The Substitute Bride Doted by My Billionaire Husband Chapter 886

Chapter 886 Take care of your wife!

Elvis and Olive's wedding was about to take place. As the maid of honor, North rushed there early to witness her best friend's happiness.

North was trying on bridesmaid dresses. Olive chose a light blue, backless bridesmaid dress and gave it to North: "North, here."

North looked at the backless style of the dress and quickly raised her eyebrows: "Olive, aren't you afraid that me wearing this will steal your spotlight?"

Olive covered her mouth and smiled coldly: "North, I'm married. All the unmarried men in the stands are yours. You can choose anyone."

North felt that Olive was boasting about her "married" status, she raised her red lips, "Yes, yes, you are a young married girl!"

"North, hurry up and change." The married young woman Olive said and pushed North into the dressing room.

North changed into a bridesmaid dress, but couldn't reach the back zipper, so she held the hem of the dress and walked out. She said, "Olive, help me zip."

Someone came from behind.

However, it wasn't Olive, it was... Raven.

Olive had just gone out and Raven had just come in, just in time to encounter such a... incomparably sweet and beautiful scene.

Now North is wearing that light blue dress. It is originally a backless style, even the only remaining small zipper isn't closed, leaving her back completely bare. Her frame is soft and seductive, her skin is smooth, and her 5-curve makes people want to bully her.

Raven had one hand in his pocket. His protruding throat rolled up and down, then he stepped forward.

He held out his hand.

North was still waiting for the person behind her to unbutton her dress. The man reached out his hand, but grabbed her water snake-like waist.

He pinched hard.

North immediately let out a cry of pain. She turned around, Raven's handsome and gentle face rapidly magnifying in front of her.

"Raven, why are you here?"

North felt the skin around her waist both hot and painful. She could also tell without looking that he had pinched her waist. Today he is still wearing a well-fitting black suit, the gold-rimmed glasses on his face add to his cold look. His appearance was that of an elite, sophisticated and elegant businessman, but who would have thought that he would be so forceful with a woman and pinch her waist fiercely?

Gentleman's interest in Raven's place doesn't exist. North still remembers the last time at Windshire Palace, he pinched her too, and that time it was on her chest.

Her skin was very delicate, then on her chest a bruise appeared, which took a few days to disappear.

Now he is making his mark on her again.

Raven looked at her with a faint smile, "If it's not me, who do you think it is?"

care of your will

"...Mr. Dominos, look at you. You pinched me." North complained disgruntledly.

Raven felt guilty. He was very polite to other women, and only like this to North. It seemed that when he met her, he would leave a mark on her.

Raven lowered her head, calmly glanced at her skirt, and asked, "Don't you want men to pinch you if you dress like this?"

"..." He rverted! Does he think everyone is as pe rverted as he is?

At this point, Olive entered. When she saw Raven's footsteps stop and his handsome pearly figure blocking her front, Olive only vaguely saw a female figure. Because he had many women outside, Olive's first reaction was to think she had accidentally stepped into a large prostitution ring. She said, "I'm sorry, I entered the wrong room. Sorry, I'll go now."

After saying that, Olive turned around and prepared to leave.

But something wasn't right. The figure of the woman just now seemed to be... North, and this was also her room.

Oops, misunderstood.

Olive turned around again, her bright eyes looking at Raven's handsome face, then her confusion turned into a smile, "Mr. Dominos, why are you here?"

Raven shoved one hand in his pocket, pointing at North's backless dress, "Did you tell her to wear this?"

"Olive was startled. She looked at Raven in disbelief. Was he... Was he directly accusing her?"

This seems... seems to be... her territory, right?

"Yes, I told her to wear it. Mr. Dominos, what's wrong?" Olive reacted very quickly.

Raven frowned and said: "She can't wear it. Change it."

Olive, "..."

North said, "Mr. Dominos, do you have too much time? What does it have to do with you? Who are you to me?"

Olive agreed!

Raven's cold eyes looked into North's soft and seductive face. He said, "This is too revealing. North, if you don't want me to tear this dress up myself, you better obediently change it. Who I am depends on your attitude."

Saying that, Raven walked with his long legs.

North heard his threat. If she dared to wear it, he would tear it off. He could be her brother or... her man.

"North, Mr. Dominos is too harsh on you. You are not allowed to wear revealing clothes. This damn possessiveness is scary." Olive muttered in a low voice.

North withdrew her gaze and said: "Forget it, Olive. He's not afraid of trouble, don't provoke him. Let's change something else."

Olive nodded, "I also think we aren't allowed to give Mr. Dominos an excuse or opportunity to tear your dress!"

Raven didn't come to the wedding alone this time, but brought Liliana with him. He still hasn't changed women.

Seeing Elvis, Raven pursed his lips fiercely and said in a dissatisfied manner: "Please take care of your wife. She will lead North astray."

Elvis wasn't happy either. Other people are not allowed to complain about his wife. He said, "My wife is kind and gentle. She can't bring others down. North taught my wife to be naughty."

What?

Raven glanced displeasedly at Elvis, meaning "You want a fight?"

Elvis looked back and said, "Come here. Who is afraid of you?"

Tension broke out between them, sparks flew, and neither of them gave in. At this time, some bosses came and said, "Mr. Augustine, congratulations on your wedding."

The scene quickly turned lively, but Elvis and Raven both didn't look at each other and snorted!

"Mr. Augustine, your bride-to-be has come out. Look, next to her is Miss Paulo, this time she is the bridesmaid."

Raven looked up to see Olive and North walking out of the room. They didn't step forward, but turned and disappeared, but the bride and bridesmaids still attracted a lot of attention.

"Hey, what's Miss Paulo wearing on her ankle? It looks like... a diamond anklet?" A curious person asked.

"Isn't this diamond anklet a gift from the tycoon behind her? This tycoon's really playful. This is telling the whole world that Miss Paulo is his forbidden slave, haha."

When it comes to men, there are always dirty topics to talk about, especially when the subject is North.

12.07

Chapter 887 Does he love her?

Wherever there is man, North is their topic of conversation, which is the law.

Raven's eyes stopped at North's anklet. That night, she wore it after he gave it to her. What did that mean?

Her ankles are shiny and slender, people want to kiss them just by looking at them. She is currently wearing a diamond anklet. It can be guessed that it was given by a man. She was indeed like a forbidden slave held captive by a man.

Just now she scolded him for being a pervert, but now which of these men is a good man? Even good men will be lecherous in front of her.

Even though he really meant it when he gave her the anklet. He wanted to imprison her and wanted her to become his forbidden slave.

Raven's hot, dark eyes looked towards the direction North disappeared. He was very sensitive to her change in attitude towards him in Windshire Palace. When she was in Los Angeles, she even asked him to let her go and she couldn't wait to leave him thousands of miles away. But when she was at Windshire Palace, she seemed to have begun to... seduce him.

Yes, she was seducing him.

Although he still didn't know what caused the huge difference in her attitude before and after, he admitted that he was attracted.

A man like Raven has seen a lot of women's tricks, and they all stick to him with various seduce tricks.

But among them North is the one with the highest rank. What she did is unclear. She intentionally approached him, but when he reached out to grab her, she slipped away.

Just like a feather that makes people's hearts flutter.

And make them delusional.

And restless.

Although North was adopted by the Dominos family, he used real money to raise her. As for his girl, he couldn't say enough. She broke off everything with him when she was 18 years old. When she returned, she treated him badly and very indifferently. He admitted that he hadn't tasted the sweetness from her.

Now that he had a taste, she even started to use women's tricks to deal with him.

That night, she put her finger in his mouth, asked if he liked Liliana or her, and now she was going to show off the diamond anklet he had given her. If that's not seducing him, then what is it?

What stage are they in now? It must have been the stage when adult men and women understood each other well and flirted with each other behind a mask. He liked it so much.

The two bosses chatted happily, but were quickly stopped by the gazes of those around them, because Raven was also there.

Many experts know that North is Raven's sister. Just now, the two bosses couldn't help but talk happily when they saw North.

Now they glanced at Raven in fear, only to see his dark eyes sweeping over them.

The two bosses had numb scalps and could only laugh and say, "Mr....Mr. Dominos, we still have work to do. We'll go first."

Chapter 887 Does he love her?

They lubricated the soles of their feet and then quickly ran away.

Elvis looked at the whole scene and said to Raven: "Who just said my wife was a bad person? Even if North wears this diamond anklet, I still think she is a bad person, and so do you. Your whole family is full of bad people."

This time Raven didn't object but instead raised his eyebrows in a happy mood.

"Mr. Dominos" At this moment, a delicate voice rang out, and Liliana came over.

Liliana ran forward, reaching out her small hand to hold Raven's strong arm, like a little bird clinging tightly to his side.

Raven looked at Liliana with his beautiful eyes lowered. Previously, because her calling "brother" was very similar to North's, he thought he could still meet Liliana, but now when he looked at her, he felt that she was too vulgar.

Raven is a very straightforward person. He always liked North's charming beauty and now he's attracted to her again. Of course, all he left behind for Liliana was disgust.

Seeing his gaze on her face, Liliana immediately got excited. Was this man mesmerized by her beauty?

Liliana said sheepishly, "Mr. Dominos, why are you staring at me? Could it be... Do I have words on my face?"

"Yeah," Raven hummed casually, "There's a word, the word... ugly."

Saying that. Raven withdrew his strong arm and walked away.

Liliana momentarily felt like falling from heaven to hell momentarily. Raven actually said that she has a word... "ugly" on her face!

This is blatant humiliation and disgust for her!

Liliana knew that Raven had completely disliked her, and his interest in her had disappeared.

Liliana was very unwilling. If Raven abandoned her, she wouldn't have a rich life either.

All of this is due to North. Liliana hated North more and more. She was thinking it would be better if North disappeared.

Liliana saw a small knife on the fruit counter. She picked it up, hid it inside her sleeve and went to find North.

Soon, she saw North in the hallway ahead.

"North, stop!" Liliana called and blocked the North road.

North stopped walking. Her eyes narrowed at Liliana's face. She curled her red lips and said indifferently, "What's wrong? Didn't Raven warn you not to provoke me last time? Who gave you the courage to ignore his words?"

Liliana knew she would be defeated by North in the first round. North's mouth is too cruel. "North, what are you bragging about in front of me? Do you really think you are such a big star? I just see that you are a broken shoe!" Liliana cursed viciously, clenching her fist.

North wasn't angry at all. She took two steps forward, came in front of Liliana, then said with a soft and slow voice from her red lips: "Liliana, are you calling Raven's shoe a broken shoe?"

Liliana's eyes suddenly opened wide. She knew... she knew that Raven slept with North!

At this point, North's gaze moved down, stopping on her hand: "What's in your hand?"

12:00

Liliana panicked, hurriedly hid it, "No... nothing..."

Just now she was holding a knife because she was crazy, but now she is sober. It's against the law to hurt others and she doesn't want to be caught.

North's delicate brows turned cold as she saw it was a knife.

In fact, she had never paid attention to Liliana. In her eyes, Liliana was a jumping grasshopper, but now this grasshopper wanted to kill her.

North raised her head and soon saw a handsome figure in front of her, Raven.

North raised a hand and tucked a strand of hair from her cheek behind her ear, using a voice only they could hear to Liliana: "Do you think... Raven love me?"

“What?” Liliana was stunned.

North curled the corner of her lips, suddenly smiled and said: “Try it once and you will know if he loves me or not.”

Liliana had a kind of bad premonition. She sensed that North wanted to do something. She wanted to leave.

But the next second, North directly grabbed her hand. The knife hidden in her sleeve quickly made a bloodstain on North’s finger.

Chapter 888 If he loves her, he will die!

North has never been a gentle person. From the moment she saw a knife hidden in Liliana’s sleeve, she knew that Liliana couldn’t stay.

So she grabbed Liliana’s hand and directly cut a bloody hole in her finger. Blood flowed out, Liliana was frightened, the knife in her hand fell to the ground. She looked at North in surprise: “You...”

Before she could say her words, a large hand with obvious joints suddenly reached out and grabbed North’s small hand.

Liliana raised her head, Raven’s handsome and luxurious face was magnified in her sight.

Raven is here.

Liliana’s eyes lit up, “Mr. Dominos, you came just in time. North...”

Before she could finish speaking, a strong wind blew in the next second, and then a heavy slap landed on her face.

“Bam!”

A loud slapping sound rang out, and Liliana was slapped straight to the ground.

Her mouth was sweet and fishy, a stream of blood flowed from the corner of her lips, and she felt her teeth loosen.

A burning pain spread across her face, causing pain to the point of numbness.

Raven slapped her as soon as she spoke!

Liliana was stunned. She covered her red, swollen cheek and looked at the man in front of her. Raven stood solemnly, his cold black eyes on her face, calm and somber as water, like the king of Satan, so terrifying.

Over the years, Raven has always been surrounded by beautiful words like handsome, gentle, elegant, restrained, but this can’t wash away the darkness and hostility in his flesh and blood. He’s never hit a woman, but that doesn’t mean he won’t.

Liliana was knocked to the ground by a slap. His handsome face seemed to have no troubled emotions at all. He gently turned his head, looked at North and asked: "Does it hurt?"

North looked at him and nodded: "Yes."

Raven put her injured finger into his mouth, then pressed on the wound. He said, "Go back to your room. I'll bandage you up."

Raven hugged North and left.

Liliana felt like she was thrown away like a piece of trash. She knew her good life was over. She was also very unwilling, so she shouted loudly at Raven's back: "Mr. Dominos, you have been deceived. It's not me. Just now she cut herself!"

Liliana bravely spoke the truth. She didn't want to be blamed. She wanted Raven to know North's true face!

At this moment, Raven's footsteps suddenly stopped. He turned his head and looked back at Liliana. Liliana assumed he had changed his mind, disregarding the numbness and pain in her face and said, "Mr. Dominos, please believe me. North actually cut her own finger. Today she can hurt herself without blinking. Tomorrow she can hurt you. Now she loves no one, and when a woman loves no one it's a terrible start."

North quietly looked at Liliana. Even though Liliana doesn't look very smart, what she said is true, North looked at Raven, not knowing how he would react.

Raven didn't react. He looked at Liliana and raised his thin lips: "If you didn't bring a knife, would she have had a chance to hurt herself? In the end, it's still your fault."

Liliana gasped. She didn't expect Raven to use a basin of cold water to pour down her serious words. She also didn't expect that he could see that North did it intentionally.

That's right. Raven is a sharp person, from the beginning he could tell that North had hurt herself.

However, he still protected and pampered her.

Liliana finally learned that Raven was truly fascinated by North. She didn't know what spell North casted on him.

If one day North wants to stab Raven with a knife, he will be willing to be stabbed.

At this time, Raven lazily looked at her again, "I don't want to see you again in the future."

Having finished speaking, Raven and North strode away.

Liliana sat down on the ground, her face pale. Everything ended. She knew she was finished. She looked up and saw two bodyguards dressed in black walking towards her, wanting to take her away.

Liliana was scared. She trembled, her teeth chattering, "Don't... don't..." In the room.

Raven took out the medical box and began to treat North's wounds. His movements weren't gentle. North frowned and said, "It hurts... Mr. Dominos, you hurt me so much..."

Raven replied expressionlessly, "I haven't fucked you, why are you screaming? I'm not in the mood. to hear you scream right now. Shut your little mouth!"

H

North knew he was in a very, very bad mood.

After treating the wound, Raven put the medical box back, didn't look at North, and went directly to the bathroom to wash his hands.

North like a little tail followed him, "Mr. Dominos, what's wrong with you? Are you angry?"

Raven lowered his beautiful eyelids, washed his hands seriously and focused, without turning his head, and his expression was very cold. He asked, "What? If I'm angry, will you come to comfort me?"

The woman behind was silent.

Raven curved his thin lips into an arc of faint irony. If she wasn't here to comfort him then why would she care if he was angry or not?

At this moment, his rolled up sleeve suddenly moved, and a small, soft and seductive object crawled in from under his arm and slid between his arm and the sink. North's small, bright, hand-sized face magnified infinitely in his field of vision.

"Mr. Dominos, I'm here to comfort you." North raised her two small hands to hug his neck, angrily sighed at him, "Why do I now feel like I'm being secretly treated by a tycoon with private rules?"

Raven turned off the faucet and hugged her soft waist, "You've really never served a tycoon before, so do you have a bit of a misunderstanding about the unwritten rules? Or is it because the quality of today's celebrities is so poor that they don't even know how to follow the rules?"

Chapter 888 If he loves her, he will!

Okay, North never won a match.

"Mr. Dominos, what are you angry about?"

Raven pinched her waist and said, "Between you and me, if you want Liliana to disappear, all you have to do is say it. Why did you hurt yourself?"

North blinked her eyelids, then stood on tiptoe and brought her red lips close to his ear, "I want to try once to see if you... love me."

The close distance between the two made his throat dry, he hummed softly, "What if I do?"

"Raven, if I find out you love me, you'll... die!" North spoke in a low voice, word for word.

Raven grinned widely. He knew she wasn't joking. This little canary he spoiled was very arrogant. If she finds out that he loves her, she will definitely ride on his head and dominate him.

Chapter 889 Can you open your mouth?

She is very agile. If someone gives her a pole, she can climb it smoothly.

Raven ran his big hands through her long hair, pinned her hands behind her head, raised his eyebrows and kissed her delicate red lips.

North was stunned, not expecting him to kiss her.

Her two small hands pressed against his firm chest, trying to push him away.

Raven let her go first, rubbing his nose against her beautiful face, "Try pushing me again!"

North's fingertips curled, shocked at his displeasure.

Raven bossily hugged her, "You chased away the woman next to me, now do you want me to find another woman, or do you want to be her replacement?"

North didn't expect him to be so straightforward. Could it be that he... took advantage of this opportunity? She grabbed her fist and hit him hard twice. Raven remained motionless and let her beat him, his thin lips curled into an evil arc and said: "Don't pretend to be reluctant. I told you not to come to me by yourself. Now you're not just coming, you even willingly crawled into my arms. North, don't you know how much I miss you?"

She stopped talking.

Seeing her obedient appearance, Raven raised his eyebrows, lowered his eyes, and kissed her again.

They were both adult men and women, and because she had caused Liliana to disappear, the thin paper between them was torn off.

He has nothing to hide. He just openly liked her beauty. Liliana said she doesn't love anyone right now. He thought so too, but it didn't matter at all. He's very vulgar, and right now he only cares about having fun.

Her acquiescence could make him immoral.

Raven kissed her for a while. When he opened his eyes again, his cold eyes filled with passion, he said hoarsely, "Open your mouth, okay?"

Before North could react, Raven kissed her again, this time he forcefully bit her lip and kissed her more deeply.

North's soft body became stiff. Her mind was filled with the ugly faces of the fat landlord and Tobias.

A stream of sour water welled up in her chest. She wanted to vomit.

Raven was already sensitive to changes in her body. He quickly let her go and reprimanded her hoarsely: "Don't vomit!"

Too scared, North didn't dare to vomit, but her face was as pale as paper.

Raven rubbed her soft waist, then hugged her. He gasped, closed his beautiful eyes, his thin lips fell on her long hair and helplessly kissed. He laughed hoarsely and said: "North, with this condition, you still go out and seduce me. Do you think I am a vegetarian?"

North's small face was buried in his chest. She could smell the cold masculinity on him, the scent so fragrant, yet familiar to her, enough to awaken all her love and dependence on him during those years. She gently closed her eyes. She felt the nausea in her chest gradually subside, They held each other in silence for a while, neither intending to let go. At this moment, there was a "ding dong", the doorbell of the room suddenly rang.

Chapter 149 Can you open your mouth?

There was someone outside the door.

Who?

Raven let go of North and said, "I'm going to open the door."

Raven walked to the door and opened it. Outside the door was a familiar figure, Liliana.

Liliana came here.

The handprint on the right side of Liliana's face was terrifying. She stood outside the door, timidly looking at Raven.

Raven had one hand in his trouser pocket, his eyes as black as ink, bottomless.

He made Liliana disappear, but now that she appeared in front of his eyes, which was really interesting.

“Who is that?” North also came out at this time. She saw Liliana’s footsteps outside the door slowly stop.

“Raven, it’s me.” At this moment, a majestic old voice rang out, and The Old Master Dominos appeared outside the door.

Mr. Dominos is here!

Mr. Dominos was wearing a black suit, leaning on a cane, his eyes dark and sly looking at Raven’s handsome face. He said, “Raven, Liliana and North were just joking. Why do you take it so seriously?”

At this point, Mr. Dominos looked towards North and said, “North, this is your fault. You are Raven’s sister and Liliana is his girlfriend. Now he and his girlfriend are in trouble and unhappy because of you, you should think about it.”

The sudden appearance of Mr. Dominos has broken all the silence.

Raven’s handsome features didn’t reveal anything, and he just turned his head to look at North. He said, “North, I’m going out to talk to grandpa for a while. Go to bed early.”

North nodded: “Okay.”

When he left, Mr. Dominos looked at North meaningfully.

North knew what Mr. Dominos meant. From the moment she purposely came to Raven’s side, the war between her and the Dominos family has begun, and it will never end.

Liliana stood at the door and somewhat smugly said: “North, do you think you won? Now that The Old Master Dominos is here, and he won’t let you stay with Raven!”

—The Daily Story of Alpha and Anabelle—

Alpha was jealous for the first time

Alpha and Anabelle were shopping hand in hand. Very soon, Alpha’s phone rang and he stepped aside to answer it.

When he returned, he saw a handsome mixed-race guy next to Anabelle.

That handsome guy obviously came to chat to her..

Anabelle didn’t refuse and was chatting with the handsome mixed-race

guy. He didn't know what she was talking about, but a smile appeared on her lips.

Alpha's footsteps stopped.

Chapter 859 Can you open your mouth?

The handsome mix-race guy left, and Anabelle ran to Alpha's side and said, "Oh, you're back? Hey, what's in your hand?"

Alpha just went to answer the phone and when he came back he had a red rose in his hand.

Anabelle took the red rose, asking: "Is it for me?"

He nodded: "Yes."

She smiled like a flower, but she also noticed Alpha pursed his thin lips, a bit unhappy.

"Alpha, what's wrong with you?"

"Just now... what did you say to that handsome mixed-race guy?"

Anabelle's eyes sparkled, she immediately smiled: "Are you jealous?"

"No, I'm not."

"Yes, you are." Anabelle turned and ran.

But just after running two steps, Alpha immediately chased her, hugged her soft waist, and pushed her against the wall. This place was very dark, he domineeringly pressed her tightly, not letting her escape. He asked again with his deep voice: "Let me ask you, what did you say to that handsome guy. just now?"

Such a domineering and powerful Alpha made Anabelle feel like she had returned to her previous life.

Her heart was sweet but she still didn't say anything.

Alpha choked in his chest, his jealousy fading away. He felt very uncomfortable, but when he saw the young girl in his arms, he couldn't be angry because he was afraid of searing her. He could only use his dark, handsome face to reprimand her, "Anabelle, if you like me, you can't like anyone else. I don't like you talking to other men!"

Chapter 890 I like beautiful and bad women!

North's seductive eyes looked at Liliana's face, softly and lazily saying. "I don't know whether I won or not, but I just know that you will be the one with the worst outcome. Your disappearance is Raven's greatest kindness to you."

Having finished speaking, she closed the door.

North went into the bathroom to take a hot shower. As soon as she stepped out, her cell phone rang. and the call of Mr. Dominos arrived.

This call was expected.

North pressed the phone connection button, and Mr. Dominos's voice quickly came: "North, take a shower tonight and go to bed early. Raven won't come to your room anymore."

North casually used a towel to wipe her long and wet hair: "Okay"

Seeing her so straightforward, Mr. Dominos let out a "haha" laugh and asked, "North, wondering what I just talked about with Raven?" aren't you

"Do I still need to ask this? It's just a choice between his achievements and beauty."

"That's right, I told him that if he wanted to be by your side, he had to immediately resign as president of the Dominos family, but a person who is too strong can easily lose control, so I lent at helping hand. The directors on the board of Dominos Group are all my people. They will vote for him to resign."

North listened quietly, then licked her red lips, "That's good. Even if Raven comes to see me tonight, I won't open the door for him. Raven has lost everything. It makes no sense for him to be here with me. If we're together, we'll definitely meet your counterattack."

Speaking of this, North looked up at herself in the makeup mirror. She smiled faintly and lazily, "Mr. Dominos, I'm not a girl obsessed with love. Similarly, Raven is not a boy who ignores everything because of love. Don't toy with us. We're all very realistic."

Mr. Dominos on the other end was silent for a few seconds. In fact, North has grown up under his supervision for all these years, but after the age of 18, she kept changing, which made him feel insecure and a bit of a sense of crisis.

North shouldn't pose any threat to him right now. She is a big star in the entertainment world, but even a small negative news can kill her.

She has lost everything but she still has herself.

"North, if that's the case, do you have a chance to win? Raven was raised by me. He is cold to the bone. The most valuable thing about him is his sanity."

North put down the towel, looked at her small, soft and charming face, and calmly said: "The world is bustling, it's all for profit. This game between you and me is like a bet with Raven. You have raised him since childhood and taught him to be sober. You thought that what you taught him was that between his achievements and beauty, he would consciously choose his achievements, but I think he would consciously choose... the beauty." "Raven is just a forest wolf, and who can tame him remains to be seen what you and I can do."

After speaking, North hung up the phone.

The room became very quiet. North didn't have any mixed emotions. She dried her hair and started taking care of her skin. One can see that no matter how beautiful she is, she has to work hard to take___ care of her skin. Otherwise, she will lose God's blessing.

After a while, the melodious cell phone ringtone suddenly rang, and there was another call.

North glanced at it, the word Raven jumping onto the phone screen.

Raven was calling.

She gently withdrew her gaze and didn't answer.

"Ding." Raven's text came in, "Why don't you answer the phone?"

North didn't respond, either.

The melodious cell phone rang again, another call.

He hasn't given up yet.

This time North picked up the phone, but instead of connecting, she reached out and turned it off.

At this moment, on the other end of the line, Raven was standing in the dark hallway, holding the cell phone to his ear, hearing a mechanical female voice, "Sorry, the number you dialed is turned off."

She turned off her phone.

Raven clamped the cigarette between the long fingers of his other hand, brought the cigarette to his lips and took a drag, laughing angrily. As he exhaled a puff of smoke, his muscular chest let out a "haha" laugh. His gentle appearance was further described by the word "scum".

With a cigarette in his thin lips, his handsome eyelids drooping, he sent her a Messenger message, "Don't fall into my hands, otherwise I will kill you."

At this time, “Knock knock”, the door in the hallway was knocked, and the groom, Elvis, came.

Elvis was now standing at the door looking at Raven, a handsome man gently exhaling cigarette smoke, his long fingers placed on the phone keyboard, typing, deleting the text just now. He was saying something, the corners of his long and narrow eyes pointed upward, the involuntary scent of a mature man was both evil and seductive. If there were a few girls standing here right now, they would definitely blush because of him.

Elvis said, “Okay, don’t talk any more nonsense.”

Raven turned his head, glanced faintly at Elvis in the remaining smoke, and asked him, “What? Am I acting so openly?”

Elvis looked at the ashtray. There were a lot of cigarette butts in it. He shrugged, “You’ve been smoking so much lately, it can be seen that you’re full of unsatisfied desires. I think you want more than just talking. Great. I was looking for someone to vent my anger to.”

Raven stuffed the phone into his pocket, then gently tapped the red ash on his cigarette down, smiling without denial.

Everyone knew he wanted her.

“What are your plans for North? Elvis suddenly asked.

“What?”

“What do you think I asked? There are many people, your mother, your grandfather, and yourself... You can’t be involved with North forever. You’re not young anymore. You’re already thirty years old, but you never thought to settle down, find a good woman to start a family with?”

Elvis and he were good brothers, having grown up together since childhood, and what he asked now was sincere.

Raven raised his head, slowly exhaled smoke from his thin lips, then smiled and said: “A good woman? So you still don’t know me? I don’t like good women, I only like bad women, beautiful and bad women.”

Elvis laughed angrily, stepped forward and kicked Raven, “You’ve been fascinated by North.”

Besides North, who else can be a beautiful and bad woman?

A footprint quickly appeared on Raven’s black pants, but he didn’t care, narrowing his cold eyes and looking into the distance, “When I was very young. I often went to the company to look for my dad, and I saw him and his secretary rolled around on the sofa. That's when I thought I would become like him in the future."
