Superman Delta's Life Diary Author: Catch the Cloud

“Teacher, you know me. I'm usually a good student, my attendance rate is nearly 100%, and I'm also eager to help the people.

Yesterday I flew to the coast to fight monsters, so...”

“Teacher, you know me. Which class teacher doesn't praise me, but things are prioritized. Yesterday happened to be the Ghost Festival, and a hundred ghosts walk at night, so I...”

“Teacher, you know me well. I am an activist in our dormitory. Every day I call them to go to class, but under special circumstances, so...”

“Teacher, I'm a foreigner, I don't understand what Xie said, and I didn't know there was a class yesterday, so...”

The teacher took off his glasses and rubbed his temples, “I can tell that everyone in your dormitory has stunts, but this is by no means a reason to skip class! This class! This year! You guys are all done!”

Another version of the introduction: Ultraman Delta was living in another world for unknown reasons. Originally, he wanted to be an ordinary college student, waiting for one day to find a way to return home.

But the sudden appearance of a monster disrupted his plans, and he also discovered that his roommates were not ordinary people either.

Chapter 1 Ordinary Dormitory 609

With a “pop”, the yellow bedroom door with “609” hanging on it was kicked open.

“Sons, your dear old man helped you bring the meal back.”

A man wearing a thick scarf and glasses walked into the house with two large pockets.

Because his glasses were covered with fog, he couldn't tell what the man looked like.

"Thank you dad."

"Thank you dad."

In the house, one after another, there was no shame in the 'son's call'.

The man who entered the room put two large bags on a table made of six benches, turned back and closed the door.

This is the unremarkable dormitory No. 609 on the sixth floor in an ordinary No. 9 dormitory building in an ordinary second-level college in the middle of China.

Originally, there should be six people in a dormitory, but this year the school built a new dormitory building to cope with the expansion of enrollment.

Many people lived in the new dormitory building, which caused the number of people to spread out all of a sudden, and there were only four people in some dormitories.

The man who had just entered the room undid the scarf and the down jacket outside and threw it on the bed. He took off his glasses and wiped them with a cloth, revealing a handsome face.

His name is Xingguangyi, and he is a freshman at Zhongzhou College.

Said to be a freshman, but also enrolled for a few months, and now it is winter.

In addition to Xingguang Yi, there were three other people in the room.

The tallest guy was called Malco, who also wore glasses and had a bookish look that didn't match his height.

The handsome-looking guy with drooping eyes and a somewhat gloomy demeanor is called Xia Luzhen, which doesn't match his gloomy temperament, this guy is quite cheerful. And the color of this guy's eyes is emerald green. According to him, his ancestors have foreign blood, and he has returned to his generation.

The last person in the dormitory was a foreigner with gray hair. Although he didn't know which race would have natural gray hair, he said yes.

This guy's real name is Reis Alhaiger. He named himself Hou Xianxing. He should be the most handsome man in the dormitory.

It's just three people, now all huddled in front of a computer, each with headphones.

Originally, the dormitory was not big, and each of them had bought their own computer chairs. Now the room seems crowded.

“Aren’t you eating?”

Xingguang untied the two big bags, and there were many small bags inside. Once Xingguang took out his own, they would divide the rest.

Smelling the fragrance, the remaining three also turned their heads.

“I’m starving, let’s have dinner.”

Xia Luzhen dragged his computer chair with rollers to the side of the makeshift table and began to open the bag and search.

“Okay, Koichi, have you made money at home recently?” With that said, Xia Luzhen took out a dozen cans of beer at the bottom of the bag and put it aside.

“Have beer?” Hearing that there was beer, Malco got up from his chair.

Seeing that everyone had left, Hou Xianxing had to pause the video and leave his seat to find his own dinner.

Just when everyone was gone, Xingguang glanced at what these guys were looking at.

“No, watch Ultraman, what are the three of you wearing headphones for?”

Starlight glanced at Ultraman Zeta on the screen, and then looked at the three pairs of headphones on the splitter.

“Let me tell you, this Ultraman Zeta looks good.” As Malco said, he had already eaten it. “By the way, I opened your can of beer.”

Starlight kicked Malco’s chair, “Remember to give me the meal money.”

After speaking, he glanced at Ultraman Zeta on the computer screen again, sat down himself, and opened a can of beer.

It was snowing outside, and the heating inside the house was hot.

After eating two cans of beer, Xingguang’s face turned a little red. He could drink it, but he blushes easily after drinking it.

But the wine is not intoxicating and people are self-intoxicating, Xingguang said suddenly, “Let me tell you a secret.”

“What? What? What? Are you in a relationship?” Xia Luzhen asked in a loud voice.

“Don’t be noisy, wait for Guangyi to say it himself.” Hou Xianxing looked like he was listening to gossip.

“Then I’ll say it,” Xingguang drank a can of beer again, squeezing the can, “I’m not actually human, I’m from the m78 nebula, and I’m an Ultraman.”

As soon as he finished speaking, the remaining three guys laughed.

“Don’t... don’t make trouble, you’re a dirty adult, you can’t become light anymore. I’ll tell you a secret, I’m actually a * of death, the kind of Jing Lingting.” Xia Lu really laughed.

“Just the two of you, if you two are Ultraman and Death, then I’m a pirate on the Whitebeard ship.” Malco rolled his eyes.

“You...you...the grand thief! Hurry up and make money, hurry up and make money! One by one without making money, they are eating here for nothing.” Xingguang was obviously annoyed and angry.

Because tomorrow is the weekend, as soon as Xingguang and the others finished their dinner, they started playing black games until the school was powered off at twelve o’clock, and then they went to bed one after another.

Although there are only four people living in Dormitory 609, there are still six beds, four on the top and two on the bottom.

All four of them chose to live in the upper bunk, and the lower bunk was reserved for storage.

Xingguang saw that his laptop was about to run out of electricity, so he carried the basin and the toothbrush, put the towel around his neck, and went out to the public bathroom to wash.

Not only their dormitory, but most of the boys basically follow this routine, and they all came out to wash when the power was cut off.

After washing up and going back to the bedroom, Xingguang patted the door and turned off the light switch. This was to avoid calling people early the next morning and the lights would wake people up.

“Hey, slackers, it’s time to wash up, I don’t want to sleep with my feet smelling.” Xingguang Yi urged.

“Thinking too much, when have you ever smelled foot odor in our dormitory?” Although Xia Luzhen said so, he still jumped off the top bunk and went to wash with his own toilet.

As soon as Xingguang stood below, he changed into his pajamas, scrambled to the bed and started looking at his phone.

Coincidentally, a novel that Xingguang Yi is chasing has been updated.

Just when Xingguang Yi was about to click the “Subscribe” button, he suddenly felt his head shudder.

Xingguang quickly exited the novel software and opened another app.

Entering the interface, there is only a three-dimensional model of the earth, and in a certain area along the coast of Shenzhou, a red dot is flashing.

“I’m in a hurry, go out.”

As soon as Xingguang got off the bed, he didn’t have time to change his clothes, so he just put on a coat and changed his shoes before running outside.

Xia Luzhen just came back from washing up when he happened to meet Xingguang Yi.

“Guangyi, what are you doing?” Xia Luzhen asked smoothly.

“I have something to do, let’s go out.”

“Go out? But the door is locked now.”

When Xia Luzhen said these words, Xingguangyi had already gone downstairs, and only heard a sentence from a distance, “I’m going over the wall!”

Xia Luzhen smacked his lips and returned to the dormitory, “You said that Lao Xing is stunned, it’s still snowing this night.”

“You don’t understand that, it’s called a romantic relationship.” Hou Xianxing teased.

“Come on, you foreigner is still writing.” Xia Luzhen put the toilet utensils back on the shelf, “But then again, Lao Xing doesn’t really have a situation, right?”

“Be confident, I won’t take it off. I just saw Lao Xing glance at his phone, and he immediately fell off the bed. He wasn’t so active in eating.” Malco said, “This must be his girlfriend’s emptiness and loneliness. It’s cold, sigh... Lao Xia, close the door, the heat is gone.”

“Lock the door?” Xia Luzhen asked.

“Don’t lock it first, I haven’t washed up yet. The last person to go to bed will put a book on the door and don’t lock it. I’m afraid Lao Xing didn’t bring the key.”

The dormitory building of Zhongzhou College is U-shaped, split from the middle to the left and right are Units 1 and 2. The doors of the two units are on the inner side of the U, and they are facing each other.

There is a small house at the entrance of U. This is the dormitory management room. The dormitory management room is connected to the large iron fence gate of the entire dormitory building.

Because of the night watch, the door of the unit has not been closed.

Xingguang originally wanted to turn out the door, but as soon as he walked out of the unit door, he found that the dormitory aunt was there to help the students move the bicycles to the shed.

Xingguang could only go back to the dormitory building. The windows on the first and second floors were equipped with anti-theft nets. He went to the public study room on the third floor and looked around, but there was no one in it for the time being.

So he quickly opened the window and jumped out.

As soon as Xingguang followed the path, he found a very remote place along the way.

This time, he took out an instrument from his pocket with confidence.

It was a silver box-shaped instrument, and as soon as Starlight pressed a button on the side, a handle popped out from the back of the instrument, and the front of the instrument also opened.

Xingguang took out a metal mechanical card nearly two centimeters thick (modified as an Otto cassette from Chapter 23), and inserted it into the instrument from above.

As soon as it is inserted, the mechanical card is automatically deformed, and a villain is transformed on the surface of the card, and the eyes and chest of the villain are shining.

As soon as Xingguang held the handle, he waved the instrument like a punch.

“De...” He just shouted, feeling that his voice was too loud, and lowered his voice again, “Delta!”

A triangular light curtain appeared in front of the instrument, and the instrument began to slowly cover the whole body of starlight.

I saw the starlight turned into a light and flew away.
