

The Substitute Bride Doted by My Billionaire Husband

Chapter 361

Chapter 361 Her Birthday Present

Wealthy families valued their children and bloodline the most. The four major families in Imperial had sons who would inherit their family's wealth. But Damien Robert only had one daughter.

Nora didn't feel so secure about not having a son, and that had always been a thing of sadness to her.

Nora wanted giving Damien a son in order to secure her position, but she rarely even saw Damien, and that made her dreams futile.

Nora was very strong. Just like her father Mr. Paulo, she didn't want others to see through her predicament, so she quickly laughed and replied.

Having another child is already in our plan. We'll have another child once we're ready. Thank you all for your concern.

Crystal had arrived with Elvis, so she asked her mother,

"Mum, what are you guys talking about? You all seem to be having a good time."

"Miss Crystal, we were discussing with your mother, and she was telling us that you'll have a brother soon." The lady replied.

"Really?" Crystal's questioned in excitement.

"Murn, then you and dad should hurry up and give me a brother already. I really want a younger brother!" Crystal added happily.

Crystal was different from other children. Other children wouldn't have liked the idea of having another sibling. Because they would have feared not being loved anymore once the new child arrives. But in crystal's case, she was really happy.

Crystal's parents had been seperated for a long time. She really wanted her father and mother to reconcile. In recent years, she didn't really feel welcomed in either of her parent's family.

Crystal had a lot of identity crisis. She wanted her parents to reconcile and give birth to another child, so that she would consolidate her position and interests.

Nora nodded lovingly and said to Crystal,

"Crystal, think about yourself, okay? When will you and Elvis get married, and then give birth to a beautiful child? We're all waiting for our grandchild."

Crystal's smile swiftly disappeared. She had even forgotten about Elvis's physical problem. She replied shyly.

"We will soon, mum."

The scene was funny to behold. Soon, the entire attention was drawn to Nora and Crystal.

Mrs. Robert who had been silent the entire time pointed to the starry blue dress on Crystal's body and she asked in surprise,

"Crystal, where did you get that dress from?"

"The dress?" Crystal held her dress and circled like a little princess. She smiled happily and replied, "Grandma, thank you for the surprise. I really love this dress."

Mrs. Robert was silent for a while, and then she said,

"Crystal, you're mistaken. This dress wasn't prepared for you, and what you're wearing is a fitting sample."

In tailoring, especially when sewing long dresses, it required lots of tedious steps. Amongst the steps were repeated testing of samples. The fitting samples were all flawed. And the dress on Crystal was just a sample!

Crystal froze on the spot. She looked at Mrs. Robert in disbelief.

"What? Grandma, are you mistaken? You mean that I'm wearing a sample? And besides, if the dress wasn't meant for me, whom was it prepared for?"

Nora's expression also changed, and she turned and looked at Mrs. Robert.

"Mum, what's going on?" She asked confusingly.

Suddenly, the door of the hall was pushed open, and two figures appeared before everyone's sight. Marvin and Olive had arrived!

Everyone's gaze instantly fell on them. Upon seeing the long dress on Olive, the entire crowd gasped.

Today, Olive was clothed in the starry, blue dress that Mrs. Robert had given her. The shoulder straps hung on her smooth shoulders, revealing a large area of her delicate beautiful body.

Originally, the fitting sample on Crystal's body was beautiful. But now that Olive appeared, they were afraid to compare, but Olive's dress was obviously the real deal!

When Nora and Crystal saw the dress on Olive, their eyes widened in shock. They couldn't have thought that Olive would wear the original dress.

Nora and Crystal felt as if a basin of cold water had been poured on them.

Elvis who had stood quietly, not participating in the conversation amongst the ladies, suddenly seemed interested at what was going on the moment Olive walked through the door.

Even though he knew that Olive was beautiful. Elvis was still amazed each time he saw her.

However, Elvis's gaze soon fell on Olive's liute hand. Her right hand was intimately wrapped around Marvin's hand. While watching them, Elvis's eyes instantly displayed gloom.

Mrs. Robert swiftly stepped forward and extended her hands lovingly to Olive. "Olive, dear, you're finally here. Grandma has been awaiting you. Come give grandma a hug." The old lady muttered happily.

Olive concluded that she couldn't stop Mrs. Robert from referring to herself as her grandmother, so she moved closer and hugged the old lady lightly.

"I have a present for you." Olive whispered into her ears as she disengaged from the hug

"Really? Quickly bring out your gift. I'm so excited to see it!" Mrs. Robert exclaimed ecstatically.

Olive took out her gift from her bag. It was the earmuff that she had knitted with wool.

It was already late autumn and winter was fast approaching. The earmuff was knitted by Olive and it was fluffy. It was created to keep the lady warm.

"Mrs. Robert, since you informed me late, I had used the past two days to sew this. Please don't dislike it."

Chapter 362 Drugging His Drink.

Everyone at the party was stunned when Olive appeared in the authentic starry dress.

Olive went on to gift the old lady an earmuff as a birthday present.

The gifts that Mrs. Robert had received were expensive Jeweleries and valuables. And Olive had the guts to give the lady an earmuff.

The audience were certain that Mrs. Robert won't accept such a cheap gift.

Mrs. Robert looked at the earmuff and quickly accepted it with a smile. But in the next second, Mrs. Robert placed the earmuff on her head and turned around happily.

"Olive knitted this for me. The earmuff is really warm. Doesn't it look it good?"

Mrs. Robert grabbed the two ears of the earmuffs and made cute poses.

Everyone was shocked. They had thought that the old lady would throw the earmuff into the trash. But instead, she wore it happily.

"Yes, it's so beautiful."

"Olive is really creative."

"That earmuff is absolutely beautiful!" The crowd instantly pretended to loving the gift.

Nora and Crystal were dumbfounded. Crystal had never been loved by Mrs. Robert. Crystal felt really envious as her grandmother treated Olive with genuine love.

"Olive, I really love the birthday present you gave me. I can't bear to take it off." Mrs. Robert held Olive's hands as she laughed happily.

Olive didn't expect Mrs. Robert to like the gift so much. She said sweetly, "I'm glad you like it, Mrs. Robert"

"Olive, I'm about to make a wish now. Come let's walk together to the cake stand." Mrs. Robert quickly pulled Olive to the cake stand.

Everyone gathered around and surrounded Olive and Mrs. Robert, as they sang a happy birthday to the old lady. The atmosphere seemed to be a little lively. But Nora and Crystal stood dejectedly at the corner of the hall with no paying them any attention.

Crystal stared at Olive, who was now surrounded by the crowd. Olive's current position was meant to be Crystal's, but Olive had stolen it from her.

All the joyous anticipations in Crystal's heart had disappeared.

Crystal tugged at Nora's sleeve aggrievedly.

"Murn, why is grandma treating us like this? Isn't Olive simply an outsider? She questioned sadly,

Nora clenched her fingers into a fist. The spotlight which was meant for her and Crystal had been snatched away. She also didn't understand why Mrs. Robert loved Olive so much.

"Why was it Olive?" She questioned inwardly.

Even though Mrs. Robert was always home, Nora didn't believe that she wasn't aware of all that was going on between Olive and the Paulo family.

To Nora, Mrs. Robert's constant display of love for Olive was a warning to them. A warning they couldn't afford to adhere to.

Nora stared at Olive, her eyes revealing hatred, resentment and disdain.

Mrs. Robert made a wish. Amidst the loud cheers, Mrs. Robert blew out the candles with a broad smile.

The cake was shared by the ushering crew. And then it was time for the dance.

The dance was particularly for young people. Mrs. Robert excused herself and returned to her room.

The Substitute äride. edi

But when she entered her room, Mrs. Robert realized that someone was already waiting for her. It was Nora.

Nora stood in the dim light and stared at Mrs. Robert.

"Mun..." She called out, as she stepped forward.

"You can excuse me, Okay? I want to rest for a while." Mrs. Robert muttered tiredly.

Nora didn't move. She looked at the earmuff that was on Mrs. Robert's ears.

"Do you really want to recognize Olive as your granddaughter? Do you know how much this issue hurts Crystal?" Nora questioned calmly.

Mrs. Robert stared at Nora indifferently, and then replied.

“In the future, Olive will be my granddaughter, and Crystal will also be my granddaughter. Why would Crystal be hurt by that?”

“Mum, we won’t allow you to recognize Olive as your granddaughter!” Nora retorted impatiently.

Mrs. Robert smirked, and said.

“It seems you really don’t like how welcoming the Robert family has been to you. And what makes you think that you have say here?”

“Mum, it’s been so many years. I’ve tried my best to do everything in my power to please you. But why I haven’t I been recognized by you? Even Crystal, you haven’t liked her since she was young!” Nora complained bitterly.

“Nora, why haven’t I recognized you? Have you forgotten all that you did?” Now that Mrs. Robert had mentioned the past, Nora’s face turned pale. She had definitely done something wrong. she had cheated!

“It’s true that I cheated. But there was a reason for that. After I got married to Damein, he had always left me alone in the room. He had never touched me, and was always indifferent to me. I got drunk that day and had sex with another man. I didn’t do that on purpose! The man I loved was Damein!”

Mrs. Robert sneered.” Why do you think that Damein never touched you? Why did he not care for you? That was because you had climbed into Damien’s bed after you had drugged him!”

0014)

Chapter 363 Crystal’s paternity.

Nora was extremely shocked by Mrs. Robert’s words. Now that the past was revealed by Mrs. Robert, Nora felt very K embarrassed.

Back then, she was the eldest daughter of the Paulo family. The first day she had set her eyes on her Damien, she had fallen helplessly in love with him, almost to the point of being enchanted.

In order to get him. Nora found an opportunity to drug Damien’s drink. She originally wanted to use the. opportunity to become Damien’s woman. But an accident had occurred along the way.

Damien was extremely vigilant by nature. He quickly noticed the abnormality in his body, so he did not return to his room, and this had made Nota nervous. Nora didn’t know what had happened to Damien, so she went in search of him. She searched everywhere in the hotel for him, and she finally found him in a roomL

Nora could still remember all that transpired that day. Once she arrived at the door of the room, the door was flung open and a woman rushed out. The woman bumped into her. Due to the lady's speed, she couldn't see her face clearly. But she could see that the lady was disheveled, and she had seen the red flower tattoo on the woman's shoulder.

The flower tattoo didn't look like regular tattoos, it looked more like it had grown naturally from the woman's skin. Nora only glanced at it so quickly, but she had never forgotten about it.

At that time, she found the woman's reaction to be very strange. After the woman ran away, she stood at the door and looked into the room.

She saw Damien lying on the big, soft bed. His clothes were littered on the carpet, and the bed was messy. At first glance, one could decipher that it was as a result of a passionate encounter.

She froze, as she terrifyingly realized that she had drugged Damien just for him to enter the wrong room and sleep with another woman.

Nora didn't know who the woman was, because the woman never appeared again to find Damien.

Nora knew that the mistake had been made already. She had waited her entire life for that opportunity, and if she missed it, she probably would never be able to get Damien again.

Nora had walked into the room, taken off her clothes, and lay beside him.

When Damien was awake, the first person he saw was her!

Later, Nora became pregnant, and Damien married her because of the child in her womb. Nora went on to give birth to Crystal.

Damien never touched her. So Nora's daughter, Crystal, was definitely not Damien's seed.

Of course, no one knew about this. Nora kept the secret to herself, because she knew that if the paternity of Crystal was revealed, then it would be all over for her.

"Mum, I..." Nora made to beg Mrs. Robert. But Mrs. Interrupted her coldly, "Don't call me mother, if it wasn't for Crystal's sake, I wouldn't let you in here at all."

"You claim to love Damien, right? But you only loved him because of what he could offer to you and your family. It's impossible for you to have all the good things in the world. Damien doesn't like you. You were aware of this from the beginning. But when you couldn't stand the loneliness in your boudeir, you went on to another man's bed..." Mrs. Robert paused, as she let out a breathe, then she continued,

*Damien has done his best for you and your family over the years. It was Damien who made the Paulo family amongst the four wealthy families in Imperial. He even served as a strong backing to your family during the storm. Shouldn't you be satisfied with that?" Her reprimanding voice questioned.

Nora bowed her head in shame, as she couldn't utter a word in response. "You keep saying that Damien and I do not like and value Crystal. But isn't Crystal thriving on the prestige of Damien? And was it my fault or Damien's fault you cheated, which resulted to you being kicked out of the Robert family. And Nora, I hope you don't think that I can't see your subtlety. You still want to reconcile with Damien, and even give turn a son. That thought of yours is simply a wish!"

The Substate licide note

Mrs. Robert's words fell heavily, causing Nora's legs to weaken. All her fantasies were shattered before her. She knew that she would never be able to have everything she wanted in life.

"Mom, since you claim to love Crystal and care about her, why then did you recognize Olive as your granddaughter? What kind of love poison did she give to you? Nora really couldn't understand what sort of special charm that Olive possessed. Not only did men fall for her, even her mother in law also found her impressive.

Nora's question seemed to have relaxed Mrs. Robert's tensed nerves. Actually, Mrs. Robert really didn't know why she loved Olive so much. When she first saw Olive in Los Angeles, she had fallen in love with her smartness and agility. Her first thought at that time was for Olive to become her granddaughter..

The thought in Mrs. Robert's mind seemed to be getting stronger, and she wanted to legally adopt Olive as her granddaughter's, and take Olive into the Robert family and allow her take up Robert as her last name.

Seeing that she had no specific reason for liking Olive, Mrs. Robert felt that she might have really been smitten by Olive.

"Nora. I've made up my mind. Stop pestering me about this issue! I'm tired and I need to rest, so please leave! Mrs. Robert ordered, with her right hand pointed to the door.

Nora gritted her teeth and left the room unwillingly.

After Nora left. Ariana walked in.

"Ma'am. I said back then that Nora wasn't a good person, and wasn't also worthy of young master. Damien is unparalleled. Nora is simply a stain on young inaster." Ariana said.

Mrs. Robert sighed, and replied unhappily. That's probably how life life.'

At this moment. Mrs. Robert phone rang.

Ariana quickly smiled, and said.

"Ma'am, it should be young master. Although he has a tight schedule today, he really was thinking about your birthday."

Ariana was the eldest female servant who worked for Mrs. Robert Since she was hired when Damien was a child. she grew fond of calling him 'young master'.

Chapter 364 Olive's First Dance.

Mrs. Robert had only one child which was Damien.

As a mother, she expected her son to grow up and give her grandchildren. But Damien happened to be less interested in promiscuity and women affairs. So when Nora claimed to be pregnant for Damien, Mrs. Robert didn't have a choice but to accept her.

Later on. Nora cheated. Damien left home, and got himself busy with work. Mrs. Robert wanted him to find another woman, probably a good woman and have another family with. But Damien didn't care about that. He didn't like women. To him, it made no difference whom his wife was.

Mrs. Robert was unwilling to give up on the matter. Throughout the years, she had sent people to investigate about Damien's private life. And the reports were always negative. There really was no woman by his side.

Mrs. Robert walked over and grabbed her phone which was on the table.

"Hello." She said into the phone.

Soon. Damien's deep and magnetic voice sounded from the other end." Hello, mom, happy eightieth birthday." Mrs. Robert snorted, and replied.

"If you want me to really have a happy birthday, then you have to live up to your expectations. How has it been going? Have you met anyone out there?"

Each time Damien called, Mrs Robert would bring up the topic. On the other end of the line, Damien said,

"Mom. I have to something to attend to. I'll call you back later."

"Damien, I know you don't like women that much. But if you can, please stay away from Nora and don't get into bed with her! Mrs. Robert said angrily.

Damien paused for a while and didn't speak.

Mrs. Robert was already an older lady, and she knew her son very well, so she could immediately hear Damien's chaotic breathing. She squinted her eyes, and then asked.

"Why? I'm just saying because you two are still legally married to each other. And you both may decide to relive your old love at any time.

"Mum, i really have to hang up now." Damien replied impatiently, and was about to hang up.

"Wait a minute, I have something important to tell you." Mrs. Robert stopped him.

"What's the matter, mum?" He inquired.

"I went to Los Angeles a while ago, I got saved by a beautiful angel. Her name is Olive Hart. I like that girl so much, and I want to recognize her as my granddaughter. So, when are you free to return home? I want to officially adopt her as my granddaughter, and I want you there.”

Mrs. Robert wasn't the type of woman who went about liking people. She hadn't liked anyone in the past years. Now that she liked Olive, Damien could naturally accept her request.

“I'll finish up my work soon, and return home. As long as you're happy, then I'm in for it.” Damien responded.

In the party hall, Marvin stepped forward and wrapped his arms around Olive's waist.

Due to the fact that the Mrs. Robert had publicly expressed her love for Olive, everyone knew that the trend of the Robert family was about to change. Crystal, had obviously fallen out of favour with Mrs. Robert, and Olive had taken her spot

“The first time I saw Miss Hart, I felt like she wasn't an ordinary person. It turns out that she's someone Mrs. Robert knows.

“Not only that, Miss Hart is even more attractive to Mr. Marvin. Mr. Marvin really has good eyes!”

“If that's the case, that means that Marvin will soon be the grandson in-law to Mrs. Robert!” Some ladies chatted amongst themselves.

Olive didn't want to socialize. She only wore a smile, and nodded at the praises rendered to her.

Chapter 164 Clive's First Dance.

Marvin could see her discomfort. He lowered his eyes and said to her, “Olive, let's dance.”

It was now time to dance. Everyone invited their female partners to dance.

“Alright.” Olive nodded.

The two of them were about to move to the dance floor, but a handsome and tall body suddenly appeared before them. It was Elvis. He had blocked their way.

The scene quickly attracted the attention of the crowd. Everyone stared at Elvis in surprise.

“Why did president Augustine block Mr. Marvin's way?” Someone questioned rather audibly.

Olive's gaze landed on Elvis's handsome face, and she frowned lightly.

Although she hadn't spared him a glance since she arrived, she could feel Elvis's eyes on her since she entered the arena.

His gaze was particularly aggressive, that it was hard for anyone not to notice.

But what was he trying to do now? Block their way in front of the crowd? Marvin pulled Olive's into his arm, then he raised his eyes to look at Elvis. "Bro, do you want to invite your fiancée to dance? This is actually the wrong way, Crystal is behind you." Marvin informed.

In front of so many people, Marvin could seek a way to protect Olive's reputation, so he reminded Elvis that his fiancée was behind him. Crystal was indeed behind him. When she saw Elvis blocking Marvin and Olive's path, she quickly gritted her teeth angrily.

"What exactly does Elvis want to do?" She questioned inwardly.

Elvis's handsome face was devoid of emotions. His narrow and deep eyes moved from Marvin's face to Olive's palm-sized face. Then he said to Marvin. "I didn't take the wrong way. Marvin. I don't want to invite my fiancée to dance, but it's Olive that I want to invite!"

Elvis actually wanted to invite his brother's fiancée to dance? Why? Marvin's eyes instantly turned cold, and his body exuded a gloomy aura.

"Bro. I don't understand what you mean "

"You don't have to be nervous, Marvin. Soon, you and Olive will get married. And then she'll become my sister-in-law. I'm only inviting my prospective sister-in-law to dance, is that too much to ask?" Elvis replied nonchalantly. It wasn't only too much to ask, but really disrespectful!

Olive's first dance ought to be with her fiancée, Marvin. But Elvis had abandoned his own fiancée, and went on to invite his prospective sister-in-law to a dance. That wasn't respectful to his brother and fiancée at all.

Marvin stared at Elvis for a while. "What if I say no?" Marvin questioned. Elvis narrowed his eyes for a moment. Then, he focused his gaze on Olive's face and slowly, he stretched out his right palm towards her, "Olive, come over here!" He beckoned.

Olive frowned. She wondered what was wrong with him. Seeing that Olive didn't move, Elvis put his hand over to her.

Chapter 366 Olive Falls,
On the dance floor.

Marvin and Olive were dancing, when Marvin said, "Olive, although my brother lost his memory, he seems to like you very much."

"How is that possible?" Olive quickly denied it. He doesn't like me, he hates me. He thinks I'm a scheming girl, and he wants to humiliate me!

Olive didn't inform Marvin about Elvis's desire to keep her as his mistress. Elvis pursed his lips, and asked in confusion, "Really?"

Was that really the case? Elvis hated her?

In Marvin's opinion. Elvis didn't hate her at all, but he liked her.

"Of course," Olive nodded. "And hesitates, he's already engaged to Crystal. I don't want to have anything to do with him. I don't want him anymore!" Olive added.

Marvin smiled and didn't say anything else. He remembered how Olive had kicked Elvis a while ago. One could see that Olive acted overfamiliar with Elvis.

The relationship between the two really didn't change, and they still loved each other.

The dance ended. Olive excused herself to go to the bathroom, and she exited the party hall. She went in search of Nora's room.

Olive wasn't sure whether the key was in the Robert's home or the Paula's home. But she was ready to try her luck. Nora and Damien hadn't divorced yet, so Nora's room must be the master's bedroom.

Olive avoided everyone, and finally arrived at the master's bedroom. She pushed open the door of the master's bedroom and walked in.

The master's bedroom was low-key and luxurious. Olive looked around and opened the drawer of the bed cabinet. Soon, she saw a small brocade box in the bottom drawer. She quickly opened the brocade box, and there was a key in.

Olive's eyes lit up. She had an intuition that the key was the key to the forbidden place. She had finally found it!

Olive took the key and quickly left the master's bedroom, heading back to the party hall.

But as she walked through the hallway, she sighted Nora and Crystal.

Olive's panicked. She held tighter to the key, and wore a blank expression.

When she reached where Crystal and Nora Stord, she straightened her back and stared calmly at the due.

"Olive, what's your relationship with Elvis?" Crystal questioned impatiently.

"If I tell you that there's nothing going on between us, and that we can't even friends, would you believe?"

"Olive, why are lying? Do you think that I'm a fool?" Crystal didn't believe her.

"Look, no matter what I say, I know that you won't believe it. Why don't you just ask Mr. Augustine? Why waste your time on me?"

Crystal was so angry, but she restrained herself from doing anything that she would regret.

Olive's calm attitude particularly angered her the more. She gritted her teeth, and said,

“Olive, you know that Elvis is my fiancée, why are you going about seducing him? Aren’t you just shameless?”

“Crystal, If something really happened between Elvis and I, would you blame me or your fiancée? Why don’t you interrogate him?”

“And just so you know, vis is also harassing me sexually. Take care of your man and tell him to stay away from me!” Olive added. Then she turned around and walked away.

Crystal stomped her feet in anger, as she stared at Olive’s unrestrained figure.
The Buletewa Pride

She pulled Nora’s sleeve, and muttered, “Mum, Olive is so arrogant! Not only did she gain grandma’s favour, she even went on to confuse Elvis. She is trying to steal everything that I cherish! Are we really going wait until she kills Us?

Nora’s face was rather gloomy. She felt a sense of crisis and really couldn’t wait until things got out of control. If things continued this way, then they would eventually lose everything.

“Crystal, don’t worry, mum has a plan.” Nora assured confidently.

Crystal’s eyes lit up and she quickly asked joyously, “Really? What’s the plan, mum?”

Nora quickly called a maid. She whispered something to the maid. The maid nodded respectfully and left.

Olive had gotten the key. She wanted to leave the Robert family to avoid any more trouble.

She looked around but couldn’t find Marvin. She walked around and searched for Marvin.

At this moment, she was just at the edge of the swimming pool when she lowered her head and stared at her phone, as she searched for Marvin’s number.

Suddenly, a maid rushed over and bumped into her.

Olive was unable to stand firm, and with the fact that there was water in the pool, her legs felt slippery. Her phone suddenly dropped and she fell into the pool.

Olive fell into the icy water. She could swim, so she quickly moved her hands and feet to the upstream.

But soon, she realized that she had lost the key.

Olive could only turn around and search for the key. When she found it, the key was at the bottom of the swimming pool.

She swam over, picked up the key in her palm, and quickly went upstream.

However, before she could reach the surface of the water, her foot got stuck in something.

Olive tried to pull her foot back, but she couldn't.

Slowly, she felt all her strength wither, and there seemed to be a terrifying force under the water that was dragging her.

Olive slowly began to lose her consciousness, as her body continued to sink. Could it be that she was about to drown?

Olive had thought about several ways that she would die, but she never thought that it would be through drowning.

Olive's heart was aroused by a desire to survive. She wanted to live, because she still had a lot of things to do. Now that she had the key in her hand, she could enter the forbidden area to find the second treasure box that was left by her mother!

She didn't want to die!

She wanted to live!

Who would save her?

Elvis left the party hall and was about to leave. He got into his Rolls-Royce phantom car. At this moment, he suddenly felt breathless and stuffy in his chest.

He instantly had difficulties in breathing. Elvis raised his hand and adjusted the tie on his neck, but it was still not better.

Elvis quickly pushed open the driver's door. He got out of the car and returned to the party hall

Chapter 367 Elvis Loves Olive Miserably.

Elvis returned to the party hall. He searched for Olive in the crowd, but after looking around, he couldn't find her.

Elvis had a bad premonition. He immediately reached out and grabbed a waiter. "Where's Olive? Have you guys seen her?" He asked.

"No, sir." The waiter shook his head. Elvis let go of the waiter. He continued searching around the hall. Everyone was dancing and laughing happily. They were all busy and no one noticed Olive's disappearance.

Elvis suddenly stretched out his right leg and kicked a table,

"Will y'all shut the fuck up! Where's Olive? Did you all realize that Olive was gone?"

The table fell over, and all the food and wine on it fell to the ground, causing a loud, crashing sound.

The party hall that had been noisy some seconds ago instantly became quiet. Everyone stared at Elvis in dismay. Elvis had lost his temper, and he looked really frightening,

“Is Olive gone?”

“I thought she was here just now? Some whispers were heard.

What are you guys still doing? Hurry up and find Olive for me! If something happens to Olive, none of you will get away with it!” Elvis yelled furiously.

Everyone shook in fear. They couldn’t understand what Olive disappearance had to do with them. Wasn’t Elvis being too unreasonable?

However, Elvis’s current appearance was really scary. None of the guests had seen him lose his temper before.

At this moment, no one dared to mess with him.

Everyone quickly dispersed in search of Olive.

In no time, someone found her in the swimming pool, and instantly shouted, “Mr. Augustine, Miss Hart is here! Miss Tart has fallen into the pool!”

The swimming pool was relatively devoid of people since everyone were at the party, hence it was understandable as to why no one saw when she fell. If it wasn’t for Elvis’s arrival, no one would have found out about Olive.

Elvis hastily walked over. He came to the edge of the swimming pool. The water was crystal clear, and he saw Olive below.

Olive slender body had already sunk to the bottom of the water. Her long starry dress and her long hair all scattered in the water.

Elvis’s eyes widened in shock. Before he could give it a thought, he had already jumped into the swimming pool. Elvis swam with agility and speed. He immediately saw that Olive’s leg was stuck. He swam over and pulled out her foot.

He stretched out his right arm, then he wrapped around her waist, and he swam up with her.

“President Augustine has reduced Olive!” Someone shouted.

Elvis’s body was wet. He placed Olive on the ground, and someone quickly placed his finger under her nose.

Olive was already breathless! The man was so frightened that he fell to the ground. No one would have thought that a birthday party would turn out to be that fatal.

Everyone had already gathered around. They looked at Olive who was lying on the ground. Her eyes were closed. and her face was pale and lifeless.

Olive was the star of today’s party. First, she was favoured by Mrs. Robert, and then the two sons of the Augustine family fought for her. But now she laid lifeless on the ground.

Everyone mourned her departure.

Elvis was expressionless. His short hair was dripping wet. The droplets of the cold water kept dripping down his cheeks.

Chapter 167 Elvis Loves Olive Miserably.

He placed his two hands on Olive's chest. He kept pressing Olive's chest, and his drooping eyes focused on her face for any possible sign of life.

If Olive didn't wake up, he would continue to press her chest forever.

A few minutes later, Olive still didn't respond.

Someone stepped forward and couldn't help but dissuade him, "Mr. Augustine, I think Miss Hart is already dead. Stop doing this already. Miss Hart won't wake up anymore. I think we should call the ambulance and take her to the hospital.

Elvis violently pushed the man away. He stared at the man fiercely and declared, "She's not dead! She's not going to die!"

Everyone was frightened by Elvis's reaction. They couldn't help but keep quiet and allow Elvis mourn Olive the way he wanted.

Elvis didn't give up. He reached out and squeezed open Olive's mouth, then he covered her lips with his, and began giving her an artificial respiration.

"Olive, hurry up and open your eyes. In the past, you had refused to kiss me. What's wrong now? Can't you see that I'm kissing you and you're doing absolutely nothing?" Elvis opened her mouth and kissed her deeply. Her mouth was as sweet as honey, and it left him addicted.

Elvis kissed her fiercely and continued to perform the artificial resuscitation.

"Olive, stop pretending, will you? You just want to play tricks again, right? You just want to cause trouble, isn't it?"

"You're always acting fierce before me, but now you're like a weakling before others. The last time you were kidnapped by some men, and now you're drowning. I don't mind where you run to. I'll always protect up!"

"Olive, wake up already. Don't try to escape me by dying! If you really die, then I'll build an ice cellar and hide you in a crystal coffin. And you'll still be mine even in death!"

Everyone was horrified. They all knew that Elvis had fallen in love with Olive, but they didn't know that it was this extreme.

Olive had a long dream. She had lost her way in the heavy snow. She was alone, and her body was freezing.

Chapter 368 Marvin Carried Olive Away.

Soon, her limbs froze and she slowly lost consciousness. She really wanted to drift to sleep.

Her eyelids were heavy, and she was really about to fall asleep. But at this time, someone was talking non-stop in her ear. She couldn't decipher what the person was saying, and it felt as if it was noise. It was so noisy that she couldn't fall asleep. Elvis continued to perform CPR. When everyone shook their head sadly, Olive suddenly throw up and woke up. Everyone's eyes widened as they gasped in astonishment. "Olive was actually saved by CTO Augustine!" "Olive is alive!" Elvis's movement stopped abruptly. He looked at Olive as she spat out all the water that she had swallowed. She was really awake, and alive! Elvis's cold face quickly expressed warmth. He nodded satisfactorily. He knew that she wouldn't die like that! Olive's body was very cold. She had been soaked in the cold water for so long. Now that she had spat out all the water, her entire body was shivering. Elvis wanted to take off his suit and wear it on her, but his clothes were also wet. Elvis quickly stood up and went to get a dry coat. Everyone wondered where Elvis went. At this moment, some people rushed down from the second floor. They were Mrs. Robert and Marvin. Behind them was Nora and Crystal. Someone had informed Mrs. Robert that Olive had fallen into the pool, and Elvis had rescued her. Marvin ran over swiftly and saw Olive lying on the ground. "Olive! Olive!" He called out nervously. Marvin was a doctor, so he checked Olive's pulse. Marvin quickly took off his suit and wore it on Olive's shoulders. "Olive, can you hear me?" He questioned. Olive shuddered and opened her eyes weakly. She could hear someone talking to her. Olive raised her pale face and quickly saw Marvin. "Marvin?" She questioned weakly. "Yes, it's me. Don't say anything, okay? I'll take you to the hospital now." Marvin carried up Olive and took her away. Olive was still very weak. And surprisingly, the key was still in her hand. Olive felt relieved that the key was still in her hand. She gently closed her eyes, and placed her face on Marvin's chest. A warm current flowed in Olive's heart as she thought that it was Marvin who had saved her. Mrs. Robert arrived the pool side after Marvin had taken Olive away. She had tried to hurry, but due to old age, her pace was very slow. "What happened to my Olive?!" She hastily inquired. "Mrs. Robert, Miss Hart fell into the pool. If president Augustine hadn't arrived in time, Miss Hart would have lost her life.” One of the guests narrated to the old lady.

Mrs. Robert’s expression instantly changed.” How could such an accident happen to Olive in our family home? I suspect that someone purposely pushed her into pool. Let me call all the servants over. I’ll personally interrogate them one by one!”

Mrs. Robert had been in charge of the Robert family for so many years. Her words were so powerful that everyone obeyed.

Chapter 168 Marvin Carried Olive Away.

Could it be that someone deliberately pushed Olive into the pool?

Then the person was way too courageous, she dared to do such a thing right under the nose of Mrs. Robert!

Nora froze. She watched Marvin leave with Olive in her arms. Olive was unexpectedly unharmed and alive.

Nora secretly clenched her fist. That was a perfect opportunity for her to eliminate Olive. She had engaged Marvin in a conversation and had a maid push Olive into the water. Olive could have died quietly!

Nora glared at Olive in Marvin’s arms. At this moment, she suddenly saw something through the black coat that Olive was wearing. It was a red flower tattoo.

Nora suddenly felt her breathe seize.

The long dress that Olive wore had slipped down a linte, revealing the flower tattoo on her shoulder.

Nora was no stranger to this flower because she had seen it twenty years ago.

Twenty years ago, the mysterious woman who ran out of Damien’s room had the exact same flower tattoo!

Nora swiftly realized something. It meant that Olive was the daughter of that woman.

Then, if Olive was the daughter of that woman, she was probably Damien’s biological daughter!

Could it be that the lady had been impregnated by Damien years ago, and had went on to give birth to Olive?

If that was so. then Olive was the real daughter of the Robert family!

No wonder why Mrs. Robert had fallen in love with Olive at first sight. It was as if everything had been planned in the dark.

Nora’s legs softened and she almost collapsed on the ground. Crystal quickly supported Nora and reminded in a low voice.

“Mum, grandma is watching you!”

Nora looked up and instantly met Mrs. Robert's sharp gaze. Mrs. Robert stared at her coldly, as if she had seen through all of her plans, Nora felt restless. She quickly realized that she hadn't been able to kill Olive, but had also gotten herself into trouble. Nora managed to maintain her composure. At this moment, Crystal saw Elvis and called out to him in surprise. Elvis returned with a black blanket in his hands. His clothes were still wet and dripping with water. However, he didn't care about himself. He stood quietly as he watched Olive in Marvin's arms. "Elvis, why are you wet? Quickly go upstairs to my room and have a warm shower. Then change into new clothes to avoid catching a cold." Crystal said to him with concern. Elvis watched Marvin and Olive until they disappeared from his sight.

Novel The Substitute Bride Doted by My Billionaire Husband is an interesting Billionaire novel about Olive & Angeles.... In a conspiracy, she was taken back from the countryside to marry him instead of her sister. The so-called weak husband in rumors she married turned out to be a business tycoon with one hand covering the sky. "Husband, aren't you dying soon?" "What?" He looked like he was going to eat her. "It seems that I should let you know the real me." He reached his hands to her thighs.

Chapter 369 I Want Only Her.

Elvis went upstairs. Instead of entering Crystal's room, he went into the guest room to take a hot shower under Mrs. Robert's arrangement.

In the bathroom, the hot water was steamed with mist. Elvis stood under the shower and allowed the warm water wash down from the top of his head. The water droplets splashed on his strong muscles.

Elvis covered his handsome eyelids with his hands. His mind was filled with the image of Marvin leaving with Olive in his arms.

After turning off the shower, he grabbed a bath towel and tied it to his waist, and then he walked out of the bathroom.

The maid had already placed a brand new shirt and trousers on the bed. Elvis walked over and picked up the clothes.

The door was pushed open and Crystal walked in.

“Elvis!” She called out.

Crystal didn’t expect to see Elvis that way. Elvis was only wearing a bath towel. She had never seen Elvis undress. Elvis’s chest was bare, and his six packs abs were revealed.

Elvis’s body was not that of an exaggerated gym rat. On the contrary, his muscles were defined just like that of commercial models. He was extremely sexy and hot.

Crystal’s heart was pounding extremely fast,

“Elvis, why are you not wearing any clothes?” Crystal asked foolishly.

Elvis was too lazy to pay her any attention. And he didn’t understand why she entered his room without knocking. Where was her manners?

“Get out!” Elvis ordered impatiently.

Crystal could hear the impatience in his tone. That was definitely not the way he treated Olive. If it was Olive, he would pester her shamelessly. Olive even said that he was sexually harassing her.

But to her, he treated her with extreme indifference.

“Elvis, what’s your relationship with Olive? I’m your fiancée for screaming out loud!” Crystal complained unhappily.

Elvis’s face was expressionless. He turned around and didn’t even look at Crystal.

“Let’s break off the engagement.” He uttered.

Crystal was so angry, that she didn’t know what else to say to him.

“I’ve tried, but it’s not working. I don’t want anyone else than her.” Elvis’s deep voice sounded from the room.

Crystal didn’t even have to think about who it was, she knew right away that it was Olive.

It was obvious that Elvis was so obsessed with Olive!

Crystal didn’t want to give up on Elvis. She really liked Elvis very much. There were not many men like him in the world. He was handsome, rich and powerful. He was the only one that was her type.

For so many years, her biggest dream was to marry him, and become his wife.

Now that her dream was only one step away from actualizing, how could she give up?

Crystal remembered what Nora had told her. Nora had informed her that men loved women who looked pure but good in bed.

Crystal had always wanted to find out if there was something wrong with Elvis’s body and whether he was really impotent.

“Elvis, I won’t call off the engagement with you. I love you.” Crystal declared.

With that, Crystal boldly raised her hand and took off her dress, revealing her snow white shoulder.

Crystal stepped forward and hugged Elvis's waist from behind.

"Elvis, you want me, right?"

Elvis turned around and stared at Crystal's face.

Although Crystal wasn't as beautiful as Olive, she was still the best amongst other girls.

"Elvis, I know you want me. Anyway, I'm your fiancée, so you can have me."

Regarding Crystal's initiative, Elvis's mind quickly recalled the spring dream he had. In that dream, Olive sat on his waist. He, Elvis Augustine, a business tycoon was dressed like a middle-class male. He found the dream really bizarre.

Elvis swallowed hard and his Adams apple rolled up and down. He raised his hand and used his fingers to lift Crystal's small chin.

Crystal stared at Elvis nervously and expectantly. "Elvis." She called out tenderly.

Elvis reached out and pushed her, causing Crystal to fall directly into the big soft bed.

Crystal felt as if the world was spinning. Elvis knelt on one knee on the bed, his hands were on the each side of her face, and he was gazing down at her. Crystal had completely surrendered to his manly charm. She could perceive the clean and refreshing scent that lingered on him.

Elvis slowly lowered his body and approached her red lips.

Was he about to kiss her?

Crystal was very excited, and her heart pounded fast. She closed her eyes and waited for Elvis's lips to touch hers.

However, Elvis didn't kiss her.

Crystal opened her eyes and saw Elvis picking up the shirt that was close to her body.

The realization struck Crystal hard, and it was as if a bucket of cold water was poured on her body, extinguishing all her enthusiasm and expectations.

Elvis took his shirt, stood up from the bed, and left the room.

He actually left just like that.

Crystal bit her red lips and tears welled up in her eyes. She had felt humiliated and embarrassed multiple times, but the mortification that she felt today had surpassed the previous ones.

Chapter 370 Make Olive disappear.

Crystal found Nora and hurried into her arms with tears in her eyes.

Nora had never seen Crystal cry like this before.

“Mum, Elvis is breaking off the engagement. He doesn’t want me anymore!” She cried sadly.

Nora’s facial expression changed abruptly. It was just a while ago that Elvis and Crystal got engaged.

At that time, Crystal’s engagement to Elvis had caused a huge sensation in the entire city. If the engagement was to be called off, then Crystal would become a laughing stock in the city, and would be criticized by others throughout her lifetime.

“Mum, it’s all because of Olive. Elvis is fascinated by Olive. I hate Olive so much. I want her to disappear from this world.” Crystal muttered resentfully. Nora pondered for a moment. Tonight, she made a mistake and Olive had escaped from her grip.

However, she really wanted Olive to disappear from this world!

A thought crossed Nora’s mind. She raised her hand and wiped Crystal’s tears.

“Crystal. I forgot to tell you a good news. Your brother, Houston, is back!” Houston Paulo was back?

Crystal’s eyes instantly dried, and her lips went apart in surprise.

In the Paulo’s family, Mr. Paulo was very talented in medicine, but Houston Paulo was even more talented. And Houston was a type of individual who was ready to deal with anyone who offended him.

Mr. Paulo had dedicated his entire time to grooming and raising this grandson of his.

“Mum, is Houston really back? That’s really nice. Let’s have Houston deal with Olive. Olive is definitely not Houston’s opponent!” Crystal said happily.

Nora also nodded.

“Crystal, don’t worry, okay? I’ll call your grandfather now. Your grandpa will definitely allow Houston deal with Olive!”

“But mum, grandpa doesn’t really like Houston to get involved with women issue. The last time he got involved, grandpa was really mad. I’m afraid it’ll be very difficult to get grandpa to agree.”

“You don’t need to worry about that I’ll find a way to convince your grandpa. Crystal, just wait. Elvis will marry you soon. He’ll marry you and make you his wife!”

While staring at Nora’s determined face. Crystal suddenly felt at ease.

After Crystal left the room. Nora hastily took out her phone and placed a call to her father, Mr. Paulo.

The phone on the other end rang twice, and was connected. Mr. Paulo’s voice came over, “Hello, Nora.”

“Hello, dad. Is Houston back yet?” Nora inquired.

“He just got home. Let him rest.” Mr. Paulo replied proudly. He knew that Houston had exceeded his expectations, and he was extremely proud of him.

“Dad, I want Houston to deal with Olive!” Nora directly stated her propose.

Mr. Paulo on the other end took a deep breath, and was already unhappy at Nora’s request.

“Nora, I said a long time ago that Houston will not get involved with women.”

“Dad, it’s already too late. Today at Mrs. Robert’s birthday party, I did something to Olive and that almost killed her. And now, the old lady is already investigating the matter. I really have to stay low for the main time.” Nora explained.

“What? What’s wrong

ong with you, Nora? Did you forget that I warned you to live peacefully in the Robert’s home? You were to camly serve your mother-in-law, and then find an opportunity to get back together with Damlen!”

“Dad...” Nora interupted him. “All that is of no use anymore. Damien’s biological daughter has already surfaced. She is Olive

My Paulo who was in his study instantly stiffened. He was aware of all the things that Nora did back then. He even helped out. But we thing he didn’t disclose to Nora was that mysterious woman that entered Damien’s room was Jover Brown!

Years back, the Paulo’s family wasn’t a top der wealthy family. But the unarch of the Robert family, Damien Robert, was known as the son of Canada.

The industries of the Robert family spread all over the world.

At that time, a talented medical girl, Joyce Brown, had suddenly appeared in Imperial. Her medical skills was mysterious and profound.

At that time, the girl admired Mr. Paule’s medical prow

Mr. Paulo particularly noticed the young girl whose medical skills were so advanced. He was deeply impressed by her.

One day, Joyer felt like she had had enough fun, and was ready to enter a new phase in her life. Hence she cane up with a whimsical idea. Joyce declared that she wanted to have a child, and be a mother.

Mr. Paulo perfectly remembered that Joyce had told him that she wanted finding the most perfect gene in the world. and then steal the man’s semen, and artificially inseminate it into her.

Joyce had swiftly screened every man that she met at that time. And finally, she found the perfect gene that she seek The most perfect gear happened to be Damien.

That night. Joyce had prepared the most advanced injection to steal Damien’s semen. Mr. Paulo was aware of it. But Mr. Paulo didn't know that Nora had drugged Damien's drink.

As a result, Damien had mistakenly entered the wrong room.

Joyce Brown had entered his room as planned. Mr. Paulo wasn't aware of what transpired inside the room.

Joyce and Damien had both gotten intimate.

Later, Joyce got pregnant and gave birth to a daughter.

So hearing Nora mention of Damien's biological daughter, Mr. Paulo finally understood all that really happened. Back then, he hadn't told anyone about what he knew, not even Nora. He had kept it to his self.

Mr. Paulo had thought of a way to get Nora pregnant, and then he pinned it on Damien.
