Chapter 351

Chapter 351 A Lettuce On His Head.

Did Alicia really have a miscarriage?

Olive stood by the door and stared at Crystal.

“I didn’t expect you guys to be so cruel. You even went ahead and claimed that Alicia had a miscarriage. Next, you’ll claim that you found the abortion pills here. Why are y’all wasting time? Why not bring out the abortion pill and convict me?” Olive replied calmly.

Crystal was all out to frighten Olive. She was expecting to see Olive panic, but she didn’t expect Olive to accurately guess what they were planning.

“I found it! I found the abortion pill! Olive is indeed the culprit.” One of the staff declared, with a medicine in his hand.

Everyone diverted their gaze and stared at Olive.

Nora collected the packet of abortion pill from the staff and walked up to Olive.

“Olive, the evidence is conclusive now, and you can’t deny it. You framed Alicia just because of your personal vendetta against her. You even went ahead and implicated Mr. Paulo, how pathetic!” Nora exclaimed in disdain.

“Since you realized that Alicia was pregnant, you went ahead and gave her an abortion pill, in order to abort the child! How cruel can you be?”

Nora took in a deep breath, and added,

“In order to expose your viciousness and restore the innocence of the innocent, we will hold a press conference tomorrow. While there’s still time, think on how to beg for mercy!”

Once she was done speaking, Nora snorted and walked out of the office.

Crystal wasn’t left out in the drama, as she said to Olive. “This is the end of the fight for you, just wait and cry!”

Crystal also left. And so did the staff.

Olive was expressionless. She placed everything that had been turned over in the office back in place, and then she walked out of the door.

The hallway was a mess. Many people gathered to watch the scene.

Alicia had really suffered a miscarriage. Her face was pale and her body was covered in blood.

When Alicia’s saw Olive, she quickly stretched out her bloodstained finger and pointed at Olive.

“Give me back my child! This was an innocent life, you murderer!”

Nora led someone to carry Alicia onto a stretcher. Nora held onto Alicia’s hand tenderly and muttered to her, Alicia, give yourself some rest, okay? I’ll take you to the hospital now. Tomorrow, a press conference will be held and Olive will be exposed, and punished duly.”

Alicia stared at Nora gratefully. "Thank you so much, director," she expressed her gratitude.

"It's fine, Alicia. Let's go to the hospital now." Nora personally rolled Alicia, and led her to the hospital.

Olive stood quietly as she watched them. She concluded that their acts was capable of winning them a record, because they were really good at pretending

After Nora left, Olive's bright eyes landed on the door of Nora's office.

Olive wondered if the key to the forbidden place was in there.

It was a perfect opportunity for her to go in and find the key!

But there were many people watching her. People who were angry at Olive.

"Alicia just had a miscarriage, yet she's standing there expressionless and unremorseful. How vicious is her heart?"

"Olive, you dare to come to our academy and create all these chaos, this girl has no shame!"

"And she even stole academican Augustine, how pathetic!"

The students voiced out their displeasure about Olive.

Suddenly, an egg smashed on Olive. With a bang, the egg shattered and soiled Olive's entire body.

Now that someone had started, everyone followed suit and threw all the eggs and vegetables that they had on Olive. Olive was instantly the target of public criticism, and the hate had extended to her being physically assaulted.

But in the next second, a tall body suddenly appeared. Someone blocked her, and protected her behind him.

Olive who had shut her eyes slowly opened her eyes, and saw Elvis before her.

Today, Elvis was dressed in a black coat. His entire body was cold and handsome.

"Hey! Stop!" He ordered.

"We need Olive to get out of the academy!" One of the students raised his hands and threw a lettuce on Elvis.

Elvis slowly halted. He stared at the person who had thrown the lettuce, Elvis's gaze was as though he wanted killing the boy.

"Mr. Augustine, I'm sorry, please. I didn't mean to! It was a mistake!" The boy quickly threw away the rest of the lettuce in his hands, and ran away.

The onlookers also threw away their eggs and vegetables, then they turned around and ran away.

Once they had completely dispersed. Olive walked over to Elvis's front and stared at the lettuce on his head. She found it amusing that she let out a laugh.

Seeing that Olive was laughing at him, Elvis pursed his lips and said in a low voice,

"What are you laughing at? Help me get the leaf off my head!"

Didn't he have hands?

He was really an overbearing CEO who liked to order people around.

Olive stood on her tiptoe to get the leaf off his head, but unfortunately, he was too tall, and her hand couldn't reach his head at all.

"Lower your head!"

"Why are you so short?" Elvis replied with disdain, then he lowered his head.

The moment Elvis lowered his head, his face got close to Olive's face.

Olive swiftly raised her hand and took off the lettuce from his hair.

"So, why are you here, Mr. Augustine?" she inquired.

Elvis didn't straighten up, he maintained his position and stared at her beautiful face.

Chapter 352 Olive, what are you looking at?

Olive's face was beautiful and clean. It was just her forehead that had been injured by the egg that was thrown on her. A piece of her skin was torn, and the blood inside had seeped out.

Elvis took out a scarf from his pocket and pressed it on her bleeding wound. The thought that Olive had been surrounded and attacked by multiple people, made a terrifying aura well up in his eyes.

He felt that Olive deserved to be beaten, but it was only him that should deal with her.

No one else was qualified to touch her!

Olive winced in pain, and looked at him with pains in her eyes.

"Mr. Augustine, be gentle. You're deliberately hurting me!" she accused.

"If you like, be mean to me, bully me, bully others, but never be bullied by others." Elvis replied and massaged her forehead.

Olive didn't understand what he meant. She had never bullied him, she wouldn't dare.

"Mr. Augustine, why are you here? Are here to pick up Crystal?" Olive changed the subject.

Olive's forehead was no longer bleeding. Elvis had subdue the blood.

Elvis took off his handkerchief from her forehead. I came to find you." he replied indifferently.

"You came to find me?" Olive pointed at herself.

"Mr. Augustine, it's not suitable for you to do this. Your fiancée and I are both in the same radio station. You by passed her and came to me?"

Elvis scoffed and asked, "Did you receive my lawyer's letter?"

Olive almost forgot about the lawyer's letter. Her eyes moved down from his face, and she stared at his waist suspiciously, Elvis's eyes darkened when he saw what she was doing.

"Olive, where are you looking at?"

Olive quickly retracted her gaze. She frowned and responded, "Mr. Augustine, I already received your lawyer's letter, but did I really injure you down there? You have no evidence."

Olive suspected that he lying.

Although she was very angry and had kicked him at his family house, she didn't expect him to be so weak and get injured so easily.

With a bang. Elvis suddenly propped his hand on the wall beside her, and used his strong chest to slam her against the wall.

“So are you trying to say that I’m lying?” Elvis’s hoarse voice questioned. “That’s not what I meant...”

Before Olive could finish speaking, Elvis directly grabbed her hand and pressed it against his body.

Olive’s eyes widened, as she shook off his big hand as if she had been electrocuted.

“Elvis, are you crazy? I should sue you for sexual harassment!” Olive muttered in shock.

“Don’t act so decent, isn’t this what you’ve always wanted? I just made your dream come true.” Elvis retorted.

“You’ve been wanting this all along. You claim that I’m lying because you want to check me out, isn’t it?”

Olive quickly shook her head, not accepting his claims.

“I already asked you to verify it. Olive, do you know what you did to me? You’ve ruined my sexual life. Crystal has already made trouble with me over kids matter, and she even threatened to call off our marriage. You have to be responsible for this and give me a treatment!” Elvis added.

Olive tried her best to stick to the wall, not wanting her body to touch his.

Chapter 352 Olive, what are you looking at?

She was a doctor, but andrology wasn’t what she specialized on. He had to find an expert in andrology for his treatment.

Olive stretched out her hand and touched his chest. “I’ll think of a way. Let me go first, okay? I’m so dirty, let me take a shower first, okay?”

She was indeed dirty from all the things that were thrown on her. Elvis stepped back and allowed her go.

Olive quickly ran to the radio station office.

Olive took a shower in the bathroom of her office. She changed into some new clothes which she found in the bathroom.

Once she was done, she exited her office through the back door, as she tried to avoid Elvis. Once she was out, she headed to Nora’s office.

The office was devoid of humans. Olive closed the door and started looking for the key to the mysterious room.

However, she found nothing.

The key to the forbidden area was extremely important. Nora must have kept it close to herself. If it wasn’t in the office, then it could be at her home.

Olive wondered if Nora lived in the Robert family’s house or the Paulo family’s house.

Irregardless of where Nora lived, Olive knew that it would be extremely difficult for her to break into her home.

Olive only wanted getting the second treasure box that was left by her mother, she didn't want to break into anyone's home, but it seemed that the only way for her to retrieve the box, was for her to pay an unexpected visit to either the Robert or Paulo family's house.

Olive closed the drawer and was about to leave, but she heard some footsteps approaching, and the door of the office was pushed open.

Olive was caught off guard. She quickly hid behind the door. When she saw the man walked in, Olive clenched her fingers into a fist and was ready to defend herself.

But the man was even faster than her. A big, sharp hands grabbed wrist her swiftly, and pressed her against the wall.

Olive raised her eyes and met Elvis's deep, narrow gaze.

It was Elvis.

Olive shuddered and asked, "Why is it you again?"

Elvis looked at Olive who wanted sneaking up on him.

"I should be asking you that. You left me outside and sneaked into Nora's office. What are you even searching for?" His cold voice questioned.

Chapter 353 Kiss me, Olive.

What was she lying about?

Olive quickly said, "You're thinking too much, this is just a misunderstanding. I had left something with director Nora, so I came to pick it up."

Elvis knew that she was lying to him again. He snorted coldly, grabbed her slender wrist and dragged her outside. "Alright then, I'll take you to meet Nora now, wouldn't it be better to ask her about what you had left?"

Olive hastily shook her head, and tried to stagger, not wanting to go out, "Hang on, okay?" she pleaded.

Elvis stopped, and turned to look at her.

"Are you negotiating with me?" He asked coldly.

Olive knew that Elvis liked soft girls. He was such a domineering CEO who liked to do things his ways. Olive felt unlucky to be caught by him.

Olive straightened her back, then she stretched out her hand and grabbed his index finger, and swung it slowly. "Mr. Elvis, nothing happened, okay?" She muttered.

Olive initiated Crystal's coquettish way of behaving. She held his index finger, and smiled shyly.

Elvis stared at Olive who was deliberately pretending to be silly. Actually, many women tried to seduce him, including Crystal, but he found their behavior very disgusting.

At heart, Elvis was a very traditional man. He liked girls who were feminine and soft.

Looking at Olive's attitude, he concluded that she was cute and adorable. She was completely different from the usual eloquent woman that she was. He felt as if he should touch her face.

Crystal had acted in the same way, but Elvis hadn't notice, but seeing Olive act that way, he thought that she was beautiful.

He had really fallen for her!

Elvis's bulging Adam's apple rolled up and down." Why should I help you? You sneaked into Nora's office. Why should I be an accomplice to a thief? He questioned.

Olive pondered for a while, and then she said,

"How about I treat you to dinner."

Elvis sneered disdainfully, and replied, "If you want to have dinner with me, you better book an appointment with my secretary, I don't have that time to go out with you."

Olive raised her beautiful face, and looked at him. Her smile had disappeared, and then she bluntly asked,

"Mr. Elvis, what do you want?"

Elvis scoffed. He shook his head and said, "Olive, when you were begging me, you were all nice, but now, you're going all formal again, right? Are you that impatient with me?"

Why was he still angry? Didn't he realize that it was him who had first threatened her?

"What else do you want me to do? I've already coaxed you, but you don't seem to need that!"

Elvis glanced at her, then ordered coldly, "Olive, kiss me!"

What was he talking about? He actually wanted her to kiss him?

Elvis was stunned when he saw her reaction, it was as if Olive was shocked by his request.

"You're not forced to." Elvis swiftly added.

With that, Elvis turned and wanted to leave. But Olive quickly stood on tiptoe, and kissed his cheek.

"Is that okay?" She muttered calmly.

Elvis froze. He hastily stretched out his arms and wrapped it around her waist, and pushed her domineeringly to the wall.

“Are you playing with me?” He whispered.

“What?” Olive questioned confusingly.

“Woman, do you not understand the difference between a kiss and a peck?”

With that, Elvis’s left hands held onto the back of her head, and he kissed her lips fiercely.

Olive instantly froze. A few seconds later, she quickly pressed against his strong chest and hammered hard, trying to push him away.

Olive was thumping non-stop. Elvis kept kissing her, as her fist were like a cat’s claws, not inflicting much pains on him.

Soon, he felt her uncooperativeness, as she clenched her teeth.

Elvis’s stretched out his hand and grabbed her beautiful face. His low voice threatened, “Open your mouth!”

“No!” Olive refused. “Elvis, don’t do this, you have a fiancée, and I have a fiancée too. Let’s not do this.”

“I told you a long time ago, break off the engagement with Marvin and be with me.” Elvis responded unreasonably. “You can’t satisfy a woman, what more can I do with you?” Olive couldn’t help but mock.

No man could accept such a provocation. Elvis’s eyes instantly darkened.

Olive struggled to break free from his grip, but suddenly, sounds of approaching footsteps were heard outside. It was the security guards of the radio station.

“I think I heard some sounds over there, go and check who it is?”

“Okay, I’ll go check.” The two security guards discussed amongst themselves, as they made for the office.

Olive held her breath as she heard the security guards approach. She didn’t expect to alert the security guards. If she was caught, she was bound to get into a lot of trouble.

Olive stretched out her hand and turned off the light on the wall. The room became dark, and Elvis kissed Olive’s lips.

Olive wanted struggling, but she knew that if she made a sound, she would draw the security guards to their direction.

Olive concluded that Elvis was cruel, and he liked to take advantage of others.

Elvis didn’t close his eyes, but stared at her face. This was like a battle to him.

He was like a ferocious beast who bound to conquer his prey.

Chapter 354 Why Are You So Sweet?

Olive was unable to resist Elvis. Her body was trapped by him domineeringly. Soon, she felt as though she was out of oxygen, and her entire body felt dizzy from the kiss.

Her legs softened, and she was about to slid directly to the ground.

Elvis swiftly wrapped his arms around her waist, preventing her from falling down. He slowly closed his eyes and buried his handsome face in her hair.

“Why are you so sweet?” He muttered in a hoarse voice.

Olive hated him so much, she raised her fist and smashed on his chest.

Elvis knew that he had angered her, and she would only hate her more in the future. But he didn’t regret his actions, otherwise how would he had known that she was so sweet?

Elvis tightened his grip and held her tighter in his embrace. He wanted their body to entangle so badly.

“Have you ever kissed a man before? Elvis’s deep voice questioned.

His question made Olive speechless for a while. How could she tell him that he was the first person that she had kissed!

Elvis regretted asking the question. He couldn’t understand what he was doing, and why he would asked should a humiliating question. He was convinced that she had kissed a lot of men. Derrick Rodriguez, Marvin, and other men that he didn’t know of!

As the thought crossed Elvis’s mind. Elvis’s face darkened. He knew that the thought of her being handled by other men was capable of driving him insane, so he tried to deviate his mind from that.

Elvis was a man who could afford to have any woman of his choice, so why should he waste his time on Olive?

But Elvis had rushed over to the Academy of Sciences because he knew that Olive was there, and had come to make trouble again.

He couldn't help but worry about her, so he had rushed over to see her. Prior to meeting Olive. Elvis didn't think that he would get involved with such a bad girl like Olive. He liked calm and reserved girls, but Olive had captured his heart, and he wouldn't let her go.

"Well, i..." Olive made to respond to his question, but Elvis quickly interrupted her, "Shut up? I don't want to listen to what you have to say!"

Olive couldn't help but think that there was something wrong with Elvis.

The two security guards who were outside didn't notice anything unusual, so they had turned and left.

Olive breathed a sigh of relief. Since she had nothing to worry about anymore, she immediately struggled hard and pushed Elvis away from her.

"Let me go!" She half-yelled.

Elvis was caught off guard, and was pushed back by Olive. Elvis took two steps backwards, in a bid to stabilize himself.

Olive swiftly opened the office door, and ran away.

Elvis stared quietly at her disappearing figure, he nodded and clenched his fingers into a fist.

"I'll get you." He muttered.

Olive returned to the Hart family.

Her mind was occupied with thoughts about Elvis

Back in her room, she sighted a sealed letter on the coffee table again.

It had to be the letter she was waiting for!

It had to be a message from Derrick Domino!

Olive quickly opened the sealed letter. There was only a note inside.

Olive laid on the bed, as she thought about the content of the note. It seemed like the conference which was to be held the next day was going to be very unfavourable to her.

Was there a possibility of an unexpected change at the conference?

Olive quickly waved the thought from her mind. She was prepared for anything the Paulos had for her.

Olive closed her eyes and took a nap. When she opened them again, the morning sun had already seep into her room through her curtains.

After having a shower, Olive applied a light makeup on her face. The makeup made her face look a little pale. And there were still dark circles on her eyes.

Olive was prepared to step out of the house with her injuries. When Mia saw her, she immediately inquired.

"Olive, what happened to you? Why are you looking so pale? Why do you have an injury on your forehead?" Did someone bully you? Come on tell me what happened to you!”

Seeing that Mia was nervous and concerned. Olive winked playfully at her and said, “I’m fine, mum, Mia. I’ll be leaving now for school.”

Olive waved her hand at Mia, and walked out of the door.

Tom walked over and said to Mia. “Mia, do you think that Olive is okay? The Academy Of Sciences hasn’t been peaceful in the past two days. Do you think she needs our help?”

“I think Olive can handle it. She is a very clever child.” Mia replied optimistically.

Academy of Sciences.

The press conference was aired on radio, and all the media reporters in Imperial had hurried over.

Nora, Crystal and Alicia were all present.

Nora quickly waved her hand and addressed the public, “Welcome, everyone. Now let’s hand over the microphone to Alicia to narrate her ordeal.

Nora passed the microphone to Alicia.

Alicia who had just suffered a miscarriage the previous day, was looking all pale and weak.

“Hello everyone, I believe that everyone knows me by now. I’m the girl who had accepted an interview to clarify the scandal between me and Mr. Paulo. And I had also revealed the news of my pregnancy. But just yesterday, I had a miscarriage. It was Olive who had given me an abortion pill. She killed my child!” Alicia sobbed, as she opened her bag and took out the package of abortion pill.

“This is the abortion pill that was found in Olive’s bag. Olive was a very good friend of mine, I didn’t know that she was a vicious being. She murdered my child, she’s really vicious!” She paused, and she cried sadly.

Alicia’s speech aroused the crowd’s anger.

“I never thought that Olive would be so vicious. I really had misjudged her before!”

“She should be handed over to the police immediately!” The crowd yelled angrily.

Nora watched the audience’s reaction with satisfaction. Someone suddenly asked,

“Director Nora, what about Mr. Paulo, why isn’t he here?”

“My father, Mr. Paulo, has recently been undergoing some medical research, and that is why he doesn’t have time for this scandal.” Nora replied calmly.

Nora’s righteous reply quickly angered the audience the more. Mr. Paulo had been obsessed with medicine throughout his life, and had made outstanding contributions to the progress of medicine. For Olive to involve their beloved Mr. Paulo, made the audience more annoyed.

Everyone present hated Olive so much, and they wished for her to cease existing on earth.

Nora, Crystal and Alicia smiled when they saw that they had taken control of the audience.

Suddenly, the door was pushed open and Olive walked in..

Chapter 355 Are you playing a trick?

Everyone's eyes focused on Olive.

"Olive, how dare you show your face here, you murderer!"

"Olive, what are you here for? All the evidence are here, so surrender to arrest!"

"Why does she look ill? Look at the injuries on her forehead, it looks like she was beaten. The audience mumbled amongst themselves.

At first, everyone was upset, and wanted setting Olive ablaze. If she dared to show herself today it meant that Olive was ready for whatever was coming her way. But Olive particularly looked strange today, her face was pale and injured.

Nora froze for a while when she saw Olive. Olive looked very calm and weak. Usually, Olive exuded an aura of confidence and firmness, but today, she looked pale and pitiful.

"Mum, what do you think Olive is doing?" Crystal asked Nora in a low voice. Nora scoffed, and she asked in disdain. "Olive, are you trying to play a trick on us?"

"You planned to frame Alicia, and you went ahead to kill Alicia's child with an abortion pill. Alicia just returned from the hospital, but you're appearing weaker than Alicia, because you want to deceive everyone into sympathizing with you. isn't it? Unfortunately, you have done a lot of evil deeds, and even the evidence against you is conclusive. We will not be deceived by you again! Nora added angrily.

After Nora said this, everyone swiftly understood that Olive was trying to trick them into pitying her.

"Olive, stop playing around, okay? We won't believe you anymore!"

"Olive, are you sick? Then why not go see a doctor instead of trying to look pitiful here!" The audience had hastily started attacking Olive again.

Olive walked up to the stage. She looked weak, and even her beautiful voice revealed a bit of tenderness, "No, you all misunderstood. I'm not here to argue. I'm not here to defend myself. I understand all of your grievances."

What? Did Olive just plead guilty?

The noisy press conference swiftly became quiet as everyone stared at Olive in disbelief.

Nora, Crystal and Alicia were also shocked as well.

Olive turned around and stared softly at Alicia.” Alicia, you said that I gave you an abortion pill which killed your child, it’s okay. I already confessed everything to you, but it’s okay. Whatever you say, just let me go, okay?” Olive said softly.

Olive’s last sentence revealed a lot of information. The media reporters were best at this. They quickly whispered. amongst themselves about the possibility of Olive being threatened.

Nora’s expression changed. She didn’t expect that Olive would find a way to easily reverse the situation. She quickly reprimanded, “Olive, what are you talking about?”

Nora’s voice was loud, and Olive’s entire body trembled with fright. Her clear eyes looked at Nora pitifully, and then she said.

“Director Nora, could it be that I’m saying something wrong? I’m already confessing that I’m guilty, you can tell me if I’m not saying it right, and I’ll say whatever you want me to.”

Olive’s words directly confirmed that Olive was being threatened, and that Nora had asked her to confess to killing Alicia’s child.

The audience gasped, as the reporters focused their camera on Nora’s face. Nora was so furious that she couldn’t stand Olive. She had seen Olive’s eloquence time and time again.

Nora moved closer to Olive, and said, “Olive, we’ve made it clear...”

Before Nora could reach Olive, Olive let out a scream,” Please don’t hurt me, I’m sorry, please. Okay, I admit, I was wrong.”

Olive’s body trembled frightenedly. But Nora claimed that she was innocent, and really did nothing to Olive.

The restless media reporters had swiftly handed over their microphones to Nora.

“Director Nora, did you by any chance threaten Olive?”

“Director Nora, what method did you use to scare Olive into this? Could it be that everything Alicia said was false?”

The besieged Nora was so angry that she clenched her fingers into a fist. She stared provocatively at Olive who had hid behind a staff member.

Crystal and Alicia were also stunned. Today was meant for Olive’s reputation to be ruined.

Crystal knew that she needed to do something, so turned and winked at Alicia relentlessly.

Alicia immediately stood up and said. "Olive, now that the evidence has been gotten, stop playing around. You framed me when I did nothing wrong to you. My boyfriend and I were planning on getting married. Now that my child is gone. I don't want to live anymore."

Alicia tried to use her child to draw back the audience's attention.

Crystal quickly shouted. "No! Alicia wants to kill herself by hitting the wall!"

Everyone's gaze were instantly diverted to Alicia. The people who are close to her, quickly rushed forward and tried to stop her.

Suddenly, the door of the press conference room was pushed open again, and someone walked in.

"Who are you?" Someone asked from the crowd.

I'm Alicia's boyfriend, and the biological father of the child in her womb. My name is Ethan Liam!"

Olive stood up, and her clear eyes fell on Ethan. Was he arranged by Derrick Domino?

Ethan looked at Alicia, and asked, "Alicia, why don't you go ahead and hit yourself against the wall? You can't even act properly in this self-directed and self-acted drama of yours."

Everyone's gaze diverted back to Alicia. Some seconds ago, Alicia was about to die, but now she had restrained herself without anyone telling her to.

Alicia stared at Ethan in shock. He had no role in this where did he come from?

The media reporters swiftly sensed that something didn't add up, they rushed to Ethan and questioned desperately.

"Ethan Liam, what's going on? Do you mind informing us?"

Chapter 356 I Had Plastic Surgery!

Ethan's sudden appearance made Nora and Crystal stunned. They knew that Ethan's presence was definitely not a good thing.

Nora quickly said. "Ethan, you're here in time. Alicia's child is gone, and the culprit is Olive!"

Alicia received the hint and immediately ran to Ethan, and pulled his right arm. "Ethan, I had a miscarriage. My stomach hurts so bad, please take me out of here."

Ethan stared at her coldly and pushed her away.

"Alicia, how did you lose the child again?" Ethan questioned, and Alicia stiffened. He really shouldn't be aware of all that transpired.

The reporters continued bombarding Ethan with multiple questions.

"Ethan, Alicia claims that her child was killed by Olive through an abortion pill. Are you aware of this?"

Ethan sneered and replied. "She's right that the child was killed by an abortion pill, but the abortion pill wasn't administered to her by Olive, she had taken the pill by herself."

The entire audience gasped in shock.

It was a notable believe that a tiger would not eat its offspring. How could Alicia had killed her own child? Alicia's face instantly turned pale, and she immediately denied it. "Ethan, what nonsense are you talking about? This is my child that we're talking about, why would i kill him?"

"Alicia, what do you think this is?" Ethan shoved a picture on his phone to her face.

"This is a picture of you going to the hospital to buy an abortion pill. It was taken on the spot. If you don't admit it. I'll have the doctor come over here!" Ethan threatened.

Alicia stared at the photos, and her entire body trembled. How could it be? How did Ethan know all this?

It was true that she had personally bought the abortion pill from a doctor. She was bent on ruining Olive's reputation that she didn't remember to disguise before going into the hospital. She didn't think that she would be exposed this way.

How did Ethan get to know about her plans? He even had evidence!

The evidence were overwhelming, how could she justify it?

The reporters were excited that they had captured the best news in the entire city. They swiftly focused their camera on Alicia's face, capturing every single reaction of hers.

"Alicia, it turns out that you killed your own child. How cruel can you be?"

"Alicia, what's going on between you and Mr. Paulo, did you really like him?"

One of the media reporters questioned.

The questions flowed in rapidly. Alicia knew that she was done for. She felt her legs weakened, as she fell to the ground.

Ethan looked at Alicia, and snorted coldly. "What's going on between her and Mr. Paulo? Can you guys take a good look at my face?"

Everyone quickly stared at Ethan's face. They instantly realized that Ethan's face looked very similar to that of Mr. Paulo when he was young!

Ethan continued, "Can you guys see that I look very similar to Mr. Paulo? Actually, I went for a plastic surgery! I loved Alicia so much that when we were closer to each other, she requested for something. She had asked me to get a plastic surgery on my face. She gave me two pictures of Mr. Paulo, one was when he was young, and the other was when he was old, she had asked me to change my face to his!"

Ethan paused, as his eyes exuded pains. "Alicia, I loved you so much and I had gotten a plastic surgery just to please you. It's fine if you despised me, but you shouldn't have killed our child! I'm done with you!" He added sadly.

The audience were in total disbelief. It turned out that Alicia really liked Mr. Paulo, and her obsession with him had even driven her to wanting her boyfriend to look just like the man.

Chapter 356 I Had Plastic Surgery!

Unexpectedly, the media conference had taken a drastic turn.

Director Nora, are you just knowing the truth? Or did you conspire with Alicia to frame Olive?"

Director Nora, Alicia seems to really love Mr. Paulo, can you have him here to respond to this?"

Crystal, we all know that you are in a competitive relationship with Olive.

Today, Olive was sick and injured. Did you guys do something to her? The Academy Of Sciences and the radio station are both under the Paulo family, could there be any chance that you two are working together to suppress and persecute Olive?"

Nora and Crystal felt their bodies go numb. Originally, Olive had disrupted their plans. They didn't expect that Alicia's boyfriend, Ethan, would suddenly surface.

Ethan had the evidence, and that had made Alicia slump.

Since Alicia had collapsed, the focus was now on Nora and Crystal.

The media conference was a total loss to the Paulos.

Nora knew that Alicia was a worthless pawn. All she needed to do was try and minimize the damage that the Paulo family would face.

Nora reprimanded Alicia sharply, "Alicia, I didn't expect you to do this. We were all deceived by you!"

After saying that, Nora walked over to Olive and held Olive's hands affectionately,

"Olive, it seems that we all misunderstood you. You were innocent. We were all deceived by Alicia!"

Olive's face was still very pale. Her clear eyes displayed softness and timidity. She looked at Nora in fear, and asked innocently.

"Director Nora, what should I say now?"

Nora was about to explode in anger. She couldn't believe that Olive was still acting like a fool.

Crystal on the other hand was also very angry. Olive had ruined all their plans. And coupled with that, she was still pretending to be weak and innocent. She was so angry that she wanted to pounce on Olive and tear her apart.

"Olive!" Crystal called out angrily.

Olive was startled that she quickly withdrew her hands from Nora's hands.

"I'm so sorry if I had said something wrong, please don't hurt me again." She pleaded sadly.

Olive's words implied that they were responsible for her first injury, and that if another injury was inflicted on her, it would definitely be done by the Paulos. The scene seemed to have caused an uproar amongst the audience.

Everyone pointed at Nora and Crystal and mumbled amongst themselves, "They are way too arrogant. Even in our presence, they dare to bully Olive this way."

"Hey, you better be quiet, we can't afford to offend the Paulos."

Nora and Crystal felt as though they were losing their mind, they couldn't believe that the crowd had turned against them.

Chapter 357 Wipe away your tears.

North and Crystal had suffered a huge loss at the press conference. They hated the outcome so much that they were ready to deal with Olive after the press conference.

They were all ready to humiliate Olive behind closed doors

But as soon as the thought swirled in their heads, they heard Olive's pitiful voice cry out. "I'll do just as you say, director Nora, I really don't want to get into more trouble in the Academy Of Sciences,"

Sure enough, there were whisperings heard amongst the crowd.

"They really did that to Olive, they're bad people."

"I didn't expect the Paulo family to act this way, I thought they were honourable."

"Do you think that they'll attack Olive after this?"

"I really don't think they'll want to hurt her now that our eyes are on them."

Nora was so dizzy that she missed a foot and almost fell.

"Mum, are you alright?" Crystal quickly rushed to support Nora.

Nora's face had turned pale. The situation at hand was already out of control.

If they continued with the press conference, then the unimaginable might happen.

Nora quickly took effective measures and tendered an apology.

“I wish to apology to everyone about all that transpired today. You all are shocked as well as I and my daughter. Crystal. Now that the press conference is officially over, we’ll call in the police to handle it from here. We’ll inform you all once there’s need for another press conference. So, thank you all for coming, you may please exit the hall.”

Many staff members and security guards appeared, and they quickly led the reporters and students out.

After all the reporters and students had exited the hall, Nora’s face had quickly turned gloomy. She didn’t need to be hypocritical anymore, so she said to Olive.

“I underestimated you!”

Olive stretched out her hand and flipped her hair backwards. The tenderness and fear that her eyes had exuded had vanished without any trace. She smiled, as she met Nora’s gaze.

“I thought I had already taught you a lesson at the radio’s auditioning, but you guys still dared to provoke me. Well, I can’t help but give y’all what you want.”

This was the real Olive.

Crystal was furious, as she thought about the display that Olive had just made.

“Olive, you really know how to act, don’t you? You deceived everyone!”

Olive took two steps and walked up to Crystal. She looked at Crystal’s pretty face that was fuming in anger. Olive chuckled and said,

“Crystal, what are you so angry about? Do you think that it’s only you that can pretend? I simply copied your ways. isn’t that beautiful?”

Crystal was so angry that she started panting heavily.

“I can see that you’re extremely angry, but if I were you, I would think twice before doing anything. Because if anything happens to me, I’m afraid that the entire Paulo family will be in real trouble.” Olive threatened softly. Crystal felt like she was about to lose her mind. Olive was right, if anything happened to Olive, all fingers would be pointed to the Paulo family, and that was an attention that the Paulo family definitely didn’t need.

Crystal felt powerless, as she couldn’t do anything to Olive.

Nora pulled Crystal’s arms, and muttered, “Olive, we’re not done yet. We’ll see who will have the last laugh.”

“Director Nora, I don’t know what will happen in the future, but I’m afraid that Mr. Paulo’s scandal will be an Interesting story which will be spread across the world.”

Chapter 357 Wipe away your fears.

Nora clenched her fist, and stared gloomily at Olive.

Olive turned around and walked away from them. When she got to where Alicia was, she shook her head sadly, as she stared at her.

Alicia was only a twenty years old girl, whose life was just beginning, but it had been stopped today because of a single decision of hers.

Alicia's eyes reddened as she stared at Olive. Her eyes exuded pain, remorse and envy.

Olive halted in her track, as she looked down at Alicia.

"Alicia, wipe away your tears. Everyone has been bestowed with the power to choose what to do with their lives. And whatsoever you choose, you must bear the consequences. Alicia, I used to regard you as my friend, but bear in mind that I'm still not done with you yet."

Once Olive was done speaking, she walked away from Alicia. Olive happened to look upstairs, and there was a figure standing on the second floor. It was Mr. Paulo.

Mr. Paulo didn't leave for any medical research at all. Instead, he stood on the second floor the entire time, and watched all that transpired.

Mr. Paulo's expression was very ugly. His cloudy eyes dripped with gloom, as he glared at Olive fiercely.

Olive met his gaze without fear. Olive walked towards the door, opened it and exited the building.

Ethan had left the press conference when he got a call.

Ethan answered his call, and replied, "Okay, I'll be there in a moment."

After hanging up. Ethan stood by the side of the road and flagged down a taxi.

Soon, a taxi stopped before him. Ethan opened the back door and got in.

"I'm heading to Bloor street." He informed the driver.

The driver was dressed in black, and had a peaked cap on his head.

Olive lowered her voice and imitated a male voice, "Okay, sir."

Chapter 358 She's the Real Little Princess.

The taxi galloped down the road smoothly. After half an hour, it reached its destination and stopped in front of a building in Bloor street.

Ethan paid the fare and got out of the car. He walked into the building. Olive slowly raised her head. She looked through the window and saw that there was a man clothed in black that was already awaiting Ethan.

Ethan walked over and whispered something to the man.

Olive's eyes widened. The man in black wasn't Derrick Domino, but Derrick Domino's henchman.

Her guess was correct. It was indeed Derrick Domino who had sent Ethan. It could be seen in Ethan's eyes that he really loved Alicia, but Derrick Domino made him forget about his love for Alicia and he went on to tear her apart. Derrick Domino was even aware of Alicia's secret. Who really was Derrick Domino?

Olive was wary and fearful of Derrick Domino in her heart. She didn't like the feeling of being monitored by Derrick Domino. She wanted to find out who Derrick really was!

The man in black suddenly turned and saw Olive.

The man halted, he obviously didn't expect Olive to be there. He and Ethan ended the conversation abruptly, as they turned and left.

Olive quickly opened the door and hurried out, but the man had disappeared without trace.

Olive stomped her feet in annoyance. She had missed a chance of finding out who Derrick was! Now she could only wait for his next appearance.

After a while, Olive turned around and left.

After Olive left, the man in black walked out of a dark corner. He stared at the direction where Olive had taken, then he took out his phone, and dialed a number.

Soon, the line was connected, and the man in black reported in a low voice, "Sir, Miss Hart pretended to be the diver of Ethan, and she drove him to where we met. I was almost exposed."

Derrick Domino's clear and smooth voice slowly passed from the other end. "She's not an ordinary girl. You have to be very careful with her in the future. Come back when things are settled."

The Paulo family immediately issued a lawyer letters stating that the Academy Of Sciences had dismissed Alicia from the school.

The Paulo family's public relations team was quite strong. They had suppressed the previous news with the news of Alicia's expulsion.

However, the news about Alicia and Mr. Paulo made up the front page of the evening newspaper.

Now that everyone heard the story, they doubted if Mr. Paulo hadn't had something to do with Alicia. And his position as the president of the Academy Of Sciences was also questioned.

Olive later heard that Mr. Paulo had lost his temper and had overturned everything in his office. She laughed it off. She had no choice but to make him trend for a reason which could mar his career.

Since she had placed Alicia and Mr. Paulo where they deserved to be, Olive knew that it was time for her to find the key to the forbidden place. That was the top priority.

As Olive sat and pondered on how to go about retrieving the key from Nora, her phone rang out and it was a call from Mrs. Robert.

Olive swiped the phone screen, and answered the call.

“Hello, Mrs. Robert.” Olive muttered into the phone.

“Olive, dear!” Old Mrs. Robert’s loving voice quickly passed over.

“It’ll be my birthday in two days, Olive. The Robert’s family will throw me a birthday party, so you’re invited.” Olive’s eyes lit up. She was worried about how she would enter into the Robert’s home to find the key. But now, the opportunity presented itself.

Although she wanted taking advantage of Mrs. Robert’s Invite to find the key, she also wanted celebrating the old lady’s birthday with her.

“Mrs. Robert, I wish you a happy birthday in advance. Since you’ve invited me, I’ll definitely attend your birthday party.”

Mrs. Robert was overjoyed by Olive’s response.

“That’s so great, Olive. I knew you’d attend. I’ve already asked someone to bring you a dinner gown, let nie know if you don’t like it.”

What?

Mrs. Robert had already bought a dinner dress for her, wasn’t that too fast?

Mia suddenly walked over with a box in her hands.

“Olive, why are people sending you gifts these days. Someone just delivered this box for you.” Mia informed. It must be the evening dress sent by Mrs. Robert!

“Thank you very much, Mrs. Robert. I really do appreciate.” Olive said into the phone, with her gaze on the box in Mia’s hands.

“Mum. Mia, please keep it on my table, I’ll check and see what’s inside soon.”

Olive said respectfully to Mia.

“You’re welcome, my dear. I have to go now. Looking forward to seeing you.’

Mrs. Robert added and ended the call. Once the call was disconnected, Olive stood up and walked to the table where Mia had kept the box, then she unwrapped the box.

In the box was a starry blue dress with a suspender style. The simple dress was filled with diamond designs. The beauty of the dress was suffocating.

Mia exclaimed, “My gosh! This dress is so beautiful. Olive, this dress is exactly your size!”

Olive was also amazed at the beauty of the dress. It would take a long time to customize a dress like this. Could it be that Mrs. Robert had sewn the dress weeks ahead?

Olive felt even more guilty. How could she repay Mrs. Robert’s love?

Olive went to the radio station, and saw Crystal from a distance. A group of girls surrounded Crystal. They were chatting and staring at Crystal with excitement and envy.

“Crystal, it’s your grandma’s eightieth birthday party in two days. As the princess of the Robert family, your dress must be very beautiful, right?”

Crystal swept away the gloom of the previous days, and a proud smile appeared on her face.

“Well, just so y’all know, my grandma invited the royal embroiderer to customize a dinner dress for me!” Crystal responded proudly.

“A royal embroiderer? Wow!” The girls gasped in surprise.

“Well, my grandma didn’t tell me about the dress. But I found it in her room by accident. My grandma probably wants to give it to me as a surprise. My grandma loves me so much!” Crystal added.

Mrs. Robert’s eightieth birthday was a big event which the entire city looked forward to. As the little princess of the Robert family, Crystal naturally ought to have the spotlight. In the past, her gowns for parties were also custom made. So when she found the dress in her grandma’s room, she knew that it belonged to her,

Crystal instantly looked up and sighted Olive who had already walked over.

“Olive, will you be attending my grandma’s eightieth birthday?” Crystal asked proudly.

Crystal was looking forward to her grandina’s birthday. Not long ago, her grandma had attended Tom Hart’s birthday party just to save Olive from humiliation. And now, Crystal wanted everyone to see who the princess really was!

Chapter 359 Family Banquet

Olive stared at Crystal’s excited face, she knew that Crystal was up to something dubious again.

“Yes, I’ll be there on Mrs. Robert’s birthday Olive replied calmly.

A tall and handsome figure had suddenly walked over. It was Marvin. Once he arrived at where Olive was, he threw his arms around Olive’s shoulder. His cold, black eyes stared at Crystal lightly.

“On Mrs. Robert’s birthday, I’ll go with Olive to celebrate with Mrs. Robert. Olive is my girlfriend.” He reminded.

Each time Crystal saw Marvin protecting Olive like a baby, she felt very upset. Crystal quickly wore a smile and pretended to be happy with Marvin’s presence.

“Marvin, you’re welcome then.” Crystal responded. She felt it was of no use for her to say much.

“Let’s go.” Crystal muttered and walked away. The girls swiftly followed after her.

“Olive, you don’t mind going to the birthday party as my girlfriend, right?” Marvin asked tenderly.

Olive smiled and replied, "Of course I don't mind."

"Alright then. I'll pick you up tomorrow, Marvin added with a smile.

Crystal returned to radio A. She took out her phone and wanted calling Elvis. Since the last time they met at the andrology department, she hadn't taken the initiative to contact him. What she didn't expect was Elvis not also contacting her. He didn't even send her a text to check up on her.

Crystal felt sad. She couldn't understand what would have gone wrong with his body. And that being a man's most fatal flaw, she felt indecisive about proceeding with the marriage.

Crystal wondered if Elvis wasn't afraid that she would call off the marriage. But after thinking about it, she realized that Elvis was definitely not afraid, otherwise he wouldn't have stayed that long without contacting her.

Although Crystal felt angry and conflicted, she still liked Elvis's coldness and arrogance. A man like Elvis was very attractive. Crystal wanted conquering him, because that would give her a sense of accomplishment.

Crystal finally dialed Elvis's phone number.

Soon, the phone rang once and was answered.

"Hello." Elvis's deep and magnetic voice filled her ears.

Immediately Crystal heard Elvis's voice, she felt her ears go numb.

"Elvis, it's me. My grandma's birthday is in two days. Will you be free on that day?"

"I'm not chanced." Elvis replied without hesitation.

Crystal's face turned pale when she heard his response.

The grievances that she had accumulated in her heart over the last few days overflowed, and she asked,

"Elvis, why are you so impatient with me? What did I do wrong? Why are you doing this to me? You're my fiancée, If you don't attend my grandma's birthday party, what will people think? Everyone will suggest that our relationship is over." Crystal paused as she wiped the tears that flowed from her eyes.

"Just look at your brother, Marvin, he already agreed to attend the party with Olive. And they're also not married yet. Isn't it unfair that you treat me this way?"

"I'll attend the party." Elvis suddenly interrupted her with a positive answer.

Crystal was speechless. He actually agreed?

It seemed like her acting as a spoilt child actually did the magic. Crystal quickly smiled and continued,

"Elvis, I knew that you loved me..."

Before Crystal could complete her sentence, Elvis had already hung up the call.

Crystal enthusiasm and smile instantly vanished.

The Robert family.

Today was the eightieth birthday of Mrs. Robert. The entire Robert family's home was decorated with colourful lights.

Crystal wore the starry blue dress. As soon as she appeared on the stage, she was surrounded by a lot of her celebrities friends. Everyone stared at her dress with envy and they couldn't help but reach out to caress the dress. "My God, Crystal, your dress is so beautiful!"

"The designs are absolutely amazing!"

"Your grandma really loves you, Crystal!"

"You're the little princess of the Robert family! I'm so envious!" The celebrities expressed their admiration.

Now that she was the center of everyone's attention, Crystal smiled happily. She had grown up in the spotlight, hence the praises and admiration weren't new to her.

Infact, as the only child of Damien Robert, the richest man in Canada, Crystal was respected across the country. Just like the Rabert's family, Alpha Augustine also had few children, but in Alpha's case, his two children were male.

It was speculated that the reason Damien Robert even had a daughter was because Nura had climbed onto his bed and slept with him while he was drunk and had gotten pregnant for him.

However, Nora couldn't retain Damien's heart and they had been separated soon after they got married.

A man like Damien definitely didn't lack women. Having only one child was obviously what he wanted. Crystal smiled proudly at the girls who hovered around her. She was the star, and no one could compete with her, not even Olive.

Chapter 360 Give Him Another Son.

Not long ago, there had been rumors that Mrs. Robert wanted recognizing Olive as her granddaughter.

The celebrities seemed to be have remembered the incident, as one of them said,

"That Olive was really something. She thought she could confuse your grandma. She wanted to be the granddaughter of the Robert family without looking in the mirror. How could she even dream of that?"

"I think your grandma was just bewitched by her at that time. It's obvious that the old lady loves you the most." Another added.

Crystal was very satisfied with all the flattery that celebrities showered on her. She was only warming up in preparation of how she would humiliate Olive once she arrived.

Crystal glanced at the wall clock. Elvis should have arrived already.

One of the celebrities noticed her nervousness, and then asked.

"Crystal, are you waiting for president Augustine?"

"That's true, why hasn't president Augustine arrived yet?"

"I think he's probably stuck in traffic."

As the female celebrities discussed amongst themselves, the hall door was pushed opened and a tall and handsome figure appeared before them.

Elvis had arrived!

Today, Elvis was wearing a black suit. The suit was well ironed without the slightest creases. Elvis exuded an indescribable masculine charm, and that made him the center of attention immediately he surfaced. He was also the best looking man.

Elvis lifted his long legs and walked in. The crowd automatically gave way.

The dazzlingly bright lights were plated on his handsome face.

"It's Mr. Augustine!" The ladies gasped in astonishment.

Crystal perfectly understood the reason behind reaction of the celebrities.

Elvis was expensive and mysterious. He was the dream of every woman.

Elvis had halted in the center of the bright lights. He was surrounded by a group of high-class CEOs. Everyone greeted and chatted with him. His aura was calm and indifferent.

Crystal felt very satisfied. She had conquered the most sought after man. That made her very proud.

Being able to marry Elvis and become his wife was probably something that Crystal would be proud of for the rest of her life.

Crystal quickly touched her perfectly straightened hair, when she was convinced that she looked perfect, she grabbed her dress and headed to Elvis with the most perfect posture.

Once she reached Elvis, Crystal raised her hand and held onto Elvis's shoulder soothingly.

"You look ravishing, Miss Robert."

"President Augustine and Miss Robert, you two look perfect together."

"Hopefully the next wine that we'll drink will be the wine of your wedding." The rich bosses praise

Crystal's beautiful face had blushed in a smile. She turned her face shyly and looked at Elvis.

But Jvis wasn't looking at her. Since he came in, he hadn't even spared her a glance.

Crystal stiffened. She could sense his absent-mindedness. She wondered who he was searching for.

"Could it be Olive?" She thought.

Crystal suddenly remembered that when she had called him the other day, he had originally told her that he didn't have the time. At that time, she had thought that his change of mind was because of her little attitude, but looking at it now, she was afraid that she had gotten the wrong impression.

She realized that he had turned up because she told that Marvin would be bringing Olive to the party.

The Subaru Molde Duted by My Hillionaire Uniwe

It meant that Elvis had come to the party for Olive. Crystal was shocked by her realization.

Mrs. Robert suddenly walked out of the door, and Nora, her daughter in law, helped her walk into the stage. Everyone quickly rushed up to wish the old lady a happy birthday.

"Elvis, let's go and congratulate grandma too." Crystal pulled Elvis forward. Elvis's face was expressionless. His lips were slightly pursed. He was uninterested in all that was going on.

He used his eyes to search around, but he couldn't find Olive. She hadn't arrived yet.

"I wish you the very best, Mrs. Robert. I pray that the creator grants you all your hear desires."

"This is an artifact. I bought it when I was in Somalia. I hope you like it.'

Everyone rushed forward to give Mrs. Robert the gifts they had come with. In no time, where Mrs. Robert stood was piled up with gifts.

Mrs. Robert was elighted by the massive show of love from her family and friends.

"Thank you very much for all your gifts and kind wishes, I really do appreciate. Thank you very much." Mrs. Robert expressed her gratitude.

Today, Nora was clothed in a long, black dress and wore a light makeup on her face. She was charming and elegant. She stood beside Mrs. Robert and instructed her ser vants on where to take the gifts to.

"Hello. Nora. I haven't seen you for a while. You are really getting younger. You don't look like you're Crystal mother at all You haven't aged one bit.

"Mrs. Robert, you have such a capable daughter-in-law. In the future, you can be rest assured that your daughter-in-law would take care of the family." Mrs. Robert's friend praised Nora.

Nora's face wore a gentle smile. She was used to hearing flattering words. She secretly glanced at Mrs. Robert who smiled back at her.

"Nora, is Mr. Damien back today? We haven't seen him in a while." Someone suddenly asked.

Nora's heart skipped a beat when she heard the question. She was already in her forties and she didn't expect to be that nervous at mention of Damien's name.

"Damien has been very busy recently. He won't be able to attend the party tonight unfortunately. She replied cheerfully.

"Nora, you have only one daughter. Since you're still young. I'd advise you hurry up and give Mr. Danica a son." The lady teased playfully, and everyone laughed at her joke.

Nora smiled lightly at the joke, but in her heart, she felt very sad.
