Chapter 791 Like you

Annabelle did not know why he would say such things to her. Marvin turned out very successful, it was normal for him to like his son.

Annabelle nodded, "I know."

In the future, she would also try to accept Marvin and try to forget the past between him and Lily. In the future, he and she would be fine too.

"Alpha, there's actually something I want to tell you, Marcus and I..."

"Annabelle, don't say anything. I'm tired. I want to sleep for a while."

Annabelle wanted to confess everything to him, but she raised her head to look at him. He was already very tired. She nodded, "Alright, Alpha, we'll talk about it tomorrow."

Alpha did not answer. He seemed to have fallen asleep.

Annabelle raised her hand and gently covered him.

At this moment, Alpha suddenly said again. This was the last sentence in his life. "Annabelle, call me husband."

She had never called him husband before.

Annabelle blushed. She buried herself in his embrace and obediently called out, "My husband."

Alpha slowly nodded. Although he had many regrets, he was successful.

He held her tightly in his embrace, and the whole world became quiet.

At this moment, all the hustle and bustle of the world slowly left him.

His mind slowly reminisced on his life.

He used to follow his mother to the church. As the Augustine family's crown prince, he attracted many Christians gaze. He never believed in Christianity, so he turned around and left.

With his eyes closed, he could clearly see Annabelle on her red wedding dress.

Alpha slowly pursed his lips and his breathing stopped.

On this day, the business emperor, Alpha, passed away safely by the side of the person he loved the most, ending his legendary life.

It was suddenly raining outside.

The next morning,

Annabelle slowly opened her eyes, and she was still in Alpha's arms.

Since last night, Alpha had maintained this position, holding her tightly in his embrace.

What a blessing it was to wake up in her lover's embrace. Annabelle looked up at him, "Alpha, wake up, it's time to get up."

No one answered.

Alpha was destined to be unable to respond to her.

Annabelle moved and quickly realized that he was abnormal. His body was cold and stiff. "Alpha...Alpha, what's the matter with you?" Annabelle reached out and pushed him.

Annabelle's breathing stop, and her pupils shrank. At this moment, the whole world was overturned in front of her.

Annabelle could not remember the things that happened after that. It seemed that Reuben rushed in. Then the doctor announced his death.

A coffin was set up in the villa. The world was very noisy. There were many people and footsteps, but he laid in the coffin quietly.

Annabelle sat beside him the whole time, not a single tear shed. She felt that he was not dead.

Reuben was filled with sadness, and his voice choked up a few times.

"Ma'am, Mr. Augustine left two things for you."

Annabelle's face was as pale as a piece of paper. She stared at Reuben blankly, "What?"

"Ma'am..."

Annabelle's eyes fell on Alpha's again. "Shh, don't say anything. Let him sleep for a while. He is still sleeping. When he wakes up, he will naturally open his eyes."

"Ma'am, Mr. Alpha has already left."

"No, he hadn't," Annabelle said firmly.

Reuben took out the first item and handed it to Annabelle.

Annabelle glanced at it, and she froze for a moment, because the heading 'Divorce Agreement' fiercely broke into her eyes.

She looked down and saw his autograph at the bottom.

Before he left, he signed the divorce agreement.

"Ma'am, this is the first thing that Mr. Alpha left you," Reuben said.

That night, Alpha was sitting in the study. In the dim light, he quietly smoked a cigarette in his hand, then picked up his pen and signed the paper.

"Although after I die, our marriage will automatically expire, but I think that this marriage was originated by me, because I had forced Annabelle, so now, it should also be ended by me."

Annabelle stretched out her hand. Her fingertips were trembling. She picked up the divorce agreement, and read his signature back and forth several times, suddenly, she shook her head.

"This is not signed by him, I know him too well. Now, he's been domineering all his life. It's absolutely impossible for him to let go of my hand and give me a chance to be with other men. According to his personality, he should want me to be buried by his side.

Annabelle was the person who knew Alpha the most. For such a strong and powerful man, he should have wanted her to be buried with him.

“Ma’am, over the past few years, Mr. Alpha’s heart disease has been getting worse. When the countdown to his life began, Mr. Alpha really wanted to be buried with you by his side, but at the last moment, Mr. Augustine chose to let go of your hand and give you back your freedom. According to Mr. Augustine’s orders, Marcus has been released, and now he’s outside the villa, ma’am, you leave.”

Annabelle curled up her pale fingers as she tugged on the divorce agreement. They had been entangled for so many years.

can

She remembered that he had talked about the afterlife the previous night. He said that if there was an afterlife, he didn’t want to go back in time, and he didn’t want to meet her again.

Annabelle never knew that he could be so cruel.

Over the years, no matter where she was or how far she went, he had always stood behind her, and was within her reach.

However, this time, he turned around and walked away.

He really didn’t want her anymore.

Not even in the next life.

“His heart disease, was it ever healed?” Annabelle inquired.

Reuben shook his head. “Ma’am, you were gone, How could his heart have been healed?”

Over the years, she had always thought that when she was gone, his heart disease would be cured.

Bounty told her some time ago that he was really healed, so she thought he was healed.too.

However, she was wrong.

She was gone, how could his heart disease be cured?

Only then did Annabelle realize that her love had gone wrong. Over the years, she had loved in the wrong way.

At this moment, the villa’s door was suddenly pushed open with a loud bang.

The last time that Lily's relationship with the Mermen was exposed, she was imprisoned by Alpha. Alpha did not look at her or punish her. He just locked her in a small dark room for a long time. Fear, anxiety, and confusion were growing in her heart like a vine. This silent torture made her lose weight rapidly, and her entire mental state was also very poor, When Alpha really hated someone, he would not let the person die easily. He would only torture the person in the cruelest way. Today, someone opened the small dark room and brought her all the way over.

Lily was happy. She finally saw the light and regained her freedom. She wanted to see Alpha.

"Does Alpha want to see me? Great, hurry up and take me to see Alpha. I have a lot to say to him."

"I was wrong. Back then, I shouldn't have been tempted to harm Bounty, but I did all this because I loved him. I really love him too much. I can't lose him..."

"We also have a son, Marvin.. Even if I was wrong, Alpha should forgive me this time for Marvin's sake."

Lily ran over from outside with a look of surprise on her face.

Soon, Lily saw Annabelle at a glance. She stiffened, and the smile on her face disappeared. "Annabelle, why are you here too? Alpha wants to see me now." Annabelle's eyes were dry and there were no tears on it, but one could see the sadness in her gaze.

"Annabelle, what's the matter with you? Why are you acting so weird? Where's Alpha?" Lily walked forward.

The next second, Lily saw Alpha lying in the crystal coffin. She suddenly gasped and rushed over. "Alpha! Alpha, what's wrong?"

Lily slowly reached out and placed her finger under his nose. She instantly froze, as she cried out in a shrill, "Alpha Alpha, wake up! How can you be dead? Stand up!"

"Annabelle, what happened to Alpha? Who killed him? I understand. It was you, you must have killed Alpha!"

"When you didn't return, Alpha was fine. The moment you came back Alpha died. Annabelle, you killed Alpha!"

Lily emotionally grabbed onto Annabelle's shoulder and kept shaking her. At this moment, the two bodyguards walked over and pulled Lily away.

"F uck off! Who let you touch me! You guys are so presumptuous, I'm Mrs. Augustine, I'm the real Mrs. Augustine, and she's fake!" Lily roared bitterly.

Reuben took a step forward and stare at Lily. "Lily, have you not made enough trouble? If you have made enough trouble, you have to accept how Mr. Augustine chose to deal with you.”

Alpha arranged everything that night, including Lily.

Lily froze, as her hands and feet became cold. “What should I do?”

Alpha...how does Alpha chose to deal with me?”

Reuben looked at her coldly, “What do you think?” he asked.

At this moment, Lily saw a murderous intent in Reuben’s eyes. She already had the answer.

Today, she was released. That means that she was ordered to be released and dealt with only after his death.

Lily felt that she was really stupid. She came here full of joy, but she got such news.

Alpha was really ruthless towards her.

“Ha, haha...” Lily laughed a few times, and her eyes were filled with tears.

After so many years, her love for Alpha was useless.

“You guys can’t touch me, even Alpha didn’t touch me, because I’m still the mother of his child!”

Although Lily loved Alpha, she did not want to die. Now, Marvin was her hope for life.

“Marvin is already in Greenland. He still doesn’t know anything. If he finds out that his father had killed his mother, how would he feel?”

Reuben said indifferently, “Lily, wake up, young master, Marvin, is not your son, and has never has been!”

As soon as he said this, the entire room suddenly became silent.

Even Annabelle looked up, her pale and empty eyes exuded confusion and doubt.

Lily’s ears were buzzing. She looked at Reuben in disbelief. “What did you say? No, you’re talking nonsense!”

“That day, Alpha was drunk and I slept with him. Then I became pregnant and gave birth to my son, Marvin. How can you...how can you say that Marvin is not my son?!”

Reuben looked at Lily, he shook his head and then he said, “The person who was with you that night. wasn’t your husband. It was a man that your husband randomly found. Your husband has never touched you before. How can you have a son with him?”

“It’s true that you were pregnant back then, but you gave birth to a daughter. That daughter died shortly after she was born.”

Reuben’s words were eye-opening.

Lily scoffed, she asked unbelievably,

“Okay, even if you’re right, and Marvin isn’t my son, whose son is he then?”

Did you guys adopt him? How could it be that he would keep someone else's son with me for so many years?"

Annabelle did not say a word, but her heart was already overturned.

Now that the truth had been revealed, she realized that Alpha had never touched Lily, never.

From the beginning to end of his life, she had been his only woman.

She only just found out.

But Marvin... Annabelle suddenly had a very bold assumption. Her pupils shrank and she stared at Reuben in shock.

Reuben also looked over, then he slowly nodded. "Ma'am, Marvin is your biological son."

Reuben took out the second item and handed it over. "Ma'am, this is left for you by Mr. Augustine. This is the DNA test affirming Marvin as your son."

Chapter 793: Listen to her—His Past

Annabelle looked at the DNA test result and suddenly forgot how to breathe.

Over the years, she and Lily had both believed in his plan. She had always thought that Marvin was his and Lily's son.

"Ma'am, the child you had back then was not a daughter, but a son. Back then, Mr. Augustine was so cruel to you that he was reluctant to bear it. He was unwilling to touch your son."

"Over the years, Mr. Augustine kept Marvin by his side. Because of the circumstances surrounding Marvin's birth, Mr. Augustine was cold to Marvin. But every year, Mr. Augustine had secretly attended the graduation ceremony of Marvin. Mr. Augustine had never forgotten Marvin's birthday. No matter where Marvin was, Mr. Augustine would always eat a piece of cake and wish him a happy birthday."

“I’ve been with Mr. Augustine for so many years, and I deeply understand how he hated and at the same time loved Marvin. Even if he didn’t want to admit it, it was Marvin who accompanied him through the lonely nights. Ma’am, because Marvin’s your son, Mr. Augustine raised him all these years.”

It turned out that this was the truth.

Annabelle’s heart hurt as if a sharp blade had been inserted into it. The pain in her heart was unbearable.

She didn’t know that she could feel such hurt. The huge sadness had already drowned her.

Marvin was really her son....

“Ma’am, these are the two things that the boss left you. A divorce agreement and a DNA test. Marcus is right outside the door. You can leave and regain your freedom. The inheritance had already been divided. Marvin and Elvis will inherit equal of all of Mr. Augustine’s properties. In any case, these two are both your biological sons. Mr. Augustine had also dealt with Lily. The last thing Mr. Augustine did for you during his lifetime was to remove all obstacles in your life and return you freedom and happiness.” Reuben added.

Alpha had done something to the Midas family. With his orders, the Midas family would be wiped out.

Before his death, he had blocked the world for her.

Before he died, he took all the wind and rain away for her.

Lily seemed to have been pushed into an abyss. Marvin was not her son, and the Midas family was gone. In the blink of an eye, she had nothing left.

Everything she was attached to, everything she was greedy for, disappeared like a bubble.

Alpha was really cruel.

Lily did not know where her strength came from, but she pushed the two body guards away and ran over, directly snatching the DNA test from Annabelle's hand. She still did not believe it. She wanted. to have a look.

The two bodyguards wanted to step forward, but Reuben raised his hand and stopped them.

Lily turned to the last page. It was confirmed that Marvin was really Annabelle's biological son. She was stunned.

"So it's true. Marvin is really not my son.

Chapter 793: Listen to her—His Past

Alpha, why did you do this to me? You lied to me for so many years. I put all my energy and love into Marvin, but in the end, I actually raised Annabelle's son." Lily's hands trembled weakly, and she suddenly laughed wildly.

Lily soon looked up and stared at Annabelle, her eyes suddenly lit up. "Annabelle, do you think you, won? No, you are the one who lost the most, because you lost your your man!"

"Of course, Alpha didn't win either. He was miserable too. Did he know that you and Marcus were innocent, and that Marvin was his biological son and not Marcus's? Did he? No, he didn't!"

Reuben's expression changed in shock, "What?"

Reuben did not know that Marvin was Alpha's biological son.

Reuben's lips moved, but he could not say anything. Tears had already blurred his eyes.

"Annabelle, I still have a few things I want to tell you. Originally, I never wanted you to know, but now it seems like it's more fun to tell you."

"Back then, your marriage with Alpha was due to the Midas family's economic crisis. You didn't know that the economic crisis was controlled by someone, and that person was Alpha!"

“Alpha already had a deep–rooted love for you before you knew it. Back then, in order to marry you as his wife, he had devised a means to get you. Your marriage to him was all calculated!”

“Back then, after you jumped off that building. Alpha also jumped down! I bet you didn’t know!”

“Later, we spent two days on a beach to find him washed ashore by the waves. He was already in a coma. During that time, he was receiving medical treatment and had a high fever for a month. Through out that period, he was calling your name!”

“You must already know that your son, Elvis, was sent to a mental hospital for two years. Have you ever questioned where Alpha was at that time? I’ll tell you the answer now. Immediately after your funeral, he collapsed and fell into a severe coma. In the next two years, he was receiving treatments, and could barely move.”

“It was me. I took advantage of Alpha’s unconsciousness to send your son to the mental hospital to torture him. I wanted to make him a lunatic!”

“Annabelle, you don’t even know about these things. Who is Alpha? The one man who planned to win the world for you, but in the end, you let him lose. Twenty years ago you disappeared, he was in his prime when you left, and he was almost sixty when you returned.”

Chapter 794 Alpha, Here I Come

“You left him alone for too long. He was silent day after days, waiting and hoping for your arrival. He had two sons. The eldest son, Elvis, suffered from insomnia. Elvis had left for Los Angeles at a young age. And Alpha didn’t know that his second son was his, hence he couldn’t love him.”

“He had a sister, but Bounty blamed him for what had happened to her. He also had a mother, but the old lady was unhappy with the happenings in her family. Over the years, he has failed as a son, a brother, and a father. He has made a mess of himself. The only person is that he had never failed was you!”

“Hahaha, Annabelle, do you think you won? No, you lost. You lost terribly. In recent years, Alpha has treated you as a princess, but you let him leave with deep regret and loneliness. In this world, time will not repeat itself, you will never meet a man like Alpha, who loved you with his life!”

Hearing Lily’s words, Annabelle’s face was as pale as a piece of paper. She clenched her fist, as her fingers trembled.

It turned out that many things had happened since she left.

Lily knew it, Reuben knew some. Everyone knew something, but she knew nothing.

She was not the only one who jumped off the building back then. He had also jumped.

Not long ago, during her trip to Imperial City, she sternly accused him of not being a good father, but he had fallen into a severe coma and had been receiving treatment.

Back then, the child that she thought she lost had always been a pain in her heart. But he actually kept her child by his side and raised him.

She thought that he and Lily were her lifelong regrets, but it turned out to be false.

How could his heart disease be cured?

When in his study, he dealt with Bounty’s hysterical cry and roar. He had comforted himself with cigarette.

Turning to his children, he watched them leave and grow further from him.

Over the years, he had been alone, and he was used to being silent. He never cried out or said that he was in pain. However, he was in a lot of pain.

Annabelle quickly remembered that when she got up to drink water last night, he ran out with his bare feet on the broken glass, as he searched for her.

At that moment, the years of forbearance and loneliness made his shoulders tremble.

He had said, “Annabelle, I missed you.

After she had been gone for so many years, he just said that he missed her.

She had really left him alone for too long.

Annabelle’s gaze fell on Alpha’s face. She slowly reached out and stroked his white hair. She knew that he was too tired.

Until the moment he closed his eyes, she had not told him, she had not told him that Marvin was his biological son.

She didn’t have time to say to him what he had been begging for his entire life. She didn’t have time to tell him that she loved him.

Lily’s eyes were red as she looked at Annabelle, and then she laughed wildly, “Hahaha, Alpha, did you see this? This is the woman you have loved all your life. When you died, she did not shed a single tear for you. Her heart is cold, she is such a ruthless woman!”

Chapter 794 Alpha, Here I Come

Reuben glanced at the bodyguards. The two bodyguards quickly stepped forward to grab Lily, who was about to go crazy, and forcibly took her down. Lily was unwilling. She looked at Annabelle with hatred and was still laughed at her, “Annabelle, don’t think that I am very pitiful. The real pitiful person is you. I sympathize with you. Congratulations, you finally lost Alpha!”

Lily was taken away.

The entire hall quickly returned to silence, and there was no sound at all. Reuben stepped forward and said, “Ma’am, Don’t inform the kids yet, the funeral will be arranged differently.”

Annabelle was very quiet now. She was originally a woman with an indifferent temperament, but now, she kept looking at Alpha without looking up.

“Don’t inform Elvis and Marvin about this, prepare a special plane. Alpha returns to the Imperial City.”

Reuben nodded, “It’s fine to go back to the Imperial City, it’s just for Mrs. Samantha and Miss Bounty...”

“Mrs. Samantha is not well. And Bounty is still in a coma. When the kid finds out, they’ll inform Mrs. Samantha themselves.”

Reuben was stunned. He felt that the current Annabelle was very strange.

“Ma’am, we’ll take you and Alpha back to Imperial City. But won’t we go to the Augustine family?” Reuben asked again.

Annabelle gently shook her head, “No, we’re not going back to the Augustine family. I want to take Alpha to somewhere first.”

The special plane took off soon, and Annabelle flew back to Imperial City with Alpha.

It was already late autumn. Alpha was sitting in a wheelchair, his legs were covered with a thick blanket, as if he had just fallen asleep.

Annabelle was wearing an apricot coat with a scarf tied around her neck. She pushed Alpha all the way from behind, and they returned to the path behind Midas ‘s family house.

Reuben and everyone were waiting behind them. There was only the two of them here. Annabelle walked all the way in.

Annabelle brought him back again. Time traveled, and everything seemed to be back to many years ago. Their wedding was about to happen.

That night, he and she walked like this, then he stopped.

Back then, the Augustine family’s crown prince was a young man, and she was nineteen years old. He looked at her with his handsome eyelids and said to her, “Don’t be afraid. I’ll be nice to you.”

Since then, he treated her well for the rest of his life.

Annabelle stopped. She stopped at the place where they had wedded. She slowly squatted down in front of Alpha. In fact, she had a lot to say. However, those words were meaningless.

Annabelle looked at him, then gently rested her head on his lap. "Alpha, I've left you alone for so long. Now, why are you still willing to make yourself lonely and sad?"

"You said that if there was an afterlife, you hope never to meet me again." she paused, and then she continued,

"If there is an afterlife, I will definitely find you in the crowd at a glance. I will take away all your regrets and treat you gently. I will lead you on a road to the end of the world."

"Alpha, I'm here."

Annabelle gently closed her eyes.

Chapter 795 My Life Is Enough To Love One Person

Reuben had been waiting from a distance, but he did not wait until Annabelle brought back Alpha.

Reuben had a very bad premonition, and this premonition was getting more stronger. To him, Annabelle was surprisingly quiet, she didn't cry nor express her sadness. Reuben felt that she had other unknown plans.

"No, something happened!" Reuben whispered and ran over as quickly as he could.

When he rushed over, his footsteps slowly stopped, and his entire body froze. Not far away. Alpha was still sitting on the wheelchair, as if he was sleeping peacefully.

Annabelle followed Alpha away.

The strange part was that Annabelle did not have any injuries on her body, she just died of natural causes.

The two of them had been entangled for a lifetime.

Reuben was stunned.

At this moment, the ancient pendulum was still ringing in the distance.

Reuben raised his head and saw a figure walking slowly along the path in front of him.

The eminent figure looked at Alpha and Annabelle and slowly shook his head. Today, the sun was shining and the sky was clear. Mrs. Samantha came to the church to say her. prayers. She was also accompanied by the Augustine family's crown prince, Alpha.

At that time, Alpha was in his youthful age. He was very handsome and charming. He wore a black. suit and stood quietly.

However, he did not squint, and was obviously not used to seeing those admiring gazes.

"Whose young man is this? He's so brilliant." At this moment, an eminent Reverend father walked over and smiled at him.

Alpha never believed in Christianity, so he turned around and left.

"Hey, have this." The father handed him something.

Alpha didn't stretch out his hand, and the marriage lottery fell to the ground, right at his feet.

He lowered his eyes and looked at it.

"CEO, there's a high-level business meeting to be held later. We're going back." At this moment, the secretary walked over and said to him.

Alpha stared at the father expressionlessly, then he turned around and left.

Alpha walked with his secretary to the luxurious business car. At this moment, a sharp and mean voice sounded in his ears, "Annabelle, you are the illegitimate daughter of the Midas family. If not for the fact that I'm a good person, I would have killed you and your shameless mother. This is the money for you, take it!"

A stack of money was thrown at the little girl, and it spilled onto the ground.

"CEO, there's a girl over there picking up money." The secretary whispered.

Alpha did not look sideways and was not interested in the girl over there at all.

His sonorous footsteps did not stop.

Chapter 795 My 1.5fe Is Enough To Love One Person

Alpha came to the luxurious business car. The secretary opened the back door and he was about to get in.

At this moment, a beautiful and pleasant voice suddenly came to his ear, "Sir!"

Alpha paused for a while, then he looked up. A cold and beautiful face suddenly broke into his sight.

The young Annabelle looked at him, slowly, she raised her red lips, and smiled at him gently, "Sir, you stepped on my money!"

Alpha looked at the girl in front of him and remembered the marriage contract that the reverend father told him earlier.

At this moment, the ancient pendulum clock on the spire of the church had already sounded..

"If you like someone, guard the person, because you can only love one person in your life."

"The regrets of the past life, the consummation of this life."

"If the sky is in love, the sky is also blessed."

Alpha had calmly listened to the voice that spoke in his head.

Elvis and Olive took Naomi, as they headed for Los Angeles. Along the way, Olive felt uneasy as if something had happened.

Olive's head laid on the car's window. Before she knew it, it had already started to rain.

"Mr. Augustine, it's raining Olive murmured.

At this moment, her shoulders felt warm. Elvis draped his black coat over her.

"Yeah, it's raining. Olive, why are your hands so cold?"

Olive was indeed very cold. She could not explain what was wrong with her.

She rested her small head on Elvis's stiff shoulder, "It's nothing."

Elvis asked the driver to raise the temperature in the car. Then, he stretched out his strong arm and wrapped her in his arms. He used his body temperature to keep her warm. "Then hug me, it'll be cold for a while."

"Okay!" Olive nodded. Only in Elvis's embrace could her anxiety be eased.

Soon, they returned to Los Angeles.

It wasn't raining in Los Angeles. The sun was bright and clear.

Looking at the scenery outside the window, Elvis frowned in confusion. "Olive, why do I feel like I've been here before?"

This familiarity made him feel very strange, as if he had been here prior.

"Of course, you are familiar with this place. This is my home. I brought you here more than four years ago!"

Here, he had spent the sweetest time with her. Her virginity was also given to him here.

Soon, the luxurious car stopped and Peterson said, "Master, we're here."

Elvis and Olive got out of the car. Naomi also got off the car behind them.

They returned to her old home together.

Naomi was very uneasy along the way. She was sure that Olive knew everything. This was where Olive grew up. This time, Olive was just trying to expose her to Elvis.

Naomi wanted to take the opportunity to escape, but Olive had already seen through her subtlety and sent people to watch her closely, hence she couldn't escape.

Naomi was also upset that she had met an opponent as intelligent as Olive.

Chapter 796 She's Talking Nonsense

When he arrived at her old home, Elvis walked forward, and the memories of that year flooded back.

It was here that he met that warm and determined girl.

He had been looking for her for so many years.

But she seemed to have disappeared into the vast crowd, and had long since disappeared.

At this moment, a soft voice called out. "Mr. Augustine."

Elvis quickly turned around and saw Olive standing behind him, her pair of bright eyes stared at him with a smile.

Elvis was quite for a while. Now, he had inexplicably created a few people who went in search of him. He suddenly looked back and felt that Olive's clear eyes were exactly the same as the girl's eyes back then.

Maybe he was just being delusional.

How could Olive be the girl back then?

Elvis shook his head inwardly. He felt that his idea was too absurd.

"Olive, are you calling me?"

"Yes, Mr. Augustine, what were you thinking just now?" Olive blinked and stared at him playfully.

Of course, Elvis wouldn't tell Olive that he had thought of that girl again. He didn't want to upset her. Elvis faked a cough, then he said. "I wasn't thinking about anything."

"Really?"

Elvis quickly reached out and wrapped his arms around her waist, begging for mercy in a low voice, "Olive, just forgive me."

Olive snorted. She really wanted to settle everything right away!

"Naomi, come over here. You should be familiar with this place. After all, you saved your elder brother here. Tell us about what happened, and make sure that you don't miss any little details."

The two bodyguards pushed Naomi forward.

Naomi gazed at Elvis pitifully.

"Look, they all bullying me," she muttered sadly.

Elvis didn't even look at her. He was even trying to prove his innocence to Olive.

Naomi was speechless. At first, she had expected Elvis to protect her, but after seeing that Elvis ignored her, she wondered if Elvis was really being controlled by Olive.

"Naomi, don't waste any more time. We're all listening." Olive urged with a smile.

Naomi swallowed hard, and then she said, "That's right, sister Olive, I rescued big brother here. I still remember that day when it was snowing heavily, big brother passed out in this icy world, I happened to be passing by and saved big brother...

"How did you save him?" Olive suddenly asked.

Naomi was stunned.

Olive walked over slowly, her pair of clear eyes stared at Naomi, and her eyes flashed sharply. "Naomi, I ask you, how did you save him? Frozen people require a certain amount of medical knowledge to be saved. If I remembered correctly, Naomi never studied medicine. How then did you save him?"

Naomi's face turned pale. She knew that Olive was here to expose her, but back then, she had been lurking around that day. She knew about everything that happened between them, including every conversation, so Naomi was lucky. She could compete with Olive, and Elvis couldn't tell the difference between the fake and the real girl.

However, Naomi did not expect that Olive would be so sharp and accurate to catch her most fatal loophole, because Olive had overcome her from a medical point of view.

Naomi was dumbfounded, her mind went blank, "L..." she stuttered.

Peterson's eyes lit up in admiration for Olive.

Elvis's deep and narrow eyes were locked on Olive's body. He had always known that she was smart, and she had never disappointed him.

Olive slowly said "What, Naomi, can't you answer? Alright, let me change the question. At that time, Mr. Augustine was unconscious in the snow and ice. Were there any other wounds on his body?"

Naomi felt that the question was too easy, and she affirmed, "Yes, at that time, big brother was injured. There were scratches on his left arm and right thigh."

"Nonsense!" Olive immediately reprimanded, "Mr. Augustine clearly told me that only his right hand was scratched by a branch and he suffered a slight injury!"

Naomi was completely shocked. How could it be? The person she sent to assassinate Elvis at that time, told her that he had suffered some injuries. It wasn't her who was talking nonsense, it was Olive!

Elvis did not utter a word, but he frowned slightly because it was indeed Olive who was speaking nonsense.

Naomi was right. His right arm and thigh were injured. Moreover, he had never told Olive that he was scratched by a branch of a tree.

Elvis's gaze fell on Olive as he quietly watched her.

"Sister Olive, you are saying nonsense. Big brother's right arm and thigh were injured. It was not a minor injury, but a serious injury. It was stabbed by a sharp knife!" Naomi tried her best to convince Olive.

Olive

put her hands behind her and suddenly asked, "Naomi, how did you know that Mr. Augustine was stabbed by a knife?"

Naomi suddenly went mute, and she had a very bad feeling.

Olive raised her delicate eyebrows and said calmly, "Mr. Augustine suffered two injuries back then. The first was seven inches below his right arm, and the second was a knife wound on the outside of his thigh."

spoke, Olive's bright eyes landed on Naomi's face, and she slowly smiled, "You didn't study medicine. How then were you able to treat him?"

"Also, when you said that Mr. Augustine was stabbed, you were so sure.

Why? Could it be that you arranged for Mr. Augustine to be stabbed?

When Olive said the last sentence, her words suddenly became urgent, her voice became sonorous and powerful, and she also approached Naomi.

Naomi was forced to retreat. She knew that Olive's words was revealing her lies.

Chapter 797 That Girl Was Olive!

Naomi understood that the purpose of Olive's trip was not only to expose the past, but also to uncover the truth about Elvis's assassination!

Naomi remembered the prophecy left by Visionary's ancestor. Visionary's ancestor had said that a hundred years later, Visionary would have a daughter that was unparalleled in the world.

What a daughter she was!

Elvis squinted his deep narrow eyes. He looked at Olive in shock. How did she know this?

He hadn't told anyone about the wounds he had suffered in those years.

But now that Olive was meticulous about everything, and she explained his grief, Elvis's heart instantly became troubled.

She...

Olive did not meet Elvis's gaze, as her bright eyes still fell on Naomi's face, "Naomi, why are you not talking? Am I wrong?"

Naomi's pupils shrank, she knew that she had been exposed, and she immediately backed away.

But Olive was even faster. The moment she raised her hand, the injection in her hand quickly pierced into Naomi's neck.

Naomi could not avoid it. She received an injection, and soon her face began to deform, revealing its original true self.

The real Mermen princess was already in her thirties, but she had the magic of eternal youth. She still looked delicate and charming.

The Mermen princess quickly covered her face, "Ah, my face!"

The Mermen had been lurking around since they were severely injured by the Visionary's ancestor a hundred years ago. Now, Olive had forcibly exposed their princess.

Peterson's expression changed drastically as he watched the Mermen princess quickly change her face, "Someone, take her down!" he ordered. A few bodyguards quickly stepped forward and grabbed the Mermen princess. "Princess of the Merman race, you look like you're in your thirties, yet you pretend to be a girl who's only twenty years old, and you keep calling my master your big brother. You really played your script well." Peterson muttered in astonishment.

Peterson felt pity for his master. Fortunately, his master was wise and skilled.

The Mermen princess was struggling, "Let me go! Quickly let me go!"

At this moment, Olive walked forward. She slowly raised her slender hand and placed it on the princess's neck. Then, she took off the necklace with all her strength.

"Olive, the necklace is mine! Hurry up and return it to me!"

Olive looked down at the necklace in her palm. There was a word "Augustine" on it. Well, it was the necklace in her memory!

Back then, when Elvis left, he had personally given it to her. After she returned, she placed it in the drawer in the art home, but it soon disappeared. Now that she thought about it, the necklace was first taken away by Pamela, and then it fell into the hands of this Mermen princess-

Olive looked at the Mermen princess and said in amusement. "Is this necklace really yours?"

Although Olive was asking a question, she obviously did not intend to give the Mermen princess a chance to speak. She played with the jade pendant with her slender little hands. She smiled mysteriously and weirdly.

In this game. Naomi was convinced that she had lost because Olive had already guessed what happened to Pamela,

It was obvious that Olive's cynicism and meticulous thought were the truth.

"Yes, the last person Pamela saw was me. I told her that I would kill you for her, so she willingly gave me the necklace and made that video to mislead Elvis!"

Olive nodded, as she urged her to continue.

"Olive, the Mermen and Visionary's people are separated by a bloody feud.

But Annabelle!”

“But Annabelle at that time was already chosen by Mr. Augustine. With a man like Alpha around, we didn’t dare to act rashly, so I became Naomi. After Elvis was born, I didn’t plan to let him live, not only did I have a relationship Lily, we cooperated and even planned to assassinate him twice.” Naomi shook her angrily, and then she continued,

“Everything was originally planned. We could have killed Elvis in those two assassinations. However. Elvis met someone on both attempt, and that person was you, Olive!”

Elvis knew that there was something strange about the two assassinations, so from the moment Naomi appeared, he kept her by his side, wanting to find out the truth about the assassination.

Now, the truth had been revealed by Olive herself. Everything was because of the Mermer.

But when he heard the princess’s last words, the expression on Elvis’s handsome face suddenly changed. He quickly took two steps forward and approached the princess. “What did you say just now? Say it again!”

The Mermer princess laughed. “Elvis, didn’t Olive tell you yet?”

Elvis pursed his lips. In fact, he had already thought about it. However, he couldn’t believe it!

How was that possible?

“Elvis, back then, I sent someone to assassinate you twice. On the second attempt, the assassination was to be carried out on a train. At that time, you met Olive.”

Elvis nodded. Their first meeting on the train was the place where their marriage story officially kicked off.

At that time, Olive was only nineteen years old. She wore a mask, but she dared to look at him with her beautiful eyes.

Elvis looked back at Olive.

Now, Olive was also looking at him. Olive’s eyes were deep, and bright. She looked at him and smiled.

Elvis heart softened, as he stared at Olive.

“Elvis, did Olive not tell you yet that when I attempted to assassinate you for the first time, the girl who really saved you was actually Olive?!”

Elvis’s pupils shrank as soon as heard the Mermer’s words. Although he had guessed it just ILOW. was still shackled when he got the affirmation.

Was Olive the same girl?

That girl back then was actually Olive!

He had been looking for that girl all these years, but he did not expect that she had already come to his side.

“So, Olive, do you know how much I hate you, because you’ve been sabotaging my plans. Without you, Elvis would have died and the Augustine family would have been shattered. Our Mermen’s revival is just around the corner, but you just showed up and distorted the plan!”

“I thought about dealing with you a long time ago, but your mother, Joyce, built an iron wall around you before returning to Visionary. The people around you are all powerful individuals, and Derrick Domino has also been watching over you for so many years, hence we didn’t have the chance to strike!

“Olive, don’t think that you’ve won. The battle between the Merman and Visionary has just begun. I will definitely defeat you!”

Olive knew that the Mermen princess hated her. She took two steps forward and smiled. “Then, I will definitely stay with you to the end!”

At this moment, the war between the Visionary and the Mermen had officially started.

The Mermen princess’s eyes fell on Elvis’s handsome face, and she laughed a few times, “Elvis, you must already know your background. You have the blood of a child. It was destroyed and frozen for a hundred years. It wasn’t just our people who did it. Your people were the real contributors!”

“I don’t know if till date, the river in Greenland has washed away the blood of Visionary’s ancestors. I don’t know if the people of Visionary have forgotten their unforgettable hatred for Greenland. I’ll meet Olive one day, hahaha, I’m really looking forward to it!” The Mermen princess muttered hysterically.

There was no emotions on Elvis’s handsome face. He just pursed his thin lips, and then he said, “Princess, why are you so sure that you’ll see another day?”

The Mermen princess stiffened.

“Take her down and watch her carefully. Don’t let her run escape.” Elvis ordered.

“Yes, master.” Peterson quickly arrested the Mermen princess.

Elvis turned around and looked at Olive. His narrow and deep eyes fell on Olive’s beautiful face.

“Olive...” he made to say.

But Olive swiftly interrupted him, “Mr. Augustine, let’s go!”

“Where are you going?”

“To my place...”

Elvis followed Olive back to where she grew up. The beautiful village was like a fairyland on earth.

Elvis quickly recognized the place. How could he forget this place? More than four years ago, his sleep disturbance had worsened, and he had the best time here with her.

It turned out that she had brought him here before.

No wonder he felt familiar when he saw the place in the photo.

“Miss, sir, are you two back? Hurry up and wash your hands. Dinner is ready. You can eat. Aunt Rebecca warmly greeted them.

Elvis didn’t want to eat. He just wanted to talk to Olive, “Wanwan, I...”

Olive furrowed her eyebrows and stared at him angrily. Then, she pointed at the sink. “Mr. Augustine, wash your hands quickly. Let’s eat first.”

Elvis was anxious. He felt that Olive did it on purpose, probably to punish him for not recognizing her earlier.

Elvis could only go and wash his hands. Aunt Rebecca had prepared a lot of delicious dishes.

After dinner was over, Elvis came to Olive’s side again and whispered, “Olive, it’s getting late. Let’s go to bed.”

Olive pursed her lips and nodded in agreement, “Alright.”

Elvis’s eyes lit up.

At this moment, aunt Rebecca walked over. “Sir, your room has been tidied up. You can rest now.”

Elvis froze. “My...room?”

“Does that mean that I won’t sleep in the same room with Olive?”

Aunt Rebecca shook her head apologetically. “Sir, you sleep in your room, and Miss Olive sleeps in hers. Your room is downstairs, and Miss’s room is upstairs.”

Aunt Rebecca smiled and said, “Sir. You haven’t received a marriage certificate yet. So technically, you aren’t our Olive’s husband yet.”

Elvis’s face darkened. He immediately looked at Olive, as he gestured to her to save him. Olive took the pillow and quilt from Aunt Rebecca’s hands and shoved it directly into Elvis’s embrace. She smiled sweetly. “Mr. Augustine, good night.

With that, Olive turned around and went upstairs.

Elvis was speechless.

In the room.

Olive walked out of the bathroom. She had just taken a shower, and she was wearing a silk nightgown

Wiping her long hair with a towel, she remembered how Elvis looked deflated earlier, and she slowly nodded.

She felt that he deserved it.

At this moment, there was a slight noise, and then the window of her room was opened from the outside.

Who was it?

Olive turned her head and saw Elvis's tall and sturdy body. He turned to the window and came up!

Olive quickly stood up. "Mr. Augustine, you actually broke into my room? Get out, or else I'll call someone!"

Olive turned around and backed away.

Elvis jumped in, then he strode forward, his strong arms wrapped around her slender waist, and directly pushed her against the wall, as he trapped her against the wall and his broad chest.

"Little thing, where are you running to?"

Olive blinked her clear eyes and looked at him. "Mr. Augustine, if you have something to say, say it and leave."

Elvis lowered his head and directly kissed her red lips.

Elvis's deep and narrow eyes were half-bright in the light, and there was a burning emotion in them. He opened his mouth and lightly bit the corner of her lips.

Olive's hands pressed against his strong chest and she began to push him.

Elvis let go of her. His rough fingers gently caress her bitten red lips. He laughed hoarsely, "My woman."

Olive stared at him, as she didn't utter a word.

As Olive stared at Elvis, he felt the muscles in his body become tensed. He couldn't suppress the turbulence in his heart.

Chapter 799 For The Rest Of My Life.

Now before his eyes, he realized that she was the person he had been looking for.

It was her.

It had always been her.

She was always there.

More than twenty years ago, she was still an infant. At that time, she held onto his index finger and smiled sweetly at him.

His mother said, "Elvis, let her be your little bride in the future, okay?"

In the years that followed, the Augustine family was in turmoil.

Later, he and she met on the train, on the road to the Red Villa, And after that she became his wife.

Finally, the figure that he had been searching for in his mind overlapped with the beautiful little face before him.

She was his.

No one could steal her.

"Olive," Elvis frowned and gently kissed her forehead. He used his hard body to press her. The throbbing in his heart was unbearable. "You knew it earlier than I did, didn't you?"

Olive raised her hand, and the necklace with his surname engraved on it, was in her palm.

"I knew earlier, but I didn't tell you. I just wanted to see how long it'll take for you to find me. You said that you would come back to me.

Elvis held her palm-sized face with both hands and spoke to her in a low voice, "Olive, I'm sorry, I'm late....I just...never thought it would be you...I've been wandering since I was young. I didn't expect to be loved by God like this. We separated a few times, but no one was able to take you away. You still came to my side again and again..."

In the past, his father, Alpha, once told him that he was more lucky than he was.

At that time, Elvis could not understand his father's words, but now he clearly understood.

If she hadn't been taken away by Joyce when she was a child, what would have happened to them?

Could she have grown up by his side all these years?

However, fate had its own arrangements. When he saw her on the train, he had already fallen deeply in love with her.

Under Olive Soft palm, the muscles in his entire body softened.

Olive slowly reached out and hugged his sturdy waist, "Mister Augustine, then I'll forgive you, because although you're late, you're not absent."

Elvis's thin and flexible lips pressed against her white, greasy forehead. He kissed her over and over again.

"For the rest of my life, please stay with me," Elvis's thin lips moved down, and he gently pecked her red lips.

Olive smiled sweetly. Her two little hands hugged him tightly, and then she responded to his kiss.

A few minutes later, they were blushing and panting.

However, their lips were still pressed together, and they could feel each other's throbbing and chaotic heartbeats. Elvis's big and sharp palms clasped her slender waist.

"Olive, I think..."

They hadn't been intimate for a long time. She wouldn't let him touch her at all. Now he wanted to....

He wanted to restrain himself. He also knew that he asked for her frequently and had strong physical desires. He hugged her and kissed her. Sometimes, he didn't see her for a whole day, and he would be tensed.

She was right, he had a wolfdog physique.

Hence to him, it felt like she hadn't touched him in a long time. Now, he really wanted it, but he was afraid that she wouldn't give in.

Olive hugged Elvis's neck and kissed his lips. "Mr. Augustine, whenever you want it, I'll give it to you. I'm all yours..."

Elvis immediately picked her up and placed her on the big soft bed. Then he leaned down.

eyes

Olive was a little shy, her densely combed eyelashes trembled uncomfortably. She closed her eye and did not dare to look at him.

"Olive, open your eyes and look at me." Elvis kissed her red lips and coaxed.

He coaxed Olive to open her eyes. Once she did, she met his hot gaze.

Olive's beautiful little face slowly blushed, and her lower lip was being bitten by her teeth.

Elvis felt that he couldn't bear it anymore. He started to pull on his belt, but at this moment, Aunt Rebecca's voice suddenly came from outside the door,

"Where's sir Elvis?"

Aunt Rebecca slapped her thigh. "Sir Elvis wouldn't sneak into Miss's room, would he?"

"Look, Miss's window seems to be open." Aunt Grace, the other lady at the village, suddenly noticed.

There was a knock on the door, and aunt Rebecca said anxiously, "Miss, are you alright? We found out that sir Elvis is gone. Miss, be careful please. We're afraid that he might break into your room."

Olive's face flushed as she pushed Elvis away to speak.

However, Elvis reached out and pulled the blanket over the two of them.

"Mr. Augustine!!

Elvis lowered his head and covered her red lips. He was domineering and strong. No one would spoil his plans for the night!

The next mornin

Olive woke up very late.

Elvis was still asleep. His two strong arms tightly wrapped her in his embrace. When he realized that she was leaving his embrace, he opened his eyes lazily. His thin lips fell on her forehead and he kissed her. "Olive, get some more sleep," he murmured.

Olive felt some heat. The two of them were sticking together and hugging each other. His chest was like a stove. She rolled over to break free from him. But in the next second, Elvis stretched out his arms and hugged her again, "Mrs. Augustine, when it's cold, you crawl into my arms, and when you feel hot, you kick me away, You really portray the reality of a woman."

Olive shook her head with a smile.

At this moment, a knock landed on the door, and Aunt Grace's heavy and anxious voice said, "Miss, something happened! This is not good!"
