

Superman Delta's Life Diary

Chapter 3 Responses on the Internet

"The sun is shining, ah no, the snow is falling, it's another fine morning (hey, what are you writing in this manuscript)..."

Early in the morning, the school's radio rang, and the female announcer didn't say a word, and immediately put on the music, and I could vaguely hear the female announcer whispering to someone behind the music.

"This ghost weather, Qing, you are a big bastard, and it's annoying to keep people from sleeping."

Xia Lu really muttered, and tucked his head into the quilt.

He found a good novel last night, and didn't fall asleep until three o'clock in the morning.

Strange to say, the school's daily broadcast is not broadcast from Monday to Friday, but only on Saturday and Sunday.

The No. 9 dormitory building where Xia Luzhen and the others are located is very close to the sports field, with a small artificial pool in the middle. The loudspeakers in the whole school belong to the sports field. Xia Luzhen's dormitory also faces the sports field, so they are bombarded by school broadcasts every weekend morning.

Today, because there was a problem with the broadcast draft, the daily broadcast stopped after a while, and Xia Luzhen was quiet.

After sleeping for an unknown time, Xia Lu really woke up.

As soon as he looked up, he saw two sand sculpture roommates slumped down on the chairs playing with their mobile phones. The computer was also on, but it was used as a background sound.

"Morning, what time is it?" Xia Luzhen asked.

"Zhu Zhen, it's almost eleven o'clock for lunch, it's still early." Hou Xianxing said.

The nickname Zhuzhen was first given to Xia Luzhen by Hou Xianxing.

"Where's Lao Xing? Are you back?" Xia Luzhen asked again.

“Come back early, he was already in bed when we both got up.” This time it was Malco’s reply.

Xia Lu was really like a salted fish. After a few efforts, he stood up from the bed wrapped in the quilt.

He glanced at it, and Xingguangyi was indeed lying on the bed, wrapped tightly like a hibernating bear, and was fast asleep.

Xia Luzhen showed a gratified smile like an old father, “The old star in our dormitory has really made a lot of money, and actually got on base. By the way, do you know who the old star’s target is? This old boy is too good at hiding it. .”

He still thought that Xingguang went to find his girlfriend last night.

“do not know.”

Looking at the indifferent reactions of the two people below, Xia Lu was really confused, “Give me a little reaction, aren’t you curious about this?”

“The matter of Lao Xing can be put aside temporarily, because there are bigger melons to eat.” Malco said mysteriously, “You know, Ultraman has appeared in reality.”

“...” Xia Luzhen just wanted to ask if Damai hasn’t woken up yet, and then thought that Damai is quite reliable as a human being, and basically doesn’t talk nonsense.

This is probably some kind of new Ultraman propaganda activity, let’s see it for yourself, and let others retell it will be less mysterious.

Thinking so, Xia Luzhen turned on the phone.

As soon as he got on his chat software, Xia Luzhen found that he was bombarded with information. Except for the class group with the teacher, the news of each group was 99+.

He casually opened a group of special photography fan fiction, Xia Luzhen flipped up and saw a picture.

This picture is not a particularly clear picture like a magazine picture, but a candid picture.

An unknown Ultraman stood under the darkness of the night, his eyes and the color timer glowed reassuringly, and he raised his head as if preparing to leave.

This photo was taken at an elevation angle, and it really looks like someone captured Ultraman in reality.

When Xia Luzhen saw this photo, his first reaction was that Goto-sang had changed his ways, or that Tsuburaya Hachi carried a large sedan chair and invited Maruyama-sang back?

The overall shape of this unfamiliar Ultraman makes people dream back to the old Heisei. Silver is the base color, red and blue are evenly and smoothly distributed on the body, there are not too many scattered color blocks and other decorations, and the color timing on the chest is The device is somewhat similar to Ultraman Gaia's, except that the Ultraman's is an equilateral triangle. On the head without too much decoration, the whole Austria looks ordinary, but it is quiet and peaceful.

Xia Luzhen Aite sent a message to a few activists who he could usually chat with.

"Dude, I just woke up, what happened?"

Someone sent Xia Luzhen a website right away, very soon.

Xia Lu really clicked on the website, which is the largest same-sex dating barrage website in China.

I clicked play, which was obviously shot with a mobile phone, in portrait orientation.

At the beginning of the video, a foreigner is muttering something to the camera, his face is full of fear, look at the subtitles below, this foreigner has been saying some prayers such as "God bless".

Looking at his background, it should be inside an airplane. The picture is unstable and shaking all the time. The background sound is also very noisy, and there are all kinds of sounds.

Suddenly, the foreign man seemed to have discovered something, and his face was so excited that he burst into tears.

"Oh, my God, I'm saved, it's Ultraman!"

The excited foreigner quickly turned the camera and aimed out the window.

The camera captured Ultraman holding a plane.

When it came to the video, the amount of barrage suddenly increased.

"Come on, our Ultraman!"

“Really or not, this special effect is too awesome.”

“Wow wow wow, what a great figure, my mother is good.”

“Rush rush!”

“Ye Qing is back!”

...

Raising his eyebrows, Xia Lu really ignored those bizarre barrages and clicked on the other related videos posted below.

In the past, cameras were more expensive and fewer people used them. Now everyone has a mobile phone, which can record video and take pictures. The image data of this new Ultraman spread all over the sky, some were taken from other angles on the plane, some were taken at the airport, and some were taken from a long-range perspective outside the airport.

“True or false.” Xia Luzhen scratched his head and marveled.

But he quickly adjusted his mood. After all, Xia Luzhen’s own existence is very special, and it’s no big deal to have another Ultraman.

This event has caused a boom all over the world, ranking high on various websites.

After all, there are foreigners on the plane and in the airport, and this incident has gone international from the very beginning.

Chapter 3:

There is a slang saying “You can know the president through three people.” You don’t necessarily know Altman himself through three people, but you can meet someone who experienced this event firsthand through three people.

“Of course it’s true. Old Du in the 612 dormitory next to him, his cousin and his cousin’s daughter are on the plane.” Malco told Xia Luzhen the news of the gossip early in the morning.

“Isn’t this... the governments of all countries didn’t respond?” Xia Luzhen asked.

“This is, so far, no official speech has been seen from any country.” Malco replied.

At the same time, Yuangu Company, which is far away in Neon, was once found by the Neon police.
