

The Substitute Bride Doted by My Billionaire Husband

Chapter 561

Olive shuddered for a moment. When she left three years ago, she saw Clara courting Elvis in various ways. Were they together now?

Olive looked at Clara as she cat-walked over. Clara was by no means an ordinary character.

Chapter 561 As Long As She's Prettier Than You

Olive straightened her slender and beautiful back, and her bright eyes fell calmly on Clara's pretty face. She watched as she pulled Elvis's strong arm over.

"Olive," Clara called out to Olive affectionately, as if Olive was her real sister.

"Olive, Big bro, let me introduce you two to someone. This is Elvis, the richest man..."

Elvis stood in front of Liam and Olive. His deep narrow eyes stared lightly at Olive, and then his landed on Liam's handsome face.

"Hello, Mr. Augustine," Liam extended his hand to Elvis.

The two men shook hands. At first, they could disengage from the handshake easily. However, Liam quickly realized that something was wrong, because Elvis's fingers slowly held back his fingers, secretly contesting him.

Liam was stunned for a while. He had never dealt with Elvis before, so it was a little baffling for Liam, who suddenly faced Elvis's jealousy and hostility.

Withal, Liam quickly narrowed his eyes. He had already sensed the subtle aura between Elvis and Olive. It seemed that the two people had a story to tell.

Liam tried pulling away his hand, but Elvis held tighter to it.

"Mr. Augustine," Clara called out to Elvis.

Elvis suddenly let go of Liam's hand, and ended the fight with him.

"Mr. Augustine, Liam and Olive seem to be the perfect pair. I also heard that Olive wants to extend the wedding date closer, so she could get married to Liam sooner," Clara said with a smile.

The corner of Elvis's eyebrows sank, as he heard Clara's words. His deep eyes directly fell on Olive's face.

She couldn't wait to marry Liam?

Elvis had thought that Olive had been with Derrick Domino during the last three years. After all, they already had children, but she actually wanted to marry Liam.

Elvis curved his thin lips into a sarcastic arc. He looked at Olive, and said, "Princess of Visionary, you seem quite familiar. I think you look like someone I know."

Olive did not utter a word in response, as she awaited Elvis's next words. She had an intuition that he wouldn't say anything good.

"Mr. Augustine," Clara called out to Elvis tenderly.

Olive was a little dazed, because the manner in which Clara called Elvis's name depicted the affection they shared.

"Oh, really? Do you two know each other?" Clara asked Elvis with great interest.

Elvis shook his head. "I must have mistook her for someone else. How could I possibly know the Princess of Visionary? The woman I mistook her for was one who had attracted several men because of her beauty. She had also given birth to a child, I don't think that the Princess of Visionary is that person."

Chapter 61 As Long As She's Photos Than You

Elvis turned to look at Liam, and he said with a smile, "I think Mr. Liam must have investigated the background of the woman he wants to get married to. A woman who has given birth to another man's child, definitely is another man's property."

Liam furrowed his eyebrows, as he listened to Elvis's word. But he didn't utter a words in response.

Olive couldn't help but clenched her fingers, at Elvis's words.

Olive did not expect that Elvis would be so bitter and mean.

Olive and Liam were quiet.

Clara quickly covered her mouth, and her eyes widened.

With that, Clara looked at Olive simply and playfully, "Olive, you definitely aren't the woman that Elvis speaks about, right?"

Olive slowly pursed her lips. She looked directly at Clara. "Boss Augustine's remarks just me of someone. I suddenly feel that Princess Clara fits the description."

Clara stiffened.

reminded

"No offense, Princess Clara, but you really do fit the description. I hope this is all my illusion. Because, it seems like Princess Clara desperately wants to be someone else, hence the reason she can't even recognize her attributes anymore, Olive added.

As soon as Olive was done speaking, Clara's beautiful face reddened.

In the past three years, in order to win Elvis's heart, Clara had been imitating Olive.

The atmosphere between them had instantly become depressing
At this moment, there was a melodious piano sound in the party hall, and it was time for the dance.

Liam quickly looked at Olive, he gently bent over, and said to her, "Princess Olive, may I have this dance?"

"Of course," Olive placed her hand in Liam's palm, as they slid into the dance floor.

Today's palace party was prepared for Olive and Liam.

Now, they danced their first dance on the dance floor. Under the bright lights, Olive danced along with Liam.

Elvis watched Liam and Olive dance. He directly pursed his thin lips into a cold arc.

If eyes could kill, Liam and Olive would have died a thousands times.

"Mr. Augustine, does Olive dislike me? I'm so sad. Olive is older than I am. I really think of her as a sister, Clara muttered aggrievedly.

Clara deliberately brought up their age difference in front of Elvis. She knew that Olive was a few years older than her, and men liked younger girls.

Elvis did not look at Clara. He said indifferently, "It's alright, as long as she is prettier than you."

Clara froze as she stared at Elvis in shock.

At this moment, Elvis turned and left. Before he left, he looked back at Clara, and said, "Shadows will always be shadows. You're only but a fake."

Chapter 562 The drama of catching adultery

Elvis dropped the words and left.

Clara froze. She felt like a basin of cold water had been poured on her. She felt extremely humiliated and embarrassed.

In the past three years, although Elvis had not promised her anything, he had been different to her. Clara had always been confident that she could walk by his side.

Originally, she had always thought that she was the perfect one for him. But now that Olive had returned, he ruthlessly kicked her, the counterfeit away.

Clara looked at Olive on the dance floor. Her eyes flashed with bitterness and anger.

At this moment, a maid walked over. Clara looked at the maid. The maid nodded and left.

Clara hooked her lips. The show was about to begin. When Olive would lay on her brother's bed, she would see how she'll be able to fight with her! On the dance floor.

Liam held onto Olive's soft waist and said in a low voice, "Boss Augustine is gone. Let me guess, Olive looked up at Liam.

Liam pursed his lips, and continued, "If I guessed correctly, Mr. Augustine should be the man you fell in love with. I'm taking his woman away, right?"

Olive looked at Liam candidly, and replied, "King Liam, we only talk about cooperation, not feelings. This is my personal matter, so I have no comment."

Liam nodded and pretended that he was not offended by Olive's response.

"Then let's get back to business. This time you have provoked Clara. I don't think she'll let this slide," he said casually.

Olive furrowed her brows. "Well, King Liam can sit back and watch the play!"

The dance soon came to an end. Liam and Olive separated. Olive went to the bathroom.

Since the palace was extremely massive, Olive could not find the restroom.

She asked a maid, "Excuse me, where is the restroom?"

The maid respectfully said, "Princess Olive, please come with me."

The maid led the way, and Olive followed behind. Soon after, Olive heard a bell ring.

Olive's clear eyes quickly became hollow, as she mechanically followed behind the maid.

Soon, the maid opened the door of a room, and gestured for Olive to go in, "Princess Olive, please..."

Olive walked in.

Outside the room, Aaron arrived. The maid nodded at Aaron and left silently. Aaron was overjoyed.

Aaron walked into the room, he saw an antique screen. Through the screen, he could vaguely see at slender and graceful figure.

Chapter 62 The dams of catching adultery.

"Princess Olive, I'm here! Aaron announced, as he quickly rushed towards the slender figure.

At this moment, Clara was waiting outside. Everything was going according to plan and things were going well.

All that was needed to be done was for she and Liam to cooperate with each other to ensure that Olive would not be able to escape.

"Olive!" Clara suddenly shouted, "Olive, where are you? Olive!"

Clara's loud voice quickly attracted everyone's attention. Everyone ran over and asked with concern,

“Princess Clara, what happened?”

Clara panicked and said, “Have you seen Olive? She’s gone. No matter how hard I look, I can’t find her!”

What?

The disappearance of the Princess of Visionary was a big deal. Everyone started searching for Olive.

“Ah!” at this moment, a delicate voice suddenly sounded from the room behind Clara.

The voice was abrupt and full of ambiguity, so it quickly reached everyone’s eardrums.

Everyone immediately looked at each other. “Why does it seem like there is someone in this room? Could it be that Princess Olive is in there?”

“I find the voice strange. Is there another man in the room?”

At this moment, Liam walked over, and everyone quickly surrounded him.

“What if Princess Olive is having an intimate time with another man?”

Someone suddenly suggested.

“Impossible!” Clara immediately defended Olive.

“Olive is not that kind of person. Olive is the future Princess of Gold City. She will definitely not cheat on my brother!”

“Princess Clara, you’re just too trusting. How do you know that Princess Olive is as pure and kind as you claim?” Someone asked.

“I still don’t believe it. In order to prove Olive innocence, I’ll open the door of this room right now. Let’s go in together!”

Liam, whose fiancée was allegedly cheating on, stood by and watched the drama leisurely.

He understood all that was happening. He knew that it must be Aaron and Olive in the room. That way, Olive would have to marry Aaron.

But, was the person in the room really Olive? Liam was very curious. varvone.

At this moment, with a click, the room door was pushed open and Clara rushed in with “Olive?” she called out. She was certain that Olive was inside the room, because she had watched

Olive enter the room.

But in the next second, her pupils shrank and she halted.

There was indeed a man and a woman in the room. It was true that the man was Aaron, but the woman was not Olive!

Aaron was almost naked, he had his underwear on.

He held a woman in his arms and pulled her clothes desperately, kissing her on the face.

The woman's clothes were messy, and she tried to resist him. Her long fingernails scratched Aaron's body.

"Aaron, let me go. I'm Trixie, the daughter of Thomas Arthur, the chief guard! Let me go!" Trixie pleaded.

The people who rushed in were dumbfounded. They thought it would be Olive, but they did not expect that it would be Trixie, the only child of the chief army, Thomas Arthur.

Aaron was currently in charge of the army. As the chief army, and leader of the Royal Guard, Thomas Arthur was very prestigious and was Aaron's right-hand man.

Now that Aaron had attacked Thomas's daughter, everyone looked at each other in dismay.

Clara's expression changed drastically. She quickly said, "Bro, what are you doing? Are you drunk?"

Chapter 563 Wine

Initially, everything went very smoothly, and that made Clara less vigilant. She never expected that the person inside would be Thomas's only daughter, Trixie.

As the leader of the Royal Guard, Thomas had been in power for forty years.

When Logan handed over the Imperial guard to Aaron, although Thomas didn't quite resonate with Aaron's ways, he still wholeheartedly served and supported Aaron.

Aaron was incompetent, and he was all dependent on Thomas.

Trying to make out with Trixie, was not a good move.

Clara quickly ran forward. She had already blamed 'drunkenness', as the reason for Aaron's actions, in order to minimize the harm.

She reached out to pull Aaron away, "Bro, how much alcohol have you drunk? This is Miss Arthur, hurry up and let her go!"

Since everyone was present, Clara knew that she had to take Aaron out of the place immediately.

But Aaron didn't listen to her. Instead, he tightly hugged Trixie, and muttered dirty foul words,

"Princess Olive, come on, don't be too uptight. From the first day I saw you, I fell in love with you. That time, all I wanted doing was stripping off your clothes, and ruthlessly riding you under me."

"Princess Olive, what's so good about Liam? Why do you want to marry him? Just wait. One day, I'll ruthlessly trample Liam under my feet. I'll have him bow before your feet. I will definitely satisfy you better than Liam!" Aaron added hysterically.

The audience gasped. The guests who came to the palace party today were all the princes, princesses and the powerful officials of Greenland.

"My God, did I hear that right? His Royal Highness Aaron, actually wants Princess Olive?"

"Princess Olive is the prospective Princess of Gold City, Aaron's sister-in-law. This is really...against human ethics!"

"Is that all you heard? Didn't you hear just now that His Royal Highness Aaron, wants to ruthlessly trample highness Liam under his feet?"

"Hey, you better not say that anymore. The two princes are involved in the battle for imperial power. His Royal Highness Aaron seemed to have won King Logan's favor!"

"Speaking of which, I really admire Molly. I really don't know the love poison that she used in making the king favor her son, His Highness Aaron so much," whispers were heard.

All of these comments reached Clara's ears. Her father, Logan, had protected Aaron all his life, and no one dared to utter a word against him.

But now that it was obvious that Aaron was trying to rape Trixie, everyone's anger was instantly stimulated.

Clara immediately realized the seriousness of the situation. She hastily ran to the bathroom, she hurried out with a bucket of water, and then she poured the water on Aaron.

Immediately the cold water was poured on Aaron, he swiftly let go of Trixie and he instantly regained his senses and sobriety.

08.16

“Who dares to pour cold water on me! I’ll kill that person, and wipe away his entire lineage!” Aaron’s eyes were red as he cursed fiercely.

An old official quickly said, “His Royal Highness, it’s not us who threw the water on you. It’s your sister, Princess Clara, who poured the water on you!”

Only then did Aaron realize what had happened. He looked at Clara and saw that Clara’s face was gloomy.

He turned and looked at Trixie again.

“Miss!” At this moment, Trixie’s maid ran over and quickly draped a coat over Trixie’s body.

Trixie was embarrassed and she wrapped herself in her coat. Her eyes were red, and she stared at Aaron with disgust and hatred.

Aaron was stunned. He quickly said, “Trixie why are you here? Princess Olive, where...”

“Brother, that’s enough!” Clara yelled loudly.

Aaron realized that he had said something wrong. If he asked about Olive, everyone would know that he planned on raping Olive.

Clara wanted to quickly solve the solution. But an issue of such topic, could only be handled privately. She knew she had to deal with it, before things got out of hand!

“Here I am,” a soft voice suddenly sounded.

Everyone instinctively turned their heads and saw that Olive had finally appeared!

Seeing Olive appear safe and sound, both Aaron and Clara’s expressions changed,

A thought quickly flashed in Clara’s mind. She couldn’t understand how Olive was able to bypass the bell’s seduction. The bell’s spell was so strong that no one could escape.

How did Olive escape?

Clara could only suppress her doubts and waited until she returned to the ham to ask her mother.

Olive walked in and stopped beside Liam. She raised her bright eyes and looked at Liam. She asked ignorantly, “King Liam, what happened?”

Liam looked at Olive who was beside him. She had actually used a trick to escape from the spell. She was really beautiful.

Now, she acted like she was oblivious of what had happened.

“Oh, just now, His Highness Aaron drank a little wine and something happened,” Liam replied.

“He was drunk?” Olive suddenly sniffed around. “But I don’t smell alcohol. My Royal Highness, I’m afraid everyone is drunk. It seems that Greenland is very unsafe. If anything happens to me in Greenland in the future, everyone will have to keep their eyes on His Royal Highness Aaron.

After Olive’s words, everyone began whispering again.

“As expected, it was His Royal Highness Aaron that was coveting Princess Olive. But unfortunately, Miss Arthur came in and not Olive.”

“His Royal Highness is really relying on the King’s favor to do whatever he wants. He is still His Highness now, if he really became the King, I’m afraid of what might happen...”

“Don’t you know about His Aaron’s romantic affairs? I heard that he raped a little girl to death some time ago.”

When Olive arrived, the public opinion intensified. Aaron became the target of public criticism. Everyone was pointing fingers at him. His expression was extremely ugly.

More importantly, he would not be able to deal with Olive in the future.

Chapter 564 Visionary Has A Daughter

Olive used the situation to reveal his pedophilic and perverted attributes to the entire world.

All eyes were on him now. Aaron did not dare to make another move.

Tonight’s plan was not only unsuccessful, it was a fiasco.

Olive had won the first battle.

Aaron had seen Olive’s methods. She declared to him that she was no ordinary person.

At this moment, Trixie could not bear the humiliation. She wrapped her coat tightly and ran away with her eyes reddened.

“Miss!” her maid quickly chased after her.

Aaron suddenly had a splitting headache. Tonight, he did not go to bed with the woman he wanted, but he ended up getting into a lot of trouble.

Trixie was the daughter of his right-hand man, Thomas. How was this mess going to end?

“Get out of the way, don’t get in my way!” Aaron roared in a bad mood, and then swaggered out.

The powerful officials looked at Aaron’s arrogant figure and shook their heads one after another, and then they followed behind him in disappointment.

Everyone soon dispersed. Clara perfectly understood what had happened. In this game, her brother Aaron had completely lost the people's love.

Clara looked at Olive. The usual smile she often wore, was not visible on her face, as she glared coldly at Olive.

Liam suddenly whispered to Olive, "Olive, I'll be waiting outside for you."

"Okay" Olive nodded.

Liam walked out.

Now, there were only Olive and Clara left in the room. Clara sneered, "Olive, you really opened my eyes today."

Olive raised her small hand and tucked a strand of hair behind her ear. She smiled and said, "Princess Clara, tonight is just the beginning."

The battle had already started silently.

Clara stepped forward and came to Olive's side. "Olive, you just want to marry Liam and be the Princess of Gold City. Then Elvis, you really don't want him anymore, right? If you don't want him, I will continue to be his woman."

Olive looked at Clara's provocative gaze, she scoffed, and responded, "Then why haven't you made Elvis to fall in love with you in the past three years?"

You couldn't handle him when I was away. Now that I'm here, where did you get the confidence to yell in front of me?

"How dare you!" Clara questioned angrily.

H

Olive smiled lightly. "Elvis is very charming, right? His handsome, wealthy, powerful, and has achieved all that there is for a human to achieve. You like him, and that's not a problem. But for the past three years, you've been imitating me, trying to copy my demeanor..." Olive halted and chuckled.

"But, do you really understand Elvis? A man like Elvis is deep, reserved, and powerful. No one can decipher what he thinks. In fact, the more you've done in the past three years, the more exposed you are. In his eyes, he knew that you were pretending to cute. He looked at your poor acting skills and classified you as a clown."

"You know nothing, and you're still complacent about the difference and tenderness he gave you. In the past three years, he has been around all kinds of women. Why didn't he touch you? It's not that you can't satisfy him, but in his heart, you don't even have the qualifications to lay on his bed. After all, women who deliberately pretend to cute are even more ridiculous, pitiful and irritating."

"That's right, Clara. In Elvis's eyes, you've always been stupid!" Olive added ruthlessly.

Clara's face was pale. She looked at Olive in shock. No, she did not believe what Olive said.

"Olive, don't talk nonsense, I don't believe you," she rebuked Olive.

"It doesn't matter if you want to deceive yourself and others, as long as you are happy," Olive replied. With that, Olive turned around and left.

Olive left the palace and met Liam outside. Liam had been waiting for her.

"Princess Olive, is this your gift to me?" Liam questioned with a laugh.

Olive nodded, "That's right."

"My father was already furious inside. I'm afraid this is the first time that Molly's family has suffered any scandal in recent years. Although it's cool, have you ever thought that Thomas is very stupid and loyal? In order to solve this matter, Thomas and my father will take advantage of the situation to marry Trixie to Aaron,"

Olive stood under the eaves and looked at the green mountains in the distance.

She suddenly said, 'How do you think Thomas Arthur will be loyal to you?'

Liam paused.

Olive slowly said, "If you want Thomas to be loyal to you, you would directly have to fight against Aaron. At least, half of the Imperial Army will be surrendered to you. What do you think?"

Liam slowly narrowed his dark eyes. He looked at Olive, and replied, "Thomas is an ignorant and loyal person. His thoughts are deeply ingrained. To be loyal to me is to betray the royal family. Will he agree?"

"Then, what did the king of Gold City think I gave him as a gift? The gift I gave you was Thomas," after speaking, Olive nodded slightly and left.

"Master," Liam's confidant said in a low voice, "Does princess Olive really have a way to deal with Thomas?"

Liam raised his head and looked at Olive, who had already walked further from them.

Olive wore a black cape over her white gauze skirt.

There was a black luxurious nanny car parked across the street. The female official of Visionary. Sadie, respectfully opened the rear door. Olive got into the car and the nanny car sped away.

Liam stared at Olive's calmness and splendor, and slowly said, "Do you remember that wandering

08:16

Chapter 564 Visionary Has A Daughter
monk back then?"

The confidant nodded. "Of course, I remember that when the King was born, the wandering monk once pointed to the brightest star in the sky and said that the emperor Star had already appeared, and in the future, he will rule the world.”

Liam continued, “You don’t know that the wandering monk said something after that.”

“What?”

“The wandering monk pointed at a dazzling star and said that Visionary has a daughter, and the world is absolutely beautiful, with her as the ruler.

The confidant was shocked. Visionary had a daughter. Could it be that the monk meant Olive?!

Royal Palace.

Logan was furious. He smashed a lot of things, and even reprimanded Aaron, “How could I give birth to such a useless thing as you? You can’t when handle Olive. Your affair with the daughter of the Arthur family has been spread all over the world, and it has been printed in various newspapers, making several headlines! Do you know the disgrace you’ve brought upon the royal family?”

Chapter 565 Demagogic Charisma

Aaron lowered his head and did not dare to retort. He could only whisper, “Father, I can only blame Olive for being too skilled. I didn’t expect her to escape...”

“Shut up!” Logan did not want to listen to Aaron’s words at all. He felt that compared with Joyce’s daughter, Olive, his son was completely useless. Logan was so angry because they had all been tricked by Olive. At his palace party, Olive displayed a beautiful play. The plan for was for Aaron to marry Olive, but now it seemed like he would be marrying Trixie.

Logan angrily threw an antique vase again. He felt unhappy and even went up and kicked Aaron several times.

Aaron who was being kicked couldn’t help but scream and beg for mercy. He had never seen his father angry like this since he was a child. He could only blame Olive.

Thinking of Olive’s stunning face, her courage and strategy, he knew that she was unparalleled in the world.

Logan was furious. All the servants stepped aside, not daring to utter a sound.

At this moment, a coquettish voice suddenly sounded in his ear, “Master, who is the one who made you lose your temper? Please calm down!”

Molly was here!

Molly had already given birth to two children. She was now around forty years old, but she did not look her age. Her face was devoid of wrinkles. She was born extremely beautiful and very exotic.

Upon closer inspection, there was a small bell tied around Molly's waist. This was where the bewitching sound of the bell came from.

Seeing Molly arrive, Logan slowly retracted his foot and let Aaron go. He sat on his chair and said angrily,

"Who else can make me angry, Molly? Can you see the son you gave me? I nurtured him and paved the way for him, but he just couldn't support the plan. Not only did he ruin my plan, he also left me with a big mess!

Molly stepped forward, she took out her silk handkerchief and wiped the sweat on Logan's forehead. She whispered softly, "My lord, this matter was not handled well by Aaron, I will reprimand him!"

Logan immediately smelled the fragrance on Molly's silk handkerchief. This fragrance followed Molly like a shadow. He had smelled it for many years, and now, he was very dependent on it.

It was as if he would lose his mind if he didn't smell this fragrance for a day.

Logan's angry temper immediately eased, but he still snorted coldly.

Molly sat beside Logan, she clinged to Logan's shoulder seductively, and she said,

"Master, this has happened. Trixie is Thomas's only daughter. And he has been the leader of the Imperial Army for more than forty years. He has a group of loyal soldiers. He is a very important person in the army. In fact, the Lord has long wanted to marry Trixie to Aaron as his wife. Now is the right time. Let's take this opportunity to marry Trixie to Aaron."

Chapter 565 Demagogic Chanama

Molly's remarks won Logan's heart. Logan suspected that he was getting weary, and was afraid of people snatching his country from him. He relied on Thomas, hence the reason he had previously planned to marry Thomas's daughter, Trixie, to Aaron, so he could be guaranteed of Thomas's loyalty. Logan stretched out his hand and hugged Molly in his arms. In recent years, he had become fond of Molly. Molly was also his adviser.

"However," Logan muttered worriedly.

"Thomas has only Trixie, and he dotes on her very much. Although Aaron's affair was suppressed, Thomas is aware of it. Thomas would definitely not be willing to marry his daughter to Aaron," Logan added.

Molly slowly trailed her fingers on Logan's chest. "If Lord Logan directly declares the marriage and announces it to the world, could it be that Thomas can still resist?"

Logan reached out and grabbed Molly's chin, "What if Thomas actually resists the decree?"

A weird smile appeared on Molly's face, "Then take him down on the charge of treason. And also take him down for helping to destroy families under Aaron's regime!"

Logan's eyes lit up. He laughed and kissed Molly forcefully, "A brilliant plan! What a brilliant plan!"

Aaron finally breathed a sigh of relief when he saw that Molly had successfully coaxed his father.

"Olive, let's see!" he muttered, as he arrogantly arranged his clothes.

At dusk.

Olive had already taken a shower. She was sitting in front of the dressing table. The female official, Sadie, took a comb and helped Olive comb through her silky hair.

In the mirror, Olive's face that had just been washed looked fresh and clean.

"Here it is," Olive put down her pen and looked at her painting with satisfaction.

Sadie glanced at it. Olive drew a bell. The bell was not an ordinary bell. It looked a little weird.

"Your Highness, what are you drawing?" Sadie asked.

Olive thought for a while, and then she said "I heard a bell ring in the palace.

There was a demagogic charm in the bell. I pretended to walk into the room and then secretly escaped. At that time, I went to the maid. I glanced at her waist and saw this bell. There must be something strange about this bell. I'll take a photo and show it to my mum. Mum will definitely know what it is."

Sadie quickly brought out her phone. Olive took a picture and sent it to a phone number.

Joyce's reply soon came in, "Where did this bell come from?" she asked.

"It belongs to the Theodores," Olive replied.

"This is the demon bell of the water, Joyce responded.

Demon bell?

This was the first time Olive had heard of this. She had a lot of questions. She was about to send another message, but Joyce's text message had already arrived,

Joyce was busy, and was probably with Annabelle.

"Mum, are you with Aunt Annabelle in Greenland yet?" Olive inquired.

At this moment, Sadie reported in a low voice, "His Royal Highness, Logan, has officially announced the marriage between Trixie Thomas and his son, Aaron Theodore."

Logan's speed was very fast, and the marriage edict came down immediately. However, Aaron's riot at the palace party had already spread to the public like a clamor, and he could not suppress it.

Sadie said, "Princess, while Logan issued the marriage edict, he also ordered that the news flying around about Aaron should be instantly disregarded. They invited the navy and they are at standpoint to arrest anyone who is caught spreading the information. It seemed that in a while, everyone will forget about what Aaron did."

Olive slowly folded the demon bell's drawing paper. She hooked her red lips, "How can it be so easy for everyone to forget about what he did? It seems that tonight will be a sleepless night for many people. Sadie, prepare the car," Olive ordered.

"Princess, where do you want to go?" Sadie asked.

Olive smiled, and replied, "I wanna find someone."

The Arthur's family.

Trixie was standing in the back garden when the maid hurried over. "Miss, this is not good. Just now, someone brought news from the palace. The marriage edict has been issued. You're to marry Aaron."

Trixie knew that her father loved her so much, but she sarcastically and gloomily hooked her lips.

"I already guessed that this would be the result. In order to please the public, my lifelong happiness has to be sacrificed."

"Miss, don't worry. Master loves you so much. You haven't agreed to the marriage yet. Maybe Master won't agree."

Trixie gently shook her head. "My father has been an idiot and loyal all his life. He has been loyal to the royal family, and probably won't go against them.

"Then what should we do? Miss, why don't we... think about it from a different angle. His Royal Highness is the only one who is favored by the Lord. He is a popular candidate for his successor. He'll definitely respect you and love you."

At this moment, Trixie snorted coldly, "Other people might not know who Aaron is, but I do! Aaron has a dirty heart. His room is always filled with women. There was a young girl who was unwilling to his advances, and he had raped and buried her a while ago. I'm so disgusted at the thought of marrying such a man."

The maid was speechless. “Miss, what should we do now?”

Trixie raised her head and looked at the cloudy sky. “What else can I do? I can only accept my fate. Whoever made me the daughter of the Arthur family, knew that this would be my fate.”

The maid could only sigh as she looked at the scowling young lady.

At this moment, a beautiful and melodious voice suddenly sounded, “I heard that the daughter of the Arthur family have been different since she was a child.”

Chapter 566 Do you really want to marry him?

Trixie turned around. She immediately saw a slender figure under the pear tree in front of her. The figure was covered with a black cloak and hat.

Because the light was very dim, she could not see her face.

“Who are you? You’re bold, this is the residence of the chief army of Royal Family. How did you get in here? Leave quickly!” the maid shouted in shock. However, Trixie quickly raised her hand. “Stop screaming. It’s not someone else, but Princess Olive”

What, Princess Olive of Visionary?

At this moment, the figure under the tree slowly raised her slender hands and brushed the hat off her head, revealing a stunning little face.

Olive was here!

When Trixie saw Olive, she knew it was her at first glance. Trixie had met Olive at the palace party.

“Do you know how much you’ve hurt me?” Trixie suddenly asked, her face displaying sadness.

Olive wore a blue shirt and blue jeans under the black cape.

Olive looked at Trixie, and said, “Miss Arthur, we are all smart people, so we don’t need to beat around the bush. If I didn’t invite you to the game, wouldn’t you still have been in it? You won’t tell me that you didn’t know that the Lord was already planning your marriage to Aaron, or would you?”

Trixie instantly felt her heart ache as she listened to Olive’s words. Just now, she said that as the daughter of the Arthur family, she already knew her fate.

“Princess Olive, the lord wants me to marry Aaron. What about you? You just want my father to submit to the Liam, the King of Gold City. Am I wrong?”

Trixie asked, as she looked at Olive provocatively.

Olive’s bright eyes were extremely clear. She nodded slightly. “Very good, it seems that Miss Arthur already knows my purpose.”

Trixie scoffed, and she clenched her fist.

Olive stood beside Trixie. She looked up at the dark sky, “Miss Arthur, do you really want to marry Aaron?”

“I don’t want to,” Trixie replied without hesitation, “But if I don’t marry him, the Lord will definitely use this as an excuse to attack my family. And then, the Arthur family will be in danger.”

Olive slowly raised her red lips and laughed lightly.

Trixie looked at her, and asked confusingly, “Princess Olive, what are you laughing at?”

“I’m laughing at you, because you can’t see the current situation clearly, why can’t you see the future. situation? Even if you get married to Aaron, wouldn’t the Arthur family still be in danger? Logan suspects that he’s getting weak, and Aaron is...not so good of a son. How could he allow the Arthur family to be wiped away?”

Trixie’s face turned pale and she quickly closed her eyes.

“Miss Trixie, I’ve said everything I need to say. Your fate is in your hands. If your fate is unfair, why would you accept it instead of fighting against it?” Olive added and slowly disappeared from sight.

“Miss,” the maid called out and stepped forward. “What are you going to do? Do you really want to choose...the king of Gold City?”

Trixie opened her eyes. She looked at Olive’s figure and she slowly shook her head. “No, I don’t chose Prince Liam, I chose princess Olive!”

Dawn the next day.

Olive came to the palace and played a game of chess with Liam.

Chapter 567 Princess Olive Is Really Awesome

Liam held a white chess in his hand. He glanced at Olive. Today, Olive wore a baggy trousers, and a white shirt. On Olive’s ears were a pair of earrings which had a design of a safety lock. Her long pure black hair fell obediently over her shoulders, and her milk-white skin exuded a lustrous luster.

Right now, Olive held a black chess in her hands.

Liam smiled and said, “Princess Olive, I found out that your clothes and ornaments in Visionary are exquisite and eye-catching and very beautiful. For example, I have never seen this safety lock earrings in the market.”

As the King of the Gold City, Liam had seen a lot of rare things, but he had never seen this style of earrings that Olive wore.

Olive blinked mysteriously, and replied. "Of course, you haven't seen it on someone else, because my aunt customized it for me."

"Oh, I don't know who Princess Olive aunt is. I know quite a few top jewelry designers."

"My aunt is amazing. I can't mention her here. I'm afraid that it will scare King Liam," Olive responded with a laugh.

Liam knew that Olive was unwilling to reveal her aunt's identity, so he did not force it.

"Visionary is a paradise. The girls in it all dress like me. They are beautiful. My mother said that girls are born beautiful, so my mum specifically designs our outfit. While the accessories are designed by my aunt," Olive straightened her chest and exuded a little pride.

Liam listened carefully, but he did not utter a word in response. In the past, Visionary was close to Greenland, but for some unknown reasons, Visionary completely disappeared.

This disappearance was about a hundred years ago.

This time, Olive had chosen to cooperate with him for some purpose..

"Princess Olive, you're calmly playing chess here with me, are you not worried about the Arthur's family at all? Early this morning, Aaron's dowry was delivered to the Arthur family. I heard that there were dozens of dowry gifts. The boxes all contained high-quality jewelry. It seems that the marriage will be finalized very soon," Liam said.

Olive dropped a chess piece. She smiled calmly. "King Liam, don't worry."

"I also heard that Princess Olive visited the Arthur family last night and met with Trixie," Liam continued.

Olive raised her eyes and looked at Liam. She nodded, "King Liam is really well-informed."

"Wouldn't it be too hasty to put all the bets on Trixie?" Liam asked with furrowed brows.

Olive looked at her chess piece. "I have no regrets. I chose Trixie for my own reasons. I don't need to suspect anyone. I believe her."

Liam looked at Olive's clear eyes. Her eyes were really beautiful, and they shone with intelligence and determination.

"Okay, then I'll wait and see, Liam replied in surrender.

The two of them focused on playing the chess. Soon, Liam's confidant rushed over and whispered at few words in Liam's ear.

Liam's hand suddenly froze.

Liam looked up at Olive, "Princess Olive, congratulations, you've won the bet."

Olive put down her chess piece and looked at Liam, "Inform me," she muttered.

“I just got the news. Aaron sent dozens of boxes of dowry to the Arthur family. However, the Arthur family’s backyard was on fire. It turned out that Trixie set her boudoir on fire and left a letter, and then she disappeared.”

Olive raised her delicate eyebrows. “What was the content of the letter?”

“In the letter, Trixie scolded Aaron. She listed all of Aaron’s romantic affairs over the years. She said that she would rather die than marry someone like him. Everything he had done that had been suppressed, Trixie exposed all of it in details. Now that this story has been ruthlessly exposed, everyone is talking about the crimes of Aaron.”

Olive wasn’t surprised. When Derrick Domino chose Trixie for her, she knew that Trixie would be of great value to her.

Olive picked up her black chess, and now, a few strands of her hair fell from behind her snow-white ears, covering her face slightly.

“Prince Liam, I won’t be leaving today, let me prepare a delicious meal. I’ll be having my friend over,” Olive informed.

“Your friend? What friend?” Liam asked curiously.

Olive did not look up. “King Liam, don’t worry, my friend will be here soon.”

At this moment, a series of footsteps sounded, and Sadie walked in with someone.

“Princess Olive, your guest has arrived.”

Olive raised her head and looked at Liam, “King Liam, my friend is here already!”

The person behind Sadie stepped forward, “Princess Olive, King Liam, I’m here.”

Liam’s black eyes shrank slightly, because it was no one else but Trixie! Trixie had burned down her boudoir and left a letter exposing Aaron’s numerous Liam had always maintained a neutral position. He was the most capable of fighting for imperial power by cooperating with Olive, but he did not agree to cooperate.

Now that Olive had openly brought Trixie to his palace, he was afraid that the royal family would have gotten the news and he would now be on their enemy’s list.

Liam looked at Olive with sharp eyes and smiled.

“Originally, you had no advantage, but you actually stirred up the entire situation with one person’s strength, throwing the entire Royal family into a state of chaos. You’re really amazing!”

“King Liam, don’t be ridiculous. Now, there is no turning back for King Liam.

As she said that, Olive lowered her eyes and took away his chess piece. Her beautiful voice was sonorous and powerful, revealing a bit of courage, “I have already paved the way for King Liam. Why are you still hesitating about running towards imperial power?!”

Liam looked at Olive’s clear eyes. Now that she looked at him, her eyes gradually revealed it’s sharpness, as they exuded an incomparable brilliance.

Liam looked at Olive and was actually taken aback.

After a while, Liam slowly raised his thin lips, and said, “Princess Olive, do I still have already been invited aboard by you. I can’t leave even if I want to.”

“The matter of Miss Trixie’s disappearance has already caused a public uproar. In order to stabilize the situation, Logan must have been detained Thomas...”

“Princess Olive, is my father in danger?” Trixie quickly asked.

At this moment, Sadie stood up and said, “Miss Trixie, when Logan was about to detain your father, your father suffered a myocardial infarction and fell to the ground on the spot.”

What?

Trixie’s expression changed drastically. She turned around and walked towards the door.

“My father only has one daughter. I’m going back now to visit my father,” she declared.

Trixie was about to rush out, but at this moment, another person walked in. It was Thomas.

“Father, why are you here? Didn’t you have a sudden myocardial infarction and fell to the ground? your body seriously injured?” Trixie questioned nervously.

Thomas was now sixty years old, but as a military general, he was in good spirits. It was a pity that he had been humiliated. He was dressed in black and came in a disguise.

Seeing that his daughter was fine, Thomas fixed his gaze on Olive, "Trixie, this is all arranged by Princess Olive"

"What does this mean?" Trixie was puzzled.

Olive put down her chess piece and stood up. She walked in front of Thomas and Trixie. She smiled and said.

"Miss Arthur, I visited you last night and also visited your father, but your father was loyal to the royal family and immediately kicked me out."

Thomas recalled the scene from the previous night, he narrated, "At that time, Princess Olive had already walked to the door, but she stood outside the door and said something to me. She said that there will definitely be an accident tomorrow. If they happened to detain me, they would definitely put me to death to avoid future troubles." he paused and then continued,

"At that time, I rebuked Princess Olive angrily. I thought that I, Thomas Arthur, who had served in the Imperial Army for more than forty years and was loyal to the Lord, wasn't ever going to be treated that way!"

By listening to his narration, Trixie could imagine how intense the meeting between Olive and her father had gone. Her father was foolish and loyal.

"Father, what happened next?" she asked.

"Then..." Thomas recalled the event of the previous night.

"Princess Olive had scolded me," he added.

"Oh, this is getting more and more interesting. The king is also very interested in knowing how Princess Olive scolded the leader of the army." Liam asked curiously.

"At that time, Princess Olive pointed at me and yelled angrily. She called me a stupid pig!"

Liam and Trixie couldn't help but laugh. In their entire life, Olive was the only person who dared to point at Thomas and also scold him.

www

"I didn't expect that Princess Olive would not only be witty, but also brave enough to rush into other people's homes to scold them, Liam joked.

Olive shuddered for a moment. "King Liam, no time for jokes here," she warned.

At this moment, Thomas continued, "Princess Olive called me a stupid pig, and then scolded me. She said my death would be pitiful, because once I die, Logan and Aaron would definitely kill all the good generals who had followed behind me over the years. And that it was unfair to let them die!"

"She went on to say that my daughter, Trixie, who would have lost me, her father, to death, would. become a fugitive in this country. And that if I fail to protect my family, what would I say to my ancestors?"

"She reminded me of the cruelty and inhumanity that King Logan and Aaron exuded. She made me realize that I was deliberately ignoring their wickedness and clinging to my loyalty. She asked if I joined the military to protect only the Royal Family or the entire Greenland. After she was done speaking, she immediately walked away." Thomas reminisced.

Liam and Trixie were speechless. They turned and looked at Olive, who stood elegantly.

Trixie said, 'Princess Olive, my father is still your elder no matter what. You actually scolded my father so fiercely...'

"But," Trixie suddenly halted and laughed, "Why do I think your scolding is good, wonderful, and perfect-timing!"

When she said this, everyone laughed.

At this moment, Thomas stepped forward. He stood up straight, clenched his fists and nodded slowly, "Princess Olive, after listening to your words last night, I only feel that forty years of my life has been wasted."

Olive walked over quickly. She stretched out her two hands to support Thomas, "Mr. Arthur, I was rude last night. My apologies."

Thomas looked at Olive and said, "Princess Olive's courage were really admirable.

"King Liam, if you don't mind, I'll serve you in the future." Thomas declared, his eyes glued to Liam. Liam quickly smiled and said, "With the help of the Army's leader, the king will definitely succeed." "King Liam, my gift has already been delivered. King Liam, please treat Mr. Arthur and Miss Arthur to a good meal. I'll go ahead now," Olive walked away with Sadie.

Seeing Olive's figure disappear from his line of sight, Liam sat back on the chessboard.

"Mr. Arthur, please take a seat."

Thomas sat opposite Liam, while Trixie left with the maid.

"Mr. Thomas, what do you think of Princess Olive?' Liam asked.

Thomas pondered for a while. "Princess Olive is not someone to mess around with. In the future, I am afraid that she will become unstoppable. After all, who said that women are inferior to men!"

Chapter 569 An Unplanned Visit

Liam nodded, "I think so too. After all, Princess Olive is from Visionary."

Thomas asked, "King Liam, you are working with Princess Olive. I wonder what Princess Olive wants?"

Liam shook his head, "Princess Olive hasn't told me that either. I have a feeling that what she wants should be in the royal family, and it's related to the secret of the disappearance of Visionary back then. Mr. Thomas, you have been the chief army for more than forty years, are you familiar with Visionary?"

"Visionary has been gone for a hundred years. I'm not familiar with it, but..."

Thomas was about to say something but he stopped.

"But what?" Liam probed.

Thomas lowered his voice and said, "I once saw a secret scroll in the palace. It has the records of Greenland and Visionary."

"Mr. Thomas, please continued," Liam urged.

"Greenland and Visionary have a history. Our ancestor and the ancestor of Visionary were a couple. The ancestor of Visionary was a legendary woman. Not only did she have the heaven-defying medical skills, she was also able to train wolves."

Hearing Thomas's last sentence, Liam's eyes lit up.

Thomas continued, "The ancestor of Visionary used a wolf's iron cavalry to open up territory for our ancestors, and they jointly created Greenland. But I don't know what happened between the two of them. And the ancestor of Visionary, went ahead and created her own kingdom, Visionary"

"It is said that the ancestor of Visionary had a three-petaled flower on her forehead. The three-petaled flower seemed to be a birthmark."

"Empress flower? Liam muttered.

Liam nodded, "Yes, Empress Flower, I heard that this Empress Flower is not owned by every queen of Visionary. To the best of my knowledge, Olive is the second person to have the empress flower!"

Liam studied Thomas for a while, and then he said, "Mr. Thomas, you seem to be quite afraid of this scroll."

Liam nodded, "Yes, the secret scroll I saw back then was missing many pages, so I didn't see the entire story, but I saw the ending."

"What ending?"

"The ending is that before the ancestor of Visionary died, she used her blood as a curse and left a prophecy. She predicted that a hundred years later, the second king of Visionary would be born. And there would be no demise."

"This ending contained two important pieces of information. First, Visionary would give birth to a second king. Note that it was not a queen, but a king. Secondly, there was definitely going to be a battle between Greenland and Visionary, and it would be a bloody battle of life and death,” Thomas explained.

Chapter 569 An Unplanned Vist

Liam thought of the wandering monk. The monk once said that the emperor and the female star were born at the same time, and the world will usher in the era of double kings in the future.

If the king of Visionary was Olive, what about that of Greenland?

Thomas looked at Liam. “King Liam, you are actually the most capable of fighting for imperial power, but why are you always neutral?”

Liam’s face was devoid of emotions, “Because, I’ve been waiting for someone.”

“Who have you been waiting for?”

“I’m waiting for the person who really has the blood of a child, that is, the true ruler of Greenland,” Liam replied.

Thomas nodded in satisfaction.

“All these years, I’ve been secretly visiting the baby girl who was born at the same time as my father. That baby girl was my father’s sister. Unfortunately, all the clues back then were cut off. I haven’t found any traces.”

As he said that, Liam looked at the game of chess he had just played with Olive.

“Mr. Thomas, if I’m not mistaken, the missing pages on the secret scroll should be the incomprehensible war between Greenland and Visionary. There must be a desperate battle between our two countries. The princess is absolutely extraordinary. If we can’t find the true lord with the blood of a child, then our country is in danger.”

Thomas pondered for a moment and then he slowly said, “I met someone some time ago. This person is the girl who sent away the baby girl.”

“What? Where is that girl now?” Liam swiftly asked.

“That girl’s life was very unsatisfactory. I heard that she went to Imperial City and became a bar girl. Later, she married a rich man and became that rich man’s wife. That girl fell seriously ill. Fortunately, that girl gave birth to a daughter for that rich man. That daughter was very filial and sensible.”

Thomas responded.

Liam quickly stood up. “Where is that daughter now? If you guessed correctly, that daughter is not the rich man illegitimate daughter. That daughter is the princess of Greenland!”

“I heard that the daughter fled to Imperial City. Later, she was favored by a powerful man in Imperial. However, the marriage did not end well. The daughter finally jumped off the building into the river and disappeared without a trace.”

“Imperial City’ Liam recited inwardly. It turned out that the baby girl had been exiled to Imperial City, and she started a life there.

“Mr. Thomas, is that daughter dead?”

Thomas shook his head, “I don’t know about that either, but that girl is in my hands right now. She is already terminally ill and won’t survive for two days. If her daughter is still alive, she will definitely come back to visit her mother for the last time. We just need to wait and see!”

Liam nodded slowly, “Alright!”

Olive was done with Thomas ‘s matter, and now she was going to look for her mother, Joyce, and Aunt Annabelle.

This time, Joyce and Anabelle came to Greenland earlier than planned, because Anabelle’s biological mother was terminally ill and might not live for the next two days.

Chapter 570 Have You Seen Her Yet?

Annabelle was coming back to see her biological mother one last time.

Though Annabelle’s mother was dying, Joyce had taken her to have a coffee.

Olive was about to go and find Joyce and Anabelle. Sadie opened the door of luxurious car, and she said respectfully,

“Her Royal Highness, please get in the car.”

Olive was about to enter the car, but she suddenly stopped because she saw a tall and handsome figure in front of her. It was Alpha Augustine.

Olive knew that Alpha had been looking for Anabelle all these years. Now that Annabelle had appeared, Alpha had surfaced earlier than she thought he would.

Olive stepped forward and walked towards Alpha,

“Uncle Augustine, it’s been a while.”

There was an extended business luxurious car parked on the side of the road. Alpha stood tall and straight beside the car. He was wearing a black suit.

Alpha was a classy, handsome man.

Alpha was in his fifties this year. His handsome face also had wrinkles, but the wrinkles deepened his sense of maturity. Standing before the former proud son of the Augustine family, and the founder Augustine cooperation, Olive felt immature.

Alpha's narrow and deep eyes fell on Olive's face, then his eyes were fixed on the safety lock earrings hanging around on Olive's ears.

"Have you seen Annabelle yet?" he inquired.

The former daughter of the Midas family, Annabelle, had stunned the entire Imperial City. She broke into the jewelry industry at the age of eighteen. In recent years, Fly jewelry was still a big brand.

Anabelle left an indelible mark on the jewelry industry.

So when Alpha saw the safety lock earrings that dangled from Olive's ears, he immediately knew that it was something Anabelle designed.

Anabelle was extremely talented. Her creativity was unparalleled in the jewelry industry.

Olive shook her head, "Not yet."

Alpha's deep gaze fell on Olive's clear eyes again. He looked at her quietly. Olive calmly met his gaze and did not flinch.

Soon, Alpha's thin lips drew a shallow arc. "Really?" he asked with a smile.

"Uncle Augustine, I didn't lie to you. I haven't seen Aunt Annabelle yet.

According to the plan and itinerary, my mother and Aunt Annabelle should both come to my wedding with King Liam," Olive replied.

Though she was lying, there were still some truth in her words, as that was the initial plan. Alpha nodded, "That's fine. If you see her, let me know."

"Okay."

Chapter 570 Have You Seen Her Yet?

Alpha got into the extended business luxurious car and drove away.

He was gone.

Olive thought it was strange that he had been dismissed so easily. In her mind, she knew that Alpha was the darkest fox.

"Her Royal Highness, let's get in the car," Sadie said politely.

Olive got into her luxurious car and left.

What Olive didn't know was that Alpha's extended business luxury car did not really leave, but had parked across the road.

Through the bright glass window, Alpha glanced at Olive's car, which was speeding away. He turned his head to the little boy beside him.

"Nathan, it's up to you now, your mum must have contacted your grandmother. Help me track your mum's mobile phone signal source and locate your grandma's current location, Alpha said to him.

Nathan had arrived and was now sitting beside his grandfather, Alpha. He had seen his mum inside just now, but his mum had left.

“Grandfather, is this really okay? If mum finds out that I tracked her phone, mummy might not like me anymore,” Nathan murmured.

Alpha looked at Nathan and said, ‘Okay, Nathan, I’m not your mommy. You don’t need to pretend to be mute before me. Anyway, it’s not the first time for you to do this.’”

Nathan quickly furrowed his cold eyebrows, Grandfather, are you threatening me?”

Alpha leaned his stiff back against the sofa lazily, “You can also treat this as a negotiation.”

Nathan pondered about it for a while, Alright then, but Grandfather, you are not allowed to tarnish my reputation before mummy.”

Alpha nodded in agreement.

Nathan then turned on his phone. His little finger quickly moved on the buttons. A few minutes later, Nathan reported the address, “Hibiscus building.”
Hibiscus building?

Alpha’s secretary, Aiden, quickly and respectfully said, “Sir, the Hibiscus building is the largest shopping mall in Greenland. I heard that it is a paradise for women.”

“Let’s go!” Alpha ordered.

The Hibiscus building.

Alpha walked in with Nathan. Their presence attracted everyone’s attention.

There were already many women here, and everyone gathered to gossip.

“Wow, this little boy is so cute, I really want to hug him!”

“Come on, you want to hug the little boy, or the man? Can’t you see how handsome and charismatic he is?”

“Is that his son or grandson? There are so adorable!” the women admired.

Nathan raised his head and looked at Alpha. “Grandfather, they think I’m your son.”

Alpha did not even spare the women a glance.

Alpha couldn’t find the figure he was looking for, so he looked at Nathan, and asked,

“Where’s your grandma? Quickly lead the way.”

“Come with me,” Nathan took his phone and coldly walked in front of Alpha, leading him the way. In front, was a cloth store, and Levi sat on a sofa, as he waited for Anabelle to change. Several of the sales guides in the counter surrounded Little Levi, and tried to keep him company.

Levi was used to it. He had grown up with women since he was a child. He was already used to this kind treatments by women who wanted him to be their son.

Levi smiled sweetly, and said to the ladies, "You all are so young, how can you all possibly have a child as old as me?"
