Chapter 2 Ultraman Appearing in the Real World

At this time, it was late at night, and above the sky, a civil aviation plane was flying from abroad to China according to the scheduled route.

In the cabin, most of the people were already asleep.

Occasionally there will be a cough or two and a low voice of communication.

It won't be long before the plane will land at the airport, ending the flight.

Suddenly, the fuselage jolted violently, waking everyone up.

"Please don't panic."

Flight attendants soothed the passengers, and one of the flight attendants consulted the cockpit through an intercom device.

But now the cockpit is also in turmoil.

The incident happened in an instant. The sky was still calm, but a huge tornado suddenly appeared and swallowed the plane directly.

At this moment, they can already see through the window the dark clouds rolling back in all directions and lightning everywhere.

The body itself has lost control, and is slowly drawn into the center of the tornado by the eddy current.

The pressure from the strong wind made the fuselage creak.

What the captain and the others can see and feel, the passengers have also seen and felt.

The cabin began to become a mess, roars and cries filled the cabin, and the voice of the flight attendants to maintain order seemed isolated and helpless.

A young mother put her arms around her daughter and said in a trembling voice, "Yingying, don't look outside. Don't be afraid, it's alright, it'll be alright."

"Mama!" Yingying, who was only five years old, kept sobbing and could only express her fear in this way.

Suddenly, inadvertently, Yingying saw a light through the window. She looked at the light and forgot to sob.

“Mama, it’s Ultraman.”

Chapter 2:

What Yingying saw, so did the people in the cockpit.

“...”

They were so surprised that they didn’t know what to say, and they could only feel that their worldview was collapsing little by little.

The giant of light that existed in the special film appeared in front of their eyes at this moment.

“Ultraman is here!”

The children cheered first, and then the adults cheered and exclaimed.

“Ultraman! It’s Ultraman!”

“Saved! Saved!”

....

Even if they are not out of danger, these people have begun to believe that Ultraman will save them.

Xingguangyi or Ultraman Delta, his parents always told him that the Ultras are neither gods nor natural heroes, but an ordinary race in the universe.

However, if you have such a body, you have the ability to withstand disasters. When a storm comes, you can’t help but want to disperse it.

It turned out that in the Kingdom of Light, Xingguang was just an ordinary member of the Kingdom of Light. The Academy of Science and the Military Forces had the Space Guard Team. When the sky fell, there were those big bosses who were holding on to it, and it was impossible for Xingguang. .

Now, it’s Starlight One’s turn.

“This is probably the weight of Ultraman.”

The silver giant thought about it in his heart, looked towards the cockpit, and nodded to the people inside, indicating that he was not malicious.

Then, he held the plane and used his energy to form an energy stand on the plane to prevent the plane from disintegrating.

After doing this, Delta Ultraman took the plane and left the tornado.

After escaping the danger, the minds of the passengers began to come alive.

The children lay on the windows, watching the giant outside, arguing.

“There are three colors on him, he is Tiga!”

“Ultraman Tiga is red, silver and purple, and he is red, silver and blue. This is not Tiga.”

“The lamp on his chest is a triangle, he is Ultraman Gaia!”

“No, he’s a new Ultraman.”

....

As for those adults, aside from celebrating the aftermath, all that’s left is taking pictures.

“Scared... I’m scared to death. When I go back, I will put away the shf of the knight, buy more shf of Ultraman, and put it on the incense on the first and fifteenth day of every month.” The sweat on the forehead said with lingering fears.

The thin man sitting next to him had just finished taking the photo when he heard the fat man say so, and quickly opened the online shopping software, “Stupid, hurry up and buy it while you can go online now, when the news spreads tomorrow, Ultraman’s shf should be price goes up.”

“Yes, yes.” After saying that, the fat man also took out his mobile phone.

At this time, there were two more trailing behind Ultraman Delta, two military planes.

“I am Dong Yao at the headquarters, I am Dong Yao. I have discovered the unidentified flying unit, it is Ultraman.”

“...” After a short silence, a voice came from the walkie-talkie, “Dong Yaodong Yao, I am the headquarters and I am the headquarters. Can you be sure?”

While the fighter plane was talking to the headquarters, Ultraman Delta also found the fighter plane following him. He nodded to the fighter plane, released his goodwill, and then flew towards the nearest airport.

In the aircraft waiting room of a city along the coast of China, a broadcast suddenly sounded.

“Ladies and gentlemen, the flight was originally scheduled for... because, please continue to wait in the waiting room, for which we apologize...”

Ladiesandgentlemen, wearesorryaboutthefligh...”

“ladies and gentlemen.....”

Listening to the broadcast of the flight delay, a middle-aged man dragged his suitcase anxiously to the service desk and inquired about the flight situation.

“Sorry sir, this incident is sudden. We have not received the delay time and reason for the flight. Please be patient. I am very sorry for the inconvenience to your travel.”

The staff at the service station maintained a professional smile, bowed slightly and apologized to the passengers.

In fact, she did not know why the plane was suddenly delayed.

But soon, she knew why the plane was delayed. Not only she, but even the middle-aged man knew about it.

A giant slowly landed at the airport and slowly put the plane down. After that, he didn't stop for a while and flew away directly.

Tonight is destined to be a sleepless night for many people.

Delta Altman is back in the hurricane, which is bigger than before.

Without hesitation, Delta Ultraman rushed directly into the center of the hurricane.

Through Ultra Vision, Delta Ultraman can see what the core of the hurricane is.

“Natural Control Machine – Heaven, how could this thing be here?”

The natural control machine – the heaven, this thing first appeared on the earth where Gaia Ultraman is located.

Because Ultraman Gaia also came to the Land of Light later, most of the enemies that Ultraman Gaia has dealt with have their data archived in the database of the Land of Light.

In addition to the celestial world, the natural control machine has other machines. It is said that it is a machine built by the future human plan of the earth where Ultraman Gaia is located to restore the natural environment after the extinction of human beings.

The natural control machine only has a simple defense and counterattack program, and it does not have much intelligence. It is a relatively easy role to deal with.

And just now Ultraman Delta did not attack Heavenly Realm rashly, so Heavenly Realm's counterattack program has not yet started.

Using Ott's vision again, Delta saw through the heavens and saw its core components.

I saw Ultraman Delta's hands converge on the top of his head, then spread down, and finally clenched fists and converge on his chest.

The trajectory of his palm drew a golden triangular light curtain in the air.

The three corners of the triangle continued to emit golden electric lights, converging toward the center, condensing a sphere.

"Delta Lightning Stream!"

After the energy was accumulated, Ultraman Delta pushed his fists forward. The energy sphere turned into a golden torrent of energy and blasted towards the heavens.

The celestial realm that did not activate the defense system was directly penetrated by the delta lightning flow, and the remaining mechanical body lost power, looking crumbling, and the hurricane slowly stopped.

Ultraman Delta stepped forward and hugged the heaven, turned into a streamer directly, drew a triangle in the sky and disappeared.
