

The Substitute Bride Doted by My Billionaire Husband

Chapter 341

Chapter 341 She Became an Emotional Evening Radio Host.

Crystal quickly pulled her fist. She really didn't know what sort of love poison that Olive had given to Marvin which made him want to always protect her. As expected, Alicia also heard about what had happened last night at Tom Hart's birthday party. Alicia felt uneasy again.

Someone suddenly announced, "Mr. Paulo is here!"

Everyone quickly retracted their gaze from the direction that Marvin had taken. Old Mr. Paulo was dressed in a blue suit, and blue trousers.

With so many people present, Crystal didn't refer to the old man as her grandfather. She smiled sweetly, and said formally,

"Mr. Paulo, thank you, I'll definitely not disappoint your expectations."

Mr. Paulo nodded in satisfaction and said to Crystal,

"Crystal, the three of you stood out amongst the other applicants. So, I have a task for you Today was the resumption for Crystal, Alicia and the others.

"What's the task, Mr. Paulo?" Crystal asked in a serious tone. three."

"In order to respond to the concept of the national mental health construction, our Academy of Sciences and Research Center plans to open two radio stations and prepare two evening emotional anchor columns. I want to give one of these radio stations to the three of you." Mr. Paulo explained.

Crystal knew that she had been entrusted with an important responsibility. Her first task when she entered the academy was to become the anchor of the evening radio station.

"Mr. Paulo, whom will the other radio stations be handed over to? Is it the staff of the scientific research center?" Crystal inquired.

The academic and scientific research centers also had a story.

Five years ago, Mr. Paulo didn't have a scientific research center.

But about five years ago, a virus broke out in Imperial. At that time, the virus had spread and the Academy of Sciences got first-hand information. All the academicians brought their medical team to participate in the fight against the virus.

At that time, Marvin was the brightest star of the Academy of Sciences, but unfortunately, he had participated in an academic seminar in Asia.

The individual who had the best chances of defeating the virus first was probably Mr. Paulo. Everyone entrusted their hopes on him.

But the results were shocking. The first person to conquer the virus was academician Bush Dickson, the president of Bright Star university.

It was rumored that there was a girl in academician Bush's team, who had isolatedly found the origin of the virus, and had successfully curbed the spread of the virus.

The amazing girl had caused such a huge sensation in the entire medical industry. Everyone wanted to see her face, but academician Bush didn't expose her identity to the public. The girl had disappeared from the spotlight. No one knew nothing about the girl until now, only her nickname, Sun light, was known.

Sun light represented hope and strength.

Chapter 341 She Became an Emotional Evening Radio Host.

The girl had disappeared, and academician Bush stood out from the academy of sciences and had established a scientific research center.

As for what happened five years ago, it was embarrassing to Mr. Paulo. He felt as though someone had slapped him hard across the face.

"Yes, the other evening radio station operator will be sent by in by academician Bush." Mr. Paulo replied.

His response seemed to have cause an uproar amongst the crowd.

"Do you think that academician Bush will send Sun light over here?"

"If that's true, that means that we'll be able to see Sun light's face!"

"I was really curious to see what Sun light looked like!"

The students murmured amongst themselves.

Seeing that his announcement excited the students, old Mr. Paulo's expression turned cold.

"This time, we're competing against the scientific research center's radio station. It's a competition, so you have to distinguish between friends and foes!" Mr. Paulo added, his face conveying nothing but seriousness.

After Mr. Paulo said this, every where quickly became quiet.

Mr. Paulo turned to Crystal again, and said,

"Crystal, this radio showdown is very important. You must do your best."

Crystal had also heard of Sun light, but she was not as excited and curious as other people. She was the proud woman herself, hence she expected people to be excited over her, and not the other way.

Five years ago, Crystal was only fifteen years old. What could a fifteen years old girl have done? She was only in junior high.

She concluded that Sun light was older than her. It was estimated that Sun light would be about thirty years old now.

Crystal was convinced that if the virus had broken out now, then she would have stood a chance. against Sun light, perhaps she would have even discovered the cure to the virus.

As an emotional radio host, she had an innate advantage, a sweet voice and a great reputation. She was certain that would stand out better than the representative from academician Bush!

The most important thing was that her father had donated the radio station building of the Academy Of Sciences. And her mother was now the director of the radio station!

Crystal nodded confidently, and replied,

“Mr. Paulo, don’t worry, I will definitely do my best. By the way, why haven’t the person sent by academician Bush arrived yet?”

With such a reminder, the students started turning around in search of the representative. Mr. Adam Paulo glanced at his wrist watch. The representative ought to be here by now.

Suddenly, a beautiful and sweet voice sounded in everyone’s cars, sorry to have kept y’all waiting. I’m sorry I’m late.”

“I’m

Crystal felt that the voice was very familiar.

Why did it sound like Olive’s voice?

Crystal took in a deep breath and quickly turned around. She immediately saw Olive walking into the hall.

Alicia froze. She looked at Olive in shock. Was she the one sent by academician Bush?

Alicia swiftly remembered that Olive had promised to come to the Academy of Sciences in search of her!

Alicia’s eyes were slowly filled with fear, panic and unease.

She felt like Olive was very mysterious, and there was a lot about her that people didn’t know.

Olive walked over, her clear eyes stared at the crowd, and then she walked past Crystal and Alicia.

“Mr. Paulo, we meet again.” Olive said to Mr. Paulo the moment she reached where he stood.

Mr. Paulo looked at Olive and narrowed his turbid and sharp eyes. He didn’t expect that the person that Bush had sent was her!

Chapter 342 Being Bullied

Mr. Paulo once said that he would never allow Olive enter the gate of the Academy Of Sciences. Mr. Paulo couldn’t help but feel that he had been tutored by Olive.

Mr. Paulo looked at Olive, and then asked,

“Are you the one sent by Bush? What’s your relationship with Bush? Bush is the principal of Bright Star university, while you’re studying at Watson University.”

The spectators jaws dropped. They all knew Olive. Recently, Olive’s fame had risen in Imperial, and she became Marvin’s fiancée, which was a nightmare to thousands of girls!

“Why is Olive here?”

“I thought it was Sun light who was coming over, I didn’t expect it to be Olive.”

“Yea, why did academician Bush send Olive here? He and Olive are two completely different people. How did they even meet?” The students whispered amongst themselves.

“Is that what y’all are worried about? Aren’t y’all worried about the fact that she’s Marvin’s fiancée? Gosh, my heart aches!” Another student added. Olive wasn’t affected by the murmuring of the crowd. She straightened her beautiful back, and answered Mr. Paulo calmly.

“I’m a student of academician Bush.”

Mr. Paulo snorted. He knew that Olive was being smart by claiming to be Bush’s student instead of answering his question directly.

“Olive Hart, the radio station of our Academy of Sciences has been handed over to Crystal. If you can win against Crystal, then you can handle it yourself.” Mr. Paulo informed.

Alicia stared at Mr. Paulo and didn’t divert her gaze. Suddenly, she felt someone staring at her. She quickly became alert and turned her head to look directly into Olive’s eyes

Olive was staring at her, and had seen her watching Mr. Paulo.

Alicia instantly had a bad feeling. She wondered if Olive already knew something.

Crystal stepped forward and stared at Olive arrogantly.

“Olive, although I don’t know why academician Bush sent you here, you’re sure to lose. Maybe you still have a chance of winning. I’ll give you a chance now. You can leave the academy honourably.”

Olive scoffed and shook her head, and replied,

“Crystal, I just realized that you like to speak trashy words. Why don’t you say something useful?”

Crystal’s beautiful face became cold. “It seems that you won’t back down until you’re defeated. Let’s go the radio station to meet the director. Don’t you know? The director is my mother. Grandma wants to recognize you as her granddaughter, right? My mother too had been wanting to see you.”

Olive perfectly understood that the radio station was a thunderbolt, and she had stepped on it.

Crystal's mother was Mr. Paulo's daughter, Nora Paulo. But Olive heard that Crystal's father, Damien Robert and Nora weren't on good terms, so they had separated many years ago.

Damien Robert had devoted himself to charity. He was a philanthropist whose whereabouts was mysterious.

While Nora on the other hand, managed the radio station and could be defined as a strong woman.

Olive headed to the radio station building of the Academy Of Sciences. When she sighted the magnificent radio tower, she once again sighted the power of the capital. She heard that the radio station was donated by Damien Robert.

It was an action by Damien to stabilize the Paulo family. In the past few years, the North family had become one of the four giants in Imperial

The richest man in Imperial, Damien Robert, the monarch of the Robert family, definitely deserved the title "Son of Canada".

It was said that Damien Robert and Alpha Augustine, the first business emperors, were brothers who grew up together.

Olive swiftly remembered that she hadn't won Alpha over yet. If she happened to meet Damien Robert again, she would probably be grounded to the dust, right?

Olive felt that she needed to speed up the process. So that before Crystal alerted Damien, she had already gotten the second treasure box left by her mother.

Olive took in a deep breath, she exhaled and then muttered inwardly, "Academy of Sciences, here I come!"

A sweet-sounding young lady led Crystal, Olive and Alicia to an office. Then, she knocked on the door, and said respectfully.

"Director, Miss is here."

Soon, a capable voice sounded from inside, "Come in."

The director's office door was pushed open and Olive saw Nora Paulo.

Nora wore a black business suit with a burgundy skirt. She had a very hot figure. She had long, wavy hair.

"Mum, I'm here." Crystal quickly ran to Nora's side and squeezed into Nora's arms like a spoiled brat.

Nora put down the file in her hand and fondly patted Crystal's head.

"Crystal, your grandfather had entrusted you with such an important task. You must work very hard. I have already asked my team to give you a radio station for the evening emotional column." Nora paused, and then continued,

H

"Group A radio station was originally the most popular radio station in our station. It has the largest audience base. Moreover, I will have the station run a foreign investment promotion for you. My daughter, Crystal, has become the evening anchor, it must be an instant hit.”

Nora had been in the radio station for so many years. She was quite capable. She had already paved the way for Crystal.

Crystal hugged Nora’s arms and smiled sweetly.

“Mum, you’re the best.” Crystal muttered happily.

Olive stood quietly as she watched the mother and daughter display their love for each other. Nora hadn’t spared her a glance since she came in. She knew that Nora was giving her a sneak peek of what to expect while at the Academy of Sciences.

Crystal suddenly thought of Olive. “Mum, this is Olive Hart. She’s the daughter of the Hart family that grandma liked!” Crystal emphasized on the last words as though she was reminding Nora of something.

Nora raised her head and looked at Olive. Her eyes were cold as she glared at Olive from the crown on her head to the sole of her feet.

Chapter 342 Being Bullied

“Are you Olive?” She asked domineeringly.

Olive nodded, “Yes, I’m Olive.”

“I didn’t expect academician Bush to send you here. I’ve already asked my staff to free up Radio D for you to do the evening emotional column. Radio D used to be a radio station which we used for our testing. It has been abandoned and has no traffic, and barely any audience. But since you’re scheming, you probably wouldn’t mind starting from scratch, would you?”

Nora sneered.

Nora had given Crystal the most popular radio station, but she gave Olive the abandoned radio station.

A broken smile flashed through Olive’s face, and she replied,

“Oh, I don’t mind. I’m very glad.”

Chapter 343 The Key to the Forbidden Room.

Nora and Crystal felt that Olive’s response was more like a mockery to them.

“Director, if there’s nothing else to do, I’ll go ahead to my radio station.” With that, Olive turned around and left.

Crystal stared at Olive disappearing figure, and gritted her teeth angrily. She hated Olive’s calm appearance the most.

“Crystal.” Nora called out to her, “it’s really not a bad idea for Olive to come here. At least she'll do everything under our watch. What you should do is to improve and make yourself better. Don't waste your time on her."

Crystal finally felt relieved. She knew that Olive's issue didn't have to bother her.

This was the Academy Of Sciences, her territory, why should she be afraid of Olive?

"I know mum. I'll go ahead to the radio station." Crystal waved goodbye to Nora.

Olive went to the Radio D. The station was deserted. The office was dusty and filled with trash. It Olive went to the would probably take an entire day to clean it up.

Olive didn't complain. She took off her jacket, rolled up her sleeves and started to clean the office.

When she pulled the chair away, she choked and coughed loudly.

"OMG!" Crystal muttered loudly with a smile on her face as she stood by the door.

"Olive, how long do you intend cleaning here? Well, if you could plead for help, i might consider helping you." Crystal mocked with a laugh.

Crystal's radio station was equipped with the most advanced equipment. She had three cleaners, who had cleaned the entire station for her.

Olive ignored Crystal, and continued with what she was doing.

Crystal was angry that she wasn't able to piss Olive off.

Suddenly, there were sounds of footsteps behind her, and people were approaching her.

Crystal turned around and saw that it was Marvin.

Marvin's handsome and slender body was forefront. Behind him was his top medical team. These elites had blue cards around their necks and vacuum cleaners or mops in their hands.

Their presence happened to be the most beautiful scenery in the entire Radio building.

"OMG! Academiación Augustine brought his team to our station!"

"Goodness! Academician Augustine brought his own people to help Olive clean her station!"

"Academician Augustine is such a sweetheart!"

Everyone in the radio building gathered afar, as they admired Marvin.

Marvin led his team into radio D. Olive raised her head and her eyes widened in surprise.

"Marvin, why are you here?"

"Sister-in-law, stop please, how can you hold something as dirty as a rag in your hands?"

"Sister-in-law, let me wipe the chair. Please have a sit."

“Sister-in-law, leave it to us, please. Go ahead and have a cup of coffee with our boss.” The medical staffs swiftly retired Olive from her duty.

Marvin’s medical team consisted of a group of outstanding medical geniuses. They were all very young. They all referred to Marvin as their boss.

Olive was stunned by the fact that they referred to her as ‘Sister-in-law’. The rag in her hand was snatched, and she was placed on a chair.

Olive looked up to Marvin, and whispered, “What’s going on?”

Marvin took off his suit, and the white shirt he wore was now visible. He looked at Olive and retorted, “What?”

Marvin leaned closer with a smile on his face. “I’ve already disclosed our relationship, Olive. I can’t wait to introduce you to everyone around me.”

Olive paused for a while, then her eyes suddenly met Marvin’s affectionate gaze. “I…”

“You don’t have to say anything.” Marvin interrupted her.

“I want to ask you a question. Marvin said, “you’re Sun Light, right?” He asked.

Olive stared at Marvin and didn’t say anything in response.

Marvin had already obtained the answer he wanted. She was Sun Light! It was her!

Five years ago, he had gone abroad to attend a summit for an academic forum. Due to the virus that broke out, he was unable to return to America. At that time, she had already isolated the virus, found the cure, and disappeared.

When he returned to North America, he was greeted with the news of her heroic medical research. Marvin pursed his lips, and there was a bit of sadness written on his face.

“Olive, I could have known you before anyone else, but we missed seeing each other time and time again.”

Olive was speechless. Fate wasn’t something that could be forced.

Sometimes, somethings weren’t meant to be. When she was born, she had first seen Elvis.

“Marvin, I have something I want to ask you.” Olive initiated. Without awaiting a response from Marvin, she continued,

“Do you know where treasures are hidden here? Or is there any mysterious place where treasures and valuable could be hidden?”

“Treasures?” Marvin muttered, as he stared at her.

“Is that why you’re here? Don’t tell me you broke into your enemies’s territory because of a treasure.”

The Academy of Sciences was a dangerous place for Olive. She was too bold to have broken into the Paulo's family territory alone.

Olive nodded, and replied,

"Yes, I'm here in search of a treasure box."

Marvin pondered for a moment, then he said, "I've never heard of any treasure box in this academy. But I think there's indeed a mysterious place here."

Olive's eyes lit up, and she nervously inquired, "Where?"

Marvin held Olive's hand and led her to the window. He pointed to the backyard of the radio station.

Chapter 343 The key to the Forbidden Room.

"Have you seen the dark red door?"

Olive noticed that the dark red door had very similar designs to ancient houses.

"The gate is always locked. It has never been opened. No one has entered there before. It is out of bound for students in this academy. The last I heard, there were wolves guarding it."

Olive's heart was beating wildly. She had an intuition that the treasure box was in there.

"Marvin, do you know where the key to the door is?"

Since the dark, red door was locked, she needed a key to open it. She wanted to go in!

"Olive, you can't go in. They say it's a forbidden area that has been cursed, and anyone who enters into that door, won't make it out alive." Marvin explained.

"Marvin, I don't want to die, okay? But I also have to find that treasure box."

Marvin stared into Olive's eyes and said, "The key is with Nora."

0141

Chapter 344 What Are You Doing Here?

The key was with Nora?

Olive had a feeling that not only did her mother have a master-disciple relationship with Mr. Paulo, but she should also have had an inextricable connection with Mr. Paulo's daughter, Nora.

Olive stood at the window and looked at the dark, red door in the radio station's backyard. She had to go to Nora's office and find the key as soon as possible.

"Marvin..." Olive turned around and looked at Marvin.

But she froze, as she saw Marvin standing behind her. When she turned around, her body was pressed against his.

Marvin lowered his head and stared at the beautiful woman before him. A smile appeared on his lips, and he said,

“Olive, what do you want to say me?”

Olive subconsciously placed her hands behind the wall, as she tried to prevent herself from getting too close to him.

“I...i want to say thank you.”

A strand of beautiful hair wrapped around Olive’s eyebrows, Marvin reached out and wanted to brush the hair away. But before he could touch her, a loud bang sounded.

The loud noise startled everyone in the station. Olive quickly raised her eyes. She saw a tall body by the door. It turned out to be Elvis.

Elvis was really here.

Elvis had just walked in from outside, he was clothed in a black suit. He stood by the door and stared at Olive and Marvin coldly.

Olive’s eyelashes shivered. She didn’t know why he had come to the radio station. He looked angry.

Olive couldn’t understand why she felt that Elvis had caught her in the act. Was it an illusion?

Marvin turned around and saw Elvis. He pushed Olive behind him, blocking her from Elvis’s gaze.

“Bro, why are you here?” Marvin inquired.

The atmosphere exuded the vibes of two men confronting each other.

Elvis felt as if he was going crazy again. He knew that Olive was at the Academy of Sciences, hence he had impulsively drove down there.

He didn’t understand why she chose to come to the Paulo’s territory. Wasn’t she afraid of being bullied?

Elvis had walked all the way in search of her, but as soon as he reached the door, he met her and Marvin in such an ambiguous position.

Today, Olive was clothed in a white sweater dress, which had a baby collar.

The skirt fell above her knees. She wore a pair of trotting shoes on her feet.

Her hair was packed in a ponytail, exposing her stunning facial features.

Marvin was wearing a white shirt. The two of them looked very good together.

They were a perfect pair.

A wave of anger rushed in Elvis’s chest. He wanted to turn around and leave, but after thinking about it, he felt unwilling, hence he raised his leg and kicked the door.

Chapter 344 What Are You Doing Here?

Elvis gloomy eyes fell on Marvin’s handsome face.

Marvin nodded, indicating that he understood how he felt. But he glanced at the door and asked,

“Bro, why did you kick the door?”

Elvis let out a scoff, as he stared mutely at the duo.

Olive felt that Elvis was getting more nervous. She couldn't understand what made him jealous.

Crystal heard the loud sound and rushed over. She was surprised to find Elvis there.

“Elvis, why are you here? Are you here to pick me up?”

Elvis retracted his gaze and stared at Crystal indifferently.

“Yes, I'm here to pick you up. Let's go.” He replied.

“Okay.” Crystal held Elvis's strong arm intimately, and the two of them turned around and disappeared from everyone's sight.

When they left, Marvin turned to look at Olive.

“Are you alright? Are you scared?” He inquired tenderly.

Olive shook her head, and walked to the desk and begun arranging her files.

“Of course not. I'm not that vulnerable.”

“Olive, shall we go have dinner together?” Marvin offered.

“Not tonight. I already have a date.” Olive apologetically blinked at Marvin.

Marvin had no choice than to respect Olive's schedule.

“Alright then. But Olive, tomorrow is mine, okay?”

“Okay.” Olive nodded and smiled at him.

With Marvin's help, radio D's office was rapidly tidied up. Marvin led his team out, and Olive went on to sort out some informations.

Once she was done, Olive placed a call to someone.

“Hello, teacher, I'll definitely be there. Okay, see you later, sir.” She said into the phone.

Olive hung up the call and walked out of the office with her bag.

A figure suddenly appeared in the darkness. It was Alicia.

Alicia secretly stared olive, then she went on to follow her.

Olive walked out of the gate of the academy. A low-key, black luxurious car was parked on the other side of the road. The driver opened the passenger's seat, and Olive got in.

Alicia stood in a corner and watched her. Her eyes widened as she recognized the person in the driver's seat. It was academician Bush!

Alicia quickly took out her phone and took a picture of academician Bush and Olive.

After a while, the car drove away. Alicia quickly got into her car and followed them.

Alicia had already suspected the relationship between Olive and academician Bush.

Now that she had the picture of Olive and academician Bush together, she knew that she had evidence to back up her claims.

Chapter 344 What Are You Doing Here?

In the black luxurious car, Mr. Bush looked at the rearview mirror and whispered,

“Olive, there’s a car behind us.”

Olive turned her head and saw Alicia’s car behind them.

“Olive, do you know who that is?” Mr. Bush asked.

Olive retracted her gaze, and replied,

“Don’t worry about her, she can follow us if she likes.”

O(10)

Chapter 345 I’ll Take You Somewhere.

Bush stared at Olive lovingly. He let out a chuckle and asked,

“What’s going on, Olive?”

Olive’s clear eyes flickered with shimmering light. She replied in self-defense.

“Sir, I didn’t take the initiative to cause trouble. These people, started it. Let’s not talk about these, sir,

I can handle them. I’ve really missed aunt’s food.” Olive replied with a smile.

Bush laughed and replied, “Your aunt has prepared all your favorite dishes.

Do you know what? My wife has never treated me as good as she’s treating you.”

“Really?” Olive laughed lightly, and added, “I can’t wait to eat her delicious food.”

Alicia followed quietly. Half an hour later, the black car finally stopped. Bush and Olive got off the car and Bush led Olive into the apartment.

Alicia grabbed her phone and took more photos of them.

Alicia was swimming in excitement. She knew that the apartment before her was the home of Me

Bush.

Academician Bush’s wife was the vice president of the People’s Hospital.

Alicia was convinced that

Mrs. Bush wasn’t home and had went for a meeting.

Alicia felt like she had captured the best news. She quickly sent the pictures that she had taken to Crystal.

Crystal was in Elvis’s car. She looked at Elvis’s face and smiled sweetly.

“Elvis, you came to pick me up today without notifying me. You really surprised me. I’m so happy. Let’s go have dinner together. She muttered happily.

Elvis drove the car without squinting. His fingers were on the steering wheel. His handsome face exuded gloom.

Crystal suddenly felt his perfunctory and impatience. She leaned her body over and rested her beautiful face on his stiff shoulder.

“Elvis, what the matter? Why are you suddenly in a bad mood?” Crystal inquired.

It wasn't that Elvis suddenly got into a bad mood, but he had been in a bad mood all day.

Elvis's mind was filled with the images of Olive standing so closely to Marvin. As long as he thought about that, his anger increased.

Suddenly, Elvis felt a pain under him. The pain emanated from the place where Olive had kicked him the previous night.

He suspected that she had injured him.

“Elvis, don't be angry anymore. How about we do something fun?” Crystal leaned closer and kissed Elvis's car.

Elvis quickly avoided her kiss. For some reasons, he was immediately aroused by Olive, but Crystal only annoyed.

Since they got engaged, Elvis always felt annoyed whenever Crystal would hug or try to touch him. “Tin driving, sit still!” Elvis reprimanded in a cold voice..

Chapter 345 FII Take You Somewhere.

Crystal didn't expect that her actions would arouse such resentment from him. She quickly sat up and looked at him aggrievedly.

“Elvis, what's wrong? We are already engaged. It's normal for us to hug and kiss each other, but you seem to resist being intimate with me. It really makes me sad.”

Elvis frowned. He didn't have the patience to entertain Crystal, so he had to shatter all her fantasies.

“It's okay. I'll take you somewhere.” He replied coldly.

Crystal's eyes radiated happily. The grievances she had earlier felt were instantly swept away. She wondered if Elvis had prepared a surprise for her. The Rolls-Royce phantom finally stopped. Elvis didn't joke when he said he was taking her somewhere.

However, Crystal looked at the hospital and asked in disbelief,

“Elvis, did you bring me to the wrong place? What are we doing here?”

Elvis opened the door of the car and stepped out. Crystal hesitantly got of the car.

“Do you want to check your health, Elvis? Are you sick?”

Elvis didn't utter a word in response to Crystal, as he walked into the hospital. Elvis finally arrived at a ward, and Crystal suddenly went speechless as she read the word before her. 'Andrology'

Crystal's head buzzed and she stared at Elvis in shock.

What was wrong with him?

Crystal's frightened gaze trailed down from Elvis's handsome face and landed on the black belt around his waist.

She immediately pondered on the possibility of Elvis not being able to get sexually involved with a woman. Because everytime she tried to get intimate with him, he pushed her away.

"Could there be something wrong with his body?" She said inwardly.

Elvis turned and stared at Crystal's pale face, and then he said solemnly.

"Crystal, I can't hide it from you anymore. My body has been injured and it needs time to heal, so I really can't satisfied your need at the moment."

Crystal froze and was speechless. She looked at Elvis's face and suddenly didn't know what to do or say.

"What!" She finally yelled. She turned around swiftly and ran away.

Elvis stood Indifferently and didn't chase after her.

Peterson walked over silently. After some seconds, he said,

"Sir, Elvis, in order to get rid of Crystal's harassment, you didn't have to smear yourself. This behavior is very unwise."

Elvis glanced at Peterson with his cold eyes.

Peterson suddenly went mute. He looked at the door, and asked,

"Sir, Elvis, this is the male department, should we still go in?"

"What do you think?" Elvis inquired.

Chapter 345 I'll Take You Somewhere.

Peterson was confused as to what his response should be.

"Sir, Elvis, Mi ss Hart attacked your vitals last night. Are you alright?" Peterson reminded.

Elvis felt pissed by Peterson's question, he replied furiously, "I'm fine!"

With that, Elvis turned around and walked away.

Ray suddenly appeared from nowhere and immediately followed behind Elvis.

"If you don't want to, I can go to the Hart's home tonight, catch Olive and send her to boss's bed, so that he can give her a try." Ray suggested.

Peterson nodded and agreed with the idea. "Yes, I think Olive should be the one to find a cure to young master's predicament!"

Chapter 346 A lawsuit.

Peterson and Ray had the right to discuss with each other, and they were about making a final decision.

Elvis who was in front of them suddenly halted.

He turned around and his deep eyes fell on Peterson's face.

"Sir, Elvis, this bad idea was initiated by Ray. I definitely don't agree with him!"

Peterson denied.

"That's not true, Sir Elvis. It wasn't me who initiated the idea." Ray defended himself.

Elvis placed his right hand into his trousers pocket. No one could decipher what was going through his mind, as his face was blank.

"Tell my lawyer to prepare me a lawsuit. Elvis muttered to Peterson.

"Who is young master planning to file a lawsuit against?" Peterson whispered to Ray, as they stared at each other in shock.

After Olive had a hearty meal at the Dickson's, she had returned home.

When she reached her room, she found a letter addressed to her on her coffee table.

"Mum, Mia, who sent this letter?" Olive asked suspiciously.

"It was delivered by a messenger. He said it was for you, so I kept it in your room for you." Mia responded from the living room.

"Oh." Olive responded, then proceeded to open the letter. She took out the content, and it was a lawsuit filed against her.

Olive quickly glanced at the letter. It was sent by Elvis's lawyer, accusing her of intentionally wounding and maiming him.

Olive was stunned. She had never thought that Elvis would sue her for kicking him.

Her phone in her bag rang out, it was Elvis calling.

Olive quickly answered the call and placed the phone beside her right ear.

"Mr. Augustine, what do you mean by this?" Olive asked in a clear voice.

Elvis's low and magnetic voice slowly poured into her eardrums from the other end, in displeasure,

"Olive, why are you fierce? Are you a villain?"

Olive kept urging herself to remain calm, and not get angry.

"Okay, Mr. Augustine, I have received your lawyer's letter. If you accuse me of intentionally hurting you, then why didn't you attach a hospital's report?

Without the hospital report, how would I believe your claims?"

"Then come over and check it yourself, then you'll know if you really did injure me or not." Elvis replied shamelessly.

Olive went mute and didn't utter a word.

“Have you suddenly gone dumb? It’s no lie that you injured me. I’ve officially sued you. I don’t want your compensate, because I know you can’t compensate me. But you have to be responsible for what you’ve done, you have to help me get better.” Elvis added cruelly, and instantly hung up. Hearing the call got disconnected, Olive said frantically, “Was he waiting for me to hurt him?”

Olive arrived at the Academy Of Sciences and headed to the Radio station. She was greeted by the presence of Crystal and Alicia who stand by the hallway and chatted. inaudibly.

Immediately Crystal saw Olive, she quickly smiled weirdly at Olive, and then said,

“Olive, have you finally arrived?”

Olive furrowed her brows, she greeted her calmly, “Good morning.”

While staring at Olive, Crystal and Alicia decided to allow her be for a while. She must not know that the scandal between her and academician Rush had already been captured by them. Later that night, they had sent those photos to academician Bush’s wife.

Academician Bush’s wife had already gotten in touch with them, and had promised to come to the radio station shortly.

Crystal and Alice had already pictured the scene when Mrs. Bush would come in and fight with her husband’s mistress. Olive.

Then they would capture the moment and post it online, ruining Olive’s reputation.

Thinking about how Olive would be humiliated by Mrs. Bush excited Crystal that she wanted laughing.

Last night, Crystal was in a bad mood because she was frightened by the thought of Elvis not being able to perform on bed. Although she loved Elvis so much, she couldn’t accept his sexual incompetence.

She really didn’t understand what had gone wrong in Elvis’s body, especially since he was very handsome.

However, she didn’t want to give up on Elvis either.

The thought of Elvis’s condition made her feel depressed, but Alicia’s message had come in, and that brighten up her mode.

Crystal was very excited. She said to Olive, “Olive, today radio A and radio D are going to audition for the first time. My mum, the director, would be there. We’ve prepared you a big gift.”

Olive let out a smile, and replied,

“That’s really a coincidence because today that you prepared me a surprise, I also prepared a surprise gift for you two. But it’s all good. I’ll go ahead now.”

Once Olive was done speaking, she excused herself and entered into radio station D.

Looking at Olive's disappearing figure, Alicia felt very uneasy.

"Crystal, I feel that something bad will happen today." She informed Crystal of her fear.

Crystal's beautiful face instantly became cold. "Let's not scare ourselves. Academician Bush's wife will arrive just in time for the audition. And that will be the perfect moment for her to tear Olive apart.

After hearing Crystal's words, Alicia stabilized herself. She was certain that Olive would be ruined.

The two stations started their audition for the first time. Alicia ran into radio station A and whispered to Crystal,

"Crystal, Mrs. Bush is here. On her way down here, she met with your mother and your grandfather.

Crystal's and Alicia's heart was pounding fast. Everything was going according to their plan.

"Alicia, let's go and have a look."

"Okay."

Crystal and Alicia walked outside and they saw a group of people approaching them.

Mrs. Bush, Nora, and Mr. Paulo were chatting amongst themselves.

Crystal quickly stepped forward and said to Mrs. Bush,

"You're welcome, Mrs. Bush."

Mrs. Bush halted. She looked at Crystal and asked,

"Where's Olive? I'm here to find Olive!"

"She's over here." Crystal pointed to the door of radio station D. Crystal's heart pounded excitedly, as she couldn't wait to watch the drama that was about to commence.

Chapter 347 She's Too Terrifying!

A smile fluttered on Crystal's face.

“Thank you.” Mrs. Bush nodded and headed into radio station D. Crystal and Alicia also wanted to follow her, so they could watch the show, but Mrs. Bush’s bodyguards stood outside the door and prevented them from going in.

“I’m sorry, you cant go in!” One of the bodyguards informed them.

Crystal and Alicia hadn’t been able to sleep the previous night, due to the excitement. They were eagered to see Olive being torn apart. Mrs. Bush also showed up as promised. But not allowing them in was a bit unexpected. Now they were blocked from entering the office, and couldn’t watch the show at all.

One of staff suddenly walked up to Mr. Paulo and informed him that it was time for the audition of radio station A to commence.

Nora and Mr. Paulo didn’t know what Crystal was up to. Crystal also wanted surprising them.

Nora turned and looked at Crystal, she held her hands and said to her, “Crystal, this is your first try. Don’t be nervous, okay? I believe in you.”

Crystal nodded, and replied, “Thank you, mum. I’ll go in now.”

Crystal walked away from her mother, and went to Alicia’s side, she leaned closer to her and whispered, go on to the audition. Try and find a way to go into the station and see what’s going on, okay?”

“I’ll find a way.” Alicia nodded.

Crystal, Nora and Mr. Paulo walked into radio station A, while Alicia went to make a cup of coffee.

She returned after a while with a cup of coffee in her hands. She looked at the bodyguards and said to them,

“I’m bringing coffee for Mrs. Bush, please let me in.”

This time, the bodyguard stepped aside and opened the door.

“Please come in.” They beckoned to her.

Alicia walked into radio station D. She sighted Mrs. Bush and Olive at a glance. They were sitted on the sofa, and chatted with each other.

Mrs. Bush held Olive’s hands and they both chatted happily.

Alicia breathed heavily as she felt her body go numb. She couldn’t believe her eyes.

Olive raised her head and her eyes landed on Alicia.

“Alicia, isn’t that coffee for Mrs. Bush? Please bring it quickly.” Olive said to her.

Alicia walked forward and took the coffee to Mrs. Bush.

Mrs. Bush quickly looked at Alicia, and inquired from Olive, “Olive, who is this? Is she your friend?”

“No, she used to be my friend, but not anymore. Her name is Alicia, she’s the one who sent you that message last night.”

Alicia stood quietly, as she felt embarrassed.

Mrs. Bush picked up the coffee and took a sip.

“It’s saddening how everyone wants to climb the ladder of success, infact it’s shameful. You must not always be double-minded, otherwise life will teach you a lesson and will humble you.” Mrs. Bush. was the vice president of the People’s Hospital. She spoke well and had a good temperament. Her words were not explicit, but extremely touching-

Alicia felt very humiliated. Before Mrs. Bush and Olive, she was like a little servant girl.

Alicia realized that this was Olive’s method. She had been with Olive for a while, so she knew Olive’s methods, hence the reason why she felt uneasy.

Olive watched as Alicia’s face slowly turned pale.

“Mrs. Bush, teacher Bush brought me home last night, and I ate all the meals that you prepared. I don’t mind having dinner at your place each night, because your food was extremely delicious.” Olive initiated with a smile.

“Olive, you’re always welcome at our home. I was out on a meeting when you arrived, Bush told me that you arrived immediately I left.”

Mrs. Bush and Olive chatted harmoniously, with extreme tacit understanding of each other.

Alicia couldn’t believe her ears. When Mr. Paulo had asked Olive about her relationship with Mr. Bush, she told him that he was her teacher, but no one believed her. It turned out that Olive was telling the truth.

Alicia felt as if she had been struck by lightning, and her entire body was pushed into an abyss. It turned out that she was wrong. The relationship between Olive and Mr. Bush was that of a student and teacher, and not that of lovers.

Alicia’s eyes were filled with fear. She concluded that Olive must have known beforehand. She was aware of what she and Crystal were planning, but she acted oblivious.

Alicia suddenly had an ominous feeling. She immediately turned around and wanted leaving. She needed to get out of there as soon as possible. And she also wanted staying away from Olive!

Olive was terrifying to her!

Olive beautiful and soft voice sounded from behind her, “Alicia, since you’re here already, you wouldn’t be naive enough to think that I’ll let you go, right?”

Alicia halted. She turned and looked at Olive warily. “What do you want to do?”

Olive stood up and slowly walked over to her.

“Nothing much. I just want to give you the needle that you used in stabbing me in the back!”

Alicia wanted to run away, but a cold light flashed in Olive’s eyes. There was already a long injection. in Olive’s hand. Olive directly stabbed the needle into her neck.

Radio Station A.

Alicia didn’t return, so Crystal had to continue with the audition. Her tender and sweet voice said. softly to the mic, “Good evening, everyone. This is the evening emotional column of the Academy Of Sciences. And I’m your anchor, Crystal Robert. I will be your host throughout this show.

Nora looked at the estimated audience reach on the system. The staff next to her had already given her a thumbs up.

“Director, the listening rate of the audition has already broken a record.” The staff informed Nora. The radio station already had a huge audience base.

Coupled with Crystal’s attractiveness, her first—

The Subsuiute Brides Boted to Mr Billionaire Husband audition broke a record, as many people listened to her.

Mr. Paulo nodded in satisfaction, everything turned out just as he had expected.

There was a proud smile on Crystal’s beautiful face. Infact, she had expected that the audition would break the record. She was just worried about Alicia, since she hadn’t still returned.

Suddenly, the door of the radio station A was opened and Alicia walked in.

Alicia was back!

Chapter 348 I’ve Liked You For Many Years.

Alicia was back!

Crystal’s eyes lit up excitedly. But she was anchoring the audition, so she couldn’t stop. She could only wink excitedly at Alicia.

Alicia acted a little strange. She didn’t seem to meet Crystal’s gaze. She looked distraught.

Alicia was insignificant in the radio station. Mr. Paulo’s and Nora’s attention were on Crystal. The staff were also busy with their work. After all, radio station A had already broken the record just after the audition. Everyone didn't dare to get distracted, so one noticed Alicia except Crystal.

Alicia stood at the door, and soon, she raised her head as if she was searching for someone.

She looked around, and her eyes suddenly landed on someone, and her eyes radiated.

Her gaze had landed on Mr. Paulo,

Alicia raised her legs and walked closer to Mr. Paulo." Mr. Paulo." She called out in admiration.

The entire radio station was silent because Crystal was still anchoring the audition, there couldn't be any iota of noise.

Alicia's words seemed to have caught everyone's attention.

Everyone stared at Alicia in shock. What was she doing? Didn't she know that the audition was still ongoing?

Mr. Paulo's eyes fell on Alicia's face. He had only cooperated with Alicia once. Apart from that, he didn't have much of an impression about Alicia.

Mr. Paulo was very unhappy by Alicia's actions, so he scolded,

"Alicia, an audition is ongoing, what are you doing?"

Alicia stared at Mr. Paulo seductively.

"Mr. Paulo, there's something that I've always wanted telling you. You know, since I was a child, I've always wanted to study medicine, and you have always been my idol. I always crave to listen to you. I can't suppress my feelings anymore, I like you Mr. Paulo, I have liked you for so many years."

Everyone gasped, as they stared at Alicia in shock.

Did she just say that she liked Mr. Paulo?

Alicia was a twenty years old girl. She was same age as Crystal. Mr. Paulo was definitely old enough to be her grandfather.

In fact, there were always news of young girls marrying older men. But when news of such broke out, the young girls always faced criticism.

Crystal stood up in shock. She looked at Alicia in disbelief. 'What the hell was Alicia doing?' She wondered.

Nora was the first to react. Her expression had suddenly changed, and she quickly commanded,

"Hurry up and off the radio! Hurry up!"

The entire staff suddenly became alerted. The radio was still airing. The listeners had already heard everything that Alicia had said.

Someone took a glance at the listening rate, it only didn't break the record, it was also way beyond the expected reach.

Chapter 348 The Liked You Fer Many Years

Alicia stepped forward and hugged Mr. Paulo, she had no idea of what was going on.

“I like you, Mr. Paulo. Your wife has already passed away, why don't you allow me take care of you. I want to marry you!” Alicia yelled happily.

Everyone was shocked. They looked at Alicia who had rushed to hug Mr. Paulo, they concluded that she was crazy.

Crystal froze on the spot, unable to utter a word. Nora watched as a young girl fanatically confessed her feelings to her father.

Nora stomped her feet and ordered, ‘Someone, get this lunatic away! Drive her out of here!’

The security guard who stood outside rushed in quickly and grabbed Alicia, trying to pull her away from Mr. Paulo.

But Alicia resisted them, and hugged Mr. Paulo even more desperately.

The radio station A, had swiftly become a mess.

The staff had been caught off guard by Alicia's actions, hence they had forgot to turn off the radio. Now, the listening rate had soared higher.

Nora's was furious. She reached out and pushed Alicia away from Mr. Paulo.

Alicia stared at Mr. Paulo frantically and stubbornly. Even though she was being held by some securities, she still wanted holding onto Mr. Paulo.

“Mr. Paulo, don't you like me? I don't believe that you don't like me. We worked together before, don't you remember? It was you who gave me hope. Have you forgotten that day of the audition...”

Seeing that Alicia was able to reveal the happenings of that day, Crystal grabbed a cup of coffee which was on her table, and threw it directly on Alicia's face.

“Wake up!” Crystal yelled at her.

The warm coffee fell on Alicia's face. Alicia shuddered and regained consciousness.

Alicia raised her head and stared at the surprised Mr. Paulo, then at Crystal, and then at the staff who were watching her. Her legs softened and she collapsed on the ground.

Alicia gasped for breath, as her entire body trembled. She felt as if she had been pushed into an ice-cold abyss. She really didn't know what she had just done.

Nora seemed to have been brought back to reality, as she rushed forward and turned off the radio.

Radio A, which had been in chaos some seconds ago, instantly became quiet. It was so quiet that one could hear a needle falling to the ground.

The atmosphere inside radio A was stiff and awkward,

The doorknob of the radio station turned, and someone pushed open the door and walked in.

It was Mrs. Bush, and Olive was behind her.

Mrs. Bush stepped forward and shook Mr. Paulo's right hand.

"Mr. Paulo, I didn't expect that after so many years, your charm would still not be diminished. That's really admirable."

With that, Mrs. Bush moved over to Crystal and patted her on the shoulder.

"Oh, my dear, you're Mr. Paulo's granddaughter, right? I wonder how you feel now that your friend has confessed to liking your grandfather."

Once she was done speaking to Crystal, she headed to Nora and said to her,

The radio station's number rang, as multiple calls poured in.

The staff answered the call. It was a call from a media reporter from Imperial city.

"What did we just hear? Does Alicia really likes Mr. Paulo?" The call soon got disconnected, as another call came in.

"Is it convenient for Mr. Paulo to accept our interview? We're granting Mr. Paulo and interview about his relationship with Alicia." The second caller informed.

The staff were reluctant to give a response to the caller, so they just hung up the call.

Mrs. Bush looked at everyone, and then said,

"I think y'all are so busy in here. I'll go ahead. Oh, by the way, Mr. Paulo, remember to inform us if there is any good news, okay?"

Before leaving, Mrs. Bush winked at Olive who stood at the door.

Olive moved in a little, and her eyes landed on Mr. Paulo's face. They all stared at her, as if they wanted pouncing on her, and tearing her apart the next second.

Olive looked at Alicia who had slumped to the ground. Alicia felt very embarrassed. The coffee had splashed on her face, and stained her entire body.

Alicia also looked up and stared at Olive, her eyes instantly exuding hatred. "Olive, it's you! You attacked me with an injection, and made me lose my mind!" Alicia accused.

Olive scoffed, and replied,

"Alicia, I really don't understand what you're saying. I was with Mrs. Bush as you all can see. If you claim that I had attacked you, then you must present the evidence, else I'll sue you for defamation if you keep with your allegations."

Alicia slowly realized that she had fallen into Olive's trap from the very beginning. Olive was a really skillful player.

"Olive, you are still so eloquent, right? You dare to do this on my territory?"

Mr. Paulo questioned angrily.

Olive calmly met Mr. Paulo's fierce gaze, she smiled without fear, and responded to him,

"Mr. Paulo, what do you mean, please? It's Alicia who likes you and not me, I really can't control the way she feels about you."

Although Mr. Paulo had a good reputation throughout his entire life, this scandal was one that could affect his career, The speculations of him being in a love relationship with his student, was an allegation which could cost his career.

Mr. Paulo squinted his turbid eyes angrily. At first, he didn't take Olive serious, but she had actually planned such a big drama under his nose. It seemed like he had really underestimated her.

Mr. Paulo had been obsessed with medicine all his life, and he had never been in a romantic relationship with any one young enough to be his daughter. What he valued the most was his reputation.

Now that the rumors of his scandals were spreading across the entire country, Mr. Paulo couldn't believe that he was being set up by a young girl.

Allçia gazed at Olive in fear. She didn't understand how Olive knew that she liked Mr. Paulo.

Chapter 349 Congratulations, You Win

That has been a secret she had kept to herself. She had never told anyone about it. How did Olive know about it?

Alicia felt that Olive was unfathomable.

Crystal took two steps forward, and said resentfully to Olive,

"Olive, do you think you've won? We'll see!"

This was the Paulo's family territory, and they had Olive under their watch..

Olive chuckled and responded indifferently to Crystal,

"No, I didn't win, you did! I'm afraid that your auditioning has reached the highest audience in the history of this radio station. That's a great feat, my dear. Congratulations, Crystal."

Crystal's face flushed in anger. She knew that Olive was mocking her. Radio A had really become the radio station with the highest audience, but it wasn't for the right reason, and that made Crystal and everyone else upset.

Nora pulled Crystal back, and whispered to her, "It's okay, no need to create a scene here."

Olive straightened her beautiful back. She was neither humble nor arrogant. Her clear eyes slowly radiated. She chuckled and added to Crystal, "Well, it's okay. I applaud you on your success, Crystal. Since there's nothing else to do here, I'll go ahead." Olive turned smartly and exited the office. Immediately Olive was out of sight, Crystal stomped her feet in hatred. The day ended up being chaotic. But Olive managed to keep her hands clean, and no one could prove that it was she who was behind everything.

"Grandfather, mum, we won't let this slide, right?" Crystal questioned unhappily.

Let it slide?

That was roughly impossible.

It was only the beginning.

Mr. Paulo walked to the sofa, and sat on it. One of the staff quickly brought him a cup of coffee.

Nora moved to Alicia, and glared at her as if she was nothing before her.

"Do you know how much trouble you've caused us today?" She questioned.

Alicia's face had turned pale. She replied calmly,

"I know, ma. But it's Olive who had given me an injection. I wouldn't have had the courage to say such a thing, I would have just kept it to myself forever."

"These aren't what I want to hear. Tell me something that can be used to salvage this situation, Alicia. This is your only chance to save yourself."

Alicia felt a cold shiver flow down her spine. She could feel the threat in Nora's words.

Alicia secretly glanced at Mr. Paulo, Mr. Paulo was sitting on the sofa with a cup of coffee in his hands. He tacitly agreed with his daughter, Nora.

Alicia regretted all her actions. She knew at that moment that she shouldn't have joined such a game, because if she made the slightest mistake, she could be shattered to shreds,

"I have a boyfriend, and I'm already pregnant for him." Alicia muttered shamefully.

"Dad." Nora called out and then looked at Mr. Paulo, "I have a plan that will make Olive understand that she had just shot herself on the foot.”

Mr. Paulo stood up and replied. “Well, I’ll leave it to you.”

When Mr. Paulo left, Crystal pulled Nora curiously, and asked.

“Mum, what’s your plan?”

“Crystal, you’ll know by then.” Nora replied and then turned to look at the staff.

“Get back to that media reporter, and tell him that Alicia is ready to be interviewed in place of Mr. Paulo. Alicia, you have to tell everyone that Olive framed you.”

Chapter 350 She Miscarried

Alicia’s interview was quickly arranged. Olive sat in the office of radio D and watched it.

Crystal cried in front of the camera and said pitifully.

“There’s nothing going on between Mr. Paulo and I. I only look up to Mr. Paulo as my idol. I don’t have any feelings for Mr. Paulo. I already have a boyfriend, and I’m pregnant for him.”

Alicia took out the pregnancy confirmation form which was from the hospital, and showed it to the camera, confirming that she was indeed pregnant.

The evidence was absolutely massive, and very convincing.

“If this is the truth, how would you explain the episode that we all heard during the audition of Radio A?” The reporter inquired.

Alicia wiped her tears with a hankey.

“I was framed by someone. The person who framed me is Olive Hart.” She replied calmly.

“Why would Olive want to hurt you? What would have been her motive?” The reporter probed.

“Everyone is aware that Olive and I used to be very good friends at Watson University. On the day of the academy’s audition, she got into an accident, and I was elected the president. Since then, Olive had always had a grudge against me. This time, in a bid to get revenge, she went too far and involved the highly respected Mr. Paulo.”

Olive watched the interview call, after a while, she turned it off and walked out of the radio station.

While walking past some students, she noticed that they were pointing and glaring at her.

“Look, that’s Olive!”

“I didn’t expect her to be so narrow-minded!”

“Let’s get away from her quickly, we won’t survive it if she has a grudge against us!”

Olive was expressionless and indifferent, as if she hadn't heard what the students said about her.

"Olive." A cold, yet pleasant voice called out.

Olive looked up and saw Marvin.

The girls who watched Olive couldn't believe why their most cherished academician loved a bad girl like Olive.

"Marvin, why are you here?" Olive inquired.

Marvin raised his hand and stroked Olive's hair. He muttered in a doting voice, "I came to meet a celebrity from our academy. Olive, I can't believe you just arrived, and yet you've already caused an earthquake."

The girls stared droolingly at Marvin. They couldn't believe that Marvin who was always cold could dote on Olive publicly.

"If you continue to play this way, I'm afraid that the Paulo's won't let you go scot free." Marvin added.

Olive had always been a tit for that person. Not long ago, Mr. Paulo and Alicia teamed up to stab her on the back and throw her to some men.

The battle between her and Mr. Paulo, Nora, Crystal and Alicia had already began.

Didn't Alicia stab her on the back a while ago? All she wanted doing was to return the same energy to her.

Also, did Crystal not want to use Mrs. Bush to humiliate her and use it as a means to defame her? She just gave Crystal a taste of her own medicine.

And Mr. Paulo, didn't he also want to ruin her reputation? Well, she might as well ruin his own reputation and make him a laughing stock.

As for Nora, she desperately wanted her daughter's first radio audition to have the highest audience, and Olive helped her accomplish her dream.

Olive scoffed, as she stared at Marvin. "Well, I'm aware of that, their interview with Alicia is their revenge."

"Then how do you intend dealing with it?" Marvin probed.

"I'll just wait." Olive replied swiftly.

Marvin stared at her mysterious face. "Why wait? What are you waiting for?"

"I'll wait and see if Mr. Paulo, Alicia and the others won't come up with another plan. But I'm waiting for someone

When Marvin was in Los Angeles, he felt that Olive was like a book, if he didn't flipped the pages, he would never know what she was planning.

"Olive, who are you waiting for?"

Olive was waiting for the individual who had sent her the sealed file the last time. She was waiting for Derrick Domino!

On the last page of the sealed file about Alicia, he told her the secret in Alicia's heart. Alicia liked Mr. Paulo.

When Olive used this to make a fuss, she was only testing the truthfulness of the news. She tried it out and it was true. Olive had always been curious as to who Derrick Domino really was, what roles Derrick Domino had played in the past years, and where Derrick Domino was currently.

Olive could feel that Derrick Domino had been spying on her life. He knew everything about her.

The realization that Derrick Domino probably knew everything about her, didn't sit well with Olive.

Olive really wanted finding Derrick Domino!

But she couldn't tell Marvin about Derrick Domino, so she winked playfully at him, and said,

"It's a secret for now."

Marvin didn't press further on the topic.

"Olive, shall we have dinner together?" He requested tenderly.

"Not tonight, okay? I have to go back to the radio station."

"Why are you going back there?"

"If I don't go back, how would I watch them perform? I have to go, Marvin."

Olive waved her hand at Marvin and left.

Marvin stood quietly, as he stared at Olive's disappearing figure. He felt like Olive was a little kite flying in the sky. He could not catch her, because the higher he attempted to, the higher she would fly.

Olive returned to the radio station. Sure enough there was a lot of noise emanating from her office.

Her radio station office was opened, and a group of people were rummaging through the cabinets in search of whatever they could find. Nora and Crystal were also present.

"What are you looking for? This is my office. You guys are violating my privacy, are y'all aware?" Olive questioned audibly.

Crystal quickly stepped forward, and responded majestically,

"Olive, Alicia just suffered a miscarriage. She was given an abortion pill!"
