Chapter 29: Th Reunion

Allison

“Allison!” I heard someone yell.

I turned around and saw Tommy running full speed towards me.

“Tommy!” I yelled as he picked me up and spun me around.

“Oh my gosh. I missed you so much. Don’t ever do that again please.” Tommy mumbled into my neck.

I giggled as he kept giving my face kisses.

“I’ll try not to.” I laughed as he pecked my cheeks multiple times.

“A!” Lulu cried as she pulled me away from Tommy.

“I thought you were a goner.” Cali mumbled as she hugged both Lulu and myself.

“Wow. Thanks for having faith in me.” I laughed.

“You little fucker.” Zia said as she pulled me into a hug. “Don’t scare me like that.”

“I missed you too.” I smiled as I hugged her back even harder.

“What happened?” Michael asked.

I sighed. “My father happened. His two little goons too.”

“Uh who’s that?” Zia asked pointing to Tom behind me.

He gave them a smile and a small awkward wave.

“I’m Tom.” He said politely.

“If it wasn’t for him, I would be who knows where with my dad and his goons.” I spat.

“Thank you.” Tommy mumbled as he pulled Tom into a hug.

“Oh uh you’re welcome.” Tom said as he awkwardly pulled Tommy into a hug.

“Him and his friends knocked my dad’s car off the road with their semi trucks.” I explained.

“I will never bad mouth another semi ever again.” Adam joked.

“The first semi that passed us thought I wanted him to honk.” I said as I rolled my eyes.

“I was passing her car and I looked down just in time to see her raise her hands and they were bound with ductape.” Tom said as he narrowed his eyes at the ground. “What kind of father would do that to their own child?”

“Not a very good one.” Xavier spat. “I always hated him.”

“Well I’m just glad that she is safe and sound with you guys.” Tom smiled. “I’m glad that you are okay Allison.”

“Thank you so much Tom.” I said as I gave him a hug. “I really owe you one.”

“No problem Allison.” Tom smiled as he waved at all of us. “Bye. Take care!”

“Yep. Never bad mouthing a semi truck driver ever again.” Adam laughed.

“I’m so glad that you are back.” Tommy said for the thousandth time as he carried me into the pack house.

I giggled as I kissed his cheek. “Me too.”

“So what happened?” Zia asked as we all sat in the living room.

I sighed. “I was sitting outside drinking hot chocolate because I couldn’t sleep. Then the next thing I know, an arrow comes shooting in my direction and my dad pops up with Clay and Thomas. I got a couple hits in, but then he tackled me and put ductape on my mouth and wrists. He made wolfsbane bombs. Everyone was knocked out and I couldn’t do anything.”

Tommy pulled me into his lap as I cried. “You’re okay.”

“He plans on wiping you guys out. He’s making even more and stronger bombs made of wolfsbane. You guys need to be careful. I don’t know where he is getting all of this wolfsbane, but he saving it up.”

“Well that’s not frightening.” Cali mumbled as Adam wrapped his arm around her.

“I can’t believe I didn’t do anything when I saw the patrol wolves on the ground.” I whispered as I put my head in my hands. “I feel so pathetic.”

I felt so useless. Like I was nothing. I couldn’t help anyone.

“It’s not your fault.” Sam said sadly. “You couldn’t do anything.”

“Yes it is. None of this would be happening if I would have just stayed with him. I’m so useless. I’m doing a shitty job at being a Luna.” I cried.

“Are you kidding me?” Lulu asked laughing. “You? Doing a shitty job as a Luna? Please.”

Cali laughed as Lulu scoffed.

“She’s right you know.” Zia said as she looked at me. “You are a great Luna. You might not know it, but you are doing an amazing job.”

“I was in the same boat as you were Allison.” Sam replied. “I thought I was doing a bad job because my ex hired rogues and hunters to come find me. Me being here put the entire pack in danger and I felt awful. There were times that Kyrn and I thought about running away and-“ “Wait what?” Xavier and Jay asked at the same time.

Kyrn waved them off. “Sam was really worried. She thought the same thing. She was worried that it was all her fault, that none of this would have happened if she would just have stayed with Brett, blah blah blah.”

Sam slapped Kyrn’s shoulder. “Hurtful.”

Kyrn winked and laughed.

“What they are trying to say is, you are doing an excellent job as a Luna. All of our guards were ready to kill when they heard that you were missing. They were on high alert and we had to take turns searching and guarding the pack.” Xavier explained.

“It’s true.” Bruce said as he walked in. “I missed picking on you Luna.”

“Thanks.” I said as I rolled my eyes. “Feeling the love.”

Bruce laughed, but stopped once his eyes fogged over.

Tommy went on high alert just like everyone else.

Bruce growled as his eyes went back to normal.

“Someone is asking for your presence Luna.” Bruce gritted out through clenched teeth.

“Who?” I asked carefully.

“Gideon.” Bruce growled. “And he brought an army.”
