Chapter 721

Chapter 721 He slapped her hard

Hearing Bounty's words, Lily was even more shocked. She had no idea what Bounty was talking about.

Lily caught the keyword. If Anabelle is here, Alpha won't be okay. If she is here, he will surely die. What's wrong with Alpha?

At that time, the emotional marriage path of Alpha and Anabelle was quite thorny and bumpy. First, on their wedding night, Anabelle ran away with Marcus and was caught by Alpha. Later, Anabelle took Marcus back to Red Velvet's room and was caught by Alpha in bed. This incident really brought them to a dead end.

During that period were days of great darkness and depression. No one dared to breathe. Alpha and Anabelle completely broke up and fell into a cold war.

Alpha hasn't returned to the Red Velvet room for a long time. Since his marriage, his life has been very pure and simple. Every day at two o'clock, he returns to the Red Velvet room unless he goes work. He doesn't even go on business trips. But after that, he doesn't return to the Red Velvet room anymore, often drunk.

Anabelle quickly became pregnant again, and she was pregnant with her second child, who was an illegitimate child according to Alpha..

One day, Lily found the right moment and found Alpha drunk in a bar, successfully climbing into his dragon bed and sleeping with him.

Of course, her belly was upbeat, and she quickly became pregnant with her son Marvin.

The person who benefited the most from that incident was her.

She and Anabelle became pregnant, respectively. The period of pregnancy is probably the time when she is happiest and most elated.

Because Anabelle wasn't favored but she was.

Naturally, she didn't pass up such a wonderful opportunity. She told Alpha, "Anabelle made a big mistake, and I worry about letting her raise Elvis. I'm Elvis' aunt, Alpha. Why don't you give Elvis to me and let him call me mom?"

In making this request, she felt she had gone too far. Although Alpha hates Anabelle, he loves her eldest son, Elvis.

But to her surprise, Alpha agreed.

She really knew how much he hated the illegitimate child Anabelle was pregnant with, to the point where he didn't hesitate to snatch Elvis away from her.

Then Elvis was sent and placed in her care.

He was only a few years old then, but soon he understood things pretty well. He didn't like her and just loved his biological mother. Once Elvis bit her, she got worried. Those days Alpha went on a business trip, so she took the opportunity to punish Elvis for kneeling outside.

It was raining heavily outside that night. The weak and stubborn Elvis knelt in the rain all night without bowing. The next day he collapsed and had a high fever of 42 degrees.

The high fever never went away. Elvis, who was already unconscious, kept calling, "Mom, mom."

Maybe it was a mother and son connection, that day, Anabelle rushed over and wanted to take him away.

Chapter 321 He slapped her hard

But Lily wouldn't allow it.

When the two sides went head to head, Alpha came back.

At that moment, Anabelle looked at Alpha with her red eyes and said, "Alpha, give me back Elvis!"

Alpha nonchalantly rejected her, "Go back!"

She collapsed, clenched her fists, "Alpha, I say it again. Give me back Elvis!"

"I'll say the same thing a thousand times. You won't see Elvis again in the future!"

Anabelle's whole body trembled. At this moment, in her hand suddenly appeared a sharp knife, the tip of the knife was close to her neck.

Alpha suddenly narrowed his dangerously narrow eyes, his handsome face turning so cold that almost dropped cold water.

Before Anabelle could make another move, he approached her with lightning speed and took the knife from her hand.

Then he raised his hand and slapped her hard.

That day, "bam", Alpha slapped Anabelle in the face.

The crisp slap echoed throughout the villa, making people scared and frustrated. This was the first time this man had gotten so angry in years.

He is the prince of the Augustine family and has the noble blood flowing in him.

He is cruel and arrogant. No woman can approach him, and he doesn't need to take action to deal with anyone.

However, he did hit Anabelle with his hand.

At that time, Anabelle's belly was protruding. During pregnancy, she not only didn't gain weight but also lost a lot of weight. Her whole body was like a precarious kite, which could fall at any time.

Being slapped in the face by Alpha, she fell to the carpet.

There was silence for a few seconds. Alpha stretched out his long legs and walked to Anabelle's side, squatted down, stretched out his big hand with sharp lines, pinched her small face with force, and aggressively asked: 'Tell me, where did you get the knife and what do you want to do with it? Don't tell me you don't want to live.'

Anabelle's small hand-sized face was squeezed by him. He squeezed so hard that her small face hurt so much that it disfigured, her whole body shaking with pain.

In Anabelle's eyes at that time, this man was the devil from hell, pushing everyone to hell.

She looked at him with her cold almond eyes and just looked at him like that.

The young man looked at her in the crowd with a look of amazement, the warm cat ears that he personally put on her under the plum tree that year, and all her vibrations and infatuations turned into pain and deep despair.

She looked at him, tears welling up in her eyes.

However, she didn't say a word.

Alpha stared at her, "Anabelle, you better not get yourself in trouble.

Otherwise, Elvis will be destroyed in your hands, do you understand? Now tell me, in the future, will you dare to hold a knife?

Her son Elvis is Anabelle's ultimate softness and obsession. She was touched by this weakness, and all her pain turned into deep fear. She shook her head repeatedly, "No, I won't... I won't dare...."

She said she wouldn't dare.

Chapter 721 He slapped her hard

Alpha's beautiful eyes moved. He suddenly reached out his strong arm, and pulled Anabelle' into his lap, embracing her forcefully.

He hated not being able to rub her into his own flesh and blood. His soft, thin lips kissed her hair then her red face. He asked, "Does it hurt? Did I hurt you just now?"

Anabelle's small hands hung at her sides. She was held by him like a broken doll, her beautiful pupils now losing focus, becoming blank.

Alpha raised his eyebrows and whispered hoarsely in her snow-white earlobe: "Be obedient in the future. If you're obedient, I won't hit you..."

At that time, Lily was looking at Alpha and Anabelle on the carpet. When he grabbed the knife just now, a wormhole was cut open and blood gushed out, but he didn't notice it

Chapter 722 Disobeying Again?

After that night, Alpha moved back to the Red Velvet room.

Lily was so depressed. She didn't know that she took Elvis and let Alpha and Anabelle successfully break the ice.

At that time, Anabelle's pregnancy was bigger and her body was very uncomfortable, but Alpha still stayed in her room every night..

But Lily knew that the rift between them was too great to mend, like an impassable abyss. Alpha couldn't forgive Anabelle's betrayal and the little illegitimate child in her womb. Anabelle also watched her stomach contract.

Lily had a good time with Alpha once. Even if it was only for one night, she was also pregnant with Alpha's child. The two sisters married a husband like a thorn that pierced Anabelle's heart, causing her pain.

Lily was nine months pregnant when she met Anabelle again. That day she went to the Red Velvet room and stood outside the door of the master bedroom.

In the master bedroom. Anabelle was sitting on a rattan chair. She hadn't seen her in a few months, she was too thin but her belly was very big and pointed. It is said that a pointed belly gives birth to a noble son. At the time, she always thought that Anabelle's second child would be a boy, but she was quite surprised to hear from Alpha that it was a girl.

At that time, Anabelle wore a white dress, her cold face was still ravishing but her mental state wasn't very good, her beautiful almond eyes were even more empty and lifeless.

The doctor examined her body and Alpha stood by his side. Very soon, the doctor whispered: "President Augustine, the baby in the lady's belly is very healthy. When I see the fetal movements and the B ultrasound, I see that she has a cold, quiet personality. In the future, her personality will definitely be more like the lady. She will be a talented girl, but...."

The doctor carefully looked at Alpha's expression, then continued: "Madam's health is very weak. Recently... recently, have you been.... in the same room? Madam is already nine months pregnant, so it's not so good to have sex. Mr. Augustine, please... pay more attention to her body and be more restrained."

The doctor stepped back.

At that time, standing outside the door and hearing these words, Lily could only enviously dig her nails into the palm of her hand. From what the doctor said, it could be seen that Alpha had a lot of sex with Anabelle, and he had no restraint.

But she only met Alpha once, and since he moved back to the Red Velvet room, she never saw him again.

When the doctor left, the master bedroom became very quiet. Alpha sat on the sofa and started looking at the document, and Anabelle took out her blueprint. Both said nothing.

At that time, Alpha was no longer working in the study. He moved his office to his room, watched Anabelle, and wondered if it was the time when she brought a knife that scared him so he was always with her.

Very quickly, the maidservant came in and laid out some delicate sweets: "Madam, since you were pregnant, you have always liked to eat sour food. Today I made some sweets with lemon and sour plum. Please try one of them."

The floor of the Red Velvet room was soft, and Anabelle's appetite was especially poor after she was pregnant with her second child. Alpha found the best chef and coaxed her to eat in different ways every day.

Anabelle reached for a lollipop and licked it several times.

In fact, she always thought that Anabelle was pregnant with a boy not only from the image of the fetus but also because Anabelle was acid-loving.

The maid stepped back, Alpha looked up at some point, and his gaze fell on Anabelle.

Immediately after, he put down the document, stood up, and walked over to her.

He looked at her condescendingly, asking, "Is the lollipop good?"

Anabelle raised her eyes and looked at him.

He reached out, and pinched her small jaw with two slender fingers, curling his thin lips, "Do you want more lollipops?"

Anabelle didn't understand at first, but after a few seconds her pupils constricted, and she quickly looked away.

Alpha pinched her small face, and turned her around: "Disobeying again?"

These days you always complain that you're not well, I can't bear to touch you anymore. Don't mess around here."

Anabelle wanted to push him away.

Alpha quietly said, "You don't want the baby in your belly anymore, do you?"

She was stunned, successfully threatened by him, from resistance to submission...

Anabelle always thought that her obedience would lead to a safe birth, but she underestimated the danger of Alpha. From start to finish, he never thought of holding this child even for a second.

Lily woke up from distant memories. She thought what she saw back then was the whole truth, but now she is confused. She feels that Bounty is hiding something from her.

“Bounty, what are you talking about? I don’t understand. What’s wrong with Alpha...? What do you mean he will die one day?” Lily asked.

Bounty turned and looked at Lily, “Sister-in-law, I’m sorry. I can’t tell you about this.”

“Why not? Bounty, do you still consider me an outsider? You can tell Anabelle but not me?” Lily purposely made a hurt face.

She realized that she was wrong. She thought that after that year’s incident, Bounty wholeheartedly considered her as her sister-in-law, but she didn’t.

Bounty’s face was pale, but she looked at Lily calmly, slowly pursed her lips, “Sister-in-law, do you think... on your wedding night, I didn’t know that you planned for Anabelle to run away with Marcus? You fooled my brother!”

What?

Lily felt like she was electrocuted, not expecting Bounty to know about this.

She exclaimed, “Bounty, I...I don’t understand what you’re saying!”

“Sister-in-law, you don’t have to pretend in front of me. I’m a medical student. I accidentally saw Anabelle’s mother in the hospital once. She was followed by the Midns family to manipulate Anabelle, right?”

“At that time, I was outside listening to you and your father talking. You said that why Anabelle, a lowly bastard girl, was favored by him, and was about to marry into the Augustine family as a young mistress? You admired my brother too and you wanted to marry him instead of her. So your father and you plotted to kidnap Marcus and put him in the cabin, then told Anabelle to go there and stage an escape in front of my brother.”

After hearing these words, Lily was scared to death. For the first time, she seriously looked at Bounty in front of her. She discovered she had never understood Bounty.

She thought Bounty was an arrogant lady, easy to deceive and take advantage of, but she forgot that Bounty was also an Augustine family!

Chapter 723 He has never forgotten her all these years

Only the Augustine family tricks others.

Turns out Bounty knew everything!

However, she didn't speak out.

"Bounty, you..." Lily said, looking at Bounty fearfully. If Bounty told Alpha about this, she and the entire Midas family would die, and there would be no place to bury them.

"Sister-in-law, rest assured. I didn't tell my brother about this before, and I won't tell him in the future, because Anabelle is not worthy. She isn't worthy of my brother's love!"

“However, I have turned a blind eye to you for so many years, most of the reason is because of Marvin. I like him so much. This is your greatest contribution to the Augustine family, sister-in-law. Even if it’s for Marvin, I will protect you and your ancestors. As long as you stay quiet in the future. and don’t act as a demon.”

Bounty really loves her nephew Marvin. Marvin hasn’t been close to Lily since childhood. Alpha was probably very indifferent and shunned Marvin, the youngest son because he didn’t favor Lily.

For a long time, when Bounty felt sad and couldn’t get over 11, Marvin was by her side.

Bounty still remembers one time she had a nightmare at night, dreaming of her dead son. She woke up from the nightmare, drenched in cold sweat. Around her was darkness and she was left alone. The pain caused her to collapse immediately. She sat on the bed hugging herself and crying bitterly. At this time, “clack,” the room door was pushed open. Marvin then very young, ran over with bare feet, climbed onto her bed, wrapped his small arms around her, patted her back and said in a childish voice: “Why are you crying? Are you injured? I will blow it for you and you won’t hurt anymore....

Marvin had given her the warmth and companionship she needed most on a cold night.

For many years after that, Bounty took Marvin everywhere she went.

In fact, Bounty knew who Lily was when she heard Lily’s father and daughter talking in the hospital that day. Compared to Anabelle who was amazingly cool and talented, Lily wasn’t even qualified to act as a shield.

Anabelle’s son, Elvis, has had a high 10 since childhood. He is the most like Alpha, and he has perfectly inherited the business talent of the Augustine family.

Bounty wasn’t optimistic about Marvin at first. He was born to Lily anyway, but Marvin shocked and surprised her.

Marvin has been close to Elvis since childhood. He doesn’t like business. He has had a talent for medicine since he was a child. At the age of 18, he was famous throughout Imperial and became the number one gold scalpel master. Bounty can give birth on her own. She has long considered Marvin as her own child and she is very proud of him.

Marvin’s personality is also very strange. He’s not like his father, Alpha, nor his mother, Lily, but he’s a lot like... Anabelle, who is cold and elegant.

Bounty has known about Anabelle and Marcus all these years, but she won’t reveal it because she hates Anabelle so much.

Lily’s whole body went cold, looking at Bounty in surprise. It was only then that she discovered that for all these years, Bounty had no respect and love for her at all. In contrast, Bounty was the first to ily froze when she heard the name "Olive" again. Olive reappeared.

No wonder Bounty has changed so much in just two days. It's all because of Olive!

Lily had previously fought Olive. She knows that Olive is scary. That girl is very delicate and meticulous. She is very good at deceiving people. Bounty is very fond of her.

Unexpectedly, Olive interfered in the affairs of the Augustine family!

Lily doesn't like Olive. Even though she risked her life to save Marvin three years ago, Lily still doesn't like her.

Marvin is 27 years old this year. With his current handsome form, many rich ladies want to approach and marry him, but Marvin doesn't like any girl. He

She knew, Bounty knew, and the Augustine family knew that Marvin never forgot Olive all these years.

She whispered, "I've been thinking a lot about this for the past two days. I was thinking if Anabelle loves my brother, why did she go to bed with... Rory. This is very contradictory..."

Remembering the traumatic past, Bounty quickly closed her eyes, "But what I witnessed with my own eyes can't be wrong. My child is gone..."

Bounty felt like her head was going to crack. She clutched her head in pain with both hands. Lily was scared to death. Everything was going on tonight as if she was about to deviate from her Olive!

All because of the appearance of Olive!

Lily quickly stepped forward and hugged Bounty, pretending to comfort her: "Bounty, don't think anymore. You're going to have a headache again. Rest well today."

At this time, Betty came over and helped Bounty: "Miss, let's go upstairs to rest."

Bounty already had a headache, but when Betty approached, she seemed to hear a bell ringing on Betty's body. This sound immediately made her feel like a pounding headache, unable to continue thinking.

Bounty's spirit was so bad, her face was as pale as paper. She let Betty help her upstairs.

When Lily went out, she felt a deep crisis. She didn't expect that Olive would interfere in the affairs of the Augustine family. This could be the beginning of a secret that has been hidden in the Augustine family for decades.

And when Olive returns, Marvin might come too. Lily really didn't want her son to have anything to do with Olive.

Lily has been such a good mother for so many years. No matter what she did in private, she would never tell Marvin.

Lily took out her cell phone and started contacting the person behind the scenes.

Lily knows that Nathan is a genius little ghost who is very good at locating and tracking, so she doesn't dare easily contact the person behind the scenes.

Now she doesn't dare to call, afraid of leaving clues to be discovered, only sending messages.

This text message is very safe. It will be chopped and deleted once it is read and can't be found.

Lily sent a message saying, "The situation has changed."

Just then there was a "ding," and a reply from backstage came, "Bounty won't live two more days, so don't worry."

Lily glanced at it, and the text message disappeared.

Bounty wouldn't live more than two days...

Lily's eyes narrowed. Although she doesn't like Bounty, Bounty is part of the Augustine family, and she can be influenced by that. Did the man behind the scenes really want to... do something with the Augustine family?

In fact, Lily had no idea who was behind the scenes. It was the person behind the latter who contacted her by phone first and revealed to her the childhood friendship between Marcus and Anabelle, which was the reason for what happened next.

Lily and this person backstage had never met before. The person behind is quite mysterious and powerful. His force seems to have entered their side early on and is ubiquitous. When Lily needed help the most, a hand reached out, so she cooperated with him.

Now the guy behind the scenes will attack Bounty, Lily is very scared. She is afraid that the trouble this time will be too big and she won't be able to escape,

She sent another message, "I don't want to be exposed."

"Ding," answered the other end of the line, "Don't worry. One arrow hits two targets. In addition to Bounty, I will eliminate Anabelle for you."

Remove Anabelle?

Lily's heart immediately fluttered. She hates Anabelle so much because she took everything from her. It would be great if there was no Anabelle in this world.

Now her biggest wish is about to come true. Lily's eyes suddenly lit up, the malice and greed in her heart still swallowed everything.

Lily walked arrogantly in her high heels.

Anabelle slowly opened her eyes and looked around bewildered. Where is she now?

She's still in Alpha's mansion, which is the guest room.

Now it's the next morning. The bright morning sunlight outside shone through the window curtains, bringing warmth into the room.

How did she sleep here again?

Anabelle sat up in shock. Now she felt pain all over her body as if she had been run over by a wheel.

This feeling isn't new to her. She had the same feeling after that wild dream before. Anabelle, who had been through this, of course, knew what this feeling meant.

She remembered last night's dream. Alpha entered her room, undressed her, and....

That dream was so real. The first time she had such a dream, she was still a bit uncertain, but if there was a second time, there must be something wrong with her.

After all, that's Alpha's personality. He is a mess. What could he have done to her?

She remembered drinking a cup of tea last night. Did Alpha send someone to put drugs in her tea, then give her...?

Anabelle was very angry. She had to ask him clearly. If he really treated her like that, he was... despicable and vulgar luxury-dressed beast!

After taking a bath, she quickly went out. Not seeing Alpha, she asked a servant, "Where's your master?"

"Go back, madam. He's in the bedroom."

Anabelle immediately ran to his bedroom in anger. She thought that in a moment, she would be cruel when she entered. If he still thinks that she is as easy to bully as many years ago, then he is sorely mistaken.

As soon as she reached the bedroom door, she stopped walking because, beside Alpha, there were other people in the bedroom, moreover a doctor.

The doctor wearing a white coat respectfully said: "Mr. Augustine, I just checked your body. The wound on your body hasn't healed yet. The fatal slash many years ago really hurt you. We have made a new drug. Please take it first and see how it works in the later stages."

Anabelle at the door,

She was very angry at first but now stiffened. She seemed to have forgotten a very important matter, which was that Alpha wasn't well!

The doctor is here now, and apparently, he's been treating it for years, but it doesn't seem to work.

If he can't be treated, then he won't be able to rape her. Anabelle was a little embarrassed:

Then what happened to her wild dreams?

He didn't do anything and these dreams were all her imagination. She had a wild dream about Alpha, and then hurriedly ran up to him to settle the accounts.

Anabelle's face immediately became hot. Her personality used to be cold and shy, now she just feels embarrassed and wants to find a hole to hide in the ground.

At this moment, the door suddenly opened, and Alpha's steady and straight body appeared in her line of sight. He asked, "What did you come here to find me for?"

Alpha is here.

Anabelle raised her head and met his long, narrow eyes. Now he looked at her straight and calm, very much like an innocent good person.

"I..." Anabelle had prepared a thousand words, but now she couldn't say a single word, and she didn't know what to say.

Alpha looked at her, suddenly curling his thin lips, "Why are you blushing?"

Chapter 725 Have you ever loved me?

Anabelle hastily covered her face with her hands, her face red. She said, "It has nothing to do with you. I'll go first."

She turned and left.

But Alpha's bony fingers reached out, gently pinching her face. He held her face, interestedly looking left and right, "What's wrong? Why are you blushing? Anabelle, what unhealthy thoughts are you having?"

"..." Although Anabelle was used to his preemptive blows, she was still speechless. "Let me go, I'll be back."

She wants to leave this place immediately. She won't come again in the future. No matter what, she won't come again.

But Anabelle hadn't moved yet, Alpha had taken a step forward, his hard chest blocking her. He asked, "Why panic? Anabelle, do you miss... the smell of men?"

What?

Cornered by him, she looked up at him in surprise. Just now... what was he talking about?

Did she miss... the smell of men?

Seeing her surprised and confused expression, Alpha felt amused. She hasn't changed in all these years.

Anabelle, a talented girl once famous throughout the Imperial, could be as cold as she wanted, like a fairy living in the clouds, free from the dust, but who knew she would blush easily in the arms of a man and dodge like a deer?

He loved to tease her. He did and still does.

"Did I guess wrong? Of course, you did... Visionary has no man in these years. At this age, you are young again and you have blushed a few times in front of me. Tell me, are you infatuated with me?" Alpha raised an eyebrow and asked.

Anabelle gasped. She wasn't young again!

What's the point of saying that, anyway? How could he say such nonsense words? She didn't understand what he meant.

Anabelle confidently wanted to return, but the wild dream of last night suddenly popped into her head. Her eyes immediately shy away from him, her voice weak: "No, I am not. Don't blame me!" At this moment, Alpha bent down, bringing his perfectly handsome face to her eyes. At this moment, the two were very close to each other, their breaths entwined. As long as he moved closer, he could kiss her. He said, "Anabelle, you have to be honest. You can't lie. It won't matter, you just admit it. I won't tell anyone. I won't laugh at you."

." This p sycho!

Anabelle clenched her fist and punched him hard. She said, "I don't want to talk to you now. Get out!"

In Alpha's black eyes brimming with a nostalgic smile. What an idiot. After all these years, she still can't swear.

"Cough cough."

At this moment, he suddenly coughed.

Chapter 725 Have you ever loved me?

What's the matter with him?

She hit him just now and he was still okay, why did he suddenly cough?

"Alpha, what's wrong with you? Are you feeling unwell?" Anabelle asked hastily.

Alpha let go of her and straightened up, but he coughed non-stop. He pulled out a square towel from his pocket, covering his mouth.

The immediate pressure was gone, but in Anabelle's dreamy eyes filled with tension and worry, she reached out and grabbed his sleeve, "Alpha, Are you okay? You..."

At this moment, he suddenly looked up at her, slowly lifting his thin lips, "I've caught you, Anabelle. You care about me."

Anabelle was taken aback. Was he just pretending?

"Anabelle," Alpha looked at her deeply, as if he wanted to peer into her soul, asking her, "Have you ever loved me?"

She felt extremely angry. Just now when he coughed very badly, she was very worried but didn't expect him to just pretend.

He was just as evil as before, and he liked to plot against her.

Now he asks if she ever loved him.

Anabelle jerked her fist, saying, "Alpha, this question you asked me for years and my answer has never changed. No, I never loved you!"

After saying that, she turned around and left the mansion.

She left.

Alpha stood in place watching her figure disappear from his sight. Suddenly, a lot of things rose up in his eyes and surged like a storm, but when people looked closely, they were dense like nothing.

"Cough cough cough..."

Alpha coughed again, covering his mouth with a towel. When his coughing stopped, there was blood. on the towel.

Reuben's face changed dramatically, and he rushed over, "Sir, are you coughing up blood again? I'll go call the doctor!"

Alpha raised his hand to stop, "No need. I know my body very well. After all these years, I don't have much time left."

Reuben's face changed in surprise, "Sir!"

Alpha didn't have any flustered mood. The trading emperor from the previous generation still looked profound and indifferent, but his face was pale, showing a hint of fatigue. He said, "Don't let anyone know about my health."

"Sir!"

Alpha went into the office and took out one thing. Reuben raised his head, his pupils instantly shrinking. The large letters “Property Division Document” caught his eye.

Alpha said in his deep voice, “I have made a will and divided the immovable property and movables in my name. Elvis is the most like me. I have peace of mind entrusting the Augustine family and the entire Augustine corporation to him. As for Marvin...”

Referring to Marvin, Reuben’s nerves froze, he hesitantly asked: “Sir, do you want to know the background of the young master Marvin...?”

Chapter 725 Have you ever loved me?

Alpha shook his head and mumbled: “Although Marvin is not my child, his eyebrows and eyes are too similar to his mother’s. When he was young, I tried many times to be cruel, but it was impossible.”

“When Marvin was a child, he knew that I didn’t like him. I remember one time he fell while walking when he was just learning to walk. When he fell to the ground, his little hands were tired. He saw me but didn’t dare ask me to hug him, but hid his injured little hands.”

“Then I went a long way, and I saw Bounty through the glass. She hugged Marvin then was very distressed, Marvin still looked at my back, then buried his little face in his aunt’s lap, his small mouth pouting painfully.”

“After this, Marvin slowly grew up. He left home very early. I knew he wasn’t close to Lily. Huh, how can Anabelle’s biological son be close to Lily?”

“As Marvin grew up, he became more and more like his mother. He had a unique medical talent and accomplishment. He was incredibly handsome, with a talent for chilling beyond the sky. He was exactly like his mother, Anabelle.”

Chapter 726 Heart disease

“Slowly, I really started to get used to Marvin’s existence. Bounty liked him so much as if it were an arrangement of fate. Marvin made up for Bounty’s regret at not being a mother, and he’s been with Bounty all those years. Those years, I was so lonely. As time goes by, I’ve long been used to looking for Anabelle’s figure in Marvin.”

“So I think, forget it. Besides me and you, don’t let the third person know about Marvin and the story that she gave birth to two sons.”

Reuben had been in the Augustine family for decades and had worked carefully. Except for Alpha, he is the only one who knows about Marvin's background.

Marvin isn't Lily's son at 11

His biological mother is... Anabelle!

At that time, Anabelle's second child wasn't a girl but a boy, and Marvin was the baby she delivered by cesarean section.

Alpha just left Reuben to handle this alone, and it went smoothly. It's ironic how Lily has given all her heart to Marvin all these years, but how does she know that she raised someone else's child after all the trickery?

Alpha has ruled the Augustine family since the age of 18, and he has become the heir to the new generation. He's been in a high position and strategizing for over 30 years. He was a born emperor, a legend, and everyone admired him.

Reuben respectfully nodded, "Yes, sir."

Alpha's deep eyes fell on the property division document, he continued. "For these two sons, I gave all movable property to Elvis and all real estate to Marvin, and divided them equally. After I die, there will be a lawyer to enforce legal effect."

Alpha explained his story in his deep voice. He knows his health well. After so many years, his doomsday was near.

Reuben's eyes were red, only he knew that Alpha had a heart attack.

The plot to sweep the Augustine family that year hurt too many people. When Anabelle left, the rest of the Augustine family including Mrs. Samantha, Alpha, Bounty, and Elvis... all lived very badly. Alpha started coughing up blood years ago. Sometimes Reuben feels that the person he hates the most is probably... Anabelle. Without her, his boss wouldn't have had a heart attack. Seeing Anabelle for the first time in the hospital, the No. 1 noble's gaze was wrong all his life.

Reuben didn't know how much psychological suffering his master had endured over the years. Every time he faced his sister Bounty, how painful it was? When he looked at Marvin, who was born to Anabelle and Marcus, and when he stayed in place and waited day after day, how lonely it was? How many long nights and despair he had experienced?

This heart disease is like a wild black flower. Physical illness can be cured, but mental illness is incurable.

This was how Alpha reached his destination step by step.

Just now he asked Anabelle if she ever loved him, just waiting for her words, but her answer never changed: never!

Reuben looked at Alpha on the main seat with red eyes. He sat against the lamp, his face hard to see Reuben asked, "Sir, what are you going to do?"

Reuben knows Alpha too well. Anabelle is his biggest obsession, and he can't let her go for the rest of his life. If he dies, what will he do with Anabelle?

Speaking of this, Alpha raised his head and glanced at Reuben, slowly pursed his thin lips into a light arc, and whispered some words: "How about a burial?"
A burial?

These words made Reuben freeze.

"I've been looking for her for so many years. It's like I've spent two-thirds of my life with her. Now she is still very young, exactly like before. When I tease her, she will blush from embarrassment and anger. I don't want to give her to another man. No one else is allowed to put a finger on my woman." "She's been on the run for years. Even if she's back now, I can sense that she's trying to draw a line with me. How can I let her achieve it? I want her to stay with me, sleep with me, and die with me so that she can't escape."

"However, I haven't decided yet. I still need to think about it...cough cough..."
Alpha started coughing again.

Reuben quickly said, "Sir, there's no need to rush now. You still have a lot of time to think. You should rest first. I think you're very tired."

Alpha stood up, saying: "Okay, I'll go rest."

Alpha returned to the bedroom. He lay on the bed and began to sleep, having a very long dream. In fact, the years he and Anabelle spent together weren't only painful, but also happy times. Bounty lost her child, dealing a fatal blow to the entire Augustine family. In the face of Bounty's hysteria, he still protected Anabelle in his arms.

In front of him, one side is his relative, the other is his true love. With his heart full of demons, he gradually developed heart disease. When he first coughed up blood, he was only 27 years old. It was the euphoria of his life, but the doctor informed him that his heart had begun to fail.

He had a cold war with Anabelle for a while, but by coincidence, Anabelle was pregnant with her eldest son Elvis at the time.

After she gave birth to Elvis, he didn't know what happened to her, but during that time, her personality changed dramatically. She no longer coldly resisted him but began to be gentle.

In the evening when he returned from work, she would leave a lamp for him, and she and her son would sleep in his big bed under the dim light.

He stood by the bed, leaning down to kiss his son's face. His tall body crouched down, holding her and their child in his arms. When he looked at her, she quietly opened her eyes. She looked at him. with her beautiful, watery almond eyes. There was a fountain of clear water in her eyes.

Although she didn't smile, her eyes were as clear as stars, gentle to the bone, sparkling and stirring people's souls.

His heart was completely taken by her, so he bent down to kiss her.

She no longer resisted. On the contrary, she raised her two small arms around his neck, gently responding to him.

Elvis would cry from hunger. Although there was a nurse in the Red Velvet room, she fed him herself

She pushed Alpha away with her face flushed and would turn aside to breastfeed her son secretly.

He refused to leave. His thin lips pressed close to her ear, whispering, "The nurse said you had a lot of milk. Elvis can't eat it all. If you feel swelling, you have to squeeze it out..."

She covered his mouth in panic.

He stared at her: "I can help you."

In her confused gaze, he pushed her down, with one side being Elvis and the other being him.

Chapter 727 Why am I still alive?

She was both worried and scared, her small hands clutching the bed sheet, quickly pulling the bed sheet into folds. His slender fingers would slip into her small hand, intertwined with hers.

In the end, under her half-accepting resistance, he had a good time with her. When she fell asleep tiredly, Elvis sometimes cried so he stood up and hugged the little boy and used awkward positions to lull him to sleep.

That period was the happiest time of his life. The girl he loved became his wife and the mother of his son. The awkward love affair was too late to say. It seemed that her love for him was as turbulent and intense as his love for her. He thought that would be his life.

But who could know that she was actually pretending? She contacted Marcus again.

In fact, Alpha didn't want to think about the memory after that, and he never thought about it in all these years.

The day she brought Marcus to the Red Velvet room, she ruined herself as well as him.

Those days he went to work. Because he missed her and their child, he returned a day earlier than planned, wanting to surprise her.

He returned to the Red Velvet room, walked to the bedroom, and reached out to push the door open, but the next second froze.

Because there was a voice from within, an abnormal voice.

It was Anabelle's soft, waxy voice, "Marcus, be gentler. I can't stand it..."

He immediately froze, and his black pupils suddenly shrunk. He didn't mishear her voice. When he was infatuated with her countless nights, she would make the same sound, begging him to let her go...

It's just that now her voice is more subtle and seductive than usual.

He was stunned for a few seconds, raised his long leg, and kicked the bedroom door open with a bang.

He never forgot the sight he had seen all these years.

On the bed, Anabelle sat on top of Marcus, their clothes in disarray, the man's wheat'skin rubbing against the woman's white skin, making his eyes sore.

It was Marcus who saw her first, pulling up the clothes to protect Anabelle, then she turned around.

The woman smiled at him.

He thought that his face must have been hideous then, his bright red eyes staring at her, but she wasn't scared at all, slowly getting out of bed.

-She had almost taken off all her clothes, except for her two-piece dress, her small snow-white feet stepped on the soft woolen carpet, each step exuding a seductive charm.

Anabelle, a talented girl from a generation that was once cold and elegant, was pampered by him with such passionate affection in the Red Velvet room.

She looked at him, a smile in her beautiful almond eyes. She asked, "Alpha, why did you come back? Didn't you say you would come back tomorrow? I'm sorry to let you see this. Are you surprised?"

"Me and Marcus were childhood sweethearts. You forced me to marry you and keep me here. I'll tell you the truth. I have never forgotten Marcus even for a day! I always want to escape from you!"

"But who are you? You're Alpha Augustine. No matter where I run away, you'll catch me back. I can't beat you. But it's okay. I have carefully planned and prepared a great gift for you!"

"Alpha, do you think I've become abnormal after having a baby? You shouldn't be so naive as to think I love you. Don't be so infatuated. I've never loved you before. Every minute and every second spent with you, I feel so disgusted. I lied to you, let your guard down, gave you hallucinations, then pushed you from heaven to hell. Alpha, you must be finding it hard to hear it now!"

"Alpha, I hate you. I really hate you. You ruined my life so I want revenge!"

Every word she said filled his eardrums. He glared at her with his red eyes and clenched his fists. All his reason was burned to ashes

He stepped forward on his long legs, grabbed her slender wrist forcefully, and pulled her away. She didn't want to go. She didn't want to go with him.

He turned his head to look at her faintly, coldly smiled, and said: "I was wrong. Letting Marcus live for the past two years was my biggest mistake. He should have died a long time ago, right?"

Hearing such a threat, Anabelle was startled. She followed him.

He took her out of the Red Velvet room, went to a small wooden house, threw her into the bathroom, and coldly said a few words: "Take off your clothes. Wash your dirty body!"

Wash your dirty body!"

He closed the door and let her shower.

He stood on the balcony of the room, holding a cigarette in his slender fingers. He smoked a lot, three in a row.

The third cigarette butt had gone out in the ashtray. He turned his head, his red phoenix eyes fixed the bathroom door. As if a long century had passed, she still hadn't come out.

Stepping forward on his long legs, he put his big hand on the doorknob, wanting to open the door.

However, he couldn't open it because she locked the door inside.

His heart sank, and he suddenly had a bad feeling. He raised his leg and kicked the door.

The door opened, and he walked in. He stepped on the water all over the floor. The water in the bathtub spilled out, and under the water, there was a graceful figure lying.

Her beautiful black hair was scattered in the water, and her white bodice was wavy, giving her a cold and dust-free appearance. She closed her eyes, her bright red lips curled into a smile. That smile was so charming, gentle, and peaceful.

She committed suicide.

She wanted to commit suicide by drowning.

His black pupils shrank vehemently. He didn't know how he went forward and how he hugged her from the water. He hugged her and placed her on the large soft bed in the room, time and time again performing CPR for her.

Her small face was pale, lifeless.

She died.

Was she dead?

His handsome face was expressionless, his large hands overlapping her breasts, pressing down. He didn't know what he was doing. If she didn't wake up, he would press down forever.

12:00

A long time later, when he was about to go numb, she spat out a mouthful of water and regained consciousness.

Her beautiful almond eyes slowly opened, staring blankly at the crystal chandelier overhead, a few seconds later she muttered: "Alive... Why am I still alive?"

She asked why she was still alive.

He was panting, his shirt and trousers soaked with water, sweat running down his handsome cheeks. He looked down at her, wishing he could strangle her to death.

He didn't know how she committed suicide.

Chapter 728 He felt a little timid.

All her tenderness was fake. She just wanted to deal a fatal blow to him.

All she remembered was her first love, Marcus, and he was just a demon that forced and raped her. She doesn't care about him.

Why did she commit suicide?

Could it be... Every second and every minute spent with him made her so unbearable that she would rather die than get rid of him.

Alpha strode into the tub, unbuckled his belt, and roughly possessed her.

The woman lying under him didn't even complain of pain. She just looked at him and smiled: "Alpha, I haven't showered yet, don't you feel dirty?"

He froze.

"Ha ha ha, Alpha, you feel disgusted with me, right? Yes, it's this disgusting feeling. Every time I kiss you or lie under you, I get this feeling."

He quickly closed his red eyes and then stared at her against the cold bathtub wall.

She convulsed in pain but didn't complain, her fingernails scraping his muscles with deep blood stains. She cried out, "Alpha, get out! Don't touch me. If you want to vent, go find another woman!™ She told him to find another woman!

He froze very quickly. As the number one noble in the merchant world of Imperial, he was born an arrogant child, unable to change his pride and dignity, but at this time she trampled all his pride and dignity.

He pulled out and left.

He hasn't returned for a few days, and she hasn't actively contacted him. These days were interrupted because Anabelle suddenly became pregnant. She was one month pregnant.

He counted every day. This child was conceived by her and Marcus that night. She was pregnant with another man's child.

What she had in her belly was an illegitimate child.

He started getting drunk outside, having to use alcohol to paralyze himself. Only in this way could he restrain himself from coming to her. He thought he would strangle her to death. This woman was spoiled by him, but how dare she... How dare she hurt him like that?

At this moment, Lily came to find him.

He always knew what Lily thought of him. Before, he had never given her a chance to get close to him. Not once. But this time it's different. Didn't Anabelle tell him to find another woman? He didn't know if her heart hurt or if she was jealous.

So he gave Lily a chance. He pretended to be drunk and let her take him to the president's room.

That night, Lily always assumed she slept with him. She would never know that the man that night wasn't him at all, but the one he was looking for to replace.

Later that night, Lily became pregnant too.

Anabelle and Lily became pregnant, respectively. He began to pretend to be close to Lily and accepted all of her provocations. He knows that Lily often comes to the Red Velvet room with her big belly to find Anabelle and provoke her, but she doesn't respond.

She didn't seem to care that Lily was pregnant with his child, but it seemed a little different. Because during that time, she lost weight rapidly, her mental state also started to deteriorate. Holding the pen for a long time, she seemed to have given up on her favorite Fly Jewelry design, and her whole body was silent and empty. The servant said she had been alone in her room all day. If she still cares and worries about something in the outside world, it's Elvis. Elvis is always by her side except when studying. The boy curiously touched her big belly and asked, "Mom, is there my sister or my brother in your womb?”

She'll laugh, “Elvis, do you want a brother or a sister?”

“Hmm... Although I really want a little sister, I feel like this is like a little brother.”

She only talked to Elvis and only had that boy in her eyes. Since he left that night, she never actively contacted him again, as if she had forgotten about him.

He hadn't touched her in a long time. He never thought before what kind of girl he would love, and now, besides her, he can't love anyone else.

He found himself starting to miss her, but because of his pride and dignity, he would never allow him to take the initiative to go back to her.

At that moment, Lily offered to take Elvis back and raise him.

He agreed.

Lily's petty thoughts weren't enough for him to appreciate. What he thought was Anabelle loved Elvis so much. If Lily took Elvis away, she would definitely come to him and beg him.

As expected, that night, she came to see Lily. He returned earlier than the original schedule, so he waited for her.

But he didn't expect that she was carrying a knife. Since she committed suicide by drowning and was saved by him, she carried a knife again.

Panic rose in his heart. He raised his hand and slapped her hard.

At that time she was as thin as a paper kite. When he slapped her, she fell to the ground, the right side of her face red and swollen.

His hands trembled. This girl was deeply respected and loved by him. When he was in the most pain, he didn't want to touch her but he did slap her hard. He knelt down and hugged her tightly. At that time he was very scared, really scared. He was afraid that one day she would leave him.

He felt that she was the grain of sand that he held tightly in the palm of his hand. The more he holds. onto it, the faster it will go away.

Could it be... Did she really hate herself this much?

After that, he took the opportunity to return to the Red Velvet room, pushed a lot of work, and started to be with her.

It was unknown what happened, her body and mind weren't good, and her taste was very poor. He forced her to eat, and she would obediently obey, but then, she spat out all the food she just ate.

The doctor had told him privately that she was pregnant with a son.

This boy has a very quiet temperament, and he will probably he ilke her when he grows up. Alpha didn't think so at the time, but in the years that followed, as he saw Marvin's increasingly cold and elegant appearance, he actually found him to be very similar to her.

12.03

The Substitute Bride: Dated by My Billseaire Husband 145476

At that time he had no intention of keeping this child. He would also never allow his woman to give birth to a son for another man.

However, her health wasn't good. If she was forced to have an abortion, the doctor said she would definitely not be able to bear it. Moreover, she already hated him so much that he actually felt a little timid, afraid that he would really push her into a desperate situation.

So he waited until she was pregnant and gave birth prematurely in September before doing it.

Chapter 729 Dream of Three Lives

The Red Velvet room was filled with his people. He wanted to use some tricks to cause this child to die. It would be easy.

But he didn't expect her to be keenly aware of it. At that time, she gave birth prematurely. She lay on the bed, covered in cold sweat. She was so fragile, but at that time, she exuded so much energy and became so determined. She scolded all the doctors and nurses away. When the amniotic fluid was low and the fetus was about to suffocate, she took the doctor's scalpel, cut open her abdomen, and took out the baby inside.

She wasn't under anesthesia but just held the baby by cesarean section. Before she could see the baby, she fell backward.

The child naturally fell into his arms.

At that time, he was holding the newborn Marvin, who was very small because he was born prematurely, and he didn't cry when he was taken out. Anabelle lay weakly on the bed, blood soaking the bed sheets, large patches of blood still there, dripping down to make a "plop plop" sound. With difficulty, she raised her small hand and grabbed the corner of his shirt: "Give me back the baby!"

He hugged Marvin, looking down at her. He said, "You know, I can't stand this child."

Her eye sockets immediately turned red.

"Besides, this baby didn't cry when he was born. He's already dead." He lied. Hearing the news that the child had died, large tears fell from her eyes, and soon she fell into a coma. Then he gave Marvin to Lily to raise. Lily never knew that the child she gave birth to was stillborn and that Marvin was Anabelle's biological child.

Gradually, the wound on Anabelle's body began to heal, but the wound in her heart had no cure. She became very quiet, refusing to say a word to him. But he kept her locked by his side until one night when he woke up from a sharp pain, he saw in her hand a pair of scissors, and the sharp blade had injured his vital organ.

The lights in the Red Velvet room were bright, and all the doctors ran over. His expression was so dark that it could drop water. He looked at her coldly, only to find out when she had fled to the high podium of the Red Velvet room. She was so beautiful that day, her beautiful almond eyes became so tender. She tenderly looked at the world, everyone, and everything.

However, she didn't look at him.

From beginning to end she didn't even spare a glance at him.

At that time, he didn't understand that it was her last look, and gently bid her farewell to this world.

She was leaving.

"Anabelle, come back. Why are you standing there?" He said quickly, feeling that it was very dangerous there, and wanted to catch her.

But she used her small hands to push the window open, quickly climbing up to stand on the high platform.

This place is located on the mountain. When opening the window, one can see the sea close to the cliff, and in the ear can hear the sound of waves crashing against the rocks.

Chapter 129 Dream Three Lives

She turned her head to look at him, calling his name, "Alpha."

She used a hoarse voice to call him, with almond eyes sparkling like stars looking at him, "I'm leaving."

She said, Alpha, she was leaving.

These words exploded in his ears. Blue veins all over his body emerged, his heart quickly sank, and he fell to the bottom. What he was worried about all this time had happened. She was about to leave him.

"Anabelle, don't cause trouble! Hurry down. Today I won't care if you hurt me. If you continue to cause trouble, I will be angry. You know, if I am angry, the consequences will be very serious!"

She didn't seem to hear him. She raised her small hand and stroked the hair on her cheek, saying. "Alpha, you've been by my side all these years. You must have worked hard because... I always seem to cause trouble. I'm sorry." When she said "I'm sorry", she pouted her red lips, revealing a bit of a girl's momentum.

He had never seen her flatter because she had never acted like a child to him before. This look seemed to be a lifetime away.

His heart seemed to be pulled by a large hand, and he was swallowed by the helpless endless. He said, "Anabelle, what do you want to do this time? Do you want that child? Okay, I'll order someone to bring him back. He'll be back."

"Alpha," she didn't hear him say, just called his name over and over again. She slowly parted her red lips, smiling at him, "Let me go, and let go of everything."

His narrow dark eyes instantly turned red. Let her go?

He extended his large hand toward her, and replied, "I'm afraid I'll let you down. Let you go? I never thought so.

She is very self-aware. Since meeting her, he has become a mess.

When he was riddled with holes before, he never thought he would let her go. Right now, he doesn't even think about it. If love is a cup of poison that pierces the intestines that she has brought, he is willing to accept.

He raised his legs and walked towards her step by step.

She lifted her head gently, looked at him again, and said, "Alpha, we are people of two worlds. You are too expensive, your love is too heavy, so I can't bear it. I'm leaving. From now on, the mountains will be high, and the water will last, but there will be no future for us. You should... live well."

After she finished speaking, she jumped forward, instantly falling under the sea surface, completely disappearing from his sight.

"No!" He lunged forward, reaching out to grab her.

However, he caught nothing, and her clothes quickly slipped from his palm.

She jumped into the sea and was never seen again.

Then he searched for her for many years.

He never believed that she was dead.

But she seemed to have disappeared and never appeared in his life again.

He began his journey to find her, from east to west, from north to south, to the ends of the earth, and the search lasted twenty years.

ISETH

Now that she's back, he asks her if she ever loved him.

She said never.

The sleeping Alpha quietly curled his thin lips, sadly and sarcastically. He has loved her all his life.

At this time, there was a knock on the door, Reuben's worried and confused voice came in: "Sir! Sir! It's not okay, something serious has happened!"

Alpha suddenly opened his eyes and sat up, cold sweat broke out on his forehead. Actually, he didn't know if he fell asleep just now, or if he was just in a dream... A big dream.

Alpha's narrow dark eyes looked at the closed door. Reuben was still knocking on the door. He pursed his thin lips. Reuben has always had a calm personality, rarely becoming irritable or flustered, unless it's really a big deal. Alpha threw the blanket off and went to open the door.

"Sir, it's not okay. I just received the news that Lady Bounty... took the drug to kill herself!"

Chapter 730 Spending the night with him.

Bounty committed suicide by taking drugs!

Alpha's face suddenly changed. He asked, "What did you say?"

In the past, a bad thing had happened to Bounty and had become the pain of the entire Augustine family. Mrs. Samantha shed many tears because of that, and Alpha suddenly had a heart attack. They were most worried about her. Unexpectedly, a bad thing happened to Bounty again. She took the drug to commit suicide!

"Sir, what you heard is not wrong. Lady Bounty committed suicide and was not saved. When she was found, she wasn't breathing. She was taken to the hospital and was pronounced dead immediately!"

"Moreover... hours before she took the drug and committed suicide, Lady Anabelle went to see her, and they talked about something in the room. Betty, who had served Lady Bounty, said that After Lady Anabelle left, Lady Bounty's mood wasn't good, very abnormal. Then Lady Bounty kicked Betty away, locked herself in her room, and took the drug."

"According to Betty's confession, Lady Anabelle is very suspicious. Lady Bounty is still in the hospital and Lady Anabelle has been taken away by the police!"

Reuben knew how important this was like the whole sky of the Augustine family was falling. Lady Bounty and Lady Anabelle had problems at the same time. Pushed to the climax. Alpha will again face painful choices.

One side is his relative, the other side is his true love.

The Augustine family seems to be under some kind of curse and can't escape.

Alpha casually put on a coat, and said with a gloomy face, "Let's go."

"Yes sir."

Many hours ago.

Anabelle had just left the villa and was about to return when the cell phone in her bag rang.

She took out her cell phone and looked at it. Bounty's name appeared on the screen.

Bounty was calling.

Anabelle shivered. She knew that sooner or later she and Bounty would meet. She didn't want Alpha to be between them all the time.

Anabelle pressed the button to accept the call: "Hello."

"Anabelle, it's me," said Bounty's cold and tired voice, "Come to me now. I want to talk with you."

"Okay, send me the address."

The two hung up the phone, Bounty quickly sent the location, and Anabelle took a taxi and rushed to her place.

When Anabelle arrived at Bounty's mansion, Betty opened the door. Betty pointed upstairs and said, "My lady is waiting for you upstairs."

"Okay, thanks," Anabelle said and went upstairs.

Betty stood below watching Anabelle's figure disappear into the upstairs room, immediately giving a strange smile.

In the upstairs room, Anabelle entered, catching a glimpse of Bounty. Bounty was wearing a sweater and sitting on the sofa.

Their

eyes met. Anabelle spoke first, "Bounty, long time no see."

Bounty pursed her lips sarcastically, pointing at the sofa opposite, "Sit down. Let's talk."

Anabelle sat across from her. Bounty had made the tea herself, apparently, she was waiting here. She poured a cup of tea for Anabelle, saying, "I thought you died jumping off the high platform in the Red Velvet room. I didn't expect you to be alive."

Anabelle took the tea and took a sip. Bounty's art of making tea was still very good, making one's lips and teeth soft. They can actually become very good friends.

"Recalling when I jumped from the Red Velvet room, I thought I was going to die for sure, but was saved by Joyce who brought me to Visionary."

It turned out to be Joyce Brown. Nothing strange.

Bounty's face was a little pale. Last night, she didn't sleep well. She looked at Anabelle and asked, "Then why have you come back? You've been gone for twenty years, why have you come back?"

"Because there's something that I'm worried about here."

"Worried? Are you worried about Elvis or...my brother?"

This time Anabelle didn't answer.

Bounty got the answer. She said, "Huh, Anabelle, you haven't forgotten my brother all these years. Did you forget that he had a heart attack because of you? That at 27 he started coughing up blood because of heart failure?"

Alpha always assumes that no one but Reuben knows about his heart disease, but in fact, both Bounty and Anabelle know about it.

Bounty is a medical student. Once she accidentally saw a drug in her brother's room, and that drug was used to treat heart disease.

She then rummaged through the trash and quickly found a bloody towel. She knew that her brother was coughing up blood.

She quickly asked Anabelle out, told her about this, and asked her to leave her brother.

It didn't take long to find out that Anabelle and Marcus had an affair in the Red Velvet room. Anabelle frowned slightly and whispered, "I just... want to come back and look at him..."

"My brother doesn't need you to look at him!" Bounty quickly interrupted her, "The years you were away, my brother lived a very good life. For many years, he didn't take medicine, which means he was cured. See? I was right. As long as you disappear, my brother will be fine, but if you stay here, he will die for you sooner or later!

"My brother has lived with my sister in law, Lily, all these years. They are very affectionate and have never argued. By the way, haven't you seen the son Marvin that Lily gave birth to to my brother? Marvin is excellent. Now he is a famous doctor with a golden scalpel, a talent as high as heaven, and he isn't inferior to your son Elvis!

When Bounty mentioned the son Lily bore to Alpha, Anabelle's fingers curled up. She dug her nails into her palm but felt no pain.

When she learned that he had a heart condition, she began to find a way to leave him. Her affair with Marcus was nothing more than an act.

She wanted him to hate her, loathe her, and abandon her.

Soon, she tasted the consequences. He slept with Lily and got her pregnant.

Lily flaunted her power with her big belly in front of Anabelle. She pretended to be indifferent on the outside, but inside she was bleeding.

She learned that Lily later gave birth to a son for him. She never dared to look, ask, or hear any news about that son. She was afraid she would be jealous, afraid that mad jealousy would drive her crazy.

Marvin...

His son's name is... Marvin?

That's a pretty name.

Anabelle looked at Bounty, asking, "Is his heart disease really cured?"

It was his heart disease that had worried her so much all these years.
“Of course, Anabelle. Haven’t you seen my brother? Don’t you know how he is? I heard you stayed at his place for the night.” Bounty pointed out.
