eyes were hooked up, overflowing with the evil charm of a mature man.

“Do you want me to teach you what happens when a man and a woman get this close?”

Olive’s eyes lashes shivered, and she stared at him.

Tonight, he wore a white shirt and a black trousers. The sleeves of his shirt were rolled up to reveal his sturdy forearm.

Elvis looked at her shocked face. He saw her as a little rabbit, and himself a wolf.

Elvis pursed his lips lightly. In his memory, he couldn’t remember saying that to a woman before. He was always cold and abstinent.

On some social occasions, he had seen a lot of CEO’s devouring beautiful and sexy girls. At that time, he felt that those CEO’s were lewd and lacked self-control, hence he didn’t bother associating with them.

Who would have thought that he would become the exact same person that he hated? It seemed like he almost didn’t recognize himself anymore.

Now, Olive stared at him in shock, which made him a little embarrassed.

Elvis reached out and pinched her chin.

“What are you looking at? You’re pretending to be pure and clean before me, right? I don’t believe you don’t understand what happens when a man and a woman gets this close. I’m afraid that someone has already taught you, right?”

Olive’s face instantly flushed in shame and anger. She reached out and slapped his big palm away with a loud voice,

“Someone taught me, and do you know who that person is? That person is you!”

What was Olive talking about? Did she just say that he was the one who taught her?

Elvis handsome brows furrowed. He let go of her small jaw and directly grabbed her face.

Of course, he didn't remember, how would he remember when the memories were taken away by her.

Also, did he just refer to her allegation as a dirty allegation?

Sure enough, he hated her!

However, since he hated her so much, why did he keep pestering her?

Olive looked at his cold and handsome face, and then she retorted,

“I'm not spewing trash. How is it possible that I defiled someone as pure and clean as Mr. Augustine!”

“What does that mean?” Elvis questioned, as he frowned in displeasure.

“It's you who claimed that I slept with you, and now it's you who claims that I'm lying. As a girl, how can you speak so badly like this? Olive, you are shameless, aren't you?”

“It's none of your business if I chose to be shameless. By the way, Mr. Augustine is still a virgin, right?” Olive queried but had instantly realized that she shouldn't have.

He had lost the memory of them making out. Olive couldn't decipher if Elvis still considered himself a virgin. She regretted bringing it up.

Elvis's body stiffened. He had indeed never touched a woman. Before her, there was something wrong with his body, which made him sexually uninterested in women.

Elvis concluded and felt that he was still a virgin.

Looking at Elvis's awkward expression, Olive seemed to have gotten his response.

“Aren't you engaged to Crystal? Haven't you two been sleeping with each other?”

Elvis felt a little humiliated. He was a twenty-eight years old who had never had sex.

Elvis thought that his current situation was laughable, and that Olive would mock him if she knew.

“Crystal and I are kinda taking things slowly. You know, we want to keep the most beautiful things for our wedding night. We’re not like you, who casually sleep with men. Since you’re Marvin’s fiancée, I’m certain that Marvin has slept with you already. And Derrick? He too must have slept with you.” Elvis said confidently.

Olive quickly got two pieces of information. First, he hadn’t had sex with Crystal yet. Second, he thought that she was in a relationship with Derrick Rodriguez.

“How did you know about Derrick?” Olive swiftly changed the topic.

“Elvis, were you outside our room that night?” Olive stared at Elvis with her bright eyes. It wasn’t a question, but an affirmation. She was certain that he was right outside her door.

He actually went in search of her!

Elvis didn’t want to talk about what transpired that night.

Elvis concluded that Olive was a bad girl who didn’t love herself. He wondered how she could pretend to be pure before him. Elvis wondered if he looked naive to Olive.

Did he look like a fool to her?

“Why? Are you afraid? Are you afraid that I’ll tell Marvin about this? If Marvin knows that he had picked up a worn out shoe, I’m not sure if he would still want you!”

Worn out shoes?

He actually used those disdainful words on her!

Olive face hastily reddened, she wanted telling the truth, but she chose not to.

“Mr. Augustine, since I’m a ragged shoe, why are you still pestering a ragged shoe?”

Looking at her made Elvis more annoyed.

“You’re that little girl back then, aren’t you? If your mother knew that this is what you’ve become, wouldn’t it hurt her badly?”

Olive finally understood why he had cornered her, it was only because she was the little girl back then!

She used to be his little bride!

When Elvis was in Los Angeles, he had told her about that little girl. He hadn’t forgotten about that little girl throughout his stay on earth. Because that little girl was whom his mother wanted for him. At that time, Olive was jealous of the little girl. It didn’t at any time cross her mind that the little girl was actually herself.

Olive slowly stretched out her slender white hand, leaned against him, and then grabbed his index finger. Was that how she held him back then?

Elvis's eyes darkened. He vividly remembered this action.

"What are you trying to do?" Elvis asked her sely.

"It's me who should be asking you that. Mr. Augustine, what are trying to do?

And so what if I was the little girl back then? Could it be that you've been thinking about me?" Olive quickly released his index finger.

Although she had let go of his finger, the warmth of her hand lingered on his index finger.

Elvis reached out and grabbed her waist, pulling her into his arms.

His narrow eyes stared darkly at her, as though he was a ferocious hunter who was staring at his prey.

Olive was no stranger to his gaze. It was lustful.

Did he actually wanted having sex with her because she was the little girl?

Olive's two small hands pressed against his strong chest, as she tried to push him away.

"Elvis, how old was I back then? You're a pervert!"

Elvis was domineering and he forcibly imprisoned her in his arms, scenting the fragrance of her hair.

Now her scent was pervasive, and her boneless body was still writhing in his arms. His lips fell on her earlobe, and he kissed her hard.

"Since you're aware now, then I don't need to hide it anymore. Call it quit with Marvin, and come be with me, how does that sound?"

This lunatic!

Olive was a little afraid that she hadn't completely healed him back then.

"Elvis, let me go! You already have Crystal as a fiancée. What else can I do with you?"

Elvis kissed her hair, and whispered,

"I can support you. I can give you everything that you want except my name and children!"

The Substitute

Chapter 335 A worn out shoes.

Olive's eyes widened in shock at his words. She pushed him away forcefully, and questioned,

"Elvis, do you have amnesia? Do you think that I'll still agree to being your lover?"

Elvis regretted allowing her go the last time he offered her a contract. He shouldn't have allowed her go.

These days, he had tried his best not to think about Olive, or even see her. He was engaged to Crystal, and all he wanted was to live his life peacefully.

Chapter 339 This Ruthless Woman

Withal, Olive kept appearing before him again and again.

Every time she surfaced before him, he lost his control and acted less like himself.

He had tried hard not to be seduced by her, but he couldn't resist her.

From the moment he learned in the living room that Olive was the little girl back then, the little bride his mother had originally kept for him, he felt the restraint and forbearance that he had built for the past few days collapsing before him.

Elvis stared at her fiercely, and then asked,

"Why can't you sleep with me?"

Olive felt humiliated by his question that she raised her right hand to slap his abominable face again.

But this time, she didn't hit him because Elvis held her wrist mid-air, preventing her from hitting, him.

Elvis stared at her gloomily, and said,

"Olive, I don't know what you're hypocritical about. What has Marvin, Derrick, and the others offered you? I can definitely give you more. Don't play too hard. I'm still willing to take care of a woman like you who has been tasted by different men. Truth be told, you're not worthy to be my wife or the mother of my children!"

Olive was already far from his life, but he still found a way to inexplicably hurt her.

Olive forcefully pulled back her wrist then she pushed him away and jumped off the washstand.

"Thank you for your offer, Mr. Augustine. But I'll still say this, I won't be your lover. You don't have to feel wronged by me not consenting to getting on your bed!" With that, Olive turned around and left. Elvis's entire body exuded a gloomy aura. She rejected him yet again. What he couldn't understand was why other men could have her, but he couldn't?

"Hang on!" Elvis reached out and dragged her.

Olive suddenly halted. She quickly turned around bent her knee and kicked Elvis on his private region.

Elvis was unprepared. He was hadly attacked by Olive, and his cr otch hurt badly.

Elvis snorted, his handsome face had swiftly turned pale. He didn't expect that she would attack him. He didn't suspect that she wanted ruining him!

This cruel woman!

Olive gaze fell on his face, and her cold voice muttered calmly,

"Irregardless of the numbers of men that I sleep with, I won't sleep with you. If this happens again, I might cri pple you!"

With that, Olive opened the bathroom door and walked out.

Olive walked through the hallway. The cold wind from outside blew on her face. Her mind was filled with only one thought. She really didn't want to see Elvis anymore!

Her footsteps suddenly stopped, because a calm and tall figure appeared before her, it was Alpha Augustine.

Chapter 319 This Kinless Woman

Olive was quickly jilted back to reality. She stared at Alpha unsurprisingly.

Alpha looked over her shoulder and looked at the restroom behind her. He asked calmly. "How is Elvis?"

He knew that she and Elvis were inside.

"I taught him a lesson, he should be fine." Olive replied a little proudly.

Alpha focused his gaze on Olive's bright face. Olive's eyes were staring at him with a calm expression.

Alpha muttered calmly,

"Olive, you're Marvin's fiancée now, I hope you can properly handle your relationship with Elvis."

"Mr. Alpha, is this what you have to say to me? I thought that Mr. Alpha likes to be in control of everything. I'm currently being sandwiched between your two sons..." Olive paused to take a breath, then she continued.

"You should have me disappear, but you've actually changed your mind and accepted everything like a loving father. I'm really flattered to be sincere. Well, let's stop beating around the bush. Why are you suddenly being nice and accepting towards me? Is it because my mother happens to be Joyce Brown?"

Alpha stared at the girl before him. Infact, it should have crossed his mind back then in Los Angeles that Olive was Joyce Brown's daughter!

Only Joyce Brown's daughter could shine so brightly and dazzlingly.

Alpha nodded, "Yes, you're right. It's because Joyce Brown is your mother.

Since Joyce Brown left with her daughter, no one was able to find you, but I had a strong conviction in my heart that one day Joyce Brown's daughter will return to Imperial.

Olive's eyes radiated brightly like the stars, she took a step closer to Alpha and asked,

“Do you know who my mother is? Do you know where she is from?”

Alpha nodded, “Yes, I know.”

Olive took another step forward. “Then, do you know who my biological father is?”

“Well, I can probably guess.” Alpha replied.

Olive nodded, and then said, “But you won’t tell me, right?”

“Right.” Alpha affirmed.

Olive knew that Alpha wouldn’t disclose the information to her just like that. She pondered for a while, then she asked,

“Mr. Alpha, then what do you want from me? We can make an exchange. I give you what you want, and you tell me everything you know.”

Alpha scoffed and responded,

“Okay, I want to know from you... where Annabelle is now.”

Olive froze. Elvis’s mother, Annabelle, had already jumped from a building years back.

“I want Anabelle. If you help me find Anabelle, then I’ll tell you everything that you need to know.”

“And, you’ll find Joyce too.” Alpha added, then he turned around and left.

Olive stood quietly as she watched Alpha disappear. A middle-aged man, who was in his fifties, had taken his time to get only what he wanted from earth.

Olive could feel that Alpha loved his two sons. Back then in Los Angeles, he didn’t want her to exist, but now that he knew that she Joyce Brown’s daughter, he suddenly became accomodating towards her.

Joyce Brown and Anabelle Midas were the crown jewels of the capital Alpha wanted finding Anabelle through her, so he allowed her to do as she wanted to his sons.

In other words, to Alpha, Anabelle was much more important than his two sons.

Olive truly realized that Alpha loved Anabelle.

Anabelle disappeared many years ago. Her son, Elvis, is already twenty-eight years old.

Back then, when Anabelle was pregnant with her second son, she had personally opened her stomach with a knife and took out the baby.

If Anabelle hadn't been cornered, how could Anabelle abandon her son, Elvis, and jump into the seat without reconsidering her actions?

Was it possible that Anabelle was still alive?

Could it be that Anabelle's disappearance had something to do with Olive's mother?

If Anabelle was still alive, why didn't she come back for Elvis?

And if Alpha loved Anabelle very much, why did he marry Lily and give birth to Marvin?

No woman could accept the derialment of their marriage, and the betrayal of the flesh.

Olive had earlier thought that she would gain something from her visit to the Augustine family today, but she had no chance of winning a game orchestrated by the extremely wealthy Alpha. Instead, she was left even more confused.

But Olive was certain about something, and that was the fact that all the answers to her questions were in Imperial

Where was her mother from?

Where is she presently?

Who was her biological father?

All those questions, the answers were in Imperial!

Suddenly, Marvin walked over to Olive.

"Olive, why are you standing here?" He asked with concern.

Olive's gaze fell on Marvin's face. Marvin turned and stared in the direction where Alpha had taken.

"What did my father say to you?" He inquired protectively.

"Nothing, we were just chatting casually, Marvin, could you please send me home. It's getting late, mom and dad are awaiting my return."

Marvin stared at Olive's smart face, She was always this way. She was brave and independent and could come up with many ways to solve a problem. She had never thought of relying on him.

When would she lean her head against his shoulder, in search for his protection?"

Marvin nodded and warmly extended his right hand to her.

“Come on, I’ll take you home.”

Olive smiled lightly and placed her hand into his palm. Marvin held her tightly, and took her home.

At this moment, the door of the restroom was flung open, and Elvis stepped out.

His narrow eyes fell on Marvin and Olive who held onto each other’s hands. Just now, Elvis was still in pains, but Olive didn’t care about him and had went on to leave with another man.

His emotions were controlled by Olive. All he fantasized about was sleeping with Olive.

Elvis hated so many things, but he hated the state of being out of control the most. He swore to get her!

Most men had bad grooming, and they all coveted new women frequently. Elvis was looking forward to the day when he would become tired of sleeping with her. Then he would abandon her!

Marvin drove Olive home. Inside his silver Maybach, Marvin said, “Olive, are you really sure that you don’t want my help with issue concerning getting into the academy?”

Olive winked mysteriously, and replied.

“I really don’t need help. I have a way to get in. When I get in, please take care, academician Augustine!”

Dawn The Next Morning.

The Academy of Sciences.

Crystal and Alicia entered the academy of sciences together. They were selected in the audition, and today was first day they were to officially join the academy.

Many people gathered around Crystal and Alicia enthusiastically.

“Crystal, congratulations on entering the academy. From now on, you’ll be our younger sister. “Crystal, if you have any questions that you have difficulties with, just come to us, we will help you.” The students of the academy welcomed Crystal happily.

Crystal was the daughter of the Robert family, and now, she was Elvis’s fiancée. Mr. Paulo, the dean of the academy of sciences, was also her grandfather.

Of course, she was used to the attention. She was born to be a sought-after little princess.

“Thank you senior colleagues. But apart from us who were selected to enter the academy of sciences, is there anyone else that’s here as a new student?”

Crystal asked sweetly.

“No.” Everyone chorused in unison.

Crystal and Alicia turned to look at each other. Crystal smiled and said, “Alicia, don’t worry, okay? The Academy Of Sciences is my grandfather’s territory. She won’t get in!” Crystal assured.

Alicia was relieved too. It seemed that she overestimated Olive, and Olive wasn’t as strong as thought she was!

Suddenly, loud screams were heard.

“Look, it’s academician Augustine! Academician Augustine is back!”

Crystal looked up and saw the silver Maybach car driving into the academy.

The car parked in the lawn. Then, the driver’s door was opened, and Marvin’s handsome figure was now in view.

Today, Marvin wore a well-fitted black suit. He was extremely handsome.

Marvin walked out and took his personal assistant to the medical research institute.

At this moment, Marvin’s cold eyes suddenly looked over.

Crystal and Alicia froze when their eyes met his cold gaze..

Olive was now Marvin’s fiancée. During his absence, Olive had been bullied by them..

Marvin’s stare to them only meant that he knew all that they did, and they should be careful.
