Chapter 381

Chapter 381 Olive's a scu mbag.

Olive walked through the hallway, then she sighted someone, it was Marvin. Olive halted. Her clear eyes landed on Marvin's handsome face. Honestly, she felt very apologetic.

At this moment, a lot of people gathered, as they wanted watching the drama that was about ensuing.

"Academician Augustine is here! What I don't understand is why he would allow himself to be hurt by this scumbag!"

"I can't believe that she had an affair with her fiancée's elder brother. How pathetic!"

"Olive, please leave academician Augustine alone. We are all waiting for him."

Olive could feel the public's anger. She knew that if it wasn't for Marvin, they might have thrown things at her. "Olive, let's talk." Marvin muttered calmly.

"Okay."

Olive and Marvin entered Radio D and locked the door to prevent the world's prying eyes.

"Marvin, I'm sorry." Olive apologized.

Marvin shook his head and replied. "Olive, you don't have to be sorry to me. You have no obligations to me. We are unmarried and you only gave me a chance."

"No, Marvin, I still need to apologize to you. I'm really sorry, okay?" Olive stared at him with her clear eyes.

Marvin froze, he already knew why Olive insisted on apologizing to him.

"Olive, you've already made a choice, right? You still chose Elvis, is that it?"

Prior to now, Olive didn't want to hurt Marvin. But now, she needed to make things only hurt him more. Marvin deserved better.

to him, else she would

"Marvin, there are still a lot of unresolved things between Elvis and I. Whether we will get back together in the future is a different topic entirely. But what I know is that, apart from Elvis, I really can't see myself loving anyone else. I feel very guilty about Elvis being so confused." Olive paused and let out a sigh

"Marvin, we can still be friends. I know that I can't bring you any happiness at all. I'm not worthy of you at all. In the future, you'll meet someone else that will love you the way you deserve." Olive added.

Staring at Olive's honest and sincere eyes, Marvin's heart was torn apart. It felt very painful. Olive was the first girl that he had loved. It was impossible to forget her.

Marvin was also reluctant to force Olive, so he said. "I respect your decision, Olive. I'll find a suitable time to announce that we're no longer engaged. We can still be friends."

Olive was very moved by Marvin's words. She nodded and concurred, "Yes, we will always be friends."

The Augustine Corporation.

Since Elvis was on the entertainment headline today, a large number of media reporters gathered outside the Augustine cooperation. They all wanted to interview Elvis as soon as possible.

At this moment, a Rolls Royce phantom slowly drove over. Andrew respectfully opened the back door.

The first thing that came into view was a pair of shiny black leather shoes, and finally, Elvis's perfect and handsome face appeared before everyone.

Today, Elvis was clothed in a fitted black suit. He got out of the car and gazed at the media reporters with Indifference.

It was a man like vis, that was currently labelled as a per vert.

The strong contrast made all the reporters to rush over. They swiftly pointed their microphones to Elvis.

"President Augustine, what exactly is your relationship with Olive?"

"President Augustine, is Olive in love with two brothers? Are you two going to fight for her?"

"Mr. Augustine, how are you faring? Olive had hurt you, did you get help?"

The reporters scurriedly questioned. The bodyguars were dispatched hastily, and they blocked the reporters from moving any further into the corporation. Andrew walked up to them and said. "I'm sorry, our CEO does not accept any interviews."

All the reporters were blocked. They looked up and saw that Elvis had already entered the Augustine cooperation's hall. Behind him was a group of his employees with blue cards around their necks.

Soon, Elvis disappeared from everyone's sight.

In the president's office.

Andrew walked in. Elvis was sitting on an office chair and was processing some doctinents.

Andrew wasn't sure what was on his CEO's mind.

"Boss, do you want to have the public relations shut down all the comments online?" Andrew asked tentatively. Elvis didn't look up. He only responded, "No need."

Seeing that Elvis wasn't ready to speak about what was on his mind, Andrew said, "Boss, I'll return to my office now."

“Go ahead.” Elvis replied calmly.

Andrew nodded and walked out.

The CEO’s office was completely quiet. Elvis worked on some difficult documents. Once he was done, he leaned on the sofa, then he raised his hand and adjusted the tie around his neck.

He took out his phone and went through it. Olive hadn’t call nor texted him.

Elvis smirked. He kept his phone on the table, and gently closed his eyes.

At this moment, a memory appeared in his mind. On a cold night, Olive pushed him into the bush. Her long hair was scattered around her face, and he held her waist close to himself.

Chapter 382 Kicking Olive Out of the Radio Station

Elvis closed his beautiful eyes, throat rolling up and down. He tried to shake off all the memories in his head and stop thinking about it.

There was a hint of mockery at the corner of his lips. If she thinks it will end like this, then she is so wrong. Everyone has to bear the consequences of what they do.

Olive returned to Radio D, the evening emotional broadcast began, and she wanted to continue broadcasting. Because of Elvis, Radio D was currently getting a lot of attention. Olive shared a love poem in a sweet and soft voice and was about to call the hotline.

At this time, a few people appeared in front of D station, the first one was Crystal.

Crystal was brimming with confidence with the report she heard on Radio A. expecting Olive to lose miserably, but who expected Olive to beat her with an overwhelming advantage?

Crystal really felt unconvinced when she thought about it. Radio A’s listener rate has been exchanged for the sex scandal of her grandpa and Alicia, who also lost face, but when it came time to compete for ratings, Elvis came out right away, sending Radio D’s ratings skyrocketing.

Crystal felt that she was really flogging a dead horse.

At this moment, a familiar voice suddenly sounded in her ear. “Crystal ”

Crystal hastily turned her head, seeing the person coming, her heart was filled with joy, “Bro Jean! You’ve finally come!”

Jean Paulo is here!

Today Jean wears a black windbreaker, puts his hands in his pockets, his handsome cheeks are pale, and his whole body shows an unreadable gloomy look.

Crystal ran over, and grabbed Jean's arm. Jean finally came out of the mountain, Crystal suddenly felt like she had a backbone.

Crystal quickly complained, "Jean, look, she's Olive!"

Crystal pointed to Olive on Radio D and said.

Jean's blue pupils fell on Olive, and he looked at Olive with a hint of amusement. It turns out that she is Olive, who in such a short time robbed Crystal's fiance and Charlotte's lover.

Really interesting!

Jean smiled slightly.

Seeing this, Crystal learned that Olive had successfully piqued Jean's interest. A person targeted by Jean is like being entangled by a venomous snake. Jean wouldn't let her die quickly but would use a rope to trap her and play slowly until she was exhausted, he would tear her to pieces.

This is Jean's style!

"Crystal, I know about what happened recently. I also heard about the report, actually what happened between Elvis and Olive isn't a bad thing, it's a good thing!" Jean said casually.

Crystal was puzzled, "Jean, what good about it? She's taken the spotlight now."

Jean glanced at Crystal. In fact, whether it's Crystal or Charlotte, he looks down on them. They're all too stupid. Jean didn't want to waste time talking much, he just looked at the staff next to him and whispered: "Later on, arrange for some people to pretend to be listeners to call the hotline of D station, ask her why she seduced someone else's fiance. Radio D's audience is so big right now, and a lot of them are watching good shows. As long as we lead on this first and label Olive a temptress, the public will follow us."

The staff was stunned for a bit, then quickly nodded in praise: "You are worthy of Young Master Paulo, your attack is so powerful. If Radio D hears that, it will explode, but so what? We just need to direct public opinion. She will be blackmailed by the whole network, then she'll be a rat across the street. People will call and beat her up, and every time they will call the hotline to scold her."

Chapter 382 Kicking Ole Out of the Radio Station

Crystal finally understood, her eyes shining. "Yes, yes, follow Jean's orders. Hurry up. I want to see how Olive ends up."

"Okay." The staff quickly went to do the job.

Crystal stood at the door and smiled triumphantly, "Jean. I finally get what you mean."

Jean pouted. "Olive is at its peak now, as long as we take advantage of the opportunity, the public opinion will be like a storm, getting bigger and bigger. The city has been quiet for a long time, let's see the fierce storm coming this time!"

Crystal almost clapped her hands in approval, because she knew that this was only the first step of Jean and that Jean still had a lot of tricks to use. Olive will be experiencing them soon!

On Radio D. Olive opened a hotline. At this time, a "ding" sounded, and a call came in, Olive quickly connected: "Hello listener, I am the host of your evening emotions program Olive Hart. May I ask what trouble you have? Hope I can help you."

The audience on the other side quickly said: "Olive, are you really shameless? Don't you know Elvis is Crystal's fiance? What right do you have to seduce someone else's fiance? Is this the upbringing and training you received?" At this time, another hotline called, also scolding: "Olive, you not only seduced someone else's fiance but also deceived Academician Augustine. You cheated to marry Academician Augustine, did he know that? Are you a licentious and shameless woman by nature?"

The Radio It's hotline quickly exploded, and the scolding became more and more severe. "Olive, do you know Elvis and Marvin are brothers? Flirting with both brothers isn't embarrassing for you?"

"I want to complain. I want to complain about Radio D. Radio D really used such a morally decadent person to be the host of the evening's sentimental program to solve our emotional troubles. What she could teach us was the best joke I've ever heard."

"Shut down D! Get Olive off the station! Get Olive out of the Academy of Sciences"

After that, the condemnation became more and more intense, and Olive didn't even open her mouth to speak, she was drowned by the sound of saliva.

At this point, there was a "beep", and all Radio D equipment was cut off. Nora aggressively walked in with the station's senior manager, "Olive, it's all your fault. Now all of our radio complaints were blown up, and the audience demanded that we shut down Radio D immediately and take you seriously.

We can't protect you anymore!"

Chapter 384

Chapter 384 Slapping him hard

Marvin didn't announce sooner or later but announced when Olive got into this trouble. It was like a heavy bomb being dropped, making the audience boil.

"Academician Augustine, when did you break off your engagement? Now that Olive is famous, are you trying to protect her?"

"Academic Augustine, are you saying that because you want to vindicate Olive?"

Marvin looked at the camera without flinching. "Olive and I broke off our engagement a long time ago. It's not Olive's problem, it's my problem. I've moved and I've got a new girlfriend."

Whispers sounded.

The audience gasped, everyone looked at Marvin in disbelief. What was he saying?

Olive suddenly raised her head and looked at Marvin beside her. Why did he say that?

When he was young, he became famous throughout Imperial. He is the most talented physician. Moreover, with a cold and lonely personality, and pure private life, he has always been the first crush of all famous ladies in Imperial. He has a very high reputation and has no blemish in his life, but now in order to protect her, he even says that he cheated on her and got a new girlfriend.

"Academy Augustine, did you cheat when you were engaged?"

A surprised reporter asked.

No!

Olive hastily shook her head, "No, he..."

But Olive hadn't finished her sentence yet, because Marvin had already wrapped his arms around her fragrant shoulders and led her away. He didn't give her a chance to speak.

The silver Maybach galloped softly down the road, Olive sitting in the passenger seat looking at Marvin beside him, "Marvin, you shouldn't say that. You'll soon appear in the entertainment headlines and attract gossip. If you knew about the entertainment industry, they'd say you have a good face and a spoiled personality."

Marvin enviously stared ahead, "Olive, this is my own business, so don't worry about it."

"No, Marvin, I'm not worth what you do for me. I'll make it clear to the reporter..."

Marvin directly interrupted her, "Olive, needless to say, I actually have a girlfriend.”

Olive froze, and after a few seconds, she said softly, “Marvin, don’t do that. The more you act like that, the more guilty I’ll be.”

At this moment, a series of melodious ringtones rang, it was his phone.

Marvin pressed the button to connect, and on the other end was Lily.

Lily’s angry voice immediately came, and it was estimated that it exploded, “Marvin, where are you now? You go home immediately, I have something to ask you.”

Marvin frowned. He didn’t care about anyone’s eyes, but Lily was his mother who gave birth to him, raised him, educated him, and loved him with all her heart.

In fact, Marvin knew what kind of people his mother was. Lily always compares and wants him to inherit the family fortune instead of the eldest son Elvis. He didn’t like this, so depressed he left home at a very young age and pursued a career in medicine.

But he couldn’t leave Lily behind. He knows that his father and grandma both prefer Elvis because Elvis is the only son left by Anabelle, who has amazed an era for a long time. Marvin is only loved by his mother Lily. Of course, his aunt, Anabelle is also very fond of him-

In fact, Marvin is very sympathetic to his mother. Said that Anabelle was Lily’s shadow and that Anabelle after her death didn’t even have a name, but he knew that Lily’s life had herome Anabelle’s shadow. She was quite sad and heartbroken. After years of living as a widow, she is nothing but flashy looks and pretend love. All she has is her son.

Chapter 381 Slapping him hard

Marvin frowned and said. “Mom, I don’t have time now, I’ll be back tomorrow.”

This sentence seemed to add fuel to the fire, Lily immediately said angrily.

“Marvin, you are really grown up now, don’t even listen to your mom. No matter what is urgent, you have to put it down. I want you to come home immediately

I know. I’ll be back later. Marvin hung up the phone.

Olive learns that Lily must have known for the first time about Marvin’s self-destruction. Although she doesn’t like Lily, she is a good mother, Olive frowned and said, “Marvin, I will return to the Augustine family with you.”

Marvin shook his head, “No need.”

“This is my business, too. Even if we break off the engagement, I have to make it clear to your parents,” Olive emphasized.

Marvin just nodded, but he confessed, “You don t have to say anything when you get in the Augustine family. I’ll tell them plainly, and Olive, don’t be ashamed of me. I’ve always loved you”

At Augustine’s house.

Marvin and Olive entered. In the living room, Alpha and Lily were both there. Alpha gave them a deep look, no expression of emotion or anger, but Lily's expression was already extremely unsightly.

Seeing Marvin bring Olive back. Lily quickly stood up. She fiercely looked at Olive, "Olive, let me ask you, is this bullshit between you and Elvis true?"

Marvin, you lie about having a girlfriend just to protect her?"

Olive wanted to talk, but Marvin pulled her behind his back, "Mom, what I said is true, I have a girlfriend."

"Who is your girlfriend?"

Marvin pursed his lips thinly, "If you want to see her, I'll bring her home tomorrow."

As soon as the words finished, Lily stepped forward, raised her hand, and slapped Marvin hard.

"Slap."

The crisp sound of the slap echoed throughout the living room, and Marvin was slapped in the handsome face.

Lily's hands were shaking, and her eyes were red with anger.

Olive stood up, saying, "Mrs. Augustine, this matter.."

"Thought!" Marvin interrupted Olive, "Anyway, Olive and I broke off our engagement, and that's all."

"Your" Lily tried not to explode on the spot, "Marvin, come upstairs with me!"

She wanted to speak to Marvin privately.

Marvin let go of Olive, and five red handprints appeared on his handsome face. It can be seen that Lily just now used all her strength. He said, "Olive, I'm going upstairs. Don't say anything. Don't run around. I'll take you home later."

Olive had a lot to say, but in the end, she just said, "Okay, I'll wait for you here."

"Okay." Marvin followed Lily upstairs.

Mother and son had just left, only Olive and Alpha remained in the living room.

Alpha didn't interfere in this matter, now he just faces the sofa, "Miss Hart, sit down."

Olive walked over and sat down across from Alpha,

Chapter 385 The whip hit him

Olive looked at Alpha with shining eyes, asking, "Mr. Augustine, what do you want to tell me?”

Alpha didn't have any expression on his face, saying. I said before in Los Angeles that I didn't want you to be caught in the middle of their brotherhood, because sooner or later they would turn against each other because of you. Now what? Am I right?”

“Mr. Augustine, don't you want to show me your ability to predict, or do you want to change your profession to a fortune teller?” Olive didn't answer but asked instead.

Alpha smiled, “What are you thinking now? My two sons are both fascinated by you, which one do you choose?” “Mr. Augustine, now it's chaotic in Imperial, you don't want me to disappear quietly, but let me choose between your two sons. I was really pleased, of course, and even more scared. I don't understand what you want to do.”

Olive looked at the unpredictable Alpha on the opposite side. Ever since her identity as Joyce Brown's daughter was revealed. Alpha has become very strange. She really couldn't see what he was up to.

Alpha curled his thin lips. “Don't be afraid, you're safe until I find Anabelle.” Right, he made his purpose clear. He said he wanted Anabelle.

Olive tilted her head, “Mr. Augustine, you mean Anabelle didn't die, but...was taken away by my mom, right?” Alpha likes smart people, he can't help but admire Olive. This girl has a delicate heart.

The situation back then was a dead game, and this girl was the key to solving it.

Alpha has an intuition that she will soon be out of the mists,

Seeing that Alpha didn't say anything. Olive continued to boldly guess, “It seems I'm right. My mom really took Anabelle away. You've been looking for my mom for years now, but my mom has disappeared without a trace.”

This time Alpha nodded, “Your mom disappeared at the end of the world.”

Olive's heart missed a beat, what does this mean?

Alpha looked at her, “Your mom is not from here. She is from a mystical country. Miss Hart, will you disappear like your mom one day?”

Olive's slender eyelashes trembled. She was shocked by the vast amount of information. Her mother came from a... mysterious country?

What country is it?

In front of her, Alpha was actually a black bellied old fox. As a generation of high-class people who had played with the situation in Imperial, he knew too much.

Olive really wanted to get some useful information out of his mouth. She was about to say, but at this moment, a deep and magnetic voice reached her ear, “Why will she disappear?”

Someone was coming.

Olive turned to look. A tall and handsome figure came into view, and Elvis was back too!

Tonight, Elvis wears a black overcoat. The sharp outerwear made him tall and handsome. His shoulders were covered with a cold mist outside. He looked handsome and majestic, attracting everyone's attention.

The maid respectfully greeted him, Elvis handed the briefcase to the maid, then took off the black leather gloves in his hands, and entered the living room, eyes narrowing deeply into Alpha's face. He asked again: "Why will she disappear?"

Alpha said, "She is not from here, like her mom. Sooner or later she will disappear at the end of the world. To be precise, she is not disappearing, but going home."

Going home?

Olive suddenly stood up from the sofa. She looked at Alpha in surprise, "You mean, my mom's back home?"

Alpha nodded. "Yes, so you have to find your way home."

Olive's little lead exploded with a bang. She always thought her mother was gone, but it turned out that her mother had returned home, back to that mysterious country.

Chapter 385 The Whup he him

That mysterious country disappeared at the end of the world, and no one knew the way home. If she can find her way home, then she will be able to meet her mother and even Anabelle.

Olive's heart leaped for joy, and she suddenly had a new direction and goal.

At this point, Elvis stretched out his fingers, grabbed her slender wrist, and forcibly turned her around, forcing her to look at him. "Are you going home?"

Olive wanted to nod. Talk nonsense! Of course, she wanted to go home.

Elvis pursed his thin lips into a white arc, unhappy saying. "Don't go home!"

Why?

This man is really strong and domineering!

"Let go of me!" Olive used her strength to withdraw her slender arm, taking a few steps back from him, "I'll go up and see Marvin."

Olive hurried upstairs.

Elvis watched her beautiful slim figure disappear from view, frowning his beautiful eyebrows.

In the office.

Lily was so angry that she trembled. Just now when Alpha was in the living room, she couldn't say some things. afraid that he wouldn't be satisfied with her son.

Initially, the last time Marvin confronted Alpha to find Olive, she feared that the bond between father and son would fall apart.

Now in the office with only their mother and son, Lily glared at Marvin with red eyes. "Marvin, how could you do something to ruin your reputation? You know that you cheated and got a new girlfriend has become entertainment headlines, and people are talking about you?"

"I put all my hopes on you these past few years. You don't like fighting, don't like robbers, don't like business, Mom won't stop you no matter what, but you've gone too far in this regard. For Olive's sake, you smear yourself!"

"Marvin, I want you to immediately declare this matter!"

Marvin looked at Lily and shook his head. "Mom, what I should say is what I just said down there. First, I broke off my engagement with Olive. Second, I cheated and got a new girlfriend!"

Lily froze. She pointed at Marvin with a trembling finger, "You! Well, well, Mom raised and took care of you, didn't expect you to disobey. I raised my son not for Olive to take advantage of you. Instead of letting you be ruined by her, I'd rather kill you first!"

Lily was so angry that she found a whip, then swung it at Marvin.

Marvin didn't dodge, and in an instant, the whip hit him, and his white shirt was instantly covered in blood.

Lily whipped repeatedly.

(011)

Chapter 386 Mr. Augustine, let me take off your shirt first

Marvin didn't even bide. He was whipped many times on his body. His white shirt was torn, revealing the bloody wounds inside.

Marvin said nothing and suffered silently. His attitude angered Lily even more. Lily seems to be crazy. Now she has only one thought: to beat this son to death!

Olive went upstairs. As soon as she reached the door of the study, she heard the sound of whips inside and quickly reached out to push the door open, just in time to see Lily swinging the whip, another whip about to strike Marvin.

Olive's bright pupils suddenly constricted. She sprinted forward, rushed, and lunged Marvin, yelling "Stop hitting!"

This whip was pointed towards Olive in a sharp wind direction.

Olive quickly closed her eyes, waiting for the pain to come.

With a whoosh, the sound of the whip whipping into the flesh made one's scalp numb.

It would be very painful.

Olive's beautiful hand-sized face twisted, but she soon realized something was wrong, because... it didn't hurt at all.

This whip didn't seem to hit her.

So who did it hit?

Olive looked up. A handsome face quickly entered her view, which turned out to be... Elvis's

Elvis had followed her upstairs. At that moment, he stepped forward forcefully, stretching his strong arm to protect her in his lap, Lily's whip slamming down on him.

The posture of the three people right now is a bit strange. She was hugging Marvin tightly, and Elvis was protecting her from behind. She was sandwiched between two brothers,

Olive's eyelids trembled, and she looked at him bewildered, "You...why are you here?"

Elvis was whipped, it was Lily who hit him. His handsome face was sullen...

He looked at her coldly with displeasure, a shrill syllable from his throat, "Who are you holding on to? You don't want to, don't you? Let go!"

He asked her to let go of Marvin!

Why is he focusing on this now?

When Lily saw Elvis coming, she was very angry. But the blow just now was so good, she immediately swung her whip at Elvis again.

She shouldn't have driven this brat crazy and put him in a mental hospital when he was young. She should have strangled him and caused an accident that killed him instantly!

Lily deeply regretted it, now she poured all her strength towards Elvis' body.

At this time, Elvis reached out his big hand, hugged Olive's shoulder, doggedly pulled her into his lap, then gently lifted his eyelids. His eyes narrowed like a cold lake appeared to look at Lily. When the whip came, he stretched out his large free hand like lightning and grabbed the whip in midair.

Whip paused. Elvis coldly glanced at Lily, "Are you crazy enough?"

Lily wanted to pull the whip back, but when she did, the whip was held in Elvis' palm, and it didn't move at all.

Lily is very angry now. Her face was his gaze falling on her face, terrifying. She wanted to do something, but at this moment Alpha walker 10.

his gaze falling on her face, "You beat two boys, Calm down, don't make this house a mess."

Lily almost spat out a mouthful of blood. Did she mess up?

What's wrong with her?

Who exactly made this house a mess?

Whatever matter how angry Lily was, she didn't dare to be mad anymore. Alpha is the owner of this family, he has the final decision, she just needs to obediently obey.

Lily reluctantly let go of the whips.

Elvis and Marvin were all overwhelmed. Alpha looked at the maid by the door and said, "Call the family doctor and bandage the two young masters."

The maid at the door was so scared that she didn't make a sound. After receiving the order from Alpha, she rushed to call the doctor.

The family doctor came. Olive used her scissors to cut Marvin's shirt.

There were countless wounds on his body, his skin was torn from the beating, and now his shirt was still stuck to his mouth and it was bleeding.

The doctor handled it very quickly. Marvin's handsome face was pale, and there was a layer of cold sweat on his forehead

Olive hurriedly wiped the sweat with a handkerchief and asked softly, "Marvin, does it hurt?"

Marvin shook his head. "No, I'm okay."

At this moment, a look of hatred fell on the two of them. Elvis was sitting on the sofa across from him, looking coldly at Olive's graceful figure beside Marvin.

He was injured too, and the only one she cared about was Marvin!

So what was he?

The wound on his body was to protect her!

At this moment, a beautiful nurse came over, and reached out to unbutton Elvis's shirt. "General Augustine, let me undress you first."

The pretty nurse blushed and looked at Elvis, holding out her hand.

At this moment, Elvis raised his head, and glanced at the beautiful nurse with cold and sharp eyes, threatening. Did she dare to touch him?

The beautiful nurse was pale and dumbfounded.

At this time, Elvis raised his foot to kick on a chair. The furniture on it fell with a "bang" on the carpet. He pursed his lips in displeasure, "Olive, are you blind?"

When Elvis caused such a big uproar, everyone's eyes were sneaking up on him, and Olive looked over, too.

They saw Elvis, the number one noble in Imperial business, sitting on the sofa like a resentful woman, looking at Olive angrily, begging for comfort and concern.

Olive.".."

Seeing Olive standing still, Elvis face became even more unsightly, "Olive, you are not only blind but also deaf? If you don't come here, I will expose your crime in public!"

Crime?

He was implying. She had done it to him when she had taken the medicine?

He

Anyway, he was so shameless. There were many people here, and he wanted to say that he was raped by a woman? Very good. Olive fully accepted his threat. She stepped forward and went to Elvis's side.

Tivissat like a boss, pointed to the button of his shirt, and ordered, "Take off my shirt first."

Olive gritted her teeth. Instead of helping him undress his shirt, she directly grabbed the scissors and cut the shirt off of him. She whispered in a voice only the two of them could hear. "Elvis, you're so unacceptable!"

Elvis glanced at her.

Olive continued. "You better not talk nonsense. If you tell Marvin what happened that night to provoke him. I will never forgive you!"

Chapter 387 Don't touch me with dirty hands!

What did she mean?

Was she just protecting Marvin like this?

She was biased!

She doesn't know where her heart is headed if he knew, he shouldn't have let her succeed that night!

Elvis was in a bad mood, his eyes were cold like x-rays, looking at her, "Get out! Don't touch me with your dirty hands!"

Olive almost vomited blond. What a psych

When the doctor finished treating Marvin's wound, he stood up and said.

"Olive, let me take you home."

At this point. Alpha came over, "Marvin, you should rest if you're injured like that, otherwise the wound will open again. I'll have the driver take Miss Hart home, and will make sure she's safe,"

Marvin frowned, "No.."

"Marvin," Olive said hastily, "Let the driver take me home. In this condition you won't be able to drive safely. When I get home, I will text you to let you know I am safe. Goodbye."

Olive stepped out quickly.

Outside, Olive was about to get in the car, but at this moment a large hand reached out from the darkness, grabbed her slender wrist, and pulled her into the darkness.

Olive raised her eyes, and Elvis' handsome face was magnified in her field of vision.

"Elvis, what are you doing? This is the Augustine family, let me go!" Olive struggled hastily.

Elvis wrapped his arms around her slim waist, holding her in his arms, not letting her go, "Olive, what do you mean? Tell me clearly!"

Olive blinked her slender eyelashes, asking, "What do you mean? What do you want me to say?"

Elvis grabbed her soft waist, intentionally hurting her, as punishment, "Olive, what's our relationship now? We've slept together. No, we've struggled in the fields, you made me sleep with you, now you don't want to give me an explanation?"

Olive snorted painfully, her clear eyes instantly covered with a clear mist, her slender body contorted. uncomfortably, trying to escape from his iron hard palm, "Elvis, what are you complaining about? Men like you get more benefits with that!"

Elvis reached out his hand to push her directly against the wall, "pop" he put his big hand on the side of her head, blocking her between the wall and his chest, "Dam n it, Olive. Do you know how many women want to sleep with me? But they don't stand a chance. Tell me who benefits here!"

Olive stared blankly at the man in front of her. How could he say such things? Now he was looking down on her condescendingly, noble and cold, truly arrogant and domineering

Oliv suddenly thought of a question, "Elvis, don't you think you're still...?"

"What do you mean? Elvis asked back. That's what he was.

But he pursed his lips thinly, not wanting to talk about the subject anymore.

"Phew-"

Olive couldn't help but laugh. This innocent buy-

"Oliw, what are you laughing at?" Elvis asked, feeling scorned by the girl, who seemed to be laughing at him.

Olive quickly stopped laughing. She had no way of telling him what had happened before, so she could only say, "So I took Mr. Augustine's first time, so I'm happy."

The Substitute Bride: Dober

Elvis bent his tall handsome body in front of her, his handsome face slowly moving in front of her. "Besides having fun, is there anything else?"

Their faces were instantly close. his clean masculine breath brushing against her delicate skin. Their breaths were tangled momentarily vague.

Olive stepped back and tried to keep her distance from him as much as possible. She said, "Mr. Augustine, why do you want to pis s me off like that? You want you want me to take responsibility for you?"

Elvis was stunned.

Olive continued. "But Mr. Augustine, don't forget. I'm married. Didn't you warn me not to cover you? That you wouldn't accept other men's women."

Only then did Elvis let go of his hand and stood up straight, his handsome face so gloomy that cold water flowed. Olive didn't bother him anymore, she left

Olive refused the driver of the Augustine family and went home alone. While walking on the road, she suddenly remembered a very important matter, that she had forgotten to take birth control pills when she returned from the forbidden area

She calculated that she was in a dangerous period, if she didn't take birth control pills, it was easy to get pregnant. Thinking of this, Olive broke into a cold sweat. God, she forgot such an important thing

Olive walked briskly into a pharmacy, grabbed an emergency contraceptive pill from the shelf, and went to the cashier to pay.

At this time, a luxurious Rolls Royce Phantom slowly stopped at the side of the road, the driver's side window slid down, revealing Elvis' perfect handsome face.

Elvis' gaze fell on Olive's slender figure in the pharmacy, then his gaze fell on the pill in her hand.

It's all because of his good eyesight, he immediately saw the words above, which means emergency contraceptive pills.

She actually ran here to buy birth control pills!

Elvis didn't know what he was thinking. Did he want to make that night come true, fall in love with Olive, get married?

But she got married, passed to another man!

Elvis kept reminding himself of this in his heart. That girl loved her ex-husband deeply, giving her first time to her ex-husband. He was very attentive to this.

How stupid was he to want her?

But...

The image of that night replayed in Elvis' mind. Her beautiful little face was tinged with an enchanting pink, her long pure, wet hair hugged her snow white neck...

Olive suddenly felt his mouth go dry.

He thinks he has sexual fantasies with her, after all, she has appeared in his erotic dreams countless times. At one time, he thought that as long as he slept with her and tasted her, he would be tired.

However, when he really succeeded, he realized that he seemed to be... addicted.

Elvis took out his cell phone and dialed a number..

Olive on the other side has finished paying the bill. She went out of the pharmacy, immediately opened the pill pack, and wanted to take it as soon as possible.

Putting the birth control pill to her mouth, Olive had just opened her mouth when suddenly a passerby ran up to her and bumped into her.

The birth control pill fell to the ground.

Her pill!

Olive quickly bent down to pick it up, but before she could, a dog ran up to her and ate the birth control pill. Olive was taken aback. The dog even took... birth control pills?

Passers-by and the dog ran away. Olive felt really unlucky so she went back to the pharmacy to buy another birth control pill.

However, the shelves just now were full of birth control pills, but now they are empty.

Olive was stunned. She's in and out in two minutes, and a shelf full of birth control pills is sold out?

No more birth control pills!

Olive looked at the clerk in the pharmacy, "Hello, is the pill sold out?"

The employee nodded, "Yes, all sold out."

Then I'll go to another pharmacy to buy it." Olive said, about to turn around and leave.

"Miss," the clerk stopped her at this point, "you don't need to go to other pharmacies to buy it, because other pharmacies are all sold out, and now you can't find birth control pills all over Imperial."

What?

Olive jumped on the spot. her head confused. What day is today? Valentine's day? International Day of Love? Why is everyone rushing to buy birth control pills?

In the luxury Rolls Royce Phantom, Elvis saw Olive come out through the polished glass window. Maybe because she couldn't get the medicine, her little head hung down, very sad.

Elvis curled his thin lips into a shallow curve, then sent two photos on his phone to Peterson, who covered the two for media reporters

On the way home, Olive felt her right eyelid keep twitching. She felt that someone was plotting to harm her!

The next morning.

Olive couldn't even sleep when there was a knock on the door, "Knock, knock."

"Come in."

The door was pushed open, and Mia ran in with a copy of the entertainment title, exclaiming. "Olive, you're on the trending list again!"

What?

Olive sat up and looked at the newspaper. Today's entertainment headline was "Olive buys birth control late at night, who is she dating?"

There was also a clear picture in the newspaper, of her last night out of the pharmacy, looking down at the contraceptive pill in her hand.

Olive's bright pupils suddenly shrank. How could this picture be revealed?

She was already very careful when she entered the pharmacy last night. No paparazzi should have taken it.

Alright now, she was holding the contraceptive pill in her hand. This was a real hammer!

Who exactly wants to beat her to death with a hammer?

Now that the search trend has also exploded, a large number of netizens have left comments one after another. They all transform into Sherlock Holmes and begin to deduce about Olive and her man.

"I'm guessing that the man Olive was lucky enough to approach was Elvis!"

"No, no, no, our Boss Augustine is cold and abstinent. Marvin, I guess."

"Can the person above speak properly? Our Academic Augustine is cold aloof and arrogant, and we have no such blessing to be blessed by Olive."

Elvis and Marvin's fans quarreled, kicking her like a ball.

Others concluded,

"Don't argue, perhaps this mysterious man is not President Augustine or Academician Augustine. Who knows who Olive hooked up with."

This comment was quickly pinned to the top of the hottest comment, everyone cheered for her, labeling her as a temptress who randomly slept with anyone.

Olive left the entertainment titles behind and lay on the large bed, feet up to the sky. Now the situation was getting worse and worse, and she couldn't calm down.

Chapter 388 Olive and her man

How could she expect to be exposed when she went to the pharmacy to buy birth control pills?

Olive took out her cell phone and sent North a message to help her figure out who leaked the photo. North is in the entertainment industry, so she can definitely leave this matter to her with confidence.

After a short "ding" sound, North replied yes.

"Olive, I said from the very beginning. I said that you are a person who does great things. Internet idiots envy you. It's okay. Let's go your own way so they can't copy it." Mia said happily.

Olive. "..."

At this time, the melodious cell phones rang and someone called.

Olive pressed the button to connect, and Lily's angry voice quickly came from the other end, "Olive, do you want to destroy my Marvin? Why do you want Marvin to pay for your scandals?"

"Mrs Augustine, what happened to Marvin? Olive frowned and asked. "Entertainment news about you buying birth control pills today came out. Marvin was just about to go out, he was stopped by a lot of media reporters. Now he can't move an inch! Olive, if you still have a conscience, now come here and explain to those media reporters. Obviously it's up to you and Elvis. My Marvin is the most innocent, don't harm him!"

Olive hung up the phone, she quickly got up from the bed. "Mom, I'm going out for a while."

Olive ran to Augustine's house as fast as she could, and she saw a crowd in front of her, and the media reporters completely surrounded the house. Olive caught a glimpse of Marvin surrounded by the crowd. Marvin's handsome face was still pale and sickly. Reporters were all handing him microphones, and the questions were rather harsh

"Second Young Master Augustine, may I ask who was the man who was with Olive?"

"Second Young Master Augustine, is that man you, or your brother Elvis?" Marvin pursed his pale thin lips, his large hands hanging at his sides clenched into fists, and a little pain flashed in his cold black eyes.

If that man isn't him, it's Elvis!

Olive didn't want to see this the most. She knows that Marvin likes her very much, now exposing her and Elvis story in front of Marvin is like a knife stabbing him in the heart

Olive said in a clear voice, "That person is not Marvin, please stop interviewing him!"

With a "shoot", everyone's eyes were on Olive.

As the female lead of this love triangle, when she appeared on stage, she shocked everyone. They retreated from Marvin's side and crowded in front of Olive.

"Miss Hart, what did you just say? Could you say it again?"

Olive looked at Marvin through the camera and gently said: "Marvin and I were dating. After we met, we quickly felt that we weren't suitable for each other, so we canceled the engagement. My affairs have nothing to do with him. He didn't even know about it. Don't disturb his life. He's a doctor, and every minute of his time is precious."

Olive didn't go to Marvin's side, the two of them looked at each other from afar. She chose to separate him from this scandal. This was the best distance, she believed Marvin would understand.

Marvin understood, of course. He looked at the girl in front of him. Her clear eyes shine with wisdom and courage. No matter what difficulties she encounters, she can make decisions in the most rational and sober way.

“Olive, if that man isn’t Marvin, who is it?”

A reporter asked

At this time, a deep, masculine voice came from their ears “It’s me!”

Chapter 389 Olive will be mine from now on

Olive looked back, Elvis was here!

Elvis today wears a hand sewn black suit. He is tall and handsome, his long legs walk forward, every step exudes a powerful aura, like an emperor.

The noisy crowd quickly gave way. Elvis walked over to Olive’s side, and spontaneously extended his large hand. He hugged her soft small waist.

His intimate move proved something to the audience.

Olive struggled for a while, not knowing what he wanted to do. This time Elvis lowered his eyelids and warned her, “Don’t move, I’m helping you!”

Olive shivered. The last thing she wants to hurt is Marvin. This is between her and Elvis. Now that Elvis’s sudden involvement could actually eliminate Marvin entirely.

Olive didn’t move.

Now all the microphones were handed to Elvis, everyone was as excited as if they were about to explode,

“Mr. Augustine, is it true that you and Olive had a good time together?”

“Mr. Augustine, you and Crystal, daughter of the Rabert family, were engaged. Are you implying that Olive is a mistress?”

“Mr. Augustine, what are you going to do next? How are you going to arrange these two ladies Crystal and Oliver “Click, click” people took pictures.

Marvin stood in place looking at Elvis and Olive being surrounded. Now there are no reporters around him, all the public opinion is on Elvis and Olive.

He moved a little, trying to move forward.

But now Lily held him, “Marvin, that’s enough, Olive pushed you out, so don’t get your hands in the mud. Besides, it’s Elvis and Olive’s relationship. What can you do when you go over there?”

Lily was still very pleased that Olive was able to collect all the dirty water on her, so that Marvin could be washed.

off.

But inside she didn’t appreciate Olive at all. Even now, she is watching Elvis and Olive’s good show. Let’s make trouble. The bigger the trouble, the better!

Marvin froze in place. What Lily said hurt him deeply. Yes, that's between Elvis and Olive.

It was always between the two of them. During this time, he tried very hard to blend in with their world, but no matter how hard he tried, he was still an outsider, unable to fit in.

As for Olive, she immediately pushed him out. Did she ever think that he didn't need to go out, that he wanted to go through the storm with her?

However, the person she chooses to go through the storm with is always Elvis.

What she likes in her heart, depending on what, and what is good or bad in her life is related to Elvis.

Marvin felt a sense of frustration and helplessness inside, as if the tide had engulfed him.

Marvin turned his back and left.

All the spotlight was on Elvis and Olive. Elvis wrapped his arms around Olive's slender body, and his narrow, hawk like eyes swept across the audience.

Those who met his gaze felt their scalps go numb, and the already chaotic atmosphere instantly calmed down. Elvis is now directly facing the camera, he purses his lips thinly, and succinctly announces "Me and Crystal broke off the engagement."

Did he break off his engagement with Crystal?

Olive raised her clear pupils and looked at Elvis in amazement.

Chapter 39 Olive will be mine from now on Elvis continued, "Crystal and I have annulled, Olive and Marvin have also annulled. The four of us are all unmarried and free. That man is me. Regarding our personal relationship, I have no comments. That's all I can tell you

After saying that, Elvis hugged Olive and left.

He dropped this blockbuster, these media reporters didn't have time to react.

Seeing them gone, everyone immediately boiled,

"Mr. Augustine, you have to say a few more words, you..."

The reporter hadn't finished speaking. Elvis looked at him with sharp eyes, I told you, I have no idea, what do you want to hear? We're both unmarried.

Isn't it okay to have sex once? Or do you want me to tell you our story in detail? We don't want to have children for the time being, so we take birth control pills. Simple as that. And we don't have to think much about it."

Whispers sounded.

The audience gasped. Elvis really deserves to be Tavis. Whatever he dares to say. He admitted that he slept with Olive, and because he didn't want to have children, they took birth control pills!

The reporter was so stunned that he was speechless, at which point Elvis glanced at the business card on his chest that read “public entertainment”. The reporter turned pale, and suddenly had a bad premonition inside. When the reporter looked up, Elvis had taken Olive in his arms and disappeared from view.

At this moment, the melodious cell phone rang, it was the reporter’s phone. The editor in chief called.

The reporter quickly pressed the button, ‘Hello editor-in-chief.’

The editor-in-chief’s dreary voice quickly came. “I told you to go for an interview, I didn’t ask you to upset Elvis. Do you know who Elvis is? He’s the president of the Augustine corporation. I just got a call. We have to declare bankruptcy.”

What?

The reporter’s legs went limp, the phone fell to the ground, surprised and scared as Elvis disappeared. Did he really make them go bankrupt?

This man is really too strong, too scary, completely like a demon.

At Augustine’s house.

Elvis and Olive entered. Marvin was in the living room, too. The three of them met.

Marvin looked at Elvis with his cold black eyes, then he lunged forward, punching Elvis in the face with a heavy fist. Elvis didn’t dodge, and was punched hard, blood seeping from the corner of his mouth.

Two young masters of the Augustine family fought in the living room, and the servants screamed in fear and hid in the corner.

At this time, Marvin grabbed Elvis by the collar and pushed him against the wall, “Why didn’t you dodge?”

Elvis wiped the blood on the corner of his lips with the back of his hand, then looked up at Marvin and said word by word: “I accept this one, Olive will be mine from now on.”

Marvin’s eyes were red with irritation, and he wanted to punch Elvis again, but at this point Olive rushed over and stopped him, “Though, Marvin. Stop hitting. It’s not worth it for me.”

Marvin suppressed the anger rising in his chest, clenched his fists, and looked at Elvis warningly: “Then you’d better treat her better, or I won’t leave you alone.”

Marvin took his coat and went outside.

Chapter 390 The proposal

Marvin didn't go to the Academy of Sciences, but to the bar to drink.

He drank a lot, and soon there were empty bottles on the table.

At this moment Charlotte came in, beside her was Jean.

"Bro. I really like Marvin. This is just the right moment, he was hurt by Olive. That's when I take advantage. Bro, you love me the most. Can you make him love me?"

Jean stood in a dark corner, looked at Marvin, and replied. "Yes."

"Really? That's good! Bro, quickly tell me what you can do!" Charlotte urged impatiently.

Jean handed a packet of powder to Charlotte, "Go. put this pack in Marvin's bottle. It's colorless and tasteless. Marvin won't notice. As long as you let him drink it, he'll obey you in the future."

Charlotte quickly took the pack of pills, cheerfully saying. "Big brother, then I'll go to Marvin!"

Charlotte happily ran to Marvin's side. She reached out and patted his shoulder. "Marvin, why are you drinking alone here?"

Marvin took the bottle of wine, poured it into his mouth, raised his head, and looked at Charlotte with his dark eyes, "Who are you?"

"Marvin, I'm Charlotte, don't you remember me?" Charlotte playfully winked at Marvin.

Marvin averted his gaze and continued drinking, not looking at Charlotte anymore, only saying the words. "Oh, get Charlotte's beautiful face quickly froze. She liked Marvin for so many years and vowed to marry Marvin as his bride, but he never looked directly at her.

The more he behaved like this, the more he aroused the desire to conquer him inside Charlone, the stubborn daughter of Imperial. She wants to get him, even at the cost of destroying him!

"Marvin, look who's over there, it seems... Olive is here, she's looking for you! Charlotte suddenly said, pointing back.

Did Olive arrive?

Hearing this name, Marvin froze. He quickly turned his head to find Olive's familiar delicate figure.

Charlotte was both angry and jealous, as expected only Olive could attract him!

However, he will soon fall in love with her!

Charlotte quickly unpacked the powder and secretly poured the powder into the bottle of wine that Marvin was holding.

Marvin couldn't find Olive, so he turned his head, and his dark eyes flashed loneliness and disappointment. "Sorry Marvin, I seem to be blind. Olive didn't come looking for you. She should stay with Elvis.” Charlotte pretended to apologize.

Marvin said nothing, picked up the bottle and continued drinking.

Charlotte’s heart was about to jump. She watched as Marvin finished half the bottle of wine she had drugged.

He drank it!

Marvin dropped the empty bottle of wine. At this time, his tall and handsome body suddenly stiffened, and those bright black eyes quickly lost their luster and became empty.

Charlotte had been observing his reaction, she couldn’t help but say: “Marvin, are you okay? In the future, you must remember, the woman you love the most is Charlotte, and you must listen to her.”

Marvin raised his head. There was no expression on his handsome face, his whole body was cold. He nodded, “I know.”

“Marvin, who do you love?”

“I love you” Marvin looked at Charlotte and said.

Chapter 390 The proposal

When Charlotte finally heard these words, her heart filled with joy. She immediately hugged Marvin and kissed him.

At this moment, in the corner of her eye, she suddenly saw a slim figure.

Charlotte looked up, and saw the bar door pushed open. and Olive walked in. She is finally here!

Charlotte gave a proud and provocative smile. Looking at Marvin, she said.

“Marvin, propose to me now! I want to marry you!”

Marvin stood up, slowly knelt on one knee in front of Charlotte, declaring, Charlotte, I love you Marry the, and I will make you happy in the future.”“

The scene of the proposal here quickly attracted the attention of everyone in the bar, and people gathered around. curiously asking each other,

“Isn’t this Second Young Master Augustine? He is proposing to Lady Charlotte!”

“Second Young Master Augustine must have returned from being lost, finally knowing Charlotte is a good lady. Miss Charlotte is his true love!”

“Bravo! Bravo! Bravo!!”

Everyone clapped and hooed

Olive came to find Marvin. She learnt that Marvin had suffered a heavy blow.

Marvin has been loved since he was a child, his emotions are empty, and his heart is pure and pure. Letting someone like that get hurt is bad.

Olive saw Marvin drinking there, and also saw Chat lolle next to Marvin, she quickly felt wary. Charlotte is not a good girl, what does she want to do with Marvin at this moment?

Olive was about to step forward when she saw Marvin on one knee and proposed to Charlotte.

Marvin was proposing to Charlotte!

People around were booing. Olive looked at Charlotte, saw she was standing on high heels, gave her a triumphant smile, then nodded with a smile and said, "Yes, Marvin. I'm willing to marry you!"

Marvin stood up, and Charlotte threw herself into his lap, hugging him tightly. Charlotte's eyes kept falling on Clive's face, and she curled her fiery red lips at Olive, very proud Olive frowned. She never thought that Marvin would propose to Charlotte. This was not normal, too unusual!

At this point, Charlotte lovingly took Marvin's strong arm and walked over, stopping in front of Olive. She lifted her chin, giving a triumphant smile, "Olive, Marvin proposed to me, and I said yes. I've always wanted to marry Marvin, so we'll get married as soon as possible. Olive, you must come to my wedding."

Olive ignored Charlotte, her bright eyes looked at Marvin's handsome face, asking, "Marvin, do you really want to marry Charlotte? Marriage is such a big event in life, I hope you will be careful!TM

Marvin looked at Olive coldly, with no warmth in his eyes, "I love Charlotte. I don't care about you!"

"Olive, you see? Marvin doesn't like you anymore, he likes me now. You don't need to be so close. Marvin, let's go." Charlotte said happily.

Marvin was about to leave, but at this point Olive reached out and grabbed his strong arm.

Olive took his hand because she wanted to tell him something, but when her soft fingers touched his muscles, she quickly realized something was wrong, Sliding her small hand down, she calmly took the pulse on his wrist.
