

Chapter 91 - Sophia's Revenge

Sophia's POV

My head was spinning. I had just had breakfast with Eric but deep down Stella and I know it was really Kane. We just have to figure out a way to get his memories back. Both councils should be here tomorrow and I'm hopeful they will have some answers. Xander doesn't want him to know anything about what's going on. He thinks something weird is going on. He said the pack he came from didn't exist.

"Stella, what ideas do you have?"

"Girl, go mate him now!"

"Absolutely not. We don't know for sure who he is and I don't cheat."

"I'm telling you, that is Kane. I don't know why he doesn't recognize us, but I promise you that is Kane and River."

"We need to talk to Xander," I told her as I cut our link and went searching for him. I finally found him in his office with Nathan and Brooke.

"Hey beautiful, how are you?" He asked me as I walked into his office.

"I'm so confused."

"I know me too. I was just telling these guys about what happened. We're trying to come up with a way to get his memories back."

"I went and had breakfast with him and showed him the scrapbook I made him. I hoped that would trigger something."

"Did it?" Asked Brooke.

"I don't think so. He looked through everything and was confused about how much they looked alike. He asked about Kane's wolf and what his name was. I don't think his wolf knows anything, either. I don't think he even knows his own name. He did ask to keep the scrapbook a little longer.”

“Wow, I couldn’t imagine going through any of this,” Nathan said.

“We need to be careful. The pack he said he escaped from doesn’t exist, and I don’t know his ulterior motive.” Xander said.

“I know. I just think the more time I spend with him, maybe something will come back to him. Stella is 100% confident this is Kane, and she wants me to mate and mark him.”

“Absolutely not!” Roared Xander.

“I never said I was going to. I think we really need to talk with the council and maybe have his head examined by doc.”

“That’s a good idea, beautiful. Maybe he has a brain injury. We will do it later. I have to meet some people at the cemetery.”

He came over and gave me a kiss and walked out the door. I knew what he was doing, but I didn’t want to be there. We all walked out of his office and went our separate ways. I walked to Luna Caroline’s room to get my boys.

“Sophia, how are you? Are holding up OK?” Luna Caroline asked as soon as I walked in the door.

“Not really. I don’t know what to think. Stella says it’s Kane, but I don’t know.”

“I can’t imagine. I was going to see him later.”

“Let me know what you think after you do.”

I got a mind link from Xander asking me to meet him in his office. I gathered the boys in my little front pack and let Luna Caroline know that I was meeting Xander and to let me know how her meeting with Eric went.

I headed down the stairs and when I got to the bottom of the stairs case Eric was standing there talking with Jarrod.

“Hey guys, where are you off to?” I asked as I walked up to them.

“I was going to take Eric to the gym so he could get a workout in.”

I turned to Eric to ask him something, but he had a look of shock on his face and his eyes were switching to black and back. He was fighting his wolf for control. He took a step closer to me and leaned down and smelled the babies. I didn't let him ask any questions or say anything. I turned and ran to Xander's office.

I threw the door open and found him and Konner sitting there talking.

“We have a problem. I ran into Eric at the bottom of the stairs and he scented Kane. I took off before he could ask questions.”

“Well, I am sure it is Kane. Beautiful, there is no easy way to say this, but his body is gone. His casket was empty.”

Xander walked over and took Alexander from the carrier and I took Kane out and removed the carrier from my body and sat down at the table.

We all just sat there, absorbing everything, when Nathan and Brooke came in. Brooke came over and took Kane from me and went and snuggled him.

“Want to fill us in on what is going on?” Nathan asked.

“Well, his body is gone and Sophia ran into him with the babies and he scented his son,” Xander explained.

“Did he say anything?” Brooke asked.

“No, I ran away before he could,” I told them, as I could feel my emotions getting the best of me again.

“What are you going to do?” Nathan asked.

“We don’t know yet. We haven’t gotten that far.” Xander said.

“I think we need to bring Trevor in. He can see if any magic has been used. Maybe if it’s a spell has been placed on him, then maybe he can remove it.” I said.

“Beautiful, that is a wonderful idea. I will link Avery to have him come join us.”

I went and got Alexander from Xander and went to the couch to feed him. He was getting a little fussy. Halfway through feeding him, Trevor and Avery came in.

“Please tell me it’s true! Is he really back? Did he really not die?” Screeched Avery.

“We’re not sure, but we’re hoping that Trevor can detect if he has had a spell placed over him or see if you can figure out what happened to him,” Xander asked Trevor.

“I can, but I will need him to cooperate in order for it to work.”

“I am sure we can convince him,” I said.

“Are you sure beautiful?”

“Yes, I think I need to take Kane to him and let him meet his son first. I know he has questions and I want him to get his memories back. I will do whatever it takes.”

“I want to be there. You will not go alone. No more meeting with him alone.” Xander said.

“Ok.”

I’m not sure why, but this upset me. I know he is my other mate. He would never hurt me or his son. We had to figure this out.

“I’m going to the library to see if I can find anything,” I said as I stood up to put the baby carrier back on.

Avery and Booke stood up and followed me out. We made our way to the library and opened the door.

“What are we looking for, Sophia?” Brooke asked.

“I don’t know, maybe emerald wolf mates dying or reincarnated wolves or shit, I have no clue.”

“Ok, why don’t we split up and just start looking for anything you said,” Avery said.

We all nodded and went to different parts of the library. Brooke and I also had a baby in our arms, so it was a little harder to get books down, but we finally made it to a table with about 30 books in front of us. Some were very old and had other languages in them.

“You guys finding anything?” Avery asked after reading through them for about an hour.

“No.” We both mumbled.

“Wait, Brooke, if there is a brain injury could you heal him?”

“I could definitely try.”

“Let’s keep reading for now and wait to hear from the boys,” I said.

We kept reading, but everything seemed to be a dead end.

“Girl, it’s useless. I’m telling you, just mark and mate him. It’s what needs to be done. You love him, so just do it.”

“Stella, I can’t do that.”

“Oh, you could!”

I cut her off and kept reading.

“Girls, I found something,” Brooke said.

I got up and went to her and read what she was looking at. It was a spell to bring back the dead, but it says that it doesn't always work right and it can cause them to become evil.

"This doesn't sound right and if he does have this spell on him and we lift the spell, what will happen to him?" I asked.

"I don't know, but let's keep looking," Brooke said.

We kept looking and kept coming up empty-handed.

"Girls, let's get lunch," I finally suggested, and they agreed as we all got up and left.

We mind-linked the boys who met us down there.

"Did you girls find anything?" Nathan asked.

"Just something about a spell and if someone used it to bring him back from the dead," I told them.

"I know the spell and you won't like the end result of that one if it was used," Trevor said.

"Why, what happens?: Avery asked.

"Well, he turns crazy and starts killing, and eventually he kills himself."

"I am positive that is not the case," I told Trevor.

"How are you so sure? It can take a while for him to start acting crazy." Trevor explained.

"It's just a gut feeling."

I stopped paying attention to what was being said at the table. I wasn't ready to think that he could go crazy and start killing innocent people. My Kane would never do that. He was always helping people. I had to talk to him again. I felt restless being away from him. I knew deep down in my heart that this was my Kane. My love. I could feel it in my heart, and so could Stella. I just had to find a way to get his memories back.

“Earth to Sophia?” Brooke said.

“Sorry, I was thinking, what’s up?” I asked, and the whole table started to giggle.

“You were deep in thought, beautiful. Everything ok?” Xander asked.

Chapter 92 - Sophia's Revenge

Eric’s POV

The Luna came and had breakfast with me, and she brought me this scrapbook that she made for her other mate. I was so confused. This man looked just like me and his wolf was identical to mine, as well. He even had the same tattoos as me. I needed to call King Jag again. I know it’s a risk, but I needed answers, and I know he had them.

“Hey, River, what do you think?” I linked with my wolf.

“I don’t know, man, that is us. I mean, it looks like us, exactly like us. Sounds like our personalities are the same. You and your damn country music.”

“Don’t knock my music taste, it’s good stuff.”

“No, it sucks.”

I cut the link and turned the TV on and turned it up loud and went into the bathroom and turned the shower on and called King Jag.

“Hey man, how is it going? Got any updates for me?” King Jag said, answering his phone.

“No, but you need to tell me what the fuck is going on here!” I yelled at him.

“What do you mean?”

“Her other mate, this Kane guy. What do you know?”

“This again?”

“Ya, she brought me a scrapbook that she made for him, and I am telling you that I am him.”

“You are him.”

“How do you know that?”

“I saw you die and then I found you in the woods. When I found you, I had my suspicions. You didn’t know who you were or anything about you.”

“How did you figure it out?”

“That took a little more work. I had to get something of yours with your DNA on it from before you died. I had someone sneak into your old pack and your old room and stole some of your old stuff and then I took that sample from you and then sent it off to the lab.”

“What the fuck? You couldn’t have told me this sooner?” I yelled at him.

“Would you still have agreed to go there?”

“Yes, she isn’t my mate anymore. I don’t feel the mate bond or any pull towards her.”

“OK then, why does it matter?”

“Because I want to know who I am and where I came from and you know I like to know my real name.”

“Do you love her?”

“No, I just told you I don’t feel the mate bond anymore.”

“So, you will still help me get her?”

“Yes, I wouldn’t turn against you. I just need to know the full truth from now on.”

“OK, good. Don’t call again until you have information for me.”

I disconnected the call and turned the shower off and went and laid in bed. This was blowing my mind. I can’t believe this is where I came from. I needed out of here. I needed to burn some energy. I wonder if I can go to the gym. I went to the door and asked the guard if I could use the gym facilities.

“Let me mind link the Alpha one moment.”

I just stood there and stared at him while he did that.

“Ya, he is fine with that as long as I go with you.”

“Let me change, and we can go.”

I shut the door and quickly changed my clothes and walked back out my door. The guard just started to walk down the stairs and I followed. When we got to the bottom of the stairs, we saw Luna coming with both of her babies. They were brand new, so little. She had them in this little front pouch carrier thing.

“Hey guys, where are you off to?” The Luna asked as she walked up to us.

“I was going to take Eric to the gym so he could get a workout in.” The guard answered for us.

I leaned down to get a better look at her babies, and that is when the scent hit me and my wolf at the same time. He started screaming “ours” in my mind.

“Am I really smelling this? Is this baby mine?” I linked with my wolf.

“Ya, man. She had our baby. I can smell it. He is ours.” River linked back.

Shit, this changes everything. I really need to clear my head. I don't know what to do. Can I turn the mother of my child over to someone who thinks he owns her? If I did that, I wouldn't see my baby.

The Luna ran off as soon as she saw my face. She knows that I know. I don't think she was ready to tell me.

"Hey Eric, are you ready to go to the gym?"

"Ya."

I walked behind him to the gym. People were staring at me, but I can understand why. I need to find out some more information. I am hoping this guard will be willing to talk. We finally made it to their gym, and they had a nice setup. Any gym equipment you could think of was in here. I could defiantly get used to this.

"Let me know if you need anything else. I will just be over there." The guard told me.

"Ya, what can you tell me about this Kane guy that everyone seems to think that I am?"

"I don't know what to tell you. You are exactly like him. From the way you look and talk and act."

"Well, if you think of anything important about him, let me know."

He walked away and sat on some bleachers, and I went to the treadmill to get a few miles in for a warmup.

I don't know what to do. I am so conflicted. I am a loyal person and King Jag saved me in those woods, but these people have known me my whole life and obviously loved me. Shit, I don't think I can trust King Jag anymore. I just wished I could remember everything; it would be so much easier. I want to hold my son. I want to get to know the Luna and Alpha. We apparently had a weird relationship. Shit, was I gay? I don't think I am now.

"River, were we gay?"

“Well, we don’t have any feelings towards other men.” River linked back.

“I have never wanted to bed one like I do women, and none have ever given me an erection.”

“I think it’s safe to say we are straight.”

“Then explain this whole relationship thing I had with them?”

“I can’t remember, dummy, like you I can’t remember.”

“Touche.”

I looked down and realized that I had been on the treadmill for eight miles. It was time to get off and work off some frustration. I walked over to the punching bag and started in on that. This was helping me work out some of the frustrations, but now I am at a crossroads. Do I tell the Luna and Alpha the truth about why I am here or do I turn against King Jag? If King Jag finds out, he will torture and kill me and, well, I am sure the Alpha here would also torture and kill me if he knew. I don’t feel what King Jag is doing right and, well, honestly, I never did, but I was loyal to him for everything he has done for me.

“Hey human, let’s make it easy on ourselves.” River suddenly linked me.

“What do you mean, River?”

“The Luna gave birth to our son and we would never hurt them or put them in danger, and what makes you think that taking their mother away isn’t going to hurt them?”

“Your right, but what about King Jag? He will do horrible things to us when he finds out and you know as well as I do that he has spies within the pack.”

“I wouldn’t doubt that he has spies in the pack, but we are going to have to come up with a way to protect the mother of our child and kill King Jag.”

Chapter 93 - Sophia's Revenge

Xander's POV

We had lunch with the girls and we discussed what they found in the library, which was nothing but some stupid spell about being brought back from the dead and going crazy. Trevor had agreed to meet with Eric and see if he could detect a spell. I don't know what we would do if that was the case. I would have to kill him before he went crazy and I don't know if I could go through with that, and I don't know if Sophia could move on again. She is so hopeful that we will figure out a way to get his memories back. I still have a weird feeling that we shouldn't trust him. There was just something off about him.

"Girls, are you going back to the library?" I asked.

"Yes, we were going to."

"Why don't you let me keep the babies and then you won't get distracted?"

"Thank you, love."

They handed the babies off and took off to the library.

"Boys, back to my office."

We all sat at the table in my office and just stared at each other. I couldn't take it anymore and broke the silence.

"I think I will have Eric over for dinner tonight and that way he can actually meet his son and maybe I will have Sophia show him some memories. Maybe that will trigger something." I told them.

"That's not a bad idea and besides, Sophia is pretty sure he scented his son." Said Trevor.

We continued to talk about things that would have caused this. I needed to go find Sophia as the boys were getting hungry and I just needed to spend some time with my mate.

“Boys, let’s call it a day. I need to spend some time with my mate and kids.”

I got the boys in their little carriers and took off to the library. The girls had their noses in books and reading, and I swear they had every book we had on the table. I cleared my throat to get their attention.

“Oh, there are my boys. All three of them. What are you doing here?” Sophia asked.

“I thought I would come to retrieve you and we could spend some time together. I want to talk to you about some stuff.”

“Let me just put my books away.”

She started to put her books away, but the girls told her to leave them. They were going to keep researching them. Sophia came over and gave all three of us a kiss and pulled me out of there by my hand. We walked up to our room, and she sat down to feed the boys. She fed Kane first while I changed Alexander and then we switched babies.

“Beautiful, I want to have Eric over for dinner tonight. I know that he scented his son, and he deserves some answers. I also want you to show him some memories. I am hoping that will trigger something, but he still deserves the benefit of the doubt. I know he is lying about something, but if we can get him to trust us, maybe he will open up.”

“I love that idea. Stella is also excited about it.” Sophia said with the biggest smile on her face. I hadn’t seen her face light up like that since before Kane died.

“OK, I am going to talk to him and then you and I are going to spend the afternoon together.”

“Sounds perfect.”

I walked out of my room and down to where we had Eric staying. The guard at the door just stepped aside as I knocked and waited for him to answer.

“Hello, Alpha, what can I do for you?”

“The Luna and I would like for you to come to dinner in our room. We would like to discuss a few things with you, and I promise her cooking won’t disappoint either.”

“Thank you, I will be there.”

“I will have the guard escort you there at 6 pm.”

“See you then.”

I walked away and headed back to my room. Sophia had the TV on. The boys were in their swings. I walked over and laid down on the couch and pulled her down with me.

“Beautiful. What do you want to do this afternoon? Also, I may have told Eric that you would cook dinner and also told him how amazing of a cook you are.”

“Well, that means we have to go to the kitchen to get supplies or the grocery store. To be honest, it would be good to get off-pack grounds for a bit. Let’s take the boys on their first adventure.”

“The grocery store is an adventure?”

“When you’re as little as them, it is. Also, we’re napping before we go.”

“Deal!”

She snuggled into me further and we both passed out quickly. We were woken up about an hour later by a crying baby. I got up to get Alexander, to see what was wrong, and the smell hit me before I could get to him. I pulled him out of his swing when I was met with poop all over my hand. He overfilled his diaper, and it went clear up to his neck.

“Sophia, wake up! I need help!”

“What?”

“Alexander has a problem and needs a bath, and I am covered in poop!”

She got up and busted up laughing as she walked into the bathroom and started to fill the tub. I walked into the bathroom, holding Alexander out. She quickly took his clothes off and diaper and wiped him up as best as she could and then took him from me and put him in his baby bath.

“Xander, I love our boys, but that is nasty. So glad us wolves don’t have to deal with that!” Jax linked me.

“Jax, just you wait until they are bigger, and they want to play with Jax. We will shift and they will climb all over you.”

“I can’t wait.”

“Hey, will you come get Alexander and bring me, Kane? We will just get both of their baths out of the way.” Sophia hollered out to me.

I walked in with Kane and switched her babies and went and got Alexander dressed. Once we were done cleaning the babies, we loaded them into their car seats and headed to the store.

“Beautiful, what are cooking for dinner?”

“Chicken Alfredo.”

“I thought that might be what you make. I know he loves that dish; well, I do too.”

We walked through the store and got lots of looks and sweet comments about the boys. It was interesting and I can say it will be awhile before I take them out again. The other shoppers slowed us down with their wanting to look at the boys. We were finally home, and Sophia was cooking dinner.

“Love, I am nervous about tonight.” She said.

“I know me too.”

“What if he never remembers? I don’t know if I can take losing him again. I never stopped loving him and I still love him so much. It is so hard to not just throw myself at him and kiss him.”

“I know, but I promise we won’t stop trying until we figure this out. I want him back for you, for his baby, and to be honest, I miss my best friend.”

“I wish you would let me spend some time alone with him. Let him get to know me, just me. Not us.”

“Let’s give it some time. He still has to earn our trust. Once he has done that, we can talk about you spending time with him alone.”

Chapter 94 - Sophia's Revenge

Sophia’s POV

We got interrupted during our make-out session at the kitchen table. I got up to answer the door, and that’s when I realized it was actually 6 PM, which meant that Eric was at the door. Xander was quickly behind me and went to open the door, so I ran to set the table. Dinner was just about ready. All I had to do was cook the bread. I wanted to wait until he was here so that it would be warm. Xander walked Eric over to the table and seeing them together again made my heart soar.

“Hello, Eric, how are you?” I asked.

“I am doing good Luna. Thank you for having me for dinner.”

“Please, just call me Sophia. Why don’t you sit down? Dinner will be ready in a few minutes.”

I walked back over to my little kitchen area and got the bread out. I placed it in a basket and walked back to the table as soon as it was done. There was an awkward silence between all of us. I didn’t know what to say. I also couldn’t stop looking at him. I forgot how handsome he was. I could feel myself getting aroused just looking at him. I had to look away and get my thoughts under control before they could smell it.

“Girl, just ask him if he has questions for you.” Stella linked me.

“Stella, I mean what would he have questions about besides everything?”

“So, Eric, how are you getting along here in our pack?”

“It’s been nice. I get some weird looks from people, but they have all been nice to me. Your gym is also amazing.”

This had Xander laughing because he and Kane designed it together.

“The gym is nice. We put a lot of work into it. We want the best so that our pack can be the best.” Xander said.

“Eric, do you have any questions about anything?”

He just stared down at his food for a long time. Nobody said anything, but a baby crying finally broke the silence. Xander and I got up at the same time.

“Beautiful, sit down. I got him.”

Eric and I continued to be silent. I didn’t know what else to say and I am guessing he didn’t either. We could hear Xander in our room talking to the babies. He was trying to tell them to go back to sleep and that we would stay up late with them if they did. It didn’t work because he came out carrying both of them. He walked over to me to hand one to me and that is when I noticed that Eric’s back stiffened and he looked sad. I still wasn’t sure how to approach this. Thankfully, Xander took over for me.

“Eric, I know you can scent him and yes, you are his father. Your name isn’t Eric. It is Kane. I am not sure what has happened, but you were killed and somehow you were brought back to life. We don’t know if there is a spell involved or if something else happened, but you are where you belong now. We are going to do whatever it takes for you to get your memories back.”

“Can I hold him?”

I got up and handed him Kane. It was a bittersweet moment for me. I never thought I would get the chance to see him hold his son. Whatever happens, I will never forget this moment. He was taking in his features and just staring at him. You could see his eyes filled with love. My eyes were filling with tears. I was sitting here with both of my mates and they were both holding their sons. This was what I had dreamed about every day since I gave birth.

“What is his name?”

“Kane Andrew,” I replied.

“You named him after your other mate?”

“Of course, I loved him. He was the other half of me. My heart belonged to two boys. Half for Xander and half for Kane. Now it belongs to four boys.”

“Can you tell me more about your mate?”

“I can do more than tell you. I can show you.”

“How are you going to show me?”

I looked at Xander for approval to tell him what I was doing . He just nodded his head at me in approval.

“I am an emerald wolf and I have different powers. One of those powers is to project images. These images are things that have happened to me.”

He didn't say anything, but just looked at me like I was crazy. I got up and dimmed the lights so that the pictures would show up better. I was going to start at the beginning and show him how we fell in love and, by the end, I hoped he could see how much I still loved him.

“Stella, are you ready to do this?” I linked her.

“Absolutely girl. We are going to get through this and show him how much love we have for him.”

“Xander, will you please explain each thing as I show him?”

I closed my eyes and let Stella take over. When I opened my eyes, they were glowing. I stared at the wall and brought up the image of when they saved me.

“This is at Sophia’s old pack. She was abused and raped there. We saved her that day. I noticed she was my mate and was in distress and followed her and had mind linked you to come with me. We brought her back here and got her medical care. I, however, was a dumbass and wanted to reject her while you became her best friend.”

I showed more images of him and me together, watching movies and just talking. I skipped over the parts where Xander beat the hell out of him. I jumped to the moment where our mate bond kicked in.

“This is the moment that you two realized that you were mates. Sophia was kidnapped by her old pack, and we rescued her. That was when I accepted the mate bond between her and me, and so did she. When you walked back into the room, you both felt the mate bond.”

I jumped over and went to the night that they both marked me.

“Really, Sophia, this?” Xander asked.

“Sorry, it was an important moment in our lives.”

“Ok, this is when we both marked her at the same time.”

“Wait, I need to ask a question?” Eric said.

“What is that?”

“Were we gay?”

Xander and I both started laughing, but he was dead serious.

“No, you weren’t. You just happened to share a mate and sometimes you shared me at the same time, but you never so much as even touched each other. I slept in between the two of you at night.”

“Sorry, that is something I have been thinking about. I wondered how it worked.”

I showed him our mating ceremony and then when he died and his funeral. I showed him the ultrasound of the babies and the birth of the babies. When I was all done, I looked up at him and he had tears in his eyes.

“I am sorry. I didn’t mean to upset you,” I said.

“You didn’t. It’s just very obvious how much you loved this man, me. I know there are too many things that line up that I am that guy, but I just can’t remember. I want to remember. I want to be that guy for you, but I just don’t remember.”

“I am so glad to hear that. I know you can’t remember, but we want to try to help you.” Xander said.

“I need to tell you, guys, that something, but if I do, I need to know that I am safe. Before I told you I had to make sure that you were genuine, and that I could trust you and after seeing this, I know that I can. Even if I don’t remember who I was, I have to be in my son’s life.”

“You can trust us, and we want you in Kane’s life. Whether that is as a mate with me or just his father. You always have a place here.”

“I am not from the pack that I said I was from.”

“We already figured that, but we don’t know why you lied and where you were staying,” Xander said, and you could tell that he was getting upset. I reached my hand over and grabbed his hand, hoping it would calm him a little.

You could see him thinking about what he was going to say next. He leaned down and kissed his son and told him how much he loved him even if he didn't remember anything and that he hoped he could be in his life forever. This had tears in my eyes because there is nothing that he could say that would change how I felt about him, and he would always be in his son's life.

"I don't know what you guys know, but the pack that found me sent me here for a specific reason. However, I will never put my son in jeopardy and by telling you this, I am risking my life in more ways than one, but I have to take every chance I can to be with him. I was also just informed by the Alpha that I am Kane, but I honestly do not have any memories." He said and looked up to read our reactions.

Chapter 95 - Sophia's Revenge

Xander's POV

Dinner had gone well until Eric or Kane or whatever the fuck you want to call him dropped that bombshell on us. He was working for King Jag. I knew he was lying about where he came from. I have no clue what he has told him, and I have no clue what to do with him. Part of me wants to trust him because he came clean, but he only came clean because of his son. We are currently staring at each other, not saying a word.

There was a knock at the door and Sophia got up to answer it and my dad walked in. She must have mind linked him. It was probably for the best. The only thing keeping me calm was the fact that we both had a baby in our hands.

"Son, Sophia mind linked me and told me what happened. I think it's best if we all talk about this. I don't want anyone to lose their temper and regret something. Your mom is on her way to take the boys."

"Thank you, dad."

It didn't take long for my mom to get here. I owe this woman so much. She is always there for me and always watching the kids at the drop of a hat.

"Thank you, mom. We will be back soon."

I handed her Alexander, and she walked over to Eric and went to take Kane from him. He gave his son another kiss and told him he loved him regardless of this outcome, and then handed him to my mom.

We all walked out of the room and headed to my office. I sent Konner a mind link asking him to meet us there as well. He needed to be here for this. We all made it to the office and the second the door was closed, I couldn't hold back anymore; I turned and punched him in the face.

"What the hell was that for?" He yelled.

"Because you're an idiot. You put our mate in danger."

"Listen, I didn't know what I was doing. His story and your story aren't the same."

"Well, you have about five seconds to explain before I knock your lights out." I seethed out.

"Ok, let me start from the beginning. He found me in the woods not far from where his pack is located. He took me in. I was in rough shape. I don't know what happened to me. I had no memories. He took me to a doctor and got me medical care. After I was better, he moved me into his pack house. I started out as an omega and quickly worked my way up. Once I was better, I asked to start training. I didn't know what I was doing, but it felt natural. I felt like I should be out there."

"You should, you're a blood-born beta. It's in your blood to literally fight." Konner said.

"He will always let someone start training. The more fighters he has, the better in his opinion. I was quickly working my way up the ropes in training and soon I was the lead warrior. Being a lead warrior, he sent me on different missions, and I always brought our guys back with me.

The next thing I knew, I was his third in charge. He doesn't rank guys as you do. He says he is a king and just has people below him. Second in charge and third in charge, but he is always number one, and he has no loyalties to anyone but everyone better have loyalties to him. We attacked you guys a while back. I believe you may still have some of the warriors."

"We do, and they really won't talk. I promise they aren't in good shape. It doesn't matter what I do, they keep their mouth shut."

"That's because they know if they talk, King Jag will take whatever family they have and torture them, and he will do it in front of you if he can."

"How did you ever think this was right?"

"I never said I did, but I had to survive. I wanted to know who I was and where I came from."

"So why does he want Sophia?" I asked him.

"He said that he was meeting with Alpha Wayne, and he mentioned that he had a special wolf. I am not really sure what all transpired, but from what I have learned, he says that he bought her when she was a child and had her parents killed. He was supposed to get her when she became of age, but something happened, and from what I saw earlier, Xander, and I saved her, and you know the rest of the story."

"You need to tell me what all you have told him about our pack, and I will give you one warning. Do not lie to us," I growled out. I couldn't help it. I was still so angry.

"I haven't yet. When I first got here, I was so confused that I called him and demanded to know what was going on and why everyone thought I was this Kane guy. He says he has known since he found me. He said he had his suspicions and so he had someone sneak in here and get something of mine and ran a DNA test to confirm it. He was using me to get to you. I think he was hoping that I would not believe you guys and continue to think that I was Eric and feed him information, but I won't and I haven't told him anything yet. I have a son that I want to be around to help raise, but if he finds me and finds out, he will kill me. That is where I need you, Xander to promise me that whatever happens, you will protect my son."

"First off, can we please stop calling you Eric? It's literally killing me?" I asked him. I hated it. Now that I knew for sure that it was Kane, I couldn't keep calling him Eric.

"Ya, you can call me Kane, since that is my real name."

"Thank you, now Kane. You need to know that I love your son like my own. He was literally born five seconds later. Whatever happens, your son will be protected, and he is the future Beta of this pack."

"I appreciate that. I am willing to do whatever it takes to earn your guys' trust, and I want to work with you on this. I will protect the Luna with everything I have. King Jag made me a rouge before I left. So, I have no ties to him."

"Kane, it is great to have you back. I know you don't remember me, but you were like a son to Luna Caroline and me and this pack hasn't been the same since you left."

This meeting went very differently than I had expected, but I believe everything he has said, and Jax agrees. I still don't trust him completely yet; he has to earn that.

"Kane, I would like for you to turn your phone over to me. I do plan on having you call King Jag as you would. You will feed him false information while we come up with a plan. I am also going to need more information about his pack as well."

"Anything you want is yours. I would like to ask to spend some time with my son and I would also like to spend some time with the Luna."

"Of course. Just out of precaution, there will be guards until I know we can trust you. Ok, let's call this for the day. We will meet tomorrow."

We all got up, and I went to my room to see my beautiful mate and kids. Lucy should be home by now. We have been keeping her away, so she didn't see Kane. She would be so confused.

"How did it go?" Sophia asked as soon as I came through the door.

"Better than I thought it would. He came clean about everything. He really is working for King Jag."

"What? The sicko that wants to kidnap me?"

"Yes, but he said now that he has a son, he wants to be here for him. He wants to be a part of his life and help raise him. He also wants to get to know you. I don't think he remembers anything, but I think that he feels something for you."

"Really?"

"Yes, beautiful."

"How do you feel about that?"

"Well, I know he is your other mate. We just need to figure out how to reestablish the bond, if that is what you want."

"Yes, I do. I miss him and I just hope he is the same person as he was before."

"I believe he is. Things he said tonight were exactly what Kane would have said. He also said that he would like to be called Kane and not Eric."

"Oh, that makes me even happier."

"Now where is my little princess? I haven't seen her in what feels like ages. I think I need to have a princess party."

"She is in her room and waiting for you to be here."

I went and kissed Sophia and went into Lucy's room.

“Princess, will you have a princess party with me?”

“DADDY!” she screamed and ran over to me and wrapped her little arms around my legs.

“So how about that princess party?”

“Will you wear a Tierra?”

Chapter 96 - Sophia's Revenge

Kane's POV

It's nice to finally know my name and where I come from. I know that Konner was my brother. I could scent it. He never really said much, and I don't know how to feel about that. This whole situation is weird. I really could go for a run. I just don't know if they would let me. I know they don't trust me right now. I was going to earn that trust, whatever they wanted. I handed my phone over to Xander when I came back to my room. He was pleased with that, but I was going to have to continue to talk to King Jag. If I didn't contact him weekly, he would know something was up.

“Wolf, what are you thinking?”

“First of all, my name is River. Stop calling me wolf!”

“Do you remember?”

“No, but that's what they said my name was, and I trust them. Something feels right here. This is our home; I can feel it.”

“OK, River!”

“We need to kill King Jag. He will hurt our Luna and our son.”

“I agree, but how?”

“I think we need to lure him here. Give him false information and be prepared to take him down.”

“That’s not a bad idea, but remember, he has witches working with him. I don’t know if this pack is strong enough to take on witches.”

“We need to tell the Alpha. I know one of their men here is a witch and besides the Luna is an emerald wolf. We don’t know what her powers are.”

I cut my link with River and laid down in bed. I knew that sleep wouldn’t come easily tonight. I had too much on my mind, and so did River. I still can’t believe I had a son. He looked just like me and he shared my name. When they told me he had my name, it made my heart soar. I was so happy. I don’t know if I wanted pups before, but this felt right. He was supposed to be here. I could finally feel my eyes getting heavy and closed them.

A banging on my door woke me up the next morning. I stumbled out of bed and opened it with a growl on my face.

“Get dressed. We’re going to train. You can help me with the young ones.” Konner said as he stormed out of the hallway.

I quickly got dressed, and the guard walked me down to the training field. He wasn’t kidding when he said young ones. These kids were like ten. I can’t believe they train them this young. Seems a little overkill. I walked over to where Konner was standing.

“Hey, you train kids this young?”

“Ya, it’s all volunteer at this age and mandatory starting at 16. We mostly do this to help burn up their energy, and then they are less likely to get into trouble. Besides, the kids that start at a young age tend to be the ones that turn into our best warriors.”

“I see. What exactly do we teach them?”

“We do some conditioning and the basics of sparing and hand-to-hand.”

“That’s a far cry from what I was expecting. So, I can scent you and I am guessing you are my brother?”

He just looked at me and walked off. Maybe we didn't have a good relationship when everything happened. I followed him out and listened to him talk to the kids. They were all super excited about today.

"Alright kids, I want you all to meet or I am sure most know already, my brother Kane. He is going to start helping."

All the kids cheered and waved at me. I just stood there stupidly and stared at all of them. I had no clue what to say. Konner cleared his throat and waved his hands to get the kids to calm down. After everyone settled down, he announced that warm-ups would start. All the kids took off while Konner watched. I felt bad that they were running by themselves, so I took off and started running with them.

After all the warmups were done and the stretching had been completed, the kids all paired up and started sparring. I walked around giving some pointers when I came to a really tiny kid who was struggling with everything. She didn't have a partner and was just doing the motions in the air.

I got down on my knees in front of her and held my hands up and let her hit them. She really was too small to be doing this, but I would never discourage someone from trying to better themselves, especially a kid.

"Hey sweetie, how long have you been doing this?"

"A week." She didn't look up at me while I talked to her. It made me a little upset. She should look at someone when they are talking to them.

"What are you wanting to learn in this class?" I asked her. I had a feeling there was something else going on here.

"Nothing."

I didn't press her anymore but brought her over to the other kids and got her set up in a group that was on the same level as her and I continued to walk around helping other kids. Once I finally met up with Konner, I had to ask him about that girl.

“Hey man, what is with that little, tiny girl over there? Something feels off about her.”

“I don’t know. I have other shit to worry about.”

“What the hell is your problem? Aren’t you the Beta?”

“No, asshole, that’s you or it was you.”

“I never said I wanted my old job back.”

“That’s not the problem. You can have it back when it’s time. its other things.”

“Mind sharing those with me?”

“Not right now.”

He then stormed off and went towards the pack house and I was left with these kids. I looked over at the guard who was watching me and mouthed “help me” to him. He finally got up and came over and suggested I play some games with the kids. He explained it as tag, and said it was a pointless game but did help with endurance, so we played.

Finally, the kids’ parents started showing up to pick up their kids and the little girl that I helped earlier had dropped her shoulders and hung her head as she was walking off the field by herself. I had to know what was going on with her, so I walked to my guard and explained what was going on and that I wanted to follow her. He shook his head and followed me.

We kept our distance, and I don’t think she saw us follow her. She walked until she was deep into the forest. She came to the littlest shack and went inside. Something defiantly wasn’t right. I know the Alpha wasn’t aware of this.

“Can you link the Alpha and let him know what is going on?”

“I already did, and he is coming out here now.”

We sat in silence as we watched this shack, and nobody came or went. I could hear more than one person in there. We could hear things being thrown around and a guy yelling, but it didn't sound like he was being violent. Finally, the Alpha showed up, and I gave him a rundown of what I noticed about the girl at training and that I had a feeling about her.

"I have no clue who lives there. I wonder if it is a rogue family who found the place, and the girl came into the pack. Nobody would question a girl. I have a few warriors on their way, and then we will figure this out."

"Wait, I shouldn't be here. I need to go back to the pack house."

"Why you found her? You should be here."

"What if King Jag sent them? I wouldn't put it past him."

"If you are supposed to be gaining rank, and he has a spy, let his spy see you working with me. Would he really send a kid with him?"

"Ya, nobody is off limits to him."

The guards finally showed up and Alpha Xander went to the door and knocked. An angry drunk looking man threw the door open yelling, "WHAT?"

You could see the anger instantly on Alpha Xander's face. I didn't know who this man was, but I couldn't be for sure that he wasn't with King Jag.

"Who are you and what are you doing on my pack lands?" Roared Xander.

"Sorry, sir, we just needed a place to stay. We will leave."

"Who is we?" asked Xander.

"My family."

"Bring them here."

He yelled. He was so drunk. I could smell it on him. It took a lot of booze for us to get drunk, so he either drank nonstop or consumed a lot in a short period. Pretty soon the little girl from today appeared and I am assuming what is his mate. A little tiny woman stepped out of a room. You could tell both of them were not taken care of. They were underweight, and the wife looked abused.

Xander was pissed the moment the mate and kid stepped forward. He had to be thinking of Sophia. I know I was, and I don't know what all happened to her, just that she was abused. He grabbed the slime ball by the neck and started yelling.

“What are you doing to these poor girls?”

“I am his mate, and this is our daughter,” the woman said, looking at the floor.

He dragged the man outside and threw him to the guards, and told them to take him to the cells.

“Please grab your belongings and come with me. You and your daughter are not in any trouble. We want to help you. I won't allow this man to hurt either of you.”

The woman just grabbed her daughter and walked out of the house. I am guessing they don't have anything. It broke my heart. I felt for this poor woman and her child. They looked terrified. The child was crying and clinging to her mother. The mother didn't know what to do. I am guessing she moved from one abusive household to the next.

“Alpha Xander, I think we should take them to the hospital for a checkup and I think that Luna Sophia would actually be a great help.”

“I agree. I will mind link her and have her meet us there.”

As soon as we got the woman and her daughter to the hospital, Sophia took over and took them back to see a doctor.

“Kane, I am going to talk with our drunk. Do you want to join me?” He asked.

“I don’t know if he would say anything with me there if he is a spy for King Jag.”

“OK, I will have to guard take you back to your room.”

Chapter 97 - Sophia's Revenge

Sophia’s POV

I was sitting with my boys just watching them, enjoying some tummy time, when I got a mind link from Xander asking me to meet him at the hospital. I immediately thought that he was hurt or Kane, but he quickly reassured me that they were fine and that they would meet me there. I packed up the boys and headed to Luna Caroline’s room. I knocked on the door and waited for a come-in. Once I heard it, I opened the door and scanned the room for her.

“Xander, just mink linked me and asked if I could meet him at the hospital. Don’t worry, he is fine, but I am not sure what is going on, so I didn’t want to take the boys, do you mind?”

“Of course not. Bring them in.”

“I swear we are going to get a nanny, so I can stop bugging you.”

“You will do no such thing. These are my grandkids. You are going to be doing more Luna duties and that is part of it. I will take my grandbabies anytime!”

I smiled at her and put the boys down and walked out of the door. I headed for the hospital. I let Xander know that I was on my way.

I walked through the doors and went to the ER where they were. I found Xander and Kane talking with some guards. I walked over to Xander and gave him a kiss and, without thinking, I gave Kane one, as well. When I pulled away, he looked shocked and Xander just had a smile on his face.

“Sorry, old habits,” I said to Kane.

“Baby girl, anytime you want to do that, I will never turn you down,” he said with a big grin on his face.

He called me baby girl. My heart soared with happiness. I have wished for so long to hear him say that. It brought tears to my eyes. I couldn't help myself, and Stella was pushing me to do it. I jumped up and threw myself at him. I wrapped my arms around his neck and just held him.

“While this seems like a great reunion, let's go talk, Sophia,” Xander said.

I let go of Kane, who was even more shocked now than he was when I kissed him. We walked into a patient's room that was empty.

“Alpha, sir, I am sorry. I don't know what to do. I would never touch your mate,” Kane said, looking a little nervous.

“Kane, I am not mad. You are also her mate. Honestly, it made me happy, because it made her happy. Now we need to talk about what we found today.”

“Ya, why am I here?” I asked.

“Because Kane had a little girl that showed up at training today and he followed her home and we found her and her mom being abused by her father and the mom's mate. We think that you will be able to speak with them and help them more than we could.”

“Where are they? I will go and see them. Anything to help.”

“Let's wait for doc, so we can get a full rundown of their injuries and what he suggests.”

“Xander, I need to do something, but I need you to be OK with it before I do.” I mind-linked him.

“Beautiful, go and kiss Kane. Show him how much you love him.” He mind linked back.

“How did you know?”

“It’s written all over your face.”

I walked over to Kane and placed my hands on his chest, and looked up into his eyes. I knew my eyes were flashing black and then back again. I was fighting Stella for control right now. I didn’t wait for him to say anything. I just slammed my lips against his. I ran my tongue over his lips, waiting for him to open up, but he didn’t, and he tried to pull away.

“Please, don’t pull away. I want to kiss you.”

“You have a mate, and I am not sure how he is OK with this. I really am not sure how he hasn’t killed me yet.”

“I told you; you are my other mate.”

He didn’t reply, but leaned in and started to kiss me. I moved my hands up his chest and around his neck as he deepened the kiss.

I let a small moan out and pressed myself further into him.

“If you two would come up for air, we can discuss what is going on with our new patients,” Doc said.

We both pulled away, but he didn’t let go. He leaned his forehead down to mine and whispered, “I don’t remember any kisses from before, but any kisses I’ve ever had don’t compare to that!”

I just smiled and grabbed his hand and walked to Xander and grabbed his hand. At this exact moment, my life was complete. I didn’t need anything else.

“Now that I’ve got everyone’s attention, I would like to tell you that both the mother and daughter will be fine. The mom has a few broken ribs and some old but healed broken bones and bruises. She needs to eat but should be better in a few days. The little girl is just underweight but doesn’t appear to have been abused.”

I let out a big breath I was holding. It seems like we got here in time.

“I would like to see them, and I think it’s best if it’s just me.”

Doc just nodded at me and walked out the door. He led us to their room.

“Did you get their names?”

“Neither one will talk.”

I knocked on the door and walked in, shutting the door behind me.

“Hello, I am Luna Sophia. What are your guys’ names?”

The little girl looked up at me from her mom’s lap. The mom kept her head down but started to speak.

“I am sorry we didn’t mean any trouble. We will leave.”

“No, you don’t need to leave. We want to help. Let’s just start with your name.”

The little girl is the one who spoke up.

“I’m Tylee and this is my mom. Her name is Savanna.”

“Tylee, what a beautiful name. Are you hungry?”

She shook her head at me.

“How about if you and Alpha go to the cafeteria and get some lunch and you can get some stuff for your mom, too?”

She just looked at her mom for permission. Her mom shook her head at her and said that it was OK. I held my hand out to her. She took it and we walked to the door.

“Alpha Xander, this is Tylee. She thought you guys could get lunch and bring her mom some back.”

“That sounds wonderful. Come on Tylee,” he said.

He reached his hand out to her, but she walked past him and grabbed Kane’s hand. I had to laugh at him. He was a little hurt. They walked off, and I went back in.

“Savanna, want to tell me how you are?”

“I am sorry Luna. I didn’t mean for this to happen.”

“You have no reason to be sorry. Was that man your fated mate?”

“Yes.”

“Did he abuse you?”

“Not until after he became a rogue. He lost his job and started drinking and fought with our Alpha and we got banished two years ago. My daughter and I need to leave. I can’t be here when he gets out.”

“Do not worry. We will help you. I will need to talk with the Alpha, but we will protect you. Where has he been working?”

“I don’t know. He got involved with another pack, but they didn’t accept us yet and they paid him to come here.”

“Do you know anything about this other pack?”

“Just that their Alpha doesn’t call himself Alpha, but King Jag. He was giving my husband enough money to buy alcohol and a little bit of food.”

“Thank you for telling me that.”

“I want to reject him,” she blurted out.

“We can help with that as well. You are going to have to talk to the Alpha and tell him everything, and we will help you with a plan.”

“Thank You.”

“Now just rest and snuggle your daughter. We will come back tomorrow.”

Just on cue, they walked through the door and Tylee bounced over to her mom with food in her hand.

“We will leave you and if you need anything, just tell the nurse and she will get it for you.”

She just smiled at us as we left. It felt good to help her.

I grabbed both of their hands and walked to our room. Once there, I turned to them to tell them what I knew.

“She told me that he was fired from his job and so he started drinking and becoming abusive. Their Alpha banished them. He somehow got hooked up with King Jag and was sent here by him. She said that he hadn’t accepted them into their pack but gave them enough money to buy a little food and alcohol. She didn’t seem to know the reason that they were sent here.”

“Damit. We need to go talk to him now.” Yelled Xander.

I knew he would want to, but I had other plans and Stella wasn’t helping me any. He would still be there when we were done. She kept flashing dirty images in my head of the three of us. I didn’t know if this was going to work, but I thought it couldn’t hurt. We can talk after.

“Beautiful, where are we going? I want to go talk with this guy.”

“Kane, do you trust us?” I asked.

“Well, I mean ya, I do, but do you have in mind?”

“Love, why don’t you go have a shower? I want to finish that kiss with Kane. Please trust me on this. Stella is adamant about this.” I linked him.

“Well, I am going to go shower real fast.” Announced Xander as he walked to our room and shut our bedroom door.

I grabbed Kane’s hand and led him to the couch. Once we got there, I pushed him down and straddled his lap. I leaned in and kissed his neck, moving my way up his jaw to his mouth, but once I got to his lips, he pushed me away.

“Luna, I can’t do this. The Alpha is in the shower.”

“I know, and I hope that he will join us when he gets done.”

“WHAT? I am not gay!”

“Please trust me on this. I know you aren’t gay, and you guys don’t touch each other at all. I am always between you two.”

I didn’t let him answer because I started to kiss him again. I could feel my insides tighten at the thought of being with Kane again.

“Girl, you have to mark him. I am telling you to do it.”

“We haven’t talked about it. I can’t just do it.”

“Either you do it or I will take over and do it. Trust me on this.”

I cut my link with her and continued on my mission. He finally relaxed a little bit and started to kiss me back. I couldn’t stop myself and started to grind myself on him and let out a moan.

“Baby girl, I can feel your wetness through your pants and mine,” he panted out.

“Kane, I need to have you inside me right now.”

He didn’t reply but stood up, still holding me, and threw me on the couch. He completely took control. It was hot. He could do whatever he wanted to me right now.

“Baby girl, if I end up dead as soon as the Alpha comes out here, it will be worth my death to have you at least once.”

“I promise you; he won’t kill you,” I tried to reassure him.

He didn’t reply, but went to kissing me again and pulling my shirt up. I sat up a little and pulled it off and reached behind me and undid my bra and slid it off me.

“Fuck, those are beautiful,” He murmured to himself.

He didn't waste any time tasting them. He placed his lips over my right nipple as he grabbed the other with his thumb and forefinger and rolled it.

"Kane, please, I need you right now."

He just looked up at me and gave me that 100-watt smile he had. He stood up and slid his pants down, and his erection sprang free. I think it was bigger than I remember. He leaned down and undid my pants and pulled them down, along with my underwear.

"Baby girl, are you sure about this?"

"I am more than sure, please I need you."

He had his body hovering over mine and looked into my eyes. I could see the passion in them. I could see the want in them. They were completely black. He was losing control of his wolf. He lined himself up with me and slowly eased himself into me.

"Oh, goddess Kane, you feel so good in me," I moaned out.

He slowly started to thrust in and out of me. I could feel my insides tighten; I knew it wasn't going to take me long. It had been so long since I had been with him. He started to thrust harder and harder and before I knew it; I was seeing stars as my orgasm hit me.

"Your beautiful when you come, baby girl."

I smiled up at him as I tried to catch my breath. I pushed him off me and pushed him back down on the couch and straddled his lap. I lined myself up with him and sank down on his hard cock. He let out a small moan as I did it. He grabbed my hips and moved them at the pace he wanted. I could see it in his eyes. He was close.

"You feel so good. I am going to come," he grunted out.

"Girl, get ready, it's now or I will do it."

Chapter 98 - Sophia's Revenge

Kane's POV

I was swimming in blackness. It was comfortable. Maybe I'm dead. I had sex with the Luna, and the Alpha was taking a shower, and we were in the living room. He would kill me if he walked out and saw me. I don't know why I did it, but it felt right. River was all on board and was encouraging me, kept flashing me pictures of different positions we could do and different ways to touch her. Once he started that I couldn't stop myself.

She was so beautiful; her skin was so smooth. She took her bra off and laid back on the couch and begged me to fuck her. I was ready, that was for sure. Once I got her pants off and I could see how wet she was for me I couldn't wait anymore. I lined myself up with her and started to thrust into her. I started off slowly building her up and I could tell the faster I went the closer she got. I wanted to see her as she came. I knew it would be a sight I couldn't forget. I could feel her walls start to contract around me as she finally let go and came, and I was right she was beautiful when she did it.

She pushed me off her and pushed me on the couch and straddled my lap and lowered herself down on me. Oh, goddess she was amazing. I grabbed her hips and moved her at the pace I liked. She seemed to enjoy it as well as she started to moan, and I knew it wasn't going to be long before I filled her up. She kept moving at the pace I set, and her breast were bouncing in my face and that was it I was gone. I threw my head back started to cum. Then she marked me. Shit, she marked me. What the hell was she thinking? That's why I'm in blackness, the Alpha had to have killed me.

I continued to float in this blackness. I tried to reach out to River but couldn't feel him. That had me worried. I didn't want to lose him. He has been with me through everything, even when we didn't know who we were. Well, we still don't but one day we will figure it out. I continued to float around but started to look for River. He had to be here somewhere. I started to panic as I couldn't find him anywhere and when my heart rate picked up and I could feel myself start to shake, which is when I started to fall through the blackness. I kept falling and quickly picked up speed. I wasn't sure what was going on, but I had to come to a stop at some point and that meant landing on something. I just prayed it wasn't something hard. I closed my eyes not wanting to see where I was going to land. I could feel myself picking up more and more and speed. If I am not dead, this is will kill me. Finally, I came to a stop on something soft. It was like a big white fluffy cloud. I opened my eyes to see that I was on a big white fluffy cloud. There was no one around, so I just laid back and relaxed back. I don't know how long I have been laying here, when I could feel someone, or something come up behind me.

I sat up and watched as a woman walked towards me. She was beautiful. She had a golden glow about her. As she got closer, I could see that she was a beautiful woman. Besides her golden glow about her, she also had golden hair that was down to her waist and a flowy white dress. She came and sat down right beside me. She had this calmness about her.

“What a mess we've made!” She said.

“I am sorry, but who are you?” I asked

“That's right, you don't remember me, but we have met before. I am the moon goddess.”

“I'm sorry, but I've met the moon goddess before?” I asked dumb founded.

“Oh yes, child, we have. You actually died a while back, and when you got to me, I forced you to make one of two choices.”

“Is that why I have no memories.”

“You have your memories they just haven't returned, but first, we need to discuss a few things. I had asked you to protect her, and you did just that. You protected her from herself so that she could fight in a war that is coming, and that is where I am going to need her. You weren't supposed to die when you did. So, when you came here, I gave you two options.”

“What were my two options?”

“You could either give your mate the one she wanted in life, a child, or you could go back and continue to live your life with her.”

“And I chose her child, I am assuming.”

“Yes, and so for your selflessness, I was able to send you back to earth but not to her. You just so happen to land in a spot that is by that awful man. He took you in and then sent you right back to your family. It couldn't have worked out any better.”

"Thank you for letting me get back to her."

"That's where you belong, but you still have some ahead of you."

"Ok, and what is that?"

“Even though she marked you, your bond with both of them was broken. The one with Sophia is back in place. However, you had a special bond with Xander, and it's gone.”

“Can we change that?”

“You have to earn his trust, and you have to get your relationship back with him. Once you have restored your bond with Xander the bond, the three of you shared will slowly start to snap back into place.”

“I am up for the challenge.”

“I knew you would be. You have always been ready for a good challenge.”

“When will I get my memories back?”

“Soon, but our time is now up. You must go back.”

As soon as she said that, she leaned down and kissed my forehead like a mother would, and I started falling again. I don't know how long I fell, but I could feel that I was in my body. I could hear people yelling.

"Xander, please try to understand that I love him just as much as I do you," the Luna cried.

"We don't know what he has been through, and we don't know if he is really who he says he is," the Alpha said.

"He is my other mate, and I will not stop until I prove that."

"Why did you mark him?"

"Because I love him."

"You don't know him anymore."

I couldn't take it anymore; the yelling was getting more and more. I finally opened my eyes, and I was still sitting on the couch and was still naked. I quickly looked for some clothes and found my underwear close by, I grabbed them and put them on. They still hadn't realized that I was awake, and things were heating up between them. The Alpha had gotten close to her and grabbed her by the arm. He was mad, I could see his wolf pushing forward.

"Xander, stop it. You're hurting my arm." She yelled.

"NO! I am your mate, and you will do as I say."

I couldn't stop myself and rushed towards him, and ripped him away from her. I placed my body between the two of them. I wasn't going to let him hurt her.

"Get out of my way, Kane. I am not done discussing this with my mate." He roared.

"Over my dead body. You will not hurt her."

I could see that his wolf had completely taken over, and I had a feeling this was going to be bad. So bad. We just stood there staring each other down. After about 30 seconds, he lunged at me. I hit the ground with him on top of me and both of us trying to get the other one to leave. He was stronger than me that's for sure, but I could hold my own. He started to hit me, but I was matching him. I swung my knee up and got him in the side. It slowed him down for a minute.

“STOP!” yelled Sophia.

We ignored her but that was a mistake because suddenly we both went flying away from each other. We landed on opposite sides of the room. I tried to get up but can't seem to move. I look up to see that Sophia is glowing green. She is walking to the middle of the room.

“Listen here, both of you boys. You are both my mates, and I love you both very much, but right now, Xander, you are acting like a possessive little wolf, and I don't like it. We will continue to learn about Kane, but I had to mark him. You will understand soon. Now, if I let you up, will you both promise to be nice to each other?”

She just stared at Xander, who didn't want to give in to her. He just glared at her. When she looked at me, I just nodded. I just wanted to protect her, but I think she can handle her own. She finally let me up and turned back to Xander.

“Well, Xander, what is it going to be?”

“FINE!” He roared.

She finally let him up, and the second he was up, he stormed out of the room. I really just wanted to be near her but didn't know how she would feel about that, but I was going to try. I walked over and wrapped my arms around her. She just melted into me. It felt right, I should be here. I will make this work.

“Kane, as much as I want you here, for right now, I think that maybe it's best if you went to your room. I need to make this right with Xander, but I promise it will get better.”

“Baby girl, I understand, and I promise I will always be here. I may not remember you, but I know that at one point, I loved you very much, and I think I am falling in love with you again.”

I didn't want her to respond to me. I wanted her to think about it. I turned and walked out of her room. I had a headache, so I went back to my room to lay down.

"River, you haven't said much. How do you feel about this?"

"I am good with it. I know she did it without asking, but it feels right. Hopefully, we will feel the mate bond soon."

I cut the link, knowing he was not ready to really talk. He was always so quiet, so I didn't worry. I had finally made it to my room and laid down in my bed, letting sleep consume me quickly.

I woke up with my heart beating a million miles a minute and covered in sweat. The headache I had was still there, and I could feel it pounding. It was making my vision blurry, and my stomach was rolling, I wanted to vomit.

"River, what is this about? Can't you stop it."

"No, I don't feel good either."

I was about to ask him why he didn't feel good when I felt like my head my was splitting in half. I screamed out in pain because it was bad. I was starting to see stars and blackness. I heard my guard open the door asking if I was ok, but I couldn't answer him. The blackness was overtaking me, and I welcomed it, hoping that it would stop the pain. Suddenly, the pain eased up, and it was like my life flashed before my eyes. I could see every memory of everything that has happened to me. I think my memories are returning.

Chapter 99 - Sophia's Revenge

Xander's POV

I was so mad. I stormed out of the room after Sophia released her hold on us. How could she do this to us? She was mine. The mate bond with him was broken when he died. I was there for her to pick up the pieces that he left behind. I was there through her pregnancy and every night with the kids, not him.

I finally made it to my office and slammed my door shut. I didn't want to see either of them right now. I was close to losing control. I walked over and punched a hole in the wall trying to feel something, but it was no good. I continued to punch holes in the wall until Jax interrupted me.

"Hey, asshole, calm down or I will take control."

"You should be madder than me right now. She is ours," I growled at him.

"I am not happy, but you have to remember he was also her mate. Put yourself in his shoes, wouldn't you want her to mark you again?"

"Fuck off Jax."

He cut the link after that. I didn't want to admit it, but he was right, but I was still so angry. We can't trust him yet. He was working with the enemy. The enemy wanted to take her away. We still don't know whether he isn't helping for sure. She just complicated things so much more. I walked over to my bookshelf and threw it to the ground and started to kick it. I vaguely heard someone knock on the door, but I wasn't in the mood to see anyone. I continued to kick the bookcase and didn't hear anyone come in.

"Are you about done acting like a toddler?"

"Go away, Sophia. I don't want to say something I will regret later."

"Too bad, I am not leaving until we discuss this. So, tell me why you're so mad. He was your best friend, your fucking brother basically. The three of us shared a bond so deep that I didn't think anything would ever break it, even when he came back."

"He works for the fucking enemy, and now you just welcome him back with open arms. How do we know that he won't turn on us? Now that he is marked by the Luna, he is part of this pack."

“He was always part of this pack. I didn’t have a choice about marking him.”

“You always have a choice. You could have just waited.”

“No, I didn’t have a choice, Stella made me. It was either I did it or she would take control and do it.”

“Why did she want to mark him so badly?”

“I don’t know, but when things got heated between us, that was the choice she gave me.”

I was still so angry with her, but I can understand the choice she was faced with.

“Sophia, you need to leave right now. I am not trying to be mean; I just want to be alone.” I told her as I turned my back to her.

She didn’t listen though, as I could hear her walking closer to me. She came up behind me and wrapped her arms around my waist and leaned up and whispered, “I love you so much and I would never do anything that I thought put you or our pack in danger.”

This woman knew how to break down all my walls and I don’t think she knew she was doing it. I just grabbed her arms and pulled them tighter to me. I could hear her take a deep breath and relax into me. She suddenly spun around me and slammed her lips onto me. She snaked her arms up my chest and around my neck as she deepened the kiss. I wasn’t in the mood for gentle right now and she needed to understand that, because I would fuck her so hard, she wouldn’t walk straight for a week. I pulled away from her. She had a pout on her face.

“Beautiful, you need to know that if you continue this, I am still angry and I won’t be gentle.”

She didn’t say anything but pushed up against me and kissed me. I kissed her back for a minute before I pulled away again and looked into her beautiful eyes. They were filled with lust and need.

“You can stop this anytime you want, remember that.”

She just looked up at me through her eyelashes and nodded her head.

“Strip, I want nothing on your body.”

I turned to go lock my office door when Jax spoke up.

“Dude, be easy on her. She has never done this before and remember her past. Don’t push her too much.”

I didn’t say anything back to him. I turned back and found that Sophia had stripped and was standing naked in the middle of my office. I walked over to her and as I did, I took in every inch of her beautiful body. I walked up to her as she had her head down, not looking at me. I ran my hand lightly up and down her spine, causing her to shiver.

“Do you know how beautiful you are?”

She didn’t reply and I didn’t expect her to. I walked her over to my table and pushed the chairs out of the way. I placed both her hands on the table and spread her legs out a little further. As soon as I did that, her arousal hit me like a ton of bricks. She liked this. She liked to be told what to do.

“Beautiful, do you like it when I tell you what to do? I can smell your arousal and I haven’t even touched you yet.”

“Yes, Alpha.”

I let out a growl as I walked up behind her. She was pushing all my buttons in just the right way. I trailed my hand down her back, causing her to shiver. I continued down her back and down her ass until I reached her pussy. It was soaking wet. I spread her lips and ran my finger from the back to the front until I hit her clit causing her to let out a loud moan and lift her ass up higher in the air. I withdrew my finger and smacked her on the ass.

“Aaahhh Alpha, what was that for?”

“Because your ass looks sexy with my handprint on it,” I growled out and slapped the other side.

I ran my hand along her pussy lips again and she was soaking wet and starting to drip out. I continued to run my hand along her pussy and hit her clit every time I got to the top.

“Alpha, please fuck me. I need you in me,” she said in a breathy tone.

“I will soon, but first I want you to sit on this table and spread your legs for me, but stay sitting up.”

She crawled up on the table and spread her legs. I could see her pussy juices; they were making her pussy glisten. I was already hard, but this made me hurt by getting even harder. I unzipped my pants and dropped them and my underwear and took my shirt off. I started to stroke myself as I looked at her pussy.

“Beautiful, you are so wet and ready for me. Do you want me to fuck you?”

“Yes, please Alpha.”

I wasn't ready to fuck her yet, but I would soon. I stepped up to the table and kissed each thigh before I moved to her pussy. I ran my tongue up her pussy and separated her lips with my fingers and found her clit and flicked it a few times.

“AAAAHHHHH Alpha, that feels so good.”

I continued to lick her up and down, giving just enough pressure to keep her wanting more but not enough to make her cum. She wasn't going to cum until I was ready to let her. I slowly pushed a finger into her and she bucked her hips up trying to get more pressure and friction. I pulled my finger out and ran it down until I hit her little asshole. I swirled my finger around it and slowly started to push my fingers in a little bit. I used my other hand to rub her clit lightly. This had her breathing hard and moaning. She was so close to cumming that I had to stop. I pulled both hands away and stood up to look at her. She had a look of pure evil on her face but it was filled with lust at the same time.

“Why did you stop?”

“Because I am not ready for you to cum. You won’t cum until I tell you it's OK.”

I didn’t let her answer because I bent over and took a nipple in my mouth and sucked on it and grabbed the other one with my thumb and forefinger and rolled it. She was enjoying this just as much as I was. She was pushing her chest up higher, trying to get more from me. I pulled away and moved back down to her pussy again. I slammed a finger into her and started to thrust it hard into her.

“Please Alpha, let me cum.” She moaned out in a breathy voice.

I couldn’t deny her any longer. I spread her lips and found her clit with my tongue and started to lightly circle it, while I added another finger into her and started to thrust as hard as I could into her. She was completely lost to the pleasure. I pulled my mouth away and used my thumb to rub circles on her clit applying more pressure each time I went around it.

“Alpha I am going to cum. Please make me cum. I need it.”

“Beautiful, you are so sexy when you beg me. Please cum on my hand.”

That’s all she needed to hear as she started to buck her hips and moan loudly. I applied just a little more pressure and curved my fingers just a little and this sent her completely over the edge. She squirted all over my fingers.

“AAAAALLLLLPPPPHHHAAA, OOOHHHH goddess.” She yelled out as she came.

It was a beautiful sight. Before she could come all the way down from orgasm, I dove headfirst into her and licked up all the juices that had sprayed everywhere. They were like honey on my tongue. I licked her completely clean. She was still spread before me and was still moaning.

“Stand up and bend over the table.”

She did as I said and didn't question it. As soon as she was on the table like I wanted her, I spread her legs even more and stepped back and smacked her ass. I left my handprint wherever it touched. I continued to do so until her entire ass was red with my handprint. I could see that she liked it as her pussy was starting to drip again.

I couldn't take it anymore, I had to be in her. I stepped up behind her and lined myself up with her and slammed into her. I didn't give her any time to adjust to me. She was tight and I wasn't going to last long. I continued to slam into her as hard as I could, not letting up.

“Beautiful, you are so tight, I am not going to last long. I want to see your beautiful face when I fill you up. Go lay on the couch.”

She got up and went to my couch and spread her legs for me. I walked over and threw one leg over the back of the couch and the other over my shoulder and slammed into her. I was taking every ounce of pleasure from her I could.

“Alpha, I am going to cum again.”

This just spurred me further and I somehow found the strength to push into her harder. I could feel her walls starting to contract around me and that was all it took for me to find my release. I came so hard that my whole body shook, and I let out a loud roar. I didn't pull out of her just yet. I sat there and just tried to catch my breath as did she. Finally, after a few minutes, I pulled out and laid down on the couch just holding her.

“Xander, I really am sorry about everything, but it had to be done.”

“I know beautiful, and we will figure it out.”

“I love you.”

“I love you too and as much as I would like to just lay here with you, we can't. We have a meeting with both our council and the witch's council.”

“I need to go clean up and I will meet you there.”

I leaned down and kissed her on the forehead and got up to get dressed. She followed me and we went separate ways at the stairs. I made my way down to the conference room to see that most everyone was here and waiting for me. I walked over to my dad and Tyler and had a casual conversation with them. I wasn't going to let anyone know about Kane just yet. I didn't want them to know that Sophia had marked him until I knew that I could trust him. I made my way to the podium so I could begin this meeting.

"Thank you everyone for being here today. As most of you know, Kane is back but he doesn't have his memories back at this time. I also have to inform you that he has been King Jags pack. He has provided us with valuable information. At this time, he is being held in a room by a guard. What I want to ask you all at this time is if anyone knows how we get his memories back?"

Someone stood up. I didn't know who they were, but they must be part of the witch's council.

"Alpha, I think it might be best if you killed Kane. If he is working with the enemy, who knows what he is telling them."

"That is out of the question. I will not kill him until he proves himself a traitor."

The door opened and Sophia walked in and had a big smile on her face. She walked past everyone sitting down and came up on the podium to me.

"Alpha, have you had him checked out by a doctor? Could he have a brain injury that his wolf couldn't heal?"

"Yes, and he was perfectly healthy."

Everyone just kind of sat there and looked at me waiting for something else. I needed to address an upcoming attack with them, but I just wasn't ready. There were too many people, and I didn't know who I could trust on the witch's council.

Chapter 100 - Sophia's Revenge

Sophia's POV

Kane had just come through the doors and interrupted our meeting. How did he even know about it? Nobody had told him about it. How did he get around his guard? His eyes scanned the room, looking at all the people there. When his eyes landed on us, he stepped forward and began to speak.

“Xander, Sophia, I need to speak with you in private right now.”

“I am sorry, but we're in a meeting and you will need to wait outside for now,” Xander said.

“This is an emergency situation; I need you now.”

Xander groaned and looked around.

“Please excuse us for just a moment, apparently there is something I need to attend to for a moment.”

He grabbed my hand and led me towards Kane. He walked past him and through the door. As soon as the door shut, Xander growled at Kane.

“This better be fucking important. You interrupted an important meeting.”

“I have two things to say here, Xan, and you need to listen carefully because I don't know what is going on in there but there is a problem.”

“Did you just call me Xan?”

“Ya, it's what I've always called you.”

“Oh goddess, did you get your memories back?” I asked with my eyes filling up with tears.

“Yes, baby girl, I did. Everything. I remember everything.”

I let the tears run down my face and jumped into his arms and started sobbing. I had my mate back. My heart was full again. With him by my side, I could do this.

“You said you had two things to say. What is the other?” Xander asked.

“Ya about that, you have a guy sitting in there that is a witch, and he is King Jag’s second in command.”

“Are you sure about that?”

“100% sure, I worked with him all the time. If you let him go, he is going to run to King Jag and tell him everything.”

“How do we even imprison a witch? They could just do a transporting spell if they wanted.” Kane asked.

“Wait, what if we feed him false information and let him go back and tell King Jag that, and then we can have the upper hand,” I asked.

“Beautiful, that is a great idea. I need to stall this meeting so we can come up with something else.”

“Let's tell them we have a slight emergency and that they are free to mingle, and we will serve them lunch soon,” I said.

“Kane, you need to go back to your room for now. I am sorry, I still don’t trust you yet. It’s fine, but can I at least go see my son instead?”

I leaned in and gave him a kiss and told him he was with Luna in her room. He kissed me again before he left, but when he did, I could hear Xander moan a little bit.

“What is wrong?”

“I can feel it when you kiss him.”

“I am sorry. I will refrain from doing that anymore.”

We walked back into the room, and he led me back to the podium and stood up at the microphone to talk to them.

“I apologize for that rude interruption. I have a small emergency that I need to handle. It shouldn’t take long but please feel free to mingle and we will have lunch served soon for you.”

Xander grabbed my hand again and headed out of the room. He got his dad’s, Konner’s, and Trevor's attention and told them to follow us. As soon as we had gotten out of earshot his dad asked, “what is going on son?”

“Please just come to your room and I will explain things.”

We finally made it to their room and found Kane had his son and was walking around the room talking to him. He was telling him stories about wolves and their power. It made my heart melt. When he finally noticed, we had come into the room, he came right over to me and engulfed me in a hug and leaned down, and said “Baby girl, thank you, you have given the most precious gift anyone could ever have. I love you and my son so much.”

“I love you too, and I am glad that you get to be a part of his life.”

“I hate to break up this love fest, but we need to figure this out real fast,” Xander said.

“Sorry, I can’t help it, I have missed so much.”

“Kane, please explain what is going on.”

“I woke up from a short nap today and my memories have returned. I remember everything that has ever happened. I was excited and wanted to tell Xander and Sophia immediately and when I barged into their meeting, I saw they had a witch in there. It just so happens that the witch is King Jags' second in command.”

“What the fuck?” Murmured Konner.

“Dude, you have a problem with me suddenly?”

“Yes, you fucking left. You were dead and now you're just suddenly back and you expect things to be the same. You fucking died. I grieved you. I am still grieving for you. You left me and I had no one left.”

Kane handed me the baby, walked over to his brother, and wrapped his arms around him and held him. Konner began crying and just completely broke down.

“Ashley, please come to the Luan and Alpha’s room. Konner needs you,” I linked her.

We were all just watching the reunion between Kane and Konner when Ashley knocked on the door and came in. Everyone turned to look at her and she seemed really confused. She had Zane in her arms as she walked over to Konner to see what was going on, but before she could get there she was engulfed by Kane in a huge. He finally pulled back and said “I am sorry Ashley, but I remember. Things are a little emotional around here.”

“Kane, I want you to meet your nephew, Zane,” Konner said.

“Holy shit, I have a nephew also?” he asked as he took the baby from Ashley.

“Yes, the boys are only a few days apart.”

“Oh goddess, it’s the three of us all over again. I am sorry, girls, but, were all in trouble when they're older.”

“Agreed, but please let us continue this. We don’t have a long time. Does anyone have a plan we can give this witch to take back to King Jag?” Xander asked.

“He wants to wait to attack when he thinks Sophia is weak. He wants Xander to leave, he thinks he can then come in and take her with ease.” Kane said.

“What if we bait him here with that? Take this emergency and make it seem as if you had to leave suddenly, send all of our extra help away, and the pack just needs to be alone for a few days. We can have Trevor use a transportation spell and bring everyone back just as he strikes.” I said.

“That’s actually a great idea beautiful. Let's go back and tell them our plan. Kane, I am going to pretend that you haven’t regained your memories. I want them to think you are still on his side. I am going to have you call him later also and tell them you overheard our meeting and give him the same information and see if you can figure out a time when he will be here. Trevor, I need you to communicate with the witches what is going on and I will make sure all the Alpha's know.”

Xander grabbed my hand and led us back to the conference room with Trevor, Alpha Ty, and Konner right behind us. He walked right back up to the stage and addressed everyone at the microphone.

“I apologize for that interruption. That is an untrusted old pack member who I am going to have to get rid of. He has caused somewhat of an emergency and I must attend some emergency business due to it, along with my Beta Konner. I do ask that you all give us a week for my pack to collect themselves and have some privacy. At this time, I ask that you all return home and when things have settled down here, I will contact you again. I know that some of you have been staying here, so I understand when you can’t leave until morning. My Luna and I appreciate your understanding of this.”

He stepped off the podium, grabbed my hand, and headed out of the conference room.

He marched right back up to the Luna and Alpha's room, with all of us behind him.

"Dad, please communicate with the Alpha's about what is going on, and Trevor, I trust that you will do the same. We need a central location for all of them. I am hoping another Alpha will step up and help us. Konner pack a bag because we are leaving soon."

Konner and Ashley left along with Alpha Ty and Trevor and Xander went over and picked up both boys and went to sit on the couch. I went and sat by him playing with the babies, trying to make them smile, but they were still too young for that.

"Beautiful, we need to go pack my bags as well. I also want to see Lucy before I go. Will you be ok by yourself while I am gone?"

"Baby girl, I am here also and I would love to help with the boys."

I turned to smile at him and tell him yes and Xander just growled at him.
