Chapter 51 You Seem To Love It

Max suddenly grabbed her hand, which was stroking his hand, and put it between his hands, and as he felt the softness of her hand, he smiled and said, "It's okay, sister in law. I don't blame him. He is also my family, after all. If you ever need anything from me, don't hesitate to ask."

Eva looked at his handsome face and nodded as a slight blush adorned her cheeks. As she felt his hands caressing her hand, she started to feel hot. Her thoughts wandered all around.

"Thank you, Max, for understanding. I'll make sure be never talk bad to you." She said in a weak voice.

Max looked at her face and saw that she was turning on but acted as if he didn't know and put his hand on her cheek and rubbed lightly. "Are you okay? Your face is turning red."

"Mhm...I'm fine. It's just that I'm feeling hot suddenly." She leaned toward him more, and now Max could see deeper into her cleavage.

Max was using his elemental mana to increase the temperature around them slightly because it would help him in a moment.

Thinking about the possibility of having sex with Max, which made her feel hot, coupled with the increase in temperature, she started to sweat slightly.

Seeing that the beads of crystal sweat started to form on her forehead, cheeks, breasts and other exposed parts, he stopped circulating his mana, and the temperature around them became normal.

"Oh, sister in law, you are sweating. Let me help you wipe it." Without waiting for her to say anything, he took out a handkerchief and slowly wiped her forehead.

Eva didn't stop him, so he moved his hand down and wiped her nose, cheeks and then neck. He then moved his hand toward her cleavage and started to wipe it, and simultaneously started rubbing the upper area of her boobs with his fingers.

Eva bit her lower lip in a seductive manner. Max was now completely sure that she was here to seduce him. He stopped after wiping her sweat off her hands but didn't touch her half-exposed legs and smiled. "You must be feeling hot here, right? you are sweating all over."

"Yes. I don't know what happened. But I'm feeling hot here. Should I take these clothes off?" Eva smiled at her seductively.

"Yes, that's a good idea." Max quickly nodded.

Eva turned around and started taking her clothes off. Very soon, she was only in her underwear. Max couldn't hold back anymore, grabbed her boobs from behind and ripped off the bra type clothing covering her melons.

"Ahh...!"

Eva cried out in surprise but didn't resist and looked back and said mischievously, "So are we not playing dumb any longer?"

"What's the benefit of acting dumb when you obviously came to seduce me. Now make haste and undress me." Max slapped her ass and sat back.

Eva quickly turned to him and stripped him of his clothing. Now, they both were only in underwear. Max pointed to his underwear, and Eva took it off.

Gasp!

Eva gasped when his erect thick dick came into her view. "Now I understand why that girl was moaning with so much pleasure." She murmured, looking at his big thick cock. Her eyes were fixed on it as if it was some great treasure.

"It seems sister in law likes it." Max grinned, and with one hand, he put it on her lips.

Eva understood his intention but backed off and asked with a slight frown, "You want me to put it in my mouth?"

"And suck it." He nodded as he added, "If not, you can just go back. I won't stop you."

Eva hesitated after hearing him. His meaning was clear. He didn't care much about having sex with her. If she wanted to satisfy her lust, then she had to do what he wanted.

It didn't take her more than a few seconds to make her decision. She crawled on fours and grabbed his cock with her little hand and stroked it a few times, then put her lips on the tip and gave it a lick.

'It smells and tastes weird but good.' She thought and then opened her mouth and took half of his dick inside.

"Oh, nice! Don't let your teeth touch it and use your tongue to suck on it." Max told her as it seemed that she had never given a blowjob.

"Mmh..." Eva nodded with his dick in her mouth. She started to use her tongue to lick around the glans and suck it.

"Ohh! Good continue like this." Max groaned in pleasure.

In just a few minutes, Eva was doing an excellent job. She would constantly stroke his shaft and put it in and out of her mouth and suck hard on the glans, and when his dick would almost reach her throat, she would wrap her tongue around it.

"Oh! I didn't expect it. You are a natural at this. Ah, swallow it all." Max grabbed her hair and pulled her head down, and put his cock to the balls in her mouth. It went into her throat, which stimulated it even more, and he shot his load down her throat.

"Ughh..." She choked when his cum filled her throat, but she couldn't move back because he was holding her head down.

"Ohh...yess!"

Max moaned aloud as pleasure coursed through his dick. He felt great doing it a bit forcefully. He didn't need to care for her even if she choked and couldn't breathe for a short while because, given how lustful she was, she would not mind as long as he fucked her brains out.

Doing it with Lilly, he had to be gentle and make sure that she was also satisfied as there were feelings involved, but with Eva, there was no such thing. She was doing it with him for her selfish reasons, so he could treat her however he wanted.

After he stopped cumming, he let her move away and she took his dick out.

"Haahh...huff...huff..."

She gasped for air but didn't spit his cum out and swallowed it all as he told her to.

To his surprise, She didn't show any dissatisfaction or resentment but smiled and licked her lips clean of his semen. "Did you feel good, Max?" She asked as she again grabbed his dick with one hand and started to clean it with her tongue.

Chapter 52 It's The Best I've Ever Had

"Did you like it, Max?" Eva asked as she licked his cock clean.

"Yeah, I liked it. You have some talent in this regard seeing how quickly you learnt. Let's see if you can make me feel good with other parts of your body?" Max smiled as he put his hands behind his head and rested on the bed.

"I'll make sure to satisfy you, My lord." Eva chuckled and continued to play with his dick.

"I like your confidence. Ah, Before we move on to the main dish, remember to call me master if you want this to continue." Max caressed her cheek and said.

"Master? Why? Do you have some weird fantasy?" Eva looked at him weirdly.

He chuckled and shook his head. "It's because you'll be a slave to my dick after getting a good taste of it."

"Hehe, if You can make this happen, I'll gladly call you master be a slave to your dick as want." Eva also let out a sensual laugh and said.

After Max went out of the library, Lilly walked around checking different skill scrolls.

'These all are very good techniques. Which one should I pick? He said to take a look at Ice spells, but how can I find them in these many scrolls and books?' Lilly thought as she looked at the countless scrolls placed on wooden shelves.

Just as she was wondering whether she should check all of them one by one, she noticed the old librarian coming toward her. She panicked, thinking he would ask her to choose quickly and leave. Therefore she promptly took another scroll from the shelf and started reading it.

"Greetings, My lady! I noticed that you haven't chosen any spell yet. Would you mind me helping a little?" The old librarian bowed and asked politely.

"Ahh, yes. Can...can you tell me where are ice elemental spells?" Lilly became flustered seeing him bowing to her. This was the first time someone had treated her like this. She felt happy.

"Yes, my lady, please this way." He guided her to a different shelf where only a few tens of scrolls were. "These are ice spells, my lady. Please choose anyone you like." He then bowed and went out.

After Eva licked his dick clean, Max took off her underwear and rubbed her clit with his fingers. To his surprise, She was already dripping wet.

"It seems you don't need any foreplay now," Max smirked.

He positioned her on the corner of the bed in a way that her lower half was hanging out of the bed. He put her legs on his shoulders and supported her hips with his hands, and put his dick on the entrance of her hair free pussy.

"It's good that you clear your hair down here, or you would have returned without having a taste of my weapon," Max muttered as he rubbed the tip of his dick on her clit.

"Mmm..." Eva moaned in a low voice when he felt pleasure from her clit but didn't say anything to him; however, she was relieved that she always kept her pussy clean even if no one was going to see that.

Max teased her pussy by rubbing her clit, and sometimes he would slide the tip of his dick into her vagina and then took out before she could feel it properly.

"Ahh Max, don't tease me like this and put it inside now. I can't hold back now." Eva cried out, her breathing rough.

"Okay. Here we go." He nodded, and with a thrust, he shoved his dick completely inside her wet pussy.

"Ahhhhh...."

"Ohhh..."

Eva and Max both moaned but Eva's moan, rather than filled with pleasure like Max's, was more like a scream.

"Ahh it hurts. It's too thick and big. Please Do it slowly." She said, gritting her jaws hard.

"Max ignored her pleading and continued thrusting as he wished. Sometimes he would thrust hard and fast, sometimes slowly. As he kept making piston movements, her pained screams turned into pleasure-filled moans.

"Hahh...Ahhh...Ohhh..." Her erotic moans resounded in the room.

Slap! Slap! Slap!

Hearing her moans, Max thrust hard, and their flesh slapped against each other without stop. Her pussy was clenching tightly on his dick. When he tried to take it out, he would feel as if her pussy didn't want his dick to go out and thus forcibly gripped hard on it, making him moan in pleasure.

Although Max started to love Lilly and enjoyed having sex with her, Eva was on a different level. As the saying goes, a novice is still a novice no matter what and cannot compare to an experienced one.

The way she put pressure on his dick, he was feeling a lot of pleasure. After a few minutes, Max was about to cum; he stopped thrusting and changed her position and put her hands on the bed as she bowed forward.

He inserted his dick from behind as he grabbed her waist with a thrust. He then did it for a while in the doggy style.

"Aahh...haah...ohhh...i'm coming...i'm coming." Eva let out a few loud moans, and her body stiffened as she cummed.

Max also came inside her after a few more shots. He didn't have to worry about getting her pregnant as every woman who is a novice mage or above can use her mana to prevent pregnancy. He was initially concerned about getting Lilly pregnant, but then she told him that she could choose not to become pregnant by using a little bit of her mana which relieved him of his worries.

[Ding.]

[+2500 Lust points.]

After taking his little brother out of her warm and wet pussy, he heard the system notification, which made a smile appear on his lips.

"Huff! Huff! Huff!"

After sex, Eva lay on the bed with her ass facing the ceiling as she huffed and breathed. Her eyes were brown eyes staring at the man in front of her with his dick still pointing toward the sky. "It was the best sex I ever had, Master. I hope you can call for me if you need this pussy of mine to serve you."

Max smiled at her and said, "Yeah I will. But We still have a few more rounds to go."

Hear him say that her eyes widened slightly as she gulped hard. 'I was foolish to compare him to William. He is indeed a monster.' She thought as she licked her lips in excitement.

Chapter 53 Improving

After they had sex two more times, both Eva and Max were completely exhausted, lying in bed naked.

Max was quite satisfied after fucking her in different positions and grew happier when he heard the system's notification saying he had gained more lust points.

But he noticed a peculiar thing. After the First sex, he got 2500 LPs, while after two more times, the LPs he gained decreased, and he only got +2000 and +1500, respectively.

'It's weird. When I did with Lilly before forming my mana core, I always got the same amount of LPs no matter how many times we did it.' Max wondered, confused.

He was pleased to see that he gained more than double the number of LPs when having sex with Eva and concluded that it must be because she was a one-star mage while Lilly was still a novice mage. But his happiness didn't last. Seeing the LPs, he gained while having sex with her decreased drastically.

'Forget it. I won't be able to understand it anyway. It's good that I gained quite a lot of LPs from her and had an enjoyable time.' Max shrugged and stopped thinking about it.

Then a sudden thought crossed his mind, and his lips curled upward, forming a huge grin as he looked at Eva, who was lying by his side, her generous chest heaving up and down, and she breathed. Her fair skin was glistening with sweat making her even more seductive.

Although she had called him master right after their first time, Max wasn't satisfied as he felt that she didn't really mean it and was only saying to make him feel good so that he would continue to have sex with her, but after experiencing the peak of ecstasy after two more times, she sincerely called him master and became his slave, a sex slave.

He grabbed her boob with one hand and kneaded it roughly, making her open her eyes and look at him. She asked with a smile, "What is it, Master? Do you still want to continue?"

Although she tried to smile, she was hoping inwardly that he would not fuck her more today as her pussy had become very sore after how roughly he had used it.

Max pinched her pink bud and said, "Relax, I won't do it anymore today. I'm quite satisfied for now." He was also exhausted after their hot sex session, as his stamina was only slightly higher than an average mortal.

"You can go to your room now, and remember, do not come into my room again unless I ask you to." Eva's face turned gloomy hearing this, but after hearing what he said next, she calmed down. "When I want to fuck you or when you want to have sex again, just tell me, and I'll come to your room." Max said and stood up as he went toward the bathroom.

"O-Okay, Master." Eva nodded with slight reluctance. She knew that this was the best she could hope for if she wanted to continue having sex with him and satisfy her lust. As for the reason he didn't want her to come into his room, she knew it but didn't say anything as she didn't want to make him angry and lose her sex partner. She wore her clothes and went to her room.

Max took a quick bath and felt refreshed. He wore a comfortable robe and threw the bedsheets aside and sat cross-legged on the bed, and opened his status window.

[Name: Maxwell Garfield]

[Age: 18]

[Strength: 10]

[Agility: 10]

[Stamina: 8/15]

[Vitality: 13]

[Intelligence: 15]

[Mana: 1331]

[Element: Fire]

'With these six thousand lust points, I can increase 60 attribute points, but How should I distribute them?' Max pondered as he looked at his status window.

If it were before, his first choice would be to increase his Mana stat first, but he couldn't do it now because he first needed to strengthen his mana core for a few weeks before he would be able to do it.

'Let's see. Stamina is a must as I can't afford to be out of breath every time I have sex or faint every time I fight. After this, should I increase my Agility, vitality and others equally or put more into agility?' He pondered.

From the time he woke up in this world, His low stamina was his main problem. For example, after he fought in the beast tide, he directly passed, and in the legacy ground, he barely kept himself from losing consciousness after his stamina almost bottomed out.

As for why he thought to increase his agility, It was because after he fought in the second trial of crimson legacy with earth golems, he noticed that even though he could kill them with his magic attacks easily, he faced problems when they got close to him. He couldn't easily dodge attacks because of his low agility.

He wanted to fight with his magic spells and not in close combat because he deemed it more dangerous. If he was far from his enemy, there was still a chance he could survive even if he were weaker than him, but if he was close, then he had to say his prayers. For this reason, he has to have the ability to put distances mid fights between him and the enemy and dodge attacks in case his enemies come close to him.

After thinking for a while more, He clicked on the screens repeatedly and decided to increase all of his attributes in a more balanced fashion rather than focusing on only one.

[Name: Maxwell Garfield]

[Age: 18]

[Strength: 15]

[Agility: 15]

[Stamina: 8/30]

[Vitality: 20]

[Intelligence: 20]

[Mana: 1331]

[Element: Fire]

[Lust Points: 2300]

He increased his strength, agility and intelligence by five points and vitality by seven points. He increased them by only so much because he was worried that his body might not be able to endure the sudden increase in the basic stats without suffering any backlash. He doubled his stamina stats because he reckoned it would only be good for him and not negatively affect him.

As for his reason for increasing his intelligence by the same amount of points as agility was because intelligence not only made his mind sharp and he could keep his cool even in the face of danger but also gave him better control than others over mana.

He was quite confused because when he made quick progress in controlling mana and even invented his [Fireball], he didn't have any training and wasn't familiar with it beforehand. But gradually, he realised it was because his intelligence was higher than the others.

After increasing his attributes to the 'limits', there were still 2300 free LPs. 'I'll use them after my body get used to the increased stats.' He decided.

He could feel his body brimming with vitality and his strength enhanced, but he didn't rush out to exercise or test it because he first wanted to cultivate and strengthen his mana core before going out.

As for how to do it, he had to simply refine his mana so that it is free of impurities and then inject it into his mana core according to the instructions written in the scroll.

He straightened his backbone and sat in the meditation posture, and started to refine and inject his mana into the mana core.

Chapter 54 Ashton's Return

Three days quickly passed. During these three days, Max would cultivate his mana core to strengthen it, and for the rest of the day, he would practice with mana trying to gain better control over it. His control over it gradually became more refined, although it was not very drastic; improvement is improvement after all, no matter how small.

He also got familiar with the improved stats, and now that his vitality was almost double that of an average human, his body recovered from its weakened state, and he gained some flesh over his bones.

Although he didn't become muscular or anything, he wasn't skinny like before, and his body was strengthening and his physique improved, which, coupled with his looks, increased his masculine charm.

In these three days, Lilly had also chosen a few ice spells, and after Max requested Esther to guide Lilly, she also made very rapid improvements, even more than Max did when he trained with Anna.

When Esther and others heard that Lilly was his woman, they didn't say anything and accepted it. They seemed to treat Lilly like a member of their family and not a maid anymore, which made Lilly and Max happy, and after Max had warned the maids who were gossiping, no one dared to talk bad about her behind her back.

Max had just finished another session of strengthening his mana core and was resting to replenish the exhausted mana when a maid knocked on the door.

"Yes, come in!" Max shouted.

A maid came in, and when she saw him covered in sweat and his clothes sticking to his body and lying in bed, she blushed and said, "Young master, Lord Viscount has come. He is in the meeting hall and wants to see you."

"Oh! Father has finally come." Max got up and said, "I'll come after cleaning myself. You can go."

Hearing his command, the maid hesitated and said while looking down, "Young master, Should I assist in taking a bath?"

Max looked at her, she was young and beautiful, but he waved his hand. "It's fine; you can go."

"Y-Yes, young master." She bowed and left in a hurry.

"It seems everyone considers me a pervert, huh?" He muttered and went into the bathroom.

In the meeting hall, A big round table was set up. Ashton was sitting in his throne type chair. Esther, Amelia and Mina were seated by his side. Max's sisters in law were also present, looking at the guests sitting in front of them with the same respect they looked at Ashton.

In front of them sat a group of noble-looking men and women. Delicious food was served to them, but none seemed too interested in eating. There were three men and four women who radiated the same intensity of aura as Ashton. Men were calmly sitting, but one middle-aged woman seemed annoyed. She wore luxurious clothes and radiated haughty air.

"Ashton, didn't you teach your son anything? How can he make us wait for this long? You know we don't have much time to waste on this mission. Meet him quickly, and let's get out of here." The woman sitting in the middle of the group said grumpily.

"Madam Mari, He will come in a few minutes. Until then, Why don't you eat something to calm your nerves." Ashton said, smiling.

"You... Forget it." Madam Mari shook her head and closed her eyes.

The men in the group looked at Ashton with respectful gazes while other women shook their heads. They knew that Madam Mari always acted high and mighty because of her connection with the Count and overwhelming strength. She was also a three-star mage, just like others in the group, but she was more powerful.

Therefore, she always behaved arrogantly, and they had to endure it, but with Ashton in their group, She couldn't do whatever she wanted even though Count Wiley made her the head of the group for the mission. If Madam Mari was stronger among other three-star mages, Ashton was even more powerful than her, making her treat him differently.

But everyone in the group knew that the relationship between them wasn't any good, and Count Wiley also seemed to have some kind of enmity with Ashton. That's why he didn't make him the leader of the group for the mission.

Madam Mari didn't even want to stop by his house, but Ashton told her that she could go ahead while he met his family before coming there. She knew that she, along with six three-star mages, couldn't guarantee her safety, let alone others in the group. That's why she gritted her teeth and 'allowed' him to come here, but she swore that after their mission, she would complain to Count Wiley about it.

"I'm sorry for being late, father. I had to take a bath because I was sweating a lot after cultivating." A voice sounded as the meeting hall's door swung open, and two figures stepped inside.

Madam Mari, who was already irritated, snapped upon hearing his excuse. "Who are you kidding? How can you sweat when you simply sit in your room in meditation or your way of cultivating..."

She stopped mid-speech when she turned to look at the new arrival, her mouth slightly opened in astonishment. She didn't expect Ashton's son to be this handsome. She wasn't the only one; everyone in the hall, including Ashton and others, stared as if they were hypnotised.

"How handsome!"

"Beautiful!"

The young woman who was in her twenties in the group blurted out, looking at Max in a daze. At the same time, the men stared at the Girl behind him.

Max, who was already very handsome before he started to recover, was wearing a star-patterned light blue robe which, coupled with his Sapphire eyes and hair, looked extremely attractive; which, for a moment, put the ladies in a daze but being powerful mages they quickly returned to their senses.

Chapter 55 Astonishment

Max extended his hand toward Lilly and looked at her with a smile. She was still feeling nervous about meeting everyone as his girlfriend, but she knew if she wanted to feel slightly more secure in this relationship, she had to confront everyone as soon as possible.

Although the Ladies of the Garfield family knew that she was his woman, they didn't ask or comment anything on their relationship. Even Esther, who has been guiding her for the past few days, never said anything about their relationship. It was as if everyone was waiting for them to announce it.

She has been gathering her courage for this day ever since Max accepted her as his woman.

Max could have come a lot sooner, but first, he went to the training hall to call her and then waited until she was all dressed up and ready to go.

Lilly took a deep breath and held his hand like a princess, and then walked together with him toward the table.

Everyone stared at this scene in silence, with different thoughts going through their minds.

Esther, Amelia and Mina watched them calmly While Lacey, Layla and Chloe showed surprise on their faces. As for Eva, she had a smile on her face, but she was staring at Lilly as if to see what was special about the girl, but after looking at her, she shook her head and thought, 'It's no wonder he didn't show any special interest in me. His woman is this beautiful.'

Lilly was wearing an elegant black gown type dress which on her fair and smooth skin shined even more, and her black hair draped over her shoulders, giving her an even more charming look. Among the women present, only Esther and Amelia could compare to her in beauty.

Max holding her jade hand, slowly reached his father and bowed. Seeing him bow, Lilly also bowed. Ashton was surprised to see him bring such a beautiful girl with him in this type of meeting, which meant she was his woman, but when he saw that this beautiful girl was previously his maid, he became shocked for an instant.

He didn't expect his son to fall for a maid and then introduce her to them like this. His shock was momentary. He smiled. "Good son. Come sit down."

Max nodded and sat down with Lilly by his side. He then looked toward the guests and greeted them with a smile. "Greetings, My name is Max."

"Haha, What a good boy! Ashton, your boy seems quite capable." One of the men with a muscular body laughed as he glanced at Lilly. Ashton just smiled at this.

"Hello, Max. I'm Valerie." The youngest woman in the group shook his hand as she introduced herself excitedly.

"That's enough!" Madam Mari shouted, seeing her almost drooling on him.

Valerie sat down after being scolded by Mari. Max looked at Madam Mari and Smiled. "Lady, were you asking if I was making an excuse or my way of cultivation was unique, right?"

He didn't wait for her to say anything and said, "My way of cultivation is normal like others, but I was strengthening my mana core and exhausted myself completely. That was why I was sweating and had to take a bath before presenting myself before you guys."

"What?"

"Strengthening your mana core?"

"Are you saying that you've already formed your mana core and become a two-star mage? How old are you?"

Except for his family members, everyone, including his father, looked at him with disbelief.

"Hehe, how can I believe you what you say? Let me check for myself." Madam Mari walked toward him and touched him on the shoulder as she sent his mana inside his body. After taking a look, she was astounded.

"It's true." She muttered as she got back to her seat.

"Hahaha... Good! Good! You gave me a great surprise, my son. I'm proud of you." Ashton laughed loudly. He was delighted to hear the great news and even more when he saw the dazed expression on Mari's face.

"Congratulations, Max, on becoming a two-star mage at such a young age. Your talent is comparable to the top geniuses of the kingdom." The muscular man laughed and praised.

"Congratulations, Max. After becoming an influential man, don't forget me, hehe." Valerie giggled like a little girl.

"Thank you. No, I won't forget you." Max also chuckled.

"Hehe, such a good boy." Valerie winked at him playfully.

"Don't tease him anymore, Valerie." Another woman sitting by her side said.

...

After everyone calmed down, Ashton talked with Max, asking if he needed anything, but Max shook his head and only asked for some money in case he wanted to purchase something.

"Alright, now we have to proceed with our mission to hunt those three-star beasts in case they attack nearby towns again." Ashton said as he to his family and stood up.

Apart from Madam Mari, others wore grim faces when Ashton mentioned the possibility of beasts attacking again.

"I'll kill each and every one of those pests before they can do it again." The muscular man released his murderous intent. His name was Barut, and just like his father, he was also A Viscount of a town which neighbours the Magical beast forest, and his town was almost completely destroyed in the beast tide.

Others were the same as well, they were also Viscounts of beast tide affected towns, and when they reported it to Count Wiley, who was in charge of this region, he simply asked these Viscounts to form a team and then put his subordinate Mari as the leader.

Ashton quickly stepped in front of his family so that they don't get affected by his killing intent. After all, other than him, Max and others are only one or two-star mages.

"Calm down, Barut. We will hunt them down, don't worry." He patted his shoulder to assure him.

After that, he bade farewell to his family and was about to rush out when Max suddenly called out, "Father, May I talk to you before you go? I've something important to discuss with you."

Chapter 56 Approval

Ashton stopped in his tracks. Max then turned to Madam Mari to ask if he could talk to his father "Lady Mari, May I? It won't take too much time." He smiled at her as he asked.

Madam Mari was about to lash out but seeing how he addressed her and his smile, she nodded. "Okay, but make it quick."

Everyone looked at her peculiarly. Seeing this, she snapped, "What? Do you really think that I don't have enough patience to fulfil a kid's wish?"

No one said anything, but they chuckled inwardly and thought, 'Yes, we do.'

After saying this, she and the others slowly walked toward the entrance of the manor while Max and Ashton sat in the meeting hall again. Lilly and others were still present.

Max stood in front of Ashton and pointed toward Lilly. "Father, I love her, and she is already my woman."

Ashton looked at Max and then Lilly, whose face was now bright red from embarrassment. "Little girl, Do you also love him or..." Ashton started to speak in his usual authoritative tone.

Lilly sprang from her seat and bowed in front of him. "My...My lord, I also lo-love him. I know it is presumptuous of me to think of forming a relationship with a noble member of the family that gave me better life but... but I really do love him, and I don't care of the consequences." She stuttered when she started speaking because of nervousness, but she knew she had to say it today; therefore, she didn't hesitate to express her love for him and her guilt toward the family.

"Okay, I understand. Sit in your seat." Ashton used his magic to make her sit. He did it because he could see that she might collapse due to her nervousness.

Max looked at her with a loving gaze. He knew that she considered herself beneath his status and knew that she didn't have the confidence to confess her love in front of every member of the family, but she still did it.

When Max turned to look at his father, he was surprised a little to see him smiling. Not only he but others were also smiling. Amelia stood from her seat and poured a glass of water, and gave it to Lilly. "Here, my dear."

"Your choice is a great son. I'm happy that you found the woman who you love, and she also loves you. We don't have any problem with your relationship." After saying this, he looked toward Lilly and said, "Little Lady, you should not degrade yourself. From now on, your status is that of his wife. So don't ever underestimate yourself."

Lilly was stunned. She hadn't expected his family to accept her like this. But soon, this surprise turned into happiness, and tears started rolling down her cheeks. "Thank you, my lord."

Ashton's face hardened hearing this, and he rebuked, "Are you going to keep calling me that? Call me father, just like Max. We are your family from now on, not your employer."

Amelia caressed her hair and said, "Yes, Lilly, you can call me mother just like my other daughters-in-law do."

"Mhm... Father, Mother." Lilly called out softly, and her tears flowed like an unstoppable river. She felt happy, very happy at this moment. She hadn't known that these words would come out of her mouth ever.

"Hai! Hai!" Amelia hugged her and patted her shoulders.

"So Max, when do you want to marry her?" Ashton asked after Lilly had stooped crying.

Lilly didn't raise her head to look at him because she was very nervous right now, but when she heard Ashton ask him this, she slightly raised her head to look at him, wanting to hear his reply.

"Father, I've decided to first go to a Magic Academy to train myself, and Lilly will also go with me. After we've graduated from there, we will get married." Max said.

"Good. You should first focus on your future, and you should, too, Lilly. You also have to become strong enough to accompany him in the future." Ashton nodded.

Lilly froze for a second. She vaguely understood his meaning. If she wanted to marry him, she needed enough strength so that no one can object to their relationship. She then nodded toward him.

Ashton smiled when she understood his meaning and then asked, "So which Magic Academy do you want to go to. Seeing that you've already become a two-star mage, you can join even Royal Academy."

"No, I want to go to the same Academy Anna goes to." Max shook his head.

Ashton glanced at Lilly and understood his intentions; therefore, he didn't say anything and nodded.

After talking for a few more minutes, Ashton stood up. "I should go now, or that Mari would become even more irritated." He then called out, "George!"

A few moments later, Butler George appeared in the hall and bowed. "Yes, my lord!"

"This mission might take some time. So if I'm not present when Max goes to participate in the Academy exam, you make all the necessary preparation and escort him to the Academy." Ashton ordered.

"Yes, my lord!" Butler George nodded.

"Good. I'm going now. Take care, Guys." Ashton waved his goodbyes and went out with Mari and others.

After Ashton had left, Max asked Lilly to come with him to rest. "No, I'm going to train in my magic spells." She said with determination and started to go towards the training hall when Max grabbed her hand and pulled her toward him, and flicked her forehead. "At least first change your clothes to some comfortable ones to train in."

"Mhm..." She nodded and hurriedly ran to their room when she saw that Amelia and the others were smiling, seeing them act lovey-dovey.

"Tch, Look at her act so serious. Does she think she can do whatever she wants now that she is his lover?" Lacey muttered in a low voice. She was feeling jealous over the fact that all of them accepted her as his lover so easily even though she was just a maid recently. Even though she was the woman of the eldest son of the Garfield family, she was never treated this way because she wasn't the main wife.

Eva, who was close to her, smiled when she heard her rant and whispered, "You better not speak anything like this before if you want to live a better life in the future. Max wouldn't tolerate it if he came to know that you were talking badly about her. You should know his talent is miles ahead of your husband and most likely inherit his father's position."

Lacey's expression froze. She also knew that Max has exceptional talent and most likely would become a very powerful figure. She quickly snapped out of it and said, "Thanks. But shouldn't you also worry about your future, given your husband is the one who mocked him the most."

Eva smiled at this and walked toward her room. "I've already made sure that nothing bad happens to me because of my husband's foolishness."

Chapter 57 Lilly's Dedication

After saying goodbyes to Esther and others, Max also returned to his room. When he returned, Lilly had already changed into a black combat outfit with white stripes over the shoulders and all the way to the arms. It was skin-tight, and her alluring curves were clearly showing, which made him gulp hard.

"Hehe, I'm going to train. Bye." She giggled, seeing Max staring at her like this and Kissed him on the lips and walked out.

When Max came out of his stupor, she had already gone away. He smiled wryly, noticing that he had become hard from seeing her in combat uniform.

"Aren't those in the training hall will see her like that? I don't think she realises herself how hot she looks right now. Let's let her experience it so that she takes care of it properly, and it's not like anyone would dare to do anything to her knowing she is my woman." Max mumbled and opened his stat window.

[Name: Maxwell Garfield]

[Stamina: 25/30]

[Vitality: 20]

[Intelligence: 20]

[Mana: 200/1331]

[Element: Fire]

[Lust Points: 2300]

"Let's increase my stats now." He muttered and distributed all the 2300 LPs in different stats.

[Name: Maxwell Garfield]

[Age: 18]

[Strength: 20]

[Agility: 20]

[Stamina: 26/35]

[Vitality: 23]

[Intelligence: 25]

[Mana: 1331]

[Element: Fire]

[Lust Points: 0]

After he increased his attribute stats, the feeling of becoming more powerful came again. He knew that it was only his illusion, but it felt great.

'Let's focus on strengthening the mana core and training my fighting skills. I still don't have enough fighting experience; I think I should ask Butler George to become my sparring partner.' He wondered.

"But before that, let's sleep and recover my mana." He yawned and lied down on the bed, and closed his eyes. In just a few seconds, he was in a deep sleep.

Strengthening the mana core drains him of not only his mana and stamina but also makes him feel sleepy.

After sleeping for a few hours, he woke up refreshed. He checked, and his mana reserve was full now.

"Huh? She hasn't come back yet. How dedicated this girl is?" He smiled wryly. From the day he led her to choose some magic spells and asked Esther to train her, she hasn't taken any rest apart from the night where she sleeps, not giving him any chance to enjoy some alone time with her.

It was not like he couldn't wake her up and just do what he wanted, but his conscience wouldn't allow him to do so. Furthermore, he couldn't bear to ruin her only rest at night.

'It's fine. Now I've Eva, who is equally if not more sex hungry than me. I should let her train and become stronger.' After thinking about this, he freshened up and changed into gym wear and went toward the training hall. He wanted to accompany her as she trained, and he also had to train his mana control and see if there was any benefit of increasing his intelligence stat apart from making his memory sharp.

Before he went to the training hall, he went to find Butler George. He wanted to ask if he could be his sparring partner but he stumbled into Mina.

Mina was like a normal housewife who didn't show any interest in other things apart from instructing maids to do their work properly. If it wasn't for the beast tide, he wouldn't even know she was also an experienced fighter.

"Hello Mina, where are you heading to?" Max smiled and asked casually.

"I'm going to tell Butler George to start preparing for dinner." Mina replied curtly.

"Oh, what a coincidence I'm going there too." Max said and walked beside her. She had a petite body and her height only reached till his ears. She always wore yellow clothes which matched her Earth element.

"Oh, Do you also have something for him to do?" Mina asked looking at him peculiarly. She was very curious about him ever since he showed that he wasn't useless anymore. She found it hard to believe that he could miraculously gained mana affinity after getting injured.

That's why she was always paying attention to him but she could only learn that he was suddenly sexually active after waking up. That's why she wasn't too surprised when she heard that Lilly was his woman.

On top of that, Her own daughter in law also got sexually involved with him. She was just outside his room when they did it and could hear their erotic moans. She was extremely furious and wanted to barge in but held back. What would she do after barging in? It's not like she could do anything to him because Ashton loved Max more than anything therefore it would only make Eva's life miserable.

When she confronted after, Eva simply stated her reason why she did that and blamed it on William and said that she wanted to secure herself a good life in future. She couldn't say anything more after hearing her worries. That was because she could sympathise with her to a certain extent.

Even though she was one of Ashton's woman but her status was only that of a concubine and he didn't pay any special attention to her. William could attend a magic Academy when she begged and pestered him for many days non-stop. He didn't want to send him to the magic academy because William also didn't have any outstanding talent and it would be waste of money.

But because Ashton was a good man he didn't treat her unfairly and finally gave in and agreed to use his connection to send him to a magic academy. Although Ashton is a good man who didn't treat them unfairly but same can't be said for Max. Maybe after he became man of the house he would really treat them badly because William made his childhood miserable by mocking him everyday and it wasn't like that William would do anything himself given his poor talent. Therefore she came back without saying anything more to Eva.

"Yeah, I want him to become my sparring partner until I join Academy. I have to get better at control and manipulating mana and fighting can help me with that but I need a good partner for that that's why." Max said clenching his fist.

"Ohh, I didn't expect this." She exclaimed, surprised.

"Mmm?" Max looked at her weirdly "What do you mean?"

"It's just because you didn't show any interest in training before and always holed up in your room." She said.

Chapter 58 Lilly's Dedication (2)

"How about I become your sparring partner?" Mina said all of a sudden. "I believe my Earth element abilities would be more effective to fight against rather than Butler George, who doesn't have any element awakened yet and most importantly, he is still recovering after the injuries he got in beast tide and isn't in his best condition. So, what do you think?" After explaining why she should be his sparring partner, she asked him, looking expectant.

"Well, I guess you are right." He didn't expect her to volunteer suddenly, and he couldn't help but give her a second glance as she suddenly looked more charming with those expectant black eyes and thin red lips. He subconsciously nodded.

"Good, let's go to the training hall then." She turned and walked toward the training hall after he nodded.

"What? Wait. Aren't you busy now? You can tell me whenever you are free. We will spar then." Max was startled and said. Mina's actions were beyond his expectations. First, he didn't expect her to volunteer to become his sparring partner. Second, She was going there to fight him without any delay. Somehow he felt uneasy about it.

"It's fine. Butler George can do the work. I just do it to kill some time. Or is it that you don't want me to be your sparring partner?" Mina asked, squinting her eyes.

"No, no. That's not the case. I would obviously prefer a beautiful woman over an old man to spar against." Max hurriedly waved his hands and said. He couldn't understand why this woman was behaving this way.

"Oh!" She suddenly exclaimed, and a slight redness appeared on her face. She turned around and said, "Let's go then."

Max followed her without saying anything. He was unconsciously staring at her, swaying back as he was thinking that she might be planning something.

No one would agree to become a sparring partner to anyone without a good reason because it is a hassle. 'Could it be because she wants to thank me by doing this for saving them before?' He guessed.

After a few minutes, they reached the training hall. They could hear people shouting and yelling from inside.

"Yes, My lady, you can do it."

"My lady, dodge it."

Bang!

Bang!

"Ah, my lady, you did well. We can't fight you anymore."

"What is happening? Why are these people so excited about?" Max muttered? Suddenly, a thought crossed his mind, and his pace quickened.

After entering the training hall, he could see many knights and guards surrounding the arena, where a beautiful lady in a black combat uniform was standing as she breathed heavily. Sweat was glistening on her face making her look even more attractive. Five guards who were novice mages were lying on the ground. The ground was layered with ice. Two of groaning in pain as they surrendered, while others seemed to be unconscious.

"Lilly?" Max stared at the beauty standing in the arena, looking as if she might collapse at any moment.

"Your little wife seemed to have overexerted herself in training. Go and make her stop, or she might collapse." Mina spoke beside him as she analysed.

"Mhm..." Max nodded and ran toward the arena.

"Oh, it's young master."

"Young master, congratulations. Lady Lilly is equally talented as you."

"Yeah, Your choice is great young master."

...

Many guards and knights started fawning upon him by praising Lilly's talent and beauty, and some even began to judge his choice to be great.

Max ignored them and walked up to Lilly and supported her by the shoulder. "I told you not to tire yourself out like this. We still have a few days until the academy exams." He rebuked her in a serious voice. He didn't want her to force herself like this, but she won't listen to him, which gave him a huge headache.

"Hehe, I'm about to break through and become a one-star mage, and I can fight using my ice skills more easily. I won't fall beh..." Lilly collapsed in his embrace and giggled softly and said but she couldn't complete her sentence and fainted because of fatigue.

"Yes, yes, you won't fall behind." His gaze softened as he moved her stray hair behind her ear and said. He then carried her in his arms and walked toward the exit of the training hall.

"Please wait for me. I'll come back after putting her in the bed." Max said as he walked past Mina.

"Okay. Take your time." Mina said as she watched him take her out of the training hall. Then she headed to a secluded training room. This training hall has five private training rooms, which only a member of the Garfield family can use.

These rooms don't have anything special about them. The rule was made for them to avoid being disturbed by others. These rooms are fortified by magic and thus are very durable; even a three-star mage could go all out without being worried about destroying them.

Max returned to his room while carrying Lilly in his arms. She snuggled in his chest as she slept with a faint smile on her face.

Max felt bittersweet in his heart. He didn't expect this girl to love him so much that she discarded everything to train and become strong so that she could prove to everyone that she was worthy of him; even though he had told her to not worry about these things but she isn't like him who don't care about rules and thinking of society of this world.

"No matter what happens, I'll never let you go away from me." He mumbled while thinking about all this.

He then lay on the bed and looked at her, soaked in sweat. 'Mm, yes, I should do it. If it were me instead of her, she would definitely do it for me.' He thought as his hands reached out, and he slowly took her clothes off, leaving her naked on the bed.

Gulp!

He gulped his saliva seeing her alluring body in front of him but managed to fight the urge to do something inappropriate. He wiped the sweat off her body and then covered her with a blanket, and left the room.

He called two maids and told them to guard the room and not anyone inside. It was because he left her naked as taking clothes off of a sleeping person is already very hard, not to mention putting them on again.

Chapter 59 Sparring With Mina

Max returned to the training hall. After knowing that Mina had gone into the private training room, he also headed there and knocked on the door.

Creak!

With a creaking sound, the door opened, and Max entered. Mina was standing in the middle of the room in her combat uniform. Max closed the door behind him and walked up to her. Mina was looking at him intently as if she was trying to discover something from his expression.

"You've returned a lot early than I expected," Mina said while looking at him in the eyes.

"Ugh, Why would I take more time?" Max asked, slightly irritated by her attitude. He couldn't understand what she was thinking by saying weird things to him.

"It's nothing." Mina didn't reply and changed the topic. "So, shall we start?" She said three Earth golems appeared behind her.

Max didn't say anything but looked at her up and down curiously. He was looking if she had some magic item to support her as she cast her spell because he didn't hear her uttering any spell, but golems still appeared around her. However, after seeing that she didn't have any magic item, his eyes still roamed over her body as he stared at her breasts and slender legs unconsciously.

"What are you looking at?" Mina's slightly angry voice sounded, and he stopped staring at her.

"Oh, it's nothing. I was just looking if you had any magic support item on you." Max said, pointing at the golems behind her.

Mina squinted her eyes for a second and then shook her head. "It seems you don't know this, but these types of items are mostly used by novice or one-star mages who still don't have good control of mana to cast their spells more easily, but I, as a two-star mage, don't need it." She explained.

"Hmm, that makes sense." Max nodded after hearing her. These magic items were merely for support; if you can do something on your way, would you need support.

"Now, if you are ready, shall we start?" Mina asked.

'I'll teach you a lesson today, little brat.' She thought. She was angry at him and Eva for doing what they did and betraying her son, William. She was thinking of teaching him a lesson, but she couldn't just beat him because she knew how much Ashton loves him, and he would be furious at her if she harmed him in any way. He might forsake her because she knew he didn't have any affection for her.

That's why when he told her that he was looking for a sparring partner, she asked him to be one. She didn't want to lose a chance to teach him a lesson where no one could blame her. Even if he broke a few bones while sparring, no one could blame her while; her anger would calm down.

"Yeah, let's do this." Max also raised his right hand, and a ball of fire appeared above it in a few seconds.

"Go"

Mina and Max shouted at the same time. Earth golems dashed forward while Max also ran toward her without unleashing Fireball to attack.

He was startled to see earth golem speed. It was slightly faster than the golems in the trial. But it wasn't a problem for Max. He, with double the agility of an average person, dodged the golems and arrived in front of Mina, who was controlling the golems and threw the small fireball at her.

Because he only wanted to get battle experience, he only conjured the fireball with only ten mana points. That way, he could also try to get better control over his mana and increase the efficiency of his attacks.

When the fireball was about to slam into her, a golem appeared in front of her, threw a simple punch at it and crushed it. Max immediately backed off, seeing that he was in the golem's range, but as he withdrew, another golem appeared behind him and punched at him.

His hair stood on its end, feeling the danger behind him. He hurriedly conjured another fireball with 100 mana points. He threw it at the golem behind him, but as the distance between them was around five feet, When the fireball collided with the golem and exploded, The explosion also impacted him. He felt his back burning, and he was thrown toward Mina by the shockwave.

She didn't hesitate, and the golem in front of her slapped at him.

"Crap!"

Max didn't have time to dodge it and could only raise his hands to protect his head.

Bang!

Golem's slap connected on his shoulder, and he flew to the side and slammed onto the floor.

"Hehe, You were right. You don't have any fighting experience." Mina scoffed at him, she was feeling a little better now.

Although she already knew it as he was always at home and never trained, she just said it as an excuse so that he won't think that she was intentionally targeting him.

However, the truth was that she actually wanted to rough him up after she came to know that he has sexual relationship with her daughter in law but at the last moment, when the golem was about to slap him, she reduced the strength in the slap by half or he would end up with many broken bones. She didn't want to make Ashton angry by beating him when he wasn't even in the wrong, to begin with. Eva was the one who seduced him and willingly did it with him. Therefore, after thinking about this, she suppressed her anger and decided to ignore it.

"I think you should ask someone else to be your sparring partner because I don't think I'm good at controlling my strength." She started walking toward the door after finishing her sentence.

"Wait," Max shouted as he got up.

"It's fine. You can fight me however you want. Even if you seriously injure me, I won't blame you. Moreover, I'll be grateful to you. After all, I want real fighting experience which will help me in future." He said resolutely with determination in his eyes.

Mina's eyes flickered with astonishment. She didn't expect him to be this determined. However, the truth was that even he hadn't imagined that he would be this determined to become strong when he reincarnated in his current self. However, after experiencing beast tide, where lives were lost like it was normal and interacting with really powerful people in the legacy grounds and learning their experiences, he knew that if he didn't become strong enough, then he won't be able to live his life the way he wants.

That's why he decided to be serious about it, and his resolution became even stronger after seeing Lilly working so hard for his sake. He didn't want something to happen to her in future because he was weak.

Chapter 60 Sparring With Mina (2)

Mina stopped in her tracks, hearing him. She turned around and looked at him in disbelief. "Are...Are you sure?" She asked as her voice broke due to astonishment.

"Yes. I'm 100% sure. I know you don't want to continue sparring because you are afraid to hurt me but rest assured. If anything happens, it'll be my responsibility, and no one will blame you." Max said as he clutched his ribs. Fortunately, Mina had gone easy on him, or some of them would definitely be in pieces by now.

"Okay, let's continue then." Mina finally gave in, seeing that he was determined to improve himself. But she decided not to be so heavy-handed when hitting him, and she would hold back at the last moment so as not to injure him.

She waved her hand and summoned one earth golem this time. After seeing his performance, she knew that one golem would be enough at the start.

Max stood straight. He stopped clutching his ribs as he endured. "Let's start again." He shouted and conjured two fireballs with ten mana points each. This was not a fight to the death; thus, he couldn't put more mana into them, it was only meant to be a learning experience for him.

Mina controlled the golem to charge at him head-on. Its speed was faster than before. Although Max was still faster with his twenty agility points, he didn't run-up to the golem and let it come near him.

"Go."

When the golem was ten feet away from him, He fired two fireballs at its legs as fast as possible.

Mina didn't seem surprised by it as she simply gave it another command and the golem skillfully dodged the incoming fireballs by moving its body sideways and punched in his direction.

"Fuck." Max cursed and dodged to his right side and conjured another fireball, but as if the golem knew he would escape that way, the punch changed its direction and punched at him again.

Max didn't lose his calm and hurled the fireball at the golem's face. Mina, who was controlling it by standing far away, was startled. This was a simple strategy in a fight, if you can't dodge the enemy's attack, then attack him so that he has to defend himself unless receiving an injury for an injury, and Max was doing the same by attacking the golem in the face.

Mina shook her head and commented, "It would be a very wise move if your enemy were someone with intelligence. This golem won't fear getting an injury, or even if it gets destroyed, I can summon another. So you have to..."

Bang

She stopped talking mid-speech and gaped at the Max, standing behind the golem with a fireball above his hand.

The golem couldn't hit him as he dodged the punch at the very last second by squatting down, and because Mina thought he was exchanging injury for an Injury couldn't react in time. The fireball exploded after hitting the head of the golem while Max came behind it.

A one-inch deep crack appeared on the golem's head, which vanished as soon as it appeared. Max wasn't too surprised by this as he only used one fireball with ten mana points which couldn't do much damage to the tough body of the golem.

He conjured another fireball ball, but this time he used fifty mana points. The size of the fireball grew twofold, which was a lot smaller than before when he used it with fifty mana points. It was because of him constantly trying to get more familiar with mana as he poured it into his mana core to strengthen it. The way to strengthen his mana core was simple, but it was helpful to him to get the hang of his mana.

After the first few times, Max realised this and actively tried to understand how can he use it more efficiently, and as a result, he now can compress them, which resulted in even more destructive power. His current fifty mana point fireball is comparable to the previous 70 mana point fireball in destructive power.

"Explode!"

He shouted as he fired it at the back of the golem's head.

Bang!

With a bang, it exploded simultaneously, destroying more than half of the golem's head. The golem stopped moving. Mina was surprised at how quickly he thought of a way to destroy it while using the minimal amount of mana.

Her thoughts were interrupted when she saw him dashing toward her at full speed with a fireball hovering above him.

She quickly summoned another golem in front of her, which punched at his head as soon as it appeared. Max, who wanted to strike while the golem was destroyed and she didn't have time to recover it using her mana, was stunned when he remembered that she could easily summon other golems.

He fired the fireball at the fist of the golem, but he only put ten mana points in it, thinking that more might injure her, so he knew it could only do a negligible amount of damage to the golem and can't buy him much time. Therefore, he used his agility to the limits and used mana to boost the strength of his legs and jumped to the side.

When he landed to the side, the golem which he had previously destroyed was now standing beside him with open arms and grabbed him.

"Fuck me." He cursed as he was grabbed by the golem, which restricted his movement.

"It was a nice try. But as you are now, you don't stand a chance against me." Mina walked toward him with another golem behind her.

"I can see that with this spell of yours, you've made a bit of progress which is commendable considering you didn't use the skill scroll for the skill fireball." Mina smiled for the first time in front of him.

Max looked at her slightly smiling face that, for some reason, looked extremely pleasant to the eye, but he quickly snapped out of it and asked, surprised, "You mean there is a skill scroll for my fireball spell? Why didn't Emily or Anna tell me about it? they must have known about it." After finishing his sentence, he quickly understood why they didn't tell him and praised him for his talent.

"Maybe they didn't know it as neither of them have fire element, which means they shouldn't have a good understanding of fire skills, or they knew but didn't want to say it as not to demotivate you after seeing that you could invent a skill with your imagination." Mina said.

"Hmm, you are right." Max nodded. He also thought this might be the case. Knowing them, they definitely won't tell him even if they knew it.
