Chapter 31 Confession

Chapter 31 Confession

"Ahhh~"

Lilly let out a surprised yelp but didn't resist. Max held her in his chest for a few seconds. He then cupped her face gently and looked into her eyes.

"I love you, Lilly." He confessed. Lilly had a very shocked expression on her face. She didn't expect him to confess to her, a lowly maid.

A moment later her eyes were filled with tears. She was happy. She knew that she loved him and also cared for her and she could feel that after he woke up from the coma he was attracted to her and that was the reason she gave him her body. She was happy when he didn't reject and actively sought her even if it were only to satisfy his lust.

"Do you love me?" He asked wiping the tears from the corners of her eyes.

"Mhm... Y-Yes... Yes, I do." She hurriedly nodded.

"Good. From now on you'll call me Max when we are alone okay. And soon enough I'll give you the status you deserved." He said looking into her eyes.

Surprisingly, Lilly shook her head. "No Y- Max, it's okay. If you want to give the status do it after I also have become strong. That way I won't feel that I'm unworthy to be by your side."

Max looked at her incredulously. After thinking for a bit about it, he understood her thoughts. Although she also loved him and wanted to be with him and she was very happy to hear that he wanted to marry her but at the same time, she also felt that if she did marry him now. Everyone especially his family members would not approve of him marrying a lowly maid.

Even more, now that they knew that he was no longer the same as before and was becoming a powerful mage after his show of strength in the beast tide. She would also not feel good when others pointed at her. So, she wanted to become strong, strong enough to be worthy of becoming his wife.

This was easier now as after the beast tide incident everyone knew about her strength and that she was also a novice mage. You can say that the beast tide was advantageous to her in this way. She didn't have to explain anything to anyone or more like, they didn't have time to question her.

Max Knew what she was thinking but he thought that she was downplaying herself so he said "You don't have to think like that. You are a very strong and talented girl. You already are a novice mage and soon would be a one-star mage. And most importantly you have also awakened your ice element, all that you've achieved without anyone's help. You..."

Max was interrupted by her mid-speech "No young... No Max please allow me to do it." She insisted.

Max shook his head inwardly at her unusual stubborn behaviour. He could only sigh at this "Okay we will do as you say."

Lilly smiled hearing this and didn't say anything.

"Okay let me take a bath. I've sweated a lot just now." Max let go of her and stood up to go to the bathroom.

Watching him stand up and go toward the bathroom Lilly hesitated for a moment but finally asked in a low voice while looking down "M-Max can I ask you something?" Her voice was soft to the point where if he wasn't close to her and there was silence in the room, Max wouldn't have heard it.

He turned to look at her and said "Yeah sure. Ask away." He became curious as this was the first time Lilly was asking him something.

"W-What will be my sta-status when we marry?" She asked. From her stammering voice, it was clear that she was very anxious about it.

"What do you mean? Won't you be my wife then?" Max asked, puzzled.

Lilly looked at him for a moment, speechless. When she remembered that after he woke up from his coma, he seemed to have forgotten everything. She explained "As a noble and given that you've become a two-star mage in such a short time, you will most likely become even stronger, you can marry many women but not all can have the status to be the main wife. There can only be one wife, the rest of them will have the status of concubine."

Max now understood this. He curiously asked, "Who is the main wife of my father?"

Lilly was taken aback by his question but she answered "From what I heard, It was Lady Hannah, your mother."

Max nodded hearing this. He didn't even know why he asked this question. He then looked at her and said

"You'll still be my wife. So don't underestimate yourself and from this moment onwards you are no longer a maid but my girlfriend. So dress like one." His voice was a bit authoritative, so Lilly unconsciously nodded her head.

He went to the bathroom after finishing his sentence.

Lilly sat there on the bed, her expression frozen. After a while, her expression became cheerful like a little girl who finally has her wish granted.

"I'll be his main wife..." She muttered with a dreamy look on her face.

After a while, Max came out in his bathrobe. He saw that Lilly was lying on the bed, her body was covered with the silky white blanket.

"Are you sleeping..." Max didn't continue his sentence when he noticed her dress lying on the floor beside the bed. His eyes blazed with lust and his little brother became hard after realising what this situation meant.

Lilly looked at him with love-filled eyes. After hearing his words earlier, she decided to please him as it has been a few days since they had sex.

Max reached the bed and slowly pulled down the blanket revealing her flawless body. Lilly covered her breasts with one hand and her sacred area with another. Her legs clenched tight.

Chapter 32 Lilly Choking On....

Max took off his bathrobe and sat beside her waist. He then leaned down for a kiss. Lilly also opened her mouth a little and welcomed his kiss.

Their lips attached as they kissed. A normal kiss turned into a passionate one in just a moment.

Lilly had her eyes closed and her soft and unblemished cheeks had a pinkish hue. Her tongue was intertwined with Max's while her soft lips were dominated by Max.

Max who had kissed her many times before couldn't help but be drawn in by her sweet soft lips and her delicious little tongue. He started to kiss her forcefully on her lips leaving them red.

His desire for her body had gone into his head, he reluctantly broke the kiss and removed her hand with a little force and kissed her pink buds one by one. He grabbed her boobs which were not too large and not too small with his hands and started to knead them, caress them his tongue wrapped around her right nipple and he played with it with his tongue.

Lilly's breathing was rougher now. She unconsciously grabbed his head and force him into her chest. She moaned when he massaged her breasts and licked her nipples.

"Ah...ahh...umm..."

She let out a few moans of pleasure. She firmly closed her eyes and felt the pleasure coursing through her breasts to her whole body.

Her pussy was slightly wet now. She opened her tightly closed legs and removed her hand which was covering her pussy.

Max while licking and rubbing her breasts noticed this and a smile appeared on his face. He sucked on her nipples hard and kneaded her soft and fluffy breasts more roughly causing her to moan louder.

He then slowly caressed her belly with his right hand and slowly made its way toward her little sister. When he put his fingers on her vertical lips, his fingers became wet in seconds. He rubbed her outer labia with his index and middle fingers.

"Umm...Hnngg...ohh..."

Her moans intensified. Her pussy became even wetter. Hearing her sensual cries, his already bulging dick threatened to explode. He moved down her body kissing her breasts, belly and tower torso. When he was about to kiss her clit Lilly stopped him.

"Wait M-Max..." Lilly suddenly said.

"Mm? Do you not like it?" He asked with a little frown on his face. He remembered clearly when he did this last time she very much liked it.

Hearing his question, Lilly's face was now beet red.

She looked away and said "No, i-it's not that. I like it but t-today I want to p-please you."

"Ohh?" Max was stunned but quickly a lustful smile appeared on his lips.

He sat down on the bed with his legs on the sides and his bulging cock in front of her.

He then pointed to his cock and said with a mischievous smile "If that's the case, why don't you do it what it did with you last time."

Lilly nodded surprising him greatly. He didn't expect this considering how bashful she was. But what he didn't know was that Lilly really wanted to please him.

She was really happy after his confession. When he went to take a bath she had decided to please him and make him happy and when she remembered that he was the one who always tried to pleasure her, she decided to do something which according to her would please him.

She slowly approached him and leaned down between his legs, her boobs swaying as he crouched down. She reached out her small hand and grabbed his cock and started moving her hand up and down.

"Ohhh!" When Max felt her soft hand on his dick, he felt really good. He smiled as she clumsily tried to stroke his dick.

"If you make it wet and do it, that will feel even better," Max whispered in her ear.

"H-How can I make it wet?" Lilly asked, flustered.

"Use your mouth and suck on it as if it's a lollipop." He nudged.

She hesitated a little after hearing this but soon brought her mouth close to his cock and opened her sexy red lips and kissed the tip of it.

Max felt an electric current flow into his cock when her soft lips kissed his cock. He closed his eyes to enjoy the sensation. This was a completely new feeling.

Lilly started to lick the tip slowly. She felt the taste of it was weird but was not something unpleasant so she continued moving her little pink tongue across the tip of his dick.

She then opened her mouth wide and put it in. Her tongue was moving and sucking on the glans. A little less than half of his cock was in her mouth.

"Ohhh...That's it. Continue doing it. Don't let your teeth touch it." Max grabbed her hand by one hand and guided her to move her head up and down.

She instinctively understood it and started moving her mouth up and down while sucking on his dick. Her tongue was sometimes licking glans and sometimes was licking under his shaft.

"Ohh Lilly you are doing a good job. Ahhh! Try putting it a little deeper in your mouth." Max groaned in pleasure and pushed his dick more than half inside her mouth. It was almost touching her throat.

"Mmm... wfff...mmff..."

Lilly almost choked on his big cock. She hurriedly moved her mouth away and took it out of her mouth.

"Cough! cough! Huff...huff..." She coughed and breathed heavily. Her saliva dripped down her lips uncontrollably. Her eyes had tears.

Max looked at her coughing wildly and his expression changed. He apologised, his voice laced with panic and concern "I'm sorry Lilly. I got too excited. Are you alright?"

After taking a few deep breaths she calmed down. "Mhm... I'm alright. I'm just glad you liked it." She smiled sweetly.

Chapter 33 How About Round 2?

Max looked at her coughing wildly and his expression changed. He apologised, his voice laced with panic and concern "I'm sorry Lilly. I got too excited. Are you alright?"

After taking a few deep breaths she calmed down. "Mhm... I'm alright. I'm just glad you liked it." She smiled sweetly.

Seeing her satisfied expression Max sighed in his heart and vowed to always keep her happy.

"It's good. Now lie down." He smiled and pushed her down. He opened her legs to see her wet pussy. Her love juice was dripping down.

Max rubbed his cock on her clit a few times which made her moan like crazy. She got a lot of stimulation from it.

He then gently pushed the tip of his cock inside her wet vagina.

"Ahh...mhm...!"

Lilly let out a few moans, feeling him enter her body. She grabbed the bedsheet to prepare for what was coming.

Not disappointing her, With a strong thrust, Max went all the way inside her pussy. His dick hitting her cervix.

"Ahhh...haah...haaa...angh...!"

Lilly moaned loudly. She could feel his big and thick cock reaching her deepest part which gave her a lot of pleasure mixed with a little bit of pain.

"Ohhh...! You feel very good Lilly." Max also felt the heavenly sensation of his dick Piercing her vagina. Even though they had done it many times before, every time it felt like he was doing it with her for the first time.

"Yes, Young master you feel good too inside of me. I like it." She unconsciously blurted out. When she realised what she had said she closed her eyes and covered her face in panic.

Max chuckled seeing her act like this. He moved her hands away and kissed her on her soft sweet lips. And whispered "I feel even better after hearing that you also like it. So don't feel shy. You are my woman and say whatever you feel like in front of me okay!"

"Mhm...Yes, I'm your woman." She mumbled in a very low voice. Max could only see her lips moving slightly. He ignored it and put his hands under her perky hips and lifted her slightly above the bed.

Here I come. He said in his mind and started a pistoning motion. With every thrust, Lilly moaned and he felt that heavenly feeling in his body.

Thwop! Thwop!

He closed his eyes and continue doing it. Only Lilly's moans and the sounds of their flesh slapping each other could be heard.

...

As they enjoyed themselves, someone was standing outside his room listening to the lewd sounds they were making.

It was Eva. His sister in law who was standing there with a plate of food in her hands.

After witnessing his strength, she was very impressed. Her husband, William, wasn't as impressive as him and on top of that, he kept mocking him.

So she came to apologise on his behalf and to thank him for saving them from the beasts. But she didn't expect him to be having sex in the broad day.

Initially, she wanted to go back and come later but hearing the girl's loud, pleasure-filled moaning, she grew curious and wanted to peek inside but unfortunately, the door was shut tight and she didn't want to be caught peeking at them.

Therefore, she stood there listening to their lovemaking sounds and the place between her place started to tingle.

She hurriedly went back to her room and muttered under her breath "He seems to be more capable than William."

...

Max put Lilly down and again grabbed her by her waist and neck and made her sit on his lap with his dick still inside her.

Lilly was surprised by his sudden action but she let him do whatever he wanted.

"Let's see how you taste in this position," Max mumbled and started moving her willowy body up and down.

He looked at Lilly's face. She had an ecstatic expression which showed how good she was feeling now. Max got even more excited by her expression and moved her body even faster.

Ah! Ah! Ah! Ah!

Her moans sounded in the room more frequently. After a few minutes Lilly gripped his back, her nails dug into his skin and shouted while her eyes glazed over.

"It's coming...It's coming..."

Max instantly knew what she meant after doing it with her many times. He who has been holding back and also cummed inside her. They both had orgasms simultaneously. After a few seconds, they collapsed on the bed while embracing each other.

He collapse beside her and his cock came out of her pussy as he moved beside her. The mixture of their love juices flowed out but none of them cared. They both panted like wild dogs.

[Ding. +1000 Lust points.]

Max heard the system notification but ignored it.

After calming their agitated breathing and their racing hearts, they looked into the eyes of each other. They could see love, affection, joy, lust and happiness.

"Did you like it?" Max asked while he fixed her stray hair behind her ear.

"Yes, I liked it. I love doing everything if it's you." She said as a matter of factly, Without looking away this time. But her face betrayed her emotions.

Max smiled while looking at her blushing face and hugged her again into his chest and said which made her smile again "Me too."

She then bobbed out her head and asked while smiling happily "Did you like it?"

Max smiled wryly, he just said so but she wants to hear it again. He then said as he moved his finger on her cheek lightly "Yes, I loved it even more than before."

"Hehe~" Lilly smiled like a spoiled brat.

"I see that you are getting naughty." Max smiled as he pinched her little nose.

"Hehe, You don't like me being naughty?" She asked with a cute expression.

"Yes, I like you being naughty even more." Max said smiling. He was genuinely happy that she was more open with him unlike before when she considered her as his subordinate and act in a very reserved manner.

He then suddenly smiled mischievously and said "How about round two?"

Chapter 34 Interruption

"How about round two?"

Max had just spoken when someone knocked on the door.

Max looked at the Lilly whose face now had a hint of panic. "What should we do? We will get caught." Lilly said in panic.

Max shook his head and smiled at her "What's there to be afraid of? Aren't you already my woman? So what if we get intimate with each other and others find out."

Max then said "I'll handle it. You should go and take a bath and clean yourself." Although he didn't care if others find out about their relationship, he knew that Lilly would not have a easy time when he is not with her. This was also one of the reasons why Lilly rejected his proposal.

Lilly was a bit embarrassed hearing this. As she looked at herself, she was also sweating a lot and her lower area was stained with their juices. She took her clothes and ran toward the bathroom without looking at him in the eye.

Max smiled and shook his head inwardly seeing her feel embarrassed about these little things even after all that they had done. 'It's true that girls are strange creatures.' He thought.

He put on his bathrobe which didn't do well to cover the tent his half erect penis was making on the bathrobe. He didn't think much about it and went to open the door.

As He opened the door and he couldn't help but be surprised a little seeing Esther on his door. He didn't expect her of all the family members to come looking for him.

Esther, who was standing at the door looked at Max when he opened the door. He was in his bathrobe so she guessed that he might have just come out of the bathroom but when she noticed that he was sweating and had a boner she raised her brows and felt that this was a little odd.

Although she tried to hide her expression, Max managed to catch it from her eyes that she was wondering what he was doing but he didn't say anything about it.

He instead asked with a smile "What is it Esther? Do you need something?"

Esther frowned "Isn't that a little strange to address me by my name?"

"What's strange about it? If you don't like it, then tell me how should I address you." Max said nonchalantly. He called her by her name because he didn't want to call her mother or stepmother and the second reason was that even though she was in her thirties and was a matured woman, she was also a beauty who looked as if she was barely in her mid twenties. He would feel strange if called her something like stepmother.

Esther shook her head helplessly and said in a cold voice "It's fine. You can call me whatever you want. I came here to check up on you in case you need my help. As your father isn't here, I thought I'd help you in case something goes wrong and your father blames me for it as I gave you that scroll."

Max looked her in the eyes and could see that despite her cold tone, she had a little concern for him in her eyes. He just didn't know why this was so as he never had any interactions with her and from Lilly he knew that his past self was not any close with her.

He didn't think much about it and waved his hand and said "Thank you for your concern but I've already formed my mana core. I just need to reinforce it for a few weeks."

When he formed his mana core he got a system message indicating his success in forming mana core and that he needed to reinforce his mana core for a few a weeks, so that when he increased his mana points using lust points, it would not cause any problems because this was not done by him but system. Until then he couldn't increase his mana stat.

"You- you already formed your mana core?" Esther looked at him, dumbfounded.

Was it this easy and fast to form a mana core? As far as she knew, normally it would take a full day to form it while some talented ones could do it in half a day. But he was here telling her that he did it in little more than two hours. How can she not find it incredulous?

"You are joking right? There's no way you can do it in such a short time. Tell me check it." She didn't believe him and extended her delicate hand to touch his stomach as she sent her mana inside carefully to check whether he really have a mana core or not.

After a moment, her expression was replaced with one of amazement and then disbelief.

"You really... really did have it." She mumbled in a low voice while looking at him as if he was a monster.

Max smiled and didn't speak. He took a step forward and leaned his face toward her and whispered in her ear "You know, it's not good for a woman to touch a man out of nowhere right? Especially when it's a beautiful woman like you. Any man would lose control."

Hearing this, her figure stiffened for a moment when she realised what she did just now. She hurriedly stepped back and when she looked again at him, she noticed that his boner which was supposed to go down was flaring up again.

"Oh, I'm sorry about that. I just find it incredible that you could form your mana core in such a short time." She then continued "Congratulations, it seems your talent is quite outstanding. Your father would be very happy to hear it" Esther said without showing any emotion on her face. Her previous surprised was nowhere to be seen.

Max smiled awkwardly. He just nodded at her. He wasn't sure how to respond to her. As he just had sex with Lilly and his dick was still excited and he was trying suppress his desire, but when she without any warning touched him just above his bulging cock, he couldn't control himself and almost kissed her. Fortunately, she didn't seem to care much about it.

"Try to strengthen your mana core as much as you can now, as it will be very beneficial in the future." She completed her sentence, turned around and simply left.

Max stood there looking at her swaying back in a trance, breathing her lingering scent. He then murmured in a low voice "That's one strange woman."

Chapter 35 Wonder Of Magic

After Esther went back, he also closed the door and went inside. He wasn't satisfied yet and wanted to continue having sex with Lilly.

But he didn't find her in his room, he then remembered that she was in the bathroom. He thought to have bathroom sex with her but decided against it.

"I should let her have a peaceful bath." He then approached the bed which still has their erotic scent and the bed sheet was wet in their juices. He removed the bedsheet and lay down on it.

"Let's check status window until Lilly comes back." With a thought his status screen appeared in front of him.

[Name: Maxwell Garfield]

[Age: 18]

[Strength: 10]

[Agility: 10]

[Stamina: 8/10]

[Vitality: 8]

[Intelligence: 15]

[Mana: 10/1331]

[Element: Fire]

[Lust Points: 1000]

He noticed that his vitality was 8 now and mana was 10, this was because he had exhausted all of his mana to form his mana core and only 10 units was recovered. As for his stamina which was also 8 now, that was because of his hard work with Lilly. Stamina was also like mana that can recovered own its own but his vitality was permanently decreased by two stat points.

"What is this?" Max muttered in confusion.

The reason of his confusion was that his Lust points were only one thousand even after a session of sex with Lilly. Although he would always get only one thousand Lust points after he had sex with Lilly, he would always get a couple hundred lust points for kissing and other stuff but this time he only had a total of one thousand.

"Is it because I had sex many times with her? No it shouldn't be." Max immediately discarded the idea. He then proceeded to check recent system notifications.

"So this is the case." After looking at all the notifications he understood what was the problem.

'It seems after I formed my mana core and officially stepped into the two-star mage realm, The lust points I used to get from Lilly lessened. is it because of the difference between our strengths?' He mused.

He wasn't sure but he knew that this started happening after he had formed his mana core. Because before he started to form his mana core, he kissed Lilly and then he got 5 lust points from that kiss. But after he had formed his mana core he only got 4 points from the kisses and only 800 from sex.

"It doesn't matter. If I need more LPs I can just have more sex with her and it isn't like she would always be a novice mage given her talent." Max shook his head. That was right, he could just have as much sex he wanted with Lilly as she also seemed to like it.

"But I don't need many LPs for now. I can only increase my attribute stat for the time being and not Mana stat because I still have reinforce my mana core and make it more stronger." System wanted to reinforce his mana core so that it would be able to endure the sudden and unnatural boost when he, in future, increased his mana stat.

"Let's see which attribute should I increase?" Max thought for a second and then put his lust points in vitality and stamina. But he was surprised to see that, to increase his vitality to 10 he had to spend 200 LPs unlike before when he was able to do it in 10 LPs for one stat point.

Nevertheless he raised his vitality to 13 and stamina to 15 spending all his LPs. The reason why he raised his Vitality and Stamina stat and not others was simple. He needed to have a strong vitality if wanted his body to improve and to be able to keep up with his increasing lust. As for stamina, he didn't want to get exhausted to the point of passing out after fighting or doing some hard work.

[Name: Maxwell Garfield]

[Age: 18]

[Strength: 10]

[Agility: 10]

[Stamina: 13/15]

[Vitality: 13]

[Intelligence: 15]

[Mana: 10/1331]

[Element: Fire]

[Lust Points: 0]

"It's better now." He nodded in satisfaction. He could feel changes in his body after he raised his stamina and vitality stats.

He wasn't exhausted as much as he was a moment ago and his handsome face also regained its healthy glow. He could also feel his body condition improve slightly, even though he was still skinny but was slightly better than before.

'I need to have some flesh on my bones or I don't think any other girl apart from Lilly would be interested in the skinny me.' He thought. Yes, he was very handsome and his blue hair and Sapphire eyes made him look even more attractive but that's not all a girl would want in their boyfriend. This is what he thought and he was right to some extent.

While he was lost in his thoughts, Lilly came out of the bathroom, again dressed in her maid clothes.

By now his lust has also calmed down. So he didn't pushed her down on the bed again.He looked at her and said "Lilly, give me something to wear. We are going to the town market to do buy some stuff."

"Yes, M- Max." She addressed his by his name. It didn't come as natural as 'Young master' but Max didn't mind it and smiled "Good girl."

After getting dressed they came out together. While he was getting dressed he told Lilly to tell other maids to wash the bed sheets.

He took some gold and silver coins which his father had given him before in case he needed some money to spend.

They walked out of the manor and walked in the direction of town market which was also in the center of the town. They had to walk because every horse had been slaughtered by other beasts.

While they walked Max noticed that everyone was busy reconstructing damaged houses, shops, buildings etc. His manor was also mostly repaired in little more than 24 hours. The speed at which the workers do their job with their magic was really astounding. If it was on the earth, it would take a few weeks at the bare minimum.

Chapter 36 Shopping

On their way to the market, they could see that the atmosphere was not as gloomy as before. People had accepted the reality, but some still couldn't bear the deaths of their loved ones. Therefore occasionally, they could hear people crying and lamenting their losses. While others also wore sad expressions.

Max sighed in his heart. He was secretly glad that his family members, his father and Lilly, didn't get hurt in the beast tide.

He then looked at the Lilly. She was also glancing around. He was not sure what she was thinking.

After a few minutes of walking, they arrived at the town market. Half of the shops were closed, and reconstruction was ongoing.

"What do you want to buy, Young master!" Lilly asked.

Max looked at her and rebuked, slightly displeased, "Didn't I tell you to call me by my name? Have you already forgotten?"

Lilly held her head down, seeing his slightly angry expression; she grew nervous and said weakly, "B- But there are people around us. How can I call you so casually?"

Hearing her reply, Max shook his head and said in a stern voice, "It doesn't matter as long as there are not any of my family members, and that is also until you aren't ready to tell them about our relationship. I don't want others to think of you as my servant because you no longer are. You are my lover, got it?"

He didn't have any choice but to be a little strict with her if he wanted her to stop thinking that she wasn't worthy of being his wife/lover. He wanted her to stop behaving like she was just a servant, but it wouldn't be this easy as she had lived almost all of her life like that, and any change in her attitude would take time.

Lilly raised her head to look him into his Sapphire eyes and nodded. She knew what he meant, which is why she couldn't help but fall deeper into his love.

Seeing her looking at him with love-filled eyes, He chuckled lightly and said in a joking tone, "Wait till we go back home, and I'll give you a good treat." He winked and walked towards a clothing shop.

Lilly's beautiful face flushed red after understanding the meaning behind his words. She held her head down in embarrassment and followed him quietly. At this moment, she looked so adorable that if any man saw her, he definitely would be mesmerised by her beauty.

They entered a luxurious looking shop that had a good reputation. Of course, Max didn't know this. He randomly chose this one as it looked pretty good.

As Max and Lilly entered and a calm and professional voice reached their ears. "Welcome, valued customers. Please come this way." A middle-aged man came running towards them when he saw them entering the shop. By Luxurious robes of Max and the fact that he had a maid following him, the man understood that the handsome boy in front of him must be from some wealthy family.

Because Max rarely came out of his Palace, no one had seen him. So this was natural that the shopkeeper didn't recognise him. If there were another one of his siblings here instead of him, they would be recognised instantly as the son or daughter of Viscount Garfield. Max didn't bother making his identity known because he had money and could buy anything with it, so it was unnecessary to use his identity.

"Mhm..." Max nodded and followed him inside the shop. The man led them inside a luxurious room and gestured them to sit on chairs as he wore a businessman's smile and asked politely.

"Dear customer, what type of clothing would you like to buy?"

Max was satisfied by the behaviour of the shopkeeper. 'Fortunately, it didn't turn out like in the novels where MC would encounter problems no matter where he goes.' He sighed in relief and said, "Please show us some of your best dresses for this lady here." He pointed at Lilly.

The shopkeeper was surprised by this. He didn't expect him to buy the clothes for a maid from one of the most expensive shops in Claymore town. It was not only the shopkeeper who was surprised; Lilly was surprised too, but her surprise quickly turned into happiness, and a lovely smile appeared on her face as she looked at him.

Before, the shopkeeper could not see her as she had her face down. Now that Lilly looked at Max and smiled beautifully, the shopkeeper finally understood why he would do this for her. It must be because this maid was too beautiful, and it might be that he wanted to win her heart.

The shopkeeper nodded and went out to bring some dresses to show them.

He came back with many types of girl clothing hovering behind him. He pointed his finger at the table before them, and slowly all the dresses dropped on it.

"Dear customers, please take a look and see if any of these are to your liking?" The shopkeeper said as he gestured toward the table.

Max carefully observed him as he came with dresses flying behind him and wondered, 'How much control one would need to do something like this.' By now, he was utterly fascinated by the Magic. 'It seems I need to go to the magic academy if I want to improve myself in the way of the magic.'

After hearing him, Max looked at dresses and then looked at Lilly. "You can pick whichever dress you like." He didn't know about women's clothing, so he let her choose.

Lilly naturally didn't know it, and she looked at him for a moment and whispered, "Can you choose for me? I don't know how I would look in these."

Hearing this, Max shook his head and proceeded to pick a few dresses which he thought would look good on her.

"Please pack these for me and tell me how much should I pay?" He told the shopkeeper.

The shopkeeper was ecstatic to see that he had picked about ten very costly dresses.

"Yes, of course. These ten will cost you 120 gold in total." He said with a smile. He was barely able to control his excitement. After all, he would be getting a very generous share of this money as his commission for selling these.

Max nodded and took out a pouch that had his gold coins stored and paid him.

After that, they roamed around the market to see if there was anything worth buying. Lilly bought a few things, and just when they were going back, Max heard a merchant yelling.

"Young master, how about you check a few of my items. If there's anything you like I'll give you a 50% discount.

Chapter 37 Schwartz

Max was going to ignore him as he knew that the things you can get a discount on aren't usually good.

But as he glanced at the items on his stall, a fiery red ring caught his attention. This ring somehow gave him a bit familiar feeling. He walked up to his stall and pointed at the ring, "How about you tell me the uses of this ring, and I'll purchase it?"

The Merchant looked at him for a moment and smiled wryly. "Young master, This ring was found by someone who sold it to me at a low price. He told me that this was a magic item, but so far, no one had shown any interest in this ring. I'm only a minor merchant and don't have any knowledge about magical items. So, I apologise to you as I'm not sure of its uses."

Max looked at him and calmly said. "It's okay old man. You don't have to apologise for that. So tell me, how much do you want for this ring?"

The old man looked at him and raised two fingers. "How about young master buy it for twenty silver coins?"

Max nodded and paid him twenty silver coins. He only knew that special items made with magic existed, but he didn't know their price, or he would have been shocked to know that he had just bought a magic item at a very low price.

After, he took the ring and wore it on his left hand's index finger. He walked towards his manor with Lilly chatting and laughing. He didn't notice that the ring on his finger glowed with a faint crimson light for a second and then returned to its normal state.

In an unknown location was a mountain range that was surrounded by fire; many powerful fire attributed beasts roamed around here. Even a five-star mage will find his life in danger. Deep into the mountains, a blurry silhouette of a man opened its eyes and mumbled in a hoarse voice, "Final candidate has been chosen. The trial will start shortly."

As the blurry figure finished speaking, five ancient-looking alters started glowing in a volcanic cave in the mountain.

Max returned home with Lilly, and after entering his room, he told Lilly to move the rest of her belongings to his room. He then lay on the bed.

Lilly nodded without saying anything as he had already told her to live in his room. She moved out of his room to do as he said.

While Max waited for Lilly to come back, he raised his left hand and stared at the ring on his index finger.

'This is a magic item, right? How should I activate it? Maybe I should try channelling mana into it.' He wondered and sent out a stream of his mana into the ring.

Just then, The ring started glowing with faint crimson light, which increasingly became brighter, and he had to close his eyes.

When he opened his eyes again, he was in a cave with magma all around him. The temperature here was so high that he started sweating after a few seconds.

"What the fuck? Where am I? How can it be so hot here." He cursed out loud.

"Will you stop your rambling, kid?" A lazy voice sounded beside him. As Max looked beside him, he was surprised to see another human present.

The one who just spoke was a middle-aged man in red robes who, just like his father, was very fit and brimming with vitality. He had white hair and a handsome face. He was rubbing his eyes and yawned as he spoke. It looked like he had just woken up.

After looking at him and around him, he found that both he and this man were standing on stone platforms. There were three more stone platforms which were currently vacant.

As Max observed the middle-aged man, he concluded that the man was also in the same situation as him and had just arrived because who can sleep on these hot stone platforms, and the man also didn't look hostile.

"Oh, sorry old man, I was surprised when I suddenly appeared here out of nowhere." Max apologised as his surprise diminished; he was going to continue when the man suddenly grew angry.

"You little brat, from where do I look like an old man to you?" The man suddenly grew furious, and his previous harmless demeanour was replaced with a dangerous one. He looked as if he would attack him if he said something that he didn't like.

Just then, another stone platform flashed a woman in a pink dress appeared. Her black hair cascaded down her shoulders. Her face was fair, with thin pink lips making her look even more alluring. She had the regal air about her. When she looked at the other two present, she had disdain in her gaze.

Max observed her for a moment. She was beautiful. He could imagine her seductive body even when her long pink robes entirely covered her feminine body.

Max sighed inwardly at this. 'Only if I could take a look at her naked. What a waste!' He realised that almost all his thoughts were becoming perverted, and his sexual desires were becoming even stronger even after he had already had enough sex to satiate his lust after his reincarnation.

He took a few deep breaths to calm his emotions and focused on the bizarre situation he was in. He didn't want to remain clueless when his life might be in danger.

"I apologise for offending you earlier. May I know how should I address you?" Max apologised and asked the man beside him.

The man who now was looking at the woman with a serious look on his face turned his head when he heard Max's apology. He then gave a last glance to the woman and said with a satisfied tone. "You are a sensible kid. I will forgive you this one time. You can call me Lord Schwartz or Schwartz if you want."

When he stopped speaking, the woman who had closed her eyes, looked at him in surprise for a second and then closed them again without saying anything.

Max didn't think of this too much and spoke, "Okay, Schwartz, can you tell me where are we and, why I was suddenly teleported here."

He could only ask him if he wanted to know what was happening and why he was here. As for the woman, she didn't even bother giving them a second glance; She was clearly not interested in talking to them.

Schwartz looked at him weirdly and then suddenly exclaimed when he saw the ring on his finger, "What the fuck! You are barely a two-star mage. How come the ring recognised you as the potential successor?"

The woman also looked at Max weirdly. It was unknown what she was thinking.

Max looked at him, dumbfounded. He didn't expect another outburst from him when he had already apologised. But when he heard what he said, Max understood that this was because he had the ring.

He raised his left hand, showed him the ring, and asked, "What about this ring? What successor? Can you explain Senior Schwartz?"

Chapter 38 Legacy

Schwartz gave him a deep look. He didn't think that the ring could choose a person who barely was a two-star mage. He himself was a five-star fire mage, so he thought that only people equal to him or stronger could be chosen, but that wasn't the case.

'It seems that strength isn't the criterion but talent instead. It seems this kid should have some talent to be chosen to be selected.' Schwartz thought.

He then lazily said, "Kid, you are very fortunate to have found this ring. Even more so when You are chosen by that ring to be a potential successor to the legacy left behind by the crimson monarch."

...Claymore town, Garfield Manor...

Lilly went out of Max's room and hurried towards the maid's quarters. In a few minutes, she was in front of a building where all the maids of Garfield manor lived.

She took a deep breath as if to prepare for something and headed inside. When she entered, there were a few other maids in the main hall of the building who, after seeing Lilly had varied expressions. Some had friendly expressions, and some looked at her with jealousy, while others were just indifferent.

Just then, A mocking voice sounded out from the right side of the hall, where three maids were sitting on stone chairs and chatting.

"Isn't this our Lady Lilly? How come you are here? Oh, by any chance, are you here to get your things to shift into Young master's room?"

Lilly didn't need to turn to look to know who was speaking. She had already expected this. The maid who just spoke was Max's personal maid before Lilly joined. After Lilly came into Garfield manor, her position was given to Lilly, and due to this reason, she hated her the most.

In a noble house, an ordinary maid would only get limited benefits, and their freedom would be more restricted compared to a personal maid of a member of the house. A personal maid only had to report to the one she was assigned and, in some instances, to the lord of the house, whereas an ordinary maid would have to obey the orders of everyone and didn't have much of the free time.

She enjoyed being Max's personal maid for a few years, but with the arrival of Lilly, this lucrative position in the eyes of the maids was no longer hers, and she was demoted to an ordinary maid.

Lilly turned to look at her and said with a hint of anger on her beautiful face, "Caiyi, I don't know why you keep mocking me, but I advise you out of kindness to stop doing that from now on. I won't tolerate it anymore, and yes, I will live in Young master's room from today onwards."

Everyone looked at her in shock when she uttered those words. Some were surprised to see Lilly, who was usually a very good-natured and calm girl, to actually get angry, while Others were surprised to know that she was going to live with a noble family member in his room.

It should be known that normally, nobles don't like to come into contact with commoners as they think that commoners are beneath them. Apart from when they need guards, maids etc., to help them to do minor chores, they don't bother taking a second glance at them.

There are only a rare few cases where a person belonging to a noble family befriends a commoner.

"You will live with him?... how? Oh, I know. It seems you have managed to get into his bed, right? that's why you have become daring enough to talk to me like this, bitch." Caiyi got angry when she heard Lilly warning her 'out of kindness.' She then mockingly continued, "You'll only be this arrogant until he gets bored of your body and throws you out. Then I'll see if you continue being this smug." Her anger took control of her, and she started spewing out whatever came to her mind.

Two maids who were with her hurriedly tried to stop her from speaking anymore when they realised that if Lilly really has won the favour of the young master of the manor, then caiyi's situation might get worse if Lilly complained to him. As they were her friend, One of them placed her hand on caiyi's mouth to stop her from speaking while the other grabbed her, made her sit on the stone chair, and then hurriedly apologised to Lilly.

Lilly didn't say anything and went into her room, packed her things, and quickly got out. Just as she was about to get out of the hall, she stopped and glanced at caiyi before moving out without saying anything she wanted.

She didn't need to explain anything to anyone or get angry over some mean words. She knew that if people came to know about their relationship, she had to bear with their taunting. But that didn't matter to her. What mattered to her was that the one she liked cared for her and liked her back. As for the opinion of others, if she managed to get strong enough, they would automatically stop pointing fingers at her.

...Fire Mountain, Magma cave...

When Schwartz stopped speaking, Max had an incredulous look on his face.

He unconsciously mumbled, "Potential successor? Legacy of Crimson monarch?"

Looking at his face, Schwartz decided to explain a little more to the kid who, he thought, didn't have a clue about it. He slowly said, "Crimson monarch was one of most powerful mages in the history. He was one of the few who was able to reach the peak of the eight-star mage realm. With his powerful fire element and excellent mastery over it, he was called Monarch by people. If you are lucky, you might be able to get his legacy; that will make your future limitless."

Max nodded. His face clearly showed how incredulous he felt about this situation. From the books he read in the library, he knew about legacies and how strong a peak eight-star mage can be, and this is the reason why he found it hard to believe.

People who have strength above six-star mage, they are called King mage, Emperor mage and Monarch mage. Although the Mage association initially called them seven-star mage, eight-star mage and nine-star mage, respectively, but as they represented the peak of the power, the way to address them changed.

After one becomes a four-star mage, it isn't easy to advance further. Some talented and fortunate ones can advance further, but many stay at the five-star realm and six-star realm

Very few can advance above the six-star mage realm, and when they feel their lifespan coming to an end, they leave their legacies before passing away.

There are many instances where some people found these legacies left behind by five-star or six-star mages. After passing the trials left behind, they were able to acquire the legacy, which in the long term resulted in them becoming very strong and gaining the respect of the masses. But there are rarely any who managed to find and acquire the legacy of a king, emperor or monarch class mage.

But Max now had a chance to acquire the legacy left behind by a peak Emperor ranked mage whose strength was comparable to those in the Monarch mage realm. How can he not find it hard to believe?

Chapter 39 Arrogant Prince

As Max calmed his thoughts and wanted to ask something, The rest of the altars flashed with bright lights, and Two more figures appeared on them.

A boy who looked around 25 years old, in golden robes; his hair was long and tied into a high bun. He had an arrogant look on his face as he looked around.

Then there was a bearded man with a muscular body in black armour, and a black sword was hung on his waist. He looked like a warrior of war movies. He didn't have any expression on his face.

Two of them looked around for a few seconds, and just like Schwartz and the woman in pink, they seemed to know why they were suddenly here as their eyes didn't reflect any confusion but instead glowed with excitement.

The bearded man in black armour glanced at Max for a second, and when he looked at Schwartz, he paused for a bit longer and then moved on to look at the woman in pink. When he looked at her, a serious look appeared on his face, just like Schwartz had before. After that, he closed his eyes with a calm expression without saying anything. 'It seems it won't be as easy to get the legacy as I thought.'

However, the same was not true for the arrogant looking guy in golden robes. When he looked at the bearded man and Schwartz, he didn't say anything, but when his eyes landed on Max, he sneered, "Tch, What luck! But don't get too complacent pretty boy; with you being as weak as an ant, there isn't any hope of acquiring this legacy. The only outcome for you will be death." He seemed to disdain Max, but everyone could feel that he was feeling jealous. It was not clear whether it was because of Max's luck or something else.

'What the fuck...! Does this guy have any screw loose? What kind of crappy attitude is that? Why do you care whether I live or die?' Max thought as anger threatened to erupt inside of him.

He couldn't bear the disdain and mockery anymore. He didn't care whether he was weak or not compared to him. He just couldn't accept someone mocking him after what he experienced when he found out about Jacob and Alison and when he woke up in Garfield manor and had to endure his siblings' sneers and mockery. He had enough of it already. Although he didn't have anything noteworthy in his past life, but he had his pride. He never put up with anyone's mockery in his life.

Just as he was about to curse him in the face, The woman who had her eyes closed until now spoke coldly, "Can't you just shut up and stop spewing out nonsense just to satisfy your vanity? I feel pity for your parents seeing your attitude. Sigh...!"

The boy in golden robes, who for some reason was already irritated after looking at Max, turned to her in anger. When was the last time when he was insulted like that? But when he looked at her, his eyes burned with lust. He stared at her body as if he could see through her clothes.

His eyes didn't stop staring at her body as he said arrogantly, "Who are you to dare to talk to me like that? Do you know who I am? If you want to live, kneel down and apologise and be my slave, I'll treat you well, or you will have a tough life ahead."

Just he stopped speaking; it felt like the temperature in the cave fell by several folds in an instant. Schwartz and the bearded man looked at the boy with pity.

"What a naive kid. It's true that newborn calf, don't fear tiger." Schwartz sighed.

The woman was stunned after the boy stopped speaking, but in the next instant, her expression became ice-cold, and her figure exuded a tremendous murderous aura.

The boy's expression froze when he felt such a strong murderous aura. He finally realised that he had made a mistake which might cost him his life. The reason for him to think like this was because he could feel himself unable to even move a muscle after being hit by her aura. Unfortunately, he was late to realise his mistake.

"What did you just say? You want me to become your slave?" A cold and enraged voice sounded in his ears.

Just as he was about to apologise, he felt his body temperature getting higher and higher as if a fire was ignited inside his body. His skin turned red, and burning pain coursed through his body. Even though he was also a fire elemental mage and had very good control over the element, his strength of a four-star mage wasn't worth mentioning in front of her, who was about to break through to the six-star mage realm. He even couldn't see how she attacked, let alone try and resist it.

In an instant, The pain became intolerable, and steam started rising from his skin as a burning smell permeated. He screamed, "H-Hey, stop! I'm sorry for what I just said. Stop! Don't kill me; otherwise, my Royal family won't let you go. Ahhhh- stop... stop..."

"Ohh, so you are a prince of some kingdom. It's fine. Let me see what your kingdom can do to me after I kill you." The woman in pink said in a bone-chilling voice as she controlled the heat inside his body. Her expression clearly stated that she really wanted to kill him now.

Just as she was about to turn him into ashes, a voice sounded in the cave. "It's prohibited to fight in the legacy grounds."

Following the voice, the boy who was writhing in pain till now relaxed visibly as his temperature returned to normal. He panted like a dog to catch his breath and looked at the woman with fear and hate. He gritted his teeth and mumbled, "Just you wait slut. Soon enough, you'll be begging for your life."

"Um?"

The woman in pink ignored him and looked at the one who negated her attack. Schwartz and others also looked toward the source of the voice. A blurry silhouette was slowly floating toward them.

After a few seconds, The silhouette became visible for all to see. He was a middle-aged man who looked around 40 years of age. He wore shining crimson robes.

Chapter 40 Margaret Adler

"Are you The Crimson Monarch? How can you still be alive?" The black armoured man asked in disbelief.

The woman in pink and others also looked at him in disbelief. Everyone knew that it'd been tens of thousands of years since his death. It was very difficult for them to believe that after so many years, he was still alive.

The man in front of them laughed and said, "Yes, I'm the Crimson Monarch. And no, I'm not alive. I'm just a strand of will left behind by me to find a worthy successor."

"Oh, I see. Sorry for behaving rudely." The Black armoured man apologised when he heard that he was just a strand of will. The woman in pink and Schwartz also nodded in understanding after hearing his explanation.

"Okay, As I can see, all of my potential successors are here. So let me explain the rules of the trials." Crimson Monarch said.

"Initially, I had devised many trials, but due to some special circumstances, there will be only two trials—trial of fire elemental affinity and Trial of strength. After both trials have ended, I'll decide who among you will get my inheritance." He paused and looked at the expressions of everyone present and then waved his hand a transparent crystal orb the same as the one used by fortune-tellers on the earth appeared.

He then said, "This isn't the same crystal that all of you might have seen when testing your mana affinity. This is used for testing elemental affinity or, precisely, Fire affinity."

He looked at everyone and asked, "Do any of you have any question? If yes, then ask now, or we will proceed to the trials."

No one raised any doubt, including Max; therefore, after waiting for a few seconds, he clapped his hands and asked, "So tell me, who wants to be the first to test your fire affinity?"

Just as he stopped speaking, the woman in pink stepped forward and said respectfully, "Allow me to be the first, Senior Crimson Monarch."

"Tch, Do you think if you are the first one to test, you will get an advantage over me? This trial is testing your element affinity and not your strength." The arrogant prince muttered scornfully in a voice only he could hear. He was confident that his affinity and talent didn't lose out to anyone.

Crimson Monarch looked at her and nodded. "Okay, go ahead. But before that, let me know my potential successor's name."

The woman in pink nodded and bowed slightly as she introduced herself. "This little one's name is Margaret Adler."

Crimson Monarch nodded. "Okay, Child. Go ahead."

"Margaret Adler...?" The arrogant prince repeated the name. "I think I have heard this name before." Suddenly a thought crossed his mind, and his expression turned pale.

"From your sickly pale expression, it seems you have discovered her identity, boy!" A lazy voice with a hint of mockery sounded in his ears.

He turned to look at Schwartz but didn't get angry like he usually would when someone mocked him; instead nodded gratefully. And then looked at the woman going to test her affinity with dread in his eyes. After seeing her strength, if he was afraid of her, then it wouldn't be an understatement to say that he was terrified after learning of his identity.

Although he had some doubt even after hearing her name as someone other can also have the same name, but after hearing what Schwartz said, he was 100% sure of his assumption. That's why he nodded gratefully at him.

Schwartz simply chuckled at this and sighed. 'There are some things, which the mere mention of them can make even the wildest horse behave properly without doing anything.'

...

Margaret Adler slowly walked down from the stone alter and reached the crimson monarch where the crystal orb was hovering mid-air.

She then extended her hand and gently put it on the crystal orb, and inserted a bit of her mana inside it.

After a few seconds, The crystal orb, which was transparent till now, gradually turned red, and the red light didn't stop there as it formed a red halo of seven meters around the orb.

She then moved her hand away and heard the Crimson Monarch saying with appreciation, "Seven-meter halo, Your affinity with fire element is very good. I hope to see you perform well in the next trial."

"Yes, I'll do my best, senior," Margaret said and returned to her alter.

The arrogant prince looked at her, returning to his side, and took a deep breath before bowing toward her and saying, "Miss Adler, I apologise for my insolent behaviour a moment ago. I hope you can find it in your heart to forgive me."

Margaret looked at him derisively and spat on the ground as she said in disgust, "Tch, I knew you coward men could only run your mouth wild. Scram and stop being an eyesore."

He didn't say anything to the apparent mockery and just nodded before staying quiet. He secretly sighed in relief.

Black armoured man and Schwartz's lips twitched when they heard her, but none of them said anything.

After Max heard what she said, he frowned and murmured in a low voice, "Does she have some kind of problem with men in general, or her attitude is also crap, just like that arrogant prince."

Everyone heard him muttering to himself as they were all very strong people and had very sharp senses. As for The crimson monarch, he acted like he didn't hear anything.

Margaret looked at him with cold eyes but didn't say anything, but it was clear from the way she looked at him that if The crimson monarch didn't prohibit fighting here, she would have slapped him to death.

Schwartz smiled wryly, and his voice sounded in Max's ears. "Kid, You are really brave, or should I say stupid. Can't you see that no one said anything despite us all being men here? You don't know, but she can speak like that because not only is she strong, but her identity is also not ordinary. So I advise you to think before you speak in future as it might decide your life or death."

Max nodded as what he just said was true. He seems to forget that he was not on earth where he could express whatever he has in mind freely. A cold shiver ran down his spine when he realised, if not for the rules here, he would definitely have regretted speaking just now, but he as a man couldn't help himself from complaining when he heard her.

"Okay, who will be the next one? Come forward." The Crimson Monarch said as he looked at the no one in particular.
